Several instances have been brought to our notice of where unscrupulous dealers have been offering other makes of Cocoanut as "White Moss," claiming it to be such. We hereby give notice that, in future, all such cases will be dealt with according to law, as the "White Moss" Cocoanut is a registered brand.

THE PRESS CLIPPING DEPARTMENT

Reads every paper in Canada and clips therefrom all articles of a business or personal nature of interest to subscribers in this department.

Politicians can obtain from it everything the papers say about themselves on any subject in which they are interested. Business men learn of new openings for trade, pointers to sell goods, addresses of people likely to become buyers, tenders wanted, stocks for sale or wanted, reports of new industries or stores, etc.

TERMS—$5 per hundred clippings; $40 per thousand, payable in advance; but a yearly contract will be found the most satisfactory.

We have also lists of firms in every branch of trade in the Dominion, the professions, club members, society, etc., and we are prepared to address and mail circulars or letters to these at any time.

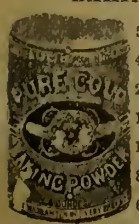
CURRENT MARKET QUOTATIONS

Mar. 10, 1898.

This list is corrected every Thursday. The prices are solicited for publication, and are for such qualities and quantities as are usually ordered by retail dealers on the usual terms of credit.



Goods in large lots and for prompt pay are generally obtainable at lower prices.

All quotations for staple products are under the direct control of the Editors, who call daily upon all the leading houses in the principal centres.

Quotations for proprietory articles, brands, etc., are supplied by the manufacturers or agents, who alone are responsible for their accuracy. The editors do not supervise them. If a change is made, either an advance or decline, it is referred to in the market reports as a matter of news, whether manufacturers request it or not.

It Pays to Keep the Best.

We handle COLEMAN'S celebrated brand of Table and Dairy Salt. It is the acknowledged superior in the market to-day. The 5-lb. carton of which we give an engraving, is printed in three colors, red, black and yellow, with tin cover, and combines an attractiveness for shelf display, together with a useful, durable package, that makes it a ready seller. This form of package is especially adapted for first-class town or city trade. It keeps the salt cleaner and drier than cotton bags possibly can do.

We handle all kinds of Salt. Fine, Coarse or Land Salt in barrels, sacks or bulk. Unequalled shipping facilities. Prompt shipment. It will pay you to correspond with us. .

THE CANADIAN GROCER

Vol. XII. (Published Weekly) TORONTO AND MONTREAL, MARCH 18, 1898. ($2.00 per Year) No. 11

A RETAILER'S VIEW RE INSOLVENCY LAW.

THE CANADIAN GROCER had a chat the other day with Mr. George Brasher, a Tilsonburg merchant. During the conversation the subject of a uniform insolvency law came up. Mr. Brasher quite believes that the law in Canada in regard to insolvency requires remodelling, but he is decidedly opposed to a bankruptcy Act, as ordinarily understood.

"I have," he said, in reply to a question, "discussed the matter with a large number of retail men in different sections of the country, and I have never yet found one who favors a general bankruptcy law. We retailers consider the old law a stain upon the statute book. It was the most iniquitous law we ever had. And no law this country ever had tended to the extent it did to make merchants dishonest. Remembering that, we retailers consider it in the best interest of the country that a bankruptcy law should not pass. If the people who are moving in this matter will only keep their nose out of it, business will right itself. Don't you make any mistake about that!"

"But do you not think there is necessity for some kind of legislation in this direction?" asked THE CANADIAN GROCER.

"Certainly, I do," replied Mr. Brasher, as he threw one leg over the other and laid the index finger of one hand on the palm of the other. "There is necessity for a law of some kind: There is necessity for a law to prevent the bankers and wholesalers from injuring one another. What I mean is that there should be a law doing away with preferences. It is not right that creditor 'A' should get from debtor 'B' an assignment of book debts or of stock, or perhaps of both, and leave nothing for creditor 'C.' Then, one thing which is very much needed is a law, uniform the Dominion over, which shall make the collection of debts easier than at present."

"What about the discharge of insolvents?"

"If you make discharges a matter of legislation, why, you must necessarily have a bankruptcy law. But, as I have already said, there is no need of such a law. If a man goes into business in this country with sufficient capital, and he cannot succeed, he has mistaken his calling, and ought to go out, and stay out, of business."

"Supposing a man with capital and capability fails in business through circumstances over which he has no control?"

"Of course there are failures of the kind you mention, but the merchants who have thus failed have always been dealt with leniently by their creditors, and always will be. No," continued Mr. Brasher, "we do not want a bankruptcy law. The old law was a case of life or death to merchants doing a legitimate business."

"In what way?"

"Well, because of it bankrupt stocks were being continually placed upon the market."

"Yes, but you must remember that times were very hard during the last few years of the old bankruptcy law, and was not that largely the cause of the stocks you refer to being on the market?" queried THE CANADIAN GROCER.

"I know quite well times were hard then, but the bankruptcy law had more to do with bankrupt stocks being placed on the market than even the hard times. I tell you what it is," declared Mr. Brasher with considerable emphasis, "if there was a merchant who had a crooked part in his body that old bankruptcy law brought it out. The fact of the matter was this: the ease with which a man could go through the bankruptcy court induced men to assign. Let me give you an instance by way of illustration. One day, back before the old bankruptcy law was repealed, I was on my way to Toronto. In the car was a merchant whom I knew, and who had, within a comparatively short space of time, passed through the bankruptcy court no less than three times.

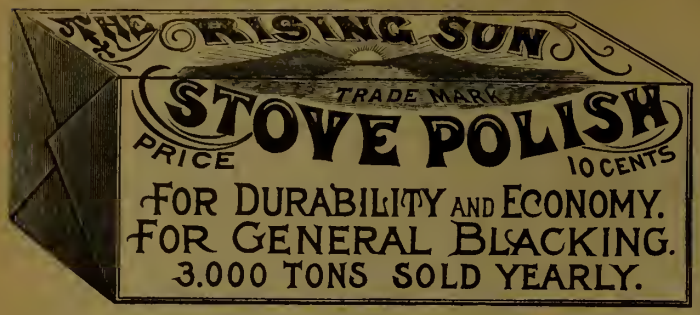
"'Hello' I said, 'where are you off to?'

"'Toronto.'

"'What for?'

"'Oh, I'm going through the bankruptcy court.'

"'What, again?'



"'Yes, again! Say, Brasher, I think you are a fool. Why don't you assign once and a while? Look at the advantage it gives you. Here you and me go and buy a certain article at say $12 per dozen. You put the article into your window and ticket it at $1.25. I, however, ticket it at $1, or even 75c. I sell mine; you can't sell yours. You say I am selling at a loss. Am I? I go down to Toronto, go through the bankruptcy court and pay my creditors 50c. on the dollar. Now, how am I selling at a loss?'

"Now, after such experiences as we had with the old bankruptcy law, how can we retailers who try to do a legitimate and honest business be expected to favor another?" concluded Mr. Brasher.

AMONG TORONTO RETAILERS.

An Improvement in Trade.

Last week I went out to Parkdale, and found the merchants there happy in the knowledge that trade conditions and prospects in that portion of Toronto have improved, and are continuing to improve. This week I found the merchants throughout the north-east section of Toronto contented because of the same reasons. Though trade has been quiet there, material improvement over any year within the previous five has lately taken place, while the feeling regarding money is much better than for some time. T. H. Smith, corner of Wellesley and Ontario streets, when spoken to in regard to the matter, said: "There is much less evidence of that spirit of bargain-hunting, which has long been the bane of the retail merchant. People do not come into the store nearly so frequently, ask the price of an article, and then tell us they can buy it down town for a cent or two less. Such do still bother us a little, but not nearly to the same extent as formerly. This has had a good effect in that cutting is not carried on as largely as, say, a year ago." I wonder if retail merchants in other sections of the city find this state of affairs true of their locality, and if not, why not?

Easter Trade.

In a couple of weeks the Easter season will have opened up, and will bring, as all such seasons do, an increase of business to some merchants, while others see no material difference. One merchant told me this week that he was going to make a big push for what trade is to be got at Easter time, and that he had always found that when he made a big push his business was increased to such an extent that he was well rewarded for the time and money spent in making the effort to reach for trade. Going across the road and asking a rival merchant if he intended making a special bid for Easter trade, I received a reply to the effect that he would make no such effort, that there would be nothing special to reach for, and that these "splurges" after trade were failures. The first man says he tries for and gets the increase, the second man says there is no increase, and does not try for it. Which is right? There is no question in my mind.

Display Tables.

An increasingly large number of grocers are making use of a good method of displaying their wares. A neat table is placed in a conspicuous place, with attractively arranged displays of goods following one another at intervals of one or two weeks. In Robert Barron's branch store on Wellesley street, Toronto, this table display has proved to be productive of numerous orders. It has been found that when the goods displayed are such that to see is to desire, the results reached are much greater than when the articles on the table are staples, such as canned vegetables or salmon. For instance, a neat assortment of jams or honey catches the eye of many a housewife and frequent sales are the result. THE RAMBLER.

DEALING WITH DEPARTMENTAL STORES.

The board of supervisors, of Buffalo, on Monday, adopted a bill prepared by the "Single Line Dealers' Association," which proposes to govern and restrict the department stores. The bill, which is to be introduced in the State Senate this week classifies business in groups and grades, numbering 80 classes and 36 groups, including from one to several classes of business.

The license fees are fixed as follows: For first group, $1; for the second group, $100; for the third group, $5,000; for the fourth group, $10,000; for the fifth group, $20,000; for the sixth group, $40,000; for the seventh group, $80,000; for the eighth, and every group thereafter, $100,000 per annum. Thus, a firm dealing in one class or group of merchandise would pay a license of $1; adding other classes of merchandise, or departments, would require the payment of fees from $100 for one additional group or department to $100,000 for eight additional groups or departments. The bill specifically provides that $100,000 shall be the limit collected as license for conducting business under any number of groups.

MONTREAL RETAIL GROCERS.

The regular meeting of the Montreal Retail Grocers' Association was held Thursday evening, March 10, in the Monument National hall, President Scanlan in the chair. Mr. Scanlan submitted the report of the delegates who went to Ottawa to interview the Federal Ministers. They had been received by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Mr. Fisher and Sir Henri Joly. They submitted their grievance concerning the exemption from seizure of the salary of civil employes, and the scales and measures inspection. They also asked for a fruit inspector. The Ministers promised their serious consideration.

Mr. Dixon read a projected amendment to the revised statutes providing for the appointment of a fruit inspector, and classing fruit into five grades. Hon. Mr. Fisher promised to introduce such a bill at this session. Mr. Dixon also brought up the question of peddlers' licenses. He strongly protested against the reductions to peddlers as being an injustice to all merchants who pay taxes.

Mr. Vallieres spoke in the same strain, and it was resolved to send a strong delegation to make representations to the city council.

YOU MAY LIGHT YOUR HOUSE WITH SUGAR.

The curious discovery has recently been made that light may be procured from common sugar. All you have to do is to get a few pounds of lump sugar and put it in the open sunlight for some hours. On taking it into a dark room it will begin to glow, faintly at first, but afterwards with quite a stong light.

So strong is this luminous glow that photographs have actually been taken by the light. These sugar-light photos are quite distinct, even if not quite so clear as ordinary photographs.

MAKING HIS STORE SEEM BUSY.

SEVERAL days ago I saw in one of The Grocery World exchanges a burning editorial devoted to the great advantages accruing to the retail grocer by making his store look busy. The editorial in question didn't say exactly how this was to be done in any other way except by getting customers in it, but it aroused some recollections in my mind which may possibly amuse and interest the readers of this department. And, by the way, I know that some of you do read this column by the neat little pile of letters received since the article about the scarcity of salesmen. All of these letters have gone to the firm referred to in the article, and I hope that the writer of every one of them may slide into a $3,000 job. If you do, boys, my commission will be $50 apiece.

But to get back to this business about making your store look busy. Several years ago I had an old friend who opened a grocery store. He had been a successful hardware dealer, and had really retired, moving to a small suburb just outside of Cincinnati, O. It seems that the residents of this suburb were put to considerable inconvenience about getting groceries, on account of the lack of stores, or something, and this old friend of mine thought he saw a good opening, and started a grocery store himself. He was born in Germany, but was pretty well Americanized, although he had that old-country stubbornness over the ideas he got, that showed the solid German temperament.

Well, one of my friend's ideas was right in line with this burning editorial I mention. He believed that if you could give your store a busy, bustling appearance, the people would come to it. It was the old story of following a crowd, you know.

He thought he saw several ways of making the place look busy. It was on the main street of the village, and the first thing he did was to arrange with three or four close friends, after telling them his plan, to send their girls to the store as many times a day as they could, or come themselves. That was to have somebody in the place all the time.

He had one clerk, a bright young Irishman. The servants of three of the friends who were in the scheme were also Irish, and all of them were much taken with the clerk, so that they immediately fell in with the idea and did everything they could to get to the store. Each girl was jealous of the other, and the clerk being, as I said, bright, worked this snap to the Queen's taste. When they all got in the place at once, however, he had troubles of his own.

All of these girls got so they'd run to my friend's grocery store several times every day. Neither their mistresses nor the grocer knew why they came, but thought they were helping along his scheme. One day they all got in the place at once, and from a few tart words actually came to blows over the clerk. While they were performing, the store did look real busy. It looked so very busy, in fact, that a crowd speedily gathered outside, and the grocer had to call in the local police to straighten things out. That part of the scheme was therefore withdrawn forthwith.

Another feature of my German friend's idea was to send his boy out at the busiest time of the day, when everybody was on the street, with big basket loads of goods. He reasoned that if people got so they'd see his clerk out delivering big loads of goods every time they looked around, it would be a good advertisement for him. So he used to work the scheme every day. The boy would circle around the streets with the loaded basket, and would finally take it to his home, from where he would bring it back after dark.

The grocer's one competitor was, of course, very jealous over the new store, and he sized up the delivery scheme pretty quick. One day he stationed his own clerk across the street from the German grocer's, with instructions to follow the latter's clerk down and see where he went with his big loads of goods.

The German's clerk came out at the usual time with a big basket full and started out. the other grocer's clerk after him. They had gone several blocks, when the German's clerk chanced to look around and saw the other fellow. He knew him, of course, and saw through his scheme at once. He made up his mind not to give his follower any clue, so he walked on and on, the other clerk following close behind. By and by they got in the open country, and still the German grocer's clerk tramped faithfully on, hoping to tire the other man out. The spotter had the advantage because the other clerk had the basket, which got pretty heavy as the miles rolled up.

After a long walk, the German's clerk gave up from sheer inability to go any further, and the next day he was laid up and couldn't raise his basket arm for a week. It developed afterward that he had walked both soles off his shoes.

And that killed the delivery scheme, because the German grocer's competitor told everybody he could about it, and the whole village laughed for a week.

After that my German friend settled down and finally succeeded in building up a good trade by old-fashioned methods.—"The Stroller," in Grocery World.

AN HONEST GROCER.

A Bath grocer has in his money drawer a silver dollar of the date 1800, which he has kept there for several months, and one day last week he told The Observer this story concerning it: "About three months ago a man came in here with this dollar, he said it was one he had given him when he cut his teeth, and his children had all had it when they cut theirs, but he must have some flour, and as that was all the money he had he would leave it, but wanted me to keep it so that he could redeem it as soon as he could find work. The man was very earnest in his request, as he said he wanted to keep it in his family, where it had been for many years." The grocer says he shall continue to keep it in his money drawer so that the customer can redeem it when he cares to do so. That man was honest, anyway.

SITUATION IN DATES.

THERE is reported to be a better feeling in Persian dates. For several weeks past the market has been unsettled and prices have touched the lowest figures on record. The demoralization of the market, it is said, was due in the first instance, to the effort of a London syndicate to get control of the business. The effort was so far successful as to prevent the usual direct shipments to this market last year, but the combination seemed to have assumed a bigger load than it could carry, and soon went to pieces. Its collapse, we understand, was hastened by the fact that some of its members were operating on the outside in a quiet way as competitors of the syndicate. The failure of the combination threw on the market a large quantity of stock, efforts to dispose of which demoralized both the English and American markets. The effects of this are now said to be passing away, the low prices resulting from excessive competition following the disruption of the London combination having stimulated the consumption. In consequence of this, the stocks in London, according to late advices, have been well cleaned up, and supplies here have been moving freely into consumption. Of the stock remaining on the spot the bulk, if not all, is said to be in the control of four holders, whose confidence in the future is such that they prefer to hold the goods and later put them into cold storage rather than make any further concession in prices. The rather full figures obtained at the recent auction sale of Khadrawees confirms them in their determination to adhere to their quotations.

From the beginning of the season to date the arrivals of Persian dates have aggregated 141,500 boxes, against 134,700 boxes for the same period last year. On the other hand, receipts of Fard dates for the season to date show a decrease, being 2,000 cases and 12,200 boxes for 1897-98 to March 10, compared with 4,600 cases and 14,685 boxes to this date last season.

Present spot supplies of Persian dates are considerably larger than those of a year ago, and consist chiefly of Hallowees and Sairs, the comparative scarcity of Khadrawees being attributed to a lighter pack caused by the unsatisfactory experience of this grade in the consuming markets last year. Two years ago at this time Hallowees were selling at 3¾c., Khadrawees at 3½c. and Sairs at 2⅝c. In March, 1897, the quotations were 4 to 4⅛c. for Hallowees, 4c. for Khadrawees and 3c. for Sairs.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

RICE SITUATION.

Wm. G. Hale & Co., writing from Saigon, under the date of February 5, say of rice: "There has been more or less rain during the period under review, supplemented by gloomy and somewhat wet weather since, which can only have increased the harm done previously; we should think 30 per cent. a low estimate of damage to the crop. At the close, the weather seems to have settled fair. Supplies have been fair for the season; arrivals are 35,000 piculs daily. Recent advices of a marked advance in the Hong Kong rice market have caused a sudden and material rise in prices, and the feeling is strengthened by the constant arrivals of tonnage to fill existing contracts with Japan. For Europe, limits are far too low to admit of sales. There have been some purchases for France and there is still a moderate demand for forward delivery. There is some faint inquiry for Java, but our present high prices and rate of freights are against business. Requirements for the Straits seem moderate. The Philppines still remain out of the market. Demand for Japan has slackened. Contracts—up to the present writing—amount to 600,000 piculs for Japan and 60,000 tons for Europe, mostly for the continent."

PRICES LOOKING UP.

Of 108 staple articles contained in Bradstreet's table, 55, or more than one-half, advanced during the month, and only 15 declined. If the number advancing in price or remaining unchanged are added together, a total is had of 93 articles out of 108 which have either remained steady or moved upward during the month. It is not surprising to find that the leading food products have been specially notable in the tendency towards advancing prices. Nearly every one of the leading cereals and their products, including flour, advanced during February, and fully one-half of the provisions and groceries show a corresponding enhancement in value. Of special encouragement to American manufacturers, however, were the advances in the prices of many kinds of metals, notably iron, steel, copper and lead. Petroleum, both crude and refined, brick, lumber and tobacco also advanced. Perhaps the most significant increase of all, however, was that shown in the price of raw textiles, such as cotton, hemp, jute, silk, and flax, which advance has been to a certain extent sympathized with in the advance of southern cotton sheetings and some other classes of cotton goods. Decreases, as above shown, were few and generally unimportant, and some of them were due to climatic influences. Among articles of domestic production decreasing during the month might be mentioned milk and eggs, apples, hemlock, leather, southern pig iron, tar, glass, hops, and cottonseed. Articles unchanged in price during the month included most live animals and their products, beef and hog products. Hides were unchanged, as were also some grades of leather, while in the textiles raw wool, printcloths, standard sheetings, and ginghams remained steady. Coal and coke, iron ore, lime, nails, and spruce lumber were steadily maintained during the month, as were most of the chemicals contained in Bradstreet's list of prices.

THE CURRANT OUTLOOK.

Although the market for currants continues to be exceedingly quiet, and transactions are of only a restricted nature, there is little change in values to report; and though the tendency is in favor of the buyer, it is to so small an extent as to be hardly in the nature of a quotable reduction. Under the improved financial condition in Greece, and following upon it the decline in exchange, it is not surprising that, so far as the lower qualities of currants are concerned, the holders should be inclined to be firm in their ideas. For this fruit they have the whole of the consuming countries for a market, and are in no way dependent upon the English demand, but in considering the position of the finer descriptions the matter assumes an entirely different aspect. For all the better qualities the English demand alone has to be considered, as no other country cares to pay the extra price demanded for fruit more carefully grown and harvested, or of better quality than the provincial growths. Whatever the future of the market for the commoner kinds may prove to be, the question must naturally arise whether the present, or any likely demand in the near future, will be sufficient to take off the existing stocks of the finer fruit. Even in years when a full normal demand is expected, it has not infrequently happened that very considerable pressure has been necessary to make a clearance of the better fruit; and with the higher range of prices for the common qualities, a fact which, paradoxical as it may seem, interferes with the demand for the better kinds, the difficulty is likely to be greater than usual. Unless some unforeseen circumstance should arise, such as the peronosperos (which reduced the total of last year from 180,000 to 130,000 tons), the crop of 1898 will be much larger than that of 1897; and so soon as this becomes obvious there will be other factors working against the present pretensions of holders; and, having regard to all the facts, it would probably be well for them to consider the position very closely, and to consider whether they deem it necessary to meet the ideas of buyers somewhat more readily, so far, at all events, as the higher-priced fruit is concerned.—Produce Markets' Review, March 5.

CANNED SALMON IN LONDON.

Salmon continues to meet with a good enquiry in London, Eng., although sales have not been on quite such a large scale as previously, according to a trade paper published in that country. Quite a fleet of sailing vessels, viz., the Irby, Combermere, Lancing, and Howth, have arrived during the last few days, but in spite of this supply there has been not only no pressure to sell, but prices have further advanced. There appears to be an opinion among many retailers, encouraged by the fact of the record pack of last season, that prices will be lower than at present. It is, of course, impossible to predict with any certainty the course of the market, but there are many circumstances that should not be lost sight of when forming an opinion. The demand for salmon in the United States and the colonies, as well as in our own country, is rapidly increasing under the influence of low prices, so much so, that with a merely average pack for the coming season prices would rapidly move to the other end of the scale. Then the effect of the large pack was fully discounted last year, the drop in prices being equal to about 25 per cent. When the increased consumption is taken into account, the recovery recently established is not at all surprising.

CALIFORNIA RAISIN SITUATION.

The California Fruit Grower, in its review of the raisin situation on the Coast, says: "The large quantity of low-grade raisins on hand continues to hold the market down. Buyers demand sound stock at the price of rain-damaged, and expect soft goods for almost nothing. Unless the rain-damaged stock is withdrawn from the market, even the customary trade demand of April, May and June will hardly revive prices. Eastern buyers are now making a demand for a cheaper article of seeded raisins, and, no doubt, this demand will be met. Then we will have, as in other kinds, all sorts of seeded raisins, and the market price for this class will go to pieces. The demand in all lines is on the basis of 'something for nothing.'"

MAPLE SUGAR CROP IN VERMONT.

A despatch from Newport, Vt., says: "Sugar makers of this section have been caught unprepared by an unusually early and copious flow of maple sap. During the severe storms of February more snow fell in this vicinity than has been due in 30 days, or more, yet during the past week regular spring weather has prevailed, and the snow has shrunk wonderfully. Almost before they knew it, the sap began to run, and the farmers at once began to hurry preparations for gathering what promises to be a very large amount of sugar-making fluid. It is expected that an unprecedented quantity of maple sugar will be made. The few makers who were in position to catch the very first of the flow already have new syrup and sugar on the market. About 1,000 pounds already have been made in the country. The season this year is two weeks earlier than usual."

Mail advices from the different producing sections in southern California state that supplies of apricots are practically cleaned up and that of peaches very few remain. Apricots are said to be in a very strong position, and much higher prices are looked for in the near future.

The season has practically closed in Calcutta, the last public sale having been held there a week ago. This has imparted a stronger tone to the London market, especially for the fine and finest descriptions, and it now seems quite probable that the supply of the finer teas will be more restricted during the next few months than appeared likely a short time since.

FOUR REASONS WHY GROCERS should sell a brand of Stove Polish which, above ALL others, consumers want, and for which Grocers can offer no substitute without injury to their trade.

Enameline
The Modern STOVE POLISH

First: It is Superior to All others in Quality.
Second: It gives Perfect Satisfaction to Consumers.
Third: It is Thoroughly Advertised and Sells itself.
Fourth: NO OTHER Stove Polish ON EARTH has so large a sale.

Praised by its Many Friends

From its first production Ludella Ceylon Tea has met with continued success, and the reason is plain ; it is the finest tea produced. Added to the above good points, the crowning one is, that it is sold at such low prices. Quality considered, it is by far the best value offered. Surely an article with such merits is worthy of your most careful consideration.

THE COUNTRY PRODUCE MARKET.

THERE are now observable in the country produce market of Toronto many conditions which at this season of the year are not only unusual but, indeed, unique.

In the butter market there is a scarcity throughout, with practically no dairy tubs, good, bad or indifferent, left on the market, whereas a year ago, as in former years, low and medium grade tubs were coming forward much faster than desired. In large rolls and pound prints there is also now manifest an unusual absence of very poor butter. As a consequence, butter is in much better demand than usual, with the price 18 to 20c., as compared with 10 to 16c. per lb. asked last year.

Cheese, on the other hand, was produced almost too lavishly during the season of 1897, and although the value of our exports of this article increased by $719,668 during the year, there is now, both in Britain and Canada, a weak, unsteady demand, with prices at 8 to 8¾c. per lb., as compared with 10 to 12c. per lb. last year. The opinion is generally expressed that the cheese market, being in the condition it is now in, and the demand for and price of butter so firm and high, it would be a great mistake of makers to produce any quantity of fodder cheese. as has been found profitable to do, under different circumstances, in former years.

The scarcity of low-grade butter has also materially affected the lard market, inasmuch as for some weeks the scarcity of cheap butter has necessitated the use of lard to a much greater extent than usual, and has kept stocks of lard low for some time, whereas last year, at this time, lard was left in great quantities on dealers' hands, when they would have gladly accepted 1¼c. less per lb. than they now ask.

Each successive year sees an improvement in the state of the hog product market. Breeders of hogs in Canada are, generally speaking, now breeding the best kind of hogs and feeding them the most suitable feed for reaching the British market. The fruits of this are now abundantly evident in that a great demand has sprung up for Canadian bacon and lard, and prices for light hogs are slightly better, while heavy hogs are fully $1 higher than a year ago. Then, as the number of large hogs produced is not as great, and as a brisk demand from lumber camps, etc., has been noted, barrel pork has been well sold up, where last year a great deal of this product was left on packers' hands, though the price then asked was $4 less than now quoted.

The supply of eggs, too, has been absorbed to an unusual and satisfactory degree. Pickled eggs were practically cleared up weeks ago, and now there are none held or cold-stored, except those of that nature which have been held by farmers, which proportion is insignificant as compared with the number of this class of eggs usually on the market. Though there is a liberal supply of eggs now coming forward the lack of held necessitates bakers depending on this supply, so that the probability is that the demand will continue about equal to the supply for some time.

Among staple products, potatoes show the greatest relative change in prices, as compared with last year, though the prices then were abnormally low, selling at 20 to 28c. per bag. The price now asked is more than double last year, being 55 to 60c. per bag. The explanation of this is simply that the demand has more closely kept up to the supply.

The light crop of apples has naturally increased the price of both the fruit itself and the dried and evaporated products thereof. Fancy red spies are now $3.25 to $3.50, where last year they could be had for $1.25 to $1.35. Dried apples have advanced from 2 to 3c. per lb. to 5 to 6c. per lb., and evaporated apples from 3 to 4c. per lb. to 9½ to 10c. per lb.

The high price of wheat has been so frequently spoken of in these columns that further comment is unnecessary, except to remark that there is little prospect of a break in prices for some time yet. The coarser grains show a correspondingly high price, as compared with last and former years.

The market for hides and skins also shows an unusual firmness throughout, a steady advance in prices being noted, till now the prices for all hides and skins are nearly double what they were three years ago.

A careful perusal of the following comparison of prices between March, 1897, and March, 1898, will prove interesting, and give an idea of the general improvement in the price of country produce. It will be noted that cheese is the only article showing a decline:

ENGLISH YELLOW SUGAR.

Toronto wholesalers are just now importing yellow sugar from England. The sugar is a nice canary in color and shows fair quality. It is being sold by the wholesalers at 3¾c. per lb. in bags.

The fact that yellow sugars of home make have been hard to get for some time has created a market in Canada for the imported article.

TRANSACTIONS IN MOLASSES.

BUSINESS for importation in Barbadoes molasses has been one of the features of the grocery situation this week. This buying at the islands, which has been done on behalf of one of the Montreal sugar refineries, has completely altered the tone of the market. Sellers at Barbadoes last week were undecided what to ask, and this week, because they have conceived the idea that the sugar refiners are going to be heavy buyers, they refuse to quote.

The purchase on behalf of the refiners consisted of 1,000 puncheons, which were sold at 16c. landed gauge, which is about equal to 22½c. net on the wharf in Montreal. When Montreal jobbers learned of this transaction, they also tried to secure options on supplies for spring importation, but have found it difficult to do so.

The spot situation has adopted a firmer tone as a result of this intelligence from the islands.

Last week some jobbers were not indisposed to shade prices to secure business, but there is none of this disposition apparent this week, all holders talking firm prices.

Between houses we understand that round lots have changed hands at 25c., but in a jobbing way 27c. is asked for car lots of Barbadoes, and 28c. for a few puncheons.

NEW MAPLE SYRUP.

The first arrivals of new maple syrup were offered in Montreal this week. It was of exceptionally good quality, and realized $1 per gallon.

Advices from producing districts in the Eastern Townships say that sugar makers have been caught unprepared by an unusually early and copious flow of maple sap. During the severe storms of February more snow fell in the vicinity than has been known in 20 years or more, yet during the past week regular spring weather has prevailed, and the snow has shrunk wonderfully.

Almost before they knew it the sap began to run, and the farmers had to busy themselves making preparations for gathering what promises to be a very large run of the sugar-making fluid. It is expected that an unprecedented quantity of maple sugar will be made.

The few makers who were in position to catch the very first of the flow already have new syrup and sugar. About 1,000 pounds have already been made in the county of Shefford, where the season is at least two weeks earlier this year than last.

THE DESTROYED TEA.

THE statistical position of the tea market in Toronto is a favorable one, owing to the shipment of lots to the United States during the past week and the fire on Saturday last.

The estimated quantity of tea destroyed by fire in the Carrie storage warehouse and in the Salada Tea Co.'s building is in the neighborhood of 350,000 or 400,000 pounds, about 60 per cent. of which was Indian and Ceylon growths and the balance Japan tea. The value of the tea destroyed is estimated at from $50,000 upward.

Ths destruction of such a large quantity of tea will certainly stimulate the local demand somewhat, but to what extent remains to be seen. The general opinion is that it will not be very marked, particularly as most of the teas were held by representatives of shipping houses.

The teas probably most likely to be influenced by the loss are those of Japan growths, especially in view of the lots that have recently been picked up on United States account. It is true new season's Japans will be arriving in a month or six weeks, but it is also to be remembered that the quantity of May-picked Japan tea which arrives on the Toronto market season after season is insignificant. It is not until a couple of months later that teas of that description begin to arrive on this market in any quantity. As far as Indian and Ceylon teas are concerned, they can always be brought in.

A good many orders have been placed by wholesalers in different parts of the Dominion for next season's Japan tea, and as far as THE CANADIAN GROCER can gather, the business for the ensuing season in these teas promise to be larger than in 1897, for it will be remembered that last year the demand in the United States for Japans was so great that Canada was practically sidetracked.

The quantity of green tea imported by Canada from Japan during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, was 8,824,865 pounds, valued at $1,083,994. While less quantities were imported in 1893, 1894 and 1895, yet the value was smaller than during any one of the last five years, as the following table shows:

1895	8,704,157	1,285,019
1897	8,824,865	1,083,994

These figures do not include the Japan teas brought in and imported from the United States, but the quantity thus brought in is insignificant, for of Japans and China greens all told our imports from the United States last year only amounted to 140,079 pounds.

INDICATIONS STILL FAVORABLE.

The earnings of the Canadian railways continue to reflect a favorable condition of trade.

During February the gross earnings of the Grand Trunk were $1,674,453, against $1,522,246 the same month last year, a gain of $152,207. The gross earnings of the Canadian Pacific during February last were $1,408,000, compared with $1,271,000 for the same month in 1897, an increase of $137,000.

The gross earnings of these two railways during the first two months of 1898 were: Grand Trunk, $3,590,785; Canadian Pacific, $3,160,372. Compared with the same period last year, the increases are $428,727 and $575,344 respectively.

Remember, the public want eggs for Easter. And if hens are going to lay eggs steadily they must have good food. Keep a good stock of oyster shells, etc., and push them.

JAPAN TEA FOR THE STATES.

Enquiries are still being received in Toronto for Japan teas for shipment to the United States. The teas chiefly wanted appear to be from about 15½ to 17c. per pound.

During the last few weeks something like 5,000 packages have been sold on this account. One firm alone has shipped about one-half that quantity.

The prices being obtained for these teas are much better than could be obtained for them in Canada. For instance, dust, which is selling here at 6½c. is worth 11c. in the United States; nibs, 10c. here and 14 to 15c. in the United States; box goods selling here at 15c. are worth 16c. in the United States; leaf goods selling here at 16c. are worth 17½c. there.

A SUSPICIOUS CASE.

MUCH has been said and published in Canada during the past few years regarding the pressing need for a Dominion Insolvency Law, such mention having been instigated by the numerous instances of fraud and dishonorable practices which have been and are possible under existing conditions.

As our merchants are daily becoming better acquainted with the various methods whereby it is possible for them to evade the present law, and get the upper hand of their creditors, even if the means employed are anything but honest, there is little if any hope of an improvement in the practices now adopted, at least until such time as a well thought out and withal a simple and workable Dominion law is adopted, providing for the equitable distribution of the assets of insolvent debtors.

Our readers have no doubt frequently heard of cases of dishonorable practices being adopted to secure goods, but a case which has recently been brought to our attention contained some features which were more than ordinarily annoying to the creditors. The purchaser in question was W. H. Ketcheson, retail grocer of Belleville, Ont., the principal creditors and those who pushed the matter to a settlement being Carter, Galbraith & Co. and Hudon, Hebert & Cie., both of Montreal. It seems that the two firms in question were asked to quote prices for sugars, and having done so, each received an order for a carload, terms cash in ten days. After the required time had elapsed Ketcheson was drawn upon for the amount of the bills, but drafts were returned unpaid; and upon an explanation being asked he said that he was unable to settle and requested an extension. The Montreal houses were, however, under the impression that things were not all they should be, and consequently representatives were sent to Belleville to investigate the matter. Enquiry there elicited the information that Ketcheson's stock was very low and that there was not a barrel of sugar on the premises, a large portion of it having been sold for cash, within a few days of its receipt, at prices ranging from cost to one-eighth of a cent below cost, the proceeds of such sales, as well as the balance of the sugars, being unaccounted for. Of the two cars of sugar (about 160 barrels), something like 100 barrels were traced as having been sold for cash in and about Belleville, the balance having mysteriously disappeared, so far as a careful search would show. Ketcheson's explanations were anything but satisfactory, but as he was evidently prepared for the worst, his lawyer being with him much of the time, the Montreal creditors finally agreed to a composition of forty cents on the dollar. The services of Mr. P. G. Chartrand, of Kent & Turcotte, accountants, Montreal, were secured and he visited the various creditors for the purpose of getting their consent to a settlement on these terms. While nearly all the creditors signed for 40 cents they were almost unanimous in stating that they considered the whole transaction as most dishonorable, the account being comparatively new to the majority of them and the goods which went to make up their respective bills having been shipped to Ketcheson within the past few weeks. A couple o the claims had to be purchased, the creditors declining to accept a composition, but the matter is now settled, Ketcheson having secured the necessary funds and paid the amount of the composition. The foregoing puts the matter in a bad enough light to suit most people, but in reviewing this case it might be well to mention that the evidence goes to prove that Ketcheson was practically insolvent and in fact was seeking a composition previous to and at the time of his purchases of sugar from the two Montreal firms, he thereby becoming possessed of $2,138.35 worth of goods for which he had no apparent means of settling.

REGARDING GROCERY BAGS.

THE causes which have led, during the last two or three years, to the steady decline in prices, or, in other words, to the gradually steadily-increased discount that has been allowed on paper grocery bags, and the reason of the recent reaction in prices does not appear to be generally understood by the trade. It is therefore necessary to review the circumstances.

Until about three years ago the manufacturing of paper bags in Canada was practically confined to Kilgour Bros., of Toronto, and J. C. Wilson & Co., of Montreal, and prices ranged at present list with a maximum discount of 25 to 30, and in some cases to 33⅓ per cent. off list for large lots.

In 1894-5 the E. B Eddy Co., at Hull, put in bag machinery to manufacture extensively, but, as soon as, or even before, they got their product well on the market, prices began to waver, and shortly afterwards cutting began, the older-established houses in this line apparently fearing that the starting of a new paper bag factory would overstock the market and induce the slaughtering of the goods, apparently overlooking the fact that trade in and demand for paper bags in Canada was steadily increasing.

Bags became cheaper and cheaper until, at the opening of the season this year, as high as 70 per cent. off list is reported as being quoted in some localities. This meant heavy loss to manufacturers and disturbance to the trade all round, so the makers convened, formed an association, issued a uniform list, and decided on discounts on a sliding scale of from about 40 per cent. on small lots to 50 and 10 on carload lots.

As the new list we have before us states conspicuously that prices are subject to change without notice, and, as we understand, neither the manufacturers themselves nor the trade generally are fully satisfied with existing discounts on the list, the chances are that before long, pressure of circumstances will force another and early review of discounts, with the probabilities in favor of slightly higher rather than lower prices, because the bag makers' balance sheets for 1897-98 will probably show the balance on the wrong side of the ledger, owing to the cutting that has steadily prevailed in prices.

DISPLAY OF TABLE DELICACIES.

The display of table delicacies, given by Gordon & Dilworth, of New York, in the Windsor hotel, Montreal, last week, was well worth a visit. The goods displayed, comprising preserves, jellies, syrups, brandied fruits, salads, olives, capers, catsups, mince meat, plum pudding and canned goods of various descriptions were arranged about the room to the best advantage, the neat jars containing fruits, etc., of varied colors making a very pleasing effect. Samples for tasting were always at hand and the lady attendants were thoroughly at home in demonstrating the qualities of the goods, visitors being treated to an excellent description of the firm's methods of preparing fruits, etc. A number of Montreal's prominent retail grocers visited the display and purchased largely of the goods exhibited, as did also many of the lady visitors who were pleased with what they saw. The firm were apparently highly satisfied with the result of the display and they anticipate a good trade in Montreal and district for the future.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. T. W. Edwards, Lucas, Steele & Bristol's representative west of London, spent a day or two in Hamilton last week. His friends were all glad to see him. "Tom" has a great many warm personal friends in the Ambitious City, and they are always pleased to hear of his success on the road.

Mr. W. J. Moody, representing the Alpha Chemical Co., manufacturers of chemical specialties, Moody's non-corrosive inks, etc., Berlin, was in Toronto last week. He reports the business of his company to be increasing satisfactorily. The company is putting "Sunlight" black lead on the market, six bars in a box, instead of three, as formerly.

WEEKLY BUTTER SHIPMENTS.

The Montreal Butter and Cheese Association have sent a circular to all the creameries in Quebec advising all makers to ship weekly instead of monthly, as is now done. They state that the immediate results will be more satisfactory and that this will be the means of increasing our trade with Great Britain very materially. They make the point that this system of weekly shipment has resulted in Canadian cheese reaching the top of the ladder, and that Canadian butter may also reach a like position there, instead of occupying a very unimportant position.

A QUEER BOOKKEEPING INCIDENT.

THAT flies are troublesome all will agree, but that they are capable of causing sleepless nights, and almost insanity, will be a matter of surprise to all who read the following incident as given in The San Francisco Post:

"A bookkeeper in a San Francisco wholesale house has been spending sleepless nights for three weeks in fruitless efforts to make his books balance.

"There was an apparent shortage of nine hundred dollars that could not be accounted for.

"He added up columns and struck balances until he was almost insane. He finally worked himself into the frame of mind that usually lands a man in Canada, the insane asylum, or a suicide's grave, when the manager of the house invited his confidence.

"Then they went over the books together, but the nine hundred dollars shortage was still there.

"The head of the house was called in and the work of overhauling accounts commenced again. They had not gone far before they came to an entry of nineteen hundred dollars.

"'Why that should be one thousand dollars!' exclaimed the employer.

"'How did it happen to be entered nineteen hundred dollars?'

"A careful examination showed that a fly had been crushed between the pages of the cash book, and one of its legs made a tail of the first cipher of the one-thousand dollar entry, converting it into a nine."

A MUSTARD FIRM'S OLD EMPLOYE.

The Grocers' Monthly, London, Eng., some time ago offered a prize of two guineas to the man who had longest been in the employ of any firm in the United Kingdom in any of the trades represented by the paper.

The winner of the prize was James Barnes, 274 King street, Norwich. Mr. Barnes is an employe of J. & J. Colman, Limited, Norwich, manufacturers of Colman's mustard, etc. He has been in the employ of this firm for 68 years, and is now foreman starch-maker. Both employers and employe are to be congratulated on the length of time they have been connected.

OPENING A TOFFY BRANCH.

Slade & Co., Limited, Leeds, England, makers of Slade's toffy, are making arrangements to open a branch in Canada. This firm commenced business five years ago, making a turnover the first year of $50,000. Last year their turnover was over $254,000, and they are now shipping to the leading cities of the United States. They are issuing a new illustrated price list, which every grocer should see. Write for a copy to the Royal Toffy Works, Leeds.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

This department has become so popular that many more notices than there is space for are received every week. In future only important items of information will be inserted. Contributors are requested to send news only, not puffs of goods they handle, or the arrival of standard goods that everyone has in stock, or that they are offering goods at close figures, or that they have had an unusually large sale this season.

RUTHERFORD, MARSHALL & CO. say that, in their experience, the market has never been in better condition for butter, all grades being readily picked up.

W. H. Gillard & Co. have on hand a full assortment of fish for the Lenten season.

H. P. Eckardt & Co. are offering fine values in syrups, all grades.

W. H. Gillard & Co. have in stock 1 and 2-lb. cans of "Barataria" shrimps.

The Davidson & Hay, Limited, quote special prices on pork and beans, 3-lb. tins.

D. Gunn, Bros. & Co. report good Easter business putting up smoked meats especially for this trade.

The Davidson & Hay, Limited, are wholesale agents in Toronto for "Washington" lye.

Perkins, Ince & Co. have received a carload of Santa Cruz prunes, assorted sizes, in 25 and 50-lb. boxes.

Brand's "A1" international sauce is being handled here by the Davidson & Hay, Limited.

The 3-lb. "Circle" tea packet Lucas, Steele & Bristol have put on the market is strong and attractive.

The Davidson & Hay, Limited, have another car of California prunes and apricots to hand this week.

Buyers of fish will do well by communicating with H. P, Eckardt & Co., who still have a good assortment.

Bayle's "English Sandwich Mustard"; also horse radish mustard, is again offering by Lucas, Steele & Bristol.

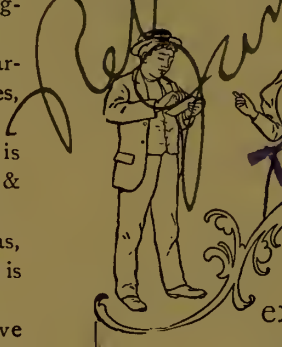
A line of California evaporated apricots, to retail at 3-lbs. for 25c., is a leader with the Eby, Blain Co., Limited.

Lucas, Steele & Bristol have "Barataria" 1 and 2-lb. shrimps in stock; also "Cherrystone" and "Dogshead" oysters.

T. Kinnear & Co. have in stock a line of marmalade in glass bottles, screw tops, which they are offering at $1 per dozen.

The Eby, Blain Co., Limited, have a fine range of California evaporated peaches in 70-lb. bags, equal in quality to box-packed fruit, but lower in price.

"Diamond Crystal" salt can now be procured from Lucas, Steele & Bristol in bulk, 24 3's, 120 2½'s, 60 5's, 40 7's, 20 14's, 28 and 56-lb. bags; also 228-lb. bags.



The sale of the "Rising Sun" stove polish was largely increased last year over the previous one, and the sale of "Sun Paste" stove polish was increased more than one-third.

Syrups, dark, medium and bright are leading sellers with the Eby, Blain Co., Limited, the demand for their "Honey" syrup, in barrels, half-barrels and pails, being exceptionally brisk.

The Eby Blain Co., Limited, have in stock some good values in Japan teas packed under their own brand "Anchor," in fancy air-tight tins from 30 lbs. to 100 lbs., net weight. They retail at from 25 to 35c.

Buyers of green Rio coffees should note the fact that this is a specialty with the Eby, Blain Co., Limited, who have just received a heavy direct importation, desirable in color and evenness, which they are quoting, as bought, exceptionally low.

T. A. Lytle & Co. report a great increase in the demand for jams, jellies, marmalade and catsup during the past month, which can be accounted for by the scarcity of fruit at this season and the number of persons who are provisioning for the Klondyke.

Women of experience in ordering coffee from their grocer are careful to specify Chase & Sanborn's Seal Brand Coffee, which comes in pound and two-pound tin cans, knowing that satisfaction accompanies every can.

Thousands of refined people who know and appreciate good coffee endorse this famous brand. The signature and the seal of these well-known importers guarantee its excellence.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, March 17, 1898.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS during the past week has fallen off somewhat, and there is not the snap to it that wholesalers have been expecting. The sugar market is still dull, and while the local market is unchanged as to price, there have been further depreciations in the London market. Canned goods are still without special feature. If anything, the feeling in regard to canned tomatoes is easier, although there is no quotable change in figures. There is very little doing in canned fruits or canned fish. The tea market is quiet. The spice market rules steady, but there is not much business being done. Coffees are in fair demand locally, but the outside markets are a little easier on Brazil kind. The most interesting feature in regard to foreign dried fruits is a decline in the price of currants in the primary market. There is a fair demand noted for syrups, but molasses is quiet.

CANNED GOODS.

The market continues quiet for canned vegetables, and although no quotable change has taken place in prices, yet the feeling is easier in regard to tomatoes. A canner informed THE CANADIAN GROCER that, while he has sold carload lots at $1.25, he could not to-day get that figure by at least 5c. Stocks of corn in packers' hands are almost cleaned out, and the price for this line rules steady. Canned salmon, and, in fact, all kinds of canned fish, are quiet, with prices steady and unchanged, We quote : Tomatoes, $1.20 to $1.25 ; corn, to 85c.; peas, 90 to 95c. for ordinary; sifted select, $1.10 to $1.25; extra sifted, $1.25 to $1.40 ; beans, 60 to 95c.; peaches, $2 to $2.40 for 3's, $1.40 to $1.75 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.80 ; strawberries, $1.40 to $1 70, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.40 to $1.70 ; cherries, $1.75 to $2.25 ; apples, 3's, 80 to 95c.; gallons, $2.25 to $2.40; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.25 in 5-case lots and $1.30 in less quantities; other red salmon, $1.20 upwards, according to quality and brand ; Cohoes, 95c. to $1 ; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.40 to $2.70 for tall tins ; ½-lb. flats, $1.65 to $1.70 ; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1.40 ; 2's, $2.35 to $2.50 ; 6's, $7.75 to $8.25 ; 14's, $15 to $16 ; Canadian kippered herrings, $4.50 per case.

SYRUPS.

Syrups are moving fairly well at steady prices. We quote as follows : Dark, 23 to 25c.; medium, 28 to 35c.; bright, 32 to 42c.; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

There have been some enquiries, but few, if any, transactions appear to have taken place. Prices still rule steady. We quote as follows : New Orleans, bbls., 23 to 35c.; ditto, half-bbls., 25 to 37c.; ditto, fancy, 50 to 55c. in bbls. and half-bbls.; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c.; half-bbls., 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

The outside markets are dull and easy, a further decline having taken place in the London market, although during the last couple of days that market appears to have taken a more favorable turn. The New York market is quiet, and toward the end of last week, some grades of refined sugar were reduced 1-16 to ⅛c. per lb. in price. There has been no change in the Canadian market, but business is dull. It is to be noted that some shipments of English yellow sugar have arrived on this market during the last few days. Yellow has been scarce on this market lately. We quote as follows : wholesale price, subject to a discount of 1 per cent., 10 days : Granulated (St. Lawrence, Redpath, Acadia), 4⅝c.; ditto, Dutch, in bags, 4¼c. ; ditto, German of Canadian make, in bbls., 4¼c.; ditto, imported, in bags, 4¼c. ; yellows, 3¾c. upwards.

NUTS.

The market is quiet and unchanged. We quote as follows : Brazil nuts, 12½ to 14c.; Valencia shelled almonds, 23 to 25c. ; Tarragona almonds, 9 to 11c. ; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 8 to 10c. for green ; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack ; Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12c.; Marbot walnuts, 9½ to 11c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 8 to 9c.; Sicily filberts, 9½c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots ; Naples filberts, 11c.; pecans, 12 to 12½c.

RICE, TAPIOCA, SAGO.

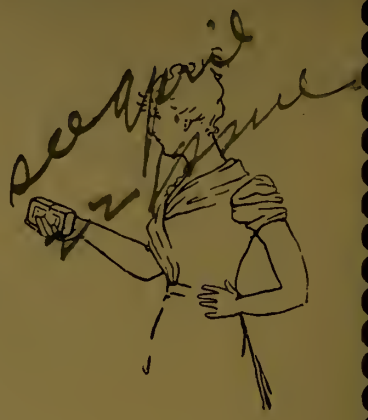
The market for rice of all kinds rules steady, and business is of the usual character. We quote : Standard " B, " broken lots, 3⅞c.; 1 to 5 sacks, 3¾c., and 5 sacks and over, 3⅝c. per lb.; Japan, 5c.; Patna, 5 to 5¾c.; tapioca, 3½ to 5½c.; sago, 3½ to 4½c.

COFFEE.

Brazil coffees have been easier in the primary market, although during the last few days a steadier feeling has developed. Locally trade is fair at unchanged prices. Jobbers quote green in bags: Rio, 8 to 12½c., according to grade ; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; Santos, 12 to 18c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 27½ to 30c.; Maracaibo, 13 to 17c.; Jamaica, 16 to 22c.

SPICES.

The steady feeling which has characterized this market for some time still prevails, although as far as can be learned no further change in prices has taken place. The demand is quiet. We quote : Pure Singapore black pepper, ground, 12 to 14c. in kegs, pails and boxes, and 14 to 15c. in 5-lb. cans ; ditto, whole, 12c. per lb.; pure white pepper, ground, 22 to 24c. in kegs, pails and boxes, and 20 to 22c. in 5-lb. cans ; ditto, whole, 22 to 26c., according to quality ; pure Jamaica ginger, 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 16c.; cassia, 20 25c. per lb. for ground and 40c. for Saigon.



TEAS.

The feature of the local trade during the week is the shipment of further lots of Japan teas to the United States market, and further enquiries are being received. The fire which destroyed probably 400,000 lbs. of tea may also be accounted a feature of the tea market, for it should, to some extent, affect business. Just at the moment shippers' representatives are doing very little business, although the wholesalers are experiencing a good demand. In fact, teas are the most active line in the grocery trade just now, as far as the wholesalers are concerned. Ruling wholesale prices on the Toronto market are as follows : Young Hyson, 18 to 21c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades ; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades ; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades ; Indias and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

Valencia raisins are dearer in London, and on Feb. 28 only 6,000 boxes were left in Spain.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, March 17, 1898.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market has been rather quiet during the past week, but there is a moderate movement in progress. Buyers, as a rule, are indifferent in regard to sugar, and the general range of values is unsettled on this staple. Syrups are quiet and steady. Advices from primary markets on molasses are much firmer, and, as a result, the spot market has a better tone this week. There is only a quiet demand for canned goods, but vegetables are firmly held. Buyers will not operate ahead in tea, despite the fact that stocks here are light, and it is confidently predicted that every box will be wanted before any new crop can arrive. Spices are quite firm, and the cost for forward importation has increased. Coffee continues quiet, while rice is in fair demand. An active demand for prunes, particularly the larger descriptions, and evaporated apples, has been a feature of the dried fruit market. Green fruits have ruled much the same all round, while the mild weather has been beneficial to the fish business. Country produce generally is steady.

SUGAR.

There has been little or no change in the local sugar situation during the week. Demand continues dull, and we quote granulated at 4⅜c., with domestic yellows at any price between 3¾ to 4c. Dutch granulated is quoted at 3 15-16 to 4c., and domestic manufactured Dutch, 4 to 4 1-16c. Demand from retailers continues quite moderate, but it is the general opinion that they cannot hold off much longer, as their stocks must be light. Abroad the easy feeling that set in last week continues, and beet is 1½d. lower than it was at 9s. 2¼d. in London. Cane is unchanged at 11s. 3d. for Java and 9s. 9d. for fair refining. In New York raw is reported barely steady.

SYRUPS.

There is a quiet trade in syrups, and prices are held steady at 1½ to 2½c., as to quality.

MOLASSES.

Last week there was more or less of an unsettled feeling in molasses owing to conflicting quotations from Brrbadoes in regard to new crop. This week the market is distinctly firm as a result of some extensive purchases at the islands, the fact of which is specially referred to elsewhere. Consequently jobbers who felt inclined to shade prices last week are firm sellers this week at 27c. in car lots and 28c. in small quantities, and wholesale trade between houses has been done at 25c. Porto Rico is quoted at 26 to 27c.

CANNED GOODS.

There is a quiet, steady trade in canned goods, but no special activity in any line. Vegetables are quite firmly held, especially corn and tomntoes. We quote: Tomatoes, $1.10 to $1.25 ; corn, 90c. to $1 ; peas, 90c. to $1.15 ; peaches, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.90 ; strawberries, $1.75 to $2, according to brand and quality; cherries, $2.30 ; apples, gallons, $2.60 to $2.75; 3-lb.do., $1.10 to $1.20; salmon, $1.20 to $1.25 as to brand ; lobsters, $11 ; French sardines, $10.25 to $11 for extra brands, and $8 to $9 for ordinary ; Canadian do., $4.25 to $4.50.

TEAS.

The tea market is without new feature, and, despite the strong position outside and the admitted strong position of values, the consumptive demand is quiet. In fact, retailers will not stock up ahead, though it is pretty generally admitted that every box of tea here will be wanted before the new crop arrives in. This is especially so in the case of low grade Japans and blacks. We quote as follows : Young Hysons, 18c. for low grades, 24 to 28c. for mediums and 30 to 40c. for good to finest ; China Congous, 10 to 17c. for mediums and 25 to 50c. for better grades ; Japans, 13 to 17c. for mediums and 28c. for higher grades ; Indians and Ceylons, 17 to 20c. for mediums and 35 to 65c. for higher grades.

SPICES.

There has been a good demand for spices, and the firm feeling noted last week is accentuated, if anything, and there have been considerable transactions for import in Penang black pepper, Singapore do., Penang and Singapore white, unbleached ginger, and nutmegs and cloves. We quote : Black pepper, 11 to 15c.; white pepper, 19 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 25 to 27c.; do. best, 30c.; allspice, 14c.; and nutmegs, 50 to 90c.

COFFEE.

The demand for coffee is limited and the market is quiet and easy, though there is no change in prices. We quote as follows : Maracaibo, 12 to 15c.; Santos, 10 to 12c; Rio, 10c.; Mocha, 25 to 28c., and Java 25 to 30c.

RICE.

There has been a fair trade in rice for the season, and with continued strong advices from abroad prices rule firm. We quote : Crystal Japan, $5 ; standard B, $3.50 to $3.75; Patna, $5 to $5.50; Carolina, $6.75 to $7.75 ; choice Burmah, $4 to $4.25, and Java kinds, $4.25 to $4.50.

DRIED FRUIT.

There is no change in currants, a steady demand being noted. Abroad, values are firmly held. We quote as follows : Fine Vostizzas, 6½c.; Patras, 6¼c.; choice Filiatra, 6c.; half-cases, do., 5⅞c.; half-bbls., 5⅜c.; fine Provincials, 5⅝c., in half-cases.

Valencia raisins are quiet and steady, and we quote : Off-stalk, 4¼ to 4½c.; fine do., 4¾ to 5c. ; selected, 6 to 6¼c., and layers, 6 to 6¾c.

California raisins are unchanged locally, and there is nothing special from the Coast. We quote : 2-crown, 6 to 6½c.; 3-crown, 7 to 7½c,. and 4-crown, 8¼ to 8½c., duty paid on spot.

Prunes are in active request, and a feature of the market this year is the increased enquiry for the better class of goods. These have been scarce all along and naturally are firmly held. We quote: California, 5 to 10c.; Oregons, 7 to 9c.; French, 4½ to 5½c., Austrian, 6½ to 7c.

Dates are steady at 4½ to 5c.

Figs are unchanged. We quote: Eleme, 10 lbs., 10 to 11c.; case lots, 9c.; 12-oz. boxes, 7½c.; 14-oz. boxes, 9c., and bags, 4 to 5c.

NUTS.

There is a steady, but small trade in nuts. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 10½ to 11c.; Marbots, 9 to 9½c.; Tarragona almonds, 8½ to 10c.; shelled almonds, 20 to 22c., and shelled walnuts, 16 to 18c.; Sicily filberts, 7 to 8½c., and pecans, 9 to 10c.

GREEN FRUIT.

There has been a good demand for green fruits. California oranges are in large supply, and though demand is good values have an easy tendency. Supplies of Jamaica oranges are light and prices steady, while Valencias are scarce and firmer. Sales of lemons have been pretty liberal at the decline, but stocks are still heavy. Pineapples are scarce, with an upward tendency. Florida tomatoes are offering at $4 to $4.50. We quote as follows: Jamaica oranges, $4 to $5; California navels, $2.75 to $3.50; do., seedlings, $2 to $2.50; Valencia, $5.50 to $6; Florida, $4.25. Lemons, $2 to $2.75; pineapples, 15 to 40c. each, and cranberries, $9 to $10 per bbl. for Cape Cod, and $8.50 to $9 for Nova Scotia; strawberries, 50c.; bananas, $1.75 to $2, and tomatoes, $4 to $4.50 per carrier.

DRIED APPLES.

Dried apples are quiet at 5 to 6½c., but there is an active enquiry for evaporated fruit at 9 to 10c.

FISH.

The spell of mild weather which has prevailed, since our last report of the fish trade, has had considerable effect in curtailing sales, especially of the fresh lines, consequently the volume of business has been smaller than a week ago, and the market on the whole, somewhat quieter. The stock, however, is being gradually reduced and the prospects are still good for a clearance by the end of the Lenten season. The general tone of the market continues steady and prices show little change from a week ago. Fresh caught haddock and cod are arriving and, as this class of fish are much preferred in preference to frozen stock, higher prices have been realized for the same. Haddock have sold at 4c. and cod at 4c. per lb. Frozen haddock and cod are selling at 3 to 3½c.; steak cod at 3½ to 4c.; smelts at 2 to 5c.; Manitoba dore 5½ to 6c.; white fish and trout, 6½c., and pike at 3 to 3½c. Frresh herrings, $1.25 to $1.30 per 100 in casks and barrels. Tommy cods 80c. to $1.

In the line of pickled fish there has been no important change to note, except that salmon are scarce and firmly held at the recent advance. The demand is only for small lots to fill actual wants. We quote: Green cod, No. 1, large, $4 to $4.25; No. 1, ordinary, $3.50; No. 2, $2; herrings, No. 1, N.S., $4.25 to $4.50 per bbl., and $2.25 per half-bbl.; Cape Breton, $4.50 to $4.75 per bbl.; B.C. salmon, $12 per bbl.; No. 1 trout, $4.25 per half-bbl.

The feature in smoked fish has been the arrival of a few small lots of new cured haddies, which have met with a ready sale at 7c. per lb. Canadian frozen haddies are still scarce and firm. Haddies are selling at 5½ to 6c. per lb.; Yarmouth bloaters, at $1.25 per box, and smoked herrings at 10c. per box.

The supply of boneless codfish is still small, and prices have been maintained at the recent advance, with sales at 5 to 5½c. Dressed codfish are quiet at $4.25 per case of 100 lbs.; dried cod, at $3.50 per 100 lbs., and boneless fish at 3c. per lb.

SALT.

Unchanged. We quote: Coarse Liverpool, in 165-lb. bags, 38 to 45c., and Trepani, $1.10 per bag of 215 lbs.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—Are again lower. The receipts continue liberal, for which the demand is good, and although buyers are only taking sufficient stock to fill actual wants daily, a fairly active trade is doing at 14 to 14½c. per dozen.

BEANS—The demand for beans is slow, and the market is quiet, with prices unchanged at 75 to 80c. for primes and at 85 to 90c. for choice hand-picked per bushel.

HONEY—There is no change in honey, We quote: White clover, 12½c.; dark clover comb, 10 to 10½c., and dark, 7 to 8c.

POTATOES—A fair trade is reported in potatoes, and prices are unchanged at 60c. per bag, in car lots, and at 70 to 75c. in a jobbing way,

ONIONS—Canadian onions are offering at $2 to $2.50 per bbl.

PROVISIONS.

There is no important change in the local provision market. The demand for all lines is still limited and trade is quiet at about steady prices. We quote as follows: Canadian pork, $16 to $16.50 per barrel; pure Canadian lard, in pails, at 8¼ to 8½c., and compound refined at 5½ to 5¾c. per lb.; hams, 11½ to 12½c.; bacon, 12 to 13c. per lb.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

A steady business was reported in flour on both local and country account. In consequence the market is moderately active, with no change in values to note. We quote: Winter wheat, patents $4.75 to $5; straight rollers, $4.50 to $4.60; bags, $2.25 to $2.30; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.90; Manitoba spring patents, $5.30.

There is no change in meal, prices being steady under a limited demand at $4 per bbl., and at $1.95 per bag for rolled oats.

GRAIN AND FEED.

The grain market was without new feature. The demand for all lines was slow. We quote: No. 2 white oats, 33½c., ex-store; 35½c. afloat, May delivery; peas, 67 to 67½c. afloat, May; buckwheat, 43 to 43½c. ex store. Ontario red wheat, 86c., and white, 84 to 85c. along the line. No. 1 hard Manitoba wheat, 98½c. afloat Fort William, May delivery.

The demand for feed is still good, but supplies are limited; in fact, millers in some cases are so closely sold up that they can only book orders for future delivery. The tone of the market is firm. We quote: Ontario winter wheat bran, $15; shorts, $17 per ton in bulk; Manitoba bran, $15, and shorts, $17 per ton, including bags.

A fair trade continues to be done in hay, the demand being good for small lots of choice stock, and, as supplies of such are limited, prices rule firm at $10.50 for No. 1, and at $8.50 for No. 2 per ton, in car lots.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

Cheese continues dull for the reason that there is very little stock remaining. Practically all the stock held for sale on spot, aside from a few small outside lots, is concentrated in the hands of two firms, and the largest holder of the two does not appear to be on the market at present, as he was asked to-day to put a price on 500 to 1,000 boxes of finest and refused to do so. Consequently quotations are nominal.

The butter market exhibits no change. Receipts were a little heavier to-day, being over 500 packages, but demand is still more than equal to the supplies. Finest creamery is sold at 20 to 20½c., and western dairy at 17c. in tubs, and 16c. in rolls. Receipts of the latter are very small now.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Sales of new Barbadoes molasses for June delivery have been made at 23c. landed here.

Cables from London on beet sugar are 1½d. lower than they were a week ago. Cane is unchanged.

Spices for forward delivery are very firm, especially Singapore and Penang pepper, unbleached ginger, cloves, and nutmegs.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,
ST. JOHN, N.B., March 15, 1898.

THE past week shows improved business. The weather has been mild and in the city the snow is about gone. Spring orders are being received. Steamers and schooners running to Bay of Fundy ports are coming out of winter quarters, and an active business is again becoming the order of the day. In common with other places we have some Klondyke fever here, and quite a number of young men have already started for the west. While some will stop in British Columbia the larger number expect to push on to the Yukon. Prince Edward Island furnishes a large number of those who are westward bound. The firm feeling and upward tendency in the markets continue. Cream of tartar is quoted higher in primary markets. Spice continues firm, and many lines of whole goods to import would cost higher. Spot price, while firmly held, show little change. Teas have an improved demand, and a good spring business at firm figures is expected.

OILS—The advance in American oil holds firm. As yet Canadian has shown no change, but the feeling favors an advance. At this season the demand is light. All lines show strength. Cod oil and turpentine are both marked up. The stock of the former is light. Lubricating oils are active. We quote: Best American burning oil, 20 to 21c. Canadian water white, 17 to 18c.; Canadian prime, 15 to 16c.; cod oil, 26 to 28c.; turpentine, 50 to 52c.

SALT—Each weekly steamer from Liverpool brings some coarse salt, but no large consignments are arriving, as the market is well supplied. There is but a light demand and the market is rather easier. The wants of buyers outside the city are being supplied largely from previous arrivals. We quote. Coarse, 40 to 45c.; Liverpool

CANNED GOODS—Perhaps the influence of the Klondyke has been felt here as much in the advance in this line of goods as in any other way. While stocks were not particularly large, they were such as to give our jobbers very satisfactory results from the advance. All lines are held firm. During the past few weeks Canadian canned meats have shown quite an advance. The American shows as yet no change. Prices are still above that of Canadian. We quote: Corn, 90c. to $1; peas, $1 to $1.10; tomatoes, $1.30 to $1.40; gallon apples, $2.65 to $2.75; corned beef, Canadian, $2.40 to $2.50; American, 2-lb. tins, $2.50 to $2.75; 1-lb. tins, $1.45 to $1.50; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.40 to $1.50; peaches, 3's, Canadian, $2.40 to $2.75; 2's, $1.50 to $1.85; American, 3's, $2 to $2.25; pineapple, $2.25 to $2.50; fruits in glass, $4 to $4.25; salmon, $1.10 to $1.20; ditto, flats, $1.25 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.50 to $2.60; haddies, $1.00 to $1.10; clams, $4.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $2.50 to $2.75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1 per doz.; kippered herring, $1.10 per doz.

GREEN FRUIT—There is an improved business. Apples, which for some time have been dull, show improved demand for good quality stock. Oranges and lemons are easy in price. The former are not improving in quality, but there is still good stock to be had. There is an improved sale for bananas, but in this line it is still too early for any large business. Cranberries and grapes are about done. We quote: Lemons, $3.50 to $4; Valencia oranges, $5.50 to $6; California navels, $3.75 to $4; seedlings, $3 to $3.50; Jaffa oranges, $4; apples, $3 to $4; bananas, $1.50 to $2.25; Cape Cod cranberries, $12 to $12.50 per bbl.

DRIED FRUITS—California prunes have an improved sale. Prices, particularly for small sizes, tend higher. It looks as if these goods would entirely take the place of the foreign. California raisins are not a large stock here. Prices are steady. In Malaga loose muscatel raisins quite a few are still held, and prices are rather easier. There is but light sale for Valencias. Seeded raisins are rather lower, and show a better demand. Currants show no change in price. A fair business is doing. Dried and evaporated apples are quiet. In California evaporated fruits there is a larger sale than ever before in this market, and in these lines package goods are becoming popular. Onions are again marked higher, and the outlook is for still higher prices. We quote as follows: Valencias, 5 to 5½c.; California L. M., 3-crown, 6½ to 6¾c.; London layers, $1.40 to $1.50; Imp. cabinets, $1.75 to $1.80; black baskets, $2.25 to $2.30; Dehesa layers, $2.50 to $2.75; currants, cases, 6¼ to 6½c.; bbls., 5¾ to 6c.; cartoons, cleaned, 8 to 9c.; bulk, cleaned, 7 to 8c.; prunes, boxes, 4½ to 9c.; dates, 4 to 5c.; dried apples, 6 to 7c.; evaporated apples, 10¼ to 10½c.; onions, $2.50 to $2.75 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 per 100 lbs.; figs, 8 to 10c.; Sultana raisins, 9 to 10c.; Malaga loose muscatels, 3-crown, 6½ to 6¾c.; 4-crown L. M. Californias, 7½ to 7¾c.; seeded muscatels, 1-lb. cartoons, 11 to 12c.; new Valencias, layers, 6¼ to 6½c.; citron peel, 18c.; lemon peel, 12c.; orange peel, 13c.

SUGAR—Dealers during the past week have bought rather more freely, but not at all as largely as last season. Though there is some thought that the duty may be increased, for while in this market very little foreign sugar has been imported, quite a quantity has been imported west. There is little, if any, change in price. We quote: Granulated, 4½ to 4⅝c.; yellows, 3⅝ to 4c.; Paris lump, 5¾ to 6c.; powdered, 5½ to 6c.

MOLASSES—The arrival of new goods has given quite a stir to this line, and has caused a decline in prices, though our market was never as firm as that to the west of us, there being enough here for all demands. The principal new goods are Barbadoes, though there have been arrivals of small quantities of Demerara, Antigua and St. Kitts. The quantity of New Orleans handled here during the past season has been light. We quote: Barbadoes, 24 to 25c.; Porto Rico, 27 to 31c.; New Orleans, bbls., 28 to 32c.; Antigua, 22 to 23c.; St. Croix, 20 to 22c.; Demerara, 35 to 36c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—About the only change is in eggs. The warm weather of the last few weeks has caused quite a steady decline. This is the season of good eggs. In butter, the market is dull, except for best stock, which is scarce, and even for this it is difficult to get full price. Cheese shows little improvement, but stocks are light, and a better business is hoped for. We quote: Dairy butter, 15 to 18c.; creamery, 18 to 20c.; prints, 20 to 22c.; cheese, 9½ to 10c.; eggs, 12 to 14c.

FISH—The season for frozen fish has closed early this year. The quantity handled has been small, particularly in herring. In dry fish there is a good demand, with light stock. Pollock hold their high price, and cod are quoted higher this week. Perhaps the firmness is felt more in pickled herring than in the other lines. Stocks in hand are light, and there are very few, if any, to arrive. Finnan haddies, which continue to have large sale, show no change in price. Smoked herring is quiet. Very few fresh lobsters are being received. The better grades are shipped direct to the United States markets. We quote: Large cod, $3.45 to $3.60; medium, $3.15 to $3.35; pollock, $2 to $2.10; Grand Manan pickled herring, $1.85 to $1.95 per half-bbl.; smoked herring 6½ to 7c.; Canso, pickled, $5 per barrel; boneless fish, 3½ to 4½c.; cod, 6 to 7c.; frozen cod and haddock, 2 to 2½c.; smelts, 4 to 5c. per lb.; finnan haddies, 4 to 4½c.; lobsters, small, 3 to 5c.

PROVISIONS—Our market, which has been very low all winter, is ruling higher. Stocks are lighter than for a long time. This is particularly true of clear pork. Prince Edward Island pork is quoted this week. In plate beef higher prices are looked for. Smoked meats are having some demand. Prices are likely to rule higher, owing to large western demand. Lard is also firmly held, and is not at all freely offered. We quote: Clear pork, $15.50 to $16; old light do, $14; mess, $15 to $15.25; prime mess, $12 to $12.50; plate beef, $14 to $14.50; extra plate, $14.25 to $15; hams, 11 to 12c.; rolls, 9½ to 10c.; pure lard, 8 to 9c.; compound, 6½ to 7½c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In flour the feeling is hardly as strong. This is more restricted in Ontarios than in Manitoba flours. Oats and oatmeal also tend easier. Cornmeal is firm at the slight advance. Feed is scarce. Medium beans are held by western dealers at least 10c. above pea beans. The market is firm at quotations. There is an active business in seeds, of which large quantities are handled here. Stocks are quite large. In timothy seed the quotation is rather higher, while if there is any change in clover, it favors an easier feeling. Peas and barley are quoted higher. Hay is dull and low. We quote as follows: Manitoba $5.90 to $6; best Ontario, $5.10 to $5.15; medium, $4.85 to $4.95; oatmeal, $4.15 to $4.25; cornmeal, $2.10; middlings, bulk, car lots, $19 to $20; bran, do, $17.50 to $18; hand-picked beans, $1 to $1.10; prime, 95c. to $1.00; barley, $3.35 to $3.45; round peas, $1.25; split peas, $3.60 to $3.75; yellow eye beans, $1.75; oats, 39 to 40c.; timothy seed, American, $1.70 to $1.90; do., Canadian, $2 to $2.25; mammoth clover, 7 to 7½c.; red clover, 6 to 7c.; alsike, 7¾ to 8½c.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

T. H. Estabrooks received a large consignment of cocoanuts, via the Taymouth Castle, from Trinidad, this week.

N. Marquis, general dealer, Edmundston, has assigned to the sheriff of Victoria county. Liabilities are estimated at $12,000.

Steamer Alph, running between St. John and Yarmouth, is again making regular trips, leaving St. John each Tuesday.

Bowman & Angevine have just received a consignment of Maconochie's pickles in the large-sized bottle with patent stopper.

The St. John Board of Trade intend asking the Government to arrange a reciprocal tariff between Canada and Bahama. They are asking the Montreal Board of Trade to assist them in the effort.

E. T. Chamberland, representing J. R. Armsby & Co., California dried and evaporated fruits, Chicago, in the Eastern States, lately paid a short visit to our city. J. Hunter White, St. John, is the agent for the maritime provinces.

L. B. Read, of the Merchants Bank of Halifax, Moncton, has just been transferred to the St. John's, Newfoundland, agency, where he will occupy the position of accountant.

Included in the cargo of the West India steamer arriving this week were 369 casks Barbadoes molasses, 5 casks Antigua, 63 barrels St. Kttts, and 500 bags cocoanuts. There were also a few fresh tomatoes from Bermuda.

A shipment of 528 barrels of tallow, "fine tried," making 55 tons, went forward from Halifax to Glasgow, Scotland, this week. This is a first shipment. The quality is said to be much better than the American, and the result of the experiment will be watched with interest.

In the banking business New Brunswick is much behind Nova Scotia. In New Brunswick there are but three local banks, each with but one office. The Bank of New Brunswick, St. John; the People's Bank, Fredericton, and the St. Stephen Bank, St. Stephen, are the three banks in question. In every town in these lower provinces are found branches of the Halifax banks, some of which have also branches in Newfoundland doing a successful business.

HIS TRIP SUCCESSFUL.

Mr. C. H. Colson, representing C. C. Colson, of Montreal, is in Toronto this week. He is on his way back from Hamilton and London, where he has been looking up business in Crosse & Blackwell's goods and Epps's cocoa. Mr. Colson has had a successful trip, and, before returning to Montreal, will visit Belleville, Kingston, Ottawa, etc., in the interest of the goods his firm are agents for.

WHY CANNED CORN SOURS.

GROCERS who have had to undergo losses occasioned by sour canned corn which they have found on their hands will appreciate the value of the investigations and researches that have been and are now being made at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, very largely under the direction of Mr. S. C. Prescott, who is connected with the institute, and Mr. Wm. Lyman Underwood, of Wm. Underwood Co., Boston, for the purpose of accurately ascertaining the cause of the spoiling of various kinds of canned foods after they have been placed in the cans, and in order that such spoiling may be guarded against and prevented.

The work already done, and that being carried on at the present time, is quite comprehensive in its scope, including lobsters, clams, fish, corn, peas and squash, and it is the purpose of these gentlemen to study, in so far as possible, all kinds of canned goods in which spoiling occurs.

There will appear shortly in The Technology Quarterly an article, the second of the series which they propose, on the souring of canned corn, the first article having been published in March, 1897, and which we shall reproduce in these columns. When it is remembered that the output of canned corn in this country amounts annually to 72,000 tons, the result of this work must prove of incalculable value.

To this end, the practical knowledge of the gentlemen above named has been combined with the facilities possessed by the Institute of Technology for studying bacteriology with relation to its commercial bearings. As a result of their studies, they have discovered that sourness in canned corn is due principally to insufficient sterilization, that often without enough sterilization corn would not swell, also that the bacteria that cause corn to ferment are probably harmless, though unpleasant. The only precautions necessary at the factory are cleanliness and thorough knowledge of sterilization. Although the packers take every precaution, the souring of corn is a constant worry to them. The milk in the corn is turned into acids, giving it an unpleasant taste.

At the fourth annual convention of the Atlantic States Packers' Association, at Buffalo, N.Y., on Feb. 8, 1898, this subject was considered at length ; and from material there presented we extract some information relative to the work carried on by Mr. Underwood and Mr. Prescott, of the biological department of the Institute of Technology. At first the progress of these gentlemen in their investigations was very slow, and many experiments had to be made and methods devised to obtain satisfactory results. With the aid of the microscope they found cans of spoiled goods fairly alive with microbes, or germs. Difficulty was experienced in making them grow outside the cans, so that the different species might be separated and the peculiarities of each watched and studied. Various attempts were made to induce them to grow on different substances, and in different kinds of liquid foods. The temperature favorable to their growth had also to be determined. At length they were successful in making them grow, and were enabled to separate them and obtain pure cultures of several varieties.

It seems that bacteria, or, as they are frequently called, microbes and germs, are not all disease producing, as is the popular belief, but that the great majority of them are harmless.

They cause milk to sour, and sour milk has many uses in the preparation of food. These germs are very small, averaging only 1-20,000 of an inch in diameter, Those found in the spoiled corn are of two different types : micrococci and bacilli. The first are round like minute balls, and the second are elongated; both vary in size. Their growth is by what is known as division, and under favorable conditions is very rapid. Some of the bacilli may divide every twenty minutes, at the end of ten hours, one will have multiplied to over 4,000,000,000.

To illustrate how rapid the growth is, two cans of corn were inoculated with some of these germs and placed in an incubator at a temperature of 89 degrees at 4 o'clock p.m. The next morning at 8 o'clock it was found that the top of the incubator had been blown off, both cases having burst and their tops being torn completely off. This pressure was caused by the fermentation and formation of gas made by the rapid growth of the bacteria.

Many of the rod shaped forms or bacilli have a peculiarity which enables them to resist heat to a great extent. These forms are called spores, and they are the curse of the canning industry. When they are in this stage a boiling temperature has apparently no effect upon them, unless long continued, how long is not definitely known. They have found some that have stood a boiling temperature for eight hours, and have thrived with this treatment. When seen under the highest power of the microscope many varieties of the rods or bacilli, in their ordinary active state, resemble small rods darting and twisting in all directions. In the spore state, however, they resemble small oval beads and have no motion.

When in their normal condition microbes are easily killed in a boiling heat, and many will succumb even at a lower temperature. Most of the disease germs luckily are killed at 212 degrees or lower. It is hard to accurately determine the temperature necessary to sterilize or kill these spores as some are much more resistant than others. So far as experience goes, 250 Fahrenheit has been sufficient, but it must be certain that whatever heat is required, it shall have reached the centre of each can.

That the packers realize the importance of these matters is evidenced by the freedom with which these matters were discussed at Buffalo. Two years ago the introduction of such questions would have been received with caution and treated with great conservatism.

In closing it may be mentioned that bacteria are necessary, and in daily use in the production of many food products. They are absolutely neccessary, but as useful and as harmless as they are in many ways, it is quiet evident that they are out of place in canned corn.—N. E. Grocer.

PUREST THAT CAN BE MADE

THE SUGAR SITUATION.

IN regard to last week's sugar market Czarnikow, MacDougall & Co. say: Arrivals this week, being again large, and the attitude of our refiners remaining unchanged, those cargoes that were offered for sale could only find buyers at a decline of 1-16c. from the prices given in our previous report, at which decline a relatively large business was done, as several importers decided to sell rather than store their sugars. Transactions were, however, limited to sugars already in port, or nearby. Sugars for shipment from Cuba, or even Java cargoes afloat, are still held above the parity of 4⅛c., duty paid, for 96 degree centrifugals, and under these circumstances, were it not for a very slack demand for refined sugars and the unsettled conditions in financial affairs by reason of the possibility of international trouble between the United States and Spain, it would not take very long for our market to recover the 1-16c. decline mentioned above. The receipts next week may still be large, owing to the arrival of cargoes now about due from Java, but as the present principal supplier of cane sugar, i.e., Cuba, has not made any fresh sales for America, but, on the contrary, has been holding for prices much above our spot parity, we expect that the receipts at the latter part of this month will show a falling off, unless some unforeseen cause brings about a decline in Cuba, where already the stocks are 100,000 tons, and the estates continue pouring sugars into the shipping ports at the rate of 20,000 tons per week.

The total crop made so far in Cuba amounts to 170,000 tons, and if receipts continue at the same rate as heretofore, we shall have by the beginning of April a total of 250,000 tons, but while Cuba will make 100,000 tons of sugar more than last year, it must be borne in mind that the chances are that 75,000 to 100,000 tons will be held there until late in the fall. This is quite contrary to what occurred last year, when hardly enough sugar was left in the island to supply the local consumption. In other words, while the total crop will be larger than last year, the exports to the United States up to the first of October, 1898, may show no increase on the total of those of last year. There has been very little desire on the part of the refiners to obtain further supplies, either for early arrival or for late shipment, but, on the other hand, it may be said that it is impossible for them to secure any sugars for shipment or for arrival here within four or five weeks at the parity of our present spot prices. New crop Javas are still held at 11s. 6d. c.f., for shipment June, July and August. It is now confidently stated that a conference of the European beet countries will take place some time this month, and that France is showing more willingness to agree to the abolition of the bounties. Cuba—The number of estates grinding on the 7th inst. was 99, as follows: 25 Mantanzas, 21 Cardenas, 16 Cienfuegos, 15 Havana, 14 Sagua and 8 Caibarien. The total receipts this week are 22,000 tons, against the same quantity last week and 14,500 tons last year; 2,370 tons, 57,936 tons and 49,334 tons for the corresponding weeks in 1896, 1895 and 1894.

TOMATOES UNSETTLED IN THE U.S.

ACCORDING to recent advices from the tomato packing centres the pressure to sell which has had a demoralizing influence on futures for some time past seems to have been removed. Most of the cheap sellers it is stated have sold out, but the market is still unsettled and it is impossible as yet to give firm quotations on futures. Most of the sellers, however, are said to have confidence in the future, and are not inclined to force business.

Since the opening of the 1898 season large sales of three pound Jerseys and Marylands, particularly the latter, have been made for forward delivery at prices considerably less than the average at the beginning of the last season. In many cases it is said the low priced sales were made by packers who were in need of money, but who had not yet made contracts for raw stock. They had it is believed presumed that in consequence of the demoralized state of the market for green fruit in the past several seasons, in connection with the depressed condition of the market for the canned stock in general, they will be able to make such contracts with the growers as will admit of the marketing of the canned fruit at a profit at the prices they have named.

The larger canners seem to feel more confidence regarding the future, and now that the cheap sellers are said to have been cleaned out, they are looking for higher prices, but as yet there has been no advance in quotations.

In gallon tomatoes the situation is reported to be particularly strong. It is stated that spot stocks are well controlled, but the future is somewhat uncertain. Late reports from Jersey packing centres are to the effect that the output of this size will be considerably smaller than last season, owing to the unsatisfactory results of the past year with the jobbing trade.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

NEW FIRM IN EDMONTON.

The Marks-Clavet-Dobie Co., Limited, wholesale and retail merchants, Port Arthur, have opened up, in Edmonton, a general supply store under the management of A. Clavet and C. Dobie, both members of the firm, who will cater to the wants of the Klondykers and the surrounding country generally.

R. & T. Watson, confectioners, Toronto, have dissolved partnership, Thomas Watson retiring from the business and Robert Watson continuing. The members of the firm, who are brothers, commenced business about 20 years ago on a small scale, but their growth has been steady. Now few firms are better known throughout Canada.

GROCERIES GO UP IN SMOKE.

A FIRE which did a great deal of damage to certain grocery staples broke out in the five-storey storage and bonded warehouse of Robert Carrie, 31 Front street east, Toronto, on Saturday morning last, shortly after 4 o'clock.

The fire broke out in the rear of the warehouse, probably 150 feet from the front of the building, and although the brigade were quickly on the spot, the flames rapidly spread until they not only gutted the Carrie warehouse, but spread to the wholesale warehouse of R. H. Howard & Co., wholesale liquors, No. 31, while the warehouse of the Salada Tea Co. was filled with smoke and deluged with water.

The total loss by the fire is probably in the neighborhood of $125,000 to $150,000.

The loss in the warehouse of Robert Carrie is naturally distributed among a number of firms. The American branch of the Indian-Ceylon Tea Co. alone had about $20,000 worth of teas stored there. Among the others who had goods there were: Dane & Halford, teas; Hunter & Co., teas; Watt & Scott, teas, citric acid, shelled nuts, etc.; Geo. Musson & Co., teas, cigars, etc.; W. F. Morley, sugar, tea, etc.; Sampson, McCuaig & Co., teas.

In addition to occupying its own building, the Salada Tea Co. had the greater part of the second storey of the Carrie building, where the labelling was done and the package teas stored preparatory to being shipped to the company's agencies and customers. The Salada Tea Co.'s total loss is about $20,000, fully covered by insurance.

The Salada Tea Co. has for some time been carrying large stocks of package tea at Montreal and Buffalo, and even before the fire had been subdued Mr. Larkin telegraphed to Montreal to have a carload shipped immediately. This was done, and the tea was in Toronto on Monday morning, and forthwith utilized to fill orders and keep business going, temporary premises having been taken at 32 Yonge street, where, by Tuesday afternoon, the tea packing machines were again in operation. None of the damaged tea in the warehouse at 25 Front street east will be removed to the temporary premises on Yonge street, but will be emptied from the packages and sold in bulk by auction.

The damage sustained by R. H. Howard & Co. is estimated at from $6,000 to $7,000.

Most of the firms interested were fully covered by insurance, and especially those to whose goods the greatest damage was done, while all carried more or less insurance.

The fire was a stubborn one to extinguish. On Sunday morning about 3 o'clock the flames burst out afresh, and another alarm had to be sent in, and even on Tuesday it was found necessary to turn a stream of water on a part of the Carrie building.

TRADE CHAT.

THE contracts for the supply of provisions to the Ontario Agricultural College have been awarded as follows: J. M. Dooley, groceries; Millman & Co., bacon and hams; George Williams, bread; J. & R. Millar, butchers' meat.

H. F. G. Pett, confectioner, Woodstock, is negotiating with parties in Walkerton with a view to starting a biscuit factory in that town.

Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, has received an enquiry from a large firm in London, Eng., for the names and addresses of such firms as can furnish evaporated fruits for the English market. The United States at present supplies the bulk of the English trade, but it is stated that the Motherland is desirous of purchasing from Canada, if she can supply the goods.

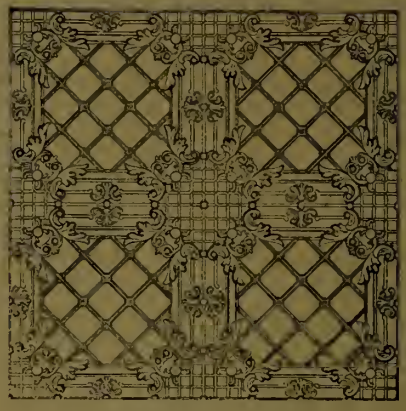
F. A. Spott's grocery store on Wellington street, Ottawa, was broken into last week, and a small quantity of groceries stolen. An entrance was made through the back door. Before leaving, the thieves threw a match into a barrel of rubbish, setting fire to it, and causing the place to be filled with volumes of smoke. A policeman who was passing at the time rung in an alarm, and the fire brigade responded promptly.

On Sunday evening, last week, a burglar forced his way into Kelly Bros.' grocery store on Queen street east, Toronto, through the skylight, but met such a reception from a spaniel dog left to watch the store that he departed without taking anything. As the safe, containing over $300, had, through a mistake, been left unlocked, Kelly Bros. are congratulating themselves that the burglar did not have time to look around. They intend to buy the dog a new collar.

BREWERS AND GROCERS.

THE Hamilton Herald says: The brewers of this city have incurred the displeasure of the retail liquor dealers, especially the grocers, because of the brewers having acquired the bad habit of supplying private parties with beer. It has come to be a regular thing for brewers to supply banquets with the liquid refreshments which go to make so many banquets popular, and the grocers are bound to put a stop to this.

It is contrary to law for the brewers to do this, their licenses allowing them to sell beer to the trade, that is, for the purposes of reselling, and they are liable to fines for supplying private parties, lodges, etc., with the refreshing beverage. This fact has not been generally recognized by the local beer manufactuters, but on the contrary they have, it is said, conveniently overlooked it. The grocers pay a liquor license of $300 a year, and they naturally object to the brewers taking their trade from them. The trouble is aggravated, from their standpoint, by the fact that lodges can get beer supplies for banquets at about the same rates as the grocers pay for their beer, thus cutting the grocers out of a profitable business.



Inspector Fred Walters has been appealed to, and he has decided to stop the injustice. He has, in consequence, notified all the brewers in the city that it is contrary to law for them to sell beer to anyone not in the business of reselling it, and if the brewers do not take the hint prosecutions are likely to follow.

The chief constable of Toronto has notified the city clerk that 10,305 licenses were issued last year. The largest source of revenue were the dog licenses, which produced $6,701; cigarettes, cigars and tobacco, 174 in number, produced $4,203.75; 663 pedlars and petty chapmen paid $3,777; 871 expressmen contributed $3,307, and 95 miscellaneous licenses furnished $3,136 of a total revenue amounting to $30,560.

CAPITAL AS A BUSINESS FACTOR.

CAPITAL as a factor of success in business is becoming more and more essential. In the years gone by it was possible for a man whose only capital was ability and industry to launch into business with success. But that time is no more.

A man going into business must have capital unless he is to depend on miracles to save him from failure. It does not necessarily follow that the capital shall be all his own. The capital may be borrowed, but he must have capital, and enough of it.

The man who essays to do business without sufficient capital is so handicapped that he has little, if any, chance of success.

In order to succeed in business the merchant must be able to buy well, and if he cannot buy well he certainly cannot sell well, for it is the way in which a man sells that attracts customers to his store.

The statistics which are issued every year by the commercial agencies show how important it is that a man starting into business should have ample capital.

The most prolific cause of failure in the whole list of contributory causes is lack of capital, and what is perhaps still more striking is the fact that the proportion of these failures to the total number of all kinds is increasing rather than decreasing.

Last year, notwithstanding a decrease in the number of failures in Canada, the proportion of those caused by lack of capital was 70.3, compared with 67.2 in 1896, a year of unusually numerous failures. Even in 1894 the proportion was nearly 2 per cent. lower than in 1897.

Every young man engaged in business pursuits should be ambitious to start up for himself, but he should, particularly in the face of the facts cited, temper his ambition with discretion, and refrain from becoming his own master until he has a fair amount of capital at his command. And then when he has the capital he should also be careful to see that he does not essay to do a business which is out of proportion to it. Many a merchant's bright prospects have been blasted because he has not been careful on this point.

TOBACCO AND SNUFF IN ENGLAND

We learn that the imports of tobacco are again increasing in number and bulk. Last year, although there was a great sale for cigars and tobacco of all kinds—the largest on record, in fact, and two millions of pounds weight greater than in 1896—the quantity imported fell away by 4½ millions of pounds. There is always two years' stock in bond, or, roughly, 65,000 tons. Between tobacco and snuff, the average consumption per head in the United Kingdom was nearly two pounds for the year ended December 31 last. The use of snuff is dying out rapidly. The demand is very small for all kinds, except "Scotch," made principally in Bristol, and "high-dried Welsh." The difference in these is, we are given to understand, merely a question of fermentation. The common qualities of the former are not put through this process.—Commerce, London, Eng.

STAND FIRM FOR FAIR PROFITS.

ONE of the striking features of business methods in Canada is what may be termed the premeditated effort to sell goods as near the margin of cost as is possible.

This peculiarity is not born of any love for humanity; it is the offspring of a jealous desire to grab all the nuts in the jar. In other words, to do all the business, and leave not even the crumbs for competitors. It is the very opposite to the spirit of live and let live. Manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, are all in the same boat.

No business man is entitled to an exhorbitant profit on the goods he sells, but every business man, in justice to himself, in justice to his creditors, is entitled to a fair profit.

There are no figures extant showing how many business men fail because they sell their wares at prices which do not return them a fair profit, but the number is undoubtedly large.

Goods should never be sold below cost, except when they have become shop worn, out of date, or damaged. Then business common sense declares they should be marked down to a figure that will ensure their sale.

It is better to make 15 per cent. profit on $1,000 worth of goods than 5 per cent. profit on $2,000 worth of goods. And yet there are a good many merchants who appear to lose sight of this fact in their eagerness to get business.

In Great Britain competition is keen enough, but business men there set their confreres in this country an example which the latter should strive to profit by. Over there a merchant fixes the selling price of an article at a figure which ensures him what he believes to be a fair profit. He, no doubt, occasionally cuts it in order to effect a sale, but he by no means does it with the same regularity as does his brother merchant in Canada.

Business is business. Selling an article at a lower figure than it should be sold at is not business. It is foolishness.

It takes backbone to stand firm for a price which is just and reasonable, but it pays.

TORONTO RETAIL GROCERS.

THE Toronto Retail Grocers' Association held their regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, in St. George's hall, Elm street. There was a good attendance, and the chair was occupied by the president, Mr. W. H. Marmion.

Communications were received from the Toronto Retail Merchants' Association, promising co-operation in regard to the petitions presented to the Dominion Government, and from the mayor of Toronto, acknowledging the receipt of the resolution, passed at the last meeting of the association, approving of any scheme the council may take to advertise Toronto as a summer resort.

The delegates, W. H. Marmion and J. G. Gibson, who were sent to Ottawa to interview the Dominion Government in regard to making garnisheeable the salaries of civil servants and in regard to the collection of fees by inspectors of weights and measures, handed in their official reports. These reports were given in last week's issue of THE CANADIAN GROCER. Both delegates expressed great satisfaction with the prospective outcome of their visit and the manner in which they were treated by the Premier, the Ministers, and Messrs. Richardson, M.P., of Lisgar, and Penny, M.P., of Montreal.

On motion of Messrs. Booth and White the reports were received, and the thanks of the association was tendered to Messrs. Marmion and Gibson.

On motion of Messrs. White and Mills, the thanks of the association were tendered to Messrs. Penny, of Montreal, and Richardson, of Lisgar, for their treatment of the representatives of the association while in Ottawa.

It was moved by Robt. Davies, seconded by J. A. Johnston, that the association's excursion next summer be by boat. This motion created much discussion, and was finally carried.

Messrs. Williamson, White and Booth were appointed a committee to confer as to a suitable point to visit, and to interview the various steamboat companies in regard to rates to various points. It was decided that if this committee considered it advisable, a special meeting of the association should be called by the president.

The bill of expenses of the delegates to Ottawa, amounting to $17.50 for each of the two delegates, was presented. After Frank Johnston, the vice-president, had taken the chair, it was decided that a grant of $20 each should be paid to the delegates.

SITUATION IN DATES.

Referring to the situation in Persian dates, a prominent importer said recently that the outlook was decidedly better. A letter from London, under date of March 2, stated that stocks there were all in second hands and the standard brands were about exhausted. The demand in England, which was poor to the middle of February, has improved considerably in the interim. The stock of old dates in London, which has had a depressing influence on that market heretofore, have now gone mostly into consumption. The writer of the letter referred to expects better prices in the near future. On the other hand, there are said to be cables here from London soliciting bids.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

WANTS PROPER NOTICE.

The vaunted valor of the young man employed in a grocery store on Prospect street oozed away one evening recently, and no more will he proclaim what he would do if he happened in a Lynn store when a robber entered and ordered everybody to hold up their hands. This young clerk had stated several times and with much vehemence that no robber could frighten him, and if he was in a store when a hold-up was attempted he would creep behind the counter, get a knife and end the career of the robber, or a plurality of them, if they appeared so numerous. To test his valor he was instructed to drive to Lynn to his father's grocery, one night recently, leaving Salem about 9.30. After considerable evasion he finally admitted that, although not afraid of any man living, he would rather not go to Lynn over the road at that hour of the night, and when pressed for a reason said that somebody might take him unawares and not give him a chance to defend himself. If the robbers will only send him a postal stating the time they may be expected, he will meet them at any store and be prepared to prove that he knows not fear when robbers are the game.—Salem News.

OF NERVE--

The amount required varies, of course, with the individual temperament, sometimes the amount is very considerable, especially in cases of chronic "Old Fogyism," fostered by an unswerving adherence to the "Ruts" worn by a long train of "Hum-drum" predecessors travelling the same road. To "Tip Toe" up out of these "Ruts" high enough to see what one's competitors are doing, who are not handicapped with the absurd notion that it is not "orthodox" to sell a PACKET TEA simply because their forefathers did did not do so before them, does tax some men's nervous forces—it certainly does—at first.

The world's conditions of trade are changed. New ideas take the place of old. The old pass away and make place for the new. You must move with the times or be left behind.

COMMERCIAL CREDITS.*

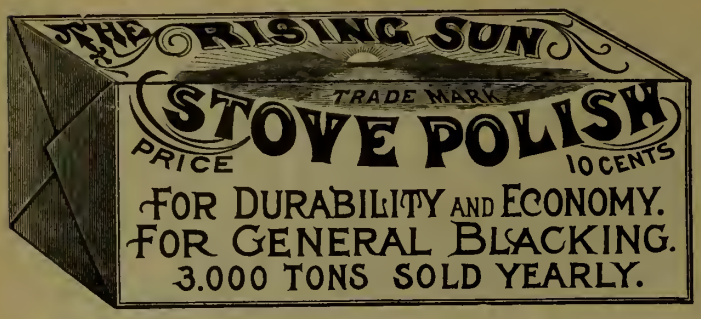
By JOHN FIELD, of Philadelphia, Pa.

IT was said, you know, of the ancient city of Tyre, that she was the crowning city; her merchants were called merchant princes, her traffickers and dealers were the honored of the earth, and, Mr. Chairman, may I not say of Baltimore that in many respects she is the crowning city so far as our experience is, though probably not so well acquainted with your merchant princes, but with your traffickers and dealers I may say that we may carry out the same language and say, sir, that they are among the honored of the earth, for we have never been deceived or misled by any merchant in your fine business city of Baltimore in our dealings and transactions.

We find quite often, I have no doubt, that in all industrial business lines great changes are being effected. We find every day almost that the doors of individual enterprise are being closed. Take, for instance, upon the one hand the great labor organizations that men are forming. We find that everywhere they are strong. The laborer, the workingman, trained and skilled labor—they are all forming a great organization for what they consider their protection. Take another class of organization, the employer, he must also seek for organization to protect his interests, and everywhere these great trusts and great corporations are being formed. We have, as you know, a Standard Oil Co , we have a great sugar trust, and I hear they are going to get up a milk trust. All over the world these great corporations are being formed—great trusts are being formed—and the result of this is that the doors of individual enterprise upon the right and upon the left, these doors are being closed all the time. I will venture the assertion to you business men of Baltimore that there is scarcely one of you but what has felt, more or less, this pressure; every day you feel its influence, and what the result is to be I am sure I cannot tell; but it does seem to me, gentlemen, that with all these enormous monopolies, these great trusts, there must be some day a day of reckoning.

*Address delivered before the Credit Men's Association of Baltimore city.

BRAINS IN BUSINESS.



A short time ago there was published a speech of the Hon. Thomas B. Reed given before one of our business colleges. Mr. Reed said in that speech that the one great object of living was to live, and the great work which a man had upon his hands was to protect and save his life; nations war with each other, plants war with each other, individuals fight with each other. During the old period the warrior came to the front and was the hero of the time; but the warrior has had his day, and another class comes to the front, and this class is the statesman, the lawyer, and the politician. Great questions between individuals had to be settled. Rights of property had to be defended; questions of civilization had to be adjusted, and for many years the statesman, the lawyer and the politician stood along the front rank. They have their day still, and in the present century there is no class of men more than they who have come to the front, and it is well for the world that such is the case. I may here say to you that there is more brain power, more thought, more intelligence and more work put into business lines than into any other line at the present date. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, when you look at engineering skill, think of your great railroads, your steamships, the great enterprises of the present day—as Mr. Reed said in that speech, he can see by the way the brain power of the nation moves what power there is coming to the front, and to-day it is indeed true that the brain power of the nation is largely concentrating in great enterprises and in a great business nation. Therefore we have a great work before us.

THE ROMANS AND BUSINESS.

You are all no doubt aware how business took its form. Business was reduced to method by the Roman; when each man was the head of his family you will recollect he was compelled to keep a true record of all his business transactions, all his income, all his outlay, and in fact, all of his transactions; and from this statement of the family bookkeeper business was reduced to method. From this statement all great bank statements originated, all the great methods which we have adopted and which exist at the present time were all developed from that little family bookkeeper, originated among the Romans.

McLeod, I think, says that the system of credits is now perfect, but I think that is a little strong. I want to speak to you now for a little while, if I may, on that question in which we are all deeply interested—the question of credits, commercial credits. Wouldn't I love, wouldn't I be delighted, if I could tell you gentlemen to-day at the beginning of this new year, if I develop some method by which you would have no bad accounts during this year? I said I would be delighted. This is a very difficult problem. There are two kinds of wealth, money and credit. The greater is credit. I think that that is generally admitted. By credit all the great enterprises of the world are carried on. Everything that has purchasing power is wealth. The toil of the workingman is wealth, because it has purchasing power; credit is wealth because it has purchasing power. Credit simply transfers one man's property to another; one is plus what the other is minus. The usual transactions of the world are on credit; therefore, being such an important element in the commercial world, it certainly deserves our closest thought and attention. I think that there is scarcely another subject connected with mercantile life that ought to receive more attention than this question of credit —understanding credit. Of course there are many difficulties connected with this subject which we cannot control. Take, for instance, as an illustration, a clear illustration, the civil war. When that broke out no merchant could control his affairs. Or take, for instance, the panic of 1893, when the idea took hold of the people that the Government would be unable to meet its obligations in the world's standard of gold. You all remember that and what a frightful panic it caused, and what frightful results and what destruction and ruin followed in the steps of that panic. Panics are generally caused by what I may term redeemable credit — extending credit which can be redeemed. Therefore, these are conditions (and I do not intend to speak further along this line) over which we have no control, but which, whenever they occur, seem to overwhelm the very strongest and the very best houses. But what we have to do is with mercantile credit.

THE RISING SUN STOVE POLISH AND THE SUN PASTE STOVE POLISH

TWO CLASSES OF CREDIT.

There are two classes of credit: First, individual credit, by which I mean that when I go into a store and make a purchase on credit, that is individual credit; and second, if I go to a merchant and buy goods for mercantile purposes on credit, that is mercantile credit. It is with this latter class of credit that we have to do. I think that all of you business men who have looked into this kind of credit will find that you have certain classes of risks.

First, there is the genuine business man.

Secondly, and I think he is the most dangerous, and we lose more money by him than by any other class, the incompetent merchant. Then again the unfortunate merchant. Then again you run a certain risk from the decease of a man. Then again there is another class, and I do not know how to designate them; that is, the natural born innate thief—and I don't know how to protect you against this gentleman. Now, you take for instance the thrifty, energetic merchant. You run very little risk when you meet such a man, a man of energy, true from centre to circumference, a man that will stand by the right though the earth roll and the heavens totter, a man who will look the world and the devil right in the eye and stand by the truth, a man that will pay for what he buys and pay for what he wears—when you find a man like this you need not care a great deal about character. Some of the greatest successes that I have had in business life have been with men of this character, and I am thinking of one now. "How much money have you got, sir, with which to start in business?" He says: "One thousand dollars." "All right, I'll double it." Why? Because I knew the young man. When you find a man starting out right in his business, sharp, quick, clear, prompt, then you find a successful man. But I think that the most of the trouble we have comes from incompetency.

LESSONS FROM THE WAREHOUSE.

Now, gentlemen, I ask you, have you ever gone through any of your warehouses and watched some men buying goods? I have, and I have formed my opinion largely in this way. That is one of the difficulties we have to contend with to-day. When a merchant comes to your warehouses you can look him in the eye and note his methods; you can tell from his very step and how he puts his hat on, how he shakes you by the hand, there is something about him by which you reach a conclusion. Now, you don't see a man, and I don't suppose you ever will see him, unless you happen to meet him on the other side. This is one of the great difficulties that we have to contend with. Now, this incompetent merchant—he has probably been raised on a farm, and perhaps got tired of that and likes an easier life. He knows not how to buy goods, is not careful about his expenses, either personal or in connection with his business; in short, he is an incompetent man. I think you gentlemen will bear me out when I say that when I sift into the affairs of such a man as this and examine the cause of his failure, I believe that in nine cases out of ten you will find that it comes from incompetency or carelessness. Now, take that very thought —a man's habits. Some time ago I was going to Atlantic City, and I met a large grain merchant on board the steamer. He asked me whether I knew a certain firm in the grain business in my city. I told him "Yes, very well indeed." "What kind of fellows are they?" "I regard them as earnest, clever fellows." "Now, let me tell you a thing or two. I have always been engaged in the barley business, and I made that house my agent. They were selling agents in the city of Philadelphia. Some time ago I went to that city and walked into their outer office. I asked whether Mr. So-and-So was in. It was mid-day; and in an inner office I noticed a little table around which were seated four gentlemen playing cards. I was told that Mr. So-and-So would be out in a moment. I told him I wanted to see him and he said he would be out very soon. I waited, but he kept playing cards. I put my hat on and went out." Now, this gentleman was from Chicago and the agency which he gave these men was worth a small fortune. "I walked out, returned to my home, and closed that account sure."

NEED OF MERCANTILE TRAINING.

Now, I am thoroughly convinced, gentlemen, that there ought to be a more thorough training in some way, of men engaged in mercantile life. There are so few men who know thoroughly how to buy, how to sell, how to act, how to properly transact their business. I repeat what I said, I believe that the large percentage of failures come from merchants who are incompetent. There is always some excuse. It reminds me of the old story of the good old Irishwoman who was very sick. Her physician called to see her. "Well," he said, "my good woman I want you to get a porous plaster and put it on your chest." She got a porous plaster and fixed it all right. Now you know in Ireland they call their boxes chests, and the doctor told her to put this plaster on her chest. He called to see her a day or two afterwards to see whether the porous plaster had done her any good. "Well, now, doctor, to tell you the truth," she said, "I only had a small box in my house and I put it on the bottom of that." There are a certain class of people who put their failure anywhere except on the right spot. They are unwilling to acknowledge their incompetency. I do not know how to regard this man. The fact is, you have all had experience, and it would be no purpose for me to instruct you on the question of credit. No doubt a great many of you know more about this question than I know.

THE UNFORTUNATE IN BUSINESS.

Then, again, you meet another class, the unfortunate class; and they are a very troublesome lot. A man called to see me within the past week. "Well, what is the matter?" "We had a bad fire, and you know, Mr. Field, my insurance just expired the day before the fire occurred." He was a most unfortunate man. Another will tell you he endorsed for a friend, or did something or other. All these classes of men we have to deal with. We run a very great risk along all of these lines in selling to merchants. And then, last of all, the man to whom I refer as a natural born thief. You can respect a burglar to a certain extent—that is his business to break in and rob, he don't pretend to do anything else. Then, again, you can also to some extent respect a highwayman. That is his business. But when you find a sneak who comes to your office with the face of a merchant and deliberately lays his lines and tries to rob you of your property—talk about the hangman being left in the world—talk about state law getting him in the world! Some time ago we had a failure in the west, and we felt so good. No preferences—we were delighted. That is honest, we will be all right. When we began to look into the thing there were no preferences—but there were no assets. We found that for some 90 days or so before this firm had paid off so and so and so and so. No preferences and no assets.

A WORD OF ADVICE TO SALESMEN.

Editor GROCER,—Having taken notice of late (and no doubt it is being continually practised, especially among the younger and inexperienced clerks in the various stores, viz., dry goods, druggists, groceries, confectioners, etc.) of the careless and thoughtless manner in which they measure and weigh out goods belonging to their employer, without the slightest regard for him who finds them employment, wages, and has other heavy expenses, such as taxes, insurance, fire and light, in these times of unlimited competition and small profits.

I might here ask the employes a few simple questions, to which, I hope, they will give their most careful and conscientious consideration. If they do, I am sure it will be a benefit and guide to them hereafter, and will enable them in the future to act a little more honest to their employer, who is entitled to all their time and energy, in order to make his business as successful and profitable as it is possible for them to make it.

1. What is your employer in business for? Is it for fun or for pastime, or is it just to see how fast he can lose his capital and be turned out on the street?

2. What did that customer do for you that you waited on that you had to give him over-measurement and weight? What obligations were you under to that customer? What did that customer do for you that you had to do this? Nothing. Then, why did you do it? Don't do it again. Those goods are not yours. You are stealing.

3. What harm did your employer do to you? None! What spite had you against your employer that you should give that customer overweight and defraud your employer, who is trying to make an honest living for you, his family, and himself? None. Then, why do you do it?

4. Why do you allow your acquaintances to walk into the dispensing room of your drug store and help themselves to his good wines and liquors during his absence? You should eject such characters. Their trade is no good to you, as they drink and steal more than the profits on the goods which you may sell them; and then very often you are requested to put the goods on ice, and they generally stay there, with this particular undesirable class of customers. Stop it at once. You are doing a great injustice to the best friend you have (your employer). Why not show some little thought, respect and gratefulness to the one who is doing the best he can for your welfare, and not for people who would not care one bit if you lost your situation and were turned out on the street?

5. Do customers appreciate goods given to them in order that their trade may be held? I, for one, say "No," for the better you use them (according to my experience) by the way of gifts, etc., the quicker you will lose them. My plan is to be strict, careful and obliging, and you will be sure to get along.

Yours, etc.,

HAVE YOU SEEN IT?

AN attractive catalogue just issued to the trade is that of Chas. Boeckh & Sons. This is their 25th edition, and contains some 150 pages, with nearly 400 different qualities of brushes, brooms and woodenware, and nearly three times that number of separate sizes and qualities, completely illustrated, with index.

Just inside the front cover may be seen the exact sizes and photos of medals received at World's Fairs in Paris, France; London, Eng.; Philadelphia, Pa., and on several occasions at our own expositions. This alone speaks volumes for Canada and Canadians, and the sterling qualities of the goods manufactured by this well-known firm. A few of the pages are devoted to sketches of some of the most important departments, such as the bristle stock-room, duster and broom, household and paint brush departments, with the employes at work.

At a first glance over the numerous pages, a person would hardly realize the large variety of brushes manufactured by this firm, and wherever you may go, to the far east or west, Boeckh's brushes and brooms will always be found in the leading stores.

The firm extend you a cordial invitation, when in Toronto, to visit their commodious office and sample rooms and see what they assert to be the largest and best display of brushes in Canada.

Chas. Boeckh & Sons have also recently equipped their factories with electricity generated by their own plant.

NON-DEBT INCURRING FIRMS.

Editor CANADIAN GROCER,—I beg to call the attention of the wholesale men and manufacturers, through your paper, to the fact that a good many of the co-operative associations, that have now sprung up all over the province, have got certain clauses inserted in their charters, which have been smuggled in in such a way that it looks very much like a fraud to anybody doing business with them. This is one of the clauses: "The business of the association shall be a cash business exclusively. No credit shall be either given or taken, and no officer, member or servant of the association, or any number of them together, shall have power to contract any debt whatever in its name, except in respect of rent of the premises required for the business, the salary of clerks and servants, and such like contracts necessary in the management of the affairs of the association. Everything shall be bought and sold for cash only."

Now, under that head, some of them are trying to shield themselves and refuse to pay debts contracted by them with parties who did not know anything about that clause being in force, they getting the goods without letting the parties, from whom they bought them, know that they were shielded by any such villanous plot. The writer cannot see how any government would charter a company with a clause of that kind inserted in their charter, without having it advertised and stated distinctly on all their business papers, so that everybody would know exactly the position these co-operative associations are in. They hold that under that clause they cannot be sued for any debt. Now, it is well for business people to know their position exactly.

PRINCE ALBERT TO KLONDYKE.

THE CANADIAN GROCER received a visit on Wednesday from the Hon. J. F. Betts, speaker of the Northwest Legislature, and a prosperous merchant in Prince Albert, N.W.T.

The special object of Mr. Betts' visit to Toronto and the east is to draw the attention of the people in this part of the Dominion to the advantages of the Regina, Prince Albert, Great Lake and Fort Murray water route to the Klondyke and other mining lands in the Northwest. This route is not an unknown one, for it has been used for many years by the Hudson's Bay Co.

According to the route as outlined by Mr. Betts, and which can be easily followed by the reader who is in possession of a fairly good map, the intending gold seeker who leaves eastern Canada would stop at Regina on his way over the C.P.R. and take the branch line to Prince Albert. This town might be used as a point for obtaining the required supplies for the journey. From here the journey would be to Green lake, a distance of 140 miles, over a good wagon road, which could be made in about five days. From this point to the Yukon the entire distance is by water, with the exception of a few small portages. After embarking on and traversing Green lake, the boats enter Beaver river and proceed down stream to Buffalo lake. The course then lies through Mithe river to Portage la Losche. There is a twelve-mile portage from here to Clearwater river to Fort McMurray, one or two insignificant portages being met with. From Fort McMurray the navigation is excellent to Lake Athabasca, and from there is usually a quick water trip to Fort Smith at Slave river. After leaving Fort Smith rapids occur for the next 16 miles, which necessitate perhaps four or five portages. To pass this portage the Hudson's Bay Co. have constructed a good road which greatly facilitates the transport of goods. A halfbreed settlement in the vicinity furnishes guides and help, if required, at this portage. After passing these rapids there is absolutely no break in the navigation as far as the junction of Peel river with the Mackenzie, a distance of 1,290 miles. The course now lies up Rat river, a small stream which runs into the Mackenzie, and from there a short portage of about two miles is necessary in order to reach some small lakes, out of which flows Bell river, which, in its turn runs into the Porcupine. No obstacle exists on Bell or Porcupine rivers, and Fort Yukon is reached after a journey down stream of about 400 miles. From Fort Yukon, where the Porcupine river flows into the Yukon, about 300 miles, to Dawson City, is made up stream on the latter river.

Mr. Betts, after outlining this route, and dwelling on its advantages, spoke with some enthusiasm of the gold-bearing country along the Hay and the Liard rivers. Large quantities of the precious metal, he says, have been discovered on the Hay river, 700 miles north of Prince Albert, and a party of 27 prospectors are now camping there. The truth regarding these discoveries, he says, has been amply verified.

"To my mind," remarked Mr. Betts, "very few people who take the Prince Albert route to the Klondyke will ever go that far."

"Why?" asked THE GROCER somewhat surprised.

"Because the gold to be found on the Hay and Liard rivers will prevent them going further."

Mr. Betts explained that the gold to be found on these rivers is of the coarse description.

Speaking of Prince Albert, he said the town was gradually improving and that during the past year the value of real estate there had appreciated materially.

Mr. Betts has been a subscriber to THE CANADIAN GROCER for some time, and speaks highly of the paper.

DEMAND FOR TOMATOES.

AN interesting feature in Montreal grocery circles during the week has been enquiry for canned tomatoes on behalf of wholesale firms in Winnipeg. In some cases the demand was keen, and observers argue from it that stocks in the prairie city need replenishing badly or buyers there would hardly come as far east for supplies. It has served to develop one fact, and that is, that Montreal holders have high ideas of the value of the goods in question.

In one case a commission man bid a wholesale house $1.10, offering to take their entire stock of 2,000 or 3,000 cases at the price, but they refused to sell, demanding $1.20.

In other instances $1.15 was offered, and so far as can be learned only 1,000 cases or so have been moved at the figure.

As either price would net holders a good profit, they evidently think their supplies will be wanted at their own figures.

In contrast to these firm ideas of value, the indifference of the ordinary run of retail buyers is quite striking. The latter will not operate ahead at all, only purchasing as they actually want supplies. In fact, the distributive movement from jobbers' hands is of a very moderate character. Very likely the high prices, $1.20 to $1.25, now being asked have more to do with this conservative attitude than anything else.

Retailers prefer to buy and turn over the goods as they want them, rather than run the chance of stocking up ahead with a large quantity, and then have the market turn on them, with their shelves loaded up with high-priced goods. They have been caught before in this way, and once bit, twice shy.

EXPORTS OF MAPLE PRODUCTS.

CANADA is now in the midst of the maple syrup and maple sugar season, and as this country produces enormous quantities of these delicious goods, one's thoughts are naturally turned to the possibilities of the export business in these particular lines.

For some years the Dominion has been exporting the products of the yield of the maple tree, but the results are not altogether gratifying.

Nearly all the exports of maple products are in the form of sugar, and the value of these during the last five years was as follows: 1893, $50,151; 1894, $29,844; 1895, $9,040; 1896, $51,499; 1897, $31,387. Our chief customer for maple sugar is the United States, which last year took $30,056 worth, or over 95 per cent. of the total. Great Britain took $1,310 worth last year and Newfoundland $21 worth.

The United States is, of course, a producer of maple syrup and sugar itself, and not much of an expansion of trade with that country is to be expected; but it is possible that a great deal more might be done with Great Britain in this respect. THE CANADIAN GROCER has before urged attention to this matter, and it again brings the subject before those who are interested in the development of the industry.

Our exports of maple syrup last year were only valued at $511, and of this $440 worth went to the United States. For the four years before that we do not appear to have exported any syrup.

He who does not take care of his health is not likely to be long spared to take care of his wealth.

FOREIGN TRADE FOR FEBRUARY.

THE trade returns for the Dominion of Canada for February are gratifying, revealing, as they do, a steady development of the foreign trade. The total imports were, exclusive of bullion, $9,943,229, against $7,678,156 in the same month in 1897, an increase of nearly 23 per cent. The following are the imports appertaining to the grocery trade:

DUTIABLE GOODS.

	Feb. 1898.	Feb. 1897.
Ale, beer and porter	$6,949	$8,466
Flour	10,648	7,031
Rice	11,968	8,749
Meal	3,916	1,769
Fish and products of	39,866	35,509
Fruits and nuts, dried	53,876	32,482
Fruits, green, oranges and lemons	34,897	30,260
Fruits, all other	4,980	5,205
Pickles, sauces, etc	6,219	4,233
Lard, fresh and salt meats	84,739	40,201
Butter and cheese	2,633	4,333
Soap, all kinds	29,145	24,879
Spices	14,248	9,752
Wines, sparkling	10,101	9,293
Wines, other than sparkling	13,625	14,351
Sugar	977,629	519,748
Molasses and syrups	24,505	27,616
Tobaccos and cigars	16,875	19,361
Tobacco, leaf	38,868	....

FREE GOODS.

Coffee	20,000	64,217
Fish and products of	3,828	14,524
Bananas, olives, etc	5,149	4,636
Grease for soap making	18,965	10,183
Salt	5,125	11,857
Tea	165,470	341,554
Tobacco, leaf	....	129,851

It will be noticed that in the list of dutiable goods an increase is shown in nearly every article. The increase in sugar is striking, being about 49 per cent., and is no doubt largely attributable to the influx of foreign refined sugars.

The decreased imports of coffee are rather astonishing, in view of the low prices, but the exlanation is no doubt found in the fact that the large quantities which had been brought in previous to February had so completed stocks that further buying was unnecessary. In February of 1897, it will be remembered, merchants were bringing in tea in anticipation of a duty being placed on this article. And in this fact is to be found the explanation of the marked decrease in the imports of this commodity. It will be remembered that a few weeks ago a certain daily paper asserted that enormously increased quantities of salt were being brought into the country. The trade returns, however, do not reveal any such large quantities. On the contrary, the imports were 54 per cent. less than they were in February, 1897.

The increase in the exports is not so marked as is the increase in imports, but still there is a gain of about $30,0000 made, it will be noted, in the exports of the mines, agricultural products, and manufactured goods. The exports for February, 1898, and for the corresponding month of 1897, are as follows :

EXPORTS, THE PRODUCE OF CANADA.

	Feb., 1898.	Feb., 1897.
Produce of the mine.....	$1,348,766	$1,046,955
Produce of the fisheries..	446,161	429,879
Produce of the forest	391,389	707,950
Animals and their produce	1,681,467	1,978,283
Agricultural products....	1,996,865	1,546,457
Manufactures	773,703	598,329
Miscellaneous	8,431	19,828
	$6,646,782	$6,327,681

FIRM ADVICES ON RICE.

Advices on rice from outside markets have been much firmer lately. For instance, cable advices from Europe state that stocks at distributing points are well exhausted, and that the arrival of new crop is being awaited.

From the East reports state that, owing to the brisk demand, principally in Japan, where the native crop is short, there is no prospect of buying cheaper for some time to come.

It is stated in this connection that the total engagements of new crop Japan thus far this season for direct shipment from Japan to this continent and via Europe are about 2,500 tons.

THE CURRANT SITUATION.

Reporting on the currant situation, in Greece, D. Pasqua, Patras, under date of March 2, writes : The comparative list of exports, up to Feb. 28 last, shows shipments :

	Net tons to Feb. 28 1898.	Net tons to Feb. 28 1897.	Net tons to J'ly 31 1897.
To England.....	53,745	49 755	54,700
" United States and Canada	12 090	13,544	14,065
" Australia	2,870	2,440	2,775
" Holland, Belgium, Germany and Austria.....	23 055	35 896	42,600
" France	1,166	4,464	6,223
" Russia	....	19,321	19,321
" Sundry other countries...	300	1,000	1,200
Net tons.....	93,226	126,331	140,484

Notwithstanding the total absence of shipments during the past month, and the relative stagnation of. affairs, prices in loeal markets have not been materially affected, holders being very firm, and feeling confident in a not-far-distant resumption of demand from the consuming markets.

IS COFFEE ILLEGALLY IMPORTED?

A MOVEMENT is on foot in Toronto having for its object a more rigid compliance with the tariff in regard to coffee.

In the Tariff Act, it will be remembered, there are two paragraphs dealing with coffee. One is paragraph 88, which reads : "Coffee, roasted or ground, when not imported direct from the country of growth and production, two cents per pound and ten per cent. ad valorem." The other is in the free list and reads : "Tea and green coffee imported direct from the country of growth and production, and tea and green coffee purchased in bond in the United Kingdom, provided there is satisfactory proof that the tea or coffee so purchased in bond is such as might be entered for home consumption in the United Kingdom."

In the Customs Act there is a provision which allows coffee and other free goods in transit, say through New York to Canada, to come in free of duty, but goods so in transit cannot first go into bond in New York. That would be contrary to the paragraph in the free list quoted above. The goods must be shipped immediately on leaving the ship at New York.

The object of this was to put a stop to the practice of New York importers, who, after unloading their shipments of tea, coffee, etc., would allow them to lie on the dock for several days, while they forwarded samples to Canada, subsequently shipping the goods to this country, duty free, if customers to better advantage could be found for them here.

The immediate transhipment provision, for a time, put a stop to this practice, but within a comparatively recent period it has again been brought into operation, as far at least as coffee is concerned, and quantities of this community are being brought into Canada every week, duty free, obviously in contravention of the Tariff Act. There is no question in the matter.

Trouble has been taken to interrogate the Customs Department at Ottawa on the matter, and the reply specially says that "any order to be entitled to entry as a direct shipment must be consigned to the importer in Canada direct from the country of growth, as per invoice and bills of lading."

Now, in a great many instances, in regard to the importation of green coffee these conditions are ignored altogether. The advice notes which come with the sample of coffee being offered not only state the goods are on the steamship dock, but the expiry date when the goods must be entered at the New York Customs house is also given, for, of course, if the coffee was once entered at the latter Customs it would effectively preclude its being subsequently brought into Canada duty free.

In the face, however, of the ruling of the department as to the necessity of the goods being consigned to the importer in Canada, coffee not so consigned, but, on the contrary, consigned to New York houses, is being allowed to pass the Customs free of duty.

Now, it is obviously the duty of the Customs Department at Ottawa to instruct the collectors at the various ports either one way or the other. The evident uncertainty now existing is unfair to the importers. If coffee is being brought in free which is not entitled so to come in, those bringing it in are liable to loss and inconvenience, and all because the collectors at the various ports were not sufficiently instructed as to their duties.

The Minister of Customs should give the matter his attention.

AN OLD RUMOR REVIVED.

A DAILY paper, a few days ago, gave currency to a statement to the effect that the currants which the Greek Government had retained, under the Retention Act, were to be sold for ordinary consumption. This statement has, time and again, been given currency, to be, time and again, denied.

The Retention Act, it will be remembered, instructs the Greek Government to retain 15 per cent. of the currant crop, the quantity thus held back to be used only for distillation purposes. Already a goodly portion of the quantity retained has been so used, while to use whatever remains for the purpose of ordinary consumption would first of all require the passage of an Act by the Greek Parliament repealing the Retention Act, so there is no possibility, even if public opinion demanded such action on the part of the Parliament, of the currants designed for distillation being immediately placed on the market for ordinary consumption.

The rumor was, no doubt, started by those interested in "bearing" the market.

A FAILURE WITH A MORAL.

A STATEMENT which has just been issued by the assignee of the estate of G. J. Kinzie, of Copleston, affords good food for reflection, if not for consolation. The statement is as follows :

RECEIPTS.

Stock sold for	$ 60 00
Horses, wagon and sleigh	51 00
Book debts collected	115 50

DISBURSEMENTS.

Man in charge, three weeks taking stock, advertising stock for sale, railway fare, keep of horses, etc	$ 81 04
Insurance	2 80
Advertising, Gazette	2 26
Postage, telegrams, etc	3 06
Paid lien on horses, wagon, etc.	50 25
Paid rent of stable	8 00
Assignee's fees	10 00
Inspector's fees	5 00
Solicitor's bill of costs	5 00
Balance to be paid on preference claim or rent of store of $100	59 15
	$226 50

It will be noticed that all the stock realized was $60, while the total received from the estate was only $226.50, not enough, after the expenses of winding up the estate are taken into account, to pay even the preferred claim for rent. And yet this insolvent had incurred debts to the amount of $1,315.25. The liabilities are, of course, not large, but it is their proportion to the assets that presents the striking feature.

Mr. Kinzie was a small dealer, but he evidently got a larger line of credit than was judicious.

FOOLISHLY HOLDING SEEDS.

THOUGH prices generally are much above those of last year the seed market in both Canada and the United States is depressed. Alsike is quoted $1 lower and red clover is fully $1.50 lower than last year.

On account of the low prices ruling many dealers refuse to sell at the quotations given them. The consequence is that several cars of United States seeds have been laid down here, at a better price, after freight and 10 per cent. duty had been paid, than is asked for by these holders.

One of the largest dealers in seeds in Ontario told THE CANADIAN GROCER this week that he estimated there was in Ontario now 50 per cent. more seed than is really needed for seeding purposes, but that the holders of this seed were practically losing the market because of their refusal to sell at a price to keep out United States seed.

If our informant is correct in his estimate, and he is in a position to be, the policy pursued by these holders is indeed suicidal.

THE INSOLVENCY BILL.

AN insolvency bill was introduced in the Dominion House of Commons on the 17th inst. Mr. Fortin, who introduced the bill, said that it had been prepared under the supervision of the Montreal Board of Trade, assisted by Messrs. A. S. Kent and Mr. Stevenson, who are authorities on the subject. The measure embodies many of the provisions of Sir Mackenzie Bowell's bill passed by the Senate in 1894 and reintroduced in 1895. It is limited in its application to traders. An important point of difference between this and the Bowell bill is that it does not apply to joint stock companies, which come under the operation of the Winding-up Act of 1882. Voluntary assignments are done away with, so that assignments must be compulsory. The procedure is this : Application is made by petition to the court for a receiving order. That order, when issued, is addressed to the sheriff, who immediately takes possession of the property of the insolvent.

Instead of having an official referee or assignee the receiving order will be placed in the hands of the sheriff. If the court is satisfied by affidavit or evidence that the majority in value of the creditors desire the appointment of a particular person as liquidator, such person may be appointed to take possession of the estate on application to the court. After the receiving order is issued the creditors shall meet and appoint a liquidator and inspectors, not more than five in number.

The only discharge that is provided for in the bill is that which is assented to by a majority in number, and three-fourths in value, of all creditors. There is no provision by which a discharge may be obtained against the will of the creditors. A discharge cannot apply without the express consent of a creditor in respect to a claim of a non-commercial nature due to a non-trader. It is claimed that this feature will in a large measure remove the objection to insolvency legislation restricted to traders. There is a limitation in the privilege of employes of the insolvent. They shall only be allowed to rank as privileged creditors in respect to salary or wages not exceeding three months in arrears. For the balance they must rank as ordinary creditors. Privilege is allowed in respect to six months' arrears of rent, and three months' advance rent under a lease of the liquidator shall give notice to end the lease. The liquidator may, however, sell the lease.

IMPORTATIONS OF PROVISIONS.

THE trade returns for January and February this year show a decided increase in the importation of provisions such as lard, meats, etc., into Canada as compared with the corresponding months last year.

During January and February, 1897, the total importations were valued at $75,572, and in January and February, this year, the value reached was $176,569, or an increase of 160 per cent.

This increase is largely due to the imports into British Columbia. In Ontario and Quebec there has been a decrease, if anything, in the importations, though a slight increase in the importation may have been experienced in the maritime provinces.

To Vancouver, Victoria, etc., the freight rate for provisions from Toronto is $1.80 per cwt., while from exporting points on the Pacific Coast of the United States the rates are from 20 to 40c. per cwt. This, combined with the lower price, though poorer quality of United States provisions, has to a large extent offset the duty of 2c. per lb. charged on lard, hams, and bacon, and the large demand for these goods for Klondyke consumption has naturally tended to cause a material increase in the import.

Meanwhile, the Canadian provision market was never in better condition than at present. With lard well cleared up and in good demand; the demand for barrel pork fully equal to the supply ; long clear bacon rather scarce, and a growing demand for all Canadian meats in Britain, packers here look with equanimity at even such a material increase of importation. "The circumstances are peculiar, and it will raise the revenue of the Government," is the way one dealer refers to it.

TRADE IN OTHER COUNTRIES THAN OUR OWN.

PROBABLE ADVANCE IN BEEF.

BY May 1 a general rise in price of choice cuts of meat and choice qualities of beef is expected. This will come indirectly from the rise in wheat and corn during the past six months. There are on the American market to-day choice cattle known as corn-fed beef. These cattle come from the extreme west, in the corn state, where men raise them on corn entirely for speculation, and they bring the highest prices. There are thousands of these raisers of corn-fed beef, and the market is generally well supplied with good beef at low figures comparatively. When the rise came in corn and wheat these cattle men and farmers found it more profitable to sell their corn than they did to feed it to the cattle, and as a result beef was sent to market not "fed to a finish," and now there is a scarcity of "finished" cattle in the west.

WAR AND PINEAPPLES.

Under date of March 19, Thos. J. Meehan & Co. write from Baltimore as follows: "A fair demand for spot tomatoes, corn, string beans and peas was in evidence all during the past week, but the remainder of the list was quiet enough. The pineapple situation is interesting because of the present complication of Cuban affairs. In case of war with Spain the shipment of pineapples to this country, from the Bahamas, would be very small, if any shipments at all could be made from there; and the packers would have to depend entirely upon the Florida crop for their supply, and that is an uncertain quantity. Not only pineapples, but all other staple lines of canned goods are sure to be advanced should hostilities be commenced. The orders for future tomatoes and corn continue large, larger than during the same period last year. There have been no changes in the prices this week, and certainly it would not be reasonable to anticipate lower prices for future delivery in the face of so large a demand. There is a good, fair demand for spot tomatoes, but there is no snap to the market, and the quotations of last week are unchanged, namely: 3-lb. standards, 87½c. net cash to 90c. regular; 2-lb. do., 55c. net cash to 60c. regular, f.o.b. Baltimore or Hartford county. Gallon standards range from $2.40 to $2.60, as to quality. So-called 'off standard' 3-lbs. are offered at 85c.; they are simply seconds."

BUTTER IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The close of the season for Australian butter has come as a relief to the agents for produce from other quarters, for the depression which has so long ruled in this department has been very trying to receivers of continental brands, as well as to those in whose care has been placed the disposition of butter from the Antipodes and the continent of America. The last large cargo of Australian has been placed, and, though there are a few shipments advised and one vessel just leaving the colonies with an unknown quantity on board, the regular import has now practically ceased, the market having at present to deal only with supplies nearer home. This fact has already made itself felt on the market, prices having risen until they are well ahead of those ruling at this time last year, whereas but recently they were some shillings per cwt. below the corresponding values. The news will not be everywhere welcome, but so far as the trade is concerned it is not altogether for the best that rates should run down too low. And, moreover, the unsettled state of the market while Australian is on the scene is a great anxiety and a trammel upon retail operations.—Grocers' Journal, March 12.

NEW SEASON'S RICE.

The foreign grades of rice have had a fair sale. The first direct shipment from Japan this season arrived at the opening of the week, amounting to 5,600 bags of rough, but as it was sold previous to arrival, there was no increase to the spot offerings from dealers' hands. It is learned that the supply of Japan rice contracted for for this market thus far this season for direct shipment from Japan and via Europe amounts to about 3,000 tons. New crop Bassien or so-called Java, for delivery during the latter part of April, has been offered at 4½c. New crop Patna has been firm at 5 to 5½c., as to quality.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

CANNED PEA OUTLOOK IN THE U.S.

All eyes will be turned on the pea pack this spring, as it will be one of the most important that article has ever known. It is generally conceded that green peas got down to their lowest price last year, and probably in many cases lower than cost. It will be remembered that the market was actually weaker at the opening than it became afterwards, caused by the remarkably low prices that the Baltimore packers made for their goods while they were putting them up. It is generally understood here that green peas will not be sold at such prices as they were sold in the pod by growers and commission men in 1897; and we have heard so far no important sales of futures at prices as last year. In fact, the experience of packers throughout the country who have rushed into packing peas during the last three or four years, has been that green pea packing is the most difficult of all goods packed in tin cans, and that good goods cannot be produced at bargain prices. The lesson learned last year is having its effect this season, and in view of the large consumptive demand for these goods, as evinced by last year's business, we expect to see them rule a little higher in prices than they did last year.

CANNED SALMON IN LONDON.

The colder weather of the last few days has had the effect of slightly checking the demand for salmon, but, notwithstanding this and the arrival of quite a fleet of sailing vessels during the previous week, the market remains surprisingly firm. There are few sellers of Fraser river fish below the price fixed at the last meeting of the Packers' Association, and holders of Alaska fish have, in many cases, advanced their rates. It is to be hoped that rates will remain steady for some time to come, in order that retailers may have every opportunity to offer good quality fish at popular prices. There appears to be a very general opinion that the increase in consumption will be such as to speedily render the market independent of any artificial assistance. There are numerous enquiries for ½-lb. flat tins, but it is evident that this description is in very short supply.—Produce Markets' Review, March 12.

U. S. CANNED GOODS TRADE.

The situation in canned goods has undergone little change during the week. Less pressure to sell future tomatoes, of either Jersey or Maryland packing, is made. In fact, we are informed that most packers have withdrawn from the market, having sold all they care to place until contracts for green stocks have been made and they know just where they will stand on the cost of material. The indications at present are that the packers will have to pay considerably more for their raw stock than they did last year. The movement in future corn and peas has been lighter this week, owing chiefly, it is said, to the firmer views presented to sellers. In consequence of the prospect of a short crop of Long Island asparagus this year, a considerable speculative movement in that article, it is reported, has taken place. The situation in green fruits, of all descriptions, has materially improved during the week, owing to the fact that the season for largest consumption is close at hand, and distributors everywhere are short of supplies. The tendency of the market has been upward and the close was firm.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, March 24, 1898.

GROCERIES.

THE wholesale grocery trade does not this week exhibit a great deal of life. March is usually a dull month in the grocery trade, but with a revival of trade generally in the country, business so far this month has been disappointing, from the wholesalers' point of view. Just now the country roads are being blamed for trade not being brisker than it is. How far this is true we are not prepared to say, but it is a well known fact that the roads in the country are in a very bad condition, in a great many instances being almost impassable, and as long as these conditions exist we can scarcely expect business to be brisk. In consequence of the recent destruction of tea by fire in Toronto, there has been a little more enquiry for this commodity. At the same time, however, business in this line is not what can be termed brisk. The situation in regard to canned goods remains much as before, there being very little business done, while prices remain unchanged. The sugar market continues dull and weak. In rice, the feature is an advance in the Japan article, which is from ½ to ¼c. per lb. dearer. Coffees are still quiet and easy. Ginger is a little easier, but the spice trade generally is steady in regard to price. Trade is keeping up well for California evaporated fruits, with apricots a little firmer.

CANNED GOODS.

The market for canned vegetables continues quiet, although prices remain much as before. We hear of a transaction in a round lot of corn at 82½c., and we understand that there have been a number of enquiries for further lots, the feeling being that canned corn, particularly in view of the high price of tomatoes, is good property. Canned fish is quiet and unchanged. Advices from the Coast state that the outlook for next season's pack is for higher prices than those which ruled during the past season. We quote: Tomatoes, $1.20 to $1.25; corn, 80 to 85c.; peas, 90 to 95c. for ordinary; sifted select, $1.10 to $1.25; extra sifted, $1.25 to $1.40; beans, 60 to 95c.; peaches, $2 to $2.40 for 3's, $1.40 to $1.75 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.40 to $1.70, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.40 to $1.70; cherries, $1.75 to $2.25; apples, 3's, 80 to 95c.; gallons, $2.25 to $2.40; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1 25 in 5-case lots and $1.30 in less quantities; other red salmon, $1.20 upwards, according to quality and brand; Cohoes, 95c. to $1; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.40 to $2.70 for tall tins; ½-lb. flats, $1.65 to $1.70; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1.40; 2's, $2.35 to $2.50; 6's, $7.75 to $8.25; 14's, $15 to $16; Canadian kippered herrings, $4.50 per case.

SYRUPS.

The demand is fair for this time of the year, with prices unchanged. We quote as follows: Dark, 23 to 25c.; medium, 28 to 35c.; bright, 32 to 42c.; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

Business in this line is still only of a moderate character. Advices from New Orleans state that prices are from 1 to 2c. per gallon higher. We quote as follows: New Orleans, bbls., 23 to 35c.; ditto, half-bbls., 25 to 37c.; ditto, fancy, 50 to 55c. in bbls. and half-bbls.; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c.; half-bbls., 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

The local market continues dull, and while no change has taken place in prices the feeling is easier, in sympathy with the outside markets, which are lower for raw sugars. Beet sugar declined ¾d. in London on Monday, although cane was steady. In New York the views of buyers and sellers are about ⅛c. per lb. apart as far as raw sugars are concerned. We quote as follows: wholesale price, subject to a discount of 1 per cent., 10 days: Granulated (St. Lawrence, Redpath, Acadia), 4⅝c.; ditto, Dutch, in bags, 4¼c.; ditto, German of Canadian make, in bbls., 4¼c.; ditto, imported, in bags, 4¼c.; yellows, 3¾c. upwards.

NUTS.

The market is still without feature, as is usual at this time of the year. New Brazil nuts are arriving in New York, but they are not attracting buyers, although prices have been reduced ½c. per lb. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 12½ to 14c.; Valencia shelled almonds, 23 to 25c.; Tarragona almonds, 9 to 11c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 8 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12c.; Marbot walnuts, 9½ to 11c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 8 to 9c.; Sicily filberts, 9½c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; Naples filberts, 11c.; pecans, 12 to 12½c.

RICE, TAPIOCA, SAGO.

The feature in regard to rice is an advance of from ½ to ¾c. per lb. in imported Japan. The demand is fair. We quote: Standard "B," broken lots, 3⅞c.; 1 to 5 sacks, 3¾c., and 5 sacks and over, 3⅝c. per lb.; Japan, 5½ to 6c.; Patna, 5 to 5¾c.; tapioca, 3½ to 5½c.; sago, 3½ to 4½c.

COFFEE.

There is not much doing, and the outside markets are a little easier on Rio coffees. Jobbers quote green in bags: Rio, 8 to 12½c., according to grade; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; Santos, 12 to 18c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 27½ to 30c.; Maracaibo, 13 to 17c.; Jamaica, 16 to 22c.

SPICES.

Ginger, which has been tending upward for some time, is a little easier, according to latest advices. Nutmegs and mace are on the other hand strong. The latter being particularly so. We quote: Pure Singapore black pepper, ground, 12 to 14c. in kegs, pails and boxes, and 14 to 15c. in 5-lb. cans; ditto, whole, 12c. per lb.; pure white pepper, ground, 22 to 24c. in kegs, pails and boxes, and 20 to 22c. in 5-lb. cans; ditto, whole, 22 to 26c., according to quality; pure Jamaica ginger, 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 16c.; cassia, 20 25c. per lb. for ground and 40c. for Saigon.

TEAS.

Advices received this week from Japan state that it is expected the market will open about 10 per cent. higher than last year, and it is understood that the United States is prepared to take all the early teas. The representatives of some of the Japan tea shipping houses report having booked a number of orders for next season's tea. Others, however, do not appear to be doing much. There has been, during the week, a demand for low-grade Congou teas, principally for shipment to the lower provinces. A few lots of low-grade Young Hysons were offered on this market during the past week, and they were eagerly picked up. These teas are still scarce and wanted. Indian and Ceylon teas are quiet, with fine grades of these teas firm in London. Ruling wholesale prices on the Toronto market are as follows: Young Hyson, 18 to 21c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS—There is still a good demand for currants. Advices from Patras state that prices are rather easy owing to the absence of demand. We quote as follows: Provincials, 5¾ to 6c.; Filiatras, 6¼c. in bbls; 6⅜c. in half-bbls and 6¼c. in cases. Patras, 6¾c. in bbls.; 6¾c. in half-bbls. and 6⅞ to 7c. in cases.; Vostizzas, 7½ to 8½c. in cases

VALENCIA RAISINS— The market continues firm for these, although business, locally, does not amount to very much. We quote as follows: Off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5 to 5½c.; selected, 6 to 6½c.; layers, 6½ to 7c.

CALIFORNIA RAISINS — The market is dull with prices unchanged. We quote: 3-crown, 7¼ to 7½c. per lb; 4-crown, 8¼ to 8½c. per lb.; 1-lb. cartoons, 20c.; 2¼-lb. cartoons, 35c.

PRUNES —Local wholesalers are experiencing a good demand for prunes, particularly for those of California. We quote as follows: "Sphinx," 6½ to 7c.; B, 7½c.; A, 8½c.; California prunes, 40 to 50's, 10 to 10½c.; 50 to 60's, 8 to 8½c.; 60 to 70's, 7½ to 8c.; 70 to 80's, 7 to 7½c.; 80 to 90's, 6½ to 7c.; 90 to 100's, 6 to 6½c. Silver prunes (fancy), 13½c.; egg plums, 9½c.; golden plums, 10½c.; French prunes, 180's, 5c.

CALIFORNIA EVAPORATED FRUITS—The reported damage to growing fruit crops in California has imparted a firmer tone to the market, particularly in apricots, which are about ¼c. per lb. above the lowest point. We quote as follows: Apricots, 9 to 9½c. per lb. in 50-lb. boxes, 9½ to 16c. in 25-lb. boxes, and 13 to 14c. in 1-lb. cartoon boxes; Peaches, 8½ to 12c. in 25-lb. boxes, and 13c. per lb. in 1-lb. cartoons.

GREEN FRUITS.

In the orange market California navels are still favorites, the demand continuing active at advancing prices. Lemons are in good demand. There is an improvement in the demand for bananas, which are now moving freely. A shipment of Spanish onions, in large cases, was received on the market a few days ago, and are now moving quietly. Pineapples are now on the market, and are selling at 20 to 30c. each. We quote: Lemons, Messina, $2.75 to $3 a box; oranges, Valencia, 420's, ordinary, $5.50 to $5.75; 420's, large, $6 to $6.25 per case; California navels, $3.25 to $3.50; California seedlings, $2.35 to $2.50; Sevilles, $3 a box; Bahamas, $2.50 to $3 a box; Canadian apples, spies, fancy red, $3.75 to $4 per bbl. and 45 to 50c. per basket; other spies, $2.50 to $3.50 per bbl.; common apples, $2 per bbl.; bananas, $1.50 to $2; Canadian onions, red or yellow, in 80-lb. bags, 95c. to $1; Spanish onions, $4.50 to $4.75 per large case; winter pears, 60 to 75c. per basket; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 a sack, and 60c. doz.; pineapples, 20 to 30c. each; rhubarb, 50 to 75c. per doz. bunches; onions, 10 to 15c. doz. bunches; lettuce, 25c. doz. bunches; radishes, 40c. doz. bunches; celery, 75c. to $1 doz. bunches; cabbage, 25 to 50c. doz.; parsley, 12 to 20c. doz. bunches.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS— All dealers are experiencing a free delivery, with a drop of 2c. in prices. Fresh-laid are now quoted at 10½ to 11c.

POTATOES—Carload lots are coming forward freely, at 56 to 58c. per bush., with demand not quite up to supply. Small lots on the market are offered at 60 to 65c. per bag.

DRIED APPLES—The market is dull. In some instances, 5c. per lb. outside, has been paid, but it is generally considered that that price is high unless for exceptionally choice stock. Ordinary stock is offered at 4 to 4¾c. per lb.

EVAPORATED APPLES — Stocks are getting well cleared up, and there is little doing, with no change in prices, which range from 9½ to 10½c. per lb. in a jobbing way.

BEANS—The market is quiet, with prime beans selling at 78 to 80c., for both large and small lots, and hand-picked at 87 to 90c. Lima beans are also quiet at 3½ to 3¾c. per lb.

HONEY—There is a fair sale with prices unchanged. We quote as follows: Clover honey, 7 to 7½c.; light color, in 60-lb. tins, 6 to 6½c.; 5 and 10-lb. tins, 7 to 7½c.; buckwheat 3 to 4c.; comb, clover, $1.25 to $1.50 per dozen; buckwheat, 60 to 70c.

POULTRY — There are but few fowl or turkeys offered. The demand is fair. We quote: Chickens, dressed, 50 to 70c.; turkeys, small and medium, 10½ to 12c.; large, 8 to 10c. per lb.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—There is still a decided scarcity of all kinds of dairy butter, and especially of good quality. The scarcity of good dairy has created an unusual demand for creamery, so that stocks are kept well cleared up. It is considered, however, that when the roads, which in many parts of the country are almost impassable, are dried up, the supply will be greatly increased. We quote: Dairy, large rolls, 18c.; pound prints, 18 to 20c.; creamery, late make, tubs, 19 to 20c.; prints, 21 to 23c.

CHEESE—The market is lifeless, with no export demand and decreased home consumption. We quote 8 to 8½c. per lb.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

The market throughout is in a satisfactory condition. Lard is the strong point, the demand for all grades continuing active, with stocks light. The majority of dealers find a brisk sale of barrel pork. Meats for Easter trade are moving well, with an advance of ¼c. for rolls. Long clear bacon is held in much less quantity than usual. Dressed hogs are coming forward freely. We quote:

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 7¾c. for carload lots, and 8c. per lb. for ton lots and cases.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 11½ to 12c.; rolls, 8¾ to 9c.; hams, large, 10c.; medium, 10½c.; small, 11c.; shoulder hams, 8½ to 9c.; backs, 11½c.; with 1c. less for all meats out of pickle.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

There is a fair demand generally. Split herring are scarce and in good demand. Frozen pike are in brisk demand. Fresh-caught pike and perch are now on the market. We quote as follows: Oysters, $1.25 per gal.; fresh trout, 6½ to 7c. per lb.; steak trout, 7c.; fresh steak cod, 6 to 6½c. per lb.; pickerel, 6c. per lb.; fresh pike, 5½c. per lb.; fresh perch, 5½c. per lb.; fresh herring, 3½c. per lb.; Labrador herring, $5.50 per bbl. and $3 per half-bbl.; split herring, $5 per bbl. and $2.75 to $3 per half-bbl.; sea herring, $1.30 to $1.35 per 100; boneless codfish, 3½ to 5c. per lb; pure cod, 6½ to 6¾c. per lb.; fresh water herring (heads off), $2.50 per keg; ciscoes, $1.25 to $1.35; Manitoba frozen whitefish, 6½ to 7c. per lb.; smelts, No. 2, 4c.; No. 1, 6c.; extras, 10c.; flounders, 5c. per lb.. haddies, 5½ to 6c. per lb.; fresh haddock, 5c. per lb.; pan frozen haddock, small, 4c.; large, 5c. per lb.; frozen pike, 4 to 5c. per lb.; frozen perch, 3 to 4c. per lb.

GRAIN, FLOUR, BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—A decline is noted in red winter and goose wheat. This week's quotation on cars outside are as follows: Wheat, red winter, 83c.; white winter, 81 to 83c.; goose, 78 to 80c. The roads have been so bad that very little grain has been offered on the street market. We quote the street market as follows: Wheat, red, 86 to 88c.; white, 77 to 83c.; goose, 85 to 86c.; peas, 58 to 59c.; barley, 36 to 37c.; oats, 34 to 35c. No. 1 hard wheat has declined 2c., and is now quoted at $1.08 Toronto and Montreal freights, or $1.05 Midland.

FLOUR—The market is quiet, with prices unchanged for all grades, except straight roller, which has declined 5 to 10c. We quote: Manitoba patents, $5.30 to $5.40; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.90 to $5; Ontario patents, $4.75 to $4.80; straight roller, $4.10 to $4.20, Toronto freights.

BREAKFAST FOODS — Business is rather quiet, with prices unchanged. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.90 in bags and $4.00 in bbls.; rolled wheat, $2.75 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $2.50; split peas, $3.50; pot barley, $3.25.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

HIDES—The demand has fallen off considerably, another decline of ½c., the fourth of this amount in as many weeks, is noted. We quote: Cowhides, No. 1, 8c.; No. 2, 7c.; No. 3, 6c.

CALFSKINS—A decline of 2c, is noted for both No. 1 and No. 2. We quote as follows: No. 1 veal, 8 lbs. and up, 10c. per lb.; No. 2, 8c.; Dekins, from 30 to 35c.; culls, 15 to 20c.

SHEEPSKINS—Trade is quiet. A decline of 10c. is noted. We now quote at $1.15 to $1.25.

WOOL—There is a quiet, steady trade, with pulled wools quoted at 20 to 20½c.

SEEDS.

There is a fair jobbing trade in many parts of the country. Since the decrease in prices many Canadian holders and growers show a tendency to hold their seeds for higher prices, which are not likely to be paid. We quote red clover at $2.75 to $3.25. There is such a range of values in alsike that it is quoted all the way from $2 to $4. Timothy is steady at $1 to $1.50 for machine threshed, and $1.50 to $2 for strictly choice to fancy bright unhulled flail-threshed seed.

SALT.

Trade is active, with prices steady and unchanged. We quote: Carload lots, $1.05 per bbl., and 65c. per sack; less than carload lots, $1.10 per bbl., and 70c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B., barrels, 75c.; sacks, 45c.

PETROLEUM.

There is little doing, though business is not as quiet as usual at this time of the year. We quote in 1 to 10-bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto, as follows: Canadian, 14c.; Sarnia water white, 15c.; American water white, 17½c.; Pratt's astral, 17c. in bulk.

MARKET NOTES.

Evaporated apricots are firmer.

The ginger market is a little lower.

Roll butter has advanced ¼c. per lb.

A decline of 2c. per doz. is noted in eggs.

Pineapples are on the market at 20 to 30c. each.

Japan rice is quoted ½ to ¾c. per lb. higher.

Straight roller flour has declined 5 to 10c. per bbl.

Heavy dressed hogs are 15c. cheaper than last week.

Spanish onions in large cases are on the market at $4.50 to $4.75 per case.

It is expected that the Japan tea market will open about 10 per cent. higher than a year ago.

Hides have declined ½c. per lb., making a total decline of 2c. per lb. in the last month. Calfskins have declined 2c. per lb., and sheepskins 10c. each.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, March 24, 1898.

GROCERIES.

THERE has been no radical change in the general grocery situation here during the week, business, on the whole, being of a moderate character in most of the leading staples. In sugar, buyers will only operate for actual wants, and prices are unchanged, the easiness outside having no influence. Barbadoes molasses shows an advancing tendency at primary markets, but from stock on spot jobbers ask the same prices, and no change seems probable in this respect. There has been some enquiry for canned tomatoes from Manitoba, and some round lots have changed hands, but the distributive demand here is confined to immediate necessities, as retailers don't want to lay in any supplies ahead, with prices as high as they are at present. Teas are quiet, and business is restricted, from the fact that buyers and sellers are a long way apart on the better grades of tea. Spices rule quite firm in tone, with a quiet, steady trade, and there has been considerable activity in rice, Japan rice being scarce. Dried fruits remain much as they were last week, also nuts and green fruit. The warm weather has depressed the fresh fish market, and in produce the most striking feature is the slump in the price of eggs, other lines ruling much the same.

SUGAR.

The refined sugar market on spot has not been influenced by the easiness of outside markets for raw material, and prices generally are unchanged. Business is dull, and both jobbers and retailers are buying in a conservative way. This disposition naturally restricts the movement. Locally, the Guild agreement holds good for Montreal and district, but in Ontario east of Toronto, up the Ottawa valley, and in certain portions of Quebec province, jobbers observe no fixed price on either granulated or yellow sugar. We quote granulated at 4⅜c., and domestic yellows at 3¼ to 4c. Dutch granulated is quoted at 3 15-16 to 4c., and domestic manufactured Dutch, 4 to 4 1-16c. The decline in the price of raw beet at London continues, prices sagging off steadily, cables this week noting a drop of ¾d. on near position, with market quiet, and quotations barely maintained. Present month was quoted at 9s. 0¾d. and next month 9s. 1½d. Cane was steady and unchanged, with offerings light, Java being quoted at 11s. 3d., and fair refining 9s. 9d.

SYRUPS.

This market continues quiet, with prices unchanged at 1½ to 2½c., as to quality.

MOLASSES.

The firm disposition at primary markets continues, cables this week from Barbadoes quoting 17c. landed gauge, which is equivalent to 24c. laid down in Montreal. This is an advance of 1 to 1½c. on what sellers at the Islands asked last week. Naturally, this intelligence has strengthened the firm disposition of holders on spot who, while they have not altered their quotations, are firm sellers of Barbadoes at 27c. in car lots, and 28c. in single puncheons. Porto Rico is quoted at 26 to 27c.

CANNED GOODS.

The feature of the canned goods market is the firm manner in which staple lines of vegetables are held, notably tomatoes, and the fact that buyers refuse positively to operate ahead, taking only what they actually want. Values on tomatoes are firmer for an inside figure, for we know where $1.10 was refused for a large block of stock. We quote: Tomatoes, $1.20 to $1.25; corn, 90c. to $1; peas, 90c. to $1.15; peaches, $1.75 to $1.90 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.90; strawberries, $1.75 to $2, according to brand and quality; cherries, $2.30; apples, gallons, $2.60 to $2.75; 3-lb.do., $1.10 to $1.20; salmon, $1.20 to $1.25 as to brand; lobsters, $11; French sardines, $10.25 to $11 for extra brands, and $8 to $9 for ordinary; Canadian do., $4.25 to $4.50.

TEAS.

The market continues quiet with business narrow. The difficulty appears to be that buyer and seller cannot come together, the difference between their respective views of value ranging all the way from 1½ to 2c. per pound. The former would like to get good tea at about 16c. per pound, whereas the latter demand 18c., and the result is a dead lock. In lower grade Japans and blacks there is a moderate movement in progress, but these low grade teas are none too plentiful. We quote: Young Hysons, 18c.

for low grades, 24 to 28c. for mediums and 30 to 40c. for good to finest ; China Congous, 10 to 17c. for mediums and 25 to 50c. for better grades ; Japans, 13 to 17c. for mediums and 28c. for higher grades ; Indians and Ceylons, 17 to 20c. for mediums and 35 to 65c. for higher grades.

SPICES.

There has been a fair trade in spices for the season, while the firmness already noted is fully retained. Import business in black and white pepper, ginger, cloves and nutmegs is again noted this week. We quote : Black pepper, 12 to 15c.; white pepper, 20 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 25 to 27c.; do. best, 30c.; allspice, 14c.; and nutmegs, 50 to 90c.

COFFEE.

Business in coffee was quiet and the market without new feature We quote as follows : Green Maracaibo rather easier at 10 to 14c.; Rio, 9 to 10c.; Santos, 10 to 11c; Java 20 to 30c., and Mocha, 20 to 28c.

RICE.

There has been a decided improvement in the rice market, which has exhibited considerable activity, while prices are firmly held. Cables state that stocks at distributing points in Europe are well exhausted, and arrivals of new are being awaited. Advices from the east are also firm, especially from Japan, and Japan rice is scarce on this market. We quote : Crystal Japan, $5 ; standard B, $3.75 to $4 ; Patna, $5 to $5.50; Carolina, $6.75 to $7.75 ; choice Burmah, $4 to $4.25, and Java kinds, $4.25 to $4.50.

DRIED FRUIT.

There has been little life in the currant market, and importers here have done little for spring importation by the direct steamer from Patras. Local demand is quiet. We quote : Fine Vostizzas, 6½c.; Patras, 6¼c.; choice Filiatra, 6c.; half-cases, do., 5⅞c.; half-bbls., 5⅜c.; fine Provincials, 5⅝c., in half-cases.

Valencia raisins are quiet, and jobbers here appear to have plenty of stock to get along with without bothering about fresh importations. To lay down any would cost more than jobbers are asking, but the fact does not influence spot prices. We quote : Off-stalk, 4¼ to 4½c.; fine do., 4¾ to 5c.; selected, 6 to 6¼c., and layers, 6 to 6¾c.

California raisins continue quiet and unchanged at 6 to 6½c. for 2-crown; 7 to 7½c. for 3-crown, and 8¼ to 8½c. for 4-crown.

Demand for prunes is quite brisk and values are firmly held. We quote : California, 5 to 10c.; Oregons, 7 to 9c.; French, 4½ to 5½c., Austrian, 6½ to 7c.

Dates are unchanged at 4½ to 5c.

Figs are steady under a moderate demand. We quote : Eleme, 10 to 16c.; case lots, 9c.; 12-oz. boxes, 7½c.; 14-oz. boxes, 9c., and bags, 4 to 5c.

NUTS.

Steady, under a quiet jobbing demand. We quote : Grenoble walnuts, 10½ to 11c.; Marbots, 9 to 9½c.; Tarragona almonds, 8½ to 10c.; shelled almonds, 20 to 22c., and shelled walnuts, 16 to 18c.; Sicily filberts, 7 to 8½c., and pecans, 9 to 10c.

GREEN FRUIT.

There has been a good demand for all kinds of green fruit, but supplies have been ample and prices are unchanged. Jamaica oranges are steady and the same can be said of California navels. Valencias moved quietly and lemons are unchanged. Pineapples are firm under light receipts, while other lines are much the same. We quote : Jamaica oranges, $4 to $5; California navels, $2.75 to $3.50; do., seedlings, $2 to $2.50; Valencia, $5.50 to $6; Florida, $4.25. Lemons, $2 to $2.75 ; pineapples, 15 to 40c. each, and cranberries, $9 to $10 per bbl. for Cape Cod, and $8.50 to $9 for Nova Scotia ; strawberries, 50c.; bananas, $1.75 to $2, and tomatoes, $4 to $4.50 per carrier.

APPLES.

There has been a good enquiry for apples, and prices have ruled firm at $4 to $5.50 for firsts, and $2 to $3 for seconds.

DRIED APPLES.

Continue unchanged, at 5 to 6½c., while there is a good demand for evaporated at 9 to 10c.

FISH.

The continued mild weather has had a depressing effect on the fresh fish trade, and prices for nearly all lines show a decline from a week ago. The demand has been limited, and only for small lots, to fill actual wants. Smelts and tommycods are out of the market. Haddock and cod have declined ½ to 1c. per lb., and are now selling at 2½ to 3½c. Manitoba dore are ½ to 1c. per lb. lower, at 5c., and pike ½c. at 3c. Whitefish and trout are unchanged, at 6½c. per lb. Fresh herrings have declined 10 to 25c. per 100, to $1 to $1.20 per 100 in casks and barrels. Fresh salmon rules steady at 12c. per lb.

The movement of pickled fish has been slow. No. 1 herrings and trout have declined 25c. per barrel, and No. 1 ordinary green cod 50c. per barrel. B.C. salmon are firmly held, owing to the small supply obtainable. We quote : Green cod, No. 1 ordinary, $3 to $3.50 ; No. 2, $2 ; herrings, No. 1 N.S., $4 to $4.25 per bbl., and $2.25 per half-bbl.; Cape Breton, $4.50 to $4.75 per bbl.; B.C. salmon, $12 per bbl.; No. 1 trout, $4 per keg.

In smoked fish, supplies of haddies and bloaters are larger, and prices somewhat easier, haddies selling at 6c. per lb., and Yarmouth bloaters at $1.20 to $1.25 per box. Boneless codfish continues scarce, and prices are firmer at 5 to 5½c. per lb. The stock of dressed cod is about cleaned out of the market. Dried cod are selling at 3¼ to 3½c. per lb.

SALT.

Business quiet. We quote : Coarse Liverpool, in 165-lb. bags, 38 to 45c., and Trepani, $1.10 per bag of 215 lbs.

Butter and Eggs

We have had numerous inquiries from our out-of-town customers, to know whether we can sell Butter and Eggs. We have excellent facilities for doing so. There is a good demand here for both Eggs and Butter, at good prices. lower than they were a week ago, at 11 to 12c. per dozen. The market, in fact, is being flooded with stock.

BEANS—The demand for beans continues slow, and the market was dull, but prices rule steady at 75 to 80c. for primes and at 85 to 90c. for choice hand-picked per bushel.

HONEY—The movement of honey is only in a jobbing way and business is dull. We quote: White clover, 12½c.; dark clover comb, 10 to 10½c., and dark, 7 to 8c.

MAPLE PRODUCTS — Receipts of both syrup and sugar have been quite free during the week, and prices rule easy as a result. We quote: Syrup, in gallon tins, 50 to 60c. for new, and 40 to 45c. for old; and in bulk, 5 to 5½c. per lb.; sugar, 7 to 8c. for new and 4c. for old, per lb.

POTATOES—There is a fair trade doing in potatoes, and prices are steady at 60c. per bag, in car lots, and 70 to 75c. in a small way.

ONIONS—Are lower offering at $1.25 to $2.25 per bbl. with demand fair.

DRESSED HOGS—Receipts of these have been quite large and prices are low as a result, $6.15 to $6.25 for light bacon hogs.

PROVISIONS.

The provision market continues much the same the only alteration being a rather easier feeling in hams and bacon. We quote as follows: Canadian pork, $16 to $16.50 per barrel; pure Canadian lard, in pails, at 8¼ to 8½c., and compound refined at 5½ to 5¾c. per lb.; hams, 11½ to 12c.; bacon, 12c. per lb.

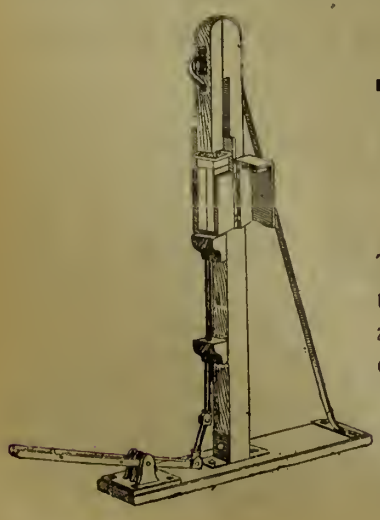
FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

The flour market exhibits nothing new this week, business ruling quiet and prices generally unchanged. We quote as follows: Winter wheat, patents $4.75 to $5; straight rollers, $4.50 to $4.60; bags, $2.25 to $2.30; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.90; Manitoba spring patents, $5.30.

Oatmeal was steady and unchanged at $4 per bbl., and $1.95 per bag for rolled oats.

GRAIN AND FEED.

There has been a weaker feeling in both wheat and the coarser grains during the past week, and prices all round, with the single exception of buckwheat, are lower than they were a week ago. This easiness is due to lower prices offered for forward delivery. We quote: No. 2 white oats, 33c., ex-store; 34 to 34½c. afloat, May delivery; peas, 65 to 66c. afloat, May; buckwheat, 43½ to 44c. ex store. Ontario red wheat, 84 to 85c., and white, 82 to 83c. along the line.



There was no change in feed, except that the demand was limited and trade quiet. We quote: Ontario winter wheat bran, $15; shorts, $17 per ton in bulk; Manitoba bran, $15, and shorts, $17 per ton, including bags.

Under decreased receipts and an active demand values on hay have advanced about $1 per ton on No. 1 and 50c. on No. 2, and we quote No. 1, $11 to $11.50 and No. 2, $8.50 to $9 in car lots.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

There has been little doing in cheese on spot, the exporters awaiting the news of a large auction sale of 15,000 boxes Canadian cheese at Liverpool on Tuesday last. This sale went off much better than expected, 38s. to 40s. being realized for finest quality, net cash, Liverpool terms. This is about equivalent to 7 3-16 to 7⅝c. in Montreal, so that buyers who have been looking for 7c. cheese may be disappointed.

The butter market is active, and with light receipts, values are firm as the local demand is more than sufficient to absorb all the current offerings. Finest creamery is firmly held at 21c, and is scarce, while under grades range down to 19c. There is little or no dairy stock offering this week and prices are not quotable.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Increased receipts of onions have led to a decline of 25c. per bbl., compared with ruling prices a week ago.

Receipts of maple sugar and syrup are steadily increasing, and prices have an easier tendency.

There is a regular flood of fresh eggs coming in, and prices have slumped 2c. per dozen, with a declining tendency.

Cables from the Islands on Barbadoes molasses quote 17c. landed gauge, which is an advance of 1c. per gallon on last week.

There have been large sales of round lots of canned tomatoes to Manitoba buyers, who have paid an advance on previous quotations.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,
ST. JOHN, N.B., March 22, 1898.

THERE is a fair active business doing. In some lines the market is hardly as firm as it has been. This seems true of flour, molasses, and even sugar, which barely holds its price. On the other hand, fish, pork, beef products, butter and spice tend firmer. This is the time for maple sugar and syrup. While quite a large quantity of the pure is manufactured in this province, buyers need to be careful. It is said the large quantities of snow in the woods will lessen the output. In lumber, which is of such importance to us, the outlook is not bright. It is very different from last spring. There is a little more American business doing, but the English market is dull. The weather is mild, and through the country the "going" is bad. This will affect business, as good roads are necessary to the moving of goods.

OILS— There is little new. Canadian burning oil, as was expected, has followed the advance of American. It never allows the American to get far ahead. At this season sales are light. Dealers report large sales of lubricating oils for spring delivery. We quote: Best American burning oil, 20 to 21c. Canadian water white, 18 to 19c.; Canadian prime, 16 to 17c.; cod oil, 26 to 28c.

SALT—This is a quiet line. In Liverpool, coarse, which is the principal salt handled at this point, dealers are largely supplied. In Canadian salt an improved sale is reported. This is the salt chiefly used in the manufacture of cheese and butter and for table use, though English factory-filled has still some demand for dairy use; and there is a limited sale for English bottled salt for the table. There is also a little American for the same purpose still imported. We quote. Coarse, 40 to 45c.; Liverpool factory-filled, 85 to 95c.; Canadian fine, $1 to $1.10 per bag; 5-lb. bags in bbls., $3 to $3.25; 10-lb. bags, in bbls., $2.85 to $3; butter and cheese salt, bulk, $2.50 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c. each; 10-lb. wood boxes, 12c. each; cartoons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; bottled salt, $1.25 to $1.30.

CANNED GOODS—American corned beef has been advanced by the packers, and the outlook favors still higher figures. The local market moves slowly, demand being, as yet, light. Vegetables are tending higher. Stocks will be short. While apples tend higher the sale is light. Pineapples have a fair sale with prices firm. Salmon, being quite a large stock and of different qualities, is rather easier, though prices are not expected to be lower. Oysters have better sale and are firmly held. Lobsters are scarce and high. We quote as follows: Corn, 90c. to $1; peas, $1 to $1.10; tomatoes, $1.30 to $1.40; gallon apples, $2.65 to $2.75; corned beef, Canadian, $2.40 to $2.50; American, 2-lb. tins, $2.50 to $2.75; 1-lb. tins, $1.45 to $1.50; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.40 to $1.50; peaches, 3's, Canadian, $2.50 to $2.75; 2's, $1.70 to $1.85; American, 3's, $2 to $2.25; pineapple, $2.25 to $2.50; fruits in glass, $4 to $4.25; salmon, $1.00 to $1.20; ditto, flats, $1.25 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.50 to $2.60; haddies, $1.00 to $1.10; clams, $4.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $2.50 to $2.75 for 2 doz,; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1 per doz.; kippered herring, $1.10 per doz.

GREEN FRUIT—Oranges still have the chief sale. Valencias are still the favorites. They are quite a little higher, though local prices advance slowly. Californias, if there is any change, are rather lower. Messina bloods are freely received, and are good quality. Quite a few so-called Floridas are being handled. Lemons are still low, and there is a good movement. Bananas are beginning to sell, but importations are as yet light. Apples have a fair sale, but best stock is high. A few United States Ben Davis are being brought here. It is said there is at least one lot of about 2,000 barrels still held in Nova Scotia for the English market. We quote: Lemons, $3 to $4; Valencia oranges, $5.50 to $6; California, $3 to $3.50; navels, $3.50 to $4; Jaffa oranges, $4; Bloods, $3, half-boxes; Floridas, $3.75; apples, $2.50 to $5; bananas, $1.50 to $2.25; Cape Cod cranberries, $12 to $12.50 per bbl.

DRIED FRUITS—California prunes seem to be about the best seller in this line, and this is not a particularly large business. Evaporated apricots and peaches have fair demand. Prunes tend higher, particularly the small sizes. Dried and evaporated apples have fair sale. Currants are very dull; prices firm. There is also but little sale for raisins. What there is is California loose muscatels. Seeded have a fair demand. Dates, Sultana raisins, and figs all quiet. Onions are light stock and price is moving up. In cocoanuts, owing to recent aarrivals, prices are rather easier. We quote as follows: Valencias, 5 to 5½c.; California L. M., 3-crown, 6½ to 6¾c.; London layers, $1.40 to $1.50; Imp. cabinets, $1.75 to $1.80; black baskets, $2.25 to $2.30; Dehesa layers, $2.50 to $2.75; currants, cases, 6¼ to 6½c.; bbls., 5¾ to 6c.; cartoons, sleaned, 8 to 9c.; bulk, cleaned, 7½ to 8c.; prunes, boxes, 6 to 10c.; dates, 4 to 5c.; dried apples, 6½ to 7c.; evaporated apples, 10 to 11c.; onions, $2.70 to $2.75 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 per 100 lbs.; figs, 8 to 10c.; Sultana raisins, 9 to 10c.; Malaga loose muscatels, 3-crown, 6½ to 6¾c.; 4-crown L. M. Californias, 7½ to 7¾c.; seeded muscatels, 1-lb. cartoons, 11 to 12c.; new Valencias, layers, 6¼ to 6½c.; citron peel, 18c.; lemon peel, 12c.; orange peel, 13c.

SUGAR—While present prices are maintained there seems to be a rather easier feeling on the part of the trade. The budget is looked for with interest. A larger quantity of second-grade granulated, made by the refineries to compete with the foreign, is being sold here. Its influence on the sale of yellows is being felt. We quote: Standard granulated, 4⅜ to 4½c.; second grade, 4⅛ to 4¼c.; yellows, 3½ to 3¾c.; Paris lump, 5¾ to 6c.; powdered, 5½ to 5¾c.

MOLASSES—The market tends easier. The new Barbadoes to hand for first arrivals is good, but rather more was received than was expected. Each steamer, arriving monthly, will bring large consignments. A cargo of Porto Rico was received this week. It found fair demand. The market is not a strong one; each season seems to tend to lower prices in this commodity. The receiving of consigned cargoes is killing the import business, and tends to the carrying of lighter stocks. We quote as follows: Barbadoes, 23 to 25c.; Porto Rico, 26 to 27c.; New Orleans, bbls., 28 to 32c.; Antigua, 22 to 23c.; St. Croix, 20 to 22c.; Demerara, 35 to 36c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Butter is much firmer. Quite a little stock has been shipped west, and stock of all kinds is light. It is a new thing not to have western butter offering freely at this season. This will aid the sale of creamery. Our creameries turn out but very little winter butter. Cheese is dull for the season. There are still a good many through the province. In eggs, the price has gone off very early this year, and many look for rather better prices. As yet there is no large demand. We quote: Dairy butter, 16 to 18c.; creamery, 18 to 20c.; prints, 20 to 22c.; cheese, 9¼ to 9½c.; eggs, 12 to 13c.

FISH—The market for dry fish is firm, and prices are likely to be higher, particularly for dry cod. The Lenten demand this year has not been large. Pickled herring are rather higher, but the sale is slow. Smoked herring, which have been dull so long, are looking up, perhaps more because of light arrivals than because of any particular demand here. Brokers are getting rather better prices west. While finnan haddies sell all the year round, the best season is about over. Lobsters are scarce here. The market west is so high that they are all shipped there, except such as are canned. Gaspereaux are now on the market, but as yet prices are high. There are still quite a few alewives held. Prices ruled low during the past winter. Fresh halibut are being received; price about as usual at this season. We quote: Large cod, $3.45 to $3.60; medium, $3.15 to $3.35; pollock, $1.90 to $2; Grand Manan pickled herring, $1.85 to $1.95 per half-bbl.; smoked herring, 7 to 8c.; Canso, pickled, $5 per barrel; boneless fish, 3½ to 4½c.; cod, 6 to 7c.; finnan haddies, 4 to 4½c.; fresh gaspereaux, $3 per 100; fresh halibut, 10 to 11c. per lb.

PROVISIONS—The market is a firm one and the feeling is toward higher prices. In pork and beef, stocks are light and goods are not freely offered. Smoked meats, for which there is an improved demand, are firm at full figures. Stocks are light. In lard the market is quite well supplied at the lower figures, so that local market prices are rather lower than outside prices warrant. We quote: Clear pork, $15.50 to $16; old light do, $14; mess, $15 to $15.25; prime mess, $12 to $12.50; plate beef, $14 to $14.50; extra plate, $14.25 to $15; hams, 11 to 12c.; rolls, 9½ to 10c.; pure lard, 8 to 9c.; compound, 6½ to 7½c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In Ontario flour the feeling is rather easier this week. As yet, Manitobas keep firm. There is now a great difference between the price of these flours, it being nearly one dollar. Manitobas are sold here at close to present mill price. Oatmeal and cornmeal hold their price. Oats are still high, but hay almost fails to find any buyers, even at the present low figures. Beans show no change, but firm, with mediums hard to get. Barley, split peas, and blue peas are all firmly held at the higher prices. Feeds are hard to get, and prices are high. Seeds are having considerable attention, and prices are well maintained. We quote as follows: Manitoba $5.80 to $6; best Ontario, $5 to $5.10; medium, $4.75 to $4.90; oatmeal, $4.15 to $4.25; cornmeal, $2.10; middlings, bulk, car lots, $19 to $20; bran, do, $17.50 to $18; hand-picked beans, $1 to $1.10; prime, 95c. to $1.00; barley, $3.35 to $3.50; round peas, $1.25; split peas, $3.60 to $3.75; yellow eye beans, $1.75; oats, 39 to 40c.; hay, $9 to $10; timothy seed, American, $1.70 to $1.90; do., Canadian, $2 to $2.25; mammoth clover, 7 to 7½c.; red clover, 6 to 7c; alsike, 7¾ to 8¼c.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

A number of St. John manufacturers are represented in the far west. During the past week C. Landau, traveling for the Imperial Cigarette and Tobacco Co., was in Victoria, B.C.

Smith & Tilton do a large direct tea business here, representing some of the best Ceylon and China houses. This week Mr. Fairhurst, of Fairhurst & Co., Foochow, was in the city, and with Mr. Smith called on the city trade.

The question of what to do in regard to United States money is one of importance in all border towns. The Woodstock board of trade, at its last meeting, passed a motion asking the banks there to take United States currency at par.

The steamer Keemun, from Glasgow, brought this week 25 Ayrshire cattle for W. W. Ogilvie, of Montreal. It is said they form one of the most valuable lots ever shipped from Glasgow. Besides the cattle there were four fine Scotch collies for Mr. Ogilvie.

The schooner Juanita arrived this week with the first cargo of Porto Rico molasses this season. She is from Fajrdo. She had 294 casks and barrels; also 3,000 cocoanuts. She is consigned to the Bank of British North America. L. G. Crosley, the agent for the shipper, is here looking after the sale of the cargo. He is expecting a second cargo shortly.

Fresh lobsters, which brought such good prices in the Boston market last season, are even higher this year, being quite scarce. In January and February there were shipped from Yarmouth to Boston 5,078 packages, in value amounting to $60,868. The same two months last year show shipment of 4,774 packages valued at $51,108. The shipments from Digby are light this year, but show big returns.

The retail grocery firm of J. S. Armstrong & Bro. will hereafter be known as J. S. Armstrong & Machum, John Machum having been admitted a partner. Mr. Machum, who is well known to all the many customers of the house, through his connection with it for the last few years, has the best wishes of all, together with their congratulations, which are also extended to Mr. Armstrong.

It would look as if the next generation would not find a tree left, or even a bush. First, the lumbermen take what they want, then those who deal in piling and cordwood, and after them the pulp miller, and now a shipper at Hartland has four carloads of small cedar, fir and spruce saplings ready to ship to Boston to be used for manufacturing rustic seats, summer houses, fences, etc.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

WINNIPEG, March 21, 1898.

NEWS is scarce this week. Business is good, prices steady, and everything going along just about as usual. The happy smile with which wholesale men tell you "there is nothing new," is trying to the nerves of the correspondent.

Sutherland & Campbell are extending their business in the goods bearing the "Royal Shield" brand. Under this brand they send out coffee, tea, baking powder, spices, pickles, and now they are having salmon canned for them under this particular brand. A very handsome sign, the heroic figure of a knight bearing the "Royal Shield," has been put up on their warehouse. This firm are meeting with great success with their electric cleaning machine for currants. This is the only machine of the kind west of Toronto. Currants put through this machine are also sold under the "Royal Shield" brand.

J. D. Roberts, representing the Blue Ribbon Manufacturing Co., has been in British Columbia for two months, and judging from the orders coming to the factory here he is hustling business and no mistake. It is reported that he declares he will have "Blue Ribbon" tea in every grocery store in Vancouver and Victoria before he leaves the Coast.

BUTTER—There is nothing moving here just now, nor will there be for a couple of weeks. So far as Winnipeg is concerned nothing can go out, and British Columbia, our only available market, is being supplied from Ontario, California and Australia.

EGGS—This market has weakened rapidly. The week opened with prices at 17c., now dealers are paying 14c., and it is generally conceded that values will go down to 12c. before this week is out. The season is fully three weeks in advance of last year. On this date last year dealers were paying 20c., and found eggs scarce at that price. This spring, offerings are large.

CURED MEATS—This market has remained without change of any kind for the week.

DRIED FRUITS—The predicted prune famine has set in, and it is thought, by the end of the month, all stocks will be exhausted; 90's to 100's are bringing 5¾c; 100's to 120's 5½c., or an advance of 15 per cent. Dried apples are now moving quite freely, notwithstanding the high price which is maintained. Quotations are, 6¾ to 7½c. per lb. Apricots, plums, peaches and pears remain unchanged.

GREEN FRUITS—This market has no new lines as yet, but by the end of this week wholesale houses will be in receipt of small consignments of strawberries. The apple market is getting into a little better shape, though stocks are still heavy. Canadian goods are keeping badly, and have all to be repacked. American apples are opening up remarkably well. Price: Canadian, $4.50; American, $4.25. Oranges are plentiful. Navels are arriving in smaller quantities and will shortly be out of season. Price: $3.75 to $4; lemons, $3.75 to $4.25, according to size and grade. Bananas are growing more plentiful and price has dropped slightly being now $2.50 to $2.75.

CANNED GOODS—Tomatoes have made another sharp advance and are now held at from $3.20 to $3.25 per case; corn, $2.10 to $2.20 per case; peas, $2.20 to $2.25; beans, $1.75 to $2; pumpkin, $2. Canned fruits are moving with considerable freedom, but no change in price has occurred as yet.

RICE—This product continues quite a problem in this market. What little Japan is in stock is bringing 5¾c., but supply is about exhausted. China rice is not in the market. India rice, 4¼ to 4¾c.

CEREALS—American rolled oats have advanced this week, and are now bringing $2 the sack.

TOBACCO—In sympathy with the eastern advance, Canadian leaf is now selling at 25c. instead of 17c. All other tobaccos have been stationary in price for months.

COFFEE—Rios still continue at 10½c., with no indication of a rise in the market.

DRIED APPLES.

Editor CANADIAN GROCER,—I hear the market for dried apples is a very poor one, both in the United States and in Europe. In past years our retail merchants and our wholesale ones have lost heavily in this product owing to the big prices that are paid for them. Why are they repeating this now? Fancy, first-class dried goods are not worth, at the outside, 3¾c. or so, but some are making them appear much more valuable than this. I hope that this warning will have the effect of reducing the views of our country customers and saving them loss in this direction.

Yours truly,

TRAVELER.

P.S.—Have heard there are still a great many old apples in the market. If this is the case. merchants should beware of them. They are worth nothing. Buyers who pick them up for export would not give 1½c. for them.

Hamilton, March 22, 1898.

$25,000 BID FOR A WAREHOUSE.

The Salada Tea Co., which is temporarily occupying the old McLean warehouse at 32 Yonge street, Toronto, has submitted an offer of $25,000 cash for the building. The premises have been unoccupied for about five years, although situated in one of the best business parts of Toronto.

A 25c. PACKAGE COFFEE.

JAMES TURNER & Co., are experiencing a demand for a first-class coffee for the money in pound packages, to retail at 25c. With their present facilities they are undoubtedly well able to meet this trade, and have now ready for shipment their new 25c. pound package of coffee. At the present time of 25c. goods, the coffee market appears to be flooded with inferior articles and James Turner & Co. are doing the right thing in putting this coffee up, guaranteed pure and of full net weight, over their signature.

The package is of unique design and admirably suited for window, shelf, or counter decoration. Having been materially assisted in introducing their other high-grade coffees by liberal use of the advertising columns of THE CANADIAN GROCER, they are starting out in this manner to introduce "Our Own" brand.

DISHONEST APPLE PACKERS.

Mr. J. Macphie has been drawing attention in Scotland to a matter to which importers of Canadian fruit will do well to pay heed. It is the imposition practised in "topping" apple barrels with good fruit whilst the layers below are of much inferior quality. Immense quantities of American apples are sold by grocers in that country, and a large proportion of these are now from Canada instead of from the United States; but it does not appear that the difference between Canadian and States produce is so much in favor of the Canadian as believers in Canada would like to see. A newspaper reporter who called on a leading Glasgow retailer, found him almost indignant on the subject. "Why," said he, "the thing is getting scandalous. If I go to the Bazaar and buy at one of the auctions there, say 20 barrels of Canadians at 25s. per barrel, the chances are ten to one that on each of these I lose 8s." That, as the trader rightly remarked, is a serious matter for the retailer, whether his dealings be small or large. But there seems to be no redress. The auctioneer believes that the fruit is properly sampled by what are found on the top when the barrel is opened, and he effects the sale in a bona fide way. "The fact is," pursued the retailer in Glasgow, "the Canadian is getting tainted with the impostures and tricks of the Yankee, and is yearly degenerating in his business dealings." It is a pity that the unscrupulousness here pointed out should earn the Canadian apple a bad name. Exporters in Canada should remember that there are nowadays many competitors on the alert.

MR. TILLSON'S MODEL FARM.

ONE of the institutions in which every citizen of Tilsonburg takes a pardonable pride, and which is a favorite resort for visitors from all parts of the country, is Mr. E. D. Tillson's Annandale model farm. Here one finds every department of farming carried on on the most scientific principles, and soil which is by no means naturally fertile is transformed into a veritable garden. The beautiful residence, the massive barn, the lofty water tower and the new piggery at once attract the eyes, and the well laid out fields and the beautiful avenues of maples are things of beauty and a perpetual joy. Perhaps one of the most interesting features is the dairy, with its splendid herd of well selected cows in a stable which is well fitted up with everything that can conduce to animal comfort. The methods of cooling and bottling the milk, which is sold in the town; the separating of the cream and the conducting of the fresh skim milk to the piggeries and the calf pens; the operations of churning and packing of butter are all worthy of study. The butter has gained a high reputation, and many of the most prominent institutions of the country receive their supply from this dairy. Visitors to the farm unanimously pronounce the herd of 55 sleek and handsome cows as one of the finest in the province. It represents years of careful breeding and selection. A large number of the cows are of the Holstein variety, with a good mixture of Shorthorn blood. Both Mr. Tillson and his manager, Mr. John D. Macleay, believe that every animal should pay its way, and a careful record is kept, with the result that all that do not reach a prescribed standard are ruthlessly weeded out.

The following is a record of the herd of 55 cows for the past season, which should be of interest to dairymen and will furnish a means of comparison between different herds. The average time milked by the herd was 11 months and 22 days. The aggregate weight of milk given by the herd was 563,307 lbs., representing 22,980 lbs. of butter. The best cow has beaten her record of last year, and given in 10 months and 20 days 17,731 lbs. of milk of the standard of 3 7-10 butter fat, making 765 lbs. of butter for the season. Dividing 50 cows into five groups they are classed as follows: Group 1 averaged 13,722 lbs. milk, 3½ fat, making 560 lbs. butter; group 2 averaged 11,887 lbs. milk, making 482 lbs. butter; group 3 averaged 10,809 lbs. milk, making 441 lbs. butter; group 4 averaged 9,453 lbs. milk, making 386 lbs. butter; group 5 averaged 7,587 lbs. milk, making 310 lbs. butter. The 500 cows thus gave 534,580 lbs. of milk, and 21,790 lbs. butter. The average for the 50 was 10,691 lbs. of milk and 436 lbs. of butter each. The 5 poorest cows averaged 5,743 lbs. of milk and 234 lbs. of butter, and the average for the entire herd of 55 was 10,242 lbs. of milk and 418 lbs. of butter. This is a record in which Mr. Tillson takes a just pride, and with all the great milling and other industries that he and his sons are carrying on, he takes a special pride in his farm, and is in his element when superintending its operations.

AMONG TORONTO RETAILERS.

A Unique Device.

Dallimore Bros., Queen street east, have a method of keeping their sugar ready for sale which struck me at once as original and noteworthy. Beneath the counter, a high one, and immediately behind the scales, they have had placed a strong hardwood pole. From this, at about three inches from the floor, runs a horizontal steel rod of such length and strength as to be able to support a full barrel of sugar. Near the top of the pole is a steel clasp, which is made to fit over and into the top of the side of the barrel. Between the steel rod at the bottom and the clasp at the top the barrel is held quite firmly. The pole is built so that it can be turned easily, swinging the barrel under the counter while not in use and out into the aisle while in use. As I watched this simple device in operation I realized how it was that in some stores a salesman can attend to four or five customers while in another he would not have got through with three. Dallimore Bros. have everything arranged so that by but a few steps almost any staple article in the store can be reached, weighed and tied up.

The Butter Scarcity.

Among retailers throughout Toronto for some time there has been a great lack of first-class large roll butter. This want has brought into play the enterprise of some merchants, with the result that they by some means or other have managed to keep more or less supplied with dairy butter of the best quality, while others "waited" for it in vain to come their way. Kelly Bros., Queen street east, for instance, have secured makers who send to them all their product, and as they are now making their shipments, this firm are receiving a steady supply of good butter, while others in the neighborhood are of the opinion that it is extremely difficult to get any.

Recommending Goods.

A merchant needs tact. Of that there can be no question. And one of the ways in which the value of the possession of this characteristic is manifested is in the way a merchant recommends the goods in his store. While sitting in a grocery store in Toronto this week I was struck with the excellent way the merchant had of talking of the articles customers desired information concerning. He was frank in regard to goods he could not recommend, and very guarded in praising articles except those he knew to be really first-class. His honesty was at once apparent, and I feel assured that his customers would not hesitate to buy from him any article he recommended. If there were more of this in the grocery trade throughout Toronto there would be less feverish bargain-hunting. But to be honest, a man must have convictions, and I verily believe there are grocers in Toronto who know so little of their goods that they have no convictions as to their worth.

A GROWING BROOM BUSINESS.

A Canadian industry which has shown gratifying development is the business of the Norwich (Ont.) Broom, Brush and Whisk Factory. The original building occupied by this establishment was a two-storey brick structure 150 x 40 feet. Since there have been added two annexes, one 50 x 50 feet, the other 85 x 40 feet. The latter annex was built last fall. The capacity of the establishment is 200 dozen brooms, 100 dozen whisks and 50 dozen brushes per day. Mr. Thomas, the manager of the company, is a young and enterprising business man, and under his management further development may be looked for.

HOME DYEING.

THE NEW STYLE AND OLD.

THE above singular heading practically tells its own story. No article of popular consumption has been offered in recent years that has met with the extraordinary success of the article mentioned, viz., a soap that washes and dyes. In reality it is the latest scientific discovery in household dyes, and the inventors struck a happy combination when producing this article.

With "Maypole" soap the trouble, mess, and general inconvenience accompanying the use of the powdered dyes are entirely overcome.

The soap is simply dissolved in hot water, the article dipped into the same, and at the one operation the necessary cleansing and dyeing are completed.

Instead of hands rendered unsightly for days, they need not be stained at all if washed promptly with cold water.

The Maypole Company have enlarged their factory four times already, and are now not only selling millions of packages in Great Britain, but are exporting great quantities to the Continent, Australia, the United States, etc.

"Maypole" soap pays a good margin and can be supplied at quite as low a price to consumers as the old style dye powders.

The Canadian managers, A. P. Tippet & Co., Montreal, are fitting up premise to enable them to more rapidly attend to shipping, and they inform us that the demand is growing wonderfully, although they are only just prepared to supply buyers.

The Maypole Company, Limited, are an English concern, whose head office is situated at High Holborn, London.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT DAMAGED.

Advices received from California during the past week indicate a considerable amount of damage done by frosts and snow, in the southern part of the state particularly. So far the damage has been confined chiefly to apricots and almonds, which are in bloom, and therefore particularly susceptible to unfavorable weather. The peach crop of California is also uncertain, as weather conditions to the present time are generally reported unusually detrimental to the interests of growers. It is too early yet for the prune or grape growing interests to be affected by frost, but the continued absence of rains in the producing districts for these fruits is said to make the outlook for a crop very uncertain.

The situation of apricots is said to be particularly strong for the season, that there is a good consuming demand, and that at present stocks are light. Some dealers, who have heretofore been forcing stocks on the market, have withdrawn their offerings of apricots, it is understood, in view of the dubious outlook. Fancy apricots are said to be very scarce, and the ordinary qualities are held firmly up to the quotations. The prune market is somewhat unsettled so far as spot supplies are concerned, owing to competition. The statistical position, however, is said to favor the view of better prices in the near future. The demand at present is light and confined chiefly to the sizes which are in small supply, and which, in consequence, are held firmly. So far the freeze in California does not seem to have affected the market for green fruits, because of the fact that it will be some time yet before shipments of 1898 crop can be made. It is expected, however, that apricots, cherries and peaches will be sent forward in much smaller quantities than usual at the beginning of the season, but as yet there is nothing definite upon which to base such a conclusion outside of the reports of frosts, which many consider biased. "The cry of wolf," said one handler of California fruits, "has been so often raised that no one is disposed to take it in earnest." Another said: "Reports from California of frost damage to crops are becoming as frequent as the advices of a total failure of the Delaware peach output, and we are now inclined to await absolute confirmation of these reports before making contracts."—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

BUTTER FOR JAPAN.

When Mr. Anderson, the Canadian trade commissioner, returned to Canada, he induced the Department of Agriculture to send a consignment of a ton of butter to Japan. Three days after arrival a cable was received to repeat the consignment, and Mr. Anderson is in receipt of the following information from the consignees: "The butter sent arrived in good order, and is certainly the best that ever came into this country. It went like lightning greased. Every day or so a note comes in asking for more. I can safely report to you that the 'Red Deer' brand is an established butter in Kobe."

"Regent goods make cash sales."

STEPPING CAREFULLY

That's the way successful merchants make any progress in business. Every step is carefully considered before it is made.

The Regent plan for increasing business has been used by so many successful merchants that the most conservative need not hesitate to adopt it.

The plan is to give every customer a coupon representing the amount of his purchase, and when a customer has accumulated $25 worth of coupons, the merchant redeems them with a piece of silverware or a clock.

If attractive premiums are offered the plan never fails to bring new customers into the store.

That is one reason why we sell so much silverware for this purpose.

Another reason is the price of the silverware. We will sell you the Challenge Assortment, 24 Pieces of Silverware, for $24.

Every piece is large and attractive—tea sets, butter dishes, cake baskets, cruets, bon bon dishes, etc.—no two pieces alike. It's the most silverware ever offered for so little money. Terms, 2 per cent. cash 10 days, or 30 days net, F. O. B. Toronto.

OF NERVE--

The amount required varies, of course, with the individual temperament, sometimes the amount is very considerable, especially in cases of chronic "Old Fogyism," fostered by an unswerving adherence to the "Ruts" worn by a long train of "Hum-drum" predecessors travelling the same road. To "Tip Toe" up out of these "Ruts" high enough to see what one's competitors are doing, who are not handicapped with the absurd notion that it is not "orthodox" to sell a PACKET TEA simply because their forefathers did did not do so before them, does tax some men's nervous forces—it certainly does—at first.

The world's conditions of trade are changed. New ideas take the place of old. The old pass away and make place for the new. You must move with the times or be left behind.

is the unadulterated product of the finest tea producing soil in the world, the Island of Ceylon.

The QUALITY is incomparable.
The SALE enormous.

Mar. 24, 1898.

This list is corrected every Thursday. The prices are solicited for publication, and are for such qualities and quantities as are usually ordered by retail dealers on the usual terms of credit.

Goods in large lots and for prompt pay are generally obtainable at lower prices.

All quotations for staple products are under the direct control of the Editors, who call daily upon all the leading houses in the principal centres.

Quotations for proprietory articles, brands, etc., are supplied by the manufacturers or agents, who alone are responsible for their accuracy. The editors do not supervise them. If a change is made, either an advance or decline, it is referred to in the market reports as a matter of news, whether manufacturers request it or not.

It Pays to Keep the Best.

We handle COLEMAN'S celebrated brand of Table and Dairy Salt. It is the acknowledged superior in the market to-day. The 5-lb. carton, of which we give an engraving, is printed in three colors, red, black and yellow, with tin cover, and combines an attractiveness for shelf display, together with a useful, durable package, that makes it a ready seller. This form of package is especially adapted for first-class town or city trade. It keeps the salt cleaner and drier than cotton bags possibly can do.

We handle all kinds of Salt. Fine, Coarse or Land Salt in barrels, sacks or bulk. Unequalled shipping facilities. Prompt shipment. It will pay you to correspond with us.

THE CANADIAN GROCER

Vol. XII (Published Weekly) TORONTO AND MONTREAL, APRIL 1, 1898. ($2.00 per Year) No. 13

THE NOVA SCOTIA INSOLVENCY BILL.

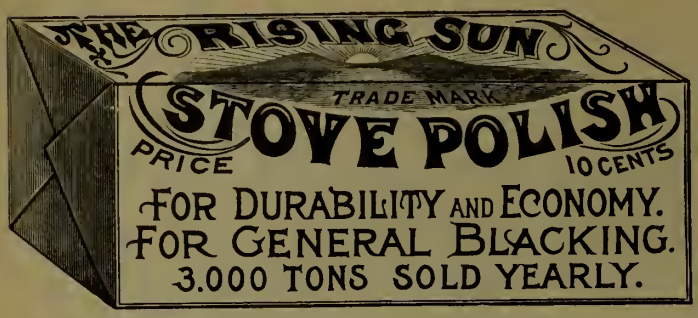
THE following is a complete copy of the Insolvency Act passed at the last session of the Legislature of Nova Scotia. THE CANADIAN GROCER is indebted to the Attorney-General, Hon. J. W. Longley, for a copy of the Act, which, according to a foot note made by that gentleman, goes into force July 1, next. The Act is styled "An Act respecting Assignments for the benefit of Creditors":

1. In case any person, being at the time in insolvent circumstances, or unable to pay his debts in full, or knowing himself to be on the eve of insolvency, voluntarily or by collusion with a creditor or creditors, gives a confession of judgment, cognovit actionem, or warant of attorney to confess judgment to defeat or delay his creditors wholly or in part, or with intent thereby to give one or more of the creditors of such person a preference over his other creditors, or over any one or more of such creditors, every such confession, cognovit actionem or warrant of attorney to confess judgment, shall be deemed and taken to be null and void as against the creditors of the party giving the same, and shall be invalid and ineffectual to support any judgment or writ of execution.

2. (1) Subject to the provisions of the third section of this Act, every gift, conveyance, assignment or transfer, delivery over or payment of goods, chattels or effects, or of bills, bonds, notes or securities, or of shares, dividends, premiums, or bonus in any bank, company or corporation, or of any other property, real or personal, made by a person at a time when he is in insolvent circumstances, or unable to pay his debts in full, or knows that he is on the eve of insolvency, with intent to defeat, hinder, delay or prejudice his creditors, or any one or more of them, shall, as against the creditor or creditors injured, delayed or prejudiced, be utterly void.

(2) Subject also to the said provisions of the third section of this Act, every gift, conveyance, assignment or transfer, delivery over or payment of goods, chattels or effects, or of bills, bonds, notes or securities, or of shares, dividends, premiums, or bonus in any bank, company or corporation, or of any other property, real or personal, made by a person at a time when he is in insolvent circumstances, or is unable to pay his debts in full, or knows that he is on the eve of insolvency, to or for a creditor with intent to give such creditor an unjust preference over his other creditors, or over any one or more of them, shall, as against the creditor or creditors injured, delayed, prejudiced or postponed, be utterly void.

(a) Subject to the provisions of Section 3, aforesaid, if such transaction with or for a creditor has the effect of giving that creditor a preference over the other creditors of the debtor, or over any one or more of them, it shall in and with respect to any action or proceeding which, within sixty days thereafter, is brought, had or taken to impeach or set aside such transaction, be presumed to have been made with the intent aforesaid, and to be an unjust preference within the meaning hereof, whether the same be made voluntarily or under pressure.



(b) Subject to the provisions of Section 3, aforesaid, if such transaction with or for a creditor has the effect of giving that creditor a preference over the other creditors of a debtor, or over any one or more of them, it shall, if the debtor within sixty days after the transaction makes an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, be presumed to have been made with the intent aforesaid, and to be an unjust preference within the meaning hereof, whether the same be made voluntarily or under pressure.

(3) Where the word "creditor" in this section indicates the creditor to whom a preference is given over the other creditors of the debtor, the same shall be deemed to include any surety, and the indorser of any promissory note or bill of exchange, who would upon payment by him of the debt, promissory note or bill of exchange, in respect of which such suretyship was entered into or such indorsement given, become a creditor of the person giving the preference within the meaning of subsection (2) of this section.

3. Nothing in the preceding section shall apply to any assignment made to an official assignee appointed by the Governor-in-Council for the county in which the debtor resides or carries on business, within the Province of Nova Scotia (with the consent of the creditors as hereinafter provided) for the purpose of paying rateably and proportionately, and without preference or priority all the creditors of the debtor their just debts; nor to any bona fide sale or payment made in the ordinary course of trade or calling to innocent purchasers or parties; nor to any payment of money to a creditor, nor to any bona fide gift, conveyance, assignment, transfer or delivery over of any goods, securities or property of any kind, as above mentioned, which is made in consideration of any present actual bona fide payment in money, or by way of security for any present actual bona fide advance of money, or which is made in consideration of any present actual bona fide sale or delivery of goods or other property; provided that the money paid, or the goods or other property sold or delivered, bear a fair and reasonable relative value to the consideration therefor.

(a) In case of a valid sale of goods, securities or property, and payment or transfer of the consideration or part thereof by the purchaser to a creditor of the vendor under circumstances which would render void such a payment or transfer by the debtor personally and directly, the payment or transfer, even though valid as respects the purchaser, shall be void as respects the creditor to whom the same is made.

(2) Every assignment for the general benefit of creditors, which is not void under Section 2 of this Act, but is not made to the official assignee (nor to any other person with the prescribed consent of creditors) shall be void as against a subsequent assignment which is in conformity with this Act, and shall be subject in other respects to the provisions of this Act until and unless a subsequent assignment is executed in accordance with this Act.

(3) In case a payment has been made which is void under this Act, and any valuable security was given up in consideration of the payment, the creditor shall be entitled to have the security restored or its value made good to him before, or as a condition of, the return of the payment.

(4) Nothing herein contained shall affect any payment of money to a creditor, where said creditor by reason or on account of such payment, has lost or been deprived of, or has in good faith given up, any valid security which he held for the payment of the debt so paid, unless the value of the security is restored to the creditor, or any substitution in good faith of one security for another security for the same debt as far as the debtor's estate is not thereby lessened in value to the other creditors.

(5) The debtor may, in the first place, with the consent of a majority of his creditors having claims of $100 and upwards, computed according to the provisions of Section 20, make a general assignment for the benefit of his creditors, to some person other than the official assignee, and residing in this province.

(6) No person other than a permanent and bona fide resident of this province shall have power to act as assignee under an assignment within the provisions of this Act, nor shall any such assignee have power to appoint a deputy or to delegate his duties as assignee to any person who is not a permanent and bona fide resident of this province, and no charge shall be made or recoverable against the assignor or his estate for any service or other expenses of any such assignee, deputy or delegate of any assignee who is not a permanent and bona fide resident of this province.

4. Every assignment made under this Act for the general benefit of creditors shall be valid and sufficient if it is in the words following, that is to say: "All my personal property which may be seized and sold under execution, and all my real estate, credits and effects," or if it is in words to the like effect; and an assignment so expressed shall vest in the assignee all the real and personal estate, rights, property, credits and effects, whether vested or contingent, belonging at the time of the assignment to the assignor, except such as are by law exempt from seizure or sale under execution; subject, however, as regards land to the provisions of Chapter 84, Revised Statutes, Fifth Series, "Of the Registry of Deeds and Encumbrances affecting Lands."

5. The property and assets of any estate of which an assignment is made under the provisions of this Act, shall not be removed out of the province without the order of the county court judge of the county in which the assignment is registered, and the proceeds of the sale of and all moneys received on account of the estate shall be deposited by the assignee in one of the incorporated banks within the province, and shall not be withdrawn or removed without the order of the judge of the county court aforesaid, except in payment of dividends and charges incidental to the winding up of the estate, and any assignee or other person acting in his stead, or on his behalf, violating the provisions of this section, shall be liable to a penalty of $400, which may be recovered summarily before a judge of the Supreme Court or of the county court for the county in which the assignment is by sub-section (2) of Section 13 of this Act, required to be registered: and one-half of the said penalty shall go to the person suing therefor, and the other half shall belong to the estate of the assignor; but in default of payment of the said penalty and all costs which may be incurred in any action or proceeding for the recovery thereof, such assignee or other person may be imprisoned for any period not exceeding thirty days, and shall be disqualified from acting as assignee of any estate while such default continues.

6. If any assignor (or assignors) executing an assignment under this Act for the general benefit of his (or their) creditors owes (or owe) debts both individually and as a member of a co-partnership, or as a member of two different co-partnerships, the claims shall rank first upon the estate by which the debts they represent were contracted, and shall only rank upon the other after all the creditors of that other have been paid in full.

7. Whenever an assignment is made of any real or personal property for the general benefit of creditors, under the provisions of this Act, the assignee shall pay in priority to the claims of the ordinary or general creditors of the persons making the same, the wages or salaries of all persons in the employment of such person at the time of making such assignment or within one month before the making thereof, not exceeding three months' wages or salary; and such persons shall be entitled to rank as ordinary or general creditors for the residue, if any, of their claim.

8. A majority in number and value of the creditors who have proved claims to the amount of $100 or upwards, may, at their discretion, substitute for the official assignee or for an assignee under an assignment to which sub-section (2) of Section 3 of this Act applies, a person residing in the county in which the debtor resided or carried on business at the time of the assignment. An assignee may also be removed and another assignee may be substituted or an additional assignee may be appointed by a judge of the Supreme Court, or of the County Court of the county where the assignment is registered.

(2) Where a new assignee is appointed the estate shall forthwith vest in him without a conveyance or transfer. The new assignee may register an affidavit of his appointment in the office of the clerk of the County Court in which the original assignment was filed. Such affidavit may also be registered in the office of the Registrar of Deeds for the county in which the assignment is made. The registration of such affidavit in the office of the Registrar of Deeds shall have the same effect as the execution and registration of a conveyance.

9. Save as provided in the next succeeding sub-section the assignee shall have an exclusive right of suing for the rescission of agreements, deeds and instruments or other transactions made or entered into in fraud of creditors or made and entered into in violation of this Act.

(2) If at any time any creditor desires to cause any proceeding to be taken which, in his opinion, would be for the benefit of the estate; and the assignee under the authority of the creditors refuses or neglects to take such proceeding, after being duly required so to do, the creditor shall have the right to obtain an order of any judge of the Supreme Court or of the County Court aforesaid, authorizing him to take the proceeding in the name of the assignee, but at his own expense and risk, upon such terms and conditions as to indemnify to the assignee, as the judge may prescribe, and thereupon any benefit derived from the proceedings shall belong exclusively to the creditor instituting the same for his benefit; but if, before such order is granted, the assignee shall signify to the judge his readiness to institute the proceeding for the benefit of the creditors, the order shall prescribe the time within which he shall do so, and in that case the advantage derived from the proceeding, if instituted within such time, shall appertain to the estate.

10. If the person to whom any gift, conveyance, assignment, transfer, delivery or payment, as in Section 2 of this Act is mentioned, has been made, shall have sold or disposed of the property which was the subject of such gift, conveyance, assignment, transfer, delivery or payment, or any part thereof, the moneys or other proceeds realized therefor, may be seized or recovered in any action under the last preceding section as fully and effectually as the property, if still remaining in the possession or control of such person, could have been seized or recovered.

11. No advantage shall be taken or gained by any creditor of any mistake, defect or imperfection in any assignment under this Act for the general benefit of creditors, if the same can be amended or corrected, and if there be any mistake, defect or imperfection therein, the same shall be amended by any judge of the Supreme Court or the County Court aforesaid, on an application of any creditor of the assignor, or of any assignee, on such notice being given to other parties being concerned as the judge shall think reasonable, and the amendment, when made, shall have relation back to the date of said assignment.

12. The assignee shall receive such remuneration as shall be voted to him by the creditors at any meeting called for the purpose, after the first dividend sheet has been prepared, subject to the review of the judge of the County Court for the county in which the assignment is registered, if complained of by the assignee or any of the creditors.

(2) In case no remuneration is voted to the assignee by the creditors, the amount shall be fixed by the judge of the County Court aforesaid.

13. A notice of assignment made for the general benefit of creditors under this Act shall, as soon as conveniently may be, be published at least twice, in The Royal Gazette and one newspaper at least, having a general circulation in the county, in which the property assigned is situate.

(2) A counterpart or copy of every such assignment shall, also, within five days from the execution thereof, be registered (together with an affidavit of a witness thereto of the due execution of the assignment, of which the copy filed purports to be a copy), in the office of the clerk of the County Court of the county, where the assignor, if a resident in Nova Scotia, resides at the time of the execution thereof, or, if he is not a resident, then in the office of the clerk of the County Court of the county where the personal property so assigned is, or where the principal part thereof (in case the same includes property in more counties than one), is at the time of the execution of the assignment; and such clerk shall file all such instruments presented to him for that purpose, and shall endorse thereon the time of receiving the same in his office, and the same shall be kept there for the inspection of all persons interested therein. The said clerk shall number and enter such assignment, and shall be entitled to receive a fee of fifty cents for filing such instrument and affidavit, and for making all proper endorsements in connection therewith.

14. If the said notice is not published in the regular number of The Royal Gazette, and of such newspaper as aforesaid, which shall respectively be issued first after five days from the execution of the assignment by the assignor, or if the assignment is not registered as aforesaid within five days from the execution thereof, the assignor shall be liable to a penalty of $25 for each and every day which shall pass after the issue of the number of the newspaper in which the notice should have appeared until the same shall have been published; and a like penalty for each and every day which shall pass after the expiration of five days from the execution of the assignment by the assignor, until the same shall have been registered.

the delivery of the assignment to him, or of five days after his assent thereto, the burden of proving the time of such delivery or assent being upon the assignee.

(3) Such penalties may be recovered summarily before a judge of the Supreme Court or of the County Court of the county in which the assignment ought to be published or registered ; one-half of the penalty shall go to the party suing, and the other half for the benefit of the estate of the assignor.

(4) In case of an assignment to the official assignee, he shall not be liable for any of the penalties imposed in this section, unless he has been paid or tendered the cost of advertising and registering the assignment, nor shall he be compelled to act under the assignment until his costs in that behalf are paid or tendered to him.

15. In case the assignment be not registered, and notice thereof published, an application may be made by any one interested in the assignment to a judge of the Supreme Court or of the County Court aforesaid, to compel the publication and registration thereof, and the judge shall make his order in that behalf, with or without costs, or upon payment of costs by such person as he may in his discretion direct to pay the same.

16. The omission to publish or register as aforesaid, or any irregularity in the publication or registration, shall not invalidate the assignment.

17. It shall be the duty of the assignee immediately to inform himself, by reference to the debtor and his records of account, of the names and residences of the debtor's creditors, and within five days from the date of assignment to convene a meeting of the creditors for the giving of directions with reference to the disposal of the estate, by mailing, prepaid and registered, to every creditor known to him a circular calling a meeting of creditors to be held at a convenient place to be named in the notice, not more than twelve days after the mailing of such notice, and by advertisement in The Royal Gazette ; and all other meetings to be held shall be called in like manner.

18. (1) In case of a request in writing, signed by a majority of the creditors having claims duly proved of $100 and upwards, computed according to the provisions of Section 20 of this Act, it shall be the duty of the assignee, within two days after receiving such request, to call a meeting of the creditors at a time not later than twelve days after the assignee receives the request. In case of default the assignee shall be liable to a penalty of $25 for every day after the expiration of the time limited for the calling of the meeting until the meeting is called, such penalty to be recovered summarily as prescribed in sub-section 3 of Section 14 of this Act.

(2) In case a sufficient number of creditors do not attend the meeting mentioned in Section 17 of this Act, or fail to give directions with reference to the disposal of the estate, the judge of the County Court aforesaid may give all necessary directions in that behalf.

19. At any meeting of creditors any creditor may vote in person, or by proxy authorized in writing, but no creditor whose vote is disputed shall be entitled to vote until he has filed with the asignee an affidavit in proof of his claim, stating the nature and amount thereof.

20. (1) Subject to the provisions of Section 8 of this Act, all questions discussed at meetings of creditors shall be decided by the majority of votes, and for such purpose the votes of creditors shall be calculated as follows :

For every claim of or over $100, and not exceeding $200—1 vote.
" " 200, " " 500—2 votes.
" " 500, " " 1,000—3 votes.
" additional 1,000, or fraction thereof—1 vote.

(2) No person shall be entitled to vote on a claim acquired after the assignment unless the entire claim is acquired, but this shall not apply to persons acquiring notes, bills or other securities upon which they are liable.

(3) In case of a tie, the assignee, or, if there are two assignees, then the assignee appointed by the creditors, or by the judge, if none has been appointed by the creditors, shall have a casting vote.

(4) Every creditor, in his proof of claim, shall state whether he holds any security for his claim or any part thereof ; and if such security is on the estate of the debtor, or on the estate of a third party for whom such a debtor is only secondarily liable, he shall put a specified value thereon. and the assignee under the authority of the creditors may either consent to the right of the creditor to rank for the claim after deducting such valuation, or he may require from the creditor an assignment of the security at an advance of ten per cent. upon the specified value to be paid out of the estate as soon as the assignee has realized such security ; and in such case the difference between the value at which the security is retained and the amount of the gross claim of the creditor shall be the amount for which he shall rank and vote in respect of the estate.

(5) If any creditor holds a claim based upon negotiable instruments upon which the debtor is only indirectly or secondarily liable, and which is not mature or exigible, such creditor shall be considered to hold security within the meaning of this section, and shall put a value on the liability of the party primarily liable thereon, as being his security for the payment thereof ; but after the maturity of such liability and its non-payment, he shall be entitled to amend and re-value his claim.

21. (1) Every person claiming to be entitled to rank on the estate assigned shall furnish to the assignee particulars of his claim proved by affidavit, and such vouchers as the nature of the case admits of.

(2) In case a person claiming to be entitled to rank on the estate assigned does not, within a reasonable time after receiving notice of the assignment and of the name and address of the assignee, furnish to the assignee satisfactory proofs of his claim as provided by this and the preceding sections of this Act, the judge of the County Court of the county wherein the debtor at the time of making the assignment resided or carried on business, may, upon a summary application by the assignee or by any other person interested in the debtor's estate (of which application at least three days' notice shall be given to the person alleged to have made default in proving a claim as aforesaid), order than unless the claim be proved to the satisfaction of the judge within a time to be limited by the order, the person so making default shall no longer be deemed a creditor of the estate assigned, but shall be wholly debarred of any right to share in the proceeds thereof ; and if the claim is not so proved within the time so limited, or within such further time as the judge may by subsequent order allow, the same shall be wholly barred, and the assignee shall be at liberty to distribute the proceeds of the estate as if no such claim existed, but without prejudice to the liability of the debtor.

(3) A person whose claim has not accrued due shall nevertheless be entitled to prove under the assignment and vote at meetings of creditors, but in ascertaining the amount of such claim a deduction for interest shall be made for the time, which has to run until the claim becomes due.

(4) At any time after the assignee receives from any person claiming to be entitled to rank on the estate proof of his claim, notice of contestation of the claim, may, at the request of any creditor, be served by the assignee upon the claimant. Within thirty days after the receipt of the notice, or such further time as a judge of the County Court of the county in which the assignment is registered may on application allow, an action shall be brought by the claimant against the assignee to establish the claim, and a copy of the writ in the action served on the assignee; and in default of such action being brought and writ served within the time aforesaid, the claim to rank on the estate shall be forever barred.

(a) The notice by the assignee shall contain the name and place of business of one of the solicitors of the Supreme Court, upon whom service of the writ may be made, and service upon such solicitor shall be deemed sufficient service of the writ.

22. Upon the expiration of one month from the first meeting of creditors, or as soon as may be after the expiration of such period, and afterwards from time to time at intervals of not more than three months, the assignee shall prepare and keep constantly accessible to the creditors, accounts and statements of his doings as such assignee, and of the position of the estate, and he shall declare dividends of the estate whenever the amount of money in his hands will justify the division thereof, and also whenever he is required by a majority vote of the creditors to do so.

23. So soon as a dividend sheet is prepared, notice thereof shall be given by letter, posted to each creditor, enclosing an abstract of receipts and disbursements, showing what interest has been received by him for moneys in his hands, together with a copy of the dividend sheet, noting thereon the claims objected to, and stating whether any reservation has, or has not, been made therefor; and after the expiry of eight days from the date of mailing such notice, abstract and dividend sheet as aforesaid, dividends on all claims not objected to within that period shall be paid.

24. The law of set-off shall apply to all claims made against the estate, and also to all actions instituted by the assignee for the recovery of debts due to the assignor, in the same manner and to the same extent as if the assignor were plaintiff or defendant, as the case may be, except in so far as any claim shall be effected by the provisions of this or any other act respecting frauds or unjust preferences.

25. An affidavit authorized, or required under this Act, may be sworn before any person authorized to administer oaths or affidavits in the Supreme Court or before a justice of the peace.

26. The provisions of this Act shall not be held to apply to assignments made under the provisions of any Act of the Parliament of Canada relating to or respecting bankruptcy or insolvency.

27. The Governor-in-Council is authorized to appoint, in pursuance of this Act, one or more persons in each county who shall be designated official assignees, who shall perform the duties and exercise the powers imposed upon such official assignees by this Act.

A FEW INTERESTING FACTS.

The daily sales of chocolat Menier attain the stupefying quantity of 50,000 kilos (110,000 lbs., or 50 tons), value, 200,000 francs. The duties Mr. Menier pays to the French State amount to 13,000,000 francs, or £520,000 a year. Over 3,000 men are employed in the works. The yellow-wrapped packages of chocolat Menier amount to 250,000 a day; thus, in a year of 300 working days, the production amounts to the trifling total of 75,000,000 tablets. The tablets in one day, being arranged in a pile, would attain a height seventeen times greater than the Eiffel tower.

The patrons of the Yorkton creamery are somewhat discouraged by the returns for last season's operations. The average price realized for the butter was 16.74c., and the net value, after deducting cost of making, hauling, etc., was only 9.9c. — Regina Leader.

ILLEGALLY LABELLED SALMON.

THE canned salmon industry has become a most important one, the pack in British Columbia last year aggregating over one million cases. And yet there are men who would jeopardize this industry by employing methods which tend to injure it.

There is at the moment canned salmon on the Canadian market, upon the labels of which are the names of factories which have no existence. At least, no one has yet been able to discover that there are such. Well-known packers on the Coast declare they have no knowledge of them.

This is a direct contravention of the Canned Goods Act. Section 2 of this Act reads:

Every package of canned goods sold or offered for sale in Canada, for consumption, therein, shall have attached thereto or imprinted thereon, a label or stamp, setting forth in legible characters the name and address of the person, firm or company by whom the same was packed, or of the dealer who sells the same or offers it for sale.

The law here is clear: Every can of salmon put up for home consumption must have, on the label, the name of the packer or of the person who sells or offers to sell it. Now, a fictitious name is no name in the eyes of the law. And the person who is responsible for the fictitious label is evidently not over confident as to the quality of the can, or why should he place thereon a name which has no existence?

The penalty for contravention of the law, in this particular, is a severe one. We quote the penalty clause:

Every person who sells, or offers for sale any such goods in violation of any provision of this section, shall, on summary conviction before a justice of the peace, for a first offence, incur a penalty of two dollars for each such package, and for a subsequent offence a penalty not exceeding twenty dollars, and not less than four dollars for each such package, in respect of which any such provision has been violated.

Here appears to be something which demands investigation by the Inland Revenue Department.

MUCH BUSINESS BUT NO PROFIT.

The folly of selling goods too cheap in order to gain a great bulk of business is illustrated by the business embarrassment of Faber Bros., the sub-contractors, who have supplied the Halifax garrison with meat. The contract for the supply of meat is let to an Antigonish firm at $7.35 per hundred lbs., this firm sub-letting it to Faber Bros. at $6.75 per hundred lbs.

Though the contract is a large one, 1,700 lbs. of meat being used daily in the garrison, the contract price has been such that Faber Bros. have become embarrassed, and are unable to continue supplying the garrison. It is stated that in 40 years only three firms who have received the army meat contract in Halifax have been able to make money out of it.

The spring winds may clean city streets and country roads of refuse, but it requires broom, brush and water to put the store and business premises in ship shape.

TAKING GOODS OUT OF BOND.

It having been reported that, in the case of goods held in bond in London, Ont., the owner thereof could not withdraw part of a shipment at a time, but that the entire shipment must be taken out at once, enquiry was instituted by THE CANADIAN GROCER, with the result that it was ascertained from an indisputable authority that part of a shipment could be taken out of bond, but that the part taken out must be complete in itself, i.e., if there are four packages in bond, the importer can take them out one at a time, but that packages cannot be broken and less than a complete package taken.

BRITAIN'S TRADE WITH RUSSIA AND FRANCE.

THE possibility of war between Great Britain and Russia and France is being actively discussed by the daily press. Such a war, aside from the sacrifice of life which it would entail, would in a commercial sense be a calamity.

Great Britain, in 1896, bought $22,677,443 worth of goods from Russia, and sold to it $11,403,810 worth; from France and the French possessions Great Britain bought merchandise to the value of $50,860,929 and sold to them $21,593,091 worth,

Here is an aggregate trade of $106,544,273, which, in case of war with those countries, would cease for the time being.

As a customer of Great Britain's Russia stands sixth among the foreign nations, with a proportion of 5.3 per cent. of the whole.

France ranks number three as a customer, with a proportion of 10.2 per cent. to the whole of Great Britain's export trade to foreign countries.

Great Britain's largest customer, according to the returns of 1896, is Germany, which, with her possessions, took $34,077,582 worth, while her next best is the United States with $32,035,784 worth.

Great Britain, to say nothing of her various possessions, is France's best customer, the latter's exports to the former country in 1896 being valued at 1,296,100,000 francs, or 1,364,300,000 francs including the exports to British possessions. In other words, nearly 30 per cent. of the total goods exported from France go to the British Empire.

Great Britain is also Russia's chief customer. The latest returns we have access to are for 1894, and they show that in that year Russia exported 175,303,000 roubles worth of goods to Great Britain, against a total exportation of 668,753,000 roubles worth. The equivalent of the rouble in Canadian currency is 77.2c.

Canada's trade with Russia is insignificant. Her imports from that country last year were only $15,984, while the exports from Canada to Russia were, in value, but $4,508. With France, however, the Dominion does a much larger business, the exports to that country in 1897 being $690,696, and the imports from $2,601,351.

As far as France is concerned, there are two important factors which tend to militate against war. The one is that two years hence a world's exposition is to be opened in Paris, and the other is the aversion at the present time of the peasantry of France to war. At the same time, the fact cannot be overlooked that the influence of the army is paramount in France at the moment.

Commercial interests are becoming more and more influential as factors in preventing hostilities between civilized nations, and it is to be hoped their influence will be strong enough in the present instance.

THE FRUIT STEAMERS.

THE first intelligence regarding the direct fruit steamers from the Mediterranean was received in Montreal this week, and, judging from it, the spring importations direct this year will not be as great as they were last spring.

The first steamer to arrive will be the Mathews, which has already left Messina with 28,000 boxes of lemons and oranges, and as she will stop at another Spansh port it is expected she will land about 32,000 boxes of oranges and lemons about the middle of April.

The second vessel, the Fremona, left Messina on Tuesday with 35,000 boxes of oranges and lemons, and she is expected to pick up 15,000 more at other ports.

This makes, in rough figures, about 80,000 boxes of fruit for both boats. Last spring the first steamer, the Fremona, landed, alone, 70,000 boxes of fruit, and altogether there were about 130,000 boxes received by the four direct boats. This spring there are also four vessels, but it is not expected they will land anything like the same quantity.

PRICE OF MOLASSES FIXED.

The jobbers are determined to keep out competition in molasses in Montreal and have fixed the price for immediate delivery at 24c. in car lots, and 25c. in small lots. New crop Barbadoes molasses, to arrive, is quoted at 23c. in car lots, and 25c. in smaller quantities.

It appears that the jobbers, in Montreal, feared that holders in the maritime provinces might steal a march on them and get some orders in their territory, so they are taking time by the forelock and fixing the price ahead.

THE DEFEATED YUKON BILL.

IT is to be regretted that the Senate has seen fit to reject the Yukon railway bill.

What THE CANADIAN GROCER said when the conditions of the contract were made known it repeats: Certain of the terms appertaining to the contract were open to criticism, and notably the land grant of 3,750,000 acres. For the building of a railway 150 miles in length it does seem excessive.

But, while acknowledging this, it must not be forgotten that the value of these lands is an undetermined quantity: They may be worth much and they may be worth little.

In fact, the whole thing is, to a certain extent, a speculation.

The Yukon district is undoubtedly enormously rich in gold; but every acre of land in that district is not rich in gold. More blanks than prizes will undoubtedly be drawn by those who go into that part of the country in search of the precious metal and wealth. And, although in the 3,750,000 acres Mackenzie, Mann & Co. would, in all probability, have drawn some prizes, yet that company would, to a certain extent, have had to have taken their chances with other prospectors.

Then, as to the railway itself. Its future as a paying investment was speculative. Placer mining, as a rule, in a few years runs its course. And when placer mining in the Yukon has run its course so would also the railway, for of farming lands there are practically none in that part of the country.

While believing the land grant to be excessive, we are also ready to give the Government credit for making what it conceived to be the best bargain, just as every business man tries to make a good bargain in every transaction, although that he does not always succeed is known to all men.

But, granted that the land bonus is, beyond all doubt, excessive, we still maintain that the Senate, in rejecting the bill, has done a most unbusinesslike thing.

The rejection of this bill means that no railway will be built this year, at any rate. And the absence of the railway will mean the loss to Canadian manufacturers, merchants, transportation companies, etc., of enormous sums of money, while the manufacturers, merchants and transportation companies of the United States will be corresponding gainers thereby.

We do not question the loyalty of the Senate in the action it has taken, but we do question its wisdom. And while we do not believe it is reflecting public opinion—at any rate, mercantile opinion—we quite believe it is reflecting public opinion in the United States, for press and people over there have time and again acknowledged that the proposed railway would divert the Yukon trade from United States to Canadian channels.

MOLASSES FOR SUGAR REFINING.

THE situation of Barbadoes molasses, both at points of distribution here, in Canada, and at primary markets, grows decidedly more interesting as time progresses.

The market at the Islands, as previously noted in these columns, took a strong turn about a fortnight ago, as a result of large purchases by Canadian sugar refiners. Since that time the strength has been maintained, and cables this week state that the market is in a strong position, as the weather has not been favorable for reaping the cane, and the supply is hardly equal to the demand, while vessels of all sizes are scarce.

The demand from sugar refiners, not only in Canada, but elsewhere, is the strongest bull factor of the situation, however, for besides the purchases by our own Canadian refiners, the sugar men of Greenock, Scotland, are sending orders direct to Barbadoes for round lots for prompt shipment. These refiners had sample lots shipped to them last season, on trial, and it is alleged that they turned out so favorably for refining purposes that the above is the result. They are, it is understood, still in the market for more, and the same is the case with Canadian refiners.

Dealers at the islands, however, appear to have all the orders in hand they care to attend to at present, and are refusing to make further offers until disposed of.

Another noticeable feature is the demand from the United States. Buyers in that country, during the past few years, have purchased little or no Barbadoes molasses. This spring, however, they have been an important factor in the market; have taken three large cargoes on Baltimore account, which, it is believed, is also for sugar refining purposes. Newfoundland also has been a large buyer from the opening, and is still on the market for further supplies.

THE PROPOSED BUTTER BONUS.

DR. REID'S notice of motion, proposing that the Government should give a bonus on butter to be exported to Great Britain, which was recently discussed before the Dominion Parliament, has caused considerable interest among farmers, creamerymen and exporters, and while the resolution was defeated and the question dropped for the time being, the principle of bonusing our produce is one worthy of serious thought. Dr. Reid's notice of motion concluded as follows :

That our Government should take immediate steps to do something more to assist in the development of our butter trade, and this House is of the opinion that the Government should place in the estimates, for the present session, an amount to he paid to the farmers direct hy way of a honus, of 1c. per pound on a specified quantity of our finest fresh creamery hutter to be exported to Great Britain while fresh and in condition to secure a reputation for itself and establishing a lasting demand, and that this bonus he continued for three consecutive years. This bonus to he increased, at the discretion of the Government, on hutter made duiing the winter months. All such hutter to he subject to a rigid Government inspection.

That this bonus he paid to only those farmers who will furnish for export regular supplies.

The proposal was the cause of a long and interesting discussion, the various speakers giving expression to their own views, and to the views of their constituents on the matter.

The Hon. the Minister of Agriculture was opposed to such an artificial stimulus as was proposed; he said that our cheese trade had been established without, and to-day it led the world, our grain and cattle trade had grown and become firmly established, and so, too, would our butter trade. It would be better for it to rest upon a sound basis than to depend upon Government assistance. He referred to the results of such bonusing by the Provincial Government of Quebec, and said that they were not such as to encourage its adaption by the Federal Government.

The bonusing of butter for export by the Quebec Government was started early in 1895, and the opinion of the exporters, at least, as to its success can best be obtained by quoting a resolution adopted by the Montreal Butter and Cheese Association on Jan. 11, 1897 :

Resolved : That the Butter and Cheese Association of Montreal having had experience in the working of the honus granted the past two years to those creameries which exported a portion of their product in conformity with the regulations set forth hy the Provincial Department of Agriculture, have arrived at the conclusion that inasmcuh as the bonus has heen of no advantage generally to the creameries of the province, we suggest that the halance of the sum now devoted hy the Department of Agricultnre to that object will be productive of greater benefit, not only to the producers themselves, hut also to the export trade in general. were it devoted to greater facilities heing afforded in the transportation of butter in cold storage conveyances from the factories to the point of shipment and thence across the ocean to Great Britain.

The same association, in 1895, after having considered the proposition of the Dominion Government to guarantee farmers 20c. per pound for winter butter for export, addressed the then Minister of Agriculture, disapproving of the proposal, part of their letter reading as follows :

The makers should he clearly and emphatically told that unless they are prepared to compete in the English market with butter-exporting countries, in price as well as In quality, Canadian butter, as an exportable article, must cease to he, no matter what Government efforts are made to help it.

It will thus be seen that the exporting interest is not favorable to the idea of bonusing butter for export, and, we understand, from speeches made before the House, and from outside sources, that the farming interest generally does not desire assistance of that nature. Much has been done to improve the conditions of the produce export trade by the Governments, past and present, by providing means for increased cold storage accommodation on land, and refrigerator apartments on ocean vessels, and the railways and steamship companies have ably seconded these efforts by improving their services. Thus, action on the part of the Government and the transportation companies has been much appreciated by all parties interested, but, in our humble opinion at least, the trouble and expense incurred in connection with these improvements have been largely discounted, owing to the circumstance that even when Canadian butter, or other produce, arrives in Great Britain in the best condition, and of such quality as to demand the highest prices, it almost invariably loses its identity, and frequently is sold as Danish, Australian, American, Irish or otherwise, Canada seldom getting credit for her best goods. In an article in The Montreal Star, of February 12 last, on "Impressions of London," it was stated that : "One sees American and Australian goods everywhere, but the only thing I saw labelled Canadian was a hideous style of hat in a shop on the Strand. Split packages of beautiful butter in the shop windows are labelled in big letters, 'New Zealand,' but one may eat cheese from Canada under English names in every restaurant."

Again, on Feb. 19, the same paper says : "The products of Canadian mines, fields, and factories are not placed properly upon the markets as such, and credit claimed where it is due. The result is that their reputation is not what it should be, and in many cases their merits have simply served to make a reputation for foreign goods, under whose name they have been sold."

The need for some action being taken to ensure to Canada the credit for her products was expressed several times during the recent discussion of this matter before Parliament, and as the Minister of Agriculture, when addressing a meeting of exporters held in Montreal on Aug. 12 last, said that he fully endorsed, from the little practical knowledge that he had of butter making, the statement that in Canada to-day we can produce as fine a quality of butter, as well as the best cheese made in the world, and, further, as there is a large and increasing English demand for our cheese, butter, hams, bacon, eggs, canned meats, evaporated fruits, etc., it is earnestly hoped by all who have the Canadian export trade at heart that the Government will use every effort to see that such goods, when sold on the English or other foreign markets, are, wherever possible, labelled and sold as Canadian produce.

Now that the eyes of the world, and of Great Britain in particular, are turned towards Canada owing to her mineral wealth, and to the possibilities for an extended export trade to this country, our Government and our merchants and exporters should see that no effort is spared to secure to Canada full credit for her breadstuffs and agricultural products.

When a merchant's spirits are low he should force his energies to as high a notch as possible.

BLACK PEPPER DEARER.

During the last few months the pepper market has experienced some sharp advances, but indications are that there will be a further appreciation.

For some time the market has been holding its own, while cables received in Toronto this week urge the trade to buy black pepper now in view of the strong outlook.

For forward shipment from Singapore an advance of ½c. per pound is already being asked.

A LESSON IN ADVERTISING.

A wholesaler had one of the brightest and most impressive lectures on advertising read to him by a country merchant last week that he has ever heard in his life, says an exchange. This merchant is not one of the ordinary merchants. He is a character in his way, a Hibernian, and with his full share of the proverbial wit. This merchant lives in a small city in the state, and buys the better part of his goods in this city. He was in on a buying trip, and passing a wholesale house, he observed paper napkins in the windows. He went in to look at them, for he had sale for such things in his store.

"An' do ye have paper napkins to sell?" he asked of the wholesaler. He did have them, he said. "An' how the divil do I be knowin' that ye have paper napkins to sell, if I don't come down here and happen to see them in the windy? Why don't ye till a man ye have paper napkins? Why don't ye advertise. Thin we'd know what ye had to sell." The wholesaler told him that he did advertise, which was true.

"Ah, yis," said the merchant, "an, how do ye advertise? Ye put a cut of yer buildin' in the paper. Now, what the divil do I be wantin' to see the cut o' yer building for? I don't care for yer old buildin'. It's what's in yer buildin' that interests me. If ye have paper napkins, say ye have paper napkins, and don't be a showin' us a picture of your big sthore. That's the way I'm a goin' to sell these paper napkins I am buyin' of ye. I put an advertisement in me paper at home to till the people of me town thet I have paper napkins to sell and the price they have to pay for thim, and be the powers they come and buy them." This wholesaler told me that he had more good advertising sense rubbed into him in ten minutes by this merchant than he had found in books in the past ten years.

DUTY ON TOURISTS' OUTFITS.

The Customs Department has felt it necessary to make a new ruling regarding the admission of tourists' outfits. The outfits are held to comprise: Guns, fishing rods, canoes, tents, camp equipment, cooking utensils, kodaks, musical instruments, etc. The money deposited by the tourist may be refunded if the articles are exported outwards at the Customs port where reported inwards or at another port within six months from time of entry: Provided the articles are produced and their identity attested to before a Canadian Customs officer at the place of export or before a Customs officer at a place outside of Canada. The tourist is required to furnish the Customs officer at the port of entry with a report or invoice of his outfit, in duplicate, one copy of which is to be returned to the tourist when signed by the Customs officer, with the amount deposited thereon. When a certificate of exportation, to the satisfaction of the Customs officer at the port of entry, is delivered to him personally or by mail the amount deposited may be paid to the party entitled thereto, personally or by mail, or otherwise, as he shall direct. It is suggested that post office orders (at tourist's expense for charges) be used for safety in forwarding remittances on above account through the mails.

HISTORY OF SCALES.

THE use of scales or balances is traceable to the earliest evidences of civilization, says an exchange. On the inner walls of sacred temples of ancient Egypt they are represented as being used for weighing human souls to ascertain where they should be assigned for future existence.

Instead of metal bowls or pans being suspended from the balancing beam, the shells of fish or nuts were used in the beginning, and designated by words similar in meaning to shell or scale. During later periods bowls, carved out of wood, were quite generally used, and may be seen in use to-day in some Oriental countries in weighing grain.

Our word balance comes from the Latin word bilanx, bi, meaning two, and lanx, pan—two pans suspended from a balancing beam. The weights used in balancing were numerous and even ridiculous, but not much more so than many of the absurdities still practised in civilized countries. In soul-weighing the tip of an ostrich plume is represented. In weighing merchandise, weights made of stone and metal in the shape of the heads of cattle, and small hard seeds, coins, etc., were used. Our term scruples means sand; dram, handful; grain, little seed; and pennyweight, old silver penny. The use of such weights on one side of the balance, of course, does not compare favorably with our accurate mechanical appliances. No doubt, though, they were as nearly uniform as is our present system, when considered in an international way. For instance, a hundredweight with us very naturally means 100 lbs., but in weighing rough rice in India it means 112 lbs. A ton scarcely has any meaning whatever unless applied to some particular article in a certain locality.

We need not wonder how our primitive ancestors got along without such appliances as platform, wagon and track scales. Their grain was handled in wooden or earthen vessels or baskets, and was transported in skins of animals on the backs of camels and asses. It was, therefore, always in convenient shape for measuring, or to be weighed in the same kind of a balance as was Belshazzar, the Babylonian king, when he was "weighed (figuratively) in the balance and found wanting."

WEIGHT OF A BAG OF POTATOES.

WHEN the bill to amend the law respecting weights and measures was under discussion before the Dominion Parliament, Mr. Monk, M.P. for Jacques Cartier, called the attention of the House to the fact that farmers sold potatoes on the Montreal markets at so much per bag, the city by-law requiring the bag to weigh ninety pounds. This was considered a hardship by the farmers, who made a practice of using old flour bags, and found it difficult to put the required weight therein. Mr. Monk suggested that this difficulty be solved by making one bushel and one-sixth, viz., 70 pounds, a standard bag of potatoes.

The Minister of Inland Revenue, while expressing his willingness to meet the wishes of the farmers of the district of Montreal, said that it was the hope of the Department to secure uniformity in the matter of weights and measures.

A lengthy discussion having ensued, Mr. Monk, at the suggestion of the Minister, agreed to accept the bill of Mr. Fortin, providing that a bag of potatoes should weigh 80 pounds, as an amendment to the existing law. Meeting with some opposition, the matter was, however, allowed to stand.

Since the discussion of this question before the House, the farmers of the district have presented a petition to the Montreal city council asking that the by-law be so amended as to make the standard weight for a bag of potatoes 80 pounds. The petition was referred to the market committee for consideration and report.

Alderman Laporte, who is the president of the Montreal Wholesale Grocers' Association, has taken an active interest in this question, and it is understood that he intends giving notice of motion to have the city by-laws so amended as to provide for the selling of potatoes and other vegetables by weight, i.e., at a price per pound, claiming that such a law would give protection both to the merchants and to the consumer, and justice be done to all parties. He favors the placing of eggs under the same provisions, thereby assuring to the purchaser, whether he be farmer, merchant or consumer, the receipt of a fair and equitable return for his money. THE CANADIAN GROCER is informed that this idea has the support of several of the aldermen, as well as of a considerable number of the people handling the goods in question, and it is among the possibilities that it will soon be put into operation.

TRADE IN OTHER COUNTRIES THAN OUR OWN.

CANNED SALMON IN LONDON.

A LARGE quantity of the salmon sold forward is now in process of being delivered, and as there is no anxiety to sell what remains on hand, except at full rates, business is necessarily less brisk, and will probably remain so for some weeks, until the demand from the public commences in earnest. In the meantime, judging by the enquiries respecting delivery of forward purchases, stocks in retailers' hands appear to be passing into consumption more rapidly than is usual at this time of year. The most interesting feature of the market is the fact that, in spite of the admittedly large pack both of Fraser and Alaska fish, comparatively few parcels are offering, either on the spot or to arrive.—Produce Markets' Review.

A VIEW OF THE CURRANT SITUATION.

The currant market has been subject to some minor fluctuations, one day appearing to be strong, and the next rather weaker again ; but closes at practically last week's level for the lower kinds, but at slightly easier rates for the medium and better sorts. The demand from the grocers shows some improvement, and it would appear probable that the time has arrived when they will require to buy a little more freely than during the few past weeks, to replenish their stocks; and if this turns out to be the case the market will probably show a firmer tone. On the other hand, it must be admitted that currants at 3d. per lb. look dear to the consumer against the 2d. or 2½d. per lb. in the last two or three years ; and that at 22s. per cwt. they look dear to the grocer against the prices that he had been previously paying. This being the case, he will not, in all probability, be persuaded to buy until he really requires the fruit, and will, perhaps to some extent unconsciously, be reducing his stocks ; causing for the time being a quiet demand, but so reducing the floating stocks throughout the country, as to leave a very considerable "lee way" of business to be made up when values are again more tempting. If these be at all correct conjectures, it would appear probable that the consumption of the next few months will be somewhat smaller than during the period of the last three or four years ; and that the trade will be even smaller than the consumption, the margin of difference being in the reduction of the traders' stock generally. It would further appear probable that the new season (which, it is true, is a long while to look forward to) will be started under most favorable circumstances ; and that if the crop of currants be larger than the one from which we are now working, which is, of course, likely to be the case, and prices are in consequence at a more moderate level, that a very good season is likely to follow. Anyone inclined to be critical may say, and perhaps with justice, that these remarks savor too much of guesswork to be worth the paper upon which they are printed ; but at the same time an attempt now and then to forecast the future of a market may perhaps be forgiven.—Produce Markets' Review.

VALENCIA RAISINS.

The annual statement of Messrs, Wm. Rogers & Co., of Denia, Spain, shows that the destination of the 1897 crop of Valencia raisins was as follows :

Exported to—	Cwts.
London	174,655
Liverpool	75,962
Other prots in Great Britain and Ireland	32,064
United States	20,160
Canada	47,004
Sweden, Denmark and other parts	77,072
Ports on Mediterranean	42,437
Estimated stock in growers' and packers' hands.	6,000
Total	475,294

In 1896 the crop was 452,504 cwts. and in 1895, 457,500 cwts. Market opened at $4, gradually fell to $3.50, and, the demand continuing dull, finally reached $3. Speculators later on succeeded in forcing the market up to $4.50, at which price it remained until the end of October. Later, quotations sank to $3, and a fair demand set in, but the few raisins now remaining (March 8) in first hands cannot be bought under $4.

THE ABUNDANCE OF COFFEE.

The present abundance of coffee is nowise remarkable, for it is the direct consequence of the high prices ruling for so many years previous to 1897. If Brazil should be unable to maintain her present high rate of production, the other countries in South America can probably be depended upon to make up the difference, as new plantations have been opened every season for several years, not only in South America but in the West Indies also.—Merchants' Review.

SELLING SUGAR ON THE "FACTOR" PLAN.

More or less commotion has been caused in grocery, in sugar, and also in Stock Exchange circles, by the allegation current this week that the American Sugar Refining Co. have virtually abandoned the plan pursued for a number of years in regard to their sales of refined sugar through the trade. Known as the "equality" or "factor" plan, the system in question virtually made the wholesale grocery trade the agents of the refiners, and in conjunction with a system of rebates provided for an absolute uniformity and steadiness of refined sugar prices. There is some uncertainty as to whether the abandonment of this method is complete, and a great deal of discussion has naturally been created as to its effects upon the trade. It is contended in some quarters that the matter involves the certainty of a demoralization of prices and renewed cutting on all sides, such as existed some years ago before the so-called sugar trust and the wholesale grocers' organizations joined forces and inaugurated the policy which has been pursued with a considerable degree of success up to the present time. So far as Wall street is concerned, the inference generally drawn is that the abolition of the factor system is the opening gun in a trade war between the American Sugar Refining Co. and the new independent refineries in Brooklyn, which have been constructed by the Messrs. Arbuckle and Doescher, respectively, and which are approaching completion, so that their active competition with the American company is expected to begin before the coming summer is well advanced. The weakness of sugar stock in the market would seem to bear out such conclusions, although it is as yet difficult to ascertain whether the selling which has attended its decline from over 140 to 109½ is due to the operations by stock market bears or to the realization of long holdings by investors or insiders. The position which sugar stock holds as the prominent speculative security invests these matters with an unusual degree of practical interest.—Bradstreets.

THE MACE MARKET.

Wilhelm Schroder, writing from Amsterdam, under date of March 15, in regard to mace, says : "The offerings amounted to 35 tons net, all sorts, in the last sale, against 53, 53, 59 and 70 tons at the same time in the preceding four years. All has been sold at an advance of 10 per cent., and the tendency is yet a very steady one with a good demand at full prices. Arrivals were 67 tons gross in January and February of this year, but at least 30 tons of this quantity came from London, bought on speculation the second hands here. Arrivals in the same period last year were 64 tons (all from the East) and 42 tons in 1896. The deliveries in Holland were 43 tons gross in January and February of this year, against 68 tons in 1897 and 53 tons in 1896."

4 Gross in Three Months

It pays one retail grocer we know of, to sell Greig's "Crown Brand" Flavoring Extracts---see what J. A. McCrea, of Guelph, Ontario, says :

"The best recommendation I can give your Crown Brand Extracts is, that I placed an order with your traveller to-day for one gross, which makes the fourth gross in three months that I have purchased from you."

Four gross in three months means that these extracts have given pretty good satisfaction to those who used them ---there's a snug little profit for Mr. McCrea. Figure it up for one year without allowing for any increase whatever---576 bottles in three months---2,304 bottles in a year !

Greig's Crown Brand Flavoring Extracts are rich, strong, pure.

Each one of the forty different flavors is absolutely true to the fruit, flower or spice it represents.

At the price you sell them at they are matchless for the economical woman to use, because they have unequalled strength.

IMPORTANCE OF GOOD CLERKS.

IT is only too evident to many who cannot entirely remedy the matter, that success in the retail branch of business depends to a marked degree upon the clerks, says Stoves and Hardware Reporter. If they show a deep interest in their work and exert strenuous efforts to sell the goods, a great difference is noticed in the number of sales which are made, whereas at other times, when they relax and show no interest in their work, or do not endeavor to persuade customers to buy, a marked falling off is observed. This is a difficult matter to deal with, and yet it is one which requires a remedy that will have a more permanent and enduring effect than simply a sound scolding. It would possibly be better to do something which will make them feel that they are working for their own as well as their employers' interests. To expect clerks to do better from a sense of duty presupposes the presence of a highly developed conscientiousness which few of them possess. Therefore, we advocate self interest as a powerful lever with which to move them. This is the plan of profit-sharing which has been adopted already by many stores. If clerks are given a small but adequate per cent. on the number of sales they make, they will soon summon up energy and enthusiasm which they have hitherto kept under a bushel measure. It is also highly probable that by employing these incentives to arouse the clerks a merchant's sales would be so much larger at the end of a season that he would make a handsome profit, even after giving them a per cent.

A WARNING TO CLERKS.

A grocer's clerk was telling the writer the other day how a customer had induced him to give her credit for several dollars' worth of goods, for which he couldn't collect the bill. He said: "I can't make much noise about the matter, because the 'boss' don't know anything about the debt." Since then the writer has wondered whether such occurrences are common. Suppose a good-looking female "dead beat" prevails upon a clerk to let her have goods on credit while the grocer is absent, it is not likely that the latter would find it out if the woman refused to pay and the clerk kept mum. As it is easier to get credit from a young and inexperienced employe than from the grocer himself, it is possible that some of the worst "dead beats" practise their arts upon the clerks alone, without their employer knowing anything of the occurrence.—Merchants' Review,

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, March 31, 1898.

GROCERIES.

THE wholesale grocery trade in Toronto, is, if anything, a little better than it was a week ago, At the same time, however, business is still quiet. With the general activity in trade, throughout the Dominion, wholesale grocers have been looking for a larger business than they have been experiencing during the last three or four weeks. This, however, is usually a quiet time of the year, when country roads are, as a rule, in a bad condition for travel. A little better feeling prevails in regard to sugar, and there has been a little more business doing. Teas are receiving a little more attention, although business in this line does not yet amount to a great deal. Some transactions have taken place in currants at the reduced prices, but values are a little firmer again in Patras. Coffees are quiet. Canned goods are scarcely receiving any attention.

CANNED GOODS.

Business in canned vegetables appears to be even quieter than it was a week ago. The idea as to price of tomatoes is, as a rule, $1.20, although we hear of a produce commission house accepting a much lower figure for a lot of a few cases. Wholesale grocers, or, in fact, other commission men, are not, however, inclined to accept less than $1.20 or $1.25 per dozen. Canned salmon is quiet. Quotations for canned goods range much as before.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

Trade continues quiet in both syrups and molasses. The price of molasses rules steady. In New Orleans descriptions prices are firm in the primary market, with supplies light.

SUGAR.

The past week has witnessed a couple of fractional advances in the London, Eng., market on raw sugars, and a healthier tone obtains in New York as a result. In Canada there has been no change in prices, and, while the demand has improved a little, the volume of business is still light. The English yellow sugars which are on the market, are meeting with a good demand at 3¾c. per lb.

NUTS.

There is nothing special to note, business being quiet and prices unchanged.

RICE, TAPIOCA, SAGO.

There is the usual demand for all these goods. Rice is still reported firm.

COFFEE.

The coffee market is steadier on all grades of coffee, but the valume of business, both at home and abroad, is small. Local quotations are as before.

SPICES.

Black pepper for forward shipment is quoted ½c. per lb. dearer, and a cable received in Toronto this week urges the trade to make purchases forthwith. On March 15 stocks of cloves in London were 66,980 bales, against 79,303 bales same ime in 1897.

TEAS.

A little more activity is to be noted this week in the local tea market. The chief buyers appear to be the firms which had stock burned at the Carrie fire, two or three weeks ago, and the teas chiefly wanted are those of Ceylon growth ruling in the neighborhood of 8d. per lb. A good many of the teas sold are to arrive. Mail advices from London under date of March 18, state that the market there for good liquoring teas was fully maintained, while for poor descriptions prices were again lower. For Ceylon teas there was more competition than has recently occurred, and prices distinctly irregular showed occasionally a slight improvement.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS—A cable advice received in Toronto this week states that the first direct steamer of the year for Canada will sail from Patras on April 2. Some business has been done at the reduced prices referred to last week, but importations into Canada this spring will not be as large as usual. Since the decline the market in Patras has assumed a stronger position.

VALENCIA RAISINS—The market is quiet and uninteresting, with prices unchanged.

CALIFORNIA RAISINS—Are quiet and without feature.

PRUNES—California prunes are still in good demand. The damage by frosts in California does not appear to have yet had any effect upon the price of prunes.

CALIFORNIA EVAPORATED FRUITS—Both peaches and apricots are ¼ to ½c. per lb. dearer on the Coast owing to the recent damage to the fruit crops by frost. The coming crop of apricots is reported to be entirely destroyed. The local demand continues good. We quote: Apricots, 9 to 9½c. per lb. in 50-lb. boxes, 9½ to 16c. in 25-lb. boxes, and 13 to 14c. in 1-lb. carton boxes; Peaches, 8½ to 12c. in 25-lb. boxes, and 13c. per lb. in 1-lb. cartons.

GREEN FRUITS.

Bananas are now commencing to sell well, the warm weather making it possible for the pedlars to do business. Navel oranges are in good demand, with a decline of 25c. noted. Valencias and California seedlings have also declined; the former 50c., the latter 25c. Lemons are moving well at 25c. lower figure than last week. Florida tomatoes are on the market at $4 a case. Pineapples are offered freely, and of good quality at 20 to 25c. a decline of 5c. compared with last week.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

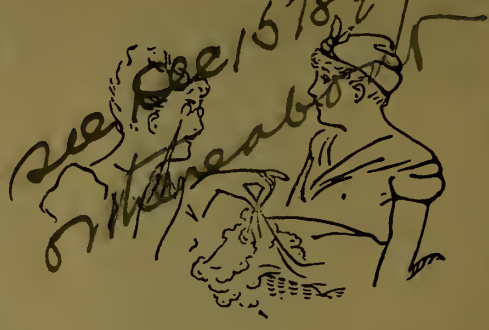
EGGS—There is an abundant supply coming forward, with the demand active, although the supply exceeds the requirements. A drop of 1c. is noted this week.

POTATOES—A weakness is manifest, both on the street market and for car lots. Car lots are selling at 55c. per bush. Not much is offered on the street market. The demand is small, with prices unsteady. Some sales are reported as low as 50c., but the general quotation is about 60c.

DRIED APPLES—The market continues dull. A number of dealers are offering good stock at 3 to 4c. per lb., although holders at outside points are asking 5c. for choice.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Business is quiet, with prices unsteady at 9 to 10c.

BEANS—There is little doing, with ordinary beans selling at 70 to 85c., for both large and small lots, and hand-picked at 85 to 90c. Lima beans are also quiet at 3½ to 3¾c. per lb.



HONEY—There is a fair business, with prices unchanged, except in clover in comb, which is quoted 35c. lower than formerly.

POULTRY—The season is about over, and few birds are offering. The demand is also moderate. We quote: Chickens, dressed, 50 to 70c.; turkeys, small and medium, 10½ to 12c.; large, 8 to 10c. per lb.

MAPLE SYRUP—There is a fair supply now coming in from some sections of the country. The demand is moderate. We quote new syrup as follows: Imperial 5-gal. tins, 80 to 90c. per gal.; imperial 1-gal. tins, 80 to 95c.; wine 1-gal. tins, 60 to 65c. New sugar is quoted at 8 to 10c.

VEGETABLES—Rhubarb, celery, radishes and lettuce are firm in price. Onions, cabbage and parsley are rather unsteady, We quote: Rhubarb, 75 to 90c. per doz. bunches; onions, 10 c. doz. bunches; lettuce, 20 to 30c. doz. bunches; radishes, 40 to 60c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—There is a slightly freer delivery, but there is just about enough offering to keep trade going. A freer delivery is expected in a week or so.

CHEESE—Some sales for export are noted this week, though the price paid was lower than general quotations, being 7½c. Home consumption is increasing somewhat. We quote local market at 7¾ to 8¼c. per lb.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Offerings of dressed pork have been free during the past week with prices steady at unchanged figures. Lard is in good demand, with prices firm. An active Easter trade in meats is noted.

GRAIN, FLOUR, BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN — Red and white winter wheats have eased off slightly, a decline of 2c. per bush. being noted. This week's quotation on cars outside are as follows: Wheat, red winter, 81 to 82c.; white winter, 79 to 80c.; goose, 78 to 80c. The street market is quiet, little coming in except red and goose wheat, on account of poor roads. We quote the street market as follows: Wheat, red, 83 to 84c., straight; white, 75 to 80c.; goose, 85 to 85½c.; peas, 55 to 56c.; barley, 35 to 36c.; oats, 30 to 33c. No. 1 hard wheat is steady at $1.08 Toronto and Montreal freights, or $1.05 Midland.

FLOUR—The market is dull. Ontario makes have weakened somewhat, a decline of 5 to 10c. being noted. Manitoba wheats are unchanged. We quote: Manitoba patents, $5.30 to $5.40; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.90 to $5; Ontario patents, $4.65 to $4.75; straight roller, $4 to $4.10, Toronto freights.

BREAKFAST FOODS — Business is quiet, with prices firm and unchanged. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.90 in bags and $4.00 in bbls.; rolled wheat, $2.75 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $2.50; split peas, $3.50; pot barley, $3.25.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

The season for some of the frozen and sea fish is about over, split herring and smelts particularly being well sold up. Manitoba whitefish are moving freely. We quote as follows: Oysters, $1.25 per gal.; fresh trout, 6½ to 7c. per lb; steak trout, 7c.; fresh steak cod, 6 to 6½c. per lb.; pickerel, 6c. per lb.; fresh pike, 5½c. per lb.; fresh perch, 5½c. per lb.; fresh herring, 3½c. per lb.; Labrador herring, $5.50 per bbl. and $3 per half-bbl.; split herring, $5 per bbl. and $2.75 to $3 per half-bbl.; sea herring, $1.30 to $1.35 per 100; boneless codfish, 3½ to 5c. per lb; pure cod, 6½ to 6¾c. per lb.; fresh water herring (heads off), $2.50 per keg; ciscoes, $1.25 to $1.35; Manitoba frozen whitefish, 6½ to 7c. per lb.; smelts, No. 2, 4c.; No. 1, 6c.; extras, 10c.; flounders, 5c. per lb.. haddies, 5½ to 6c. per lb.; fresh haddock, 5c. per lb.; pan frozen haddock, small, 4c.; large, 5c. per lb.; frozen pike, 4 to 5c. per lb.; frozen perch, 3 to 4c. per lb.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

HIDES—Business is quiet, with prices unchanged. We quote: Cowhides, No. 1, 8c.; No. 2, 7c.; No. 3, 6c.

CALFSKINS—We quote as follows: No. 1 veal, 8 lbs. and up, 10c. per lb.; No. 2, 8c.; Dekins, from 30 to 35c.; culls, 15 to 20c.

SHEEPSKINS—Trade is quiet. We quote at $1.15 to $1.25.

WOOL—There is a quiet, steady trade, with pulled wools quoted at 20 to 20½c.

SEEDS.

As holders will not meet the market, seed is still being imported from the United States to meet jobbing requirements. Jobbers are buying red clover at $2.75 to $3.25. For timothy $1 to $1.50 is paid, with 50c. extra for occasional choice lots. Alsike is quoted all the way from $2 to $4.50, as the quality varies greatly.

GROCERIES.

THE week has not developed any striking change in the general ruling conditions of the grocery market, but there are several interesting new features. Most notable in this particular is the unsettled feeling on refined sugar, as local jobbers have been accepting orders for standard granulated in the Montreal district at 4 5-16c., which is 1-16c. under the figure quoted at the refineries, and stocks of syrups are almost nil, and prices accordingly are nominal. The firm feeling in Barbadoes molasses at primary points is maintained, but the fact has had no influence on spot values, which are as last quoted. Canned goods are firmly held, but retailers continue to buy sparingly. There has been more enquiry for Young Hyson and Gunpowder teas, and some fair quantities have changed hands. Spices are less active than they were, but remain firm, and rice continues firm with a higher tendency abroad. Coffee and the different lines of staple dried fruits are precisely as they were a week ago. In country produce increased receipts of eggs, honey and maple products have produced radical declines, and prices promise to go still lower, as the receipts are arriving in increasing volume.

SUGAR.

The easy feeling in sugar continues and though the refiners still ask 4⅜c., with the usual trade discount for standard granulated, jobbers here are accepting orders at 4 5-16c., so that prices are decidedly unsettled. Domestic refined Dutch granulated is quoted at 4c. and imported ditto, 3 15-16 to 4c. There is a wide and very irregular range on yellow sugar, which sells all the way from 3¼ to 4c. as to grade. Prices on new sugar abroad have shown little change, except that beet, for next month's delivery, is rather firmer, both present and next month being cabled at 9s. ¾d. Cane was quiet, with no change, with Java quoted at 11s. 3d. and fair refinery, 9s. 9d. In New York, values on raw have also ruled steady since last week, at 3½c. for fair refining and 4c. for centrifugal 96 test. Refined was steady there also.

SYRUPS.

The stocks, both in refiners' and jobbers' hands, are down to the smallest possible limit, and prices are largely nominal at 1½ to 2½c.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market is in a feverish condition at present, for reasons that have already been referred to in this column. While advices from Barbadoes, as specially noted elsewhere, are very firm in tone, it is peculiar that jobbers here fear competition from maritime province sellers, and are taking steps to prevent it. In this market we quote Barbadoes from stock, 25 to 26c. in round lots, and 27 to 28c. in smaller quantities.

CANNED GOODS.

The firm feeling in canned goods is maintained, but the fact has no influence on the retail buyer, who continues to operate in a very sparing manner.

TEAS.

There has been an improved demand during the week for Ping Suey Young Hysons, and quite a fair quantity has changed hands. Gunpowders have also been enquired for, but no large lots were put through. Japans have been quiet, but remarks about small stocks apply with full force, large shipments to the States having reduced them appreciably of late.

SPICES.

Enquiry for spices has been less active, but the firm tone of values is fully maintained.

COFFEE.

There is no new feature in the coffee market, demand being limited and prices inclined to easiness.

RICE.

The activity in the rice market is well maintained, and as foreign advices continue strong the disposition of values is moderate.

DRIED FRUIT.

Nothing special has transpired in currants.

Valencia raisins rule firm but extremely quiet, and though spot prices are below the import point there is no disposition to advance them.

In California raisins the market rules steady with prices unchanged.

The demand for prunes continues active and stocks are light.

Dates are unchanged at 4½ to 5c.

In figs there is fair jobbing enquiry.

GREEN FRUIT.

There has been a steady, seasonable trade in green fruit, but there is nothing special in the way of change. Jamaica oranges are off the market, bananas are rather easier, and strawberries have sold lower, at 25 to 40c.

APPLES.

The apple market continues quiet and steady at $4 to $4.50 for firsts, and $2 to $3 for seconds.

DRIED APPLES.

Unchanged at 5 to 6½c. for dried, and 9 to 10c. for evaporated.

FISH.

The feature of the fish trade has been continued dulness. In regard to values for all lines there has been no actual change to note, but there is no doubt that holders would shade present figures of some lines in order to make sales. Haddock and cod are selling at 2½ to 3c., with steak cod at 2½ to 3½c., Manitoba dore at 5c., and pike at 3c. Whitefish and trout at 6½c. per lb. Fresh herrings, $1 to $1.20 per 100, in casks and barrels. Fresh salmon at 12c. per lb.

There is nothing new to relate in pickled fish, trout and green cod being unchanged at the decline noted last week. We quote: Green cod, No. 1 ordinary, $3 to $3.50; No. 2, $2; herrings, No. 1 N.S., $4 to $4.25 per bbl., and $2.25 per half-bbl.; Cape Breton, $4.50 to $4.75 per bbl.; B.C. salmon, $12 per bbl.; No. 1 trout, $4 per keg.

A moderate business is reported in smoked fish and values rule about steady. Haddies are selling at 6c. per lb., and Yarmouth bloaters at $1.20 to $1.25 per box.

In preserved fish boneless cod are still scarce and firm at 5 to 5½c. per lb. Dried cod are selling at 3¼ to 3½c. per lb.

1½c. per dozen below where they were a week ago at 10 to 10½c.

BEANS—There was no change in beans, and sales were slow, at 75 to 80c. for primes and 80 to 90c. for choice hand-picked per bushel.

HONEY—Under increased receipts and a small jobbing trade, honey is rather lower.

MAPLE PRODUCTS — With very liberal receipts the expected decline in values has materialized, and prices are apt to go still lower if the supplies continue to increase as they have been doing. We quote: Syrup, in gallon tins, 45 to 50c. for new, and 35 to 40c. for old; and in bulk, 4½ to 5c. per lb.; sugar, 6½ to 7c. for new and 4c. for old, per lb.

POTATOES — Continue steady, at 70 to 75c. in small lots.

ONIONS—Unchanged, at $2.25 per bbl.

PROVISIONS.

There was no change in the situation of the local provision market, prices being about steady all round. Trade is quiet and of a jobbing character.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

There was no improvement in the flour market, business being chiefly of a small jobbing character to fill actual wants at steady prices. We quote as follows: Winter wheat, patents $4.75 to $5; straight rollers, $4.50 to $4.60; bags, $2.25 to $2.30; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.90; Manitoba spring patents, $5.30.

Business in meal is principally of a jobbing character, and prices for rolled oats are unchanged at $4 per bbl., and $1.95 per bag.

GRAIN AND FEED.

The feature of the local grain market was the stronger feeling in buckwheat, and prices advanced 1c. per bushel. Oats were also firmer, and ¼c. per bushel higher, with a fair trade doing, but the market on the whole was quiet. We quote: No. 2 white oats, 33¼ to 33½c., ex store; 34½c. afloat, May delivery; peas, 65 to 66c. afloat, May; buckwheat, 45½ to 46c. ex store. Ontario red wheat, 81 to 81½c., and white, 79 to 79½c. along the line.

There was a better demand for feed today from local buyers, and several cars of Ontario bran changed hands at $14.75 per ton on track. Shorts are still scarce and wanted. We quote: Ontario winter wheat bran, $15; shorts, $17 per ton in bulk; Manitoba bran, $15, and shorts, $17 per ton, including bags.

A fairly active trade continues to be done in baled hay, and prices are fully maintained $11 to $11.50 for No. 1, and at $8.50 to $9 for No. 2 per ton in car lots.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market was without change, and with buyers and sellers apart the turnover ot the balance of last year's cheese yet carried here is likely to be a lengthy operation. There are several good orders on the market on the basis of 7¼c., but the buyers cannot procure any finest at that price, either colored or white, the latter especially being at a premium. In fact, what holders would accept is hard to say, but they decline to consider business at 7½c., that price being bid in one case for Ontario white goods.

The butter market was firm and active in a jobbing way, and high prices were again paid for choice selections of fresh-made creamery in small tubs, 21½c. being paid for two lots this morning. Under-grades are more plentiful and are rather slow from 19 to 19½c., with medium to good 20c.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Increased receipts of fresh comb honey have led to a decline in price of ½c. per pound.

Maple syrup and sugar have declined rather sharply under increased receipts and point still lower.

The slump in egg prices continues, another loss of 1 to 1½c. being recorded on last week. This is a decline of fully 6c. per dozen in little less than a fortnight.

Foreign advices on rice continue strong, private cables quoting an advance in Patna stock of 1s. 6d.

Jobbers here have accepted orders for standard domestic granulated this week at 4 5-16c., which is a decline of 1-16c. per pound.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

WINNIPEG, March 28, 1898.

THE weather is abominable. Certainly March came in in a lamblike mood, and following ancient tradition is emitting some very leonine roars in departing. The snow drifting has made train services uncertain, country roads bad, and generally tended to make trade quiet for the week.

The Local Legislature has had quite an exciting discussion over a bill introduced to abolish the elevator monopoly. The weight of evidence so far seems to indicate that the farmers who are kicking are in the minority. It is likely, however, that the conditions as to elevator building, enforced by the C.P.R., will be somewhat modified.

Mr. E. B. Nixon, of the Hudson's Bay Co. has just returned from an extended trip east and south. He states that he found business in the east good, with higher markets ruling everywhere, and all lines of trade looking to the Northwest. He is of opinion that eastern wholesalers are beginning to realize that Winnipeg is the real distributing point for the west, and that eastern cities now find it hard to compete with Winnipeg jobbing houses. In New York and Chicago trade was not so lively as it might have been. "Of course," said Mr. Nixon, "everybody is talking Klondyke and every manufacturer has some preparation to offer which he considers specially adapted to that trade." By the way, the Hudson's Bay Co. have found it necessary to open an office in the city of Chicago to manage the Klondyke parties from that city and surrounding states.

A visitor whose coming was of interest to the produce trade was Mr. Arthur J. Mills, of Mills & Sparrow, provision brokers, Tooley street, London, E.C. This firm have for years done a large business in Australian butter, and it was with reference to shipments of Canadian butter that Mr. Mills visited our province. This gentleman is of the opinion that in order to compete successfully with Australian butter the Canadian product will have to be held at a lower temperature. The Australian butter is frozen as soon as made, and he claims that, though not a good process for butter to be used almost immediately, it is better for butter that is to be held, say three months. Prices have not altered much in the past seven days; though there are some changes of situation in regard to certain lines.

CANNED GOODS—Situation is strong and holders are not willing to go out of their way to effect sales. Of course, there is a limit to the price people will pay for these goods, and if prices of tomatoes, peas and corn, go beyond it, the public will buy wax and string beans at present prices rather than pay such a high figure for the other vegetables. In canned fruits, raspberries are firm, the stocks being light.

DRIED FRUITS—California apricots are slightly lower on this market, and should be good property at the present price of 9 to 10c. per lb., according to quality. Prunes remain about the same as last week: 90's to 100's, 5¾c.; 100's to 120's, 5½c. Market for dried apples is in a peculiar condition, as prices asked in the east range from 4¾ to 5¼c., and this would mean about 6¾ to 7c. here, yet in spite of this price dried apples are moving quite freely. Evaporated are firm, with fair demand, at 10½ to 11½c., according to quality. Currants and raisins are stiff, and, in consequence, California muscatels are being handled to a large extent instead of Denia fruit.

GREEN FRUIT—The return of the cold weather has somewhat demoralized this market. Dealers had ordered on spring stocks, but owing to the blocking of the roads some of these have been spoiled in transit. In staple lines no changes have occurred during the week.

RICE—Millers are out of "Imperial Seeta" for the moment, and are offering "Imperial Glace," at a reduction, to take its place. "B" rice is high, and hard to obtain.

CEREALS—This market is firm, with an upward tendency. We quote: Cornmeal, $1.30; rolled oats, $1.95 to $2; standard granulated, $2.25; standard, $2.20; pot barley, $2.25; pearl barley, $4, and split peas, $2.30. Cereals in packages are gaining in favor, many of the larger retailers preferring them to bulk goods. It seems a little strange that Manitoba millers do not realize this, and put up an attractive package to compete with Ontario and United States mills.

FISH—This market has never been very active, and now that the Lenten season is drawing to a close, jobbers are reducing their stocks, and will not replenish until next fall.

BUTTER.—Creamery—No stock; everything cleaned up and dealers all waiting for factories to open. As the season is in advance of other seasons the opening will probably be general, about May 1. Dairy Butter—A ten-ton order, for the Crow's Nest Pass construction, has about cleaned up everything in Winnipeg, and, in fact, in Manitoba. Price for local demand is from 15 to 20c. according to quality.

EGGS—Jobbers are now selling at 12c., from which figure commission and express charges have to be deducted. Supply has been in excess of local demand, but, as they are not at a figure that will permit of shipment to B.C. points, there will be no trouble in keeping stocks cleaned up.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,

ST. JOHN, N.B., March 28, 1898.

THERE is an active appearance around the wholesale grocery houses. Many packets to Bay of Fundy ports are making their first trips, and they are getting full cargoes. One part of our city, Indiantown, which is the landing place for the St. John-river steamers, is particularly quiet in the winter as compared with the rush of summer. It is just now waking up and preparing for a busy season's work. Many of our grocers are busy preparing for the city election, a number being candidates for aldermen. A great many St. John people went to Boston this week to be present at the Sportsmens' Exhibition on New Brunswick Day, when the Governor of our province and members of the Government were present by invitation. We are looking for a large harvest in the way of tourists as the result of the part we have taken in the exhibition. In markets there is little change. Spices are firm, particularly pepper. In cheap tea good values are scarce.

OILS—Some interest is taken here in the oil wells at Gaspe, Quebec. As yet, though there are many wells, there has been no oil in paying quantities found. Some four hundred barrels did run from one, but it was but a short run. The quality of the crude is said to be extra. A large amount of money has been spent there and the work is still being carried on. In the local market the prices of burning oil remain unchanged at the advance. The Standard Oil Co., which is now manufacturing oil in Canada, out of Canadian crude, are, through their local representatives, placing their product on this market. So the Canadian companies find more opposition than ever. In lubricating oil a large trade is reported. This is the busy season as regards taking orders. In cod oil receipts are light and the price holds firm at the advance.

SALT—Trade is dull. The large supply of coarse salt received during the winter has not only supplied the local demand, but has been shipped to the outside trade, so that their wants for some time are supplied. In Canadian salt, there are the regular arrivals. A good spring business is reported. We quote: Coarse, 40 to 45c.; Liverpool factory-filled, 85 to 95c.; Canadian fine, $1 to $1.10 per bag; 5-lb. bags in bbls., $3 to $3.25; 10-lb. bags, in bbls., $2.85 to $3; butter and cheese salt, bulk, $2.50 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c. each; 10-lb. wood boxes, 12c. each; cartons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; bottled salt, $1.25 to $1.30.

CANNED GOODS—There is little new to report. Vegetables continue to pay holders a handsome profit, and even higher prices are looked for. Canned clams and scallops have an increasing sale here. They are the product of this province, particularly the latter, which gives promise of a large business. In sardines, local packed, market is about bare. There is, however, little local demand, and western buyers have been pretty well supplied. This is also a growing business, though the market is a limited one. Local packers in this province are also putting up herring in the oblong tin, after the English fashion. The goods are said to be first-class. Canned meats are having more attention. Prices are firm, with upward tendency.

GREEN FRUIT—The sale is fair, but it is a little between seasons. The last arrivals of Valencia oranges were not in very good order. The Jaffa oranges which were brought here did not seem to take the market, though both in appearance and quality they were good. Californias are quoted rather lower, and sales have to be pushed. In bananas there is more movement, and big business is soon expected. In apples the trade is small. Best fruit is high, and the season is late. Lemons keep very low, but a fair trade is reported.

DRIED FRUITS—California products continue to have chief attention. Prunes tend higher. The size most sold here, 90's to 100's, is rather hard to get. Apricots are also firmer. There is a fair business in peaches. Pears have but light sale, while for nectarines there is very little demand. Quite a few cleaned currants from New York were received this week. The larger quantity of those sold are, however, cleaned here. In raisins, there is litttle doing; market is easy.

SUGAR—Market shows little if any change, refineries holding firmly to prices. Sales are, owing to spring orders, now being filled quite freely.

MOLASSES—The small cargo of Porto Rico which was spoken of in a previous report, found a ready sale. The more so as the price asked was not high, though quite a little above the cost of Barbadoes. The demand for Porto Rico molasses is growing here. In Barbadoes molasses the feeling is quite firm, although, remembering the very low price on the Island last season, some dealers' views incline to lower prices. Outside of these two grades there is but little molasses sold here.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Butter continues of interest, and all the old lots are getting cleaned up. Some that have waited a year or two for buyers at any price are now bringing fair figures. The commission men look happy. They only wish they had more of it. Good butter is in demand and higher figures are asked. Eggs are low, but there is is a better sale and a rather better price is looked for. In cheese the market is dull, and what were small stocks now look large, with light sales.

FISH—Prices are quite firm, and there is a good business doing. Fresh fish are scarce. In Gaspereaux there are none offering this week. Halibut are in fair supply. There are still no lobsters on this market. What the canners do not use go to the United States. In hake the improved prices in outside markets have quite cleaned up the stock, which for some time had found no sale. Smoked herring hold their advance. They have been too low. Stocks of pickled fish are light, and full prices are asked. We quote: Large cod, $3.45 to $3.60; medium, $3.25 to $3.35; pollock, $1.90 to $2; Grand Manan pickled herring, $1.85 to $1.95 per half-bbl.; smoked herring, 7 to 8c.; Canso, pickled, $5 per barrel; boneless fish, 3½ to 4½c.; cod, 6 to 7c.; finnan haddies, 4 to 4½c.; fresh Gaspereaux, $3 per 100; fresh halibut, 10 to 11c. per lb.

PROVISIONS—The demand seems to be for mess pork, which is either packed here or in Prince Edward Island. There is very little sale for American clear. Beef holds its price, but the sale is limited. In smoked meats American hams are again seen, being landed duty paid, under what Ontario hams will cost, dealers there holding prices both in smoked meats and lard firm. Local stock of lard is quite large. We quote: Clear pork, $15.50 to $16; mess, $15 to $15.25; prime mess, $14 to $14.75; hams, 11 to 12c.; rolls, 9 to 10c.; plate beef, $14 to $15; pure lard, 7½ to 8½c.; compound, 6½ to 7½c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—The feeling in flour continues easy, that is, there is a little reaction from highest point, though at present little change is expected. Manitobas, particularly, seems to hold their price. Oatmeal is high. There is no large stock here, as dealers are not buyers at present prices. Cornmeal shows no change. Oats are quiet with prices maintained. Beans are firm ; pea beans seem the only kind offering. Peas, round and split, are light stock here, and prices are likely to be higher. Large quantities of seed are arriving, and this branch is receiving much attention. Hay shows no improvement. We quote: Manitoba, $5.85 to $6; best Ontario, $5 to $5.10 ; medium, $4.85 to $4.95 ; oatmeal, $4.15 to $4.25 ; cornmeal, $2.10 ; middlings, bulk, car lots, $19 to $20 ; bran, do, $17 to $18 ; hand-picked beans, $1 to $1.10 ; prime, 95c. to $1.00 ; barley, $3.40 to $3.50 ; round peas, $1.25 ; split peas, $3.60 to $3.75 ; yellow eye beans, $1.75 ; oats, 35 to 40c. ; hay, $8.50 to $9.50 ; timothy seed, American, $1.70 to $1.90 ; do., Canadian, $2 to $2.25 ; mammoth clover, 7 to 7½c. ; red clover, 6 to 7c ; alsike, 7¾ to 8½c.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Each spring there is a direct steamer to St. John from Antwerp with glass, cement, gin, etc. This year it is the steamer Vitar. She is daily expected.

Mr. John Sealy, who has been sticking rather too close to business, is taking a well-earned holiday. He and Mrs. Sealy are visiting the eastern United States cities.

Capt. Fleming, so well known by all who have crossed the Bay of Fundy in the steamer City of Monticello, is to be the St. John Agent of the Manhattan Steamship Co., whose steamers are soon to be running between New York and our city.

James Patterson receives at this season regular shipments of halibut, Gaspereaux and other fresh fish now in season. If his customers find him as pleasant and satisfactory as does THE GROCER, when looking for information, they no doubt go back to him when again in need.

The Bank of Nova Scotia, whose business in St. John has very much increased during the last few years, have, this spring increased their staff and added extensive improvements in their offices. Mr. Thos. B. Blair, the present manager, is popular with St. John business men.

A. M. Bowman and Charles Knowdell have formed a partnership under the firm name of A. M. Bowman & Co. They intend doing a general agency and commission business, giving attention during the season to the preserving of eggs. Their office is on Prince William street.

A number of new offices have been put in the Turnbull building, which is occupied by Merritt Bros. & Co. The offices are on the second floor. There are two private offices for Merritt Bros. For general business they will still occupy the offices of the lower floor, two for the Turnbull Real Estate Co., and one which is occupied by the well-known brokerage firm of Schofield & Beer. Leonard Bros., the well-known fish men, have also treated themselves to new offices this spring.

Visitors to the office of T. H. Estabrooks, tea importer, have this week about all been met with the one question, "What do you think this is?" THE GROCER representative was no exception. He was handed by Mr. Estabrooks a hard, dark substance, weighing 2½ lbs., and measuring 7 x 9 x ¾ inches. THE GROCER suggested pressed pulp, but was wrong. Others had said rubber, peat, etc., but none had guessed right. It was what was known in Russia as brick tea. It was from Moscow. The grades of tea so imported there are usually the cheaper ones. After being softened it is then broken up and prepared in the regular manner.

J. H. Jones, general merchant, Clearville, Ont., is removing to Duart.

Lalonde & Malette, general merchants, will remove from Pointe Fortune, Que., to St. Andrews, Que.

A COMMITTEE of the business men of Middleton, N. S., has been appointed to enquire into the feasibility of starting a factory in that town for canning small fruits, apples, plums and vegetables.

The Canadian Food Supply Co., of Montreal, capital $50,000, are applying for incorporation.

The Greig Manufacturing Co., with a capital stock of $12,500, to manufacture flavoring extracts, etc., is being incorporated. The officials are: Wm. Greig, Robert Greig, James R. Greig, John Archibald, and Wm. Greig, jr.

The visible supply of Canadian raw leaf tobacco is, with the exception of some trash, now all in the hands of the manufacturers, and the possibility of further competition in this branch is out of the question, until the new crop is marketed in September next.

Ottawa is to have another industry, which will be a large soap factory, and arrangements are now pending for the purchase of the land known as the Grant property on Vittoria street. A number of leading business men are interested in the scheme and it is probable that the sale will be transacted in the course of a few days.

One morning a minister on meeting a little boy asked him if he had got his porridge. "Ay," promptly replied the urchin. "And did you ask a blessing before you took them?" "No' me." "What, not ask a blessing! Were you not afraid they would choke you?" "'Deed, no; man, they were that thin that they cudna choke me."

A cheese board has been organized at Kemptville, with the following officers: L. Patton, president; E. Scott, vice-president; Albert Alexander, secretary-treasurer. All arrangements have been completed for the establishment here of a thoroughly up-to-date plant for the manufacture of vinegar. Messrs. Dearborn & Co., of this city, who will have the management of the business, are the only local parties connected with the concern. It will be run in connection with and as the maritime branch of a large vinegar manufacturer of the west.—Globe, St. John, N.B.

Owing to the good crops last fall and the present low railway rates, emigration from Huron and Bruce counties is greater this spring than for many years past. While regretting the departure of so many of our young men, it affords great pleasure to note that nearly all are going to Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest, instead of to Uncle Sam's domains. There were ticketed from the following stations last week: Wingham, 36; Seaforth, 17; Hensall, 14; Londesboro', 13; Clinton, 9; Goderich, 8; Blyth, 4; Exeter, 3.—Goderich Star.

Ladd, Smallman, and Vass, who, however, retain their interest in the store at Cazaville. Mr. David Vass will remain as manager of both companies.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. J. L. Watt, of Watt & Scott, returned from the south last week. Mr. Watt is looking exceedingly well after his five week's holiday.

R. Monour, city traveler for the Hamilton Coffee and Spice Co., is going to Cincinnati, where he will manage his brother's large clothing establishment.

Mr. Arthur H. Scott, of Watt, Scott & Goodacre, Montreal, has been spending a few days in Toronto. Mr. Scott has a good many friends on "the street," and he naturally received a cordial welcome.

The many friends of Mr. Chas. Chaput, of L. Chaput, Fils & Cie, Montreal, will be pleased to learn that he is having a most enjoyable trip abroad, and that his health is of the best. The firm had a cablegram from him recently from Rome, Italy, in which he wished to be remembered to his friends here, and conveying the information that it was his intention to remain in Europe till about the beginning of June.

ANALYSIS OF CONDENSED MILK.

THE Department of Inland Revenue has issued Bulletin No. 54, dealing with the treatment of samples of condensed milk collected from seven different cities in the month of November last. The chief analyst says that widely different opinions prevailed among the analysts in the different cities as to what constitutes adulteration in condensed milk. He states that, strictly speaking, it is only whole milk which has been concentrated by evaporation which is entitled to the name of condensed milk, and that, as the law now stands, condensed milk containing cane sugar must be regarded as adulterated, unless labelled "Condensed milk mixture," or "Sweetened condensed milk." Mr. McGill, one of the experts at headquarters, who had charge of these analyses, is of opinion that the use of antiseptics at any stage of the preparation of milk, as condensed milk, should be prohibited. He states that in very few cases does the milk used by the manufacturer come up to the standard for whole milk. In most cases a greater or less amount of cream has been used before concentration, and in some brands the cream has been all but completely removed.

THE WAR SCARE AND TRADE.

The increasing probability of war has at last begun to affect general trade. The floods in the Ohio valley have had some effect in checking business in a portion of the country, but that is only a minor influence. Last week woolen mills near Providence had orders cancelled. All the leading markets here show an indisposition to undertake new business. Bradstreet's reports a very active distribution of merchandise in St. Louis, Chicago, and some other centres, but the jobbers and wholesalers who have been selling readily to retailers are not renewing their stocks in any such proportion. On business for the future there is a sudden check, and this has been felt also in current business, for the bank clearings, though 20 per cent. better than a year ago, were more than $200,000,000 less than the previous week, and this decline was almost entirely in New York, where it was distributed between financial operations and merchandising.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

A CATCHY WINDOW DEVICE.

A catchy little window-displaying device is to be seen in a Yonge street, Toronto, store. On the top of a large diamond-shaped card is fastened a 10c. piece. Underneath it are the words "Will buy this," while immediately below is fastened a tobacco pouch which is offered for sale for 10c. By this device the card is made to read: "Ten cents will buy this pouch."

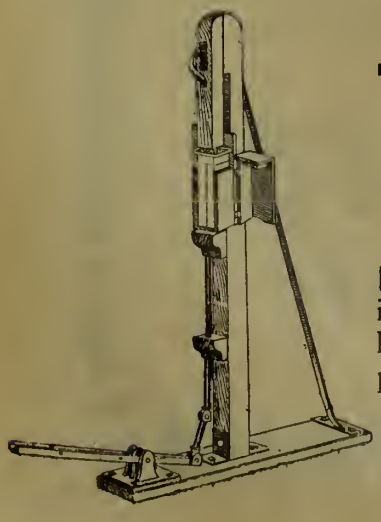
The idea is a good one, and is capable of being applied to a good many articles to be found in a grocer's store.

PAID AT LAST.

It was about 17 years ago that a Whitman man was in the wilds of Wisconsin, way up near the Chippewa reservation, and while there was appointed a Justice of the Peace. Men were scarce, and ministers were at a premium, so this Whitman man used to perform duties at weddings, as well as officiate at funerals. One of the first couples that he married was a young man from one of the surrounding settlements, and the witnesses were drawn up in line at the old log cabin in the woods. When the bill came to be paid the Whitman man said: "Now, this is my first marriage, and I will not take any money. If you are satisfied with your bargain later on just give me some money, and if you are not you need not pay me." Time elapsed and not a word was heard from the bridegroom. A few days ago a letter was received addressed to Whitman, and it read: "Wife is dead. Find enclosed 10 dols. for marriage fee. Thanks."

TEA AND COFFEE IN INDIA.

FROM a report of the Indian Government, dealing with the tea, coffee and cinchona plantations of that country, it is seen that the cultivation of tea is making great and continuous progress, both in the area under cultivation and in the production.



During the four years succeeding 1893 the increase in the area under cultivation was 58,244 acres, while the increase in the production amounted to 34,031,400 pounds.

The principal market for Indian tea is Great Britain and Ireland, to which country 135,456,884 lbs. were sent last year. Australia took 6,155,895 lbs., Persia 1,993,823 lbs., Canada and the United States 1,607,731 lbs., and Russia 457,634 lbs. The consumption of tea in India amounts to about .029 lb. per head, as compared with 5.5 lb. per head in England. About half a million persons are employed on tea estates.

The increase in either the area under cultivation or the production of coffee is not nearly so marked, the increase in the area averaging about 110 acres each year, and that of the production to only about 100 lbs. each year.

The amount of coffee produced in 1896 was 34,750,765 lbs., of which 30,428,563 lbs. were exported. There were 46,217 persons permanently engaged on coffee plantations, and during harvesting periods an additional 72,136 persons found employment.

There were 5,916 acres of cinchona under cultivation at the end of the official year 1896-97, 72 per cent. of which is in southern India, and the remainder in Bengal. The low prices ruling for the bark have been such that a steady decrease in production is manifest, a decrease of 4,702 acres being noted in the last twelve years.

NELSON'S GROWING BUSINESS.

THE South Kootenay Board of Trade at Nelson, B.C., have issued a circular urging that public buildings should be erected there in accordance with the importance of Nelson as a commercial centre.

Nelson was made a port in August, 1895, previous to which time it had been an outport of New Westminster. The collections at the port have so grown that the total collection last year at Nelson was $431,048 as compared with $407,762 at the seaport of Vancouver. The following statement will give an idea of the growth of the Kootenay district during the last three years:

	Value Imports.	Value Exports.	Duty Collected.
1895	$ 397,393	$ 736,839	$ 84,737
1896	1,147,173	2,790,628	254,851
1897	1,539,993	7,724,522	431,038
Totals	$3,084,559	$11,251,989	$770,626

The Custom's collections in Nelson amounted to $10,375.53, in Kaslo to $4,723.04, in Rossland to $3,773.74, out of a total in the district of $21,125.98.

The inland revenue returns in the last six months of 1897 amounted to $19,162, as compared with $12,542 during the same months of 1896. During last year over $11,163 worth of stamps were sold, $70,661 were issued in money orders, and $4,574 were paid into the savings bank.

Nelson is now the terminus of three railroads, the Columbia and Kootenay, the Slocan River and the Nelson and Fort Sheppard. The Crow's Nest Pass railway will make the fourth. Three banks, the Bank of Montreal, the Bank of British Columbia and the Merchants Bank of Halifax, have branches in the town.

I.C.R. BUSINESS INCREASING.

Though the through freight business of the Intercolonial railway has fallen off greatly, the total tonnage of the road has in twenty years increased to over four times what it was in 1869.

According to The Halifax Herald, there have been some remarkable decreases in through traffic. In 1887 over 58,000 tons of raw sugar were shipped from Halifax to Montreal. This year there was not any. There has been a falling off of about 50,000 tons of European goods for Montreal in the same time. In 1884-5 more than 8,000 head of cattle were shipped over the I.C.R. for export. There have been none since 1895. The year after the Jamaica exhibition 12,000 barrels of flour went via Halifax to that island, while now hardly a barrel goes.

Yet, the total tonnage of the road shows steady and material increase. The freight forwarded from Halifax by the I.C.R. in 1875-6 was 24,000 tons; in 1885-6 it was 67,000 tons; in 1895-6 it was 100,000, with a small increase last year. The tonnage of freight received at Halifax has increased even more rapidly than that forwarded in these years. In 1875-6 about 34,000 tons were received; in 1885-6 the receipts were 145,000 tons, and last year it had risen to 211,000 tons, or more than six times that of 1875-6.

The passenger traffic out of Halifax on this road has always shown gratifying increase. The number of passengers leaving in 1875-6 was 46,000; in 1885-6 it was 82,000; in 1895 it was 165,000. Last year it was 179,000, nearly four times that of 1875-6.

Such a report in regard to the Intercolonial is eminently satisfactory, and gives great hope of future progress in the country through which it runs.

AMONG TORONTO RETAILERS.

They Do A Cash Business.

J. Charter & Co., Yonge street, are believers in a strictly cash business, and have the courage to carry their belief into operation. Mr. Charter told me this week that his policy was to discourage credit at every opportunity. In the event of a regular customer asking for a few days' credit, he would grant the request, but in every such case he makes it plain that he never opens up an account; that this is merely a temporary convenience. This policy has been found to work satisfactorily, the cases being very rare where a courteous refusal to give credit has resulted in the loss of a customer. On the other hand the reduction in price, made possible by the cash system, has attracted customers who before went further away to get the same goods.

Unique Idea in Store Fittings.

All grocers agree to a greater or lesser extent that it is good policy to have labor-saving shop fittings, but not all of them take the trouble and go to the expense of fitting their store as they think would be best suited for the transaction of business. D. Bell, Yonge street, believes so thoroughly in up-to-date fittings that, on entering his present place of business some time ago, he had the shelving, etc., arranged just to suit his business. One unique idea which he has developed is that of canting bins, for holding bulk breakfast foods, etc. These bins are about sixteen inches high, and form a row along the floor, under the shelving, behind the counter. When not in use, they fit closely into the wall, and no dust or dirt can get in. When it is desired to use them they are canted out, resting partly on the floor and partly on a round wooden strip of wood, upon which it turns when canting. The bin is so arranged that it cannot fall in any direction, either when open or shut. Another good feature of Mr. Bell's fittings is his system of shelf display. Instead of having each shelf level from front to back, as is usually the case, he has, by having rising tiers or steps, made it possible to exhibit three or four rows of goods on each shelf. When building the shelves, etc., room was made, the full length of the store, for a row of spice jars and for a row of large tea bins, thus making room for nearly every article of regular sale behind the one counter. Having fittings to suit his own ideas, Mr. Bell takes pride in keeping his shelf display neat, bright, and attractive.

DEATH OF J. P. CLEMES.

THE death of Mr. John Pope Clemes, senior partner of the wholesale fruit firm of Clemes Bros., Toronto, came as a severe shock to the fruit and grocery trades in Toronto.

Deceased came to the "Queen City" about seven years ago and, in conjunction with his three brothers, M. P., W. H., and A. E. Clemes, started the wholesale fruit business, which was so successful from the start, and is now become one of the leading houses in the trade.

As a business man he ranked high, while as a man he was kindly and pleasant, and altogether devoid of ostentation. As a result, he was popular, the evidences of which were to be seen in the tributes of respect paid to his remains by his business confreres, his associates in church work, and the people of Port Hope, with whom he so long resided.

Prior to coming to Toronto, deceased was associated for several years with his brother, Mr. M. P. Clemes, in the grocery business at Port Hope, which, for a great number of years previous to that, was carried on by his father.

While a resident of Port Hope, deceased was a major of the 46th Batt., and in that capacity served through the Northwest rebellion.

Death came very suddenly. He came home to dinner about 7 p.m., on Thursday, 24th inst., and seemed quite well. He ate heartily; and retired to bed about 11 o'clock. Shortly after lying down he was seized with a terrible coughing fit, and, before Dr. Hart, who was called in, could reach the house, he passed away. Organic heart disease, which had been established several years, was the cause of his death. Deceased was 50 years of age.

The business of Clemes Bros. will be carried on as usual, and the death of the senior partner will entail no impairment of capital.

A few more puncheons of "Pons" molasses can be had from Laporte, Martin & Cie., which they are offering at a "clearing sale" price.

AUCTION SALE OF TEA.

As a result of the recent fire in the Front street, Toronto, tea warehouse, a salvage sale of tea by auction was held in the auction rooms of Suckling & Co., Toronto, on Wednesday. About 400 packages of tea, principally Japan, in unbroken packages and in pretty fair condition were sold at 8, 10 and 12c. per lb.; and 300 packages of Japan teas, in broken packages, at 4 to 6c. per lb.

PREFERENTIAL DUTY ON SUGAR.

In the House of Commons, on Wednesday, it was announced that negotiations were pending, with a view to securing the entry into Canada and the United States of West India sugar under preferential terms, as compared with foreign beet sugar.

VEGETABLES FOR KLONDYKE TRADE.

There are evidences on all sides of the increase of business occasioned by the discovery of gold in the far Northwest, and the consequent rush from far and near to that section of our country. Grocers, clothing houses, hardware firms, and provision and supply dealers have all felt an increased demand for their goods, and it is only natural that the prospective miner, when completing his outfit, would make it a point to see that he was provided with the best and easiest carried goods, including the vegetables of his particular taste.

To enable the prospectors and miners to secure such at a minimum of cost and in such condition as would necessitate the least trouble to carry, certain firms have gone into the business of drying vegetables, and packing them in cases of such size as are most convenient for transportation. The Acme Dried Vegetable Co., of 126 and 128 Queen street, Montreal, have made this trade a special feature of their business, and report most encouraging results, the demand being a steady and increasing one.

OF NERVE--

The amount required varies, of course, with the individual temperament, sometimes the amount is very considerable, especially in cases of chronic "Old Fogyism," fostered by an unswerving adherence to the "Ruts" worn by a long train of "Hum-drum" predecessors travelling the same road. To "Tip Toe" up out of these "Ruts" high enough to see what one's competitors are doing, who are not handicapped with the absurd notion that it is not "orthodox" to sell a PACKET TEA simply because their forefathers did did not do so before them, does tax some men's nervous forces—it certainly does—at first.

The world's conditions of trade are changed. New ideas take the place of old. The old pass away and make place for the new. You must move with the times or be left behind.

SALT

First-Class Grocers are particular about the quality of the smaller as well as the larger lines. Take Salt for instance—a mere trifle in housekeeping, but it must be good. If you do not keep a good brand your customers will get it elsewhere, and other things with it.

Buy the Best.

For Table and Household use, Coleman's Salt is the Best. Pure, White, Crystalline, Sparkling, in first-class packages, each one guaranteed to the consumer. The five pound carton is a wonderful package —neat and handsome—for shelf display it ranks with the finest fancy groceries.

Have you a Dairy Trade?

You cannot hold it with Common Salt that is a menace to the quality of every pound of butter and cheese it touches. Better run no risks but get Coleman's Special Dairy Salt, put up in bags, sacks and barrels.

Common Salt in Carloads.

The better it is, the better it pays the retailer. We carry large stocks at several shipping points and can always guarantee prompt shipment of clean, dry salt.

—More Pleased Women

Think of the great army of women that are wondering how to economize on their clothes this Spring.

Fancy their pleasure if you display a sign inside the store, something like this: "Home Dyeing made easy and safe and pleasant with Maypole Soap. We sell it. All colors."

This helps the woman out of a dilemma—she'll remember you, please remember that.

There's a good profit in handling Maypole Soap. It is a Clean way of Dyeing at home. Powder Dyes can't approach it in the brilliant, fast, even color it yields. It is the Dye of highest quality. Free booklet about it by addressing, for Spring Business.

Tonics—

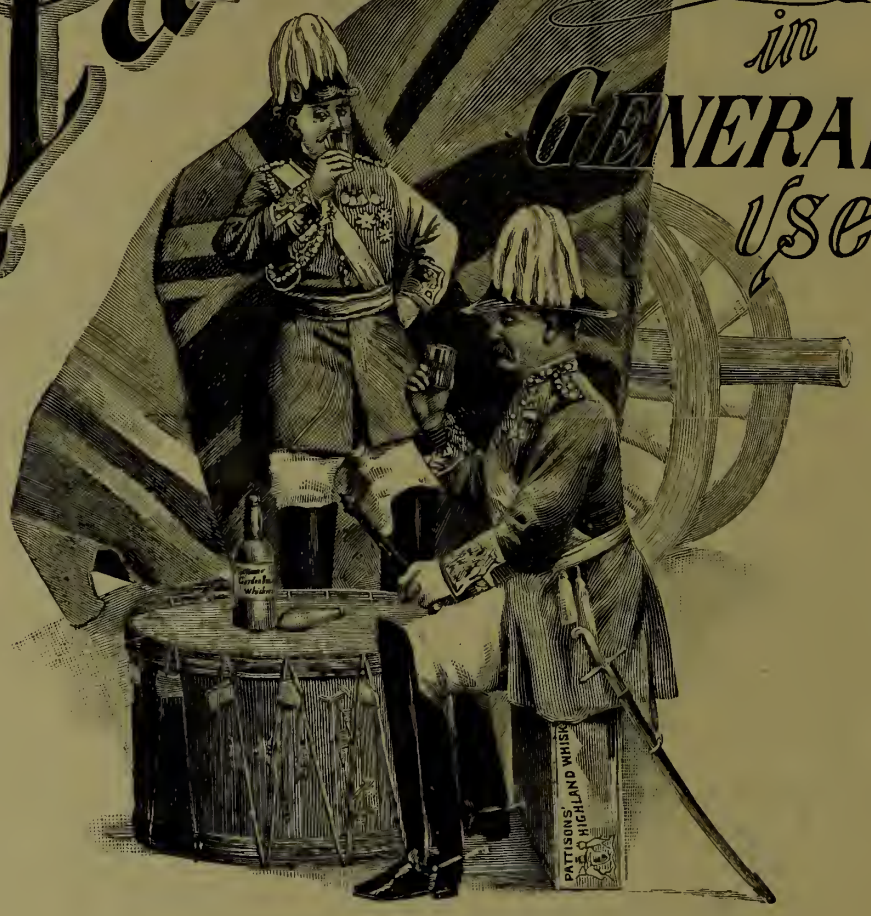
Suggestions for that "Tired Feeling."

Stephens' Pickles Good, sure profits in handling them, because they always sell for what they are when you first buy them — they do not lose their sharp, piquant flavor, because the Stephens' Vinegar they are pickled in is absolutely pure Malt Vinegar of the highest grade there is, or can be.

Stower's Peptonized Sauce Double merit in it—stimulating yet most effective as a digestive, because peptonized. Peculiarly adapted to keeping trade and winning new customers. A healthy business tonic.

Fry's Cocoa You don't have to waste your time explaining its matchless purity and concentrated strength—the name "Fry" settles that. "The Household Cocoa"—"best" because it goes farthest. Save money for your customers —you'll gain by it.

Stower's Lime Juice "The Lime Juice that draws trade." "No musty flavor to it"—no free acid taste. Acknowledged to be 20 per cent. stronger than any other, because concentrated—purified and re-purified. It sells.



Sold by leading Wholesalers everywhere.

INDIVIDUAL CREDITS.*

By James G. Cannon.

IN discussing credit, we too frequently view it in its abstract form, and fail to consider it in its bearings upon the individual. It would, therefore, seem that a study of this phase of the subject would be productive of much interest and profit ; not only to credit men, but to merchants generally, as I have yet to find that there has ever been raised a single question as to the methods to be employed in the extension of this form of credit.

The evils from which the mercantile community suffers seems to me to be due, not so much to a lack of money or capital, as to the lack of an intelligent and proper use of credit. If we can inspire a healthy public sentiment in regard to all forms of credit, it will serve greatly to facilitate needed reforms.

Credit is increased by the desire to do business, and thereby secure a profit. For example : A is well and favorably known to B as a man of strict honor and integrity. He may be a producer, but without ready money. He may be desirous of buying goods. B has the commodities and wishes to sell them ; therefore B finds it agreeable to supply A's wants for a consideration of profit, upon his promise of future payment. In this way credit is brought into play, and its continuance is justified by the prompt fulfilment and faithful performance of all the duties and obligations imposed by the contract, but if too easily obtained it promotes extravagance.

The question naturally arises : Upon what basis should individual credit be granted ? No inflexible rule can be laid down, but the underlying principles of this form of credit that suggest themselves to me are, character, ability, capital, and producing power.

Individual credits properly dispensed call for the exercise of diplomacy, mature judgment and eternal vigilance, and one should be especially conservative in extending liberal credits on the luxuries of life. For instance, where a customer might, without criticism, buy a five hundred dollar house-furnishing goods bill, he might very properly be refused a credit of three hundred dollars for purchases made in the dress goods department.

THE GOOD CUSTOMER MUST BE RETAINED.

The good customer, though unreasonable and unjust in his demands, must be retained. It is the man who pretends to be good and is not, who must be refused and avoided. Tact in this, as in other departments of business activity, is indispensable.

Many merchants trust out their goods indiscriminately, and sustain losses that handicap them in the payment of their obligations to the wholesale dealer, and the resultant ill effects are communicated all along the line of credit, reaching finally to the manufacturer and his creditor. Therefore, if we can build a better basis for individual credits the whole commercial edifice will be strengthened with benefit to all concerned.

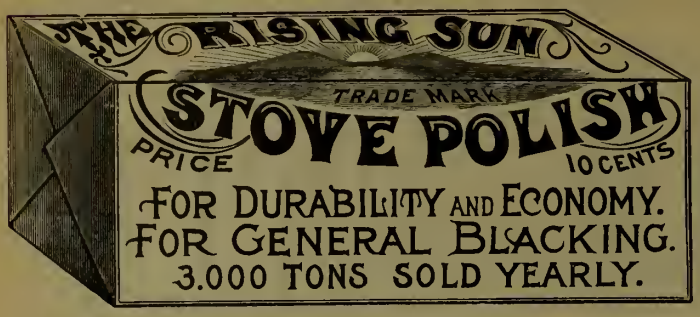
Notwithstanding the fact that the granting of individual credit is one of the most delicate and important questions upon which the merchant has to pass, I believe that very few retail merchants, if called upon for an opinion as to the basis of their credits, could give a specific or intelligent answer.

The average retailer throughout the country needs education in this and kindred lines, and he should be brought to realize that it is to his interest to follow some well defined system of granting credits. He will often "size up" a man on the spot and sell him a bill of goods without even knowing the party's full name, or, relying, perhaps, on his supposed ability to judge something of his means or affairs because he is an acquaintance, he will trust him without any investigation as to his financial worth.

NON-STOCKTAKING RETAILERS.

Some retailers I find have not taken stock for years, believing it to be unnecessary, because, as they say, all they have on their shelves belongs to them. Others do not even keep books. Careful attention to details, and a thorough system of bookkeeping, are prime factors in determining a merchant's success. If he is careless in his methods he is likely to find his customers tardy in meeting their bills.

If the retail merchant would only change his method, ascertain the cost of conducting his business and the profit on his sales, keep his books in such shape as to enable him to know at all times whether he was making headway or losing ground, he would be in a position to adopt corrective measures when necessary and avoid the shoals and rocks that would otherwise bring disaster upon him.



Some good wholesome educational work seems to be in order, and where the jobber or wholesaler finds that a retailer to whom he is selling his goods has extended credit beyond prudent limits, compared with his own resources, although it be to persons of large means, he should confine him to the shortest possible terms, and force him into a system of making quick collections, for the nearer a retailer reaches a cash basis the better will be his position. If he pays cash for his goods he is not likely to sell them on any other terms, and when he does give credit, he will exercise more care in its extension.

WHOLESALERS SHOULD COUNSEL.

If the wholesale houses will give their retail customers the benefit of their wide experience, knowledge and counsel, as to the best business methods to be adopted, it will be of mutual profit and advantage. So long as retailers pay their bills with ordinary promptness the wholesaler has no occasion to interfere, but when they become slow he is compelled to look over the situation, and in nine cases out of ten retailers will plead in extenuation of their tardiness that some of their own customers owe them large bills which they are unable to collect. How needful it is, therefore, that the unknown quantities should be eliminated, and that a painstaking investigation should determine the character, financial strength and integrity of every credit risk.

Considerable strategy must be used at times to secure information touching individuals supposed to be possessed of large means, and who are so reticent about their affairs that it is not deemed prudent to ask questions. You would be surprised to learn that some of the richest and most substantial houses in the larger cities will seek for data through the instrumentality of janitors of apartments, butchers and tradespeople generally. Perhaps information thus gleaned is not always of value, but at the same time such people hear and see things of which it is important that the dispenser of individual credits should have knowledge. The question may be asked why are such methods resorted to, and the only answer that can be given is that retailers are fearful of making too many inquiries direct and driving away trade that is a source of profit to them. These practices should not be necessary, and prejudice against giving information on the part of individuals will be overcome by proper educational work, just as reluctance to give information on the part of borrowers is being removed by the requirements of signed statements.

The Reverend Charles H. Spurgeon testified: "Living beyond their means is the ruin of many of my neighbors. They can hardly afford to keep a rabbit, and must needs drive a pony and chaise."

SMALL ACCOUNTS.

Individual debts in the shape of book accounts for merchandise and for professional services are more difficult to collect than any other forms of indebtedness, because of their large number and the comparative insignificance of each single account, which renders it less likely that the details will become known to the public, and this feeling of security influences the individual seeking credit and increases the probability of his account growing beyond conservative limits. Very few retail dealers have the courage to discontinue trading with a customer who does not pay promptly. They are seemingly unable to break off the habit of extending long credit to old patrons.

Something should be known regarding the financial resources and character of each debtor. Information respecting business men can be secured with comparative ease, but in the case of professional men, and those living on incomes, the problem is not so simple. Therefore references should be required in all cases, and they should be looked up with great care for the reason that while the first purchase may be small, the account, opened once, may increase in importance without attracting attention. If the customer is buying goods on credit from other sources, inquiry should be made as to whether his payments are satisfactory. Where real estate is owned, some specific data as to its value should be gathered. After the investigation is completed, and all the available information is at hand, a credit limit should be carefully fixed, and beyond this point the account should not be permitted to pass until it is ascertained by further research that the increased line can be safely extended.

A retail credit man should know when to say No, and should have the force of character necessary to say it; moreover, he should make the refusal in a way that will give no offense.

A well-known writer on Political Economy says: "It is difficult or impossible to always follow strictly the excellent financial maxim 'Pay as you go'; but the next best thing is 'to go and pay.'"

The custom of allowing people of means to suit their own convenience in making payments has gradually grown until it seems to me that a reform should be instituted, and they should be taught that the mere fact that they are possessors of wealth does not entitle them to exceptional privileges, to the detriment of those not so fortunately situated.

WRONGS INFLICTED BY THE RICH.

Let me relate two or three instances that came under my observation, of the wrongs inflicted by the rich upon those in more humble circumstances, who could ill afford to be deprived of the use of money justly their due.

X is a poor dressmaker living in New York, who worked for Z, a wealthy woman. Z paid X fifty dollars on account, leaving a balance of one hundred dollars due her, and shortly afterwards sailed for Europe, where she remained for six months. In the meantime, X, deprived of the one hundred dollars, was unable to meet her rent and other obligations, and suffered much humiliation and inconvenience. When Z returned from Europe she paid X without even an apology for the delay.

A, a poor seamstress, working for a dollar and a half a day, was employed by one of the leaders of New York society, whose name is associated with most of the season's great social functions and charities. In many ways she was kind to this seamstress, sometimes giving her cast-off garments; but she was thoughtlessly unkind about paying her for her services. The rich woman could not understand why this servant should demand her wages, and consequently discharged her.

M is a well-known physician in Brooklyn. He has treated a wealthy family, residing on one of the most fashionable avenues in that city; but for a year his bills remained unpaid—not even noticed. Finally he made an appeal to the lady of the house on one of his calls. "Doctor, please be patient with me," she said; "my husband has given me money for that bill three different times, but I used it for shopping, and am afraid to tell him. I will try to pay the bill,

ILLUSTRATIONS.

In illustration of the way credit is sometimes extended I will give you an example: D is a retail butcher, doing a large business. E represents a family well-to-do, who dress in the latest mode, attend the theatre, drive on the boulevard and entertain lavishly. Their orders to the butcher are liberal, and they are particular about getting the best cuts and tenderest birds. Although they occasionally pay a little on account, the end of each month finds the unpaid balance increased. The butcher does not refuse to serve the family, because he fears he might lose both the money and the customer. The account continues to grow. When D's patience is finally exhausted, and he intimates that he would like to have the bill liquidated in full, E goes to another butcher, repudiates his indebtedness to D; the other butcher welcomes him as a customer, and E still keeps up style, and no doubt continues rolling up bills with other dealers.

Very often an accouut that has run for some time becomes difficult of collection merely because the debtor, whose moral sensibilities may be none too acute, feels he is asked to give something for nothing, especially when the goods bought on credit are worn out or consumed, and there is nothing in sight for the money he is expected to pay.

One should insist upon the payment of all bills in strict accordance with the terms of sale, and no necessary expense should be spared in forcing the wealthy delinquent to a settlement. He may take umbrage and withhold his patronage, but, in my judgment, accounts that require extra effort to collect are not desirable.

I would lay special emphasis upon the importance of retailers rendering their bills promptly, as such a practice will undoubtedly insure better collections, and will also have the effect of educating their customers as to proper business methods.

Extreme care should be exercised in trusting people of narrow means, dependent upon moderate salaries, that are received with a regularity that renders continuous credit unnecessary; for the mere fact that they are seeking credit, except in rare instances, is evidence that they are living beyond their means. Extravagant habits are a more prolific source of loss than dishonesty, and, of course, should be discouraged as much as possible.

PEOPLE WHO DRINK.

Credit should always be refused to those who spend their income before it is earned, and the man who drinks to excess or gambles should not be allowed to buy goods on the promise of future payment, notwithstanding family connections, and other considerations, which often play together too important a part in crediting.

Many houses will very properly insist upon guarantees, if the financial responsibility of the applicant for credit is in doubt.

Some large houses decline to enter upon their books the accounts of those who have no substantial property or real estate investments; while others are very glad to accept as customers those who hold good salaried positions. In the latter case, of course, it is well to ascertain if the customer's ability is such that he will be able to retain his place. There is no doubt that there are many instances where retail credit can safely be predicted upon a man's ability, earning capacity and honor. One can, with a comparative degree of sefety, trust an honest man of limited resources, if he is possessed of those traits of character that inspire confidence in his ultimate success. The only contingency in the case is, that he may be overtaken by some misfortune, such as sickness or loss of employment. It is a recognized fact, that people in moderate circumstances are usually more punctual in meeting their obligations than the wealthy.

In order to ascertain just where credit begins, I made some investigation among people of very limited means, and thus obtained an insight into the operations of this economical principle in its elementary stages. I found by this research that the poorer people enjoy little or no credit. As a rule they do not seek it, for the reason that they know, perhaps, that their application would be refused, as the merchant always has to consider the possibility of their being out of work. When they have reached this extremity, have used all their savings, and have drawn out of the penny provident savings bank a few pennies their children may have had, their only recourse is to pawn their goods, and thus in the large cities the pawnbroker often becomes the poor man's banker. There are some poor families, however, who do secure credit in a limited way, and settle their bills weekly, or whenever their wages are received. In extending credit to the wage-earner, one must, of course, look more to his honesty than to any other qualification; and so long as he has employment, he will generally pay promptly, as he is forced to economize, and dreads running behind. The mechanic who earns from two to four dollars a day, and is steady and industrious, makes a desirable customer. His purposes are honest, and he inspires confidence. Bulwer Lytton says: "If a good face is a letter of recommendation, a good heart is a letter of credit."

THE NORTHWEST BOOMING.

THE greatness of the Klondyke boom has, to a large extent, overshadowed another boom, which, in the opinion of many, is of even greater importance to Canada as a nation than the development of her mineral resources.

It is the opinion of competent authorities that Manitoba and the Northwest are on the eve of a boom in their development, unprecedented in the history of the agricultural development of Canada.

The foundation of this boom is undoubtedly the prosperity of the farmers and others who have been settled in that section of our country for some time.

An illustration of this prosperity is given in a recent issue of The Pilot Mound Sentinel. That paper gathered statistics regarding the building operations in the shape of improvements and new buildings erected last year in that part of Manitoba. The following amount was spent in buildings and improvements :

Holmfield	$ 23,195
Pilot Mound	22,890
Crystal City	22,350
Cartwright	15,995
La Riviere	8,500
Cypress	3,700
Wood Bay	3,425
Snowflake	2,150
Clearwater	550
Eton	1,900
Londesborough	1,230
Greenway	400
Dry River	330
Total for the district	$106,615

A reference to the map will give an idea of the comparatively small area of this district, and as Pilot Mound has not been blessed with good crops above other sections of that country, it will be readily granted that the farmers and merchants of Manitoba and the Northwest are prosperous.

One of the most remarkable results of this prosperity is the influx ot settlers from the United States. Of these, an average of 100 per day have been arriving in Winnipeg since the first of March. These are securing homesteads from the Dominion land agencies and settling in many sections of Manitoba and the Northwest. The following table from The Brandon Times will give an idea of the proportion going to the various sections during the first two weeks of March :

	Entries.	Settlers.
Daupbin	38	88
Edmonton	83	211
Lethbridge	35	99
Little Saskatchewan	46	99
Calgary	18	43
Alameda	32	42
Prince Albert	8	20
Qu'Appelle	73	193
Red Deer	22	71
Winnipeg	73	174
Touchwood	16	60
Regina	10	21
Brandon	99	112
Total	543	1,233

As will be seen, though the largest number of settlers arrived in Edmonton, the greatest number of homesteads secured were at the Brandon agency, where 99 entries were made in the two weeks. There are many more farmers coming from the United States, one party of 236 coming from so far south as Kansas.

The number of persons leaving Ontario for Manitoba and the Northwest is also unusually large, over 750 persons from various parts of Ontario leaving Toronto weekly, 500 via C.P.R. and 250 via G.T.R. To this number numerous small bodies are added at various points on the route.

The best feature of this influx is not the number of people going, but rather the quality of them, the greater number of them being well-to-do farmers, who will be able to take up a homestead and work it.

The growing demand for Canadian produce, particularly bacon, ham, butter and eggs, and the ready market for Manitoba wheat, makes this increase in the agricultural population of Canada most opportune, while the development of the mineral resources of British Columbia and Northern Ontario, the establishment of flour mills, grain elevators, etc., are combining to make a marked development in the Canadian Northwest during the next year or two.

The C.P.R. land sales for the month of March aggregate 33,420 acres, for the sum of $109,010. This is four times as much land as was sold during the same period of 1897, and the largest since the boom of 1881.

PICKLES FOR THE NAVY.

The Morning Advertiser, of London, Eng., under date of March 11, makes note of the fact that Gillard's new pickles and Gillard's new sauce are becoming great favorites with the English navy.

Admiral Sir H. F. Stephenson, who is in command of the channel squadron, just sailed for Gibraltar, has ordered a large quantity of Gillard's new pickle and new sauce to be sent on board his flagship, and has written to Gillard & Co. complimenting them on the excellence of the goods.

The manufacturers of Gillard's new pickle and new sauce have just received orders for the mess and wardrooms of Her Majesty's ship Vernon, the School of Torpedo Instruction, Portsmouth harbor, and orders from other ships in commission are being duly received.

These pickles are in use in over 5,000 of the leading hotels in Great Britain. The sale in Canada is improving, and, considering the quality of the articles, they will undoubtedly prove most popular in Canada.

THE TARIFF CHANGES.

THE following are the tariff resolutions submitted to the House of Commons, on Tuesday, by the Minister of Finance, Hon. Mr. Fielding :

That it is expedient to repeal section six of "The Customs Tariff, 1897," and to substitute the following section therefor :

6. The importation into Canada of any goods enumerated, described, or referred to in schedule C to this Act is prohibited; and any such goods imported shall thereby become forfeited to the Crown, and may be destroyed or otherwise dealt with as the Minister of Customs may direct; and any person importing any such prohibited goods, or causing or permitting them to be imported, shall for each offence incur a penalty not exceeding $200.

PREFERENTIAL TARIFF.

That it is expedient to provide that section 17 of the Customs tariff, 1897, shall be repealed on and after the first day of August, in the present year, 1898, and that the following section shall be substituted therefor :

17. Articles which are the growth, product, or manufacture of any of the following countries may, when imported direct into Canada from any of such countries, be entered for duty or taken out of warehouse for consumption in Canada at the reduced rate of duty provided in the British preferential tariff, set forth in schedule D to this Act.

(a) The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

(b) The British colony of Bermuda.

(c) The British colonies commonly called the British West Indies, including the following :

The Bahamas, Jamaica, Turk's Island, and the Caicos Islands, the Leeward Islands (Antigua, St. Christopher-Nevis, Dominica, Montserrat, and the Virgin Islands), the Windward Islands (Grenada, St. Vincent, and St. Lucia), Barbadoes, Trinidad, and Tobago, British Guiana.

(d) Any other British colony or possession the Customs tariff of which, on the whole, is as favorable to Canada as the British preferential tariff herein referred to is to such colony or possession. Provided, however, that manufactured articles to be admitted under such preferential tariff shall be bona fide the manufactures of a country or countries entitled to the benefits of such tariff, and that such benefits shall not extend to the importation of articles into the production of which there has not entered a substantial portion of the labor of such countries. Any question that may arise as to any article being entitled to such benefits shall be decided by the Minister of Customs, whose decision shall be final.

2. The Minister of Customs, with the approval of the Governor-in-Council, shall determine what British colonies or possessions shall be entitled to the benefits of the preferential tariff under clause D of this section.

3. The Minister of Customs may, with the approval of the Governor-in-Council, make such regulations as may be deemed necessary for carrying out the intention of this section.

That it is expedient to provide that schedule D to "The Customs Tariff, 1897," shall be repealed on and after the 1st day of August, in the present year, 1898, and that the following schedule shall be substituted therefor :

That it is expedient to provide that on and after the first day of July, in the present year, 1898, the following items shall be added to schedule B to "The Customs Tariff, 1897":

636—Tobacco, manufactured, for excise purposes, under conditions of the Inland Revenue Act.

That it is expedient to provide that on and after the first day of July, in the present year, 1898, in addition to the excise duties at present levied on manufactured tobacco, cigars, and cigarettes, there shall be levied and collected the following excise duties, that is to say:

(a) On all foreign raw leaf tobacco, unstemmed, taken out of warehouse for manufacture in any cigar or tobacco manufactory, 10c. per lb.

(b) On all foreign raw leaf tobacco, stemmed, taken out of warehouse for manufacture in any cigar or tobacco manufactory, 14c. per lb.

Provided, that the weight upon which such duty shall be computed shall be with reference to the standard mentioned in paragraph (c) of section 247 of the Inland Revenue Act.

IMPROPERLY CURED CURRANTS.

A paper expressing the opinion of the New York importers relative to the shipment of improperly cured Greek currants has been forwarded through the Grecian Consul at this port to the Government at Athens through Mr. J. A. Hawkesworth. The paper, it is understood, contained the signatures of all of the importers, and requested that the Grecian Government should fix a date for first shipments at such a time as would preclude the possibility of the sending to this market of improperly cured fruit. This action was taken in sympathy with a similar movement on the part of the London importers. In past years it has been the practice to hurry the goods to market with the result that sufficient time was not allowed for curing, and both importers and consumers suffered from the deterioration of the imperfectly prepared stock, the impression being given that these early shipments represented the general quality of the crop. To prevent such misunderstandings in the future, the Greek Government is now asked to prevent shipments until such a date that no fruit other than that thoroughly cured will go out at the beginning of the season.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

CANADA'S DIRECT TEA IMPORTS.

THE British Customs House returns show that the exports of Indian and Ceylon tea to Canada from the United Kingdom are declining.

From June 1 last to the end of February the exports of Indian tea to Canada from the United Kingdom were 653,068 lbs., against 1,160,889 the same period last year, and of Ceylon tea 897,052 lbs., against 1,374,648 lbs.

This means a decrease of 43.7 per cent. in Indian teas and a decrease of 34.7 per cent. in Ceylon teas.

A reference to the trade returns of the Dominion explains the reason for these decreased exports from Great Britain to this country. The fact of the matter is that Canada has been developing the direct importation of tea as well as of a great many other things. The following table gives the quantity and value of tea imported direct from the British East Indies into Canada during the past five years:

	Quantity.	Value.
1894	162,601	31,314
1895	492,010	86,930
1896	1,531,214	221,533
1897	2,406,438	370,429

It will be noted that the quantity imported direct was over 57 per cent. larger in 1897 than in 1896. It is no wonder the exports of tea from Great Britain are falling off.

The same explanation can also be advanced for the decreased exports of China tea from Great Britain to Canada, for while we are using less China grown tea every year, on account of the increased consumption of Indian and Ceylon teas, our imports direct from China have increased materially during the past five years, as the subjoined table shows:

	Quantity.	Value.
1894	4,460,087	584,276
1895	4,425,302	584,056
1897	5,417,259	640,515

The quantity of China tea exported from Great Britain to the Dominion from June 1 to the end of February last was 696,838 lbs., against 2,284,108 lbs. the same period in 1896-7. And it is worthy of note that this decrease of nearly 70 per cent. is not even begun to be made up by the direct importations from China.

While the quantity of teas we import direct is increasing, so also are the total importations, the quantity we brought in for home consumption during the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1897, being 24,317,104 lbs., valued at $3,310,358, against 22,667,555 lbs., valued at $3,252,133 in 1896. The following table gives the character of the imports for 1896 and 1897:

	Quantity. 1896.	Quantity. 1897.
Black, imported direct from country of production	11,257,684	13,722,038
Black, n.e.s.	107,244	127,175
Green and Japan, imported direct from country of production	11,153,230	10,327,812
Green and Japan, n.e.s.	149,397	140,079
Total	22,667,555	24,317,104

SHORT OF CANNED TOMATOES.

There are not many features in connection with the canned tomato situation at the moment; but among the few there are, the most interesting is the condition of stocks in wholesalers' hands in Toronto.

Most of the wholesalers in the "Queen City" have, doubtless, a fair supply, but during the past week the fact has been developed that some houses are practically without any tomatoes.

At any rate, at least two firms have been buying from their brother wholesalers, and in some instances from retailers who have large stocks.

Although business in canned tomatoes is still quiet, a little more enquiry has been heard during the last week or ten days.

TEA SALES IN COLOMBO.

THE quantity of tea brought to auction in Colombo, Ceylon, from January 1 to February 24, was 76,057 packages, aggregating 5,968,805 pounds. Of this, 55,636 packages, aggregating 4,370,947 pounds, were sold. Last year the quantity offered was 73,893 packages, aggregating 5,958,321 pounds, while the quantity sold was 4,759,098 pounds. It will thus be seen that while the quantity offered was larger than in 1897 the quantity sold was less.

The average of complete invoices sold was 38c. per pound.

The total quantity of Ceylon tea afloat to the United Kingdom, on March 4, was 8,646,796 pounds, and to Australia and New Zealand, 987,845 pounds.

While a merchant is wasting time watching his competitors his own business walks away from him.

STOCKS OF CANNED SALMON.

A STATEMENT has been going the round of the press, during the past week or two, to the effect that stocks of canned salmon in shippers' hands, in British Columbia, aggregated 74,000 cases.

In spite of the fact that the pack of 1897 was the largest on record, namely, 1,015,477 cases, the announcement that there were still 74,000 cases on the Coast surprised those who have been watching the canned salmon market closely.

With a view to having the figures corroborated or corrected, a Toronto house wired to British Columbia, and they have received a telegram in reply stating that the stocks were 45,000 cases, instead of 74,000 cases, and that this quantity was booked to be shipped to Great Britain by a vessel which leaves this month for Liverpool.

A year ago, it is worth pointing out, the stock of salmon on the Coast was 7,850 cases, or about 10.3 per cent. of the total pack, while the proportion now remaining, namely, 45,000 cases, is only 4 per cent. of the whole.

The merchant who is abreast of the times is always ahead of some of his competitors, and is never unplaced in the business race.

THE PREFERENTIAL TARIFF ON WEST INDIA GOODS.

IN its issue of March 4 last THE CANADIAN GROCER urged the Dominion Government to extend the provisions of the preferential tariff to raw sugars, the product of the British West Indies, British Guiana, and other British colonies.

By a reference to the tariff resolutions, published in another column, it will be noticed that this suggestion has been concurred in by the Administration.

The action of the Government is to be commended, and will, undoubtedly, redound to the advantage of this country.

In Great Britain it is certain to prove popular, for it assists the Imperial Government in relieving the necessities of the West India sugar planters, while the preferential tariff should lead to that expansion of the Dominion's trade with the British West Indies which has been so long sought for.

As pointed out in our issue of March 4, Canada's imports of raw sugar from the West Indies is only about 8 per cent. of the whole. Our imports last year were as follows :

	Quantity in pounds.
Great Britain	551,034
British Guiana	3,283,382
British West Indies	20,317,636
Austria	13,303,140
Belgium	13,351,506
Brazil	2,158,154
China	6,932
Egypt	32,777
Dutch East Indies	29,687,166
Germany	98,084,985
Peru	4,534 225
Spanish West Indies	5,964,579
Spanish possessions, other	43,415,435
United States	42,033,125
	276,724,076

With the tariff on West India sugars one-fourth lower than on those from foreign countries Canada will, in all probability, increase her purchases from the former and decrease them from the latter.

It will be noticed that the preferential tariff is not confined to sugar, but extends to the products generally of the West Indies, British Guiana, etc. The following brief table shows the present value of Canada's trade—imports and exports—with the West Indies and British Guiana, according to the trade returns for 1897 :

	Imports.	Exports.
British West Indies	$1,057,489	$1 445,449
British Guiana	102,700	271,457

Now, the United States in 1897 sent $7,943,477 worth of goods, etc., to the British West Indies, and $2,063,946 to British Guiana, while the imports from these two sources were $12,285,885 and $4,706,-781, respectively.

There is, therefore, evidently plenty of room for trade expansion between these British possessions and Canada. And we may with reason look for the expansion.

Soldiers may want war, but what business men want is business.

EGG EXPORTS TO BRITAIN.

IN another column we print an article from The Grocers' Journal, of London, Eng., in which Canadian eggs come in for a great deal of praise.

The British market has by no means yet become to us for eggs what the United States market was before the duty of 5c. per dozen, under the McKinley tariff, went into operation, but complimentary remarks like those from The Grocers' Journal should encourage egg exporters in this country to persevere.

The exports of eggs from Canada to Great Britain during the past five years are as follows :

	Quantity in doz.	Value.
1893	4,104,632	$538,944
1894	3,449,243	503,533
1895	4,184,271	524,577
1896	5,585,725	704,768
1897	6,939,496	923,965

With one exception each year shows an increase over its predecessor, while the increase in 1897 over 1893 was over 68 per cent., a result most gratifying.

The exports of eggs to the United States during the same period show results to the very opposite. Here are the figures :

	Quantity in doz.	Value.
1893	2,664,942	$324,355
1894	1,611,883	199,638
1895	2,256,519	275,828
1897	479,258	47,623

In 1890, the year the McKinley tariff went into operation, Canada's exports of eggs to the United States were 12,825,735 dozen, valued at $1,793,104. All we sent to Great Britain in that year, however, were 3,600 dozen, valued at $860.

We here see, comparing the exports of 1897 with those of 1890, a decrease in quantity in the one instance of over 96 per cent. and an increase in the other of about 250 times.

A LOOSE LAW.

IN THE CANADIAN GROCER of two weeks ago there appeared a communication, signed "One Interested," dealing with the fact that in the charter of some incorporated companies is a clause declaring that the business shall be an exclusively cash one, officers being withheld from either buying or selling on credit.

No one will scarcely disapprove of the principle of buying and selling for cash. "Cash" is the slogan of modern business men. But the utmost caution is necessary to prevent the dishonestly disposed, who may be connected with such concerns, from making the provisions of the charter a medium whereby they can escape paying their honest debts.

That there is need of such caution is evident from the letter of "One Interested," who is the head of one of the largest manufacturing firms of its kind in Canada.

All incorporated companies having this non-credit clause in their charters may not be dishonest. In fact, no one would even dream they were. But it is evident all are not honest. Honesty and the desire to escape liabilities through a technicality are not compatible. And when the law opens a door through which these technicalities can be brought in and paraded as reasons for not payment of debts, it is evident that there is a screw loose somewhere in the law.

The Act under which these charters are obtained should also provide the ways and means of preventing the peculiar privileges granted from being prostituted to the injury of the mercantile community. At any rate those doing business under such charters should not be allowed to use them as a place of refuge, after they had themselves stepped outside the stipulated bounds.

In the meantime business men would do well to see they are not caught in the same trap as "One Interested."

THE DUTY ON VEGETABLES.

The Customs duty on tomatoes and other vegetables in cans is 1½c. per lb. On vegetables it is 25 per cent. ad valorem.

A number of importers have been passing their entries on evaporated vegetables at 1½c. per lb., and in consequence the Department has instructed the Collectors of Customs at the various ports that evaporated vegetables come under clause 43, and 25 per cent. is to be charged.

A large amount of evaporated vegetables has been imported for the Klondyke.

THE SUGAR DUTY.

SUGAR is the only article in the duty of which the Government has made a change. And the change it has decided upon is a radical one, for not only is the duty increased on both raw and refined sugars, but the polariscope test has been inaugurated as well.

The adoption of the polariscope test is a further concession to the West India sugar producers, and the Government recognized that in adopting it, as the following extract from Mr. Fielding's budget speech proves:

There is another matter on which we think we can do a little to help the people of the West Indies. The present method of levying the sugar duties in Canada operates unfavorably to the sugar trade with the West Indies. The duty is a flat specific duty of one-half cent a pound on raw sugar; it admits of very large variations and very large injustice. A sugar testing by the polariscope 75 degrees is worth 86 cents per 100 pounds, and 60 cents duty represents 58 per cent. Sugar testing 96 degrees is worth $2.27 per 100 pounds; 50 cents duty represents 22 per cent., as against 58 per cent. on the lower grade. I do not pretend that we can have absolute equality in these matters, but it will be admitted that the system of levying duties operates unequally. We have for some years in Conada had the polariscope test and learn from the Customs authorities and all from whom I have asked information that it works very well. Then for several years sugar was free. In 1895 one-half cent per pound was levied. The duty was a small one, and I can readily understand that one might imagine that there could not be very much inequality in applying it, but experience has shown that even with half a cent a pound there is inequality of duty against sugars of the lower grades. A considerable quantity of the West Indies sugar is not of high grade. Raw sugar is a raw material for the production of food, and I have no particular desire to legislate against it, inasmuch as there is a considerable quantity of low grade sugar, not so low as 75 degrees, but of moderately low grades, on the market. It is not the business of Canada to turn away the trade which this sugar offers. * * * * * * We, therefore, propose to return to the polariscope system, used in Canada so successfully a few years ago; we propose to begin at the limit of 75 degrees by polariscope tests, and charge for that degree, or anything below it, a duty of 40c. per 100 lbs., and we add 1½c. for each additional degree. The average test of raw sugar used in Canada to-day is, so far as we can obtain information, 92 degrees by the polariscope. That information comes from my friends the refiners, who possess the best knowledge. One gave 91¾ and the other 92 degrees. Assuming that to be the correct average, and applying our new scale of duties to the present consumption of sugar in Canada, we would find that on 92 degrees sugar the duty will be 65½c. per 100 lbs., as against 50c. per 100 lbs. under the present tariff. At 92, if we take that as proper, the duty would be 65½c. per 100 lbs. But there must be considered in that connection the preferential tariff to which I have referred, and which will take effect as regards the West India sugar after the first day of August next. If we deduct that preferential tariff from the 65½c. per 100 lbs., the quarter of it under the preferential rate will be 16 37-50, which will leave the preferential rate at 49⅛c., as against the existing rate of 50c. per 100 lbs. That is to say, upon so much of our sugar consumption as we may be able to obtain from the British West Indies under the new order of things there will be no increase, but, on the contrary, there will be a slight reduction of duty, it being, if the average as given to me is correct, 49⅛c. as against 50c. in the present tariff. But, as respects that portion of the sugar which may not come from the West Indies, but which may come from other countries, there will, of course, be the small increase I have mentioned.

It will be remembered that when the tariff was changed in 1896, the West India producers protested against the duty on sugar as discriminating against them, and the results have shown that it did. While, however, the Canadian tariff indirectly discriminated against West India sugars the new United States tariff, on the other hand, indirectly discriminated in favor of West India sugars by adopting the polariscope test, as the Dominion Government has now done. The result of this action on the part of the United States was that West India sugars were diverted from Canadian to United States ports.

Just what the full effect of the new sugar duties will be can scarcely yet be determined, but, it will undoubtedly result in at least a diminished importation of foreign refined sugars which have been coming into Canada so freely of late. Hence it should be satisfactory to the refiner.

GOOD FRUIT CROPS IN SPAIN.

MR. R. F. BEVAN, of W. C. Bevan & Co., Malaga, Spain, made a flying visit to Toronto on Tuesday, and in company with his Toronto representative, Mr. J. Lockart Watt, called upon the wholesale trade.

"I came to get kicked," he jocularly remarked, "but I have received nothing but compliments."

In reply to a query as to the outlook for next season's fruit crops in Spain, Mr. Bevan said: "As a result of the rains we have had all through Spain this winter, we are promised a large crop of fruit of good quality. During the past two years we have suffered a great deal from drouth. Last year we practically had no rain. The rains we have had this winter are particularly good for the raisins, tending, as it does, to give them size, which is, of course, an important consideration."

Referring to nuts, he said that the easy market for Jordan almonds was due to Spanish speculation. "There are very few Valencia almonds," he added. "I doubt if you could get one hundred boxes in Spain for prompt shipment. I tried to get a lot for a New York house the other day, and failed. Shipments of Valencia almonds from Malaga have been enormous this season owing to the short crop in Sicily."

THE GOVERNMENT'S DUTY.

THE plea of the Government that it cannot take the insolvency bill under its care is not the less weak because it is specious.

No question about it, there are a good many members of the House who are opposed to the measure, but if that argument is sufficient to deter the Government from shouldering the responsibility of the insolvency bill it should be sufficient as well to deter it from shouldering any and every measure to which opposition is likely to arise. What is sause for the goose should be sauce for the gander.

The enactment of an insolvency law is necessary, not only for the establishment of ways and means for the safer transaction of business, but it is demanded for the purpose of securing for the business community in Canada a higher standing in Great Britain among the commercial classes than it now possesses.

There is no question that the present condition of affairs tends to retard British trade with Canada. Manufacturers and merchants in the Motherland realize that the great want of Canada is an efficient insolvency law. This was demonstrated beyond all peradventure by the deputation of business men which waited upon the Minister of Finance while he was in London, England, and again during the meeting of the British Empire League in the same city.

It is evident that, unless the Government interests itself in the matter, there is little or no hope of the bill, now before the House, even coming up for a third reading. It is a matter which effects the honor of Canada as well as the convenience of its own merchants. And the Dominion Government should not swerve from its duty because opposition to the bill is likely to be met with in the House.

Mr. Fred. J. Castle, who has lately been managing the Toronto branch of Lightbound, Ralston & Co., is removing to Ottawa, where he starts out for himself as an importer of Indian and Ceylon teas.

Mr. Castle began life in the tea trade, in New York, about twenty-three years ago. The other day he showed THE CANADIAN GROCER an invoice of a $924 order for tea which he took from a Walkerton, Ont., merchant, in November. 1876, and it is interesting to note that in the lot was some Japan dust, which sold at 20c. per pound. To-day is is worth about one-fourth that sum. Mr. Castle at one time traveled for Kinloch, Lindsay & Co., of Montreal.

STEPPING CAREFULLY

That's the way successful merchants make any progress in business. Every step is carefully considered before it is made.

The Regent plan for increasing business has been used by so many successful merchants that the most conservative need not hesitate to adopt it.

The plan is to give every customer a coupon representing the amount of his purchase, and when a customer has accumulated $25 worth of coupons, the merchant redeems them with a piece of silverware or a clock.

If attractive premiums are offered the plan never fails to bring new customers into the store.

That is one reason why we sell so much silverware for this purpose.

Another reason is the price of the silverware. We will sell you the

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, April 7, 1898.

GROCERIES.

ALTHOUGH trade in wholesale groceries is still quiet, it has, during the past week, developed a little more activity, and business men are anticipating a steady improvement from this out. A little more enquiry is being heard for canned tomatoes, and some of the wholesale houses on the street are practically without any supplies at the moment, if we are to judge by the fact that a couple of them have been buying this week from other houses. A little more demand is also to be noted for sugar, although the market is still quiet in this line. Syrups and molasses are receiving little or no attention. Rice is in fair demand, and firmer in the outside markets. Coffees are firm in price, and they are meeting with a fair demand from retailers. Representatives of shipping houses report that there have been a good many sales of Ceylon teas during the past few days, but the chief buyers have been tea packers. The currant market is firm at the recent decline, and some transactions have taken place during the past week. Valencia raisins are selling fairly well. California evaporated fruits continue to meet with a fair demand. So do prunes of the same growth.

CANNED GOODS.

The feature of the canned goods market this week is the fact that a couple of the wholesale houses have been compelled to purchase supplies from their fellow merchants. In addition to purchases from their fellow wholesalers, they have also taken a few lots from retailers who have large stocks. Wholesalers' ideas as to price are still $1.20 to $1.25. There have been some offers of canned corn at 85c., but we hear of no transactions. Business in all other canned goods is much as it was a week ago.

SYRUPS, MOLASSES.

This is about the time when trade opens up in syrups and molasses. So far, however, there is very little doing. The refineries are offering bright syrups but they are experiencing little or no demand.

SUGAR.

Nothwithstanding the uncertainty in regard to the tariff, business during the past week has been a little more active than it was, although business is still light. In addition to the small lots wanted, there have been some carloads moving. The outside markets have, on the whole, been stronger. On Friday last, beet advanced ¾ to 2¼d. in London, and soft refined sugars in New York were marked up 1-16c. On Saturday, while beet in London declined ¾d. all refined sugars in New York advanced 1-16c. per lb.

NUTS.

A cable quotes Tarragona almonds 5s. dearer for prompt shipment. The advance is caused, it is understood, by damage by frost to the crops. On the local market there is no feature worthy of particular mention.

RICE, TAPIOCA, SAGO.

Advices received in Toronto this week, from Holland, announce an advance of 1s. in Java rice, and rice of all descriptions appears to be firm in the primary and terminal markets. Some fresh shipments of Patna rice have been received in Toronto during the past few days. The local demand is fairly good, and prices are unchanged.

COFFEE.

The coffee market continues to improve, as far as price is concerned. Rio coffees are fully ¼c. per lb. dearer in the primary markets than they were a week ago, and good selections of this description are difficult to obtain, which is taken as an indication that deliveries are pretty well over. Maracaibo coffees are also firm. Local wholesalers report the demand fair, with quotations as before.

SPICES.

The local market keeps quiet, and in the outside markets prices are much as they were before. Nutmegs and cloves, particularly, appear to be firm.

TEAS.

While the market is still quiet, representatives of shipping houses report increased transactions in Ceylon teas. Some good parcels have changed hands during the past week. The purchasers appear to have been chiefly package tea houses.. Anything in low and medium grades showing good value has been picked up. Spot teas are pretty well reduced, and those who are in a position to know, claim that there are a thousand packages of Ceylon teas in first hands in Toronto. A few transactions are reported in low grade China Congous at from 8 to 8½c. per lb. It seems difficult to get any more than 9 to 10c. per lb. for anything in the way of China black teas just now. Wholesalers also report an improved demand for teas. Japans are moving well in the country, and there is a good steady demand for Indian and Ceylon teas. Advices from London, England. under date of March 25, state that the chief demand in Indian teas is for good liquoring descriptions, while poor kinds still rule low in price. In Ceylon teas only 19,839 packages were brought forward for auction against 27,544 the previous week, and as the demand was good prices were generally firm.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS—The market, which had been a little easier, is now firm at the recent decline. A bid of 6d. per cwt., under the regular quotation, was refused this week. A good many sales for shipment by the spring steamer to Montreal are reported. The retail demand is fairly good and is fully up to what it usually is at this time of the year.

VALENCIA RAISINS—Goods on the spot are selling well this week, although wholesalers report the retail demand light. There is no change in prices.

PRUNES — The demand for California prunes is good. The smaller sizes are most wanted. Prices are without change.

CALIFORNIA EVAPORATED FRUITS — Representatives of shipping houses report that business is not as brisk as it was, and state that the demand is principally for peaches which are now more wanted on account of their low price. In consequence of the higher prices for apricots and peaches on the Coast, local wholesalers are not as much inclined, as they were a few weeks ago, to cut prices.

GREEN FRUITS.

Business is quiet, oranges, lemons and bananas moving slowly on account of the cold weather. An advance in California navels is noted this week. This is caused by the fact that on account of the warm weather in the west, oranges shipped from California have to be sent in refrigerator cars, at an increase in the cost per box of at least 28c. Strawberries are on the market, and are moving slowly at 15c. for pints, and 30c. for quarts.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The supply is abundant, yet jobbers advise holders to rush all eggs in for Easter trade, as the demand is active.

POTATOES—The weakness noted last week has developed into a decline of 3 to 5c. for carload lots, which are now offered freely at 50 to 52c. per bag. The offerings on the market are also abundant, the price paid ranging from 55 to 65c.

DRIED APPLES—The market continues dull, with quotations for good stock still from 3 to 4c., although some dealers ask 5c. for choice lots.

EVAPORATED APPLES—A few sales of 10-case lots are noted at 9c., but the market generally is quoted at from 9 to 10c.

BEANS—Business is quiet. The general quotation for hand-picked is from 80 to 90c., though some houses ask as high as $1 for choice stock. Lima beans are moving slowly at 3½ to 4c. per lb.

HONEY—Trade is fair, with prices firm and unchanged.

POULTRY—There is very little stock offering. The demand is likewise small.

MAPLE SYRUP — The supply has been moderate, and the demand fair. Prices are unchanged. We quote syrup as follows: Imperial 5-gal. tins, 80 to 90c. per gal.; imperial 1-gal. tins, 80 to 95c.; wine 1-gal. tins, 60 to 65c. New sugar is quoted at 8 to 10c.

VEGETABLES—Celery is scarce. Rhubarb and radishes are moving. Prices are unchanged. We quote: Rhubarb, 75 to 90c. per doz. bunches; onions, 10c. doz. bunches; lettuce, 20 to 30c. doz. bunches; radishes, 40 to 60c. doz. bunches; celery, 75c. to $1 doz. bunches; cabbage, 25 to 30c. doz.; parsley, 15 to 20c. doz. bunches.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—There is a steady improvement in the delivery of butter, but it is not yet coming forward freely enough to affect prices.

CHEESE—A steadier feeling is manifested, though no quotable change in price is yet noted.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

A good Easter trade is reported by all packers, some houses working day and night to keep up to orders. Hogs are still coming forward liberally, with a decline of 25c. for both light and heavyweights being noted.

GRAIN, FLOUR, BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—There is a firmer feeling noted in the market for red and white wheat. This week's quotation on cars outside are as follows: Wheat, red winter, 85 to 86c.; white winter, 85 to 86c.; goose, 80 to 83c. The street market is quiet, the principal deliveries being in peas and oats. We quote the street market as follows: Wheat, red, 87 to 89c., straight; white, 86 to 87c.; goose, 82 to 84½c.; peas, 55 to 56c.; barley, 35 to 36c.; oats, 30 to 33c.; rye, 50c. No. 1 hard wheat is steady at $1.08 Toronto and Montreal freights, or $1.05 Midland.

FLOUR—The market is quiet. We quote: Manitoba patents, $5.30 to $5.40; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.90 to $5; Ontario patents, $4.65 to $4.75; straight roller, $4 to $4.10, Toronto freights.

BREAKFAST FOODS — Business is quiet. An advance of 35c. is noted in pot barley, and a decline of 15c. in cornmeal. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.90 in bags and $4.00 in bbls.; rolled wheat, $2.75 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $2.50; split peas, $3.50; pot barley, $3.25.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Business continues in much the same channels as during the past two or three weeks, the season for winter fish hanging on because of the cold weather noted this week. Manitoba whitefish and trout are in good demand. We quote: Oysters, $1.25 per gal.; fresh trout, 6½ to 7c. per lb; steak trout, 7c.; fresh steak cod, 6 to 6½c. per lb.; pickerel, 6c. per lb.; fresh pike, 5½c. per lb.; fresh perch, 5½c. per lb.; fresh herring, 3½c. per lb.; Labrador herring, $5.50 per bbl. and $3 per half-bbl.; split herring, $5 per bbl. and $2.75 to $3 per half-bbl.; sea herring, $1.30 to $1.35 per 100; boneless codfish, 3½ to 5c. per lb; pure cod, 6½ to 6¾c. per lb.; fresh water herring (heads off), $2.50 per keg; ciscoes, $1.25 to $1.35; Manitoba frozen whitefish, 6½ to 7c. per lb.; smelts, No. 2, 4c.; No. 1, 6c.; extras, 10c.; flounders, 5c. per lb.. haddies, 5½ to 6c. per lb.; fresh haddock, 5c. per lb.;

SEEDS.

The cold weather of the past week has retarded jobbing trade, and as it has improved the roads somewhat, the offerings are large, the consequence being that the market is dull and prices weak. Jobbers are buying red clover at $2.75 to $3.25. For timothy $1 to $1.50 is paid, with 50c. extra for occasional choice lots. Alsike is quoted all the way from $2 to $4.50, as the quality varies greatly.

SALT.

Business is good, with prices firm and unchanged. We quote: Carload lots, $1.05 per bbl., and 65c. per sack; less than carload lots, $1.10 per bbl., and 70c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B., barrels, 75c.; sacks, 45c.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

HIDES—There is nothing doing. Stocks are accummulating, the consequence being that a decline of ½c. is noted this week, and a further decline next week is anticipated. We quote: No. 1, 7½c.; No. 2, 6½c.; No. 3, 5½c.

CALFSKINS—We quote as follows: No. 1 veal, 8 lbs. and up, 10c. per lb.; No. 2, 8c.; Dekins, from 30 to 35c.; culls, 15 to 20c.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, April 7, 1898.

GROCERIES.

THE wholesale grocery trade has, if anything, been duller than it was last week, but it is expected to pick up toward the close of the present week. In sugar, while outside advices rule firm, the local market is entirely unaffected by outside influences. Syrup continues dull, while Barbadoes molasses at the Island has advanced 1c. per gallon, and is cabled firm at the rise. Dried fruits generally are quiet and unchanged, and the same can be said of coffee. Tea has exhibited rather more activity from first to second hands, and rice has been fairly enquired for also. Spice are firm in tone but quiet, and there has been no change in country produce except a decline of ½ to 1c. in maple sugar.

SUGAR.

The local refined sugar market is entirely oblivious to any movement of the outside markets, and is precisely where it was a week ago. Demand continues slow and the volume of trade is limited for the season. In a jobbing way granulated has sold at 4 5-16 and domestic yellows at 3¼ to 4c., as to grade. Raw sugar has exhibited quite a lot of activity on outside markets, and recent private cables have been rather firmer in tone than they were at the time of last writing. There has been little change either in beet or cane stock, beet in London being quoted at 9s ¾d for April, and May, 9s 2¼d. Cane steady, little doing. Java 11s 3d; fair refining, 9s 9d.

SYRUPS.

There is no change in syrups which we quote at a normal range of 1½ to 2½c., as to grade. Stocks are very light both in first and second hands.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market is much firmer, and cables from the Islands on Monday noted an advance of 1c., 17c. being asked at the Island, which means 24c. per gallon landed here ex ship. A private cable quoted 17c. cost and freight, and withdrew all offers from the market. A letter, under date of March 22, says: The market continues to rule very firm, with an active demand at our last quotation. We have had very bad reaping weather during the past fortnight, owing to the absence of wind, so that, with the active demand and scarcity of stock, we have not been able to get control of sufficient stock to make you an offer. As noted last week, the jobbers here have reduced their prices, and sales for immediate delivery are made at 25c. in small lots. To arrive, they are asking 23 to 24c. for new crop, according to quantity ex wharf.

CANNED GOODS.

Firm offers have again been made for tomatoes this week on behalf of buyers in the west, but jobbers here are not inclined to accept them. The jobbing demand continues of a slow, indifferent kind, retail buyers only taking what they actually want at the moment. Prices all round are firmly held.

TEAS.

There has been considerable enquiry for tea during the past week from the jobbing trade, and it has resulted in the movement of fair quantities of Ping Suey Young Hyson from first hands all the way from 12 to 15c. Altogether the tea market shows more signs of activity and a steady improvement is looked forward to, because it is believed that jobbers have worked off stocks to a great extent and are now more willing to operate. Values generally are firmly held.

SPICES.

The main feature of the spice market has been the firmer cables on black pepper for prompt shipment. Business here has been quiet and values show no alteration.

COFFEE.

Trade in green coffee continues of a limited character and the roasters also state that demand is light in their case. Buyers, as a rule, appear to have ample stocks on hand, and until they are worked off, no activity is looked for. Some round lots of Maracaibo sold this week at 10c.

RICE.

Demand for rice continues good and the market is active and firm. Advices from the Carolinas, received here, state that the position is much the same as it was a month ago.

DRIED FRUIT.

There has been no change in currants and business is dull, both from first and second hands. In fact, jobbers here appear to have all they want for some time to come.

Valencia raisins continue quiet with prices unchanged.

California raisins continue quiet and featureless.

The prune market is steady for all sorts. Supplies of European stock are becoming well reduced, but there are a sufficiency of California prunes on the market.

There is a fair jobbing enquiry for figs and dates, and values unchanged.

GREEN FRUIT.

There is a steady satisfactory trade in green fruit of all sorts. Early vegetables such as asparagus, tomatoes and celery, meet with a good demand, while oranges show improved sales at former prices. Lemons show an upward tendency and with freer receipts. Bananas are rather easier. Pineapples are in better supply than last week.

APPLES.

The apple market rules steady, at $4 to $4.50 for firsts, and $2 to $3 for seconds.

DRIED APPLES.

Unchanged, at 5 to 6½c. for dried, and 10c. for evaporated.

FISH.

The season is practically over for fish, and stocks here have been pretty well cleaned up. Quotations are practically nominal in most cases.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There has been a decided improvement in the demand for eggs, which is, no doubt, due to the near approach of Easter, and buyers have commenced laying in supplies, as the indications are that prices are as low as they are going to be. The market was active, and sales were made freely at 10 to 10½c. per dozen.

BEANS—The demand for beans is of a very limited character, and the market is quiet and featureless. In a jobbing way primes are selling at 75 to 80c., and choice hand-picked at 85 to 90c. per bushel.

HONEY—There was no improvement in the demand for honey, and the market is very quiet. We quote: White clover comb, 11 to 12c.; dark, 8 to 10c.; white strained, 6 to 7c., and dark, 4 to 5c.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—Demand has been good, but with increased receipts some further declines in prices are noted. We quote: Syrup, in gallon tins, 45 to 50c. for new, and 35 to 40c. for old; and in bulk, 4½ to 5c. per lb.; sugar, 6c. for new and 3c. for old, per lb.

POTATOES — Steady, but quiet, at 70 to 75c. in small lots.

ONIONS—Dull and unchanged, at $2.25 per bbl.

PROVISIONS.

A somewhat improved demand has been experienced in the local provision market, for smoked meats, which is due, no doubt, to the near approach of Easter, and some fair sized orders were booked. In pork, trade continues slow, but a fair business is doing in lard. We quote as follows: Canadian pork, $16 to $16.50 per barrel; pure Canadian lard, in pails, at 8¼ to 8½c., and compound refined at 5½ to 5¾c. per lb.; hams, 11½ to 12c.; bacon, 12c. per lb.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

The flour market is much lower for Ontario brands, owing to recent depression in wheat and a decision to induce business and clear up stocks. We quote as follows: Winter wheat, patents $4.65 to $4.85; straight rollers, $4.30 to $4.40; bags, $2.15 to $2.20; Manitoba flours were unchanged, $4.90 for strong bakers' and $5.30 for patents.

Business in meal shows no improvement, the demand being still only for small lots, and prices are unchanged, rolled oats selling at $4 per barrel, and at $1.95 per bag.

GRAIN AND FEED.

The grain market remains much as it was a week ago, except that Ontario wheat has stiffened during the past day or so, and is now higher than it was a week ago. We quote: No. 2 white oats, 33¼ to 33½c., ex store; 34½ to 35c. afloat, May delivery; peas, 65 to 66c. afloat, May; buckwheat, 45½ to 46c. ex store. Ontario red wheat, 84 to 85c., and white, 82 to 83c. along the line.

Feed is lower, under increased receipts. We quote: Ontario winter wheat bran, $14 to $14.50; shorts, $16 per ton in bulk; Manitoba bran, $14, and shorts, $16 per ton, including bags.

A fairly active trade was done in good to choice grades of baled hay, and prices are fully maintained at $11 to $11.50 for No. 1, and at $8.50 to $9 for No. 2 per ton in car lots.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

BUTTER—The firm disposition of the butter market continues unabated, and there is considerable speculation as to the probability of prices going much higher previous to the time when the output from the factories commences to increase materially in volume. As noted already receipts are, and have been light, and the local demand more than sufficient to absorb all that was offered, the result being the present high range of values. The prediction is made, however, that before the middle of next week, there will be an appreciable expansion in the volume of receipts, as a large number of creameries that have not yet been in operation started this week, and they will have goods for sale by the end of next week. It will be interesting to note whether this will have the effect expected, by some traders, of producing a lower range of values. Finest creamery sells at 22c., and prices run down from that figure to 18c., according to the quality of the goods.

CHEESE—The cheese market shows little change, business ruling dull with nothing encouraging from the other side. Buyers are willing to negotiate at 7½c., and we understand that a line of over 500 boxes eastern makes changed hands at that price to-day. In New York, exporters appear to be getting better bargains than they can here, that is in the matter of price. They are ready purchasers there of stock showing good value at 7c., and have bid 7¼c for fancy large cheese, but holders of such quality generally ask 7½c. for colored, and 7¾c. for white, but are anxious sellers at these figures.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Maple sugar under increased receipts has declined from ½ to 1c.

The market at Barbadoes has advanced 1c. per gallon to 17c. for molasses.

Cables on cane sugar are firm, but the local market is entirely unaffected by outside influences.

BEET SUGAR EXPERIMENTS.

Washington, April 2. — President McKinley sent to Congress, on April 1, a report of Secretary Wilson on the beet sugar experiments of the Government. The Secretary says that during the past five years the people of the United States have paid to foreign producers over half a million dollars for imported sugars. Last year the total domestic product was 335,656 tons; total refined product of beet sugar, 1,760,607 tons; making the total consumption for that year 2,096,263 tons. Of that, 45 per cent. was beet sugar. The Secretary concludes that the facts and figures presented in the voluminous document justify devotion of time, money and talents to the development of the industry, inasmuch as the total amount of sugar now imported into the United States can be produced upon 1,000,000 acres devoted to sugar crops.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

WINNIPEG, April 2, 1898.

THE weather has decidedly improved, and for the last few days it has been very springlike, and the fallen snow is disappearing very rapidly. There is little in the way of trade news, barring the facts that trade is good in all lines and prices firm, with prospects of still further advances in some lines.

The frosts in California have affected the price of evaporated apricots. The advance in these goods took place in Chicago and St. Paul two weeks ago, but did not affect prices here until this week.

Klondyke fever rages as fiercely as ever, and the H. B. Co.'s depots at Victoria, Vancouver and Edmonton have doubled their staffs and are working regularly, both night and day shifts, and still they cannot keep abreast of the orders for outfits. The quantity of supplies being laid in by this company and others for Yukon trade is something almost incredible.

Wheat season is practically over, as nothing will now be done until June. Dealers are withdrawing their men from almost all points. Prices of wheat are maintained here with remarkable firmness.

One of the features of interest just now is the enormous sale of farm lands. This land is being sold not only to new settlers coming in, but in very many cases, to resident farmers desiring to increase their holdings. In most cases the cash payment is very satisfactory.

In groceries and provisions there has been little change during the week.

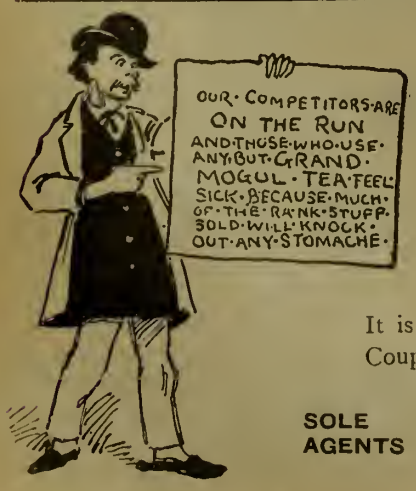
CURED MEATS—This market is very stiff, with little change in prices. American short clear can be laid down cheaper than Canadian long clear. Hams are plentiful, and are selling at 11 to 11½c., according to size; long dry salt, 8½c.; ditto smoked, 8¼c.; fancy bellies, 12c.

LARD—Market very firm, with indications of a sharp advance in the near future. In fact, all quotations on hog products just now are spot.

BUTTER—Anything like No. 1 dairy is scarce and hard to obtain. The prices for this product run from 16c. to as high as 20c., the latter only being paid for small lots of extra gilt edged. The openiug of the creameries is anxiously awaited.

CHEESE—Very little move for the week, though stocks are getting pretty well cleared up. Some Ontario cheese was offered, during the week, at 8½c. point of shipment, but no sales are reported.

EGGS—The two weeks of cold weather have had a decided effect on the supply of this produce, while the near approach of Easter has increased the demand. Through the week dealers paid 13c., but to-day the price rose to 14c., with a still further possible increase for a few days.



CANNED GOODS—The canned vegetable situation has not changed since last week. Those with stocks look on them as good value and are not at all keen on sales.

EVAPORATED FRUITS—As already indicated, California evaporated fruits are on the rise. Apricots stiffened, and are now 10½ to 11½c., with likelihood of a further increase. Peaches for the moment are easier, but there will be no drop. Rather, in sympathy with the apricots, they are likely to go higher. Present quotations are: Unpeeled, 10c.; peeled, 16c.; pears, fancy halves, 11½c.

RAISINS—California loose muscatels, 3-crown, 5¾c.; Valencia raisins, fancy layer, 7c.; fine off-stalk, do, 6c.; currants, 7 to 7½c., according to quality; prunes, small sizes, still scarce; price, 5c. up, according to size and quality.

RICE — No. 1 Japan stock just about exhausted, with no prospects of replenishing it for months to come. Other lines about where they were last week.

CEREALS—Rolled oats are firm at $2.15 per 80-lb. sack; granulated oatmeal, $2.20;

Wasting Your Energies?

If it pays to push an article, it pays to push to some purpose. Time, money, patience, customers, are all lost—if the demand fails when you stop pushing. Wasted energy is a poor reward, when the article fails to back up the "pushing."

No wasted energy in pushing the Crown Brand Flavoring Extracts—once you sell them they create a new customer for all the time—a permanent customer.

COFFEE — Market still weak and dull; Rios, 10c.

POTATOES—Real first-class potatoes are growing scarce. A great deal of the potato crop last season was not all that could be desired and many stocks have not wintered well.

GREEN FRUIT—This market is not showing any new lines at present, but the fine weather has increased trade and wholesale houses are now as busy as bees filling country orders. Prices in all staples are unchanged. Reports have reached here that there is a glut in the Chicago market for oranges and that prices are likely to go lower there, but this will not affect Winnipeg, as, if prices were to go lower here, dealers would not attempt to handle them. Prices are: Apples, Canadian, $4.50 to $4.75; oranges, $3.75 to $4; lemons, $3.75 to $4.25; bananas. $2.50 per bunch; southern celery, lettuce and cucumbers, selling freely.

CLERKS AND COMPUTING SCALES.

The regular meeting of the Montreal Retail Grocery Clerks, was held in St. Joseph hall, April 3, President P. J. Wayland, in the chair.

The following resolution was passed: "That in view of the careful consideration and the practical knowledge of our members, we recognize the Dayton computing scale as being of material benefit to the retail grocers, their customers and grocers' clerks for the following reasons: (1) Its extreme accuracy, and that customers feel more satisfied than with the old system; (2) it places a check on all goods weighed; (3) that we believe that dollar and cent system to be far more convenient and safer than the pound and ounce system; (4) it prevents errors and mistakes in calculation, and facilitates the weighing of goods; (5) that it cleans up a great leakage in the retail grocery business, we believe it to be to the interest of all retail grocers and grocers' clerks to carefully investigate this system."

DEATH OF MR. HEARLE.

The friends of Mr. S. M. Hearle, late of the Hearle Manufacturing Co., Montreal, will regret to hear of his sudden death from pneumonia, that took place at Philadelphia.

Mr. Hearle was the son of the late J. G. Hearle, and he was born in Plymouth, England. He came to Montreal at an early age, and went into the wholesale soap business. Mr. Hearle was sixty years of age, and he leaves a widow, two sons, and a daughter.

TEA STANDARDS DESIRED.

THE following petition to the Hon. the Controller of Customs was laid before a meeting of the Montreal Grocers' Association, held on Wednesday, March 30. The meeting approved the petition, and undertook to forward it to Ottawa, and also to write to the council of the Montreal Board of Trade and to the Chambre de Commerce du district de Montreal, asking that they address the Controller in accordance with the prayer of the petition:

MONTREAL, April 1, 1898.

HON. WM. PATTERSON,
Controller of Customs, Ottawa.

SIR,—We beg most respectfully to draw your attention to the difficulty attending the importation of teas into Canada, under the existing laws and regulations.

This law was framed to prohibit the importation of unsound teas, and the appraisers at different ports of entry have instructions not to admit such which, in their opinion, are unfit for consumption, and, in case of doubt, to forward standards to Ottawa for analysis.

It, however, frequently happens that appraisers are not tea experts, and teas of same leaf, while admitted at one port, are rejected at another. (Note, one case in particular, within the last few weeks, where a shipment from Japan, of an identical tea entered at two different ports, was admitted by one appraiser and rejected by another; samples sent to Ottawa, and rejection confirmed there; while the other portion of the shipment went into consumption.) Comment on such a state of affairs is unnecessary.

Under the existing regulations, and in the absence of standards to go by, nobody is safe, as there is nothing by which one can be guided in making purchases, and it would be extremely disastrous for merchants importing teas from different countries of production, at great expense, to suddenly find, on arrival, that their purchases are, by analysis, unfit for consumption; and, at the same time, have to face the only alternative, confiscation, with the accompanying fine of $200 for each offence.

The remedy we would respectfully suggest is: That the present law be altered, and an infusion test be substituted; standards of the various teas be selected and placed in the hands of importers immediately, through the local appraisers, so as to regulate purchases before opening of the market. By adopting this method merchants will be enabled to avoid present risks and uncertainties.

This practice of standards obtains in the United States and has replaced the chemical test, which was abandoned, being found impractical.

Should the Government adopt the standard system, we would respectfully urge on your consideration that no inferiority in the different grades to those of the United States standard be accepted.

The whole respectfully submitted,

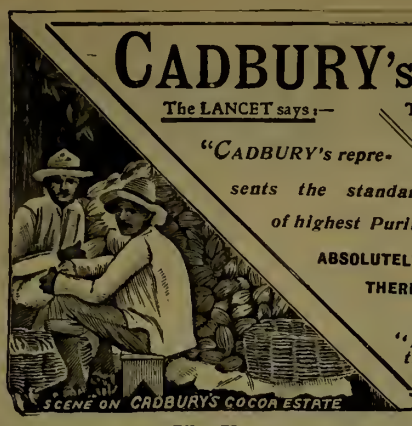
"SHINON" POLISH.

The "Shinon" high grade polishes, for which Lucas, Steele & Bristol are agents, are among the best which have been placed on the market. They include a paste metal polish, a liquid metal polish, a bar polish for brightening brass, copper, signs, etc., and a polish for cleaning glass, silver, etc. They are all first-class goods, and are used largely by yachts (for brass polishing) belonging to the Rochester, Buffalo, Royal Hamilton, and other clubs.

PRAISE FOR CANADIAN EGGS.

THE GROCERS' JOURNAL, of London, England, has this to say, in a recent issue, in regard to Canadian eggs:

"What has come home more than anything, however, to the trade has been the way in which Canadians compare with Irish eggs. Coming thousands of miles by land and sea, they arrive at Liverpool in a condition to shame their Irish rivals only just from across the narrow strip of water which makes Ireland a separate entity, and buyers have naturally asked themselves—Why? The consequence has been that Canada has received a wide advertisement, to the detriment of Ireland, and it will take some time to efface the bad impression. We hope and believe it will be removed, though the trade would be loth to see Canada disappear from the list of imports. She has made a gallant fight to get the custom with us in eggs which she lost with the States when a tariff wall was erected against her; and the manner in which she has achieved her object reflects great credit on the adaptability of her shippers and their pertinacity in fighting against difficulties; for the trade here were long before they could be got to believe that eggs from such a distance could be landed in merchantable condition, and the London trade has even yet done little in them, though the recent Servian imports are being slowly and silently assimilated.



"Last year Canada sent over 60,000 great hundreds more than in 1896, and so far this year exports of eggs to this country have been doubled. Liverpool and Glasgow like them well, and now that all the steamers carrying them have refrigerator accommodation they are practically as fresh when landed as when put on board. While wishing prosperity to this trade, we do not like to see a great home industry decaying for want of proper care and foresight, and we hope to see things run more smoothly in the Irish egg trade during the coming days of plenty."

TRADE IN OTHER COUNTRIES THAN OUR OWN.

THE COMING SALMON SEASON.

REGARDING the canned salmon market The Herald of Trade of San Francisco says under date of March 25th: "The market is practically unchanged for spot. There is a fair movement for the season at current quotations. In new season Columbia river we hear of sales having been made, but at prices to be named hereafter. Our advices from the river indicate that the price for fish will be 3½c. a pound, with a probable 3c. price later on. Some fishing will be done in April, commencing on the 10th of the month, but the majority of fishermen will not start in until May and June. They claim that it does not pay to commence sooner. If more than 3½c. is paid for fish by canners, then it is for the purpose of forcing some of the weaker to the wall, for the opinion prevails that at over that figure a loss is certain to be met.

HAMS IN CHICAGO.

A month ago the excess of hams in Chicago was 9,000,000 pounds over a year ago on March 1st, now only 7,000,000 pounds over a year ago, showing hams are working into better position.

PEAS WILL BE DEARER.

In canned goods matters, packers are already preparing their factories for the advent of the pea crop, and there has been considerable placing of futures during the past week for these goods in various grades; but prices made indicate that green peas will rule from 5 to 10c. per dozen higher than they did last year, and also, that the Peninsula will become an even more important factor than she has been in the past in respect to this last.—Trade, Baltimore.

SHIPMENTS OF CALIFORNIA ORANGES.

A letter from a California fruit company, of Los Angeles, Cal., states: "Over 7,000 carloads of the California orange crop have already been marketed, being about double the quantity shipped to this date last season. As practically all of the Mediterranean sweets have been either ruined or disposed of, you will readily understand that there are probably no more oranges in California to go forward than there were last year at this time. Notwithstanding this fact, and that there are only twenty carloads of foreign oranges afloat for America, as compared with two hundred and sixty carloads in 1897, prices to-day are about $1.00 per box less for navels and 50c. per box less for seedlings than they were a year ago. Washington navels are rapidly growing scarce, and will soon be all shipped. Seedlings are in brisk demand, and they are undoubtedly a good purchase at the prices now prevailing, as they are almost sure to advance at least 25c. per box by the first of April. While the seedlings have grown somewhat, and the sizes are a little more desirable than they were earlier in the season, there are still very few 126s and 150s, a large percentage being 200s and 250s."

U. S. AGRICULTURAL EXPORTS.

The agricultural exports from the United States in February, 1897, were $52,583,973, which constituted 67.57 per cent. of total exports. The agricultural exports of February last were $67,556,912, constituting 72.39 per cent of total exports. The figures for the eight months ending with February show an increase from $501,511,764 in 1897 to $575,232,779 in 1898, and the increase in the percentage of total exports is about two and a half per cent. The increase of $74,000,000 for the eight months represents the increase in all classes of exports except for a sum of $3,000,000. The other classes of exports show an increase of $6,500,000 in manufactured goods, but reductions in the products of the mines and the fisheries practically offset this increase.

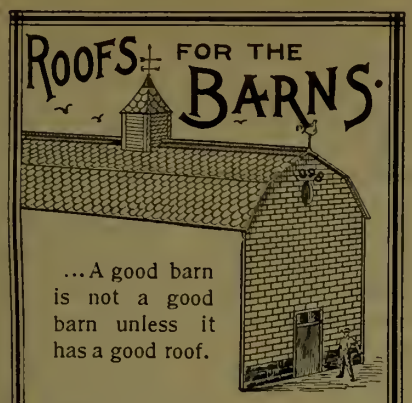
DAMAGE TO CALIFORNIA PEACHES.

A letter from Herldsburg, Cal., says that a careful examination in that section shows that about 75 per cent. of the peach buds have been killed by the late frosts, but the trees were loaded with blossoms and enough were left to make a crop on all the trees. The only crop that is positively known to be seriously damaged, says the writer, is apricots. In Soledud and Yols counties it is killed.

STRONGER DATE MARKET.

A letter from London to a New York firm, dated March 26, says: "Since our last, our market for Persian dates is strong, especially on Sairs, which are up to 9s. cost and freight, and we doubt if many can be bought at that figure. Stocks of Hallowees are going quickly into consumption."

THE SUGAR MARKET.



The future of the market for raws has been an advance in the prices paid by refiners of ⅛c. per pound. Early in the week a few of the soft grades of refined were advanced 1-16c., and this served to stimulate the demand from the general trade, with the result that business steadily expanded, and on Wednesday two advances of 1-16c. were made in prices on the soft grades and a few of the hard grades were also marked up 1-16c.; granulated, however, remained unchanged at 5⅛c. This upward turn to prices served to further stimulate the demand and for the day a large volume of business was transacted, refiners claiming to be behind their orders on old grades exclusive of granulated. As a result of the activity and higher prices for the refined product refiners advanced their bids for raw sugar 1-16c. on Wednesday, but obtained only a limited supply, and on Thursday they were again advanced 1-16 to 4⅛c. for centrifugals, 96 deg. test, and 3⅝c. for Muscovado.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce, April 2.

STRONGER COFFEE MARKET.

There has developed a stronger tone in the market for the Brazil grades of coffee reflecting steadier advices from the primal markets, the firm offers received during the latter part of the week showing an advance of ⅜c. from the lowest figures named recently. Advices have been received from Rio stating the quality of the receipts were deteriorating and this was interpreted by many of the trade as meaning that the large movement of the crop was practically over for the season and had a favorable influence. During the closing days of the week the distributing business was reported as more active, the upward turn to values having a stimulating influence, having a tendency to abolish the apprehension of another reduction in the price for package coffee and some interior roasters showed rather more disposition to anticipate their wants to a limited extent. The market for invoices has been firmer and the quotations for Rio No. 7 on the spot have been advanced to 5¾c. At the higher prices, however, only a limited volume of business has been transacted. Advices received from Rio, it was reported, told that Arbuckle Bros. had been free buyers of coffee on that market. The West India growths have been in full supply, receipts during the week including about 17,000 bags Maracaibo. The tone of the market, however, has held steady, importers declining bids slightly under the prices named by them, closing at 8¾c. for good Cucuta. East India growths have been quiet and unchanged. At the Pedang sale full prices were realized.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

THE FROST IN CALIFORNIA.

Latest advices from California say: "The killing frost was not as general as reported, and, while it was fatal or almost so, in many cases, some ranches in sections where frost was most severe escaped with only slight damage, and if nothing further happens will have enough to go round. Apricots suffered most of all and pears and prunes the least."

THE CANADIAN EGG TRADE.

THE following circular in regard to eggs has been issued by D. Gunn, Bros. & Co., Toronto:

The importance of the egg trade is not sufficiently appreciated. American statisticians place the total value of the eggs produced in the United States in excess of that of dairy products, cotton, wheat, the mineral output or other staple industries of the country. The same may be said of Canada, although the industry is here carried on without the detailed publicity which characterizes other branches of the trade. As an article of food, especially for working people, the use of eggs could with advantage be extended. No other product can be as inexpensively and quickly prepared for the table, while few table products are capable of being served in such a variety of ways, and none offer more nourishment to the consumer.

The inhabitants of the British Isles appreciate more than any other people the value of eggs as food. In addition to the enormous consumption of domestic laid eggs, nearly $15,000,000 is spent each year in purchasing foreign supplies. France, Belgium and Denmark contribute more than two-thirds of this supply, and the monies received in the trade represent a great deal to the farmers and peasants of those countries. Although the consumption of eggs in Canada is capable of vast expansion, there will always be, as there is to-day, a surplus available for exportation. In competing for the egg trade of the United Kingdom it has always to be borne in mind that scrupulous care and pains must be exercised if the trade is to succeed. A fast steamship service and cold storage carrying facilities will do much to offset the advantage which Continental producers have over Canadians. But something more is required to win a good place for Canadian eggs in British markets, viz.: The unanimous co-operation of producers, merchants and exporters in marketing the eggs in the best possible condition.

It is the little things that often make or unmake great industries. We do not intend to offer any advice as to the best breeds of poultry, further than to say that farmers do not, as a rule, look after their poultry with that intelligence and care that is bestowed on other live stock of the farm. Experts tell us that by selecting only the best layers for breeders, and mating to suitable pure-breds, the average egg production of whole flocks has in a few years been raised from 150 to 250 eggs per annum. In addition, the size of the egg has been increased, a very important item, as in the export trade it is essential that the eggs should average 1½ lbs. per dozen. When it is taken into account that competent authorities place the average yield of hens for a season in the Province of Ontario at less than 100 eggs, it will be readily seen how much is to be gained by paying more attention to the hennery. In this connection it is interesting to note that on March 18, when a committee was in session considering a bill to amend the Weights and Measures Act, Mr. McMillan, of Huron, gave notice that when the bill came up again he would move, in amendment, that eggs be sold by weight, and that the standard weight of a dozen eggs be 1½ lbs. It is expected that the bill will soon come up again for consideration.

The loss in the value of eggs offered in Toronto and other markets through careless handling is each year considerable. The slightest crack renders the egg valueless for pickling or cold storage purposes, and when sold as "checks" or cracked eggs, from two to three cents per dozen less than standard prices must be accepted. Collected from the nests in a haphazard way and carried to market over rough roads in an ordinary basket, there is usually considerable breakage before the eggs reach the store, where they run the chance of further loss by the handling of the merchant or his assistants. Loss in this way is inevitable, so long as proper egg carriers are not used. These egg cases can be purchased at a very nominal figure, say 25c. for a 30 doz. case, and by careful usage will last for years.

"Keep the eggs clean," is the advice which every merchant would impress upon the owners of poultry. An abundance of fresh straw in the hen house is not a heavy expense, and it is essential to a profitable market. If, in spite of care, the eggs should become dirty, then by no means wash them, as the process removes a glutinous covering from the shell which impairs their keeping qualities.

We do not pretend to be able to prophesy as to the course of the egg trade in Great Britain this coming season. It, however, does not require any prophetic gift to make a forecast of large receipts and comparatively low values the season through. The prospects are that in the British Isles the production of eggs will be larger than ever, while in addition to the usual supplies from France, Belgium and Denmark, a phenomenal movement of eggs from new sources in Russia is predicted. Although these eggs are inferior to those of Canada and cannot be shipped to Great Britain under as advantageous conditions, they must be counted as entering into competition with our product and will, beyond doubt, have an adverse effect upon market values. Last year, it will be remembered, the Americans made a somewhat spirited bid for the export trade, and it is estimated that they sent more than a million dozen eggs to Great Britain. This year it is reasonable to expect very large shipments from the United States, as last year's operations were in the nature of an experiment. Egg dealers in that country have suffered serious losses for a number of seasons by the cold storage of eggs, and now prefer to divert a portion of their stocks to British markets.

Neither the provincial nor the Dominion Government has provided statistics as to the production of eggs in Canada, and it is impossible to compare, with accuracy, the present situation with that of past years. Our Government agricultural officials might render great service to the trade if they would turn the present organization for the collection of farm statistics to secure more complete and better classified returns as to poultry and products. Our own observations lead us to believe that there will be material increase in the output of eggs this year, and offerings are now much larger than at the same date in previous years.

What are the lessons to be drawn from the experiences of past seasons and the prospects of the present season? In addition to care, intelligence and promptness in marketing on the part of producers and merchants, eggs should be purchased at a reasonable basis of prices. In the large centres of production in the United States dealers are now paying 7c. per dozen for eggs, and count on purchasing the bulk of their supplies at 6c. per dozen. The low price of corn in the Western States has enabled poultry men to feed it with good results. The interests of producers and merchants in Canada will be best conserved by an absence of exaggerated values at the opening of the season, which must lead later in the summer to a reaction and consequent demoralization of the markets.

The following table will show the prices of eggs at New York and Toronto, at the end of March, during the past eight years:

	1891.	1892.	1893.	1894.	1895.	1896.	1897.	1898.
Toronto	16	14	17	16	15	16	11	10
New York	24½	14½	18	14½	12	11½	10½	10

CO-OPERATIVE PORK PACKING.

THERE are in process of establishment this season in several districts in Ontario co-operative pork packing organizations. These organizations will consist entirely of farmers or others who are actually pork breeders and growers, each one agreeing to contribute a certain amount of capital and to supply more or less hogs. These hogs will be slaughtered and prepared for market in the factory of the organization. Toronto prices will be paid for the hogs and all profits derived from the factory will be divided among the shareholders.

This is practically a pioneer attempt at co-operation in this channel, and to predict success for it would be optimistic. Packers in Toronto are confident that such an attempt would end in failure. They say that the market conditions are so peculiar that only those who are well acquainted with the business can ever make a success of it.

There is one thing about it, however, which may result in great benefit to the hog industry throughout Ontario, and possibly throughout Canada. The organization of such an institution is bound to create, among farmers, a greater interest in the production of hogs, and may result in a greater increase in such production.

Such an increase, during the next year or two, would be most opportune, as Canadian ham and bacon is meeting with such favor in the British market that the demand will easily absorb any increase here.

A wholesale merchant in Montreal recently received a consignment of sugar, which looked new and fresh, but which, when cut, proved to be old sugar, covered by a coating of this season's make. The maker of such a fraud should be severely dealt with.

THE TESTING OF TEA.

TEA importers and tea jobbers in Montreal are determined not to let the vexed question of the present method of tea inspection drop out of notice for lack of agitation, as the petition to the Government printed elsewhere in this issue shows. That they have ground for their discontent will be admitted by everyone conversant with the tea trade. The reason is quite plain, the present analytical test is not only unfair but impractical. It calls, as readers of THE GROCER know, for not less than 30 per cent. of extract and not more than 8 per cent. of ash.

All tea experts contend that this formula is absurd, for the reason that a high grade Congou or in fact any high grade China tea frequently shows a larger percentage of ash than a low grade tea. But, because it does so under analysis is no reason that is should be condemned as an undesirable tea. Yet there have been instances where teas that proved, under the test, over 40 per cent. extract, showing that they were not inferior goods, were thrown out because they happened to show a decimal over the 8 per cent. of ash. Two cases of this sort were noted recently in Montreal, and it was admitted by all experts that the goods in question were not inferior. Yet, by the law as it is at present, they were not entitled to admittance into the country.

While a system of tea standards, such as are in force in the States, might not entirely prevent the entry of undesirable tea, they would certainly obviate such absurdities as the above. In any event, if the chemical test is to be consistently applied, the Government will require hundreds of chemists on its staff and have every sample rigidly inspected.

The common sense method, in the opinion of men in the tea trade, is for the authorities to strike a happy mean between the two systems. Let them name men to inspect tea who are really experts at their business and who can tell choice from a poor tea by the feel, almost. A large staff is not required, for the Government can name, say, two or three ports at which teas can alone be imported and have experts at each one of these ports, for instance, Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver would fill the bill. These experts could work on a standard, and in the event of any reasonable doubt over a certain sample, the cost could be referred to arbitration, and if this was not satisfactory, as a final resort the Government analyist could be called in.

This is the system in force in England, where, should an inspector have any doubt, they are to draw reasonable samples of the suspected teas, and forward them to the analyist. This regulation appears to have been enforced in England with a fair degree of stringency, but there has been but a small quantity of tea condemned there, in fact, only 8 lots out of 689 that were analyzed during 1897. This appears to be due to the fact that the import duty of 4d. per pound substantially prevents efforts to land defective teas in England. It is not profitable to pay duties on inferior teas, where the rate of duty is uniform. This is a point worthy of the consideration of our legislators at Ottawa.

THERE ARE OTHERS.

B. W. Thomas, Hartford, Ont., writes as follows: "In your remarks, 'Among Toronto Retailers' in last week's issue, you make mention of a contrivance used by Dallimore Bros. for the quick handling of a barrel of sugar. As we have had one in the store for about twenty years, I thought I would mention it. It is patented."

R. McDonald, Church street, Toronto, also drew the attention of "The Rambler" to a similar device in his store, which has been in the place for some years. The Toronto barrel holders are not patented.

J. R. Scott, of Napanee, has begun evaporating potatoes at Camden East, Ont., the capacity of his factory being 100 bushels per day.

OPENING PRICE OF JAPAN TEA.

IN a recent issue it was stated that advices from Japan indicated that the market would open about 10 per cent. higher than last year.

A representative of one of the best known Japan tea houses is inclined to dispute the correctness of these advices.

"As far as our house can learn," he said, "the position is about this: Japan teas, which the jobber buys at from 15 to 16c., will be firm in price, but probably no higher than last year. What will impart firmness to these teas is the fact that the United States will buy all of them that will pass the Customs under the tea inspection law. The choicest and finest teas, on the other hand, are not likely to be as high in price as they were a year ago, for you will remember the value of these teas appreciated several cents per pound last year because of the demand on United States account prior to the tea inspection law going into force."

There is not a vacant store in Douglas, Man., so, B. Rose, who intends starting a confectionery store in that place, found it necessary to build.

Thomas J. Grimes, grocer, of Duke street, Ottawa, has entered an action in the Hull Superior Court against Lucie Baxter, wife of Phillip Gauthier, of Papineauville, for $158.88, which he claims is due him on account for groceries supplied.

AMONG TORONTO RETAILERS.

They are Old-Fashioned.

There are few retailers in Toronto who would make the admission made by Swan Bros., King street east, this week. They not only admit, but proudly assert, that they are the most old-fashioned retail grocery store doing business in Toronto to-day. Whether this be so or not, I am not going to express an opinion, but it is with a measure of relief that one hears such an assertion. There seems to be growing in our country that peculiar idea that change is progress, that a step is necessarily a step forward. When one hears of the adoption of this "scheme" by one man, of that "system" by another, and realizes that many of these schemes take money out of the business and put it into the hands of a commercial parasite rather than into the customer's hands, one cannot help wondering where it will all end, and whether these innovations have enlarged the profits of the retailer who has nourished them. Swan Bros.' style of doing business is simple, that of buying goods at the best possible price, putting the price at a close margin, and selling them to one and all at the same price, collecting accounts regularly, and encouraging a cash business in every respect. The result has been that they have now one of the largest businesses in the city, and are not under the necessity of fostering it by any "5 per cent. discount for cash" fake schemes. Such an end is not alone reached by doing business on the old style, but other qualifications, which are the characteristics of the successful retail grocer, have to be brought into play. Foremost among these qualities in Swan Bros. stands their rigid adherence to the policy that "honesty pays." A large share of the business of Swan Bros. comes over the telephone. On being asked if the same care was devoted to telephone orders that was given to personal orders, the answer came quick and sharp that any merchant who would take more care with a parcel a customer sees one do up than with one which has been ordered over the telephone may not expect much telephone business, or in fact, much of any kind of business. There is a moral in this for many a "tricky" grocer who so often congratulates himself on how he got ahead of some customer, yet whose profits never total up as high as he thinks they should. Another characteristic that has helped to build up this firm is their capacity for work. How many grocers believe and express the belief in works, that this firm express? "Business requires the same steady application, the same anxious care, the same courteous treatment of customers from January to December during the first year of doing business, and through every successive year. There is no letting up." The young man in business would do well to make a note that hard work and rigid honesty have been proved to be paying qualities in a retail grocer.

ADULTERATION OF BUTTER.

THE recent actions taken against, and fines imposed upon retailers throughout England for having sold butter containing boracic acid has caused considerable interest among Canadian manufacturers and exporters, especially as the exporters here are now being requested by their customers in England to guarantee the purity of their shipments.

It seems that the goods which have been instrumental in creating this uneasiness among purchasers are principally the products of Australia and Ireland. It is of the utmost importance to the Canadian trade that the English customer should be assured of the purity of the butter shipped from this side, and every effort should be made to prevent the possibility of anything being done by our manufacturers to injure the present high standing of Canadian produce on the markets of Great Britain, and with this end in view, the Montreal Butter and Cheese Association, at the meeting held on Tuesday, March 29, ordered the sending of the following letter to the Minister of Agriculture, Ottawa, and also to the Ministers of Agriculture for the provinces of Ontario and Quebec :

Montreal, March 29th, 1898.

Hon. Sydney Fisher,
Minister of Agriculture, Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honor to inform you that at a meeting of the Butter and Cheese Association held this day, the question of the system of using boracic acid in the manufacturing of butter was brought up for discussion. As you are doubtless aware some of the creameries in Australia have been in the habit of using boracic acid in the process of manufacturing, claiming that it acts as a preservative, and in consequence of this numerous prosecutions have taken place recently in England, resulting in heavy penalties being inflicted on the sellers, and the confiscation of all such butter. In consequence of this, Canadian exporters this season are compelled to guarantee all butter shipped by them as being absolutely pure and free from boracic acid or any other adulterants. While this association feels that it may not be the common practice in Canada, it has been reported that a few years ago some of our creameries used boracic acid. This association has also been informed that quite a number of farmers are in the habit of using a powder or liquid called "Preservaline," which we are given to understand is mixed with the milk as a preservative. This association is under the impression that this preservaline contains a certain percentage of borax, and if such is the case, butter manufactured from such milk would clearly come under the English Act. The London Home and Foreign Produce Board has gone so far as to appoint an analyst of its own, in view of any trouble that may arise on future shipments. You will, therefore, readily see that some prompt action should be taken in this matter, especially as most of the creameries have commenced, or are about to commence operations.

In view of these circumstances, this association feels that it is of the utmost importance that immediate notice should be given by your Department to all the butter factories in Canada, warning them against the use of boracic acid, or any other adulterants.

I have the honor to be Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. STANLEY COOK, Secretary.

Benson's Canada Prepared Corn

This is something especially nice for Blanc Mange, Custards, etc., as over 90 per cent. of the housekeepers in Canada know. Most of them will use no other, as experience teaches them that it is perfectly free from adulteration, and although on the market now for over 40 years, its quality still stands unsurpassed.

INDIVIDUAL CREDITS.*

Concluded from last issue.] By JAMES G. CANNON.

REVOLUTION IN CREDITS.

EVOLUTION in business has produced new factors in mercantile circles in the way of department and cash stores, is likely, before long, to revolutionize individual credits, which, I believe, are destined, especially in the larger cities, to diminish each year, and, when given, to extend only over a very short period of time, not really for the ordinary purposes of credit, but simply to serve as a convenience in making purchases.

The drift in the retail line at present seems to be in the direction of closer terms, and it is now generally considered that an account that is not settled in thirty days is not desirable, whereas, years ago, retail merchants carried on their books a great many credits that ranged from six months to a year. In some quarters there is an apparent tendency to do away with the credit system entirely and reduce retail trade to a cash basis.

The question of competition in business is one that all departments of trade must meet, and the retailer who grants credit must recognize existing conditions and regulate his prices to meet those offered by dealers who sell for cash. Under these circumstances, unless his credits are made under a safe and well defined system and his business is conducted on an economical basis, his success will be problematical.

DISCOUNTS TO CONSUMERS.

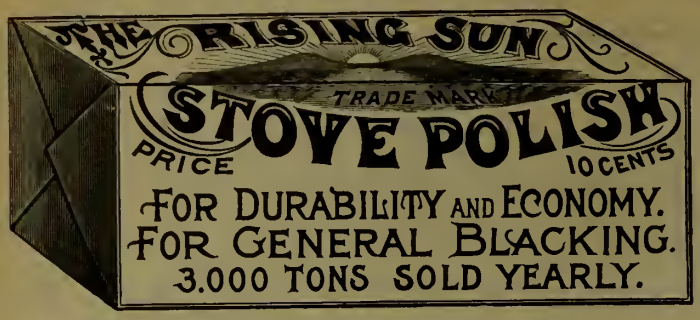
As a rule, no incentive is offered by the retailer in the way of discount or reduction in prices for cash or prompt payment of bills. If he would offer a concession for prompt cash, it would work to his advantage, by indicating who are his best customers, and at the same time providing him with cash with which to discount his bills.

The question as to whether or not there should be a difference between credit and cash prices in retail stores is one that I feel will receive considerable attention in the near future. The large retailers do not admit that any difference exists now, but there are undoubtedly some instances where a man who buys on time, and is tardy about making a settlement, has to pay more for his purchases than the one whose means and disposition lead him to liquidate his indebtedness at the time of the purchase. Of course, it would be very confusing to have two sets of prices in the same establishment, but I understand this is successfully done to some extent abroad.

Some small tradesmen do not send out bills promptly on the first of each month; consequently, they have great difficulty in securing the money due them, which operates to their disadvantage with those from whom they make their purchases. It naturally leads to the impairment of their credit, and may finally accomplish their ruin.

In some communities the custom is, in some instances, to take notes in payment for retail purchases, and it seems to me that this is an abuse of credit. Some time ago I heard of a man who gave his note for his winter's supply of coal. This indicates financial straits that ought to cause a retailer to be extremely careful as to the extent to which he gives credit to such a customer.

If the large retailer sells for cash, he will be able to pay cash for his purchases and avail himself of discounts, which is a very important item where competition is keen. He will then be in a position to offer his merchandise at figures that will attract custom, and be able to sell it much more readily than his competitor who sells on credit. He will also save the expense of the maintenance of a credit department, entailing the employment of a force of bookkeepers and collectors necessary to carry on its work. Furthermore, he will avoid the losses from bad debts that are necessarily incident, to a greater or less extent, to the general extension of credit. While it is true that the losses sustained on retail credits are not, as a rule, very heavy, they are nevertheless felt, with the present narrow margin attending mercantile transactions, and, moreover, a large amount of capital can be tied up in slow accounts.



ADVANTAGES OF THE CASH SYSTEM.

To show the advantages to be derived from conducting business on a cash basis, especially in large transactions, a little article—a silver-back hairbrush—owing to competition, has been reduced in price to $4; from this price there is a discount of 10 per cent. for cash. The small retailer is generally unable to avail himself of this cash discount, so the brush costs him $4. An order for three thousand of these brushes was recently filled for a large department store at a net cash price of $3. The manufacturer, to be sure, did not make much, but he was able to keep his plant in operation during the dull times, with the certainty of receiving his money, which came to him all at once. The department store could retail these brushes for cash at $3.90 each and make 30 per cent. profit, and yet, you see, the brushes would be sold for less than the cost to the retailer. They were only able to do this by handling their business on the cash basis.

It is said, however, in favor of the credit system, that the customer is likely to become more or less attached to the store where he has an account, and to purchase there all his supplies that it can furnish. He will also be inclined to trade beyond his requirements, which will result in temporary profit to the merchant, provided he is certain to receive his pay, though extravagance in any form should not be encouraged and is not a desirable habit for a customer to acquire.

This system also saves a great deal of time and annoyance to the customer in waiting for change, by making it possible to pay in one sum the bills for a considerable period of time.

The merchant who gives credit may do a very extensive business and appear to be enjoying the fruits of prosperity in good times, and he will doubtless succeed in handling a larger volume of trade than the one selling for cash, but when a panic comes and depression sets in, and the incomes of his debtors are depleted or entirely suspended, he will in many instances be forced to the wall, while the cash merchant, who did not owe anything and had no one owing him, will continue his business as usual, and will probably make more money twice over than he lost by not selling on credit when times were favorable; but even if the credit merchant succeeds in weathering the storm, his books will bear unmistakable evidence of financial wrecks left in its wake, which will be painfully apparent when he requires money to meet his maturing obligations and replenish his stock.

JUDICIOUS CREDITS.

Judicious credits are of incalculable benefit; but I think that in retail lines they should be carefully restricted. It seems to me that the merchant who brings his business nearest a cash basis will eventually find he is the most prosperous.

It is difficult for those who live in large cities where people are paid for their labor weekly, semi-monthly or monthly, to judge of retail credits in smaller towns where conditions are essentially different.

In farming and manufacturing districts credit is, in many cases, a necessity. Take, for example, a farmer owning a large tract of land but without enough money to enable him to till it. He desires, say, to sow it with wheat, which perhaps, he may have to purchase. While he is preparing for the crop it is necessary for him to have a line of credit, as he has to wait for a number of months for the returns from his harvest. While the crop is growing he must live, and, perhaps, maintain a family. Comparatively few farmers can cultivate their farms and pay cash for everything; and if no credit were extended, they could neither purchase nor produce anything. But credit, even in this case, must be kept within the limits of prudence, and the farmer should not be trusted $500 when he is only entitled to $100.

Co-operation is the key-word of successful reform, and merchants should freely exchange confidence relative to customers, especially with a view of giving warning against those who are unworthy of credit. They should impart candid information, and should not hesitate to communicate the unvarnished truth.

THE TRAVELING PEDDLER.

The itinerant peddler is of no earthly use to a town. He gives nothing to churches or public expenses. He has nothing in common with the people in a town. He can swindle, and he often does, getting into the next town or state before his victims fully realize how badly they have been taken in. The home merchant has a reputation to sustain. He bears his share of the expenses of the town. When a subscription is passed he is the first to be approached. He builds a house and makes other permanent improvements that enhance the value of our property. He helps pay for the churches in which we worship, and the schools to which we send our children. He cannot afford to misrepresent his goods or swindle his customers. Self-interest alone prevents this. It is not difficult to decide which of the two classes of merchants should receive the patronage of the people.—The Storekeeper.

Robert Brooks, formerly of the firm of Brooks & Alexander, Listowel, has purchased the grocery stock and business of T. Tamblyn, of Palmerston, and has taken possession of the store.

TRADE CHAT.

A ST. JOHN, N.B., grocery concern having issued circulars to the effect that it intends to open up a cut rate patent medicine store in a central part of the city, druggists there have decided to cut prices to such an extent that the new house will probably have to abandon its project.

Counterfeit 5 and 10c. pieces are in circulation in Kingston.

A canning factory has been erected at Mink Cove, N.S., by E. A. Gidney, who intends canning lobsters, finnan haddies, kippered herrings, etc.

D. D. Morton & Sons, fish canners, Digby county, N.S., are negotiating for the purchase of a complete outfit for a canning factory at Centreville, N.S., and expect to commence operations in a few weeks.

George Washington Jones, a San Jose, California, grocer, issues a monthly price list called "George Washington's Hatchet," in which it appears that that cutting instrument is made full use of in the way of cutting and chopping prices. This enterprising person has done such destructive work with the Hatchet that his competitors suspect him of using an axe.—Chicago Grocer.

Judge Mathieu last week maintained the seizure in revendication of 5,000 bags of beet root sugar, valued at $25,000, by the Canada Sugar Refining Co. from the Grand Trunk railway. The sugar had been shipped from Antwerp by the Boston City, for Montreal. Instead of calling at Montreal direct, the steamer had landed the freight at Halifax, whence it had come by rail to the G.T.R. station at Montreal. The railway company claimed freight charges over and above the $1,115 which the Canada Sugar Co. had contracted to pay the owners of the Boston City. The court maintained the pretensions of the sugar company, and declared its seizure of the sugar good and valid.

A VISIT TO ANNAPOLIS ROYAL.

A REPRESENTATIVE of THE CANADIAN GROCER recently reached the historic and interesting town of Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia, and first paid a visit to the establishment of Mr. Geo. E. Corbett, the leading grocer of the district. Mr. Corbett does a large jobbing and retail business, and although busy with customers, took time to show THE GROCER through in order that the improvements may be noted. His store is up-to-date. It is heated by improved methods and lighted by electric light, while recent improvements in labor saving devices, such as computing scales, shop and office fixtures, etc., have been adopted.

Mr. Corbett buys in large quantities only, and carries a large stock in every department. He finds his business annually increasing.

The sights of the town are of deep interest to tourists, and THE GROCER took them in. First, a stroll was taken through the old fort, where during the seventeenth century many a brave British Soldier and gallant Frenchman gave up their lives struggling for the respective supremacy of the Union Jack and the Tricolor. All told Annapolis Royal has stood 13 sieges, a record, perhaps unequalled by any town on the continent. The barracks erected by the Duke of Kent, father of Queen Victoria, still remain on the garrison grounds, and at present are occupied by a caretaker. A grant from the Dominion Government, expended last year, has put the barracks, powder magazine and the "Black Hole" (an underground magazine or prison), in a good state of repair and arrested the destruction going on annually by time and the incursions of relic hunters. The old burying ground situated in rear of the fort is worth visiting, and the tourist should not omit doing so. A number of the epitaphs are very old, dating back nearly two centuries; the two following are interesting, if not comical:

Here lyeth ye body of Bathiah Douglass, who departed this life on October the 3rd, 1720, in the 35th year of her age. And Rebecca Douglass, endowed with virtue and piety, and was a good wife and tender mother, departed this life 1740.

Deposited here until the sound of the great trump, the remains of Charles Alex. Simpson, Assistant-Surgeon of the Sixteenth Regiment. A native of Staffordshire, England, who obeyed the mighty word Return, after an illness of three days, in the 30th year of his age. March 28, 1820.

"ROYAL SOVEREIGN" STILTON CHEESE.

A. F. MacLaren & Co., Toronto and Stratford, manufacturers of MacLaren's "Imperial" cheese, importers and exporters of foreign and domestic cheese, have completed arrangements with Mr. A. R. Curzon, Guelph, manufacturer of "Royal Sovereign" prize English stiltons, to control the sale of the whole output of his factory (between 5,000 and 8,000 stiltons per year).

Mr. Curzon, in order to fill the contract, will be obliged to enlarge his factory and increase his facilities. The cheese will all have to pass the inspection of A. F. MacLaren & Co., and it is needless to say that this alone will ensure the finest quality in an English stilton product. The cheese will be packed six to the case, and weigh about 8 lbs. each. This will prove most suitable for the best family trade. These cheese will be placed on all the cheese markets of the world, and no doubt, before long, further additions to the output will follow, as with Mr. Curzon's experience in English stilton making, and the thorough knowledge of all cheese products of A. F. MacLaren & Co., customers can have no hesitation in placing full confidence in "Royal Sovereign" stiltons.

GROCERS WILL AGAIN PLAY BALL.

The Toronto grocers' base ball team which for some three or four years has given the travelers' team an annual drubbing is again expressing its intention of capturing all prizes offered, and retaining its present position as champions against all old rivals.

WHEN WE KEPT STORE.

Do you remember, Brother Joe, the dear old days, when we Embarked in brisk commercial life, as hopeful as could be?
Investing all the hoarded wealth of copper cents and dimes,
And going into bankruptcy at least a dozen times?
A dozen times at least, I say, but fancy it was more,
We failed, and ate our stock of goods,
When we kept store.

We opened in a coal house once, with eighteen gaudy sticks
Of candy in an old fruit jar. (A nickel purchased six,
And having fifteen cents we stocked as far as we could go,
Buying direct from Mr. Mears, the groceryman, you know);
But not a customer appeared, I very much deplore
To say, in fact, none ever came
When we kept store.

One time you sold your rags and bones, and I gave you a whip
Which you had coveted for half a working partnership,
And, invoicing some peppermint, some pins and indigo,
We opened in the haymow with our spirits all aglow.
We thought the pins and blue would lure housekeepers by the score,
But ne'er a person came to buy,
When we kept store.

We vigorously advertised in sheets most neatly penned,
But if the people read our bills they did not comprehend,
Or, comprehending, trusted not merchants of tender years,
But most discouragingly stuck (in trade) to Mr. Mears,
Driving us by the scantiness of patronage once more
To eat our edible assets,
When we kept store.

Trading in wheat, I've managed to lay up a fair amount,
And you, I understand, possess a pretty bank account,
Kind Providence has treated us extremely well as men,
But sometimes I look back and wish that once, just once again,
We two might for an hour or so, be boys just as before,
Eating the stock which failed to sell,
When we kept store.

TEA DUTY WANTED IN THE U.S.

THE N.Y. Journal of Commerce says: The talk of imposing a specific duty on tea as a war measure is naturally receiving attention in tea trade circles. It has also had an appreciable influence on the tea market. This influence may, perhaps, be best reflected by the prices obtained at the regular tea auction on Wednesday last, when green teas showed advance of 1½c.; Pingsueys, 1c.; Japans, 1 to 2c.; Congou, 1c.; Indian and Ceylon, 1c.; Foochow, 1c., and Formosa, 1 to 2c.

It is not an exaggeration to say that the wholesale tea trade of the country is very generally in favor of a Customs duty. Two years ago a movement to have a duty imposed as a means of keeping out spurious and unwholesome teas received very strong support from importers and wholesale dealers throughout the country, a very large number of whom signed a memorial to Congress. It was proposed to provide for a duty in the Dingley bill, but the bill as enacted continued tea on the free list, largely, it is believed, on the ground of political opposition to violating the "free breakfast table," and largely, also, as the result of the free circulation of the argument that large importers who had made anticipatory purchases would be greatly benefited, while the Government before it could receive revenue would have to wait until the large stocks thus imported had been consumed. The speculation at that time was quite general and strong, and the result, in view of the failure of the duty to materialize, was somewhat disastrous, as the first-hand trade had become heavily burdened with large stocks.

There has, however, since been a material reduction in the stocks of tea in this country, the result, to a large extent of the new tea law, which went into operation on May 1, 1897, and which has excluded large amounts of spurious teas, not only in the form of the 846,017 pounds rejected at New York by the Government, but also in the form of similar rejections at other ports, and the decreased shipment of tea from China and Japan by such amounts as were known to be below the standards fixed under the new law. It is estimated by James and John R. Montgomery & Co., who are regarded as the statistical authorities of the tea trade, that the stocks of tea in the country at the present time are smaller in volume than they have been for years. It is not possible to give any figures of stocks that can be accepted as even approximately reliable, and the only idea of stocks must be based upon the receipts. The figures of the appended statement were furnished a representative of this journal yesterday by the Messrs. Montgomery:

	Seasons
Estimated Supply—	1897-8. Pounds.	1896-7. Pounds.
Greeen	15,000,000	16,216,906

Foochow	4,250,000	3,430,327
Congou	9,250,000	11,080,533
Total	87,950,000	93,551,357
Total receipts season to April 1, 1898		82,204,919
Total afloat April 1, 1898		2,919,728
Total shipments to this country, advised by mail, April 1, 1898		85,124,647

do do 1893		93,030,635
do do 1891		86,204,200
do do 1890		81,219,300

The fact, of course, should not be overlooked that there has been a material increase in the population and in the consumption during the ten years of the above record.

In view of the small stocks and the favorable part of the season, it is felt that the present time is particularly opportune, from a political standpoint, to secure the enactment of a duty. There is, however, no organized movement in the tea trade having this object in view, owing no doubt, to the unsatisfactory results of the recently organized movement. It is believed that the Representatives and Senators will appreciate the fact that stocks are small, and that this being the fag end of the season it will be impossible to rush goods forward to avoid payment of duty. The tea season opens in Japan about the first week in May, when new teas begin to arrive, but very little tea reaches this country before June 1. The Hankow market (about 600 miles from Shanghai) opens about May 10 to 15, but these teas do not reach this country before the latter part of June. Formosa teas arrive in Amoy, China, about the middle of May, and Foochow teas commence to arrive about the same time. Green teas do not arrive in Shanghai before the middle of June.

While the new tea law has been successful in reducing the importations of spurious teas, it is felt that it has not been so completely successful as a duty would have been. The duty, importers say, would not be borne to any appreciable extent by the consumer, but, it would prevent shippers sending teas here on which they would incur a decided risk. An importer, for instance, is not going to pay 15 or 25c. per pound duty except on a good article, and, with this idea in view, importers argue that spurious teas would be automatically shut out. At the present time, under the tea law, nearly every importer is importing, in addition to the higher grades, the lowest grade of tea that will be admitted above the Government standard established by that law, and there is a great demand for this tea.

One pound of tea will, it is estimated, go five times as far as a pound of coffee. During the war the duty on tea was 25c. and on coffee 5c.: afterwards the duty was reduced to 15c. on tea and 3c. on coffee. When there was a duty of 15c. a pound gold (equivalent to over 20c. in currency) the average price of tea imported into the United States was 35c. making the net cost of importation 55c. The consumption then per capita was greater than it is to-day, when the average cost is less than 20c. The average price of tea sold at retail throughout the United States is estimated at 50c. per pound. Importers claim that people are willing to pay a fair price for good tea because a pound of it will go twice as far as a pound of poor tea. The average cost at wholesale is 20c. so that there is ample margin for retailers to assume a considerable part of the duty without advancing the price to consumers.

SUGAR TARIFF AND RETAILERS.

THE CANADIAN GROCER called upon several retail grocers throughout Toronto this week to find their views in regard to the change in the duty on sugar.

The result of this enquiry tends to make one believe that, from a retailer's point of view, the change is, on the whole, satisfactory.

There is unanimity of opinion to the effect that Dutch sugar is inferior to the Canadian, yet it is possible to pass it off as the best quality. This possibility of deception has been a disturbing feature in retail circles for some time, so that any change in the tariff, that had the tendency to check the importation of Dutch sugar at cheaper prices than the Canadian, would have been welcomed by the majority of retailers. Therefore, as it is believed by the grocers visited that the present change will have the effect of, at least, sending up the price of Dutch sugar, and possibly of keeping it off the market, this change is satisfactory.

A GOOD TREASURER.

An exchange says: "Auditors McManus and Little very justly gave Township Treasurer E. J. Cobean, of Camilla, a fair share of praise for the manner in which he discharged his duties. In Mr. Cobean the township of Mono has a first-class official, and he keeps his books in good shape—clear, neat and right up-to-date. He is the right man in the right place." Mr. Cobean is a merchant and a reader of THE CANADIAN GROCER.

THE CURRANT SITUATION.

THE lower prices on currants which were quoted from Greece a few weeks ago appear to have been due to no weakness in the market itself.

According to the mail advices to hand, it was owing to the rapid decline in the rate of exchange, the drachma prices having been reduced considerably.

According to a London trade paper the growers in Greece have been disappointed in the requirements of several of their continental customers, notably Southern Germany, Russia and France, although this disappointment is somewhat discounted by the fact that the crop is short and the remaining stocks are light, in the middle of last month being only about 10,000 tons, which quantity is likely to go into consumption before the new crop is ready for shipment.

Hancock & Wood, of Patras, in their circular, state that the demand during the past two months has been extremely limited, being only about 9,000 tons, while some speculative sales have been made at lower rates than ruling quotations.

The circular referred to adds: "The Retention law will, no doubt, be voted again this year. Since it came into operation in 1895, about 45,000 tons have been deposited in Government stores, of which 22,000 tons have been used locally by distillers and wine makers. As the retention currants are sold at very cheap prices, these industries are developing very rapidly in this country, and it is expected that, before long, the total amount of currants retained annually by the Greek Government will be used locally for spirits and wine-making."

Shipments of currants from Greece up to March 19, compared with last year, were:

A GROCERY STORE ROBBED.

A bold robbery was perpetrated at Lawrence Station, Southwold, Elgin county, on Tuesday night. John Heckart is the postmaster at Lawrence Station, and conducts also a general grocery store. The Government did not lose anything, but Postmaster Heckart is poorer by several gold rings and a quantity of jewelry. The burglars are thought to have been tramps.

NEW FIRM IN WESTVILLE. N.S.

ON the 1st day of March, Messrs. Sutherland & Co., of Westville, N.S., opened their doors to the public. The firm consists of J.R.H. Sutherland and F. G. Konig.

They carry a stock of dry goods and boots and shoes, and intend to do a strictly cash business. The building which they occupy has been remodelled under their own supervision, and the interior presents a neat and attractive appearance.

Mr. Sutherland has traveled for the Whitham Shoe Co., of Montreal, for a number of years, and is a practical man in that department. Mr. Konig has been connected with the dry goods trade in Westville for over ten years, and fully understands the wants of their customers.

When The Review representative called on them, about the close of the first month, Mr. Konig said: "I have been a reader of The Review for years, and intended sending in our subscription. It is the finest trade journal that we have subscribed for."

In reply to The Review, Mr. Konig said: "Our first month's trade has been fully up to our expectations, and the prospects for the season's business are good."

EVADING THE DUTY ON COFFEE.

THE more the matter is being investigated, regarding the shipment into Canada of green coffee taken from lots lying on the dock in New York, the more evident does it become that the spirit, at least, of the Tariff Act is being ignored.

The Act clearly states that green coffee, in order to come in free, must be imported direct from the country of production, and the Customs Department itself has furthermore declared that in order to be entered free as a direct shipment coffee must be consigned to the importer in Canada direct from the country of growth, as per invoice and bills of lading.

Now, we know these conditions are not being complied with. We know (1) that green coffee is being consigned to firms in New York in transit for Canada; (2) that the coffee is allowed to lie on the steamship dock in New York, often as many as six days, while samples are forwarded to Canada; (3) that the bulk is broken and that such portions as have been sold in Canada are forwarded here and passed through the Customs, duty free, while the balance goes into consumption in the United States.

Here not only is bulk broken, but there is an actual change of ownership while the coffee is in process of transportation, and this in the face of the ruling of the Customs Department that in order to free entry coffee must be consigned to the importer in Canada direct from the country of production.

The Customs Department should either amend the Tariff Act or enforce it as it stands.

A simple talking machine : An idiot.

CANADA'S CREDIT AT STAKE.

SHOULD the insolvency bill, now before the House of Commons, fail to become law, Canada will undoubtedly lose prestige among the business community in Great Britain.

The influential deputation which waited upon the Finance Minister when he was in London ; the tone of the British press ever since the preferential tariff was brought down in June last, and the private expressions of commercial men in the Mother Country have all emphasized the necessity of Canada passing an insolvency law. And now the British exchanges to hand are urging the adoption of Dr. Fortin's bill.

The Canadian Gazette, a journal published in London, England, primarily in the interest of Canada, says :

> It is satisfactory to know that there is still some possibility of insolvency legislation this session at Ottawa. * * * The Canadian House of Commons can hardly be blind to the fact that the time is more than ripe for resolute effort to remedy a state of affairs which is at once damaging to the Dominion's credit and a serious hindrance to the trade development which she is rightly anxious to promote.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier himself frankly admitted the existence of a universal desire for reform," remarks the same paper, and it urges him to lend his influence in passing the bill. It is to be hoped he will do so.

THE CANADIAN GROCER does not for one moment believe that the rejection of Dr. Fortin's bill would destroy Canada's credit in Great Britain or that it would prevent the development of trade so much desired.

But we have no hesitation in saying that the rejection of the bill will injure Canada's credit and will hinder that trade development which business men in both Canada and Great Britain are aggressively trying to induce.

Business is usually dull in a dull store.

A UNIQUE SYRUP DISPLAY.

J. W. SANDERSON, corner Dundas street and Brock avenue, Toronto, has in his window a display which is worthy of a place among the displays that have succeeded.

Mr. Sanderson is one of those Toronto business men to whom spring time brings, among other memories, recollections of that joy of the country youth, sugar making.

Such recollections this spring suggested a window display depicting the method of making sugar. The window in which the display is placed is a large corner one, giving a side and a front view.

A background is made of large branches of trees. In the centre of the window is a small house, made of small slabs, to represent a log shanty. The floor is covered with leaves, small blocks of firewood, etc. A rabbit running around the floor in and out the shanty give a pleasant lifelikeness to the scene.

From the floor to the top at the right hand of the window runs a trunk of a tree which is bored about four feet up, a spout is placed in position, and, to the mystery of many spectators, a steady flow of sap is running into a wooden trough.

This seeming flow of sap is arranged by running a piece of hose from an adjacent tap to the end of the spout ; and by accurate regulation the liquid is made to run slowly and steadily as in the open forest. The hose, of course, is invisible.

Two or three small barrels are standing near the back of the window, and on these is the only reference to the fact that Mr. Sanderson desires to sell maple syrup. It is a neatly worded card, "Syrup, 25c. per quart." At the right end of the window is a tripod made of stout limbs, upon which is swung a small boiling kettle. In this kettle some nice-looking sugar suggests the desirability of a purchase of this sweet product of the forest.

The whole effect of the window is rural to a great degree, and naturally attracts a deal of attention, especially from those who have "been in the bush" themselves.

The important consideration in such a display is its selling power, and it is noteworthy that this, as has usually been the case with such displays, has been eminently satisfactory in this regard. Many persons have been attracted by the display, and have bought syrup when an ordinary display in other stores had not even attracted passing attention. Such displays as these take time and skill, yet the results are worthy of the effort.

TRADE WITH FRANCE.

AS everyone is well aware, there is a large and growing demand on the English markets for the products of this country, particularly for dairy and farm produce, but it will be news to the general public, at least, to learn that France is turning her eyes towards Canada, and enquiring for much which we can supply.

Le Chambre de Commerce Francaise de Montreal, an organization which has for its object the encouragement and extension of trade between France and Canada, is continually receiving enquiries from French merchants and importers regarding the chances of Canada supplying them with lumber, timber, pulp, pulp wood, seeds, grain, hams, sheepskins, raw feathers, etc.

One of these letters, which was received a short time ago, will be of interest to those engaged in the produce trade, as it shows the possibilities which exist for increasing our exports of hog products in that direction. The writers state that they alone import over 100,000 hams per year, and, as there are in all probability other establishments in France which do an extensive trade in this article, the question of securing at least a portion of this business is well worth the attention and interest of Canadian exporters. The letter in question is as follows :

HOUSE OF THE YORK HAM.

Provisions, Salted and Preserved, Wholesale.

E. OLIDA & CIE,
11 Rue Drouot,
Paris, Feb. 19, 1898.

M. Galiburt, president, La Chambre de Commerce, Francaise de Montreal.

DEAR SIR, — Our house, which is well known in France, is the oldest and most important for the importation of English and other hams, over 100,000 received per annum.

We now desire to make importations of Canadian hams which are well known on this continent, and with that idea in view, we write to ask that you will supply us with the name and address of some house which handles this article, or that you will give this letter to such a house in order that it may make us an offer.

Thanking you in anticipation,

E. OLIDA & CIE

P.S.—We have tried to secure supplies from Liverpool, but the difference in duties is a drawback.

THE SUGAR REFINERS AND THE TARIFF.

WHAT the net results of the new tariff on sugar will be is something which experts, let alone laymen, have yet been unable to determine satisfactorily.

One thing upon which there is no difference of opinion is that from now until at least August 1, when the preferential tariff comes into operation, the Canadian refiners will enjoy a great deal more protection than they did under the previous tariff, for, while they will have to pay a higher duty on their raw sugar, the increase in the duty on the refined article is such as to give them 8 to 9c. per one hundred pounds more protection than under the tariff of 1897. Then, besides the duty, the refiners have the benefit of the polariscope test, which is an undoubted advantage to them.

When it comes to considering matters as they will be four months hence, the conditions are not so clear.

The one thing needful in order that the actual condition of the refiners may be ascertained is the demonstration, by actual experiment, how low a grade of raw sugar they can use in order to profitably turn out granulated sugar.

Under the old tariff, it will be remembered, the duty was the same whether the raw sugar imported by the refiner tested 88 or 96 deg. That compelled the refiners to use sugars which tested from 91¾ to 92 deg., as it would not pay them to bring in lower grades at one cent per pound duty. With the advent, however, of the polariscope test, the case is altered. The lower the grade of sugar they can bring in and turn into the refined article the better. It is what they can do in this respect that has yet to be demonstrated.

One well known expert who has gone into the matter figures that the protection to the refiner after August 1, when the preferential tariff goes into operation, will be from 49 to 50½c. per 100 pounds. If this estimate is correct it is evident the refiners's protection will be much about the same as under the tariff of 1897.

On 96 test the duty is .715c., and as it requires 107½ lbs. of 96 deg. test to make 100 lbs. of granulated, the duty on a sufficient quantity of that degree of sugar to make 100 lbs. of granulated would be 77c. Taking the duty on 100 deg. granulated at $1.26, it will be seen that the difference between that and the 77c. paid by the refiner on the raw material imported to make the 100 lbs. of granulated is 49c., which is the measure of the protection.

The quantity of 92 deg. sugar necessary to make 100 lbs. of granulated is 115 lbs., and, as the duty on the latter is 75½c., the difference between that and $1.26 is 50½c., which is the protection which is accorded by using 92 deg. sugar, the grade which the refiners have been using, according to the statements made to the Minister of Finance.

This is to some extent theorizing, but it is practical enough to support the contention that the lower the grade of sugar the refiner can use, the greater will be the benefits which will accrue under the new tariff.

As with the refiners so is it somewhat indefinite as to what the effect of the tariff will be on imported refined sugars, although some business has been done on Canadian account during the past week in British yellow sugars.

None of the West Indies make refined sugar, and, although Great Britain, of course, does, yet it is difficult to see how sugars from there can come in under the preferential tariff, for something like two-thirds of the raw sugar imported by the British refiners is from Germany and other bounty-feeding sugar countries.

It is the general opinion, however, that, in spite of the preferential tariff, foreign refined sugars will still find their way into Canada, although there will be more obstacles in their way under the new than under the old tariff.

THE POSITION OF PEPPER.

Singapore pepper has again taken an upward turn in the outside markets.

Prices are now about 100 per cent. higher than they were a year ago, but, notwithstanding this sharp advance, they are still about 50 per cent. below the figures ruling twelve to fourteen years ago.

The present advancing tendency of the market is due to a shortness in the crop The exports from Singapore and Penang for the first three months of the year were 2,620 tons, against 4,048 the same time last year, while the shipments to the United States during the same period aggregated but 390 tons, against 1,740 tons last year.

TRADE OF THE COUNTRIES WHICH WILL ENJOY THE PREFERENTIAL TARIFF.

INCLUDING the Motherland, the colonies and dependencies of the British Empire whose products will, after August 1, have access to the Canadian market at a rate of duty one-fourth less than that levied against foreign countries, number somewhere in the neighborhood of a score. They are:

Great Britain and Ireland.
New South Wales.
British East India.
Bermuda.
The British West Indies, included in which are: The Bahamas, Jamaica, Turk's Island, Caicos Islands, Leeward Islands (Antigua, St. Christopher-Nevis, Dominica, Montseratt and the Virgin Islands), the Windward Islands (Grenada, St. Vincent and St. Lucia).
Barbadoes.
Trinidad.
Tobago.
British Guiana.

With some of these colonies Canada at present practically does no business whatever. It will perhaps, however, not be uninteresting to examine as far as we can the value of the trade we transact with them.

The following table gives, as far as we can ascertain, Canada's imports from and exports to the various countries interested:

	Imports.	Exports.
Great Britain	$29,328,576	$77,227,502
British East Indies	417,563	15,804
*Australasia	147,900	1,422,426
West Indies	1,057,489	1,445,449
British Guiana	102,700	271,457

*We have no figures showing the trade with New South Wales alone, but our Australasian trade is principally with that colony.

The import and export trades, as far as ascertainable, of the countries in question are:

	Imports.	Exports.
Great Britain	£41,808,904	£296,379,214
New South Wales	$100,066,015	$111,983,698
India	413,618,243	529,688,915
Ceylon	24,922,062	21,707,522
Jamaica	9,034,368	7,155,173
Barbadoes	5,104,582	3,690,042
Trinidad	11,989,155	10,540,324
British Guiana	6,529,650	9,244,025
Bermuda	1,500,000	500,000
Bahamas	900,000	690,000
Leeward Islands	2,000,000	1,400,000
Windward Islands	1,925,000	1,900,000

We here see, turning the figures for Great Britain into dollars, an aggregate import trade in round numbers of about $2,300,000,000 and an export trade of $2,180,000,000.

Now, Canada's imports from these countries only aggregate about $31,000,000, and her exports to these countries $80,000,000.

In other words, Canada contributes to the aggregate imports of the parts of the British Empire enumerated only a little over 3 per cent., while of their aggregate exports Canada only receives about 1¼ per cent.

Under the preferential tariff, which goes into operation August 1 next, it is to be hoped there will be an all-round expansion in trade between the Dominion and the several parts of the British Empire.

There is no sound reason why there should not be an expansion. The articles which are Canada's staple exports are animals and their products, farm produce, lumber, minerals, etc., and most of the countries which are to share in the preferential tariff are importers, to a more or less extent, of these.

Then, of the staple exports of these countries Canada is more or less an importer. Great Britain's staple exports are, of course, manufactured goods. And, while Canada is gradually supplying her own necessities in this respect, the day is far distant when even relatively this country will be a small importer of manufactured goods.

The staple export of New South Wales is wool, of which it sends out about $50,000,000 worth annually.

The principal products of India are rice, wheat, tea, cotton, sugar cane, tobacco and indigo.

Tea is the chief staple of Ceylon. Cocoa, cocoanut, rice, cinnamon, grain, etc., are cultivated. Ironware, cordage, etc., are manufactured, although only for local requirements.

The chief products and exports of Jamaica are sugar, rum, pineapples, and various fruits, coffee and dyewoods.

The chief exports of Barbadoes are sugar and its products.

Sugar, cacao, asphalt, cocoanuts and fibre are the staple products of the Island of Trinidad.

British Guiana produces and exports chiefly sugar, gum, molasses and gold.

Early vegetables, arrowroot, bulbs, etc., are the chief products of the Bermuda islands.

The chief exports of the Bahama islands are sponges, turtles, pineapples, oranges, hemp, cotton and cocoanut.

Sugar and molasses are the staple export articles of the Leeward islands.

The chief exports of Grenada, the Grenadines, St. Vincent and St. Lucia, which comprise what are commonly known as the Windward islands, are sugar, rum, fish, oil, cotton, corn, coffee, etc.

THE AUSTRALIAN TRADE.

A report has just been received at the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa, from Mr. Larke, the Canadian agent in Australia. He reports the arrival of shipments of boots and shoes, which are taking well, and he prophesies a large trade from Canada if developed by the Canadian manufacturer. Fanning mills have also been received from Canada, and the Australians are readily seeing their utility, and a large trade is confidently expected.

Although there is at present a shortage in the visible wheat supply of some million and a half bushels, yet the prospects of a bountiful harvest in 1898 were never better. An abundance of rain has fallen and the mercantile community are in consequence feeling very buoyant.

The Canadian agent strongly urges manufacturers to establish agencies in Australia with a good supply of samples.

The want of direct cable communication with Canada is much felt, and on account of the eastern complications the feeling at present is acute.

MEDIUM GRADE JAPANS DEARER.

A decidedly better feeling in regard to Japan teas has developed during the past week or two.

Medium grade teas at from 15 to 17c. per pound are scarce and wanted in both Canada and the United States. In Canada the price for this grade is fully a half cent per pound higher.

There does not appear to be any more low grade Japans than will be sufficient for requirements until the new season's teas arrive, and that will not be in any quantity until September or October. This grade of tea has not changed in price, and it is firm.

In fine teas the demand is fair and prices firm.

MEETINGS OF RETAIL ASSOCIATIONS.

TORONTO GROCERS' ASSOCIATION.

THE Toronto Retail Grocers' Association held their regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, in St. George's Hall, Elm street. In the absence of the president, S. W. Johnston, vice-president, occupied the chair. There was a good attendance.

Messrs. Trowern and Cleghorn, representing the Retail Merchants' Association, were present. At the desire of the association, they addressed the meeting in regard to the huckster nuisance. The Retail Merchants' Association intend to make an effort to have a license of $30 placed on persons peddling with a one-horse wagon upon the streets of Toronto, and they desired the co-operation of the Retail Grocers' Association.

The matter was discussed at some length, a unanimity of opinion being expressed in favor of such a license. A motion, pledging co-operation, was passed, and a committee was appointed to work in conjunction with the Merchants' Association.

The committee appointed to look after a suitable place for the coming picnic reported progress. The report commenced a discussion in regard to the suitability of several points, notably Oshawa and Port Hope, but by general consent the matter was left in abeyance for the committee to secure further information.

The question of the enlargement of St. Lawrence Market, which was considered last December, was re-opened, and R. Donald, one of the commissioners appointed by the city council to enquire into the matter in some of the large cities of the United States, addressed the meeting in favor of decided action. Mr. Donald desired to have it understood that the purpose of the proposed market was to make Toronto a large central market for all the produce of the neighboring district, if not all Western Ontario.

A warm discussion followed, some holding that the proposed market would hurt retailers, others claiming it would be of great benefit. Nothing definite was done, as it was thought advisable that the members should secure further information regarding the subject.

HAMILTON RETAIL GROCERS.

The Retail Grocers' Association, of Hamilton, held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening, April 5, Mr. J. C. Boligan, president, in the chair.

The following were received as new members: M. E. McFadden, S. Darch, J. Stephens, J. A. Williamson, G. M. Echlin, P. F. McBride, Jos. Kirkpatrick.

It was decided to petition the city council to pass a by-law, making it compulsory to close all grocery stores at seven o'clock in the evening.

Mr. F. R. Close, who is retiring from the grocery business, tendered his resignation as first vice-president. It was with deep regret that it was accepted as Mr. Close was a valued member.

WM. R. HARVEY,
Secretary.

A GOOD WORD FOR "IMPERIAL" CHEESE.

AS in these days housekeepers exact from the manufacturer the highest excellence, the vogue of any article cannot be long continued unless it honestly lives up to the wise housekeeper's own motto, and is at one and the same time appetizing, pure, and nutritious. The fact that these qualities are found in MacLaren's "Imperial" cheese has gained it the confidence of housekeepers. It would be well if the same could be said of all other brands on the market. It is pleasant to be able to admit that there are some of which it can be said.

None of the articles of food supplies which have been subjected to the tests of the experts who conduct examinations of such products for this journal, deserve better of the consumers than MacLaren's "Imperial" cheese. It deserves to find a place in the menu of every household where health and hygiene are given the best and most unremitting attention. Its distinct value and permanent position as a desirable addition to the household supply receive our unqualified endorsement.

Praise must be given where it is due, because it is as essential to recommend as it is to warn, and while physicians are unceasingly upon the lookout to protect people from the dangers to which they are exposed by the unwarranted claims of unworthy products, they are none the less earnest to see that they avail themselves of the desirable qualities of products which, like MacLaren's "Imperial" cheese, is to be counted among the aids to the preservation of health.

The table, when well ordered, should both stimulate appetite and promote digestion; it is impossible for housekeepers to maintain this combination without the exercise of correct judgment based upon knowledge. The physician places this knowledge within reach of all when, as in the present case of MacLaren's "Imperial" cheese, he draws attention to the most meritorious brand of food products.—R. H. SHARP BUT CROOKED.

ONE day recently I witnessed the most barefaced attempt of a peddler to impose on the public I ever saw. It clearly shows what these itinerant peddlers, who oftentimes become the direct competitor of the grocer, do to win trade. Safe to say that such tactics never hold it. I saw this peddler down in Dock street, where he had purchased a lot of spoiled shad. You will appreciate what I mean by spoiled shad when I say that the meat of the fish had actually decayed so much that it was black and rotten-looking, especially around the gills. In a fresh shad the gills ought to be red, with blood showing. This shad had no such appearance, but what did that scoundrel do but go down along the wharves and get several heads of shad which were being cleaned, pull out the fresh red gills and stick them in the proper place in the spoiled fish? Then he rubbed the bloody head of the fresh fish all over the black head of the decayed shad, and when he had finished with it all signs of decay had gone and the fish presented a very fair appearance. But it was decayed all the same, and absolutely unfit for human food. —Grocery World.

The seasonable demand for the lines of pure fruit jams and marmalades—"Seville" and "Gilt Edge"—handled by the Eby, Blain Co., Limited, keeps the goods moving briskly.

"Maple Leaf" brand smoked meats and lard are becoming more popular every day, judging by the increased demand. So report D. Gunn, Bros. & Co., the packers of this brand.

Rutherford, Marshall & Co. have received several large orders for both dairy and creamery butter for shipment at good prices. This has kept their market in a healthy condition.

Laporte, Martin & Cie. write: "Our stock of sardines (½ lb. tins) from l'Union Sardiniere du St. Laurent has run down, during last week. The high quality and low price are the principal factors of this rush. We have a few cases left."

Burnham's clam chowder, 3-lb. tins, and clam bouillon, pints and half pints, are becoming more appreciated the better their nourishing and restorative qualities and reasonable prices are known. The Eby, Blain Co., Limited, has just passed a fresh supply of these excellent goods into stock.

To meet the requirements of the trade, who find a high-grade domestic cigar a profitable line to handle, the Eby, Blain Co., Limited, have just passed into stock a heavy purchase of these goods, to which attention is invited, the values being exceptionally fine.

The Davidson & Hay, Limited, are introducing to the trade a special blend of Indo-Ceylon tea, to retail at 25c. per lb. They are packing this tea in pounds only, under the appropriate name of "Jungle," and have already taken many advance orders for it. Retailers requiring a really first-class 25c. package tea should examine "Jungle."

CREDIT DESCRIBED.

Credit is the most precious possession a business man can have. It is priceless. It cannot be bought. It is acquired, maintained and preserved by certain qualities that I believe are inherent in the man. Credit is like a delicate piece of procelain. You may break it and put it together again, and for purposes of utility it may possibly be just as good as it ever was, but the cracks are there, and you can see where it was broken. And so it is with the man whose credit is once impaired. He may be able to buy goods again, his standing among mercantille houses may be very fair, but it never can be restored to the superb condition in which it once was. And so I would warn all merchants, young and old, to regard credit as a priceless possession. Do not let it be trifled with, and allow nothing to impair it or injure it.—William B. Dean.

POSTAGE ON CANADIAN NEWSPAPERS AND PERIODICALS.

Mr. Mulock, the Postmaster-General, has introduced in Parliament a measure to impose postage on Canadian publications after January 1, 1899. The rate will be ¼c. per pound at first and then ½c. per pound. Publications in towns and villages (not cities) will continue to be carried free in a zone ten miles around place of publication. The publishers of Canada take the announcement with some philosophy, principally because they do not wish to appear as sturdy beggars, asking for the free carriage of the mails when other people have to pay. At the same time, the burden upon certain classes of publishers will be heavy, mainly on account of the discriminating nature of the charge. The town and country papers are, for the most part, to escape altogether. The United States publications will continue to get free transportation in Canada owing to the international agreement between the post-office authorities of the two countries. For these reasons, the new charges are not being laid equally upon all, but discriminate more or less against some periodicals.

The trade papers are hit hard, because they are usually printed on a heavy-toned paper, and the postage rate will be upon weight. The more successful they are, that is, the larger their circulation, the more they will have to pay. The publication of trade papers becomes, therefore, a greater uncertainty than ever. They have always been at the mercy of business conditions, for when business was bad their profit was small; in future the Government will add a new element of uncertainty by taxing them in proportion as they succeed. The religious papers, too, will feel the blow, as they must compete with similar papers of the United States that are to be carried in our mails free. The attitude of the legitimate publishing firms generally is probably this: they do not defend free postage, and if the impost comes it should be laid upon all equally.—Bookseller and Stationer.

McGill & Darroch have started a grocery and crockery store in Collingwood.

Liverpool mail advices to March 24, state that the arrivals of Valencia raisins in that market from the beginning of the season to that date had been 3,952 tons, an increase of 401 tons, as compared with arrivals during the same period last year. Retail sales of quarter-boxes were making at 23s. 6d.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, April 14, 1898.

GROCERIES.

THE wholesale grocery trade in Toronto is gradually becoming more active, and, taken on the whole, a nice trade is being done for this time of the year. Business is not yet, however, what might be called active. Interest this week is being chiefly centred in sugar, which has been advanced 1-16 to ⅛c. per lb. by the refiners. The demand for sugar has been decidedly active, although the advance which took place on Monday has naturally caused a slight lull in the demand. Canned goods remain much in the same situation as before, being devoid of any striking features. There has been an advance in Japan rice in the primary market, and the rice market generally is strong. Coffees are meeting with a fairly good demand for high grade descriptions, but the market in Rio is easier again. In spices, prices have again an upward tendency, particularly in pepper. Teas are beginning to move a little better, both representatives of shipping houses and wholesalers reporting a better demand. Medium grade Japan teas are fully ½c. per lb. dearer than than they were a week ago. Foreign dried fruits are steady in price and meeting with a fair demand.

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market at the moment appears to be in a waiting condition, although there are indications of an improvement in business. It was last week noted that some wholesale houses were short of canned tomatoes. We hear this week of one or two houses being in much the same condition in regard to corn. There has been some enquiry for corn during the past week, but we hear of no transactions. The price of corn is now being quoted, as a rule, at from 90 to 95c.; 85c. has been obtained by one wholesaler from another for lots wanted to complete orders. The position of corn appears to be, on the whole, a strong one. The demand for salmon keeps steady, although it is not characterized by any great briskness. Stocks of salmon on this market are ample.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

There have been a few bright syrups offered, and a few enquiries have been heard, but in general, business in this line is almost at a standstill. Molasses is quiet, and values in the primary market for New Orleans descriptions are being well maintained, although business there appears to be light. There are no changes in prices in either of these lines to note.

SUGAR.

The sugar market is stronger than it was a week ago. There has been a slight advance in prices on the London market. In New York the refiners are willing to pay recent prices for raw sugars, but there are few if any selling, as holders are hoping for more money. Towards the latter part of last week refined sugars advanced in New York, but on Monday last there was a slight decline, and prices are now about where they were before. On Monday last the Canadian refiners advanced their prices 1-16c. per lb. on yellows and standard granulated, and ⅛c. per lb. on No. 2 granulated, and as a result our quotations this week show an advance all round, equal to the advance at the refineries. Foreign granulated is also quoted ⅛c. higher by local wholesalers. The quotation for standard granulated is now 4 11-16c., and for No. 2 granulated, both imported and home made, 4½c. per lb. is the idea for ordinary quantities.

NUTS.

Tarragona almonds are lower in Spain owing to the higher rate of exchange. Valencia shelled almonds are firm, and new crop Jordan almonds are dearer than in the primary market. Locally there is no particular feature to note.

RICE.

Japan rice is scarce upon this market, and wholesalers report that they could not lay down fresh lots at less than 6½c. per lb. the way the market is now ruling. The rice market generally is in a strong position.

COFFEE.

Rio coffees have taken a little easier turn again in the primary market, while West India and other growths appear to be fairly steady as to price. Locally there is a fair movement in Rio coffee of high grade. The demand for the cheap stuff, which has been so marked for some months, appears to be petering out, consumers evidently being tired of such goods.

SPICES.

Advices to hand this week state that pepper is dearer, both in London and New York, while prices for spices generally, appear to be again on the upward turn. Latest mail advices from Macassar indicate that the supplies of nutmegs are more plentiful and of good quality, as a rule.

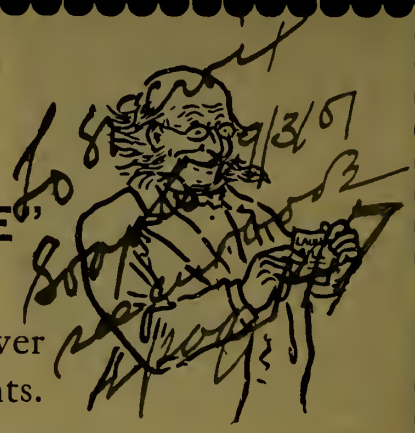
TEAS.

The feature of the market this week is the advance in the price of medium grade Japans held in first hands, ½c. per lb. being asked above the figures ruling a week or two ago. These teas are scarce, both in Canada and the United States. Low grade Japans are firm, and the same may be said of the fine grades. China green teas are becoming scarcer than ever, and the few that were offering in London, England, appear to be also about cleaned up. Mail advices from London state that the market for Indian tea still continues somewhat languid. Better competition was noted in the auction sales there of Ceylon teas, with prices showing a hardening tendency. The official estimate of the Ceylon crop for 1898 is 122,171,400 lbs., being about 6,000,000 lbs. above the actual outturn of 1897. Wholesalers in Toronto report a better tone to the market, as the demand from retailers is beginning to improve.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS—There is a fair demand, and prices rule much as before. Advices from Patras state that the recent decline in quotations was not due to any weakness in the market, but was the result of an advance in exchange.

VALENCIA RAISINS—The demand on the local market during the past week has been a little better.



PRUNES—The demand is still nearly altogether for California prunes, which are being firmly held in the primary market.

SULTANA RAISINS—There is not a great deal doing. A Sultana raisin, of California growth, which sells wholesale at about 8c. per lb., is meeting with a fairly good demand, and is claimed to be about equal in quality to a Smyrna raisin, which sells at a cent or two per lb. more. As to the merit of the fruit, opinion seems to differ somewhat.

CALIFORNIA EVAPORATED FRUITS — There is a steady demand for both apricots and peaches, and prices rule firm. It is estimated that since the beginning of December three carloads per week of Californian evaporated fruits have arrived on the Toronto market and gone into consumption.

FIGS—Tapnet figs have been selling so well on this market lately that stocks are almost exhausted, while the demand is still being kept up. Wholesalers who have any are holding them at 3¾c. per lb., which is about ½c. per lb. dearer than a short time ago.

GREEN FRUITS.

The market is active, a good movement being reported in all lines of fruit. The orange market is firm, with an advance anticipated, navels selling briskly. Bananas are moving actively, with prices steady. Pineapples are now coming in more freely and are selling well. The movement in lemons has not been as brisk as in oranges, yet it has been good.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The supply is steadily increasing, with a good demand keeping receipts well absorbed. Some jobbers here have commenced pickling.

POTATOES—Offerings in carload lots are numerous, with prices weak and a decline of 2c. noted, the price quoted this week being 50c. On the market the offerings are large, with prices ranging from 55 to 65c.

DRIED APPLES — There is a moderate local demand, with prices steady at 3 to 4c. No export sales are noted.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Trade is fair, with local demand moderate but steady. Prices remain unchanged at 9½ to 10c., although the feeling appears to be somewhat easier.

HONEY — Business is quiet with prices steady and unchanged.

MAPLE SYRUP—The receipts have been small, evidencing a poor season. The demand is correspondingly easy, with prices lower than last week. We quote syrup as follows: Imperial 5-gal. tins, 70 to 80c. per gal.; imperial 1-gal. tins, 75 to 85c.; wine 1-gal. tins, 60 to 65c. New sugar is rather scarce at 8 to 9c.

VEGETABLES—Sales of radishes and rhubarb have been large. Red cabbages are now on the market. We quote: Rhubarb, 75 to 90c. per doz. bunches; onions, 10c. doz. bunches; lettuce, 20 to 30c. doz. bunches; radishes, 45 to 60c. doz. bunches; celery, 75c. to $1 doz. bunches; cabbage, 25 to 30c. doz.; red cabbage, 75c. to $1 per doz.; parsley, 15 to 20c. doz. bunches.

BEANS—The demand is just steady, at 80 to 85c. for prime, and 85 to 90c. for hand-picked

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—Receipts, especially in dairy rolls, are steadily increasing. The local demand has been good, and shipping orders from eastern points have kept market from any accumulation. A decline of 1c. is noted.

CHEESE—There is a much better feeling noted, in sympathy with firmer tone in the English market. Very little fodder cheese has been made so far, only three or four lots being offered, while last year at this time an abundant supply of this cheese was on this market.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

There has been a lull in the briskness of trade since Easter, most merchants laying in for that season enough meats to last a few days later. Business is now picking up again and all lines are selling actively, with prices firm and unchanged.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Frozen fish are off the market, the warm weather putting an end to the season. Salmon trout and whitefish are now offered, and are selling well. We quote: Oysters, $1.25 per gal.; fresh salmon trout, 7c.; fresh whitefish, 7c.; steak trout, 7c.; fresh steak cod, 6 to 6½c. per lb.; pickerel, 6c. per lb.; fresh pike, 5½c. per lb.; fresh perch, 5½c. per lb.; fresh herring, 3½c. per lb.; Labrador herring, $5.50 per bbl. and $3 per half-bbl.; split herring, $5 per bbl. and $2.75 to $3 per half-bbl.; boneless codfish, 3½ to 5c. per lb; pure cod, 6½ to 6¾c. per lb.; fresh water herring (heads off), $2.50 per keg; ciscoes, $1.25 to $1.30; haddies, 5½ to 6c. per lb.; fresh haddock, 5c. per lb.

GRAIN, FLOUR, BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—Wheat remains steady. This week's quotations on cars outside are as follows: Wheat, red winter, 85 to 86c.; white winter, 80 to 83c.; goose, 80 to 83c. The street market is quiet, little being offered.

as farmers are engaged in seeding. We quote the street market as follows : Wheat, red, 87 to 90c., straight ; white, 82 to 84c.; goose, 85c.; peas, 55 to 57c.; barley, 37 to 38c.; oats, 33 to 34c.; rye, 50 to 51c. No. 1 hard wheat is steady at $1.08 Toronto and Montreal freights, or $1.05 Midland.

FLOUR—The market is quiet, with prices steady at unchanged figures. We quote : Manitoba patents, $5.30 to $5.40; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.90 to $5; Ontario patents, $4.65 to $4.75; straight roller, $4 to $4.10, Toronto freights.

BREAKFAST FOODS — All foods, especially cornmeal, are firm in price, though no change of quotations is noted. Business is good. We quote as follows : Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.90 in bags and $4.00 in bbls.; rolled wheat, $2.75 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $2.50; split peas, $3.50 ; pot barley, $3.25.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

HIDES— There is a decided weakness in prices in sympathy with weak condition of the United States market. Prices are considered too high, but no decline is yet noted. We quote : No. 1, 7½c.; No. 2, 6½c.; No. 3, 5½c.

CALFSKINS—The prices quoted are, as in the hide market, considered too high, though no decline is yet reported. We quote : No. 1 veal, 8 lbs. and up, 10c. per lb.; No. 2, 8c.; Dekins, from 30 to 35c. ; culls, 15 to 20c.

SHEEPSKINS—Trade is quiet. We quote at $1.15 to $1.35.

WOOL—There is a free offering of unwashed at 12c. per lb.

SEEDS.

Deliveries and offerings have fallen off considerably. Though numerous jobbers' orders are reported they are all small, evidencing a hand-to-mouth trade. Prices are unchanged. Jobbers are buying red clover at $2.75 to $3.25. For timothy $1 to $1.50 is paid, with 50c. extra for occasional choice lots. Alsike is quoted all the way from $2 to $4.50, as the quality varies greatly.

SALT.

Trade is active, with prices firm and unchanged. We quote: Carload lots, $1.05 per bbl., and 65c. per sack; less than carload lots, $1.10 per bbl., and 70c. per sack. At the wells we quote : F.O.B., barrels, 75c.; sacks, 45c.

PETROLEUM.

Business is quiet, with prices unchanged. We quote in 1 to 10-bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto, as follows: Canadian, 14c.; Sarnia

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, April 14, 1898.

GROCERIES.

RATHER more business has been transacted in all lines of the grocery trade during the past week. The movement in teas on American account has been one of the chief features, some large lines of Japans having been disposed of. Another feature has been the stronger undertone to the sugar market on account of the increase in the duty on the raw article, and refiners have advanced prices 1-16c. per lb. all round, except for Canadian-German granulated, which is now held at 4¼c., and this figure is 3-16c. higher. Rice is excited and strong in sympathy with foreign advices, and still higher figures are anticipated in the near future. All other lines are firm, but without any special feature.

SUGAR.

Demand continues slow and trade is limited for the season. Some enquiry has been experienced for round lots of granulated at 4 7-16c., which is an advance of 1-16c. Yellows are quiet, the range being 3 9-16 to 4 1-16c., as to grade. Advices from foreign points on the raw article have been quiet. Beet is dull, but prices show no change from a week ago, the quotation being 9s. ¾d. for April and 9s 1½d. for May. In New York, refined is firm—in fact, higher—having advanced from ⅛ to ¼c. per lb., but the demand is slow.

SYRUPS.

There is no change in syrups, prices being purely nominal at 1½ to 2½c., as to grade. Stocks are light, and therefore holders are very firm.

MOLASSES.

Notwithstanding the firmer market cabled from Barbadoes buyers are indifferent. Advices from the Island quote 8c. first cost. A few small lots are moving in local way and stocks in second hands are down to a very small lot. Prices are unchanged at 24c. in car lots, and 25c. in puncheon.

CANNED GOODS.

Firm offers have been made again for tomatoes from western buyers, but holders here apparently want all the stock they have on hand for their own purposes. The jobbing demand is of an ordinary character. Quotations are as last reported.

TEAS.

The improved demand noted for tea last week has been well maintained. The feature of the market has been the inquiry from American buyers. Some 2,000 packages of Japans being taken for New York account at a price averaging about 16c. Other sales aggregating about 600 packages were made at 14 to 15½c. China teas have been in fair inquiry. Ping Suey and Young Hysons changing hands at 1 to 2c. advance on quotations ruling a month ago. This strength in the market is attributable entirely to the American demand, as local buyers appear to be entirely indifferent to the strength exhibited at primary points.

SPICES.

The spice market rules about as noted last week. Black pepper for prompt shipment is very firm. Demand here is fair and prices show no alteration.

COFFEE.

The coffee market is quiet and prices show no change, round lots of Maracaibo and Rio sold at a range of 9 to 12.

RICE.

There has been some excitement in the rice market owing to an advance of ½c. per lb. named by the mills at the close of last week. This is due principally to advices received from points of production in the east to the effect that the market has been cornered. Demand here for importation has been considerable, and several sales have been made at the advanced prices. Stocks on spot of all kinds are small.

DRIED FRUIT.

The currant market has been easier abroad, but there is no change on spot. Some sales are noted by the direct steamer to Montreal, which will arrive during May, but they are chiefly on western account. The retail demand here is of a hand-to-mouth character. Valencia raisins are unchanged at last week's prices. California raisins have been moved in a quiet way. Prices are unchanged, though advices from the Coast are quite firm.

Prunes are moving well, especially Californias in the larger sizes, which are somewhat difficult to obtain; prices are steady. European sorts remain as last noted. There is a fair enquiry for figs, and the same can be said of dates.

GREEN FRUIT.

There is a fair trade in green fruit with the advance of the season. Oranges show improved sales at unchanged prices. Lemons are firmer, in sympathy with the New York market. Bananas have been arriving more freely and sales have been reported at $1 a bunch. Pineapples which were scarce last week have been arriving more freely, and 15 to 30c. each is now asked, according to size.

APPLES.

Apples are a slow sale; the prices are unchanged.

DRIED APPLES.

Dried have been somewhat easier, owing to the fact that one or two large lots were forced for sale at 3½c. In a regular way, 6½c. is still asked, but it is difficult to obtain.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—Eggs are quiet, and increased receipts have led to a further decline, 9½ to 10c. now being the top price.

BEANS—Beans are quiet. In a jobbing way, 75 to 80c. is asked for ordinary sorts; handpicked are held at an advance of 5c. on this price.

HONEY—Honey is quiet, and reports from the country state that stocks of last year's yield are well diminished. White clover comb has sold at 12c.; other sorts are unchanged.

MAPLE PRODUCTS — A fair trade was done in maple products, and prices show no change. Syrup in wood is selling at 4½ to 5c. per lb., and in tins at 45 to 50c., as to size. Sugar moves freely at 6 to 6¼c. per lb.

POTATOES—Demand for potatoes is good for the season at 70 to 75c. a bag in car lots.

ONIONS—Onions are unchanged, at $2.25 per bbl.

PROVISIONS.

There was no change in the provision market. The demand for all lines was slow and trade was quiet, which will likely continue so for the balance of this week. We quote: Canadian pork, $16 to $16.50 per barrel; pure Canadian lard, in pails, at 8¼ to 8½c., and compound refined at 5½ to 5¾c. per lb.; hams, 11½ to 12c.; bacon, 12c. per lb.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

The export demand resulted in the Lake of the Woods Milling Co. making the following sales: 10,200 sacks for June shipment, 500 sacks on London account, and 8 cars on West Indies account. There was no improvement in the local or country demand, and trade in this respect was dull. We quote: Winter wheat, patents $4.65 to $4.85; straight rollers, $4.30 to $4.40; bags, $2.15 to $2.20; Manitoba patents, $5.30; strong bakers', $4.90.

The demand for meal continues slow, and the market is dull, with no change in prices to note. Rolled oats are offering at $3.90 to $4 per barrel, and at $1.90 to $1.95 per bag.

GRAIN AND FEED.

On spot business was quiet, but the undertone was firmer, and values in some cases show an advance. A sale of 8,000 bushels No. 1 hard Manitoba wheat was made at $1.02½ afloat Fort William. Ontario red wheat was quiet, but firm, at 86c. at shipping points west. Buckwheat was strong, and advanced 1 to 1½c. per bushel, and is likely to go still higher. Oats sold at 34 to 34¼c. store, and 35c. was bid afloat May, with holders asking 35½c. These figures show an advance of ¼ to ½c. per bushel. Rye sold at 56c. ex store. We quote: No. 2 white oats, 34 to 34¼c., ex store; 35 to 35½c. afloat, May delivery; peas, 62½ to 63c. ex store, ; buckwheat, 47 to 47½c. ex store.

There was no change in feed, but the demand is very slow at present. We quote as follows: Ontario winter wheat bran, $14 to $14.50; shorts, $16 per ton in bulk; Manitoba bran, $14, and shorts, $16 per ton, including bags.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

There was nothing new to note in the cheese market, business being exceedingly quiet, on account of the scarcity of stock to trade in, and until the new commences to come forward the market will, no doubt, remain dull and featureless.

An easier feeling prevails in the country for butter owing to the increased make, but prices locally show no actual change, as the demand up to the present has been ample to absorb all offerings. Finest creamery sold at 20 to 20½c.; Townships dairy, 18 to 19c. and western rolls, 17 to 18c.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,
ST. JOHN, N.B., April 11, 1898.

THERE is quite a large movement in all lines, and business for some time will be active. The river steamers are making short trips, and expecting soon to get up all the way to Fredericton. The holiday made dealers the more busy. As the season itself is a busy one, two days work had to be done in one. The budget gives general satisfaction here, the change in the sugar tariff tending to increase business relations with the West Indies. It is thought here that Canada is about to get a large share of the West India flour trade, and there is the hope that a better line of steamers will be put on than those now running. In lumber, to which we often refer in our report because of its importance, it is said the cut this year will be but about two-thirds as large as last year. At present the market is a dull one, but better things are expected later.

OILS—This is a busy season with dealers owing to the near approach of the opening of the saw mills, of which there are so many for which lubricating oil is bought here. This is also the busy season in paints and oils. Turpentine is again higher. In burning oil there is the regular demand of this season. The prices hold at the late advance.

SALT—There is a firm feeling, and prices must go higher in Liverpool coarse salt, as the regular steamers to Liverpool will soon be withdrawn and sent to Montreal. There is a good demand, stocks are ample for the present, and there is some afloat for here. In other lines, while this is a busy season, there is nothing new to report. We CANNED GOODS—While this season sees an active demand, there is at the present little that is new. In vegetables the market is a strong one. Stocks are not large, and but little is offering. One New Brunswick packer was in the market this week with some corn and tomatoes. He wanted full figures. In some cases retailers are selling at wholesale prices. Canned meats are firm at the higher figures. Scallops have a steady sale. Salmon keep low. There is quite a stock here. There are but few lobsters. In pumpkin this market shows a good demand at this season.

GREEN FRUIT—Is again becoming a busy line, now that the danger of frost is over. Oranges are still the staple. In Valencias, prices are rather higher. Bloods are somewhat easier, but the demand has increased. Californias are dull. Bananas are still high, but show a larger sale, and are beginning to take the place of oranges. Strawberries are rather lower, but the business is still small. In rhubarb there is a steady sale, though the price is still high for big business. Lemons are a good sale, and the prices keep low, though any change will be toward higher prices. Apples are not an active line. Prices are hardly as firm.

DRIED FRUIT—The nearness of rhubarb and small fruits is beginning to be felt in the demand for prunes and such lines, though there is still a good business. Prices are firm. Evaporated peaches show quite a large business this spring. The quality of the fruit has been satisfactory. In apricots, prices are advancing, and will rule higher. In raisins, Californias have the chief sale. The stock here is not large, and the quality good. Currants have but fair sale. Dates, figs, and peels are quiet. Peanuts, which at this season begin to sell more freely, are higher, and price will likely rule firm. Onions are easy.

SUGAR—The market is a firm one, and owing to the change in duty, prices are rather higher, the more as stocks here are not large. This, however, is not a cause of much disappointment, for, while some would like to have had rather more than they did have, the advance is not enough to pay carrying expenses on a large stock. No doubt, the disappointment of last season had much to do with the present light stock. The fine standard granulated has the preference in this market over the other grades. In the German made Canadian, sales here are not large, though they are increasing. There is little or no foreign sugar here. Yellows have been somewhat scarce during the past week.

MOLASSES—The market is an active one. The West India steamer to hand this week brought quite a cargo, chiefly Barbadoes, the market for which is rather firmer. In Porto Rico the quantity yet to hand is small, but further arrivals are expected. The price this season is rather below that of last year. This grade has a large sale here.

DAIRY PRODUCE—The coming of Easter, as usual, caused quite an increased interest in the egg market. The retail price was pushed down to two dozen for 25c., the wholesale price being almost the same. It is thought any change will favor easier prices. In butter the stock is light and prices are higher. There is a demand for almost any grade, but particularly good. Local creameries are oversold; and there is practically no creamery in the market. Cheese is still dull, and factories which have held any stock over from last fall find a weak market and little demand.

FISH—Fresh fish, which have the chief demand at this season, have been scarce, and dealers have not been able to fill orders. Gaspereaux are late this season, the catch so far being very small. In halibut, receipts are also light, those to hand coming from Yarmouth. Lobsters still scarce, as far as this market is concerned. They are rather lower in Boston owing to large shipments. In dry fish there is a good steady business at even prices. Pickled are dull, and prices show no change; stocks light. Smoked herring are again quoted higher. There is a good steady business. We quote: Large cod, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.25 to $3.35; pollock, $1.90 to $2; Grand Manan pickled herring, $1.85 to $1.95 per half-bbl.; smoked herring, 8 to 9c.; Canso, pickled, $5 per barrel; boneless fish, 3½ to 4½c.; cod, 6 to 7c.; finnan haddies, 4 to 4½c.; fresh Gaspereaux, $1.25 per 100; fresh halibut, 7 to 8c. per lb.

PROVISIONS—Dealers report this a particularly dull season for barrel meats, particularly pork. Smoked meats rule rather easier. The American hams which have been on this market, while giving fair satisfaction, are not liked as well as our own. Lard, which has been so firm, shows signs of an easier feeling, being more freely offered.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—The feeling is still easier, though there is no change in price, and there is no particular reason why there should be. Oatmeal seems to have regained the slight decline of the past few weeks, and is firmly held, oats being still high. Cornmeal is rather lower. The competition between the city mills is keen. Beans are rather higher, and there is a feeling that higher prices will rule. Barley is higher, and will rule high during the coming season. This is also the case with blue and split peas. In seeds, stocks here are large. They are, however, beginning to move. This season finds clover seeds well below last year's prices, but grass seeds firmly held. We quote: Manitoba, $5.85 to $6; best Ontario, $5 to $5.10; medium, $4.85 to $4.95; oatmeal, $4.15 to $4.25; cornmeal, $2.05; middlings, bulk, car lots, $19 to $20; bran, do, $17 to $18; hand-picked beans, $1 to $1.10; prime, 95c. to $1.00; barley, $3.40 to $3.50; round peas, $1.25; split peas, $3.60 to $3.75; yellow eye beans, $1.75; oats, 35 to 40c.; hay, $8.50 to $9.50; timothy seed, American, $1.70 to $1.90; do., Canadian, $2 to $2.25; mammoth clover, 7 to 7½c.; red clover, 6 to 7c; alsike, 7¾ to 8½c.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Middleton, N.S., is to have a pork packing factory. Everything will be the best. It is to be called the Nova Scotia Pork Packing Co. Capital stock $25,000.

W. T. L. Reed Brown, manufacturer, Fredericton, has sold out to Wm. Lawrence.

The next Furness Line steamer to London from here takes 1,000 bales pulp wood from one of the Nova Scotia mills.

A. L. Goodwin, our large wholesale green fruit and dried fruit merchant, this week received a shipment of fine evaporated peaches and apricots.

Wm. Thomson & Co., of this city, whose steamers have been running in the direct steamship line to London, during the winter, have three of their boats now here, namely the Platea, Cheronea, and the Arbela.

In St. John the trade is rapidly working away from China tea chiefly to blends, and that in packages under private brands. Even the smaller country storekeeper now has his own private brand of package blend tea.

The freight rates on the Intercolonial have been uncertain for some time past on account of the effort to overcome the general feeling of disapproval against the new tariff. Slowly and surely the new order of things is giving way and more satisfactory rates are charged.

The West India steamer Druart Castle, which arrived this week, had a full cargo for St. John, among which was 400 casks Barbadoes molasses, 70 tierces Trinidad, 25 casks St. Croix, 200 crates Bermuda onions; also 150 bags cocoanuts from Trinidad, to be forwarded to Toronto, and 200 for Montreal.

More than half the entire exports of St. John to the United States for the last three months has been American lumber sawn here. It is valued at $120,000. The value of fish entered from Grand Manan was $35,000. There was spruce gum to the value of $212, sent from Fredericton to the same market.

USE AND ABUSE OF CREDIT.

ONE of the greatest, if not the greatest, evils of modern business is the credit system, remarks Trade. While there will be occasional instances and occasional business where it seems a positive necessity, the stores where it is practised are growing gradually less. It is possible for merchants in adopting this plan to do business on so much smaller capital, and with so much less margin of profit they can necessarily sell goods very much lower than their credit competitors, as they quite naturally draw a largely increased trade in consequence, and they can know every day when they close their business just where they stand.

It is a very common occurrence for buyers to exhaust their credit at every available store, and then transfer their patronage to some cash dealer leaving a list of unpaid, uncollectable bills to be charged to the profit and loss account. If credit must be given, and it is unquestionably necessary at times, the next best thing to do is to procure some good, well-tried coupon book, such as is issued by any of the larger coupon book makers, and never, under any circumstances, allow a credit except by means of one of these books. They enable every merchant to keep easy and accurate track of his credits, and he never lets goods go uncharged, as is frequently the case with the old plan.

Further, it removes every possible chance for any of the many disputes which so frequently arise between the merchant and the patron by means of which good paying patrons are often lost. It is an exemplification of the old adage, of two evils choose the least. Credit of any kind in a retail establishment is an evil; it is much less so when conducted along the lines possible under a coupon or some similar system.

TRADE IN OTHER COUNTRIES THAN OUR OWN.

SUGAR IN THE UNITED STATES.

THE feature in the market for raw sugars was the advices received from Cuba stating that last week the American Sugar Refining Co. had purchased at least 30,000 tons of sugar in Cuba, and it was stated that prices paid were equal to 4 1-16 to 4.15c., duty paid, for 96 deg. test. The latter named figure being the last price, paid. Locally, a moderate volume of business has been transacted at unchanged prices, and the market closed firm at 4⅛c. for centrifugals 96 deg. test; 3⅝c. for muscovado 89 deg. test, and 3⅜c. for molasses sugar 89 deg. test. Refined has had a less active sale than was noted a week ago; still a moderate volume of business has been transacted, and prices have been advanced 1-16 to ⅛c., closing with granulated at 5¼c.—Journal of Commerce, April 11.

COFFEES IN NEW YORK.

An exceptionally large business has been transacted in the Brazil grades, and prices have advanced sharply, showing a rise of 1½c. per pound from the lowest. The stimulating feature has been the fear of hostilities breaking out between Spain and the United States, and a belief that as a war measure the Government would place an import duty of 4c. per pound on coffee. The activity and upward movement in prices started on Saturday and continued on Monday and Tuesday. A large business was also transacted on Wednesday, but the advance culminated on Tuesday. It is estimated that the volume of business transacted in coffee on the spot, to arrive, and cost and freight from Brazil and Europe, was about 500,000 bags. At the advance about 50,000 bags of Rio coffee held here in consignment were sold on Tuesday and Wednesday, and the prices reported paid were on the basis of 7c. for No. 7. The sharp upward turn to values in the invoice market naturally stimulated a demand from the country trade, as interior roasters were, as a rule, bare of supplies. The fact that Arbuckle Bros. and McLaughlin & Co. advanced the price of roasted coffee ½c. per pound to 8½c., although the Woolson Spice Co. continued unchanged at 8c. also had a favorable influence; and jobbers stated that during the first half of the week they had an unusually large call for supplies, and that the advances asked were readily paid. The war and duty talk have also had a stimulating influence in the market for the West India growths, as jobbers have been free buyers, absorbing the bulk of the supplies held by importers, and prices advanced to 9¾c. for good Cucuta. The sales for the week were considerably in excess of 100,000 bags. East India growths have had a more active jobbing sale, but in an invoice way no business of importance has been reported; prices have been unchanged and firm.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

LOWER PRICES.

Bradstreet's study of price changes shows a slightly higher level of prices April 1 than a year ago, but for March there were more declines than advances as compared with the beginning of the year. Probably the tendency of prices downward was a reflection in part of the expectation of war, but that has been complicated both as to March and as to last week by unseasonable weather, and the increase of building materials and the weakness of coal are the natural incidents of the season.

CANNED GOODS IN THE STATES.

In the market for canned goods the chief feature seems to be the strong tone of the market for tomatoes. Spot stocks are reported to be well controlled and offerings of goods from the south for prompt shipment are light. The western spot stock, it is said, has been closely absorbed by purchases made during the week by a prominent Chicago jobbing house. Canned salmon is very unsettled. There is reported to be sharp competition among the large handlers of the various descriptions, which has resulted in the present demoralization of prices. With the consuming demand light and prices steadily tending in their favor most buyers seem disposed to hold off for further developments.— N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

SULTANA RAISINS IN NEW YORK.

Last year on April 1 there were 47,000 boxes of Sultana raisins on the spot and to the end of crop 12,000 boxes were received additional, making a total supply to the end of the season of 59,000 boxes. This year the stock at the beginning of April was 18,000 boxes and the prospects, it is reported, are not favorable for further receipts, as the price in the primary market is at least 1c. higher than the spot quotation. —N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

RICE EXPORTS FROM SAIGON.

Wm. G. Hale & Co., in their circular dated Saigon, March 1, say of rice: The weather has been tolerably fine, but at times there are signs of rain and even occasional showers, which, it is to be hoped, will not culminate in any serious fall. Supplies are 40,000 to 45,000 piculs daily, and will presently increase considerably. Demand is for Singapore and Hong Kong to a moderate, and for Japan to a fairly active degree, and prices are stronger. The following is a statement of this year's exports of white rice, cargo rice and paddy:

	Previously.	Since Feb. 4, 1898.	Total Piculs.
Hong Kong	356,550	435,800	792,350
Singapore	26,750	.....	26,750
Sourabaya	27,500	28,250	55,856
Europe	24,200	103,900	128,100
Japan	102,300	335,650	437,950
Tonkin and Annam	....	41,000	41,000
Total	537,400	944,600	1,482,000
Same period last year			1,748,300

CURRANTS UNSETTLED.

The competition of California seedless and Sultana raisins, it is reported, has, during the past season, materially curtailed the consumption of Grecian currants, which, notwithstanding the comparatively low prices made, have been neglected to a considerable extent by consumers, who have given preference to the cheaper California product. Late advices from Patras report an easier feeling there, as demand has not come up to expectations and supplies in the primary markets are still comparatively large. The European demand has been only average, while the trade with the United States has been reduced owing to the competition of California goods above referred to.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

CALIFORNIA PRUNE SITUATION.

Reviewing the situation in prunes on the Coast The California Fruit Grower, in its issue of April 2, says: "Prunes are moving more freely, but no advance in prices is noted by those having goods for sale. A few holders have practically withdrawn their fruit by asking from ¼ to ½c. above the present market. Outside prunes are moving on 2c. basis, with a few offerings at 1⅞c., while some grower-holders are asking 2¼c. basis. Santa Clara Valley stock can be had from sellers on 2¾ to 2⅞c. basis, but holders are asking 3c. strong and are not inclined to sell at that price. The shipments of prunes from San Jose, for week ending March 26, were 330,670 pounds. This is the smallest week since January. It is estimated that some 200 cars remain for shipment. If that quantity remains the shipments from that valley will run close to 60,000,000 pounds for season of 1897-98. This will cause the State to overrun the 100,000,000-pound mark. Frost damage to the prune crop has not been heavy, but growers are anxious about the lack of rain as well as frost."

MANITOBA MARKETS.

WINNIPEG, April 11, 1898.

THE balmy spring air has made the Eastertide a genuine holiday, and trade has been remarkably good. "Business is rushing" is the general expression. Seeding began at Emerson and Alexander on Friday, but will not be general throughout the province for another ten days. As far as wheat is concerned, it is now definitely known that there is no more wheat in the farmers' hands than will be required for seeding and for their own use until the next crop is off. Some of the more visionary class have been talking all week of what prices wheat will bring if the war eventuates between the United States and Cuba, but just at present the only thing on this market effected by the war scare is Havana cigars. Importers of these cigars are worrying badly over the situation. For the past year it has been extremely difficult to get the material required, at a reasonable figure, and should war ensue it is more than probable that it would be impossible to get any Havana goods at all. In this event it will mean, no doubt, smoke a pipe or nothing. Winnipeg has added the manufacture of chocolate and cocoa to her other industries. Mr. August Lion is the proprietor. The supply of fruit has increased both in quality and variety. Eggs were rather short for Easter, and butter is not so plentiful as it might be. Meat market is very stiff.

RICE—It is gathered, from recent reports received from India, that the situation is very much stronger, supplies from Japan and Java being unobtainable. The market here is bare of Japan, and it is not possible to renew stocks at present. "B" rice has advanced 1-5c. per lb., with every possibility of another sharp advance in the near future.

CEREALS—Show little change for the week, except that Ontario firms have sold in this market in competition with American. There cannot be much money in it for them, however, the way the tariff stands at present. Rolled oats are a shade easier, and are now selling at $2.05. The price of standard oatmeal and granulated remains at last week's figure, however, namely, $2.20 per sack; pot barley, $2.25; pearl barley, $4, and split peas, $2.30.

CANNED GOODS—Are in good demand, with slightly firmer prices. This, of course, refers to vegetables. Tomatoes, $3.20; peas, $2.25; corn, $2.25; beans, $1.80. Canned fruits are steady sellers in these days, with no change of price. Stocks are neither heavy nor light.

MEAT—This market is very strong, there being an advance of ¼c. on all lines during the week. Hams, 11¼ to 11¾c., according to size; long dry salt, 8¾c.; do. smoked, 8½c.; fancy bellies, 12¼c.

LARD—In sympathy with cured meats lard has advanced. Local dealers seem short, and American lard is offering at $1.70 per 20-lb. pail, freight and duty paid.

CHEESE—Owing to shortage of Manitoba article a car was imported from Ontario last week and another half car is in course of transit.

BUTTER—Stocks of dairy continue cleared up and supply is not equal to demand. No change in price is reported. Quotations all week have been 16 to 20c. according to quality.

EGGS—Eggs have been coming in quite freely, but not in sufficient quantities to satisfy Easter demand. Prices have remained firm, and on Saturday advanced 2c. per dozen on cased eggs, the price now being 15c. This state of things is not likely to continue beyond the beginning of next week.

SUGAR—The change in the reading of the tariff re this article is such as can only be understood by those thoroughly posted in the business. However, no change has been made up to date by the refiners. The market remains firm with fair demand. Granulated, 5⅛c.; bright yellow, 4⅜c.

COFFEE—Rios have made a slight advance and are now bringing 11c., but market is very dull. The normal demand continues for Mocha and Java.

DRIED FRUITS—Apricots have advanced another ½c., as anticipated, and are now bringing 12½c., and still higher figures may be looked for. Prunes have advanced ¼c., the price now being 5¼c. up, according to size, and are likely to take another jump in the course of a week or ten days. Higher prices are to be looked for in peaches, as they have been too low, compared with other fruits. Dried apples are, if anything, a shade easier, but evaporated remain firm, and are likely to so continue. Prices are: Evaporated, 11c.; dried, 6¼c.

GREEN FRUIT—This market is active with some new lines showing. Pineapples have arrived and are good quality. They are selling well at $6 for extra fancy large. Bananas are again scarce and have resumed their old price of $2.50 to $3, according to the size of bunch. Navel oranges, $3.50 to $4; seedling ditto., $3.75 to $4. Lemons, $3.75 to $4. Apples, southern, $4 to $4.50; Canadian, $3 to $5. Domestic onions, $3 per cwt.; fancy, $4. Maple sugar is again on the market and is selling at 11c. per lb.

M. R. Smith & Co., biscuit manufacturers, Victoria, are opening a branch factory in Vancouver.

THE SUGAR REFINERS' POSITION.

"THE Montreal sugar refiners are not satisfied with the changes in the tariff regarding sugar," said a refiner to THE CANADIAN GROCER this week. "Our contention is that we have less protection, if anything, than we had before, for the reason that the duty we will have to pay on the raw article has been increased, but there had not been a proportionate advance made in the case of refined. The allowance of 25 per cent. in the case of West Indian cane sugars does not offset this, because the refiners in Montreal depend for their supplies of raw material largely upon Europe, Java and the Philippines. We do not believe that the preference will very materially increase the Canadian importations of West Indian sugars; that is, in Montreal at least, though it may do so at Halifax, where the proportion of cane stock used by the Acadia people is much larger than in Montreal. Under the scale of the new tariff, the duty on 89 test Muscovadoes will be 61c. per 100 lb., and on 96 test centrifugals 71½c. per 100 lb. Consequently, the reduction on sugar of these grades from the British colonies will be about 15c. per 100 lb. in one case, and 18c. in the other. This discrimination may prove to be a moderate stimulus to Canadian importations, but it did not give such sugars the advantage which they now have in the United States over their competitor—beet—where the discrimination in favor of cane, by reason of the countervailing duties, is 27c. per 100 lb.

"Another interesting point in connection with the preference clause is that English refined sugar, providing that beet has not been used in its manufacture, is entitled to admission at the reduction of 25 per cent. Now, in the case of a dispute, it will be very difficult to prove whether beet has been so used or not, and of course friction is likely to arise from this fact.

"The polariscope test also is not so favorable to beet as to cane sugar, owing to the larger proportion of ash in the former than in the latter. The application of the test means, therefore, that a low grade raw owing to this fact will pay proportionately more than a high grade.

"The average duty on refined under the new tariff is about $1.18 per 100 lb., and as the duty on raw beet is about 68½c., there is a difference of about 50c. per 100 lb. in favor of refined sugar, or ½c. per lb. The difference was rather more under the old tariff, so that as a matter of fact there is less protection on the refined article under the new than under the old tariff," he concluded.

THE BRITISH SUGAR REFINING INDUSTRY.

A LETTER has been addressed to Members of Parliament by the British Sugar Refiners' Committee (chairman, Mr. Edwin Tate), of which the following is an extract : From 1870 to 1884 the quantity of sugar refined in this country ranged from 84 to 85 per cent. of the total consumption, but from 1884 to 1897, though the consumption had gone up from slightly over 1,000,000 to rather over 1,440,000 tons, the quantity refined in this country decreased from 842,000 to 602,000 tons—that is, from 84 to 41 per cent. of the total consumption. On the other hand, the importation of foreign refined sugar, protected here by bounties, rose from 85,000 tons in 1870 to 791,000 tons in 1897, an increase of over 800 per cent. There can be no question that we have a constitutional right, like all other British industries to free competition in our own markets, and that this is denied to us so long as foreign governments are permitted to protect their manufacturers in British markets by means of bounties. The great fall in sugar took place in 1884, but, owing to the violent fluctuation in price, caused by artificially stimulated over-production of bounty-fed sugar, and the consequent periodical reaction, the average price of unrefined sugar during the thirteen years, 1884 to 1897, was nearly £13 a ton, while the present cost of production is less than £10 a ton. It is, therefore, clear that there has been no substantial gain to the consumer or confectioner by the operation of the bounties. It is equally clear that as the cost of production is under £10 a ton, the price of sugar, if bounties were abolished and free competition restored, is more likely to remain under than over the average price of the last 13 years. But in the case of refined sugar, the operation of the bounties is to constantly undersell the refiners of this country in their own markets by means of a fraction of the extra bounty of 10s. a ton on refined sugar, which, though inappreciable to the consumer, is sufficient to deprive our industry of its legitimate profit, and thus to transfer the trade to the foreigner. Foreign refiners have only to sacrifice a small portion of this additional bounty in order to secure the trade, and this sacrifice has been of no advantage to the consumer in this country, since, even if he received the whole of the 10s. a ton, it would only amount to one-fifth of a farthing a pound, a sum quite inappreciable to him, but representing £50,000 a year to a large refiner.

McPerson & Hickey, cannerymen, Vancouver, B.C., have dissolved, Wm. Hickey continuing.

WATCHES AND CLOCKS FOR GROCERS.

The Alpha Chemical Co. has adopted a unique method for interesting the retail trade in its "Sunlight" black lead. On condition the merchant purchases $22.50 worth of this black lead, the company will give him a musical clock for his window, this clock to be awarded to the retailer's customer who makes the nearest guess to the number of "Sunlight" bars displayed in the window. Then the merchant himself is given a clock for allowing the company the use of his advertising space in the local paper, while the merchant who sells the greatest quantity of "Sunlight" black lead in a certain time is awarded a gold watch.

SALADA'S NEW BUILDING.

The "Salada" Ceylon Tea Co. has purchased the stone warehouse on Yonge street, Toronto, between the Banks of Montreal and Hamilton. These three buildings are of sandstone, and present a fine appearance. The "Salada" Tea Co.'s building has a frontage of 40 feet by 130 feet deep, and five storeys high. Mr. Larkin proposes to make great improvements in the building throughout, and says that in the course of a couple of months it will be an ornament to Yonge street.

BRITISH AID FOR DRY DOCK AT ST. JOHN.

At a meeting of the St. John, N.B., common council, on the 6th inst., Mayor Robertson stated he had had for a long time in mind a work which he felt would result most advantageously to the city. He had already sent, through Hon. Mr. Blair, a letter to the British Government asking assistance in the provision of a dry dock at this port. St. John had become, in the eyes of the world, an important place during the past two or three years because of the development of the winter port business. This, he hoped, would enable the city to induce the Imperial Government to come to our assistance in this matter. The Federal Government would, without doubt, do as much for St. John as they had done for Halifax. Then, the local Government should lend a hand, and the city itself could possibly afford to do more than provide a site for the dock. A dry dock would be a necessity here in the course of three years. Its provision would be the initial step in the introduction of iron shipbuilding here. Canada was throwing wide open her doors to England, and the result would be that a greater interest would be taken in Canada by the Mother Country.

The Mayor here dwelt upon the interview he had at Ottawa with the Manchester delegation, and the hope the gentlemen composing that party expressed, that St. John and Manchester might be drawn close together in a business way. St. John should, under all the circumstances, send a representative to England. He had served the city as mayor for four years, during which time he had used every effort to promote the interests of the city. He would be able to proceed to England in the course of a few days and spend several weeks there as mayor, in which capacity he would be able to do more for St. John than he could otherwise accomplish. The Federal Government were willing to assist him in every way, and the Lord Mayor of Manchester had undertaken to lend him a helping hand. His Worship, in closing, said he was willing to undertake the work, in which he trusted he would attain some degree of success. It was for the council to say whether he should go or not.

The mayor's suggestion was favorably commented upon, but final action in the matter was deferred.

VERY HONEST.

"Papa," said Johnny, "I am a very honest little boy, and I proved it to-day."

"Tell me all about it," asked his father proudly, taking his son on his knee.

"I went to the store," answered Johnny, "and the groceryman went into the back room and left me alone near a barrel of apples. I could have stolen them all, but I thought I would be honest, so I only took two."—New York World.

THAT RECIPE FOR BLACKING.

Some years ago, in a small country village, a poor old soldier called at a hairdresser's and asked relief, stating that he had stayed beyond his leave of absence, and, unless he could get a lift on the coach, fatigue and severe punishment awaited him. The hairdresser listened to his story respectfully, and gave him a guinea.

The veteran was profuse in his thanks.

"How can I repay you?" he said. "I have nothing in the world but this"—pulling from his pocket a dirty piece of paper. "It is a recipe for making blacking, and you may be able to get something for it to repay you for your kindness to the poor old soldier."

That dirty piece of paper was the recipe for the renowned Day & Martin's blacking; and that hairdresser was the late wealthy Mr. Day, whose manufactory is one of the ornaments of London, and whose palace in Regent's Park rivalled in magnificence the mansions of the nobility.—Answers.

WHERE BEET SUGAR FAILED.

The advertised sale of the beet sugar factory at Farnham is a grim reminder to the people of the section of the futility of competition with the cheap agricultural labor of Europe in lines where unskilled muscle is the chief implement. The factory at Farnham was well equipped, the help of a paternal Government was not wanting, and good beets could be raised nearby. But in our short, forcing summers farmers cannot take their own time with crops; labor costs never much less than a dollar a day, sometimes more, and there is much hand work about beet culture. In Germany, where women and young children are to be hired for such work at a few cents a day, it is different. And so the promoters of this factory found.—Leader, Granby, Que.

ST. JOHN'S WINTER TRADE.

At a meeting of the St. John, N.B., Board of Trade, held on the 6th inst., President D. J. McLaughlin stated that the inward package freight up to three weeks previous was over 11,000 tons, compared with 5,000 tons altogether last season, and the outward was over 100,000 tons compared with 77,000 last year. Mr. Sutherland, of the C.P.R., had stated to him that the total for the whole season would show a most gratifying further increase.

DEFINITION OF A GROCER.

"What is a grocer, papa?"

"What is a grocer, child? Why, he is a good-natured man who deals in the necessities of life at the corner, and is too humble to believe for a minute that he has any rights. He solicits trade by marking all his goods down to cost, and when the customer don't pay promptly, he waits. Yes, my child, some grocers stand and wait until the undertaker gets his bill in and then they lean over the graveyard fence and wonder how to get their money.

"Yes, he is the man that lives by selling sugar and makes so much money on it that he is expected to give lumps of it to all the children.

"Oh, yes, the grocer is a pious man. He rarely ever swears, except when he sells 18 pounds of raisins out of a 26-pound box, or when he weighs out a barrel of granulated sugar and it lacks just 6 pounds, or when he hears Mr. Never-Pay say, 'Charge it,' or when the summer is so hot he loses a dozen good cheese, or when the winter is so cold that his potatoes freeze, or—but your mother is calling you. Good night, child; I'll tell you the rest about the grocer another day."—Gastonia Grocer.

MR. R. A. DONALD.

The Toronto Globe daily publishes under the heading, "Men of the Day," a short sketch of some prominent man. On Monday, last, the subject was Mr. R. A. Donald, a well-known Toronto retail grocer. Here is the paragraph:

The name of Mr. R. A. Donald is associated with the ambitious project for enlarging St. Lawrence Market. Mr. Donald was born in this city in 1862. After school days spent at the public schools and the Jarvis Street Collegiate Institute, he entered his father's grocery house at the age of thirteen. He became a partner in the business while still a youth, and at his father's death assumed full control. He is an enthusiastic military man, and has long been a prominent member of the Young Liberal Association in the city.

THE PREFERENTIAL DUTY ON WEST INDIA SUGAR.

A CONSIDERATION OF ITS POSSIBILITIES.

AS TO what will be the actual results of the preferential tariff on West India sugars can only be demonstrated after it has been in practical operation a sufficient time to test it. But that does not prevent us from analyzing certain conditions which may enable us to at least gather some idea as to the utility of the preferential tariff for aiding the West India sugar planters, which was the avowed object sought by the Government of the Dominion.

The fact that after August 1, next, West India sugar will come into Canada at one-fourth less duty than sugar from Germany or any other foreign country is in itself an advantage. And, although the general tariff on sugar is higher than it was, yet, on West India sugar it will be lower, the decrease on preferential account being larger than the increase in the regular duty.

Under the tariff of 1897, the rate of duty on 75-degree raw sugar, based upon recent market value, was equal to 58 per cent., against 46 per cent. under the new tariff as it exists to-day, or 34.6 per cent. after August 1, when the preferential tariff comes into operation or a decrease of 23.4 per cent. Taking the high grade, 96-degree raw, however, we find that the duty is 71½c. per 100 pounds under the new tariff, against 50c. under the old tariff, or at a recent market price of $2.27 per 100 pounds, equal to an ad valorem duty of 31.5 per cent., against 22 per cent., an increase of 9.5 per cent.

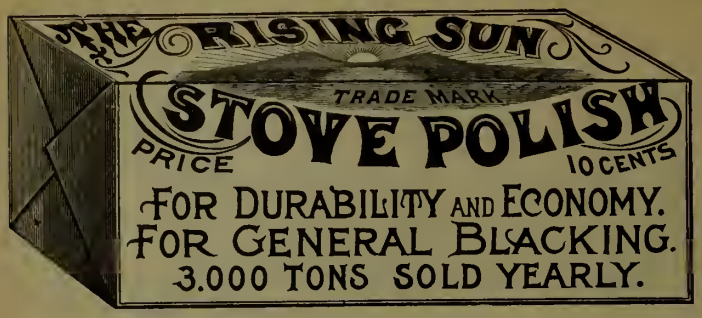
Now, after August 1, with the ordinary duty of 71½c. per 100 pounds reduced by one-fourth, the rate on West India sugar will be about 53.62c. per 100 pounds, or 3.62c. per 100 pounds more than under the tariff of 1897. This is about equal to an ad valorem duty of 23.6 per cent., or 1.6 per cent. more than was paid under the old tariff. As already shown, however, the decrease in the duty on the 75 deg. raw sugar will be over 23 per cent.

The net results, therefore, are obviously in favor of the West India sugar as far as the tariff itself is concerned.

But there are other influences which have to be taken into account which will tend to minimize the effect of the preferential tariff on sugar from these British possessions. We refer to the United States tariff. As this tariff stands, in its ordinary sense it is higher on raw sugar than the Canadian tariff. This is demonstrated by a glance at the following table :

DUTY ON RAW SUGAR IN CANADA AND UNITED STATES.

	Canada.	U.S.
75 deg. per 100 lb.	$ .40	$ .95
88 " "	.59½	1.40½
92 " "	.65½	1.54½



This is based upon the tariff as it exists to-day in both countries, and one can see from a glance that the Canadian general tariff is much lower than that across the border.

But there are the countervailing duties imposed by the United States tariff, as well as the preferential rate of the Canadian tariff to be considered. The clause in the former tariff imposing and regulating the countervailing duties reads as follows :

Sec. 5. That whenever any country, dependency or colony shall pay or bestow, directly or indirectly, any bounty or grant upon the exportation of any article or merchandise from such country, dependency or colony, and such article or merchandise is dutiable under the provisions of this Act, then upon the importation of any such article or merchandise into the United States, whether the same shall be imported directly from the country of production or otherwise and whether such article or merchandise is imported in the same condition as when exported from the country of production, or has been changed in condition by re-manufacture or otherwise, there shall be levied and paid, in all such cases in addition to the duties otherwise imposed by this Act, an additional duty equal to the net amount of such bounty or grant, however the same be paid or bestowed The net amount of all such bounties or grants shall be from time to time ascertained, determined and declared by the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall make all needful regulations for the identification of such articles and merchandise, and for the assessment and collection of such additional duties.

Now, it was well known that such European countries as Germany, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Austro-Hungary do give, not only export bounties, but some of them give bounties of other descriptions upon sugar produced in their respective countries. The bounties range all the way from about 25 to 50c. per hundred pounds, although, as far as the French bounties are concerned, no one appears to have yet been able to satisfactorily fathom them, for, in addition to a direct export bounty, there is an internal or indirect bounty. It is in tracing this internal bounty that the difficulty arises, as that particular bounty amounts to a reduced home duty on any improved yield which the manufacturer may obtain beyond 7.75 per cent. The excess yield is, until competition becomes too strong, sold in France as if the full duty had been paid upon it, whereas, as a matter of fact, only half the duty has been paid. The extra profit thus obtained at home, while competition allows it to last, can be, and is used to enable French sugar to be exported at a lower price than would otherwise be the case. The full duty on sugar in France being 60 francs per kilo, the half duty on the surplus yield is, of course, at the rate of 30 francs per 100 kilos. The Produce Markets' Review, one of the best authorities in Great Britain, in its issue of December 18 last, had this to say in regard to the French sugar bounties : "When the French yield, in any season, rises to 12 per cent., the reduction in duty, in the following season, on the excess yield, should fall to 20 francs only ; if the yield were 13 per cent. it would fall to 10 francs, and if it reached 14 per cent. then the surplus yield should enjoy no reduced duty, but be charged the full 60 francs duty."

THE RISING SUN STOVE POLISH AND THE SUN PASTE STOVE POLISH

The following are the countervailing duties (approximately equal to the bounties given by the countries mentioned), imposed by the United States on granulated as well as raw sugars :

	Raw.	Granulated.
German, per 100 lbs.....	$ .27	$ .38
Austro-Hungary, per 100 lbs	.27	.42
France " "	.42	.47
Holland " "	.32½	.39

The question naturally arises here : How will these countervailing duties effect West India raw sugar, in the Canadian market, when the preferential tariff comes into operation August 1 next ?

The Canadian duty on raw sugar, as we have already pointed out, is even now, without taking into consideration what it will be after August 1 next, lower than the United States tariff. But it must be remembered that the countervailing duties which the United States imposes upon European bounty-fed sugars, are tantamount to a preferential duty on West India, and, in fact, all sugars which are not the product of countries which accord bounties. The following table shows the ordinary duty on 75, 88 and 92 degree sugar under the United States tariff, and also what it is with the countervailing duty added :

	Regular tariff.	Germany.	Austria.	France.	Holland
75 deg.	$ .95	$1.22	$1.22	$1.47	$1.27
88	1.40½	1.67½	1.67½	1.82½	1.73
92	1.54½	1.81½	1.81½	1.96½	1 83

West India sugar, of course, enters the United States under the regular tariff. And it is worthy of note that since January 1 last no raw sugars have been imported by the United States from Germany or any other of the bounty-feeding countries, although some low grade beets have, it is understood, been purchased for importation. France, while a large exporter of refined sugar, is not an exporter of raw sugar to any extent. Before the countervailing duties went into operation the United States imported enormous quantities of raw sugar from Germany. Now, the bulk of her supplies come from the West Indies (British and foreign), Java, Egypt, etc.

The Canadian preferential duty on West India sugar on and after August 1 is 25 per cent. The following table gives the percentage of the decreased duties on sugars entering the United States from the West Indies, compared with those on bounty-fed sugars entering that country :

	72 deg.	88 deg.	92 deg.
Austria	28.4	19.0	17 4
France.....	44.2	29.8	27.1
Holland	34.2	23 1	21.0

By totaling each of the above columns and dividing each by four, it will be seen that the average excess of duty which bounty-fed sugar has to pay, over that of West India sugar entering the United States, is on 72 deg., 33.8 per cent., on 88 deg., 22.7 per cent., and on 92 deg., 20.7 per cent., as against 25 per cent. by the Canadian tariff under the preferential clause. Or, grouping the percentages under the United States of the three degrees mentioned, we find the average to be 25.7 per cent., against the Canadian 25 per cent.

As far, then, as the actual condition of the two markets (the Canadian and the United States) are concerned the positions seem to be about this : The Canadian tariff on West India sugar will be lower after August 1 than it was under the tariff of 1897. The United States, on the other hand, remaining as it has been for about nine months. This obviously is in favor of West India sugar. Whether it is sufficient to be a determining factor of importance need not be discussed here. Then, against this as a neutralizing factor must be placed the countervailing duties of the United States, which are practically preferential duties as far as West India sugars are concerned. And, as will be gathered from some of the above tables, the United States countervailing duties are particularly favorable to the lower grade raws of West India production.

Again, it must be remembered that Canada has adopted the polariscope test, which is something the West India sugar merchants tried in vain to secure when the tariff was revised in 1897. This is, therefore, another favorable influence for West India sugar. It is true the polariscope test is in operation in the United States, but it was not before in Canada. Therefore, its coming into operation in the Dominion is a distinct gain to West India sugars.

Comparing tariff with tariff, the Canadian is undoubtedly much lower, preference or no preference, on West India sugar than is that of the United States, but, while this is so, this fact must not be overlooked : the preferential duty does not discriminate as much between West India sugar and German, French, Austrian, and Dutch sugar, as do the countervailing duties of the United States tariff. What effect the one will have in nullifying the other can only be demonstrated by actual experience.

The object of the Canadian Government is to do good to the West India sugar planters. But how much good will be done is a problem yet to be solved.

THE EDMONTON ROUTE.

REGARDING the Edmonton route to the Yukon Commissioner Herchmer says: The Northwest Government having decided to send ex-Inspector Chalmers, C.E., in their employ, to locate, if possible, a wagon road to connect short portions of road already existing between Edmonton and Peace River, the police furnished part of the outfit and men, as being the most satisfactory and speedy way of meeting your instructions respecting that portion of the wagon road to Pelly River. The party started out and reported in two months that a feasible route had been found, and the Northwest Government immediately despatched a party under Mr. Chalmers to cut out the road, prepare estimates for bridges, ferries, etc., and it is expected it will be open by January. Even if a good wagon road cannot be got all the way to Pelly banks, this road as far as it goes will open up a large tract of good farming land and many very good gold prospects en route, particularly the Peace River country, where experience has shown that wheat and other cereals and cattle can be raised to the best advantage, but which the extreme difficulty in reaching has hitherto stopped any settlers, except missionaries and traders, from attempting to occupy; but there is no doubt cattle can be driven overland to Pelly banks, although the route may be circuitous. The country between the Peace River and Edmonton is dotted with small parties of prospectors, numbering in all several hundred souls who are camped waiting for spring. It is reported that Capt. Segars and party and one Pilon and party, who have previously traveled the route, have arrived at Peel River safely with all their supplies, although they only left Edmonton in August. If this is the case they will easily get their supplies over to the head waters of the Porcupine, 60 miles, by dog train, and will arrive at Fort Yukon early in the spring. This will greatly encourage many others to adopt this route, as, although Fort Yukon is 300 miles below the present gold fields, the Yukon will be alive with steamers next year and parties can easily get taken up or towed up to where they wish to locate. This route and that via Peace River will certainly cause a great influx of people to pass through the Edmonton district, where every preparation is being made to outfit them. This will bring still greater prosperity to that fertile country, so well adapted by nature for the future homes of immigrants, it having water, coal, wood, gold and a fine climate to offer intending settlers. It will also greatly help the Calgary district, as many will outfit there; that district and MacLeod will supply the pack ponies required and many of the cattle. The routes via Edmonton will be entirely through Canadian territory, and all the supplies required will be purchased in Canada, but it will necessitate a largely increased force of police, and it will, I think, be necessary to establish outposts at Peel River and intermediate points, and also on Peace and Laird Rivers, as well as in the country between there and Edmonton, where we have only two men (at Lesser Slave Lake). Many of the Indians and half-breeds in this part of the country do not like the increase of travel through their country. As these Indians are not under treaty I have already drawn your attention to the advisibility of dealing with them before spring travel commences. The Mounted Police consists at present of 670 men, 90 of whom are dog drivers, cooks, etc., leaving 580 men doing police duty.

HISTORY OF SAUSAGE.

Germany has just celebrated the thousandth anniversary of the sausage, which dates back to 897 A.D. Very different, however, was the ancient sausage from the one we know. The former was simply made of a goat's stomach stuffed with fat and blood. It was not till the tenth century that chopped pork was used, and the sausages of Frankfort and Strasbourg began to be famous in 1500, thanks to the introduction into Germany of cinnamon and saffron.

THE QUALITY OF DUTCH SUGAR.

Editor GROCER,—We notice in your issue of 15th inst., a paragraph drawing comparisons between Canadian and Dutch refined sugars, to the detriment of the latter. Of course, there are different qualities of Dutch, as there are also of Canadian. But if the best Dutch granulated be compared with the best Canadian, the former does not suffer by the comparison. For instance, the A.S.R. Dutch granulated, made by the Amsterdamsche Suiker-raffinaderij, of Amsterdam, which we are shipping to Canada, will stand comparison with any granulated sugar made in Canada.

It is unfair to condemn Dutch sugars generally, which your article does, because some low quality of Dutch may have been compared with the best quality of Canadian, and we trust you will put the matter before your retail subscribers, in a right light, by inserting this letter in your next issue.

ANDREWS, BELL & CO.

Montreal, April 16, 1898.

[Remarks: It was not the opinion of THE CANADIAN GROCER that was expressed; it was the opinion of Toronto retailers who had been interviewed re the new sugar tariff.—Ed.]

A DOG STORY.

A curious incident happened to a grocer last week. He had bought a box of dog cakes, which were packed loose, not in packages. As he thought people ought to see them in order to sell them quickly, he put the box outside. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon a third of it seemed to be gone. He asked his clerks whether they had sold that much. It appeared that neither of them had had any customers at all for dog cakes. Could it be that they had been sampled by passersby thinking they were crackers? While the grocer was meditating, a big bull dog, from around the corner, went straight to the box, snatched two dog cakes and hurried off. He had been the customer, free-luncher, thief, etc., (names which the grocer had saved for the one who had so far emptied the box).—Retail Grocers' Advocate.

A PROGRESSIVE MERCHANT.

A representative of THE CANADIAN GROCER recently called on one of our old subscribers, A. F. Hawke, of Grimsby, who, within the year, has taken over, in addition to his own fine dry goods business, the old-established general business of E. J. Palmer & Co., of that town, and, with extensive additions to the building and alterations, has one of the finest stands in the country, and it is a credit to that little town, where as fine goods can be purchased as are found in any city store. This firm has an extensive dressmaking and millinery trade in connection with fancy and staple dry goods, boots and shoes, men's furnishings, and clothing. The grocery trade is one of the finest on the Niagara peninsula. The new department is splendidly fitted with mirrors and fixtures of the latest and most pleasing styles. In connection with this department, also, is kept general hardware and wall paper. The whole store presents a fine appearance, with four large plate glass windows and two front entrances, and the latest conveniences for business inside, including electric lighting and cash carriers, etc.

Mr. Hawke speaks hopefully of trade prospects, and says his business is steadily increasing. THE GROCER wishes this young, enterprising business man every success, and, judging from his reputation for hustling in the past, believes a brilliant career is before him.

CHAS. BOECKH & SONS DISSOLVE.

The well-known firm of Charles Boeckh & Sons, manufacturers of brushes, brooms and woodenware, has been dissolved, and is to be succeeded by the new firm of Boeckh Bros. & Co., composed of E. C. Boeckh and C. Boeckh, jr., who will continue the business on the same lines and under their personal management.

Mr. Chas. Boeckh, sr., who retires, established himself in Toronto in 1856, since which time the business has been carried on without interruption, and the goods turned out by firm are known from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

This industry has become an important one, and has grown up with the city, and the advantages of being located in Toronto, and its importance as a shipping and manufacturing centre are well exemplified by the growth and importance of this business.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Canning, of A. H. Canning & Co., returned home last week from an extended trip east, in the interest of the "Armeda" tea packer. He reports a splendid business trip, and it is only a matter of time until every enterprising merchant has a tea packer in his own establishment.

Mr. Albert Irving, who for the past nine years has been with John Sloan & Co., during the last four or five of which has been employed as traveler, has taken a position with the Salada Tea Co. as traveler. Mr. Irving's place as city traveler for John Sloan & Co. will be taken by Mr. Tyrell Burns, formerly with Michie & Co.

WINDOW DISPLAY DEVICE.

Every storekeeper is anxious at this particular season to make his window and store display very attractive. Some go to great expense in fittings and fixtures which require constant changing with no satisfaction.

I was attracted by a very tasteful display in the window of a leading store, and resolved to ask for information from one of the salesmen, who informed me that they could change the appearance of their window in a dozen ways without even removing the goods, and, at a moment's notice, by using the Boeckh adjustable show and display table. You would be surprised to see the numerous admirers of our window dressing. They can also be used as a substantial table, or bookshelf in residences or offices, and a flowerstand for the conservatory. All made of best material and handsomely finished in four sizes. Samples can be seen at Boeckh Bros. & Co.'s, 80 York street.

Good Soap Display.

I notice that a good many merchants look upon soap and canned goods as makeshifts in the matter of window display, the result being that a great many people rarely think of looking at a display of these goods. But this week Wm. Forster, Queen and Jarvis streets, Toronto, had a display, the beauty and originality of which must have compelled the attention of many a pedestrian. The window in which was the attraction was a corner one, the floor of it being about four feet above the level of the street. The arrangement of the soap was in the shape of a stand with some four steps, with the soap making the platform of each step, and the space from one step to another being brightened by one of the many pictures offered as premiums for the soap. The sides of the stand were also decorated by one of the pictures. The various pictures made use of were so suitable, both from the standpoint of size and coloring, that the whole effect of the display was neat and attractive.

New Articles On the Market.

Continually, enterprising persons endeavor to place on the market commodities of more or less value, and the care with which a merchant deals with these new goods, especially those which do not come up to expectations, has a large effect on the influence he has over his customers. Some retailers are ever ready to introduce a new article, giving it a prominent place in the store even before they know anything of its value, the result being that not infrequently they have angry customers scolding them for selling an imitation or an inferior article. There is an old maxim worth remembering before new articles on the market are pushed: "Be sure you're right, then go ahead." And when you are sure a new thing is a good one, no pains should be spared to push it.

LATE BUSINESS NOTICES.

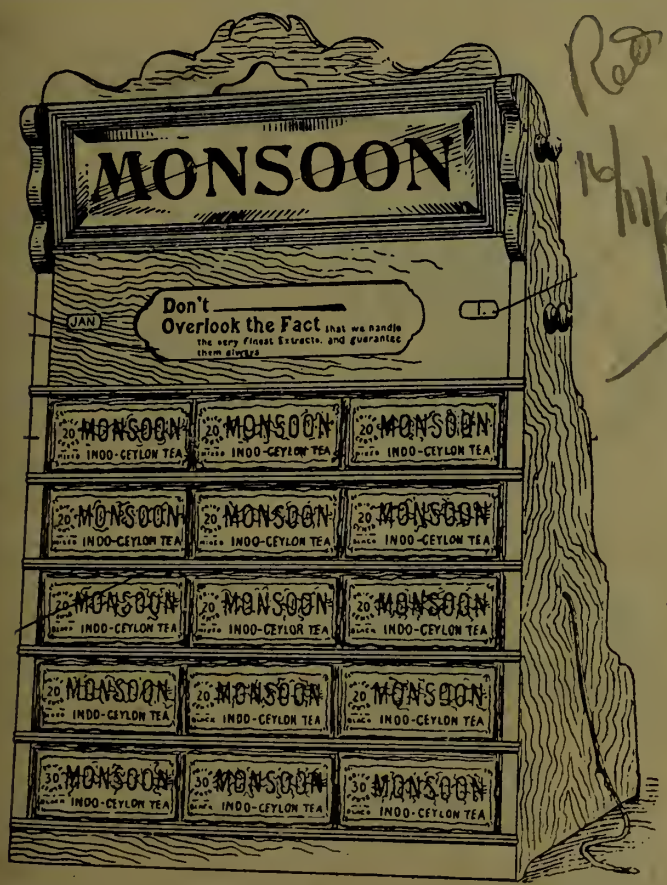
Laporte, Martin & Cie. are offering canned fruits of every description and of the best known brands at reduced prices.

Evaporated California fruits can be obtained at very low figures from Laporte, Martin & Cie. This firm have quite an assortment of them.

Laporte, Martin & Cie. report a considerable demand for brandies, "Philippe Richard," for which they are sole agents. They expect very shortly part of their spring order, consisting of 1,075 packages.

Although price of molasses is higher in Barbadoes, Laporte, Martin & Cie. are still accepting orders at same price, which is guaranteed against decline until delivery.

TEAS FOR THE UNITED STATES.



The decided feature of the tea market in Toronto this week is the demand for teas for United States account.

As readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER are, doubtless, aware, it is proposed to put both an import duty and an internal tax on tea and coffee in the United States as a war measure. Whether this proposition will be adopted remains to be seen, but it has had the effect, at any rate, of creating a speculative demand for tea, one of the results of which is the prospecting of the Canadian market for supplies.

The teas principally wanted are Japans at from 15 to 18c. per pound, and China Congous at from 9 to 12c. per pound.

Several hundred packages of these teas have been picked up in Toronto this week, and shipped to the United States. Some lots have also gone out from Hamilton.

Mr. J. Ransford, of R. & J. Ransford, salt manufacturers, Clinton, was in Toronto a couple of days this week.

There is no Eloquence

Quite so convincing as the eloquence of good old-fashioned common sense. Suppose we offer you an article that's worth one dollar for 75c.—that's a bargain in the best sense of the word. Isn't it? Suppose we have a valid reason for offering you this article at a profitless price. If you have any use for the article thus reduced, don't you think it would be the best kind of economy to buy it? We are clearing our warehouse of surplus stock, and, instead of carrying goods which, for one reason or another, don't sell, we put them at a price at which it's an advantage for a live dealer to buy them.

In Teas we quote:	Indian Pekoe Souchong,	at 10c.

ADULTERATION OF BUTTER.

THE Montreal butter exporters have been doing a lot of agitation recently with the idea of preventing the use of a preparation called "Preservaline" in packing butter for shipment. The object of the preparation in question is to preserve the milk used in the manufacture of butter.

The exporters are under the impression that this material contains a certain quantity of borax, and that if such be the case the butter made from such milk falls under the English law prohibiting the use of boracic acid in the manufacture of butter.

Last year, several dealers in England became amenable to this law through having offered for sale Australian butter containing boracic acid.

The penalties in similar cases being a heavy fine and the confiscation of the butter, the Montreal exporters don't want to run any chances of damaging their reputations in this way. As they are forced to guarantee to buyers the purity of the butters which they send to England, they can only do so when they are certain that such is the case, and the only way of securing this is by reaching the makers who manufacture the butter.

It is needless to add that in the event of trouble the exporters would, in certain cases, have recourse against those selling them adulterated for pure product. To obviate this unpleasantness they have urged the Provincial and Federal Governments to instruct their inspectors to warn creamerymen to make sure that the preparations they use in the manufacture of butter contain none of the ingredients that will come under the English law.

This appears to be reasonable enough, and it is satisfactory to know that both the Ontario and Quebec Governments have issued the necessary instructions.

Canadian butter has built up a first-class name for itself, and it would be too bad to have it damaged by a few cases such as the ones in connection with Australian butter.

That the matter is pressing is attested by the fact that the London Produce Exchange have even gone so far as to name a special chemist for the purpose of conducting under their control tests for the adulteration of goods.

THE NEW POSTAGE STAMPS.

The postage stamps issued by the Post Office Department for use by the public may be all right from an æsthetic point of view, and reflect credit on the artistic taste of the Postmaster-General, but the values are not sufficiently legible. It almost requires a microscope to discover whether it is a one cent, three cent or five cent stamp.

The Postmaster-General has recognized this difficulty, and in the next issue numerals will be placed on the corners in place of the maple leaf. This will, to a certain extent obviate the difficulty, but a more pronounced color for the one, two and three cent stamps would be an additional convenience.

P.E.I. LOBSTER FISHERIES.

Since January 1, 5,500 crates of lobsters have been shipped from Cape Island, N.S., at an average price of $16. The three factories on the Island have canned 1,600 cases, giving these a value of $9.50 per case the total value of lobsters handled would be $103,200. During March, shipments of lobsters from Digby to Boston represent a value of $3,603. This is much less than the same month last year. Lobster fishing began on Prince Edward Island March 31. A fair catch is reported.

THE INSPECTION OF FISH.

FORMERLY, the inspection of all fish was compulsory at Montreal and other points of distribution. With the large decrease in the volume of trade in pickled and other prepared fish the regulation has been allowed to lapse, but, this winter, several of the wholesale grocery firms in Montreal, who deal in prepared or pickled fish, claimed that there has been ample reason that it should be again enforced.

The matter came to a head the other day when President Laporte, of the Wholesale Grocers' Association, brought the matter up, with the result that the Montreal Board of Trade were asked to petition the Federal Government for the reenforcement of the regulation and the appointment of a duly qualified inspector. They have done so.

THE CANADIAN GROCER ascertains, from conversation with the commission men who deal in fish, of the one part, and the wholesale grocers of the other, that opinions are diametrically opposed on the advisability of the move.

The latter contend that they were subjected to direct loss on many of their purchases during the past winter, owing to the fact that the fish were not what they were represented to be.

The chief ground for complaint appears to have been in connection with green cod, on which the loss in weight, according to statements made, was entirely abnormal. Many of the fish also in lots that were graded as No. 1 did not in reality grade even No. 2. Herrings also appear to have been packed on the coast in barrels, entirely irrespective of the size of the fish; and not only this, but fish that were in reality Nova Scotia were marked as Labrador herrings, because the latter have the preference over ordinary shore fish caught along the Nova Scotian, Cape Breton and southern shores of the Gulf.

These complaints are certainly, if correct, sufficient reason for the wholesale grocers to ask for an inspector, so that there shall be not only more uniformity in the fish, but that they shall be sold for what they are represented to be.

The grocery firms who deal in fish are, certainly, if their expressed determination counts for anything, not going to let the matter rest, but agitate until they can secure the reform they request. They assert that an inspector would not entail much extra expense on the Government, as the collection of a moderate fee would more than recoup the inspector's salary.

The commission men, on the other hand, represent that the appointment of an inspector is impractical at Montreal, because the extent of the business does not warrant it.

It, no doubt, was quite feasible in former years, when the business was a large one, several schooners arriving every week during the season with cargoes, but now that the business has fallen off over 75 per cent., they contend that an inspector would have very little to do, and that the fees collected would not commence to pay his salary. While admitting that there have been cases where the grocery houses had reason to complain, they contend that the proper place for inspection is where the goods are first put up, because the unpacking of the fish and re-packing at Montreal for purposes of inspection would entail an unnecessary expense. In the case of herrings, also, when they were inspected at Montreal in the old days, there was always trouble about re-packing, because the water out of the river was used for making the new brine. If this practice were followed again—and the expense of procuring water from the city would, in their mind, be a temptation in this direction that would require constant watching of an army of guardians to prevent—the last state of the fish, owing to the very savory (?) condition of the harbor water, would be worse than the first.

Altogether, it will be a hard task to reconcile the two factions, and, perhaps the best course for the Government to pursue will be to require compulsory inspection at packing points on the Coast. The admission of the commission men demonstrates that the grocers have ground for their complaint, and something should be done to remedy the present state of affairs. Inspection at the Coast appears to be the most effective, most practical and most economical way of securing the desired end.

WANT LOWER TELEGRAPH TOLLS.

A MOVEMENT that will appeal to merchants generally, and to all who have occasion to use the telegraph wires, has been introduced by the Corn Exchange Association of Montreal. This is a request to the telegraph companies asking for a reduction of the rates charged for the transmission of messages from leading Canadian centres like Toronto and Montreal to United States centres of trade.

It is well known that the rates to such centres are much higher than from one point in Canada to another, and if a reduction can be secured it will mean a considerable lessening of the expenses of traders who have to use the wires from time to time in the transaction of business.

At the Corn Exchange meeting this week, communications were submitted from the Chicago Board of Trade and New York Produce Exchange, promising the assistance of both these boards in the Association's efforts to procure the reduction desired.

TEA TO BE TESTED BY INFUSION.

The practice in vogue by the Customs Department of having tea analyzed by the public analyst at Ottawa is to be discontinued.

The Minister of Customs is arranging regulations that will permit of the cup or infusion test being applied at all ports where tea is imported.

By this means the insufferable delays that have occurred to tea importers, in having their entries delayed, will be obviated.

The Minister of Customs is to be congratulated upon his wisdom. The old method, which had become obsolete in all other countries, was neither satisfactory nor uniform, and the wonder is that it was not discarded long ago.

It is to be hoped the new regulations will be as simple as is compatible with efficiency, and will have no red tape attached to them.

It is said the new regulations will be so simple that almost any person will be able to apply the test. To a tea expert this will doubtless appear ridiculous.

Tea can only be properly tested by some one who has a practical knowledge of tea. The Department should keep this in mind when drafting the regulations or there will be trouble.

TRADE WITH SCANDINAVIAN COUNTRIES.

FROM the report of Mr. C. E. Suntum, the Government agent for Canada in Norway, dated April 1, and just received by the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa, it is learned that good times prevail in Norway. The shipping trade has been active, carrying ice to the southerly countries, like Germany, where the ice crop failed on account of the mildness of the winter. The market price of ice is five or six times higher this year than it has ever been before, and over 100,000 tons have been exported. The fisheries have been good, with higher prices than usual. The lumber and pulp industries have been active. Owing to the light snowfall some difficulty has been experienced in getting logs to the mills, with the result of increasing the price of lumber of all kinds. It will thus be seen that the purchasing power of the Scandinavian countries is exceptionally high this year.

The agent reports the arrival in Norway of some radiators in carload lots, and says that the outlook is promising for a large trade. Finland and Denmark are having a portion of this consignment sent to them. Bathtubs of improved make have been received from a manufacturer in Ontario, and there is every prospect of their replacing the German and English bathtubs now used almost exclusively there. Corn brooms and brushes have been received from Canada and put on the market.

COMMON SENSE.

ASSOCIATION.

P.S.—If you prefer settling with A. Doe, of Blankville, before going into Court, bring this notice with you and save all further costs.

The blank has been sent to THE CANADIAN GROCER by one of its Ontario subscribers with a request for an opinion as to the legality of using such blank for the purpose of collecting bad debts. The matter was referred by this journal to a well-known legal gentleman for an opinion, and his decision is as follows :

I am of opinion that the notice is clearly an imitation, or a colorable imitation of some of the forms appended to the Division Courts Act, and is calculated to deceive the public by inducing them to believe that such notice is a notice from the said court, and as such its use is illegal, and any person whether as principal or agent who prints or publishes, or uses it in the collection of debts, is liable to a penalty not exceeding $20 and costs for every day on which any such offence is committed. This subject of collection by means of such forms engaged the attention of the Ontario Legislature at its session of 1896, when an Act entitled "An Act Respecting Frauds by Debt Collectors," was passed, and which enacts as follows :

"Every person, whether principal or agent, who prints or publishes any notice or form which is an imitation, or a colorable imitation, of any of the forms appended to the Division Courts Act, and which is calculated to deceive the public by inducing the belief that such notice or form is a notice or form from the said court, or is part of the process of a Division Court, or who issues or makes use of any such notice or form in connection with any collection agency or otherwise, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $20 for every day on which such offence is committed, the said fine to be recovered before a Justice of the Peace of the city or county, with costs."

This Act is now incorporated in the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1897, as Chapter 255.

THE PRODUCE MARKET.

IN nearly every respect the condition of the produce market in Toronto is in a healthy condition. There is practically nothing of which there might be said to be a glut on the market, and the supply of all articles is well up to the demand.

Eggs are rather low in price, but the demand is so great, and the price so steady that a sure and fair profit may be looked for by both jobbers and retailers.

For months there has been a want of good dairy butter. Within the last week or two this demand has been met by receipts liberal enough not only to supply the local demand, but also to make large shipments to eastern points. Prices have been away up, but though still good, a decline of 2 or 3c. resulted since the beginning of April.

The high price of butter has kept the demand for lard good all season, and now, when packers have practically quit operations, the stocks here are much lighter than usual.

Within the last few weeks there has been noted both in the local and the English market a decided improvement in the tone of the cheese market, and now numerous local sales are reported, where a month ago no business could be done.

The maple syrup season has proved much more satisfactory than anticipated, both the supply and the demand being larger than former indications led dealers to expect.

CREAM OF TARTAR DEARER.

WITHIN the past week there has been an advance of 2s. per cwt. in the price of cream of tartar in the primary market. Prior to this advance the market was a declining one, but this rise of 2s. per cwt. has placed prices where they were before the recent depreciation.

There has been a good deal of cream of tartar handled on the Toronto market lately, but stocks here are not heavy, as has been discovered when someone wanted one or two casks.

There was a time when a great deal of speculation was done in cream of tartar by dealers in Canada, but that day has gone by, buying now being of a hand-to-mouth character.

WEST INDIAN TRADE.

AN interesting communication was received this week by the Montreal Board of Trade. It is well worth the consideration of Canadian merchants, as there certainly should be a larger outlet for Canadian produce and foodstuffs in the British West Indies than there now is.

If war is declared between the United States and Spain, as seems likely, Canada ought to be able to gain a footing more easily, and once this footing has been gained it will be easy to retain it. The letter in full is as follows :

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, April 9, 1898.

Secretary Board of Trade,—Enclosed we beg to hand you a comparative statement which we have extracted from our Government returns, showing the value of foodstuffs, etc., imported into Trinidad for the year 1897 from United States, as against similar articles imported from Canada. We think if your millers and others made vigorous efforts, much of the trade now done between the British West Indies and United States might be diverted to Canada, as, in most instances, the quality of the Canadian produce is superior to the American.

We are pleased to learn from the public cable on 7th that your Government are likely to adjust the tariff, so as to allow sugar grown in British West Indies to come into Canada on favored terms. The need of a fast line has been the chief cause of the poor trade done direct by Canada in the past.

We would advise that we have successfully placed some 1,200 barrels Canadian flour on this market within the past few weeks, shipped direct from the mills, via St. John, N.B.

The Eby, Blain Co., Limited, are offering a wide range of Japans, including several lines of fine natural leaf teas recently received, all showing fine style, and liquor, at close prices.

Frank Magor & Co., 16 St. John street, Montreal, report an improved enquiry for Rae's olive oil, in glass and tins. The spring vegetable and salad season always brings a special demand for a high class olive oil.

Gem fruit jars, being goods so closely identified with the grocery trade, The Eby, Blain Co., Limited, have made fine provision for the season's supply in pints, quarts and half-gallons, imperial and wine size, at closest market prices.

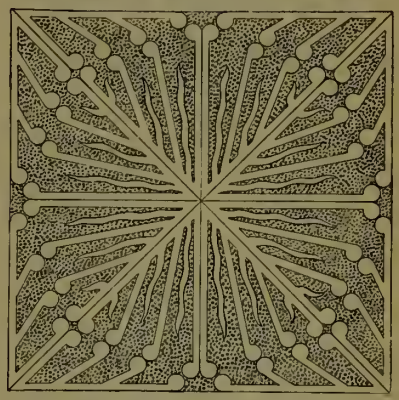
The vinegar trade of T. A. Lytle & Co. extends from ocean to ocean. This enterprising firm, it will be remembered, was awarded the bronze medal for vinegar and other lines at the Victorian Era and To-Toronto Industrial Exposition.

The Eby, Blain Co, Limited, report a brisk movement in California evaporated peaches and apricots—in bags and boxes—and prunes; another carload of which, including 70's to 80's and 90's to 100's, in 50-lb. boxes, they have just received.

The F. F. Dalley Co., Limited, are placing on the market a new brand of stove paste called "Tiger." They say that, after 25 years' experience in the stove paste business, they have overcome what other makers have all failed to do; that is, to produce a stove paste that will give an absolutely jet polish and which will keep in the tins without either rusting the boxes or shrinking. They say it is the very best stove paste manufactured or sold to the trade to-day.

A HAPPY COMBINATION.

The sale of coffee with Lucas, Steele & Bristol has been steadily increasing for years. In seeking the cause of this great success in the face of keen competition, the firm have come to the conclusion that everything has been done by them which was needful to secure additional trade by giving the best goods for the least possible price. Their leading lines are "Empire" and "L. S. & B." They are packed in 25 and 50-lb. air-tight cans and sold, delivered, in 100-lb, lots.



Thomas C. Ivinson and Wm. Thompson left Petrolea last week for the Jaffa oil fields. They expect to be absent from Petrolea for at least two years.

Some time ago the secretary wrote Ald. Jacques, chairman of the markets committee, with reference to pedlers, asking him when he would receive a delegation to explain the situation. This was over a month ago, and no reply having been received, it was decided to call the attention of the worthy alderman once more to the matter.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, April 20, 1898.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS is, if anything, a little more active on the street than it was a week ago. At the same time, however, the improvement is not very marked. There is a little more enquiry for canned vegetables, but in both tomatoes and peas there is a slightly easier feeling as to price. Teas are meeting with a fair demand, and the representatives of tea-shipping houses report a little more business doing with wholesalers. The feature, however, of the local market, as far as tea is concerned, is the buying of Japans and Congous for shipment to the United States. The sugar market is unsettled and 1-16c. per lb. has been knocked off last week's advance of ⅛c. per lb. on No. 2 Canadian and imported granulated sugars. The market for foreign dried fruits remains much about the same as a week ago. Cream of tartar is dearer again in the primary markets.

CANNED GOODS.

Although there has been a little more enquiry for canned vegetables this week, and while some wholesale houses are practically cleaned out of tomatoes and peas, there is rather an easier feeling in both tomatoes and peas, as far as the wholesale prices are concerned. The range for tomatoes is now $1.15 to $1.25. Peas are without quotable change, although there have been some round lots offered at 80c. Corn seems about as firm as ever. One wholesaler this week shipped a couple of thousand cases of canned goods, including tomatoes, peas and corn, to the Coast. There was competition for the order, and the prices received f.o.b. Toronto were about $1.15 for tomatoes and 82½c. for peas and corn.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

There are few, if any, syrups offering, and there is practically no demand. The molasses market is quiet, with prices firm at the primary points.

SUGAR.

The advance of ⅛c. per lb. noted last week in No. 2 Canadian granulated and in foreign granulated has been followed by a decline of 1-16c. Quotations on other kinds of sugars are unchanged. As wholesalers' stocks are in fairly good condition, the agents of the refineries are finding business dull. Wholesalers, on the other hand, are experiencing a rather better demand, besides small lots some carload lots being wanted. After THE CANADIAN GROCER went to press last week, the London, England, market rallied a little, but since then the cables have been unfavorable, there having been a couple of fractional declines in prices.

NUTS.

Both Jordan shelled almonds and Brazil nuts are easier in New York. Locally, the market for fruits is quiet and uninteresting.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

Both Japan and Patna are 6d. per cwt. dearer than a week ago. There are not many transactions from first hands, wholesale dealers here being all pretty well supplied. Wholesalers, however, report a good demand for rice. The price of tapioca is being well maintained.

COFFEE.

The outside coffee markets are still somewhat unsettled in regard to price. Locally, there is no change, and there is a fair demand for this time of the year.

SPICES.

Locally, the spice market is without special feature. The outside markets are still firm on spices generally, and a cable in the early part of the week noted a strong market for pepper.

TEAS.

The feature of the local market is the demand for Japan and Congou teas for shipment to the United States. Several hundred packages have been shipped, and enquiries are still being made. There has been a good demand in the local market for Ceylon teas at from 6½ to 8d., and a good deal of business has been done. It is principally for importation from London, the Colombo market not showing as good values just now as does the latter market. Flavory autumn teas of both Indian and Ceylon growth are in demand. The retail demand for tea has improved a little during the week.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS—Advices from the primary markets are somewhat contradictory, although they all, as far as known, intimate that a steadier feeling was developing. Locally, the demand is fair. In New York, the market is easier.

VALENCIA RAISINS—Supplies of Valencia raisins are getting light, and stocks held in first hands have been sold during the past week at good prices. There does not appear to be anything doing in the way of import.

PRUNES — The demand for California prunes, which, for some weeks, has been so brisk, is beginning to ease off.

CALIFORNIA EVAPORATED FRUITS — There is less doing than there was. Prices are steady and unchanged.

FIGS—There is still a demand for Tapnet figs which are still about the cheapest kind of fruit on the market in spite of the advance in prices. The idea, as to price, is 3¾ to 4c.

GREEN FRUITS.

The market continues active, the demand for oranges and lemons being brisk. As the warm weather advances, the demand for bananas increases. A large sale of this fruit is anticipated this season on account of the high price of apples. Tomatoes, green peas and strawberries are now arriving from the south in fairly liberal quantities.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The receipts are liberal, yet the demand is brisk enough to fully absorb all coming forward. Some dealers say they cannot get enough.

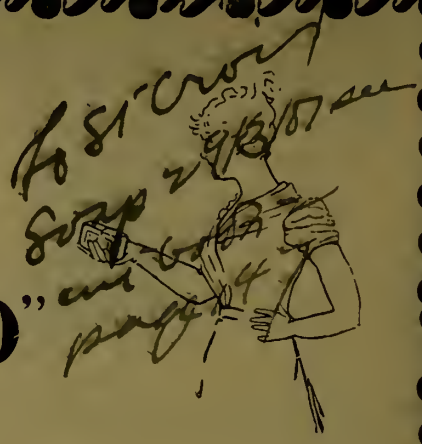
POTATOES—The feeling on the market is unsteady, with large lots offering. Carload lots are quoted at 50c. per bag, and lots on the market at 55 to 65c.

DRIED APPLES — The market is dull, with prices about 3 to 5c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Stocks are light and demand fair. Some dealers predict a scarcity. Prices remain steady at 9½ to 10c.

HONEY — Business is quiet with prices steady and unchanged.

MAPLE SYRUP—There have been larger receipts than were expected, and it is now thought that this season will prove, on the whole, to have been a good one.



BEANS—Business is quiet with prices easy, 75 to 80c. for prime, and 80 to 85c. for hand-picked VEGETABLES—There is a good demand for lettuce, rhubarb and radishes. Watercress, gardencress and cucumbers are now offered for sale. Celery is off the market. We quote: Rhubarb, 50 to 75c. per doz. bunches; onions, 10c. doz. bunches; lettuce, 20 to 40c. doz. bunches; radishes, 40 to 60c. doz. bunches; cabbage, 40 to 60c. doz.; red cabbage, 75c. to $1 per doz.; parsley, 15 to 20c. doz. bunches; cucumbers, $1.75 to $2 per doz.; watercress, 20 to 25c. per doz. bunches; gardencress, 20 to 30c. per doz. bunches.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER — Receipts of both dairy and creamery butter, but especially large roll creamery, continue to increase. Few creamery tubs are offered. A decline of 1c. is noted for dairy butter, both in large rolls and pound prints.

CHEESE—The firmer tone noted last week is even more evident this week. A number of large sales are reported at better figures than could be had a month ago.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

The weather this week has interfered with the shipment of dressed hogs, and packers have now practically quit operations. The demand for meats is good, several large sales between jobbers being noted. Lard is also selling well. Stocks of this article are much lighter than usual at this season of the year.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Fresh salmon trout and whitefish are in good demand, but as the fishing season has not thoroughly opened, the supply is not quite equal to the demand. We quote: Oysters, $1.25 per gal.; fresh salmon trout, 7c.; fresh whitefish, 7c.; steak trout, 7c.; fresh steak cod, 6 to 6½c. per lb.; pickerel, 6c. per lb.; fresh pike, 5½c. per lb.; fresh perch, 5½c. per lb.; fresh herring, 3½c. per lb.; Labrador herring, $5.50 per bbl. and $3 per half-bbl.; split herring, $5 per bbl. and $2.75 to $3 per half-bbl.; boneless codfish, 3½ to 5c. per lb; pure cod, 6½ to 6¾c. per lb.; fresh water herring (heads off), $2.50 per keg; ciscoes, $1.25 to $1.30; haddies, 5½ to 6c. per lb.; fresh haddock, 5c. per lb.

GRAIN, FLOUR, BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—A decided advance in wheat is noted, red, white and goose all being 5c. dearer than last week. Quotations on cars outside are as follows: Wheat, red winter, 90 to 91c.; white winter, 85 to 86c.; goose, 86 to 87c.

There is no wheat or barley offered on the street market. Little grain of any kind is coming in. Quotations are as follows: Peas, 57c.; oats, 33 to 34c.; rye, 50 to 51c. No. 1 hard wheat has advanced. Owing to the opening of navigation on the great lakes quotations are now given from Sarnia where this wheat is now quoted at $1.10.

FLOUR—There has not been an advance corresponding to the rise in the price of wheat. We quote: Manitoba patents, $5.30 to $5.40; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.90 to $5; Ontario patents, $4.65 to $4.75; straight roller, $4 to $4.10, Toronto freights.

BREAKFAST FOODS — Business is fair. All foods are unchanged in price. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.90 in bags and $4.00 in bbls.; rolled wheat, $2.75 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $2.50; split peas, $3.50; pot barley, $3.25.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

HIDES—A steadier feeling is noted, with prices firm. We quote: No. 1, 7½c.; No. 2, 6½c.; No. 3, 5½c.

CALFSKINS—Weakness in the market has caused a decline of 1c. per lb. for both No. 1 and No. 2 hides. We quote: No. 1 veal, 8 lbs. and up, 9c. per lb.; No. 2, 7c.; Dekins, from 30 to 35c.; culls, 15 to 20c.

SHEEPSKINS—Trade is quiet. We quote at $1.15 to $1.35.

WOOL—There is a free offering of unwashed at 11c. per lb.

SEEDS.

Most of the seed for this season's planting has been marketed, and business has dwindled down to jobbing trade. Prices are unchanged. Red clover is quoted at $2.75 to $3.25; alsike all the way from $2 to $4.50, on account of difference in quality. Timothy is quoted at $1.50, with extra choice to fancy lots selling as high as $2.

SALT.

Business is brisk, with prices firm and unchanged. We quote: Carload lots, $1.05 per bbl., and 65c. per sack; less than carload lots, $1.10 per bbl., and 70c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B., barrels, 75c.; sacks, 45c.

PETROLEUM.

Trade is quiet, with prices unchanged. We quote in 1 to 10-bbl. lots, imperial gallon,

MARKET NOTES.

Unwashed wool has declined 1c. per lb.

Cheese is ¼ to ½c. dearer than last week.

Both No. 1 and No. 2 calfskins have declined 1c.

Both Japan and Patna rice are advised 6d. dearer.

Dairy butter, in both large rolls and pound prints, has declined 1c.

There is rather an easier feeling in both canned tomatoes and peas.

Rutherford, Marshall & Co. are prepared to purchase large or small quantities of eggs.

No. 2 Canadian granulated and imported granulated are quoted 1-16c. per lb. cheaper than last week.

Hancok & Wood, under date of Patras, April 5, write P. L. Mason & Co., of Toronto, in part as follows: "The currant market is steady and sales have been made in anticipation of a decline which has not come. The demand from consuming markets is small, and in ordinary seasons would have caused a decline, but owing to the small stocks, holders are this year very firm."

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, April 21, 1898.

GROCERIES.

THE wholesale grocery market has not developed any general change since last week. Most of the houses here are busy rushing forward orders that have been held in hand awaiting the arrival of the river boats, the first of which came in this week, and they have been busy and promise to be for some days yet getting these orders despatched. Granulated sugar has been rather unsettled receding 1-16c. from the advance made last week, and it now stands where it was before last week's rise was established. Yellows have maintained their rise. Syrups are in light supply, but quiet, and the firm feeling in molasses is retained. Canned goods continue steady, and the same can be said of teas, coffees, and dried fruit. Rice is firm both abroad and on spot, and spices also are strong in their disposition.

SUGAR.

The sugar market has ruled unsettled of late, especially for granulated, and the refiners, after advancing the price 1-16c. again reduced it 1-16c. per lb. Yellows, however, have maintained the advance already recorded. The tone this week has been rather steadier owing to the more warlike character of the news regarding Cuba. Students of the sugar situation feel that if actual hostilities break out, that the fact will interfere with important sources of cane supply, viz., Cuba and the Philippines, and that prices are likely to advance. Others contend that while beet remains easy, the outbreak of war will have little effect on Canadian prices. It will be interesting to see which is right. At present, the ruling quotation on standard granulated is 4⅜c., and yellows, 3 9-16 to 4c., according to grade.

SYRUPS.

One of the refiners here has very little syrup to offer, and supplies are light as a result. The demand, however, is of an indifferent character, so the fact is of little consequence.

MOLASSES.

The spot molasses market has exhibited little change, as the local jobbing demand is of a quiet character. Reports from Barbadoes continue of a bullish character, receipts at the mills in the interior of the island being very light, which has naturally restricted the offerings at the seaboard. Recent offers have been on the same firm basis as formerly, being equivalent to 24c. laid down here. The jobbing range is 24c. in car lots and 25c. in smaller quantities.

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market continues very quiet, but all reports agree that stocks of tomatoes, peas and corn in jobbers' hands are light. Offers of tomatoes have been made in round lots at $1.15, but jobbers are firm at $1.20. Nothing has been noted in any of the other leading lines of vegetables.

TEAS.

The tea market has been somewhat quieter during the week. The only movement in a large way that we have noted has been some 400 chests of blacks at 9½ to 10c., and 400 Japans at 15½c. Both these lots were sold for shipment to the United States. In ping sueys holders have shown some disposition to concession, but nothing of importance has resulted from this fact.

J. McLauchlan & Sons Manufacturers Biscuits and Confectionery Owen Sound

SPICES.

The spice market continues firm abroad both on black and red pepper, but there is little change on spot. Demand is of a moderate character.

COFFEE.

The green coffee market continues dull and featureless. Supplies are ample, for which the demand is limited. In fact, holders would certainly shade prices to secure purchases.

RICE.

The strong tone of the rice market is fully maintained, and demand has been good at the rise, orders being booked largely for future delivery, as stocks on spot are almost exhausted. Cable advices from Java have been strong, and quote slightly higher prices. Japan rice is quoted firm at the mills at $5.25 to $5.50 and standard B, $4 to $4.25.

DRIED FRUIT.

There has been a moderate enquiry for currants, and prices rule as last quoted.

Some holders of Valencia raisins here exhibit more anxiety to reduce holdings, but there has been no change in values.

California raisins move in a quiet way at steady prices.

There has been a steady enquiry for prunes, especially for the California sorts, which are held steady. Both French and Austrian continue steady.

Figs and dates rule steady under a quiet demand.

GREEN FRUIT.

The only green fruits in which any business is being done are bananas, which are rather easier at $1.40 to $1.75 for No. 1, and 60c. to $1 for No. 2. All other sorts are in light supply and business for this season is quite limited. There is a good enquiry for pineapples at 8 to 15c. each, and a larger business would be done were there more offering. In oranges and lemons buyers are holding off pending the arrival of the steamers.

APPLES.

There is no change in apples. There is hardly any stock for sale here, and prices are steady.

DRIED APPLES.

There has been no further change in dried since last week, and we quote 3½c. Evaporated are quoted at 6½c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market has declined another peg or two since last week, and prices are now quoted at 9 to 9½c.. Demand continues fair.

BEANS—Lower under increased offerings, at 70 to 75c. for prime, and handpicked, 85 to 90c.

HONEY — Dull and somewhat lower. White clover comb, 11 to 12c.; dark, 8 to 10c.; white strained, 6 to 7c., and dark, 4 to 5c.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—There is a fair demand for maple products, and prices are steady for both sugar and syrup. We quote : Syrup in wood is selling at 4¾ to 5c. per lb., and in tins at 45 to 50c., as to size. Sugar moves freely at 6 to 6¼c. per lb.

POTATOES—Quiet, at 70 to 75c. a bag in car lots.

ONIONS—As last reported, at $2.25 per bbl.

PROVISIONS.

The only feature of the provision market has been a decline in the price of pork of 50c. per bbl. Demand is inactive. Other provisions remain the same. We quote as follows : Canadian pork, $15.50 to $16 per barrel ; pure Canadian lard, in pails, at 8¼ to 8½c., and compound refined at 5½ to

FLOUR, GRAIN, ETC.

The grain market did not exhibit anything new to-day, a moderate business being transacted in the coarser sorts. We quote: No. 2 white oats, 34¾ to 35c., ex store; 35½ to 36c. afloat, May delivery; peas, 64½ to 65c. ex store, ; buckwheat, 49 to 50c. ex store.

There is a fair business doing in flour, and prices ruled steady. We quote as follows: Winter wheat, patents $4.55 to $4.85; straight rollers, $4.30 to $4.40; bags, $2.15 to $2.20; Manitoba patents, $5.30; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.90.

Feed is unchanged. We quote as follows: Ontario winter wheat bran, $14 to $14.50; shorts, $16 per ton in bulk; Manitoba bran, $14, and shorts, $16 per ton, including bags.

Oatmeal ruled steady, at $3.90 to $4 per barrel, and at $1.90 to $1.95 per bag.

Hay was steady, at $10.50 to $11 for No. 1, and at $8 to $9 for No. 2.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

Cheese continues to give indications of an improving tendency and though no export business is doing it is not through lack of demand, but to lack of goods to trade in. What little stock remains here is concentrated in the hands of one firm, whose ideas of value have advanced materially compared with what they were prepared to accept a week ago, and they have been encouraged in the belief that they can realize higher values from the fact that they have been bid better prices than were offered last week. A nominal range to cover both buyers and sellers' ideas would be 7⅞ to 8⅛c. for Quebec makes, and 8¼ to 8⅜c. for finest Ontario sorts. The cable came in to-day at 38s. for white cheese, and 40s. for colored. This, based on Saturday's quotation, is equivalent to a decline of 1s. for white and an advance of 1s. for colored. But Liverpool is about the only market where this difference exists. In London, for instance, both white and colored have been selling at 40s. and over for some time back.

Butter continues its decline, a further sharp drop resulting this week as a consequence of free offers of goods at 17c. This is a decline of 1½ to 2c. on Saturday, but it is doubtful if strictly finest creamery could be had at this price, ahd we quote 18 to 18½c. The difficulty appears to be that a lot of the butter coming in possesses no body, as the farmers are finding difficulty in procuring a sufficient quantity of the right kind of food for their cows to produce good rich butter.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Eggs have scored another decline of ½c. per dozen, but rule steady at present.

Granulated sugar has ruled unsettled, and is now 1-16c. below the figure quoted for it last week.

Advices from Java continue firm on rice, and state that prices there are a trifle higher than they were.

There has been further buying of both black and Japan teas in this market for United States account.

Increased receipts have led to a decline in the price of honey, which is 1c. lower on the inside for comb stock.

Light receipts at the mills in Barbadoes has led to light offers of molasses at seaboard points on the Island, and prices are firm.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,
ST. JOHN, N.B., April 18, 1898.

THE war between the United States and Spain, or rather the prospects, are a matter of great interest here. In business it causes a rather uncertain feeling. The only price that seems as yet to be effected is that of flour. There has been quite an advance, particularly in Ontario grades. The city elections have occupied some attention, a number of retail grocers being in the field. In teas, orders for new season's for direct shipment have in many cases gone forward. As before referred to, business in this line is changing. Package teas, chiefly blends, are taking the market, the most of which are blended and packed here. One wholesale grocer, who gives particular attention to this branch of business, has now 14 grades of package teas all packed by himself. In hops, the trade here is very light. There is to be another wholesale grocery house in St. John. In point of population our city has perhaps more wholesale grocery houses than any other Canadian city.

OIL—There continues to be a good, steady business in burning oil. In conversation with one of our city oilmen, THE GROCER learns that the demand for burning oil continues each year to increase. This would not attract so much attention were it not that there is also an increase in the use of gas and electric light. To offset this, however, there is the growing use of oil for heating purposes, particularly in the summer. Cod oil shows light demand; stocks small. In lubricating oil the prospects are not as bright, for the dull English market for lumber and the chance of Americans going to war make a dull feeling among the millmen. Values show no change.

SALT—The prices are firm and rather higher, chiefly in Liverpool coarse. The last Liverpool steamer had quite a quantity on board, and there is a sailing vessel about due. Buyers should have orders in to fill from ship's side, as the cost is much higher after the salt is stored. There is a fair, steady demand. Factory-filled and Canadian salt show no change. In the latter there is an active demand for cheese and butter salt at this season. Stocks are light, owing to delay in shipment from the west. caused by the heavy demand there for these grades. We quote as follows: Liverpool coarse, 45 to 48c.; English factory-filled, 90c. to $1; Canadian fine, $1 per bag; cheese and butter salt, bulk, $2.50 to $2.60 per bbl.; 5-lb. bags, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.85 to $3 per CANNED GOODS—There is little of change to note. Prices are firmly held, with a steady sale. Tomatoes are expected to rule higher. Corn is also an interesting feature. In fruits there is a good sale. Grocers are troubled somewhat by finding goods wrongly labeled. One, this week, found that where he thought he was selling peaches, the cans proved to contain tomatoes. In canned meats, the feeling here is much firmer. As yet, our dealers have not followed the outside advance to any extent, but with growing demand higher prices must rule. Salmon is still low, with good stocks held. Lobsters are in light demand. Oysters show improved demand.

GREEN FRUIT—The sale is increasing. Bananas are coming to the front. They are now being received green and in bulk, and prices are ruling lower. In oranges, both California and Valencias, prices are higher and sales somewhat less active. Lemons are still low, and show a good demand. Any change will mean higher prices, but no immediate change is expected. Strawberries remain at about 25c. The quality arriving is good for the season. Rhubarb is scarce; quality reported not very good. Pines are light arrivals, and incline to be over ripe. There is little doing in apples.

DRIED FRUIT—This is a quiet line. In California fruits prices tend higher, particularly in apricots, which, at the Coast, have advanced 1½ to 2c. per lb. Peaches, which show a good sale here, tend higher. In California raisins values are low. There is, however, little change of price here. While no very large stocks of raisins are here, holders of any lines or grades would prefer them lighter, particularly as the market is dull. In dates and figs there is little doing. Currants are held firm. In onions prices are easy as regards Canadian. Both New Bermudas and Egyptians are on the market.

DAIRY PRODUCE — Butter, when at all good, is high. There is very little creamery offering, and best dairy is also scarce. Some western creamery prints were on the market this week. In eggs, values are low, and since Easter the demand has been dull. Stocks are quite large. There is but one good feature, and that is quality. In cheese the sale is limited, and fair stocks are held. Factory people are quite surprised where they have old stock to offer to find prices so low.

SUGAR—The market locally is a firm one, the more because of light stocks, but as yet dealers have not advanced prices as far as they must soon do, particularly in granulated. The presence of the second grade tends to prevent full prices. There is a fair trade doing.

MOLASSES—This is also a firm market. In Barbadoes there is a fair stock of new season's goods; price is firmly held. Both in this grade and Porto Rico the outlook is for full figures. There is as yet but a limited stock of new Porto Rico, but further arrivals are expected. In other grades stocks are small.

FISH—There has been but a quiet business this week. Fresh fish are still scarce. Gaspereaux are having a good demand for bait, the more as herring are scarce. Prices are low. Dealers prefer to sell fish rather than to pack them, as alewives for the past year have ruled so low. In dry fish there are also light arrivals, but sales are not large. Pickled herring are dull. It is quite a change to find smoked herring an active feature, but small stocks, light arrivals, and a fair sale have produced quite an effect. We quote: Large cod, $3.25 to $3.35; medium, PROVISIONS—Pork in barrels is still dull, and beef is little better. In the former, domestic mess has about all the business. Smoked meats show no change. There has been rather more interest in lard during the week, and, although some dealers are quoting at about packers' prices, the easier feeling has caused some sales to be made at bottom figures.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—The lower prices of Manitoba, with the outlook for quite a sharp advance, has produced the natural effect. In Ontarios the stiffening of prices has had the same effect, and millers, who were not too quick to move up, have had a good business. In oatmeal prices tend higher. Cornmeal is firm at last week's figures. Feed remain firm, but hay shows no improvement. Beans have had considerable attention, more than for some time, and where low prices have been quoted by western dealers sales have been made. It is said a number of cars were placed at 85c. per bushel, St. John. There was a great range in prices quoted, many wanting much higher figures. Prices are expected to be higher. Medium beans are quoted well above pea beans. In seed, sales are active. Timothy is firmer. Canadian seed is being largely sold this year, though much higher in price than United States seed. In clover, though Canadian is considered the best, the United States article has the largest sale. We quote: Manitoba flour, $5.75 to $5.85 ; best Ontario, $5.10 to $5.20 ; medium, $4.80 to $4.90 ; oatmeal, $4.15 to $4.25 ; cornmeal, $2 to $2.05 ; middlings, $20 to $22 ; bran, $18 to $19 ; oats, 38 to 42c.; hand-picked beans, $1.10 ; prime, 95c. to $1 ; yellow eye beans, $1.75; split peas, $3.80 to $3.90; round, $3.25 to $3.40; pot barley, $3.80 to $3.90 ; hay, $9 to $9.50; timothy seed, American, $1.70 to $2.15 ; do., Canadian, $2 to $2.40; mammoth clover, 6 to 7c.; alsike, 7¾ to 8½c.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Mayor Robertson, who will soon close his fourth year in office, is to visit England in the interest of St. John.

THE CANADIAN GROCER referred some weeks ago to the buying of young cattle, chiefly steers, in this Province for Manitoba. Last week seven cars were forwarded to that Province.

St. John merchants still complain about the freight tariff, by which flour and grain are landed at Nova Scotia points at a lower rate than at St. John. One hundred and twenty-three cars were forwarded by the steamer Prince Rupert alone during March.

Many here think it would be unfair if no postage should be charged on Canadian newspapers, while our mails are carrying United States papers on which no postage has been paid.

There are to be a number of new cheese and butter factories started in these lower Provinces this spring. They, together with the older factories, are now buying their season's supplies.

There is quite a movement among the candy manufacturers of St. John this spring. A new factory is being built for F. C. Colwell & Co. The White Candy Co. and A. A. McClaskey are both moving into new quarters.

THE CURRANT SITUATION.

D. PASQUA writes from Patras, under date of April 2, as follows in regard to currants : "We have to report another month of extreme inactivity, the exports during the whole of March being about 1,100 tons, as shown by the following tables. This extraordinary abstraction of the consuming markets has naturally frightened some of the holders who thought it advisable to realize on their holdings, causing thereby a fall of 20 to 30 drachmas per 1,000 lb. (1s. to 1s. 6d. per cwt.) Meanwhile one of the local banks which had made advances to a speculator against the deposit of 300 tons of fruit of very common growth, has made a forced realization of same, and prices have further yielded 30 to 40 drachmas per 1,000 lb. (1s. 6d. to 2s. per cwt.) in a single day. Since then the market is reacting, and, with the reported improved condition of exchange, it may be expected that better prices will rule during the present month. The following is the comparative list of exports :

	To March 31, 1898.	To March 31, 1897.	To July 31, 1897.
	Tons.	Tons.	Tons.
England	54,365	51,805	54,700
United States and Canada	12,090	13,545	14,065
Australia	2,925	2,440	2,775
Holland, Belgium, Germany and Austria	23,400	39,383	42,220
France	1,360	5,302	6,223

Sundry	300	1,000	1,200
Total tons	94,400	132,796	140,484

"Our stocks on March 31 are reported as follows :

	Tons.
Pyrgos and Olympia	4,000
Amalias and Campos	500
Patras growth	200
Provincial fruit, stored in Patras	1,800
Filiatra and District	1,000
Calamata and district	600
Ionian Islands	1,400
Total tons	9,500

"From these stocks about 2,000 tons have already been disposed of for April and May shipments, so that the available fruit in Greece is about 7,500 tons, equal to what we had the same date last year."

AFTER KOOTENAY TRADE.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT SITUATION.

THE reported development in the California fruit situation is that in most districts a hot wave, accompanied by scorching winds, has completed the destruction of fruit crops that was begun by the freeze of a month ago, and increased by the subsequent light rainfall. The sections that have heretofore depended for sufficient moisture for the feeding of the orchards on the natural preciptation during the rainy season, or upon the rivers that were supplied by the melting of the snows on the mountains, are now said to be forced to turn to irrigation from artesian wells, which are being sunken in sections which had previously felt no necessity of resorting to such means But this method of irrigation, it is held, has been adopted too late to help the current crops. Advices from San Jose say that extremely high prices are being paid by orchardists for the water privileges for irrigation purposes. The snow on the mountains feeding the streams, from which water has heretofore been drawn for irrigation purposes in several sections, is reported to be only a few inches in depth, as compared with some 30 or 35 feet on the average, and streams that are ordinarily bank full at this season from melting snow are said now to be practically dry, or merely trickling brooks.

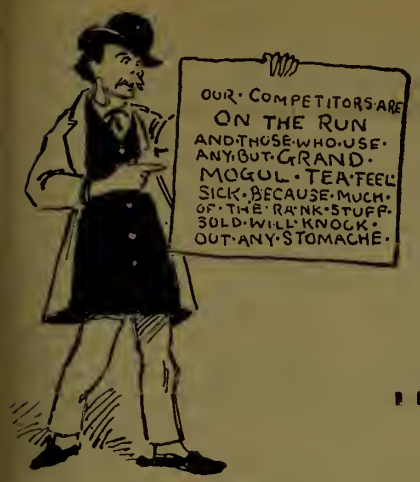
In spite of the reports that frost, drought, and unusual hot weather have virtually ruined the California crops, the trade here seems to be skeptical and are making no provision for the future in case that the accounts received should prove to be true. Speculative interest is absolutely wanting, such business as is reported being based upon the immediate or probable early wants of consumption. In other words, handlers of California dried or canned fruits here seem to believe, as a result of past experience, that the reports of damage to the California fruit crops have been considerably exaggerated.

Spot supplies of dried apricots have been closely cleaned up, and for this reason the reports that the coming crop will be short have had more influence than have had similar reports concerning other fruits. The interest recently developed in spot raisins, prunes and peaches has, we understand, been created by the fact that on account of the low prices prevailing during the winter stocks in distributers' hands have gone out more freely than usual and buyers are now compelled to come in to replenish their supplies, but the fact that they are buying only in a hand-to-mouth manner is taken as an indication that they are influenced only by consuming requirements and that the reports of short crops from the Coast do not stir them. In California canned fruits, notably apricots, lemon cling peaches and cherries, the feeling is stronger, but little or no speculative interest is shown.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

SALMON CANNING IN THE U.S.

In its issue of April 8, The San Francisco Herald of Trade and Finance says of canned salmon : "There is a fair demand for spot. The movement in new season Columbia river has been larger than at the corresponding time in 1897. The low opening price of $1.05 for Chinook talls seems to be an incentive. So far as we can learn, a few contracts have been signed for Puget Sound sockeye at 80c. for talls, but operators are slow to take hold, preferring to see how Alaska will open. It is the belief that the price will be below last year's opening ; indeed, we know of some being contracted at less money. Last year they were packing on the Sacramento river, but this year the run is so small that marketmen, it is said, pay 5c. on the fishing ground The opening season begins on the Columbia river next Monday."

THE SUGAR-COFFEE FIGHT.



The Woolson Spice Co. has, according to a New York paper, announced an advance of ½c. per pound in the price of bulk coffee, the price of its "Lion" brand package coffee, however, remaining unchanged at 8c., but it was reported that the company is not disposed to accept orders for the latter of over 50 cases each. This is understood to signify that the company purposes to supply the ordinary jobbing demand at current quotations, but does not care to fill speculative orders at these figures. Arbuckle Bros. on the previous day advanced their price for the "Ariosa" brand of coffee ½ to 9c. per pound, and it was stated that it was followed by other large roasters, except the Woolson Spice Co. The action of the latter company apparently indicates that the fight on package coffee is on as bitterly as ever.

BARBADOES MOLASSES SITUATION.

James A. Lynch & Co., writing from Barbadoes April 2, say : "The weather continues very dry, and the yield of the canes is unsatisfactory ; it is therefore gratifying to note an improvement in the rate offered, viz., $1.65 per 100 pounds, and $5 for hhds. and $1.75 per 100 for bags. The supply of molasses has not been equal to the demand at 7c. per gallon, and 8c, is now being offered. The shipments to date amount to 3,232 hhds. sugar and 5,260 puns. molasses; at same time last year, 7,449 hhds. sugar and 5,493 puns. molasses."

CANNED TOMATOES IN U. S.

Tomato packers of Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Michigan and Missouri met in Indianapolis recently to discuss prospects for the crop this year, prices and plans for disposing of the year's pack. There were present about 35 packers of the Indiana association and 15 representatives from the other States named. At the January meetings of the State associations it was decided that a minimum price of 70c. per dozen cans be fixed, and no member of the associations is allowed to sell for less than this figure. The State associations have a mutual understanding, and the prices agree in the several States. The average price at which sales have been made, so far, is 72½c. per dozen, or $1.45 per case. Some sales have been made as high as 80c., and one sale is reported at 85c. These prices, however, are regarded as exceptional. The packers say they have no trust, and no penalty can be inflicted upon those who sell for less than the minimum price, but nevertheless the canners are now making it hot for a few Ohio canners who have persisted in making advance sales at less than 70c. The Indiana crop is figured this year at 725,000 cases, which is an increase over last year, when the pack was 594,000 cases. Of the estimated 725,000 cases there were represented at the meeting 550,000 cases. It was found that 280,000 cases, or 51 per cent. of the outside estimates on the pack this year have already been sold on future contracts to brokers. Half of the packers of all the States have sold up to their limit of future contracts ; that is, about 60 per cent. of the estimated pack. In order to extend the territory of the Indiana pack 100,000 cases will be packed and shipped into southern Texas and to the States of the Northwest, a territory which Baltimore has been heretofore supplying. To insure the quality of these goods that the market may be steady for Indiana tomatoes the pack will be under strict supervision, and will bear the association label. It is believed that this will open for Indiana a new and extensive field, which will make a large addition to the market for Indiana tomatoes after this year. Of this 100,000 cases of association goods 30,000 cases were subscribed yesterday at 72½c.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce, April 16.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

WINNIPEG, April 16, 1898.

MANITOBA has jumped from winter right into summer. The watering carts are busy in Winnipeg, and the streets thronged with wheels.

There has been great excitement in wheat circles during the week, and as high as $1.05 has been paid, afloat, Fort William. Though various theories are given for this sudden and large advance, there is little doubt it has been caused by the local millers, who anticipate putting up the price of flour in the east in the near future, and also to the fact that all at once they realized there was practically no more wheat in the country than was needed for seeding and to last until next harvest. Seeding is general throughout the province, and will be complete on the Portage plains and some other points in the course of the week.

In all lines of groceries and produce the volume of trade is good, with prices firm.

The failure is announced of F. Cloutier, groceries and boots and shoes. Little is known beyond the fact that the manager of the Bank of Hochalega is in possession under chattel mortgage. Extent of liabilities will not be obtainable until next week.

EVAPORATED FRUITS—Market is much stronger on all lines of these fruits, but particularly apricots. Everything in this line is being bought up in anticipation of a shortage in next season's crop. Price to-day is 11c. The market is firm for peaches at present prices; unpeeled, 10c.; peeled, 16c. Prices are expected to advance shortly. Pears are also firm, and show an advance of ½c. over last quotation, and are now selling at 12c. for fancy halves. Dried apples seem to be offering a little more freely, but prices remain at last week's figure. Evaporated apples appear to be getting short, and consequently are very firm at 11c., with prospect of higher figures. Dried are quoted at 6¼c. Prunes are also firm, and still higher prices are looked for in small sizes.

CANNED GOODS—Tomatoes have been offering, in small quantities, rather more freely this past week, but price has not moved from former quotations. Corn and peas are firm indeed, and there is no likelihood of any change until new packs come in, which will not be until the end of June for peas and still later for corn. In canned fruits the supply is fully equal to the demand, so that there is little to report, and there is no change in the prices with the exception of gallon apples, which are now worth $3.

COFFEE—Rios are stronger with an upward tendency, No. 5 is now worth 10½c. Fancy Aden Mocha, 28c.; fancy Preanger Java, 28c.

MAPLE SYRUP—This product is now offering freely in this market at prices ranging from $1 to $1.10 per gallon for 5-gallon cases. Quality of course governing price. Maple syrup is one of those things that you never can be sure about. Many dealers claim they have new syrup, but whether it is syrup made from new sap, or syrup newly made from old sugar is a mystery.

RICE—Very firm and advancing, owing to the short crop in India, Japan and China, and from present appearances there is little likelihood of lower prices.

CURED MEATS—Market is stiff, some southern houses being out of clear side bacon. The indications are that meat will go no lower for some months. There is no actual change in price from last week.

LARD—Lard is firm. Last week's figure of $1.85 still obtains, but it looks as if there would be an advance before this week is out.

CHEESE—Manitoba stocks are all cleaned up, and considerable cheese is coming in from the east. This has been bought at lower prices than prevailed for the home product last fall. For No. 1, 10c. is quoted, while small cheese of prime quality are practically out of the market, none being obtainable in either Ontario or Manitoba.

BUTTER—Supply is limited, though it is coming in more freely than last week. Price remains about the same, being 17 to 20c. according to quality.

EGGS—This product is very high considering the season. Before Easter they dropped to 12c., during Easter week they shot up to 15c. and seem to stick there. It is likely, however, that prices will drop sharply before the end of the current week.

CEREALS—Market at the present time is firm and bare. Considerable quantities are being brought in from both Ontario and the United States, and will reach here in a few days. Prices are: Rolled oats, $2; granulated and standard, $2.20 per sack. Split peas, $2.30.

SUGAR—In the early part of the week two advances took place of 1-16c. each, making a total advance of ⅛c., but later there was a decline of 1-16c. Present price is: Granulated, 5 3-16c.; bright yellow, 4 7-16c. There is, however, no anticipation of any great change in this market for the next few weeks. "Cereal Postum" has become a household word in Winnipeg, and very considerable quantities are now being handled by retail dealers.

FISH—Now that the smoked and salted fish season is over, new lines of canned fish are constantly being put up and offered for approval. To lovers of fish the new dainty in the form of uncooked finnan haddie, now being put up at Aberdeen, will be a welcome change. The tins contain from two to six hadies, according to size. The price of this new dainty is 60c. for the small boxes and $1.40 for those containing six fish. Of course, these goods are more expensive than the smoked fish, but there is absolutely no waste, so that this somewhat counterbalances the price. Digby chicks, or scaled herrings, are 18c. per box; pure cod, 7c., in bricks or 5-lb. boxes.

GREEN FRUIT—Warm weather being now on, all fruit for the future will come through under ice. Fresh asparagus is the only new line showing this week, and this in limited quantities. Oranges firm with indications of advance. Prices here, $4 for navels and $3.25 for seedlings, but these prices will very likely be 25c. higher before this is in print. Lemons remain at old figure of $4 with no indications of change. The apple market is in bad shape, many thousands of barrels of doubtful stock being still on hand. Really good apples are scarce, price $4. War scare has scared the bananas and they are again scarce, price $2.50 to $3.50. Limited market for fine Havana pines at $6 per dozen.

N.B. All prices given from Manitoba are the jobbers' price to the retailer.

THE E. B. EDDY CALENDAR.

There is an old saying that "a good thing is not made in a day." That there is much truth in this statement will be admitted by those who have been waiting for some weeks for the issuance of the calendar of the E. B. Eddy Co., Limited, Hull, P.Q., and have been fortunate enough to receive one. The calendar has twenty-one leaflets, one for each of the remaining months in the present century. On each leaflet, besides the calendar, is a two color heading, each one containing a fine view of the Eddy works at Hull and four half-tone views of the twelve largest cities in Canada, in each of which this firm has branch offices. The calendar is, indeed, "a thing of beauty," and will be appreciated by the trade and others receiving one.

HALIFAX DEMANDS.

THE delegates from Halifax, consisting of Mayor Stephens and others, whose visit to Ottawa has already been recorded, waited upon the Montreal Board of Trade, Monday afternoon, to secure their support in the movement to have Halifax recognized by the Government as an important entreport in the trade of Canada.

The principal object of the Halifax representatives, according to the reports of their delegates, in their visit to Ottawa, was to secure from the Government an immediate acquiescence in the view that the facilities, some time ago destroyed by fire, for handling trade at Halifax, should be reestablished. So far as could be gathered from members of the delegation, these facilities consisted of the long wharf, or deep water terminus, the grain elevator and the freight sheds at Richmond, some time ago destroyed by fire.

Halifax claimed that, in a large measure, their outlay for shipping facilities had been governed by a national Canadian spirit. For instance, said Mr. J. M. Geldert, one of the Halifax representatives, the Halifax dry dock, an institution which figured in a commercial and national way in Canadian commerce, had been subsidized by the city of Halifax to the extent of $200,000. They looked for a reciprocal spirit on the part of the Canadian Government. They asked the Dominion Government to reconstruct, without delay, the facilities for handling trade that it had previously enjoyed.

"From the Hon. Sir Charles Tupper," so Mr. Geldert said, "the delegation had received a most sympathetic and intelligent hearing. He (Sir Charles) had expressed the view that the Government should not delay a day or an hour in starting the work to replace the elevator and deep water terminus and other facilities which Halifax previously had."

"Since the elevator and wharves at the deep water terminus and Richmond were burned away," said Mr. Geldert, "the Government had done practically nothing in Halifax. It was as much to the benefit of Montreal and Upper Canada, as to Halifax, that that port should be placed upon a reasonable footing to handle Canadian business. It was this idea that led to the interview with the Board of Trade. The delegation asked their countenance and co-operation in their movement to obtain for a Canadian port, which (especially in view of the possibility of an Hispano-American war) would be largely looked to for the handling of ocean-going traffic."

Mayor Stephens, who was also spoken to by The Gazette, said that their interview with the Montreal Board of Trade had been an encouraging one. Although no definite resolution was passed, an intimation was given that the Board of Trade would be prepared to co-operate with Halifax in securing that measure of business which belonged to it.

THE WINDOW DRESSING ART.

One of the developments of the window dressing art is shown in the use of flowers for the purpose of decoration. The idea, while not a new one among such trade as millinery and undertaking, is, so far as its adoption by grocers is concerned, quite novel, and when we reflect upon the pleasant effect made by the presence of flowers in show windows it is surprising that more places of business do not use them as adjuvants to the other modes of decorating. Several of the larger retail grocers in Connecticut now have flowers in their windows as a general thing, and they certainly add much to the beauty and attractiveness of the windows. This matter of using flowers for decorative purposes in show windows only goes to emphasize the great advancement which is being made in this kind of work. To-day, much greater interest is shown in the arrangement of windows than there was five years ago. Everything now tends to the artistic and tasty, and in many stores it has become one of the most important functions of the business. Experience has shown that such efforts are appreciated by an observing public and that an attractive show window draws business.—N. E. Grocer.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC TRAVELER.

THE CANADIAN GROCER, last week, met an old friend in Quebec City in the person of Mr. D. P. Urquhart, who represents Gowans, Kent & Co., of Toronto, in the Province of Quebec. While renewing old acquaintance the conversation finally turned into a business one. Mr. Urquhart informed his old-time comrade that he now represents the leading house in his line in Canada; in fact, he grew eloquent when speaking of its magnificent showrooms in Toronto, which, no doubt, are a credit to the Dominion.

Mr. Urquhart is somewhat of a linquist, speaking French as fluently as English, which is necessary on his ground, as many of his customers speak French only. His present trip, although a sorting one, has been very successful, as a bundle of orders he is just sending in to his firm fully proves.

FRESH STOCKS.

HOW often is that when a failure occurs in any line of business it is discovered that a large amount of the stock on hand is old, obsolete and unsalable? It would seem that this very condition of affairs would justify a careful search for the cause and the application of the proper remedy. Is not the whole situation explained by this one fact, that when a new supply of goods is received by the average merchant it is piled or dumped upon the old, thus leaving the original supply as a perpetual corner stone for successive pyramids of fresh goods? Under these conditions it is not surprising that a certain amount of goods should become shopworn, faded, stale and useless. By reason of this very system a large number of retail merchants, in making a statement of their affairs, should in all justice classify about 25 per cent. of their stock as "fixtures."

No matter what the kind of goods, when a new lot arrives that which is on hand should be carefully removed and the fresh supply put in the place assigned to it. The old lot should either be placed on top or otherwise arranged as as to be the first that is sold. This rule should be applied to every class of goods, whether sold by the yard, pound or piece. This method, properly observed, guarantees a continuous rotation of stock and will keep everything neat, fresh and attractive. Old stock should not be tolerated by any merchant who desires to keep abreast of the times and effectively meet his competition. When new stock of a certain character is received it is the general custom to mark it with both the cost and selling prices. Equal care should be taken to mark, along with the other figures, the date of its receipt. When the annual or semi-annual inventory is taken every article in the store should be itemized, and opposite in parallel columns there should be noted the cost price, the selling price and the date it was placed in stock. After the inventory has been completed it should be carefully analyzed and separated into sections. Every article over six months old should be at once moved, even at a sacrifice, if necessary. Of course, the character of the goods will determine the length of time that their retention on the shelves will be safe. Fresh, clean and attractive-looking stock is a merchant's best advertisement. It indicates his enterprise and judgment as nothing else can, and it is certain to attract the attention of his patrons and command trade.—Interstate Grocer.

Mr. Thos. Steel, Ridgetown, Ont., shipped over 12,000 bushels of hand-picked beans last month. Four thousand bushels were shipped to Cuba and France.

VALUE OF COURTESY IN THE STORE.

A lady of the writer's acquaintance, who has had extensive experience as a shopper, says that the scarcest commodity in the department stores is courtesy. She says also that in the smaller grocery stores the uncouthness of some of the clerks is almost as repellent as the open insolence of the saleslady of the bazars. It is evident, she remarks, that these young men mean well, but they are sadly lacking in polish. Many good customers, she finds, are driven to the smaller stores by the inattention of the department store assistants. Not every lady, perhaps, not any real lady, can stand the rushes to the bargain counters, the pushing and struggling, and this circumstance, too, like the discourtesy of the salespeople, makes trade for the small stores.—Merchants' Review.

THE CANADIAN GROCER

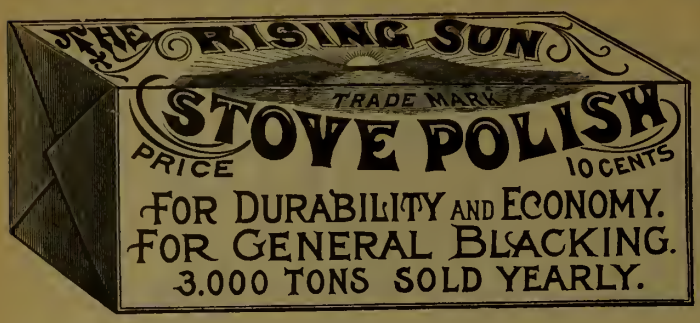
Vol. XII. (Published Weekly) TORONTO AND MONTREAL, APRIL 29, 1898. ($2.00 per Year) No. 17

TEA, ITS HABITAT, BOTANICAL CHARACTER, ETC.

A CLIMATE to suit the tea plant must combine the attributes of heat and dampness, and if it is only nice and damp, it cannot possibly be too hot, write A. Morris and H. Robson in Grocers' Monthly. Nevertheless greater variations of temperature may be tolerated than of dampness, but the plants cannot endure anything like cold weather. Roughly speaking, in proportion as a climate becomes more and more unhealthy for Europeans, so it gets more and more suitable for the cultivation of tea.

The tea plant belongs to the great division of the flowering plants or Phanerogams, which is known as the Dicotyledones. This division is characterized by the provision in the embryo of two seed leaves or cotyledons, the function of which is to nourish and protect the plant at its first start in life. The Dicotyledones are again subdivided into Angiosperms and Gymnosperms. In the former division the ovules are protected by being enclosed in a kind of box, which is known as the ovary at first, but as the fruit when the ovules have matured into seed. In the Gymnosperms the ovules are exposed, but the exposure is usually only technical, and, although the atmosphere has free access to them, the access is of a very limited kind. The Angiosperms are subdivided into the Dichlamydeæ, Monochlamydeæ and Achlamydeæ. The tea plant belongs to the first of these, as the reproductive part of its flower is enclosed in a double set of leaves, sepals and petals. In the Monochlamydeæ there is only one set of outer leaves in the flower, the perianth; and the Achlamydeæ are destitute of outer leaves entirely, so that the flowers consist solely of reproductive organs. The Dichlamydeæ are again subdivided into Corollifloræ, Calycifloræ and Thalamifloræ. The last of those three includes the order to which tea belongs, and is characterized by the flowers of the plants which constitute it having a polypetalous corolla and hypogynous stamens. In other words, the petals, although, of course, attached to the "floral receptacle," or thalamus at the head of the peduncle, or flower stalk, are free from one another, while the stamens grow from beneath the ovary, being attached to the floral receptacle at a higher point than the petals, but below the ovary. The Thalamifloræ are represented in Britain on a very extensive scale—the buttercup, the water lily, poppy, mignonette, pink, wallflower, flax, cotton and the violet all are examples of it, but the order to which the tea plant belongs is not, of course, indigenous in the three kingdoms. Its name is Ternstromiaceæ alias Camelliaceæ, the genera Thea and Camellia being practically identical.



THE TEA PLANT.

The tea plant is a shrub or small tree which will grow, in the wild state, to a height of ten to fifteen feet, although it is kept much smaller when under cultivation. The leaves spring alternately from the stem, not one leaf opposite another, and they are about two inches long when full grown. They are coriaceous (leathery), and, being destitute of secondary leaves (stipules) at the place where their stalk or petiole arises, are said to be exstipulate. The shape of the leaves is lanceolate, or lance-head-like, the greatest width of the leaf being nearer to the stalk than the apex. The edge of the leaf is serrate, i.e., divided into little teeth pointing towards its apex. The venation or arrangement of the veins in the leaf is very characteristic, and takes, therefore, a very important place among the tests of a genuine tea leaf. The main branches proceeding from the central vein or midrib turn off just before they reach the serrated margin, so as to leave a kind of border just inside the latter.

THE FLOWER.

The large white flower next claims our attention. The outermost leaves of it, which have a mainly protective duty to perform, and which are called the sepals individually, and the calyx collectively, are from five to seven in number, coriaceous, and deciduous (falling off before the ripening of the fruit). Inside the calyx is the corolla, made up of the petals. The function of the corolla is partly protective, but it is chiefly intended to attract insects. The petals are, in fact, a kind of notification to the insect world at a large that something nice to eat is provided gratis in the interior of the flower. The six-legged animals naturally respond with alacrity, but, while bent solely on their own gratification, carry pollen from the stamens of one flower to the pistil of another, thereby rendering the ovules of the latter capable of ripening into seeds, and securing the cross-breeding which is necessary for the continuation of the existence of the tea plant. The petals vary in number, there being sometime five, sometimes six, and sometimes nine of them, and they are sometimes slightly joined together at the base. This constitutes a slight deviation from the typical thalamifloral state of things, but the imperfection of our classifications makes these little aberrations unavoidable. The aestivation of the petals is imbricate, or, to put the statement into the vernacular, they overlap each other while in the bud. The stamens are numerous or indefinite. It is found that when there are more than ten or twelve stamens in a flower, the number varies so much that it is no use counting them. Hence, they are described by one of the adjectives just given. A stamen usually consists of two parts, a stalk or filament bearing a pollen-containing head or anther. In the tea plant the filaments are either quite free from one another or cohere so as to form several bundles. In the latter case they are said to be polyadelphous. The yellow tea-anthers are either, as it were, balanced in the middle on the filament, or have their stalk adhering all down one side of them. The botanist expresses all this circumlocution in four words : anthers versatile or adnate.

THE OVARY.

The ovary is divided into several chambers arranged round a central pillar or axis to which the ovules are attached. The placentation, says the botanist, is axile. From two to seven styles surmount the ovary, and provide channels by which the pollen can enter into communication with the ovules. The ripened fruit is either a capsule from which the seeds escape by valves, or is indehiscent. In that case the seeds cannot escape until the pericarp or outer wall of the fruit rots away.

Perhaps the British plant which most nearly approaches the tea shrub is the St. John's Wort, with its dotted leaves, but, of course, the differences between the two vegetables are very considerable, although they have some well-marked features, in the stamens, for example, in common.

Anyone who may desire to verify our remarks about the tea leaf by examination of the debris from the teapot, will please bear in mind that such debris contains complete leaves only exceptionally. If, however, a judicious selection of fragments is carefully flattened out between two pieces of colorless glass and then held up to the light, they will probably illustrate the points we have insisted upon fairly well. If they do not, try again, and in the case of repeated failures—a very improbable event by the way—change your tea merchant.

The tea flower exhales an agreeable perfume, which has been extracted from it as an essential oil, and made an article of trade.

COMPOSITION OF THE LEAVES.

As in the case with those of all plants, the composition of tea leaves varies within rather wide limits. They, of course, contain cellulose and coloring matter, but they are among the most nitrogenous of all leaves, and an estimate of total nitrogen in a sample has been recommended as a test of the presence of foreign leaves. This property of the tea leaf is due to the presence of theine, an alkaloid to which tea owes to a large extent its physiological action. Tea contains from 2 to 5 per cent. of theine, and always in a state of combination with tannin. The tannin or tannic acid imparts to tea infusion a " rough " flavor, and the principal difference between the tastes of Chinese and Indian teas is due to the latter containing much more tannin than the former. The tannic acid of tea appears to be identical with that of oak bark, and, in fact, an infusion of tea, properly used, forms one of the best liquids for tanning hides known. It is, of course, much too expensive to be used for that purpose, however, independently of the fact that although the result is everything that can be desired, tanning with tea is a tedious process, requiring great care and the repeated use of weak infusions at carefully regulated temperatures. The supposed physiological bearings of the tanning powers of tea will be discussed later on, in their proper place.

VOLATILE OIL.

Tea also contains some volatile oil, which contributes the aroma of the infusion, and possibly is responsible for some of the effects of tea on the human system, and also about 6 per cent. of mineral matter, which remains behind as ash when the tea is incinerated. This ash is remarkable for containing more than 50 per cent. of soluble salts, such as alkaline phosphates, and is again a feature which enables tea to be differentiated from nearly every other leaf, and especially from those which have been most commonly used to adulterate it. Any "facing" or other mineral adulterant is at once revealed by the percentage of ash being abnormally high. One of the writers has known a sample, actually submitted to him for analysis, to yield 14.5 per cent., and no doubt the Custom House analysts could quote much higher figures even than this. Spent tea, i.e., tea which has been infused, and then dried again, only about 3 per cent. of ash, of which five-sixths are insoluble in water. The determination of the ash and soluble ash will therefore show whether or not the sample is adulterated with leaves which have already served to supply a beverage. In this connection we may mention that tea, when thoroughly exhausted by means of repeated doses of boiling water, will yield from one-third to one-half of its weight into solution. All the proportions and percentages mentioned refer to the tea in the state in which it comes into the hands of the retail grocer, and not to tea deprived of its hygroscopic moisture.

EXAMINATION OF TEA.

As regards the examination of a sample of tea it does not call for analytical abilities of a high order on the part of the chemist, and it is the rarest thing in the world for a British medical officer of health to come across a case of actual adulteration, still less a case of any gravity. A jealous watch is maintained by the Custom House over the tea imported into this country, and its well-appointed laboratory and competent staff of chemists make it the next thing to a dead certainty that a lot of tea adulterated abroad will be stopped on the threshold. And it scarcely pays to adulterate tea in this country. Plenty of rubbishy stuff is forced down the public throat by the "giving away" of articles of crockery and "vertu," but sheer falsification is very unusual.

The examination of a sample of tea is, then, partly botanical and partly chemical. The way in which the leaves are examined after infusion has been already described, but it should be mentioned that when a sample of tea is to be tested botanically the infusion is made with warm water only, the object being simply to soften the leaves sufficiently to allow of their details being made out. If the water is too hot or its action is too prolonged the leaves get even more broken up and disintegrated than they are in the uninfused sample. It may also be mentioned that if the leaves are very much broken up, the sample is sure to be of inferior quality. It will be old and have suffered much knocking about.

CHEMICAL EXAMINATION.

For the chemical assaying of a sample of tea, three operations are essential, and we shall now proceed to describe them.

1. The determination of the percentage of ash.—A known weight of the tea is carefully heated in a platinum dish until it is completely burned to a gray ash, free from black specks. The crucible and ash are then weighed, and the weight, minus the tare of the crucible, gives the ash. During the incineration great care must be taken that the tea does not catch fire. If that happens it will cause the ash to lump, and immensely increase the time required to burn off all the free carbon. In any case the contents of the crucible should be crushed, as soon as they have ceased to fume, with the end of a glass rod flattened out so as to form a kind of pestle. Particles adhering to the glass can be brushed back into the dish with a camelhair pencil.

2. The determination of the soluble ash.—The total ash obtained as above is exhausted with pure, boiling, distilled water, and transferred to a weighed filter. The filtrate is evaporated down over a water-bath, and the residue weighed, and the filter and its contents are also dried and weighed. It goes without saying that the weight of the residue got by evaporating the filtrate, together with that of the insoluble residue retained by the filter, should be equal to that of the total ash.

3. The determination of the extract.—By this is meant the total amount of substances in the tea which are soluble in hot water. A known weight of the sample is boiled for a considerable time in from fifty to a hundred times its weight of pure distilled water. The whole mass is then filtered. This must be done while it is still hot. The reason of this is that some of the constituents of tea are perfectly soluble only in hot water. Anyone can observe that a hot tea infusion is clear and transparent, and that the same infusion becomes turbid on cooling. The leaves on the filter are repeatedly washed with the pure, boiling, distilled water, and the washings allowed to run into the filtrate. Finally, the whole filtrate, or a known fraction of it may be used if it has been well mixed, is evaporated to dryness over the waterbath. If only a part is evaporated, the whole process can be carried out in a tared platinum dish, and if the whole is made use of, the evaporation should be finished in platinum as soon as the volume of the infusion has been so far reduced that the dish can hold it. Finally, the dry extract is weighed. It is impossible to check the determination of extract by weighing the exhausted leaves in a similar way to that in which the determination of the soluble ash is verified, as it is practically impossible to get the spent leaves into exactly the same condition as regards their content of moisture as the original sample.

The results which all these tests should give with a genuine sample of tea have already been sufficiently indicated in the earlier portions of this article.

The estimation of the total nitrogen in a sample of tea is best made by means of an "ultimate organic analysis," i.e., estimation of the percentages of the elements constituting an organic substance. For comparison with other leaves, the following process, which requires less skill and time, will, however, suffice: A weak infusion, resulting, of course, from a known weight of tea, is distilled with caustic potash and potassium permanganate, and the resulting "albuminoid" or "organic" ammonia is estimated in successive lots of distillate measuring 50 cubic centimeters each, and the amounts obtained are added up. The estimation is done colorimetrically by Nesslerizing, in exactly the same way as is adopted in the examination of a drinking water, by comparison with a very weak standard solution of ammonium chloride.

BRITISH GUIANA CANE SUGAR.

The cane juice for 1897, it is claimed, is the poorest known, and it is stated on good authority that prior to 1896 the juice showed an average of 1.65 pounds sucrose; while for 1897 the average is only 1.30 pounds sucrose per gallon. This very poor juice is evidently due to the excessive rains. Exports for the year amounted to 99,789 tons, while for 1896 they were 105,271 tons. From authentic reports up to date, I am able to give a table showing the reduction in acreage in sugar since 1892.

	Acres in cultivation.
1892	76,101
1893	75,926
1894	70,012
1895	68,333
1896	66,908

The above table shows a continual decrease, though for the year 1897 the reduction is less than for any previous year.

From the same source I find there are only sixty-one estates in the colony cultivated. There are four estates of under 500 acres; twenty-seven estates of 500 acres and under 1,000; seventeen estates of 1,000 acres and under 1,500 acres; nine estates of 1,500 acres and under 2,000 acres; three estates of over 2,000 and under 3,000 acres; one estate of over 3,000 acres (diamond estate).

The planters claim that unless some relief is given by the mother country, the industry cannot survive. One of the prominent market reports of the colony says: "If it were not for the protection, though involuntarily accorded, to our British sugar colonies by the United States in levying a countervailing duty on bounty-fed beet sugar, a protection denied us by the stepmother country, our sugar would not be worth cultivating."—United States Consul at Demerara.

STOCK-TAKING AND FIRES.

Editor GROCER,—I am a regular reader of THE CANADIAN GROCER, although I am not a subscriber. As I am a commercial traveler, with a new post office address every day, it would be impossible for me to receive THE GROCER regularly, so I borrow it from some one of my customers, wherever I happen to be. I think every merchant, from Halifax to Vancouver, must be on your subscription list, as I see the journal everywhere.

I noticed in a recent issue a chat you had with a number of firms regarding the necessity of stock-taking annually, and the several reasons given why it is a good idea to take stock.

All the reasons given were good, but there is still another reason, and it is more important, I think, than any of those yet given.

In these days of improved fire-fighting appliances, losses by fire, as a rule, are only partial losses. Some of the stock is almost certain to be saved, unharmed in any way. The loss, therefore, by fire and water is the difference between the value of the stock in the store immediately previous to the fire and the value of the stock remaining after the fire. The burden (and it is a great burden sometimes) of making out the account against the insurance companies for goods burned and damaged rests entirely on the shoulders of the one insured. The only way absolute proof of loss can be made is by the production of the annual stock list and the books containing the records of the total purchases and sales from the date of the last stock-taking up until the time the fire occurred. Verbal testimony, even if sworn to, as to the value of stock burned, will not be accepted.

Every merchant who insures his stock agrees, either in the application he signs for insurance, or by the acceptance of the policy with its printed conditions, that, in the event of fire, he will produce for inspection by the insurance company's adjuster, the annual stock sheets and all books of record pertaining to the stock insured.

In a recent insurance suit, the case being one where the insured was unable, or would not produce the annual stock sheets and books, the judge ruled "non-compliance with the conditions of the application and policy was fatal to recovery."

Since the John Eaton & Co. and several other recent large fires, there is a disposition on the part of insurance adjusters to be more exacting than ever as regards the production of the annual stock sheets and records of sales and purchases.

A duty every merchant owes to his creditors, his family, and himself is to take stock annually and keep his books properly, so that, in the event of a fire, he will have no difficulty in proving his loss.

The insurance companies are honorable, and do business in an honorable manner. For their own and their customers' protection they are obliged to be particular in adjusting fire losses. It is only the careless fellow who does not manage his business properly, and who terms all insurance companies gangs of thieves, that ever has any trouble proving the amount of his loss after a fire.

SUIT OVER DAMAGED TEA.

A SUIT for damages has been entered by P. C. Larkin & Co., of Toronto, against the Manchester Fire Insurance Co. The suit is an outcome of the recent fire.

The salvage on the tea which Larkin & Co. had in the Carrie building was valued by the appraisers at $900. The appraisers are alleged to have been ready to sign the papers to this effect on a certain Wednesday evening, but the insurance company claimed not to be ready. They were not signed till the following Monday and it was not till the next day P. C. Larkin & Co. were given permission by the insurance people to remove the tea. Between the Wednesday and Tuesday referred to the teas are claimed to have been further damaged by rains, the roof being off the Carrie building. At any rate when they were sold, and that by the insurance company, they only realized $500. The difference between that sum and the $900 is what P. C. Larkin & Co. are trying to recover, alleging negligence on the part of the insurance company.

RECIPROCITY WITH THE U.S.

THERE is evidently a growing desire on at least the part of the business men in the United States for reciprocal trade relations with Canada.

Within the last few months resolutions favoring the idea, and calling upon President McKinley and Congress to promote it, have been passed by various commercial bodies in the Western, Middle, Eastern and New England States, included in which are such important mercantile organizations as the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, and the New York Chamber of Commerce. Among the journals in the United States which have been warm advocates of reciprocity with Canada are such influential ones as The N.Y. Post, N.Y. Journal of Commerce and The Manufacturer, of Philadelphia.

The centre of the agitation is the New England States, and the prime mover in those States is the Boston Chamber of Commerce, which is doing a great deal of missionary work along this line among other commercial bodies in the United States.

That the new England States should be more concerned in securing reciprocity with Canada is explained by the fact that they have great manufacturing industries which would be manifestly benefited by reciprocal trade relations with Canada. Not long since, one of the members of a New England chamber of commerce declared, during the course of a speech, that reciprocity with Canada was of vital importance to the New England States.

This is a remarkable statement coming from a country which has, half a dozen times or more, refused Canada's importunities for reciprocity. But the emphatic resolutions of the various chambers of commerce, urging President McKinley and Congress to negotiate a reciprocal treaty with the Dominion, are scarcely less remarkable.

The preferential tariff on British goods and the general drift of the trade of the Dominion towards Great Britain are undoubtedly the monitors which are causing the business men to realize the importance of Canadian trade.

It has always been somewhat puzzling to Canadians why the United States should so persistently refuse to entertain proposals for reciprocity.

There is no country in the western hemisphere which is nearly as good a purchaser of United States products as Canada, and yet the politicians across the border have so far been able to thwart in its infancy each and every movement for reciprocity. The trade of the United States last year with Canada and other countries in America was as follows:

	Imports.	Exports.
Dominion of Canada ..	$49,373,472	$70,766,316
Bermuda	621,831	854,832
British Honduras.....	226,683	569,589
British West Indies....	12,285,885	7,943,477
British Guiana	4,706,781	2,063,946
Mexico.....	18,511,572	23,421,064
Costa Rica.....
Guatemala
Honduras	8,524,428	7,939,907
Nicaragua
Salvador
Hayti	1,460,220	3,832,388
San Domingo	2,369,424	1,098,635
Cuba	18,407,211	8,259,776
Puerto Rica.....	2,181,024	1,988,888
Argentine Republic ...	10,772,627	6,384,984
Bolivia	.....	7,787
Brazil	69,039,389	12,450.061
Chili	3,792,434	2,578,911
Columbia	4,730,537	3,807,012
Ecuador	566,526	734,868
Peru	722,089	1,108,436
Uruguay.....	3,515,054	1,213,426
Venezuela.....	9,543,572	3,417,522

What the outcome of the present agitation will be remains to be seen. The feeling in Canada toward the United States is much more kindly than it was a few months ago, but there is by no means that desire for reciprocity with the United States that there was even five years ago. We do not mean that there is a very strong opposition to it; but there is a decidedly unconcerned feeling in regard to the matter.

If a fair offer of reciprocity was made the Dominion would, in all probability, be ready to seriously consider it. But it must not be forgotten that the tendency in Canada at the moment is toward closer relations with Great Britain, commercially as well as nationally.

THE CANADIAN GROCER does not point these things out with any idea of discouraging closer trade relations with the United States. It merely desires to point out certain conditions which have to be dealt with in a question of this kind.

COMPLAINT AGAINST REFINERS.

WHOLESALE grocers have a complaint against the sugar refiners. No. 2 granulated is the cause.

In a little over a week the refiners have made reductions in No. 2 granulated aggregating 3-16c. per lb., and this in spite of the fact that the sugar market generally is tending upward.

The motive for what may be termed this unnatural reduction was the desire to keep foreign granulated sugar out of the market.

Against this no one can complain. It is business. But what the wholesalers complain about is that now the domestic No. 2 granulated is below the parity of the imported article, the Canadian refiners have either practically none to sell or they will supply, say, 50 barrels on condition that the wholesaler takes 200 barrels of standard granulated as well.

While this course on the part of the refiners may be business, it is irritating none the less to the wholesalers.

FRENCH SUGAR BOUNTIES.

An error was made in the figures relating to the French sugar bounties in the article which appeared in last week's issue dealing with the preferential duty on West India sugars.

It was stated that the countervailing duties imposed by the United States on French sugars, to offset the bounties paid on French sugars was 42c. per 100 lb. on raws and 47c. on granulated. It should have been 80c. on raws and 92c. on granulated.

THE OUTLOOK FOR CHEESE.

IF present conditions are maintained the season for new cheese will open much better than any person thought it would a month ago, when finest fall makes were a drug on the market at 7¼c.

Within the past fortnight a noticeable improvement has set in, values advancing a full cent, and 15,000 to 18,000 cheese were cleared off the Montreal market at a range of 7½ to 8¼c., the final 10,000 boxes being at the outside figure.

This practically cleans up all the old cheese there is in Canada, aside from a few odd lots at different country points, that do not amount to any great quantity, so that the prospects are in favor of present values being maintained until the new make is on the market.

In fact, while the change in the market may disappoint those traders who were hoping for an unusually low opening on new cheese, and the chances for speculation that this fact would afford them, the surprise has been not that the market improved, but that it did not do so before.

It is undoubted that it has been many years since the consumer in Great Britain got fine Canadian cheese as cheap as he did last winter.

A comparison of the figures ruling in Liverpool during a few seasons makes this clear at a glance :

	1898.	1897.	1896.	1895.
	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.
January.....	42 0	57 0	45 6	50 0
February.....	39 6	57 6	43 6	49 6
March.....	37 0	57 6	42 0	51 0
April.....	43 0	54 6	45 0	51 0

During the present winter and spring, therefore, values have been away below where they were last year at the same time, in fact, for several years, the lowest point in March being 20s. 6d. per cwt. below the figures for March, 1897. It would have been, indeed, surprising had not consumption increased with values at this low level, especially as meat foods of all sorts were high in comparison with cheese. But, while this consumption was going on traders in Great Britain stubbornly held back because they believed there was a large quantity of cheese in Canada unmarketed. The auction sale in Liverpool on March 15 was the first incident to disabuse them of this idea.

This sale realized a much better average price than the bears expected, and since values have exhibited a firmer tendency, which culminated last week in the large sales above reported, at a clean recovery of 1c. per pound

But for this recovery the losses of some Montreal operators would have been much heavier than they were. One firm admitted that the improvement in the market represented a saving to it of at least $6,000, as it enabled it to get out its stock to better advantage.

Even allowing for the change for the better, the experience of traders in fall cheese of the season of 1897 has been a very costly one. At the close of navigation there were in the vicinity of 450,000 cheese held in Montreal. These were chiefly fall goods, and represented an average cost of fully 9c. per lb. There was very litttle selling until the middle of February, as holders hoped against hope that prices would mend, but they did not.

When holders commenced to let go, values had declined to 8c., at which basis quite a lot of cheese was disposed of. As the realizing went on prices sagged under the process until 7¼c. was reached and the holders who recently sold out, very pluckily held on, as a result reaping the benefit of the late advance in prices.

Allowing for everything, however, carrying charges, insurance and shrinkage, the average loss this year on fall cheese was not far from $1 per box so that some $350,000 was dropped as an outcome of last season's deal in fall cheese. The factorymen should bear this mind, for it will have its influence on the market this season, especially as in 1896, also, traders were badly hit on their June-July deal, the losses being fully as great as they were on the fall make last season.

DO YOU SELL WALL PAPER ?

There are a good many general merchants who handle wall paper, and there are a good many who do not who should. M. Staunton & Co., the well-known wall paper manufacturers, of Toronto, are advertising in another column to the effect that every reader of THE CANADIAN GROCER who sells wall paper can, on mentioning this journal, receive, free and post paid, an article that he will find useful in the wall paper branch of his business. Send for one.

THE DIRECTORS OF LIMITED COMPANIES.

JUDGMENT was given a few days ago in a case which is especially interesting to limited liability companies in Ontario.

The case in question was one brought by a lithographing company against the directors of the defunct Burford Canning Co., Limited, to recover $152.30 and interest, the amount of a bill of exchange, in which the word "limited" was not plainly presented after the company's name. The case of the plaintiffs prevailed, and judgment for $160.50 and costs was awarded them.

The Ontario Companies Act is strict in this matter and directors of limited liability companies should be careful to see that the concerns with which they are connected, comply with the law.

Sub-section 1 of section 22 states that "the directors of the company shall be jointly and severally liable upon every written contract or undertaking of the company on the face whereof the unabbreviated word 'limited' is not distinctly written or printed as the last word in the name of the company where it occurs in such contract or undertaking."

CURRANTS DEARER.

The recent weakness in the currant market has turned out to be a temporary affair, as THE CANADIAN GROCER intimated it would.

A cable received in Toronto this week from Patras states that prices have advanced one shilling per cwt., and reiterates what has already been said regarding the shortness of stocks.

A few transactions for importation have taken place during the past week. And, although stocks in Canada are light, the higher values in the primary market are not likely to affect quotations here.

RUSSIAN EGGS IN ENGLAND.

Advices received last week, from Great Britain, report that heavy receipts of Russian eggs are expected during the coming summer.

The production of eggs in the great Northern Empire has increased so rapidly that dealers found it difficult to dispose of the supplies that were offered them from week to week.

If the expectation is realized it should mean low prices for eggs in the British markets, so that Canadian traders and farmers, who look to them as an outlet, should bear the fact in mind.

THE WAR AND SPANISH FRUIT.

THERE is some speculation among grocers and commission men as to the effect of the Spanish-American trouble on the Valencia raisin market. There is a good deal of uncertainty in this respect, and also in relation to other Spanish products.

According to The New York Bulletin the United States treasury department has stated that any stock shipped from Spain not accompanied by an American consular invoice will be liable to confiscation, and, as all the American consuls have left Spain it is considered very doubtful that sellers on the other side would be willing to take the risk of making shipments. It is also intimated that Spanish merchandise, whether shipped direct or via England or continental ports, may soon be refused entry at United States ports. As all the spring direct steamers for Canada have already sailed, action of this sort may tend to curtail the supplies of Spanish fruit on this continent during the coming summer, as there will be no more direct Canadian steamers until fall.

According to advices from London this phase of the situation is receiving some attention there, and Valencia raisins and other Spanish fruit have exhibited a firmer tendency as a result.

The Montreal wholesale houses, while they report that their stock of Valencia raisins is not as large as it was this time last spring, consider they have sufficient to carry them along to the end of the summer, and are of the opinion that there may be some change in the situation by that time.

Should values advance elsewhere, however, to any material extent, they will hardly resist the temptation to take advantage of the fact.

AN INTERESTING TARIFF DECISION

A DECISION in an interesting case was handed down in New York a few days ago by the board on classification of the United States General Appraisers.

A firm in that city had imported 250 bags of refined sugar from Great Britain, but, as the shipment was not accompanied by the certificate showing country of origin, the collector at New York, in addition to levying the ordinary duty, imposed the German countervailing duty of 2.50 marks per 100 kilos.

Against this the importer appealed, but the decision just handed down sustains the ruling of the collector.

This case is particularly interesting to Canadians, as, aside from the countervailing duties, the tariff laws, in regard to invoices showing country of origin, will, after August 1 next, be much the same in the Dominion as in the United States.

THE GREEN FRUIT MARKET.

ONE of the largest wholesale fruit firms of Toronto has received advices stating that, as Havana is to be blockaded, no more pines from that source of supply may be looked for.

The greater portion of our pineapples come via New York or other ports in the United States. Last year, the value of our imports from the United States was $71,124, out of a total of $73,046. Of these, a large proportion, especially of the higher grades, came from Havana.

The season for the shipment of fruit had hardly begun when the blockade of Havana was instituted, and, as, according to The New York Journal of Commerce, the crop was rather late, the shipment so far has been light. April shipments from Havana in 1897, to date, amounted to 19,338 bbls., against 15,647 bbls. this year.

The scarcity of Havana pines may be somewhat overcome by larger exports from the Bahamas in English bottoms, and by increased overland shipment of Florida pines, the crop of which is said to be greater this year than for several years. The cheaper pines are not expected to be much short of the demand.

With apples away up in price, and with the better qualities of pineapples scarce, the sale of bananas, oranges, small fruit, etc., this spring will probably be larger than usual. Bananas especially are likely to be in demand.

The growth of the banana trade in Canada has been interesting. Up to 1888 it was too insignificant to be itemized. That year $64,767 worth were imported. Last year the value of our banana import was $402,121, and this year a much larger total may be expected.

THE WAR AND FLOUR.

SINCE the commencement of hostilities between the United States and Spain, a week ago, the wheat market has manifested a remarkable firmness. Advances of 14c. in red wheat, 17c. in white and goose wheat, and 18c. in No. 1 hard Manitoba wheat are noted.

Whether this will be a permanent rise during the period of hostilities, or whether it is a temporary excitement, is yet to be seen. At any rate, the gain to Ontario holders will not be as great as it would have been at this time during the last few years, as holdings throughout the province are much lighter than usual at the time of the year.

As a result of the advance in wheat, flour has taken a great jump, all grades being 60 to 80c. per barrel dearer than a week ago. Further advances in both wheat and flour are anticipated by most jobbers. It is almost certain that flour, at least, shall advance, if wheat does not decline.

Millers have for some time claimed to be working on too close a margin, and the facts seem to bear out their claim. As compared with this time a year ago, they are working on a very small profit.

A year ago red wheat was quoted at 78c. per bushel, and Ontario patents flour at $4.60. As it takes four and a half bushels of wheat to make a barrel of flour, the cost of the wheat in a barrel of flour would be $3.51, or 76.2 per cent., thus leaving $1.09 per bbl., or 23.8 per cent. for manufacturing, etc. This week, red wheat is quoted at $1.05 and Ontario patents flour at $5.50. The wheat in a barrel of flour now would cost $4.72½, or 85.9 per cent., thus leaving only 72½c., or 14.1 per cent. for manufacturing etc.

Of course, it has to be taken into consideration that much of the flour now sold is made of wheat bought some time ago, at a lower market, but the point remains, that if wheat remains at a stationary point for any considerable time, an advance in flour may be reasonably expected.

MOLASSES ADVANCED.

The Montreal Wholesale Grocery Guild, at a meeting held on Wednesday, advanced the price on Barbadoes molasses 1c.

The price is now 25c. for car lots and 26c. for puncheons.

The rise in prices at primary points is the cause of this action, and even at this level it will cost more to lay down new crop molasses than the jobbers are asking.

MEETINGS OF BOARDS OF TRADE.

WOODSTOCK, ONT.

THE annual meeting of the Woodstock Board of Trade was held on Thursday evening last week, a fair number being present. The chair was occupied by the president, John White.

The annual report showed the board to be in a satisfactory condition. The town of Woodstock has had special reasons for congratulations in the fact that its industrial enterprises are in as flourishing a condition as during any time in its history. All the manufacturing establishments are apparently solid and prosperous. The advisability of incorporating the town of Woodstock as a city has been discussed, and the hope was expressed in the report that this matter should receive further consideration during the coming year.

In moving the adoption of the report, the president delivered the annual address. He dwelt on the value of the board of trade to Woodstock, showing that since the Paterson biscuit works were induced to go there the popnlation of the town had almost doubled. The board of trade is a valuable adjunct to the council, and in their endeavors to secure new industries for the town should receive every encouragement from the council.

Addresses were also delivered by H. Powell, vice-president; A. Pattullo, D. W. Karn, R. T. Crawford and G. O'Grady, all favoring more enterprise on the part of the council in securing new industries.

The following officers were then elected unanimously: President, H. Powell; vice-president, G. de C. O'Grady; secretary, J. G. Wallace; council, R. T. Crawford, J. Y. Ormsby, A. J. McIntosh, John White, D. W. Karn, O. G. Anderson, Lewis Suiter, R. Whitelaw, E. W. Nesbitt, A. Pattullo, Dr. Mearns and John A. Bain.

Messrs. Bean and Woodroofe were placed on the board of arbitrators instead of Messrs. Hunter and Scarffe, and E. W. Waud and Dr. Rice were appointed auditors.

Five new members were proposed and received.

A communication was received from the Canadian motor syndicate wanting to know what inducements the town could offer for it to locate here. It was decided to ask for further information.

WOODSTOCK, N.B.

Last week the board of trade in Woodstock, N.B., held its annual meeting, the president, Williamson Fisher occupying the chair.

In the annual report reference was made to the decline of the lumbering industry, which industry had much to do with the building up of that town. On the other hand, the starting of the woolen mills, the wrapper factory and the canning factory, have done much to keep the town in a satisfactory condition. But more industries are wanted, and an effort should be made to secure the erection of either a pulp mill or a boot and shoe factory.

After the adoption of the report, the following officers were elected: President, George E. Balmain; vice-president, Alexander Henderson; sec.-treasurer, T. C. L. Ketchum; council, Williamson Fisher, James Carr, James Watts, John Graham, J. N. W. Winslow, J. T. Garden, H. Paxton Baird, J. T. A. Dibblee, Chas. Appleby, William Dibblee, A. E. Jones, George L. Holdyke and David Hipwell.

A resolution was then passed memorializing the Dominion Government to appoint a commission with a view of regulating freight rates on the C.P.R., according to mileage.

The secretary was instructed to open up correspondence with parties in Great Britain to find out if business in exporting maple to that country could be opened up.

SOUTH KOOTENAY.

At the annual meeting of the South Kootenay Board of Trade, it was decided to send a representative to the Dominion Government, asking for an import duty on lead and lead products.

The following officers were elected: President, D. R. Robertson; vice-president, James Lawrence; secretary-treasurer, J. A. Turner; council, Messrs. Croasdale, Thomson, Evans, Irvine, Houston, Fletcher, Proctor, Des Brisey, Holt Grant, Gibson and Kydd.

A CHAT WITH A MARKDALE MERCHANT.

MR. W. J. MACFARLANE, of Markdale, was in Toronto this week, and THE CANADIAN GROCER had the pleasure of a few minutes' chat with him.

Mr. Macfarlane is not only one of Markdale's leading business men, but he is the pioneer business man of the town. When he went there, thirty-five years ago, Markdale had neither railway nor store. In fact, there was only one building there, and that was a log structure. "Now," to use Mr. Macfarlane's own words, "Markdale is one of the best business towns of its size in Canada." Its business structures are of brick, its streets are well paved and lit by electricity.

Mr. Macfarlane, besides conducting a large general store, in which nearly a dozen clerks are employed, is also an extensive grain buyer, and has been ever since he settled there.

"In the early days before we had the railways," he said, "we had to team all our grain to Collingwood, 36 miles away."

The advancing market in grain is quite agreeable to Mr. Macfarlane, who is the happy holder of about 70,000 bushels, principally coarse grains such as peas and oats.

"Our part of the country," he explained, "does not raise much wheat. It is principally coarse grains we now raise. We did at one time grow a great deal of barley and wheat, but the loss of the United States market put a stop to barley producing. We are now, however, going a little more into wheat than we did during the last few years."

"How is your part of the country for live stock?"

"Good. We raise a good many cattle and hogs. O, yes," concluded Mr. Macfarlane, "ours is a good part of the country for nearly everything."

Mr. Macfarlane is gradually turning his business into a cash one, and is much pleased with the results.

D. Gunn, Bros. & Co. report that there has been a great deal more creamery butter made this spring than formerly. The quality has been very satisfactory.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, April 28, 1898.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS is gradually getting into a more satisfactory condition. The demand for goods is improving, and prices, with few exceptions, are tending higher. Sugar is the feature of the market, yellows having been marked up 1-16c. per lb. on Monday and granulated a like figure on Thursday. The demand for sugar is, on the whole, good. Business is improving in molasses. Outside of corn, canned vegetables are still showing some weakness, particularly tomatoes. Coffees of Brazilian growth are still easy, although locally there is a good business doing at unchanged prices. Rice is scarce and dearer, and tapioca rules firm. Currants are 1s. per cwt. dearer in Patras, and Valencia raisins are firm and scarce. There is a steady demand for California evaporated fruits.

CANNED GOODS.

While $1.15 to $1.20 represents the ordinary quotations on canned tomatoes, yet lower prices are occasionally being accepted. With stocks of tomatoes undoubtedly light, and the time when new goods can come upon the market far distant, there appears to be no sound reason for lower prices. Speculative holders are at the bottom of the matter. There have been some offers of tomatoes held in Hamilton submitted to Toronto wholesalers at $1.10 f.o.b. point of shipment. Corn is steadily held. There is a fair demand for canned salmon, but fruits are not yet receiving much attention.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

The wholesale houses are this week experiencing an increased demand for molasses, and the market rules firm. Syrups are quiet and steady.

SUGAR.

There is a decidedly stronger feeling in regard to sugar this week. The outside markets are higher, and both yellows and granulated are quoted 1-16c. higher this week in the home market. The former was advanced on Monday and the latter on Thursday morning. Standard granulated is now quoted by the wholesalers at 4¾c. in ordinary lots and yellows at 3⅞c. upward. Granulated is ⅛c. per lb. dearer in New York and raw cane sugars are 1-16c. per lb. dearer there. Since Wednesday and up to the time of writing beet root sugars have advanced 4½d. in London and cane 3d. per cwt.

NUTS.

Nuts of all descriptions are quiet and devoid of special feature.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

The rice market continues to gather in strength. Locally, the price of imported Japan is quoted higher at 6 to 6½c. per lb., and all grades of rice are scarce. "B" grade of domestic milled rice is practically unobtainable at the moment. Tapioca is still firmly held, and to-day's local wholesale prices are lower than freshly imported stock could be laid down at.

COFFEE.

The market for Brazilian coffees has ruled weak up to within the last day or two, since when a steadier tone has characterized it. The steadier feeling had its origin in the primary markets. Locally, there is a good demand for Rico coffees at unchanged prices.

SPICES.

The spice market continues to rule steady with ginger and cassia firm. Locally, the market is quiet.

TEAS.

Another lot of Japan teas was shipped to the United States market this week. Locally, the tea trade continues to steadily improve, both representatives of shipping houses and wholesalers reporting a rather better business. At the same time, however, there is yet no great stir.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS—The feature in this market is an advance of 1s. per cwt. in prices at Patras. This is according to a cable advice received in Toronto this week. There have been a few transaction for importations during the week. Stocks are not heavy on the spot, and the demand for shipment out of town is good.

VALENCIA RAISINS—Selected raisins are scarce and wanted on spot. During the past week or two enquiries have been numerous and there have been a good many sales. Prices are unchanged, although a firmer feeling obtains.

CALIFORNIA RAISINS—In consequence of the scarcity of Valencia raisins a little more attention is being paid to 3 and 4-crown raisins of California growth.

PRUNES—California prunes, in the smaller sizes, are scarce in the outside markets. Locally, the demand is steady for California prunes, although the volume of business is not large.

FIGS—Advices from Turkey state that the coming crop is likely to be small. This appears to have imparted a firmer tone to the outside markets.

CALIFORNIA EVAPORATED FRUITS—The market is quiet for apricots and peaches, with prices steady.

GREEN FRUITS.

The rainy and cold weather last week kept the demand for fruits rather dull, but this week there has been a brisk movement in lemons, oranges, and bananas. Tomatoes and strawberries are now arriving in large quantities, and the demand is picking up considerably. Pineapples are moving freely. Owing to the war, very small quantities of pineapples are expected on the market here this season.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER — Dairy butter, especially large rolls, is arriving in liberal quantities, the receipts, in fact, being rather in excess of the demand, which is active. Both large rolls and pound prints have declined 2c. per lb. A large quantity of creamery butter has been made this spring, nearly all the factories in Western Ontario having supplied themselves with creamery appurtenances, and have made butter instead of cheese. A decided increase in the exportation of butter to Great Britain is looked for this year. A decline of 1c. for tubs, and 2c. for pounds is noted this week.

CHEESE — The tone of the market is decidedly firm. Recent cables from Great Britain state that the stocks held there are much lighter than had been thought, and that the demand is active. The local demand is brisk, with an advance of ¼ to ½c. per lb. noted, the selling price now being 8½ to 8¾c. per lb.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS — Receipts are moderate, and, as the demand has been active, an advance of ½ to 1c, per dozen is noted, the prevailing price this week being 10c., though some houses ask ½c. more.

POTATOES — The market has steadied somewhat, and an advance of 3 to 5c. per bag in carload lots is noted, the price quoted this week being 53 to 55c per bag. Lots on the market are selling freely at 60 to 65c. per bag.

DRIED APPLES — The market is dull, with prices about 3½ to 4½c. for choice lots. Some good stock is offered as low as 2½ to 3c. per lb.

EVAPORATED APPLES — The demand is moderate, and stocks light. Prices remain steady at 9½ to 10c.

HONEY — Business is quiet, with prices steady and unchanged.

MAPLE SYRUP—Trade has been fair, with prices firm and unaltered.

VEGETABLES—The demand for rhubarb, lettuce and radishes continues good. Asparagus, spinach and green peas are quoted this week. Rhubarb has declined 10 to 15c., radishes 10c., onions 5c. and cucumbers 25c. We quote: Rhubarb, 40 to 60c. per per doz. bunches; onions, 5c. doz. bunches; lettuce, 20 to 40c. doz. bunches; radishes, 40 to 60c. doz. bunches; cabbage, 40 to 60c. doz.; red cabbage, 75c. to $1 per doz.; parsley, 15 to 20c. doz. bunches; cucumbers, $1.50 to $1.75 per doz.; watercress, 20c. per doz. bunches; gardencress, 20 to 30c. per doz. bunches; spinach, $1 to $1.25 per bunch; asparagus, $1.25 per doz.; green peas, $1.25 per bush.

PROVISIONS.

A good, steady trade is reported in all kinds of smoked meats. Barrel pork is moving well, lard is selling freely, and the demand for long clear bacon is active. Prices throughout are firm and unchanged.

GRAIN, FLOUR, BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—There has been a jump of 14c. in red winter wheat and 17c. in both white winter and and goose wheat. Quotations on cars outside are as follows: Wheat, red winter, $1.04 to $1.05; white winter, $1.01 to $1.03; goose, 93 to 94c. The offerings during the past week on the street market have been moderate, with prices as follows: White wheat, 99 to $1.03; red wheat, $1.03 to $1.03½; goose wheat, 96 to 98c.; barley, 38 to 39c.; oats, 37 to 38c.; rye, 51½c.; peas, 62 to 63½c. No. 1 hard Manitoba wheat has advanced 18c., now being quoted at $1.28, Sarnia freight.

FLOUR—In sympathy with the advance in wheat, a rise of 60 to 80c. per bbl. is noted in all grades. We quote: Manitoba patents, $5.90 to $6; Manitoba strong bakers', $5.50 to $5.60; Ontario patents, $4.25 to $5.50; straight roller, $4.80 to $4.90, Toronto freights.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Business is moderate. Standard oatmeal and rolled oats have advanced 21c.; rolled wheat, 25c.; split peas, 25c.; and pot barley, 50c. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $4 to $4.10 in bags and $4.00 in bbls.; rolled wheat, $3.00 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $2.50; split peas, $3.75; pot barley, $3.75.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Salmon trout and whitefish are coming forward freely and are in good demand. Salt fish are in poor demand. We quote: Oysters, $1.25 per gal.; fresh salmon trout, 7c.; fresh whitefish, 7c.; steak trout, 7c.; fresh steak cod, 6 to 6½c. per lb.; pickerel, 6c. per lb.; fresh pike, 5½c. per lb.; fresh perch, 5½c. per lb.; fresh herring, 3½c. per lb.; Labrador herring, $5.50 per bbl. and $3 per half-bbl.; split herring, $5 per bbl. and $2.75 to $3 per half-bbl.; boneless codfish, 3½ to 5c. per lb; pure cod, 6½ to 6¾c. per lb.; fresh water herring (heads off), $2.50 per keg; ciscoes, $1.25 to $1.30; haddies, 5½ to 6c. per lb.; fresh haddock, 5c. per lb.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

HIDES—There is no change, the market continuing steady at last week's figures. We quote: No. 1, 7½c.; No. 2, 6½c.; No. 3, 5½c.; cured, 8 to 8½c.

CALFSKINS—The market is weak with prices unaltered. We quote: No. 1 veal, 8 lbs. and up, 9c. per lb.; No. 2, 7c.; Dekins, from 30 to 35c.; culls, 15 to 20c.

SHEEPSKINS—Trade is quiet. We quote at $1.15 to $1.35.

WOOL—There is a free offering of unwashed at 11c. per lb.

SEEDS.

The trade in timothy and clover seed has dwindled down to jobbing trade and prices are unchanged. Red clover is quoted at

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, April 28, 1898.

GROCERIES.

TRADE in groceries has moved along quietly during the week, no particular department exhibiting any activity in the matter of new business, though there has been some rush in forwarding orders that were held back for the opening of water navigation. Aside from an advance in yellow sugar of 1-16c., there has been no important alteration in staple lines, except in dried and evaporated apples, which are higher, as stocks here are almost exhausted. Some jobbers are also asking an advance for Barbadoes molasses, but the guild price has not been changed as yet. Canned goods are generally held steady, and the same can be said of all lines of dried fruits. United States buyers have again been purchasers in the local tea market, but it has no effect on the home demand. Green fruit is quiet, as a rule, pending the coming auction sales, while flour has made a sharp advance.

SUGAR.

Continued strength in the raw article abroad and the recent sharp advance in New York in all grades of refined has had its influence on the local sugar market. On Monday the sentiment materialized in an advance in yellows at the refineries of 1-16c. per lb., these grades now being firmly held at 3 5/8 to 4 1-16c., while granulated is unchanged, but firm in tone at 4 3/8c. The demand from jobbers, however, continues conservative, and retailers also are only operating in a hand-to-mouth way. In New York, raw is held higher, fair refining at 3 11-16c. and centrifugal, 96 test, 4 3-16c., while refined is strong. On Monday, beet in London advanced 3/4d. and was active at the rise, April being quoted at 9s. 5 1/4d., and May, 9s. 5 1/4d. Cane was firm, with a rising tendency, but prices were unchanged, Java, 11s. 6d., and fair refining, 10s.

SYRUPS.

There has been no alteration in this market. Stocks are light, but demand is very limited.

MOLASSES.

In consequence of the stronger advices from Barbadoes and the impossibility of obtaining firm offers from there, prices on spot have an unsettled tendency and there is a disposition to ask more money. In fact, though the guild price for the district is still 25c. for puncheons, jobbers here have refused to accept that price, demanding an advance of 1c. per gallon not only for single puncheons, but for car lots also, their price for both being 26c. Altogether, as noted specially elsewhere, the molasses market appears to be in a very strong position at the moment.

CANNED GOODS.

Business in canned goods has been very quiet, but it is generally admitted that if demand did spring up jobbers here are not in a very good position to meet it, for their stocks are pretty low. This is especially the case in staple lines of vegetables, notably tomatoes, and none are now obtainable here under $1.20. Corn also is firm, and the same applies to peas. There has been no news received here yet in regard to B.C. salmon.

TEAS.

The tea market has been quiet, the chief feature of the week being the shipment of some 1,300 packages of tea to the United States. These comprised ping sueys at a range of 14 to 17c., blacks at 12 to 16c., and 100 packages or so of Japans at 16c. Locally, jobbers continue indifferent, the only sale from first hands in this connection being some 300 blacks at a range of 12 to 14c. to a Quebec wholesale house.

SPICES.

There is no change in the local market, but advices from abroad continue strong on all sorts. Demand here from second hands is of a limited kind.

COFFEE.

The coffee market has been unsettled, and while New York has exhibited considerable strength during the past few days there has been no response on spot, prices ruling unchanged.

RICE.

This staple maintains its firm disposition, while demand has been of a fairly brisk character. Sales of Japan at the mills are noted at $5.25 to $5.50, and standard B, $4 to $4.25.

DRIED FRUIT.

There are some shipments of currants on the first direct steamers for western houses, but Montreal jobbers appear to have plenty of stock to carry them along as they do not operate at all in this connection. Values remain steady.

With the outbreak of hostilities between Spain and the United States, jobbers here have better expectations in regard to their stocks of Valencia raisins. None of them are carrying heavy lines, but they have sufficient to carry them along.

California raisins are steady. Aside from what little the jobbers may have, there is no 3-crown fruit offering here. In other goods prices are firm.

California prunes are scarce, in fact almost exhausted, and commission men do not expect any further offers from the Coast until next season's crop. French and Australian prunes are steady, and supplies in jobbers' hands here are light.

Figs and dates rule steady.

Evaporated apricots continue very strong on the Coast at recent advances, and it is not unlikely that prices may go still higher in view of the light stocks. Evaporated peaches are easy, with, however, very light supplies here to draw from. Pears also are in small supply.

GREEN FRUIT.

The main feature of the week in the green fruit market was the arrival of the ss. Matthews, on Monday, with 26,500 boxes Messina, 1,700 Palermo and 600 Sorrento lemons, and 4,000 Messina, 280 Palermo and 3,500 packages Sorrento oranges. These will be auctioned on Tuesday next, and, until this is done, the orange and lemon market is a purely nominal one. The ss. Fremona is also expected to arrive in port with another large cargo towards the end of this week. Another point in the market is the large receipts of bananas, but prices hold steady at $1.50 to $1.75 for No. 1, and 50c. to $1 for No. 2. Pineapples are firm at 8 to 15c. each.

APPLES.

The market is unchanged at $3 to $5 per bbl., as to grade.

DRIED APPLES.

There has been a firmer feeling in both dried and evaporated apples, and receivers are asking a material advance for straight lots. For round lots of dried 4c. has been refused, and 9c. has been bid for evaporated, without resulting in a purchase. This is an advance of 2 to 2½c. Stocks of both descriptions in retailers' and jobbers' hands are very light.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—A steadier feeling has ruled in the egg market during the week, and the declining tendency of the past three weeks appears to be checked for the time being. A fair range to-day is 9 to 9½c.

BEANS—There was no change in beans, sales being slow at 70 to 75c. for primes, and at 85 to 90c. for choice hand-picked per bushel.

HONEY—The market for honey was dull, and prices show no change. We quote: White clover comb, 11 to 12c.; dark, 8 to 10c.; white strained, 6 to 7c., and dark, 4 to 5c.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—A fair trade was done in maple products, and values are unchanged. Syrup in wood is selling at 4¾ to 5c. per lb., and in tins at 45 to 50c., as to size. Sugar moves freely at 6 to 6¼c. per lb.

PROVISIONS.

With the advance both in Liverpool and leading centres in the States provisions have a steadier tendency. We quote as follows: Canadian pork, $15.50 to $16 per barrel; pure Canadian lard, in pails, at 8¼ to 8½c., and compound refined at 5½ to 5¾c. per lb.; hams, 11½ to 12c.; bacon, 12c. per lb.

FLOUR, GRAIN, ETC.

The boom in cereals south of the line and the advance at interior points in Canada has naturally been reflected by a firmer feeling in the grain market on spot, and it is expected that the war will drive a lot of trade to this port. For instance, the insurance rate now asked from United States ports is 1½ per cent. on total loss, whereas it is only ¼ per cent. from here. The effect of this is obvious as the former rate is almost prohibitory. Trade in Manitoba wheat was active, and sales of some round lots of No. 1 hard were made at prices ranging from $1.12 to $1.20, a 10,000 bushel lot being placed at the latter figure, and holders at the close were asking $1.23 to $1.25 afloat Fort William, May, which shows an advance of 11 to 13c. per bushel, since Saturday. Ontario red wheat was firmly held at $1 per bushel, and, in fact, it was stated that millers were prepared to pay almost any figure to secure the stock. There was a brisk demand for oats, and some large lines changed hands at 37c. afloat, May, and at 36½c. store. Peas sold at 68½c. afloat, May, and at 68c. store. We quote: No. 2 white oats, 34½c., ex store; 37c. afloat, May delivery; peas, 68c. ex store; buckwheat, 52 to 53c. ex store.

There has been a sharp advance in flour, both for Manitoba and Ontario brands, the latter being 40 to 45c. up, and the former 35c. There has been considerable enquiry from foreign buyers for Manitoba grades, but, owing to the scarcity of ocean freight for May and June shipment, millers cannot make further sales. The local demand is active, and orders from the Lower Provinces and country generally came forward freely at the advance. A sale of 10,000 bags of straight roller was made at $2.35. Extras sold at $2.20 to $2.25. We quote as follows: Winter wheat patents, $5.25; straight rollers, $4.85 to $5; bags, $2.35 to $2.40; Manitoba patents, $5.90; and strong bakers', $5.50.

There was no change in feed, the market being quiet and steady. We quote as follows: Ontario winter wheat bran, $13.50 to $14.50; shorts, $16 per ton in bulk; Manitoba bran, $14, and shorts, $16 per ton, including bags.

The demand for meal was slow, owing to the fact that buyers have ample supplies on hand. Prices for rolled oats are firm at $3.90 per bbl. and $1.90 per bag.

A fairly active business was done in hay, and prices are maintained at $10.50 to $11 for No. 1, and at $8 to $9 for No. 2 per ton, in car lots.

Cheese furnished no change, and, until new goods are on the market, the position is a waiting one. If the recent improvement is maintained, however, and there is nothing in the tenor of advices to indicate the contrary, the spring opening on new season's make will be much better than was expected three or four weeks ago, when the product was in the "doldrums" around 7c. In fact, reports from the country state that it has already had the effect of inducing factories that had intended to run on butter-making well on into May to turn their attention to cheese.

The better feeling noted in butter yesterday is maintained, and there were purchases late yesterday and this morning, on account of exporters, at 16 to 16½c., and the market, as a whole, rules steady at 16 to 17c. The change in the cheese market, if it continues, is certain to have an influence on butter, as it will invariably tend to curtail the make of the latter.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Refiners advanced the price of yellow sugar 1-16c. per lb. on Monday, and the market is firm.

morning of this week. Her cargo will be put up at auction next Tuesday.

Over 1,200 packages of ping sueys black and Japan teas were taken out of first hands here this week by United States buyers.

The price of flour is now 35c. higher on Manitoba grades, and 40 to 45c. on Ontario than it was eight days ago, and is pointing still higher.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,
ST. JOHN, N.B., April 25, 1898.

THE week has shown but a fair business. There are those who fear a quiet summer, chiefly because of the dull lumber market both in England and the United States. In St. John, and all through New Brunswick, our people depend very much on this line of business. There are, in our city, a large number of lumber mills owned by Americans, sawing American lumber cut on the upper St. John, which is admitted free into the United States. This, as a rule, is quite a steady business, but this spring there is little demand, and it is feared the war will not improve matters. Just how the war will effect us is not known, but at present little advantage is to be seen. Owners of deep water vessels feel good, as freights rule high. Coasters find it dull. Our people desire that success should lie with the Americans, at least in the end.

OIL—There is quite a large business in both paint and lubricating oil, but in burning oil it is rather quiet. Cod oil is scarce and high.

SALT—Liverpool coarse continues to grow in value with the light demand for lumber for the English market and the advance in ocean freight rates. There is, however, a fair stock still here, and some to arrive. The demand is not at the present such as to cause our dealers to make much change in their prices. There is at this season a rather improved demand for factory-filled. In Canadian, the market is better supplied than last week. There is a good movement, particularly in cheese and butter salt. We quote: Liverpool coarse, 45 to 48c.; English factory-filled, 90c. to $1; Canadian fine, $1 per bag; cheese and butter salt, bulk, $2.50 to $2.60 per bbl.; 5-lb. bags, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.85 to $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c. each; 10-lb. wood boxes, 12c. each; cartons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; English bottled salt, $1.25 to $1.30.

CANNED GOODS—There is a somewhat further advance in canned meats, though there is little change as yet in local markets. Vegetables, while still ruling high, have shown little change for some time. Oysters, which have a steady sale at this season, are firmer; some packers have already advanced prices. Domestic sardines, particularly oils, are scarce; local demand is light. Lobsters hold their high figures. Salmon keeps low and quite plentiful. In fruits there is a steady sale; peaches rule quite low and have the best demand, Canadians being chiefly sold.

GREEN FRUIT—Business is good. In Valencia oranges, prices rule higher. Stock now arriving has to be unpacked. Californias, principally navels, are now preferred by the best trade. Bloods are scarce. Bananas are taking the place of oranges, and now move more freely. Apples show little business for best fruit; prices are high. A few pineapples are selling. Strawberries have a fair sale, and the quality is good; price shows little change. Rhubarb is high and very little was received this week. A few cucumbers are seen. In lemons, the low prices still rule.

DRIED FRUIT—There is but limited business. Evaporated apricots show fair business; prices are higher and good stock is getting scarce. Prunes of California growth move more slowly, and dealers sell largely the 25c. box. Raisins are a fair stock here; while there is no change in price market is easy. Some good California stock is held here; other grades are quiet. Currants move slowly. In seeded raisins there is a fair sale. Dates are quiet; of late years demand seems to grow less. Figs and peels are also light sale; prices keep high. Onions, Canadian, are easy in price and are being crated in most cases. Bermudas have a good demand, but stock is light. Egyptian have the chief sale.

SUGAR—There has been less interest in this line than in other staples during the week, but toward the close there has been a firmer feeling. Dealers report a good steady sale. Stocks of yellow keep light. In Paris lump our market does not use a large quantity, while in powdered this is a quiet season.

MOLASSES—This is a line of increasing interest. One dealer at present holds about the whole stock of Porto Rico. This grade has increasing demand in this market; prices are firmer and tend higher. Barbadoes, which this year is of good quality, is also looking upward. The effect of the war on this line is likely to mean higher figures.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Butter is moving downward from its somewhat high perch. About enough new is coming in to meet all demands, and quality is quite good. Eggs are dull; receipts tend to exceed demand, and prices are low and market weak. Cheese is still dull. It is said the English market is better. It is to be hoped it is. It is too bad to have prices so low at this season.

FISH—Everything is quiet. Gaspereaux are still scarce; not enough to fill the demand for bait. Quite a few are smoked. There is quite a demand for them this way; a few are kippered. If the run continues short alewives will rule higher. Owing to the low prices that have ruled there is upward of one-quarter last year's pack still in this market, or about 3,000 barrels. Dry fish are rather lower; pickled dull. Business is somewhat quiet. Smoked herring command full figures, and stocks are light. Halibut are in light supply, and hold their price. We quote: Large cod, $3.25 to $3.40; medium, $3 to $3.20; pollock, $1.80 to $1.90; Grand Manan pickled herring, $1.85 to $1.95 per half-bbl.; smoked herring, 8 to 9c. per box; Canso, pickled, $5 per bbl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4½c.; cod, 6 to 7c.; finnan haddies, 4 to 4½c.; fresh Gaspereaux, 60c. per 100; fresh halibut, 8 to 9c. per lb.

PROVISIONS — The tendency to higher prices in barreled goods fails to make much change in demand, and business is still quiet. Hams and bacon hold their price, and move freely. This business is each year more largely done by the packer direct to the retail trade. The wholesale grocer, where a few years a go he would buy a car, now thinks 25 bbls. a big order. In lard, the price is lower, though packers show quite a range.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL — This has been the centre of interest during the week. Dealers have been ready buyers, where they could buy at a fair price. Some millers are now out of the market, having withdrawn quotations till matters are more settled. There are fair stocks here and to arrive. Dealers stand to make more on Manitoba than on Ontario grades, as they were quoted lower respectively, and dealers were given every chance to buy before prices were advanced. In Ontario, buyers had to follow the market up. Oatmeal is higher, and cornmeal is firmer. Beans are rather higher. Buyers are slow to advance offers, but are open to buy at the prices of a few days ago. In barley and peas the high prices hold; the latter are quite scarce. Seeds have now a large sale. In grass seeds prices are rather higher, and clover tends upward. In fact, the market is a very firm one. Feed did not advance with flour; there was no need — it was high and scarce before. Market is firm. We quote as follows: Manitoba flour, $6 to $6.10; best Ontario, $5.25 to $5.50; medium, $4.85 to $5; oatmeal, $4.15 to $4.25; cornmeal, $2.10; middlings, $20 to $22; bran, $18 to $19; oats, 38 to 42c.; hand-picked beans, $1.10; prime, 95c. to $1; yellow eye beans, $1.75; split peas, $3.80 to $3.90; round, $3.25 to $3.40; pot barley, $3.80 to $3.90; hay, $9 to $9.50; timothy seed, American, $1.70 to $2.15; do., Canadian, $2 to $2.40; mammoth clover, 6 to 7c.; alsike, 7¾ to 8½c.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Baird & Peters are landing a cargo of Porto Rico molasses.

Bowman & Angevine have been appointed agents for Chocolat-Menier for New Brunswick.

C. & E. Macmichael have received a shipment of Maconochie's pickles, including some of the lever top.

Geo. S. DeForest & Sons received this week 50 boxes "Silver Crown" seeded California muscatel raisins.

Mayor Robertson sailed, by the ss. Lake Superior, for England this week. He goes in the interest of St. John.

James T. Logan, soap manufacturer, has effected a compromise with his creditors at 10c. on the dollar. Liabilities about $16,000, assets about $3,500.

Joseph Finley landed a car of California raisins this week, 3 and 4-crown. They are "Star" and "Crescent" and "Prairie Rose" brands.

A steamer of the Hamburg-American Packet Line is now on the way to Halifax with 1,017 Galician immigrants, the largest number to arrive there by one steamer for years.

The C.P.R. is about to build a large elevator here, with a capacity of about one million bushels. This is found necessary on account of the increase in winter port business. It means an outlay of upwards of $200,000.

The steamers are now not only running up the river to Fredericton, but to Woodstock, as freight rates by rail to points above Fredericton are very high. The running of the steamers is much appreciated. They are only able to run while water keeps high.

Barker Bros., who are well known through this Province, opened a large retail store in our city this week. It is known as "The White Store." Some of the prices quoted are as follows: Canned corn, 5c.; peas, 7c.; tomatoes, 9½c.; standard granulated sugar, 22 lbs. for a dollar.

The Dyson, Gibson Co., Limited, Winnipeg, intend erecting immediately, in that city, vinegar works which shall be second to none on the continent.

TRADE IN OTHER COUNTRIES THAN OUR OWN.

OWING to the limited supply on the way and small spot stocks together with the prospect that a war duty may be imposed, the market for tapioca is firmer and tending upward.

It is reported that about 50 per cent. of the portable pack of tomatoes the coming season in Indiana has already been sold, chiefly to Chicago jobbing houses. The prices paid were, it is understood, 70 to 72½c. per dozen for standards. The American Grocer says it is the purpose of the Indiana packers to have an association label for use on high grade goods, and also to sell direct and do away with brokers. These matters, however, are yet to be adjusted at a future meeting.

California Prunes.

In its issue of April 16, The California Fruit Grower says of prunes: "There is a good local demand for all sizes, at unchanged prices. The most attention at present is given to 90's and 100's size. A few enquiries are at hand from Europe, for assorted car lots. A Bordeaux house asks for cable on a car, half 50-60's, half 70-80's, in 50-lb. boxes, c.i.f., regular terms. The eastern demand is light and prices are about as heretofore. Shipments overland from San Jose, for week ending April 9, were 298,810 lb., the smallest quantity since the season began. The total overland movement for the season is 54,357,142 lb. The outlook for the growing crop continues favorable, and, with rain, now looked for, the harvest will be abundant. Our latest mail advices from France state that the French prune crop will be at least a month later than last season, as the trees were not in blossom on March 25."

Pineapple Outlook.

Shipments of pineapples have begun from the Florida Keys. The crop, which has matured earlier than usual, promises to be of fine quality. Several shipments are now on the way to New York. If there are no further shipments from Havana, as has been intimated, because of war with Spain, prominent handlers of pines here say there will be no scarcity, as the crops of Florida and the Bahamas promise to be large.

Canned Salmon Situation.

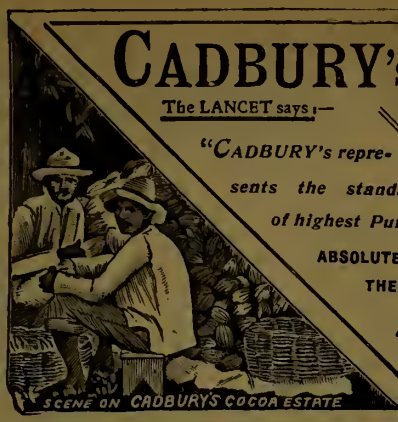
In a recent interview Mr. J. O. Hauthorn, president of the Columbia River Canneries Co., is reported as saying: "From recent advices I have received from the leading brokers in the English market the last year's output of canned salmon from Fraser river, and the Alaska pack, that were floated in 1897, have all been sold, and the foreign market for canned goods in general is in a very healthy condition, especially the salmon market. I think the domestic market, or the United States market, will readily take all of the choicest packing from the Columbia river at last year's opening prices, which were on the basis of $1.05 for talls, $1.20 for flats, 5c. per dozen extra for key goods. I am basing these ideas principally on what our brokers, Delafield, McGovern & Co., of New York, have said, as well as the opinion of Mr. J. K. Armsby, of the J. K. Armsby Co., of Chicago, with whom I recently conversed on the subject during Mr. Armsby's visit to the Pacific Coast. The above-named firms are the largest handlers of salmon in the United States. There is nothing to indicate at present that any higher prices can be obtained than those above mentioned. The prospects are that raw fish will be about what they were last season. The demand for the cheaper grades of fish packed along the coast and on the Columbia river is being somewhat interfered with by the immense output of cheaper grades of fish that are being packed on Puget Sound, and the indications are for the coming season that less effort on the part of the Columbia river packers will be made to pack such grades of fish, which will really be a benefit to the business."

Provisions and War.

The unexpected has happened. The trade has expected that war rumors would have more influence on hog products than on grains. The reverse has happened, for provisions have not been affected to the extent that grain has. It is safe to say that provisions will advance in price. Provision prices are not high. If war does come it will undoubtedly be a naval war, in which event there would be an unusually heavy demand for cured meats for the navy. If an army should be sent to Cuba, and it is generally expected that the President will send one to the island to forcibly intervene, there would also be an unusually heavy demand to keep it fed. Therefore the tendency should be, and indeed is, towards higher prices.—National Provisioner.

Canned Salmon in London.

The improvement in the demand, although interrupted by the holidays, has been resumed during the latter part of this week; there have been few fluctuations in prices, and the shipments of the 1897 pack of salmon to this country have now arrived, and have either gone into distribution or been warehoused. Although stocks are undoubtedly heavy, they are firmly held. The certain prospect of a pack on the Fraser river, limited to 75 per cent. of last season's, almost precludes the possibility of any reduction for this particular class of fish, even should the low prices fail to attract the increased consumption generally anticipated. Alaska fish are still selling at a considerably lower rate than packers are asking for 1898 pack.—Produce Markets' Review.



Food Products in New South Wales.

It has been stated by the Government statistican of New South Wales, says Commerce, that few countries approach that colony in the small proportion of income absorbed in providing food for the people; and in making this assertion he is amply supported by facts. According to Mulhall, the cost of living, per inhabitant, in the leading European countries, Canada and the United States, ranges from £32 16s. 2d. in the latter country, to £11 5s. 6d. in Portugal; the amount for the United Kingdom being £29 14s. 9d., Canada £23 2s. 2d., France £23 19s. 4d., and Germany £20 3s. 4d.; while in New South Wales it is £36 7s. 10d., or £3 11s. 8d. more than in the United States; but, at the same time, the money is more readily earned in New South Wales than in any of the countries mentioned. Again, taking Mulhall as an authority, it would appear that while the actual cost per head of food, solid and liquid, in New South Wales is £15 15s. 4d., as against £14 4s. 9d. in the United Kingdom, the earnings required in the colony to pay for the food are proportionately less than in other countries; thus, while in the United Kingdom it takes the earnings of 127 days to pay for the annual food supply per head; in France 132 days, in Germany 148 days, in Austria 152 days, in Italy 153 days, and in Portugal 177 days; in New South Wales 100 days suffice. In Canada and the United States the period is less, but there are circumstances which turn the scales in favor of the mother colony of the Australias.

The prices of commodities have varied according to the seasons and other conditions, but in 1896 the average rates were: Bread, 2-lb. loaf, 3d.; fresh beef, per lb., 3d.; butter, per lb., 1s.; cheese, per lb., 8d.; sugar, per lb., 2½d.; tea, per lb., 1s. 6d.; potatoes, per cwt., 5s. 6d.; maize, per bushel, 2s. 7d. The prices were about the same at the commencement of the present year. Mutton is the cheapest animal food, averaging about 2d. per lb. Other average rates comprise bacon, per lb., 7½d.; eggs, per dozen, 1s.; rice, per lb., 2d.; oatmeal, per lb., 2d.; coffee, per lb., 1. 9d.; salt, per lb., ½d.; colonial beer, per gallon, 2s.; soap, per lb., 2d.; starch, per lb., 4d.; colonial tobacco, per lb., 4s.; imported tobacco, per lb., 6s. Of course, many of the articles named can be purchased considerably cheaper, but the average price will afford some idea of the general cost.

JAMES LEWIS PRESCOTT.

JAMES LEWIS PRESCOTT, the founder of the house of J. L. Prescott & Co., was born at Epsom, N. H., U. S., March 8, 1828. He descended from sturdy New England stock, with an English ancestry, who landed in the Massachusetts colony at an early colonial period.

The name Prescott is familiar to the readers of American history. Mr. Prescott's ancestor was General William Prescott, who commanded at the battle of Bunker Hill, June 17, 1775.

In 1866, Mr. Prescott moved to North Berwick, Maine, and in 1870 commenced the manufacture of stove polish in a structure only sixteen by eighteen feet in size. He first put on the market the "Universal" brand, which soon became very favorably known in a limited territory, but the superior quality of the products worried his competitors not a little. The total daily output of about five gross was delivered at the railway station in a wheelbarrow. The business was a success from the start and yearly increased until it reached an annual sale of about eighteen thousand gross.

In 1888, Mr. Prescott retired from business and was succeeded by his son, Mr. A. L. Prescott and Mr. C. O. Littlefield, under the new firm name of J. L. Prescott & Co. Mr. J. L. Prescott now lives at Battle Creek, Mich., where he is passing his days in peace and quietude, and where he and Mrs. Prescott recently celebrated their golden wedding in the midst of a large circle of relatives and friends.

In 1887, Mr. Amos L. Prescott the present head of the house, conceived the idea that the old fashioned stick-to-it-all-day method of blacking a stove was a drudgery for housekeepers, that ought to be abolished. He accordingly set about producing the first paste stove polish which ever proved to be a success. It was put on the market as "Enameline, The Modern Stove Polish." A lucky hit, and a product destined to play an important part in the household economy of millions of homes in many lands. It was determined to make Enameline famous through the most vigorous methods of publicity. In a single year more than $200,000 has been appropriated for advertising.

"It soon became evident," says Mr. A. L. Prescott, "that Enameline was to be the world' stove polish and that another location must be selected in one of the great centres of commerce, where adequate facilities for manufacturing and shipping could be provided. This led to the selection of New York city for the new headquarters, and, in the spring of 1896, an extensive factory constructed after modern plans was put in operation at Passaic, New Jersey, twelve miles by rail from New York, on the Passaic River, where steamers from the vast water connections about New York, Brooklyn, and Jersey City, enter the docks of the company every day. The five gross per day of 1870 has grown to an output of nearly five carloads per day, and was being distributed to every English speaking country on the globe, as well as in Germany, Scandinavia, Holland, Belgium and South America."

The year 1896 witnessed the largest growth of any in the history of Enameline; both the Passaic and North Berwick factories were used in conjunction to supply the enormous demands. As the Passaic factory developed, the North Berwick plant was gradually given up, and at the present time, the entire output of Enameline is from the New Jersey factory, and the location as regards skilful labor, plenty of space for growth, and for shipments by water or rail, is most desirable.

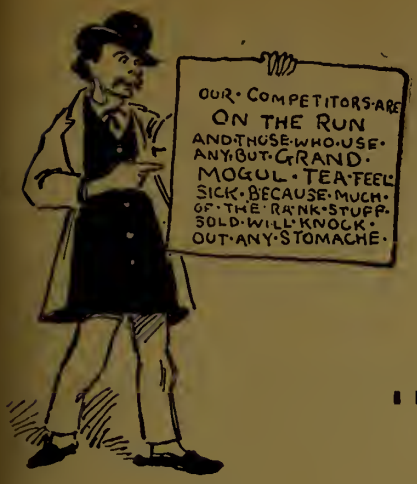
In the spring of 1894, J. L. Prescott & Co. commenced the introduction of Enameline into foreign countries, and at the present time, they have depots in Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Cape Town, Hamburg, Melbourne, Antwerp, Rotterdam, and Copenhagen.

On July 1, 1897, Mr. J. Edward Prescott, the son of Mr. A. L. Prescott, was admitted into partnership, thus being the third generation to be represented in the business. This gentleman has charge of the Passaic factory. Mr. J. Edward Prescott has been especially active in the introduction of the most labor saving machinery, not duplicated in any other stove polish factory in the world.

The total length of all the buildings of the Enameline factory at Passaic, is more than 700 feet, with a capacity of 50 tons per day. No claim is made to running full, but this is more than double the capacity of any other stove polish factory in the world. The buildings are lit with electricity, and are ventilated by hot and cold air machinery. The company own its own machine shops. Over 300 hands are employed at the present time, and they are paid more that the average scale of wages, the firm believing in a philanthropy that helps people to help themselves.

After the plumbago from the East Indies has been landed at the docks of the company, it is first put through a milling process, which is a marvel of mechanical ingenuity; these mills accomplishing, with the work of one man, what formerly employed twenty-five workmen. The company manufacture their own tin boxes, and the enormity of the production can be conceived when it is said that they have twenty-two stamping machines, with a capacity each of sixty pieces per minute. About five tons of tin plate are used each day. They also make their own packing cases, and more than 3,000,000 feet of pine lumber are used annually.



The covers of packing boxes are nailed on by machinery. The labels put on tin boxes are ordered in 100,000,000 lots.

The sales department is under the supervision of Mr. P. M. Berry, for a number of years connected with J. L. Prescott & Co., a hearty co-worker in the company's energetic policy of push.

The offices are at 90-92 West Broadway, New York, where the enormous details of the sales department, the direction of large appropriations for advertising, the supervision of from one to two hundred traveling men in the United States and foreign countries, and contracts for shipping by land and water, are negotiated and directed. All wholesale grocers, housefurnishers, hardware and stove dealers, and 97 per cent of the retailers in these branches of trade handle Enameline.—The Modern Stove Polish.

COSTA RICAN COFFEE.

Coffee is the great product of Costa Rica, where it was first introduced in 1796, and the article produced in that country is of a superior quality, as is demonstrated by the high prices it has obtained in the markets of Europe, principally in England. The annual exports amount to nearly 40,000,000 pounds, according to the Bulletin of American Republics. At the Chicago Exposition, there were 75 exhibitors of Costa Rican coffee, of whom 55 received awards, a proportion which none of the other countries tha figured in that great exhibition succeeded in attaining. Coffee is produced in all the departments of the Republic of Salvador. On the uplands, in the interior of Honduras, the coffee produced is excellent of quality, and, although up to the present time the production has been limited, the indications all point to a notable increase in the near future.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

WINNIPEG, April 25, 1898.

EVERYBODY is talking war news and many are the speculations as to rises in price of produce if the war is continued for any length of time. Up to the present the only things that have advanced noticeably are American short clear bacon and corned beef in tins. Wheat is still high, as high as $1.10 being paid during the week, but that is due to local millers and not to the war scare.

Among the business changes of the week is the retirement of W. D. Bole from the wholesale drug firm of Martin, Bole, Wynne & Co., and the formation of the Bole Drug Co., which has applied to the present session of the Local House for incorporation.

In many districts seeding is progressing rapidly to completion, while in some sections of the southern part of the province it is already completed.

Business in the wholesale grocery line is quiet, as is usual at this time of the year, but produce of all kinds is moving freely with prices tending upward in most cases.

The ice is out of the rivers here, the bulk moving out quietly Sunday week. As there was was no weight of snow there has been no rise of water, so that the passage of the ice was a tame affair compared with last year, when we lived for days in expectation of a flood.

BUTTER — The continued fine warm weather makes the prospects bright for the opening of creameries on May 1. Values will depend largely on the date of shipment, and will be based, for the present, at least, on eastern markets, where factories are already in full swing. Creamery will probably open here at 18c. points of shipment. This is considerably higher than last year's figure at the opening, which took place at a later date. Dairy butter is still scarce, but is moving a little more freely than last week. Jobbers are getting 18c. per lb.

EGGS—This produce has continued scarce and dear in spite of the expectations that prices would fall directly after Easter. No sales have been made, since that date, under 15c. However, it is not possible that this market can continue and the change, when it comes, will be a sharp drop.

GREEN FRUIT—This market is slightly perturbed over war, expecting changes with regard to pines and bananas. As yet no change has occurred and stocks are abundant. The Rublee Fruit Co. received one car of bananas to-day and will have another on Monday. Price of bananas runs from $2.50 to $3.50 and quality has rarely been finer. Havana pines, $6 per dozen. Strawberries are arriving more freely and sell at $6 per case of 24 quarts. Southern pie plant is coming in, and is selling rapidly at $2.50, Oranges are stiffening up and an advance of from 50c. to $1 is looked for early next week. The season for navels is drawing to a close. Lemons remain unchanged at $4 per case. Green peas and butter beans are arriving in small consignments by express, but there is no general trade in these lines.

DRIED FRUITS—Apricots are up another ½c., and appear to be going out of sight; 11½c. are the figures to-day. In other lines, such as evaporated apples, peaches, and pears, there is no change, though all lines remain very firm.

CANNED GOODS—Situation with regard to canned vegetables remains without change for the week. Canned meats, as already noted, are advancing, canned beef being 30c. higher per case than last week. In other lines of canned meat no actual advance has taken place, but market is very firm, with every prospect that it will advance in sympathy with beef.

CURED MEATS—Every line of this product is firm, while in the case of American short clear the advance is very sharp, the price now being 8½ to 8¾c.; in fact, there is an advance from ⅛ to ¼c. on all these goods.

COFFEE—There is quite an excitement in coffee, but no definite price could be obtained.

RICE—Situation has not changed during the week.

MAPLE SYRUP—Is having its usual brisk run at $1 to $1.10 per gallon.

THE SITUATION IN TEA.

THERE has been an unusually large movement of tea of various sorts from Canada to the United States since the first of the year. Estimates vary regarding the aggregate quantity, but many brokers consider that 15,000 packages have been sent across the lines by Montreal commission firms alone, not counting what has been done in the west. One firm in the commercial metropolis alone has sent over 10,000 packages, and another 3,000, which affords a pretty good indication of the movement.

The expectation of a duty on tea in the United States appears to have been the primary cause, but it was not that alone, for there have been other reasons.

The original intention was to market this tea in Canada, and, of course, the outflow means so much less old crop tea to be consumed on this side the line. It is noteworthy, however, that the fact has not induced jobbers or retailers to increase their operations to any extent. They have all along pursued a conservative policy and continue to do so.

It is difficult to say what their position is in regard to supplies, but the opinion among the commission houses seems to be that unless retailers throughout the country are well loaded up, the supply of tea carried in second and third hands in Canada is much lighter than usual.

If this is so the actions of jobbers and retailers do not indicate it, for they act as though they had enough supplies to carry them along until new crop teas arrive. If this was not so, surely they would be freer buyers than they are.

Laporte, Martin & Cie. are offering fine lines of teas of every grade at very low prices.

Laporte, Martin & Cie. report large orders of Barbadoes molasses, the price of which is now firmer than ever.

WELL PLEASED WITH THE TRADE.

Mr. C. S. Bullock, representing J. L. Prescott & Co., manufacturers of "Enameline," New York, was in Toronto this week, leaving on Thursday for home. Mr. Bullock was in the Queen City primarily for the purpose of establishing Mr. C. W. Boon as resident traveler in Ontario. Mr. Boon's headquarters will be in Toronto.

"Our business," remarked Mr. Bullock, "is increasing rapidly in Canada. We are well pleased, indeed, with the trade and with the class of people we are getting in contact with as a result of opening up in this market, and we believe it will be better further on," he concluded, with a laugh.

A VISITOR FROM AUSTRALIA.

Mr. Geo. Shrimpton, agent for Australia for Keen, Robinson & Co., London, England, manufacturers of the well-known mustard, Oxford blue, etc., was in Montreal last week, doing the city with the Canadian agent, Mr. J. H. Magor. He passed through Victoria, Vancouver and Toronto, en route to New York, whence he sails for England. Mr. Shrimpton was in Canada previously, in 1865, and he acknowledges that the country has made wondrous strides all round.

FROM TRAVELER TO AGENT.

Mr. Wm. Duckworth, who for a number of years was city traveler for the late firm Caverhill, Hughes & Co., is now the agent in Montreal for the "Pure Gold" jelly, "Blue Ribbon" tea, "White Moss" cocoanut and compound extracts. While in the employ of Caverhill, Hughes & Co, Mr. Duckworth won the respect and esteem of the grocers of the commercial metropolis.

WHOLESALE GROCER RESIGNS.

At the meeting of council of the Montreal Board of Trade, held on Wednesday, 27th inst., a letter was read from Mr. W. B. Mathewson, of J. A. Mathewson & Co., wholesale grocers, resigning his seat thereon. The resignation was accepted, and Mr. John Macfarlane, president of the Canada Paper Co., was elected to fill the vacancy thus created.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. C. R. Cherry, who, during the past couple of years, has been representing Todhunter, Mitchell & Co. in eastern Ontario, is now representing the same firm in Toronto and in the Niagara Peninsula. His territory in the east is taken by Mr. James McKee, who at one time represented the firm in the same territory.

P. Richard's brandies are rapidly taking the lead, say Laporte, Martin & Cie., who are just receiving a consignment, part of their spring orders.

LOW-PRICED TEA.

The extraordinarily low range that tea generally has now got down to makes those who look abroad wonder what is going to be the end of it all. Is it wise to educate the public to lower and lower priced tea? Who reaps the benefit? We venture to say nobody. It cannot be argued that because a tea costs the household 1s. per pound, instead of 1s. 3d. per pound, more cups will be drank, or more spoonfuls put in the pot. No, all we are doing at present is (to use vulgarism) "queering everybody's pitch." Tea is now what may almost be called a disreputably low range of price, and the morale or tone of the trade is certainly not improving. Cutting is the ruin of every decent business; it always has been and always will be. That forcing low-priced tea on the public will not appreciably increase consumption can be seen in the falling off—or, if not exactly falling off, at any rate the standstill—in the deliveries for months past; from which it would almost appear that tea drinking has, for the time being, at any rate, reached its limit. We cannot but think that some of the tricks and ruses adopted to sell tea are a discredit to a time honored business, and are undoubtedly tending to lower the prestige of the trade. A good tea at a fair price is all that any reasonable person wants. Cutting prices cannot tend to a healthy state of things. They spoil the trade, benefit nobody, and are decidedly detrimental to sound business.—Grocers' Gazette, London, Eng.

BEWARE OF PRESERVATIVES.

THE following is a copy of a circular which has recently been issued by the Minister of Agriculture for Ontario :

In building up the dairy industry of Ontario two things have been taught and urged, namely, purity and high quality of products and economy of production. Whatever set backs this great industry may have met in the past few years can be traced to a neglect of one or the other of these important points. The cheese industry of Ontario is now fairly well established, and the annual production of a large amount of well made, whole-milk cheese of uniform quality has given Canada a controlling influence in the British cheese market. Our creamery industry is now rapidly developing, and it is of vital importance that the strictest attention be paid to the turning out in an economical manner of butter of uniformly high quality, pure and unadulterated. This industry will, if properly conducted, assume very large proportions, since the average consumption of butter is much greater than that of cheese, and the British imports of butter greatly exceed those of cheese. In the British market our butter meets in competition similar goods from Ireland, Denmark, France, the United States, Australia and Argentina. Denmark has attained a chief place by studying the requirements of the market, and now produces nearly all of her creamery export butter from pasteurized milk or cream with the use of special ferments. In some of the countries exporting to Great Britain—Australia in particular—it has become a practice to use some kind of "preservative" in butter-making. Sometimes this is added to butter as a salt ; sometimes it is added to the milk. These preservatives are sold under various names, such names as preservalene, preservatine, preservitas, being favorites. They are nearly all mixtures of boracic acid. The increasing use of these preservatives has alarmed the British consumer, and most radical measures are now proposed to exclude all butter in which traces of these preservatives are found. The British public has become alarmed, the press is actively decussing the matter, and public officials are now on the lookout for butter so adulterated. It must be carefully noted that all butter made from milk or cream to which anything but common salt has been added is adulterated. The butter producers of Ontario must make no mistake. The use of any of these preservatives is dangerous to the dairy interests of this country. Everything possible should be done to discourage the use of such substances, and the press should as far as possible prevent the advertising of them in this country. Ontario has a reputation for producing pure dairy goods of high quality. That reputation must be maintained, and every person interested in the dairy business of Ontario should assist in preventing these "preservatives" from getting a foothold in this Province. "An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." We have a reputation now for making pure butter and cheese. Help to maintain that reputation. Do no advocate preservatives. Do not advertise preservatives. Do not use preservatives.

A fire broke out in the dry goods store of J. Beaulieu, Etchemin, Que., about two o'clock on April 21, and spread to the adjoining houses, and was only extinguished after six of the best houses in the village were destroyed, including Mrs. Cantin's grocery and E. Bourassa's grocery stores. Several neighboring houses were partly damaged. Loss about $25,000. Insurance small. There are no fire appliances in the village.

The Class Acting

up to the belief that it does "Not Pay" to be noticeably "Unlike" all others, continues to dwindle.

Ceylon Tea ha gained its name and earned its fame, solely through its being noticeably "Unlike" all competitors, inasmuch as it is of incomparable Quality and Deliciousness—captivating and holding in everlasting captivity "all tastes." Don't you think, in view of the wide-spread agitation for the suppression of the notoriously adulterated Teas of China and Japan, that it would be good business policy for you to handle "Salada" Ceylon Tea ?

Others are doing so with the utmost satisfaction and profit.

TOBACCO CULTURE IN CANADA.

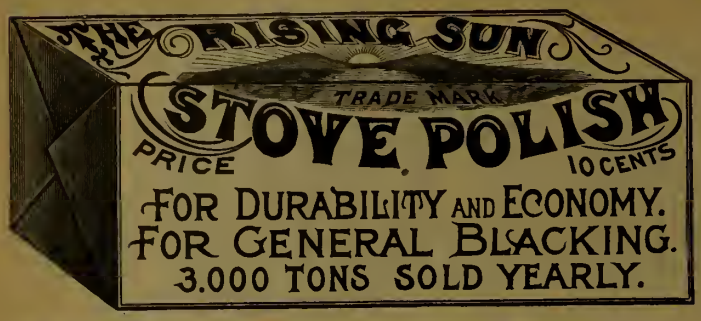
By William Saunders, Director Experimental Farms, Ottawa.

THE substance known as tobacco consists of the leaves of a narcotic plant, a native of South America, belonging to the order solanacæ and known to botanists as nicotiana tabacum. Its use is more general and widely spread than that of any other narcotic or stimulant ; it is largely manufactured for smoking, is also prepared for chewing, and is used to a more limited extent as snuff. Specimens of this plant were first brought to Europe in 1558 by Francisco Fernandes, a physician who had been sent by Philip II, of Spain, to investigate the products of Mexico. While tobacco first came to Europe through Spain, the habit of smoking was initiated and spread by English example, and Sir Walter Raleigh was one of the devotees to the use of this weed who helped to bring it into prominence. During the seventeenth century its use spread with great rapidity among all the nations notwithstanding the resolute opposition of statesmen and priests, and penal enactments of the most severe description.

There are other species of tobacco grown to a limited extent in other parts of the world, but the tobacco produced on the American continent and in Cuba, is all made from the species referred to. The tobacco plant is a coarse, rank-growing annual, which attains a height of from four to six feet, crowned with a panicle of pink flowers and having alternate leaves which are very large, often attaining a length of three feet or more and a proportionate width. Although this plant is a native of South America, it flourishes over a very wide area and adapts itself to many different climates. It is grown in most of the southern and middle States in the neighboring republic, and its cultivation is rapidly increasing in Canada. The tobacco plant is very susceptible to variations in climate and soil ; not only are the size and texture of the leaves so influenced, but the quality, strength and flavor are thus affected in a remarkable degree. During the long period this plant has been under cultivation, many different varieties have been produced, but the finer qualities of high flavor are grown chiefly in tropical countries with a comparatively dry climate. The seed of the high-flavored sorts, such as are grown in Cuba, when sown in the cooler climates of the eastern States or Canada, produce plants of much less flavor and of a different texture. Nevertheless, many useful commercial varieties can be grown in the cooler climates of this country.

The census of Canada in 1891 shows a total product in all the provinces of 4,277,936 pounds, of which about 90 per cent. was grown in the Province of Quebec. Most of this crop was cultivated in small areas, rarely exceeding a few acres on any one farm. Recently, the cultivation of tobacco has increased very rapidly in western Ontario, especially in the county of Essex. Walker Sons, of Walkerville, were among the pioneers in this industry, and have for some years past had the largest tobacco farm in the Dominion. In 1897 they had 130 acres under this crop. A considerable number of farmers in the neighborhood of Leamington, Ont., have of late entered on the cultivation of this plant, growing from 5 to 20 acres each. It is estimated that about 1,000 acres of land were devoted to the growing of tobacco in that part of Essex in 1897, and that about 40 carloads of cured leaf were shipped from that district. It is believed that a much larger area will be planted during the coming season.

SOIL AND ITS PREPARATION.



The soil most suitable for a tobacco crop is a deep rich friable loam, dry and warm, which can be easily worked up into a fine and mellow condition. While a rich sandy soil is usually preferred, the crop often does equally well on a loamy clay, provided it is of such a porous and open character as will admit of its being brought into a fine condition of tilth ; tobacco does not usually succeed well on a heavy clay. When grown on the heavier classes of soil the plants produce a thick leaf more suitable for the manufacture of chewing tobacco, and when grown on lighter sandy soils a thin or light leaf more suitable for the making of cigars. The tobacco plant grows very rapidly and is a gross feeder and needs an abundant supply of plant food, hence, in the preparation of the soil for this crop barn-yard manure is used very liberally. About thirty two-horse loads, or more, per acre are applied during the winter or early in the spring and ploughed under. Subsequently the land is harrowed—usually with a disc-harrow—from time to time until the soil is thoroughly and finely pulverized to a depth of about three inches, Wood ashes may also be freely used with much benefit to this crop.

SOWING THE SEED.

Tobacco seed is sometimes sown in hot-beds, sometimes in cold frames and occasionally in open ground. The first method has been practised at the Central Experimental farm at Ottawa and is the plan usually followed in the Province of Quebec, but in western Ontario, where the season is longer, although hot-beds are frequently used, the sowing of the seed in cold frames and open beds is not uncommon.

In preparing a hot-bed select a southern or south-eastern exposure sheltered on the north, and dig out a space 5 feet by 12, or any required length, to the depth of 18 inches. Place 3 or 4 inches of straw in the bottom and cover with fresh manure from the horse stable to the depth of 8 or 10 inches, treading it down well. Cover with good rich loamy soil to a depth of 4 or 5 inches, and pack it firm. Allow this to stand for a few days to heat up and then rake the bed smooth, when it will be ready to receive the seed. Where a hot-bed is used, the seed may be sown in rows from 4 to 6 inches apart, or broadcast, having previously been mixed with ashes or corn-meal so as to ensure more evenness in sowing. If sown broadcast the surface should afterwards be pressed firmly by placing a board about one foot wide and nearly the length of the bed, on the surface of the newly-sown ground, and walking over it, then move the board so as to press another foot, and so on, until the whole bed is evenly pressed. Then cover with frames either glazed or covered with cotton to protect from cold and frost and sprinkle the surface often enough with water or weak liquid manure to keep it moist. Germination takes place in about ten days, and in from twenty to thirty days after the plants appear, they should be large enough to transplant.

Where the seed is sown in cold frames or open beds, a sheltered position is desirable, with a southern exposure. Upon the spot selected, brush is usually burned until the soil is made hot enough to kill the seeds of grass and weeds near the surface. When the soil has thus been baked to the depth of about half an inch and the bed has cooled, the surface is stirred with hoe or spade to the depth of 2 or 3 inches. Well-rotted manure is then spread over the ground and raked and worked until it has become thoroughly mixed, and the whole made mellow and fine. Mix carefully one tablespoonful of seed with about a quart of ashes and sow broadcast. This quantity is sufficient for a bed ten feet square, and should furnish plants enough for an acre of land. Brush or rake the seed in very lightly and use a light roller to make the surface compact, smooth and even, or press the surface smooth with a board in the manner recommended for the sowing in hot-beds. Use cotton covered frames or cover with light brush thick enough to afford some shade to the young plants and to protect them from drying winds, and water from time to time as needed to keep the ground moist. Keep the plants free from weeds and thin them out where necessary to avoid crowding. Sometimes the seed is sprouted before sowing. This may be done by mixing it with some fine mould and placing it near a stove or in some other warm place and keeping it moist for four or five days. Sow it as soon as it can be seen to have sprouted. By adopting this plan some time may be saved, but it is not generally recommended. The time of sowing will vary in different localities, ranging in Canada from the 1st to the 15th of April, and the young plants will be ready to put out from the 25th of May to the 10th of June. The seed bed should be large enough to permit of a sufficient number of plants of the same size being taken from it to complete the planting of the desired area at one operation, so that the subsequent growth may be even and regular. There should also be a surplus left sufficient to fill the vacancies caused by failure.

PLANTING.

The plants are usually put out in rows about 4 feet apart and from 2½ to 3½ feet apart in the rows. Where practicable, the rows should run north and south so that each plant may get the largest amount of sunshine. The places for the plants in the rows are usually indicated by running over the ground with a corn marker. Some prefer to ridge the ground before planting, and claim that subsequent cultivation can be carried on with less injury to the plants where this method is practised. If the ground be flat or heavy this plan is preferred, but on lighter soils with good drainage the plants may be successfully grown either with or without ridging.

When the plants in the seed bed are 4 to 5 inches high and the largest leaves from 2 to 2½ inches wide they are ready for the field. Before any are lifted the bed should be thoroughly sprinkled with water so that the earth may adhere to the roots. A cloudy day after a shower of rain is preferred for transplanting, but if the plants are carefully removed with a ball of earth attached to the roots of each they may be set out with fair success, provided the ground is reasonably moist, without waiting for such specially favourable conditions. Small plants should not be used, it is better to wait a few days until they are of the proper size. When planting, a basket of plants is carried by a boy up between the rows when one is dropped at each side where indicated by the marker; the men follow and put them in the ground, using a planting peg or the finger for this purpose, pressing the earth carefully about the roots. Where the plantation is very large, a planting machine is sometimes used. Messrs. Walker Sons use the Bemis' planter by which with one pair of horses, driver and two men to tend the machine, about twenty thousand plants may be set per day.

Some experiments have been tried at the Central Experimental Farm as to the effects or twice transplanting. The plants were pricked out from the hot-bed to cold frames, where they were set in rows 8 inches apart, and about 3 inches apart in the rows, and after they had grown strong and stocky they were transplanted to the field. It was observed that when treated in this way the plants grew more rapidly and there were fewer failures in planting than when they were transplanted directly from the hot-bed to the field. The yield of leaf was also larger. When transplanting from the beds the thinning should be so carried out as to give the remaining plants more room and thus permit of a spreading stocky growth.

CULTIVATION.

After planting, the ground should be stirred with a one-horse cultivator about once in ten or twelve days, so as to keep the land thoroughly clean from weeds, and in a porous and mellow condition. Frequent cultivation will also induce more favourable conditions of moisture. This should be continued as long as the cultivator can be passed through the rows without injuring the plants. After this, as the roots of the plants will then almost fill the space between the rows, the ground should be kept clean by shallow hoeing.

PRIMING AND TOPPING.

By the word "priming" is meant the removal of the lower or primary leaves which come out too near the ground, and often touch the surface and become torn and sandy. It is an advantage to do this work early, so that the plants may not unnecessarily lose strength by their growth. The distance from the ground this priming should be done depends somewhat on the variety, but the bottom of the stalk is usually stripped to the height of from 4 to 6 inches from the ground.

Topping is the removal of the flower stalk with one or more of the upper and smaller leaves. This is done to throw the strength of the plant which would otherwise go to the production of seed, into the more perfect development of the leaves. The plant is ready to top when the "button," as the blossom is called, has grown long enough to be taken hold of without injuring the upper leaves of the plant. As the plants do not all blossom at the same time, it is usual to let those stalks which bloom first run a little beyond the usual time of topping, so that all may be topped at the one operation. The tops when broken off should be thrown between the rows and allowed to decay. The number of leaves left on the stem at the time of topping varies from ten to sixteen or eighteen, depending on the variety grown ; if topped too high the upper leaves are apt to be too small to be of much value. As the leaves of the tobacco plant are arranged on the stem in eight perpendicular ranks, the ninth leaf stands directly over the first. This fact will assist the operator in determining the number of leaves on a stalk without counting them.

SUCKERING.

After topping, "suckers" soon begin to grow, shooting out from the stalk on the upper side of each leaf at the base, those at the top starting first. As soon as they are large enough to be pulled they should be promptly removed, otherwise much of the strength of the plant will be lost and the maturing of the crop delayed. Should they start a second or third time, they should be again removed.

SAVING OF SEED.

To obtain seed for sowing the following year, a few of the earliest, most thrifty and large-leaved stalks should be left without topping. These will bloom and seed freely, and when the crop is cut these stalks should be allowed to stand. As soon as the seed pods turn to a blackish color the seed will be nearly matured ; then cut off the heads and hang them up in a dry place to cure. Later in the season strip the seed pods from the stalks, rub them in the hand and clean the seed by sifting through a fine sieve. Tobacco seed is said to retain its germinating power for several years.

INSECT ENEMIES.

Cutworms are sometimes very active in destroying the newly set plants. Where these are troublesome they may be reduced in number by placing at many different points in the field small bunches of poisoned weeds, grass or clover. These bunches are tied and rendered poisonous by dipping them in a mixture of Paris green and water in the proportion of two ounces of the poison to a pailful of water. The cutworms take shelter under the bundle of weeds and eat of the poisoned material and die. In hot weather these bundles should be put out after sundown and a shingle may be laid on each to keep it fresh. Cutworms are the caterpillars of dull-colored moths or "millers," which fly at night, mostly during the month of July. The caterpillars lie hidden during the day and come out to feed at dusk. They are smooth and naked, and are usually of some dull shade of greenish grey, or brown, with dusky markings. When these caterpillars are fully grown, which is usually in the latter part of June, they enter the ground and change to chrysalidds, from which the moths emerge later in the season. These deposit their eggs on grass or other plants or weeds ; the young larvæ hatch in about a fortnight and feed usually unobserved amid the abundant growth of summer, and when they reach a length of one-half to three-quarters of an inch they bury themselves in the ground in autumn, where they remain until the following spring. On emerging from their long period of torpor they become very active and feed greedily on almost any green plant which comes in their way.

Cutworms usually attack the plants about the base, and having eaten the stem through leave the greater part of the young plant to wilt and perish. Where a plant suddenly withers and dies, the author of the mischief can generally be found within a few inches of the plant, buried just below the surface of the ground. In such cases they should be searched for and destroyed. Where cutworms are plentiful it is necessary to look over the plants every day or two, and to promptly reset any which may have been killed.

After the cutworms have disappeared the caterpillar of a large sphinx moth, sphinx quinquemaculatus, becomes a most troublesome foe to the tobacco grower. The insect spends the winter in the chrysalis state buried in the ground. Early in June the chrysalis wriggles its way up to the surface, when the moth escapes. It flies at dusk and in its flight much resembles a humming bird, and soon begins to deposit eggs. These are laid singly on the under side of the leaf, where they hatch in the course of a few days when the young larva or "worm" begins to feed on the leaf, making small holes here and there in it. About the time when the leaves are as large as a man's hand these caterpillars appear. The plantation should then be gone over carefully, looking at every plant. A sharp eye will detect the small holes they make in the leaf very promptly, and on turning it up a small green caterpillar will be seen on the under side with a projecting horn on the hinder end of its body. These should be at once destroyed, which may be done by crushing them between the finger and thumb. As the eggs of these caterpillars continue to be laid during a considerable part of the season, constant watchfulness and frequent inspection is needed to prevent injury to the crop. Where the fields are neglected these caterpillars grow rapidly and eat voraciously, and a single specimen will soon destroy the greater part of the leaves of the plant on which it has been placed and on several others near by. When full grown this larva is 3 inches long, or more, and about the thickness of the forefinger, green, with paler stripes along the sides of the body. When disturbed it raises its head in a threatening manner and looks quite ferocious, but is incapable of inflicting any injury.

HARVESTING.

When the leaves approach maturity they gradually lose their deep green color and assume a yellowish hue, which, in some varieties, is mottled with deeper markings of the same color. The veins of the leaves become swollen and the substance of the leaf feels thick and gummy. At this stage the tip of the leaf becomes somewhat brittle and the midrib will usually break with a clean fracture if the tip is sharply doubled back ; the leaves are then ready for harvesting. When the leaf is sufficiently matured, the sooner it is cut the better, as it is liable to injury from frost or other unfavorable weather. The usual method is to cut the plant down nearly to the ground and suspend the stalk with its leaves attached in a suitable drying-house where, when dried, the leaves are stripped and packed. The other method, which is sometimes followed by those who cultivate tobacco on a small scale, or where labor is plentiful and cheap, is to strip the leaves from the plants in the field, gathering them as they mature and stringing them on twine or wires attached to laths or strips in such a manner as to allow each strip with its load of leaves to be handled separately. These are then placed in the drying-house to cure. By this process a better quality of leaf is obtained but at a larger cost of labor.

Some growers split the upright stem of the plant before cutting, with a sharp knife down the middle to within 4 or 5 inches of the base, then withdraw the knife and cut the stalks off close to the ground. This plan is said to be convenient for hanging, as the stalks can be placed astride the strips on which they are suspended and the leaves on stalks thus treated dry more rapidly ; they are, however, more apt to slip off the sticks when moving them.

Another method is to pierce through the stalks with a V-shaped spear made of iron or steel, with a socket large enough to admit the end of a stick on which the tobacco is to be hung. The stick is set upright on the ground, fitted with the spear at the end, when the tobacco is lifted, one stalk at a time, and thrust on the spear, which passes through the stalk, about six inches from the base. The sticks are usually made 4½ feet long, and afford space enough to suspend eight plants. When one stick is filled, the spear is taken off and attached to another, and this process is continued until the plants are all hung. Other growers prefer to suspend the plants by tying them to suitable sticks with twine.

Cutting should begin as soon as the dew is off the plants in the morning. Cut with a hatchet or suitable knife, grasp the stalk with the left hand and bend it well to the left, so as to expose the lower part of the stalk, and sever with the knife near the surface of the ground, letting the stalk drop over without doubling the leaves under. Lay the plants on the ground to wilt for an hour or two, or, until the leaves lose their brittleness and can be handled without breaking. Then load the tobacco on a wagon, keeping the butts out on both sides in loading, and draw to the drying-house. No more plants should be cut than can be taken in and hung up the same day. Never cut tobacco on a rainy day, as the leaves are then sure to get sandy, which will lessen their value, and do not allow the plants to lie long on the wagon or in a pile, as they soon sweat and heat, which quickly injures them.

DRYING.

A house 30 by 40 feet so arranged as to hang the tobacco in four tiers is said to be large enough to give drying accommodation to an acre of tobacco. Most growers prefer to build their drying-houses tight, so that they may be closed up in unfavorable weather. Such buildings are supplied at the base with a number of doors, affording openings large enough to admit air freely, and ventilators are provided above. Drying-houses are most commonly built from 16 to 20 feet wide, 16 feet high and 40 to 50 feet long, or longer if required. Occasionally buildings are met with which have their sides covered with boards so placed as to leave an inch or more of space between each to provide for free access of air. This, however, does not afford sufficient protection in case of unfavorable weather. Whatever method may be used for hanging the stalks, they are placed on the sticks about 5 inches apart, leaving eight or nine stalks on a stick, and the sticks are so arranged as to leave a space of 8 or 9 inches between them.

When the plants are sufficiently dried, which is known by the stems becoming of a brown color and breaking when bent, the tobacco is ready for stripping. Damp weather is chosen for this operation, when the damp air is freely admitted and the leaves absorb moisture so that they can be handled without breaking. The operator pulls the leaves from the stalks one by one, until he gets what is technically called a "hand," which consists of from twelve to sixteen leaves, when these are fastened together by a good leaf folded to two or three inches in width, and wound around the base and secured by tucking the end under. During the stripping the leaves are separated into two grades, according to size and soundness— all the torn and injured leaves, as well as the small and less matured specimens, forming the second grade.

BULKING.

After the tobacco is stripped it is packed down each day where it will be secure from drying winds or wet. The "hands" are placed with butts out and the leaves overlapping at the tips for about one-third of their length; laying one row of butts one way, then another on the opposite, keeping them straight and even to prevent the air from drying the material. The "hands" are pressed together by kneeling on them while packing, and, when the piles have reached a convenient height, say 3 to 4 feet, they are weighted with heavy planks on top so as to press the material down as compact as possible. The pile is then covered with some fabric or material such as blankets or sacking to prevent the drying of the exposed parts, and, in this condition it is allowed to remain about a month during which time the curing or "sweating" process goes on by which, when properly attended to, the leaves acquire a uniform color. The bulking is followed by an increase of temperature in the pile, which should be watched, and when a thermometer placed in the centre of the heap indicates a temperature of 100 to 110 Fahr., or when the heat is uncomfortable to the hand when introduced, the "bulk" should be opened and rearranged so that the outer and upper tiers may be brought to the centre. In this way the heat is lessened and the curing process proceeds evenly and uniformly throughout the pile. When the tobacco is thoroughly cured the "bulk" is opened and the material arranged more loosely and gradually cooled when the tobacco will be ready for market. When disposed of, it is usually packed in bales of about 100 lb. each, firmly pressed together and enclosed in sacking.

VARIETIES.

Among the earliest and best yielding varieties tested at the Experimental Farm are : White Burley, Connecticnt Seed Leaf, Pennsylvania Seed Leaf, Pryor Yellow, Climax, Yellow Mammoth, Oronoko Yellow, Safrano, Brazilian and Canadian. In 1896 the White Burley grown at the Experimental Farm was matured and partly harvested, when a sharp frost occurred in September, which greatly injured the later sorts. The White Burley is much grown in the Province of Quebec, and is also the variety most extensively cultivated in western Ontario. The Connecticut Seed Leaf stands probably next in public favor,and is well spoken of generally. Messrs. Walker Sons have found the White Burley and Connecticut Seed Leaf the most profitable varieties to grow, and think that a fair average of the yield of these varieties, taking one season with another, would be about 1,800 lbs. of cured tobacco per acre. Dr. G. LaRoque, late M. P. for Chambly County, Quebec, in his excellent little book on "Culture et Preparation du Tabac" gives the crop of the different varieties grown in Quebec as ranging from 900 to 1,500 lbs. per acre, while Mr. M. G. Bruner, of Olinda, Ontario, estimates the crop about Leamington as from 1,000 to 1,100 lbs. per acre. Where the same varieties are grown the yield in every case will depend much on the quality of the land and the quantity of manure which has been used. In the small experimental plots at the Central Experimental Farm, the weight of crop has been estimated in different seasons from about 1,500 to 2,500 lbs. or more per acre.

TOBACCO AN EXHAUSTING CROP.

From the reports which have been published of chemical analyses of the leaves and stalks of the tobacco plant, it is evident that this crop draws heavily on the potash in the soil. It is also a considerable consumer of nitrogen and of lime. On such land as is frequently used for this crop, the ploughing under of clover to enrich the soil, large applications of barn-yard manure, liberal dressings of wood ashes or of salts of potash, and an occasional application of lime, will all be found beneficial. As the stalks take from the soil about the same proportion of the fertilizing constituents as the leaves, the exhausting effect of this crop on the land may be lessened by allowing the stalks to remain on the ground to decay and then ploughing them under.

CANADIAN CANNED MEATS.

The Canadian Government has given a Chicago packing firm a contract for canned meat supplies, 50,000 pounds of which are to be immediately shipped to the Klondyke. It is said that this is the first order of its kind that has come to Chicago from our friends across the horder, and The Chicago Record volunteers the information that "heretofore such orders were filled by Canadian packers." As a matter of fact, we doubt if Canadian packers bother much about putting up meat in tins. If they had the goods they would certainly have gotten the order which went to Chicago. The Canadian packer has given most of his attention to curing and smoking, and has certainly made good use of his time. We nevertheless congratulate Chicago, which, as a packing and canning centre, stands for everything that is up-to-date and progressive in the husiness.—National Provisioner, New York.

THERE is as much truth in the above statement as there is in some of the false war news which fill the columns of the yellow journals. THE CANADIAN GROCER does not charge The Provisioner with falsifying. Where it errs is in a misconception of facts. The originators of the falsehoods were certain Canadian newspapers.

The Canadian Government has not given an order to a Chicago or any other firm in the United States for one pound of canned meat, let alone 50,000 pounds. And Premier Laurier himself is authority for the statement.

Now, with regard to the misconception of The National Provisioner. In the paragraph at the head of this column it will be noticed that it says: "As a matter of fact, we doubt if Canadian packers bother much about putting meat up in tins. * * * * The Canadian packer has given most of his attention to curing and smoking."

Now, as a matter of fact, Canadians do pay a great deal of attention to canning meats. There are, in the Dominion, two concerns putting up canned meats, although only one of these is of very great importance, and that one factory has not been able, during the past year or two, to turn out enough canned meats to supply the demand.

That, however, is not all: Not only are there canned meat factories in Canada, but the product of these factories has, during the last four or five years, been gradually pushing canned meats of United States make out of this market, until to-day the home factories practically supply the home market.

THE CANADIAN GROCER has taken the trouble to investigate the matter, and it is learned that the wholesale trade sells something like five hundred pounds of canned meats of Canadian make to fifty pounds of United States make. And order sheets were produced to prove this.

Of course, we have no canned meat factories in this country approaching in size some of those in the United States, but their product is equally as good as far as quality is concerned, while the packages are, on the whole, much more attractive. Then, what may be a surprise to a good many Canadians as well as to our cousins to the south is that the cost of Canadian canned meats to the wholesaler is lower than the product of the United States, and, in some sizes materially so, and that, too, without taking into account the duty of 25 per cent.

No doubt a great many United States canned goods are going to the Yukon; but so are there of Canadian, one factory alone having received an order for 100,000 cases to be shipped to that part of the country, and that, too, to fill an order for a United States firm.

If you are ashamed of your business, do not advertise it; but if you would not be ashamed of your business, advertise.

CATCHING SMUGGLERS.

FROM a reliable source THE CANADIAN GROCER learns that the special officers sent to border towns, a few weeks ago, for the purpose of putting a stop to the smuggling, which has become so common during the last couple of years, are doing good work.

It is a pity the public is allowed to know so little about the seizures which these officers are making. People who make it a practice of crossing to United States border towns and buying their dry goods, groceries, hardware, etc., and bringing the same surreptitiously back to their homes, should be exposed. They rob the Government and they ruin the local merchants by their practices, and their dishonest acts have no more right to be ventilated in secret than have the evil deeds of persons which are ventilated from time to time in the police courts.

The proper place to try people caught smuggling is in the police court and not in a private room, with the Customs official as judge.

It would, of course, be more distasteful to the smuggler, man or woman, to be arraigned in a police court. But the likes or dislikes of these people should not be considered. What the Customs Department should consider is as to which method of punishment would be most conducive to a better observance of the law in future. And there is no question about it, the exposure and fine of the police court would be much more conducive to this end than secret examination by a Customs official.

War causes prices to advance and soldiers to run.

EXTRAORDINARY BID ON TEA.

A private letter received by a Toronto firm shows that ordinary business men, as well as Wall street speculators, do things which would seem to indicate that they are beside themselves.

According to this letter, there was recently put up at one of the auctions in London a lot of tea whose ordinary value was about 8½d. But there were two men who wanted it, and, in their zeal to secure the desideratum, they bid the tea up to 2s. 0¼d.

The man who got the tea certainly did not get any profit.

THE GOVERNMENT LACKS COURAGE.

WHEN the Dominion Government, in June last, inaugurated and put into operation the principle of preferential treatment of British products, it was the expression, in a practical manner, of its convictions. And the great majority of the Canadian people, let alone the people of Great Britain, are willing to concede praise for what it did then, and particularly for what it has since done along this line.

But the courage of conviction is a quality which Governments, as well as individuals, do not always exercise. To-day they are brave, but to-morrow they are cowards, or nearly akin to it.

The Government is perfectly aware that the present unsatisfactory condition of the insolvency laws in the Dominion is, as it were, a brake upon trade between Great Britain and Canada.

If there was no other proof the representations of the influential body of business men of London, who waited upon the Minister of Finance some months ago, is proof enough of this. But there are other proofs ad infinitum. And yet, notwithstanding this, the Government still occupies a neutral position when it is fully convinced that the need for an insolvency law for the Dominion is not a suppositious but a real and tangible one.

The trade press and the most influential of the daily press in both Canada and Great Britain have urged the Government to at least come out and cast its influence in favor of insolvency legislation, even if it will not go the length of taking it up as a Government measure, which is, of course, the thing it should do.

The only conclusion one can arrive at is that the Government has not the courage of its convictions in this particular, whatever it may have had in regard to the preferential tariff, the Yukon railway and other matters.

It does not seem to matter by what party name they may be known, politicians appear only to have regard for the demands of business men when these demands do not inconvenience them or clash with party exigencies.

The late Government, by its persistent stupidity, alienated the support of the business men of this country and suffered for it. And the present Government does not appear to have yet well digested the lesson taught by its predecessor's defeat.

THE 25 PER CENT. PREFERENTIAL TARIFF.

IT will be remembered that the tariff of 1897 stipulated that on and after July 1, 1898, that the preferential rate should be 25 per cent. less than the regular duty. It will likewise be remembered that the amendments brought down by the Minister of Finance, a few weeks ago, decreed that on and after August 1, when the Imperial treaties with Germany and Belgium expire, the preferential tariff should apply to British goods only.

During the past few days a rumor has been given some currency to the effect that the preferential tariff will be suspended from operation for the month beginning with July 1 and ending with July 31, in order that the score of countries which are now enjoying the 12½ per cent. reduction might not share in the privileges of the 25 per cent. reduction for that month.

THE CANADIAN GROCER has investigated the matter, and it learns that while the advisability of doing so was discussed by the Government, yet it was decided that the only honorable thing to do would be to allow the tariff to go into operation as originally intended.

The importations during July should establish a record. But, while the Government will lose much revenue thereby, it has done the proper thing by deciding not to suspend the operation of the preferential tariff for the month in question.

PRICES WITHDRAWN ON PRUNES.

Commission agents in Montreal have had all prices on California prunes withdrawn and are therefore out of the market. There has been an unprecedented demand on the Coast and prices have advanced, according to reports, ½c. per pound within eight days.

There are no stocks in first hands either, and jobbers, supplies are of a very limited kind. Values, however, remain the same in a jobbing way.

ADVANCE IN CANNED MEAT.

PROBABLY the most striking feature of the grocery trade during the past week is the marked advance in the price of canned meats.

The advance in the Canadian packers' figures is from 30c. per dozen on 1-lb. tins to $4 per dozen on 14-lb., but the wholesalers have not yet taken the full advantage of this advance, their prices, as a rule, being only marked up 20c. on 1-lb. tins to $3 on 14 lb. tins.

The higher prices are due to the dearness of cattle and the keenness of the demand.

A year ago this month the wholesale price of canned beef was a great deal lower than it is to-day, as the following table shows :

	At present.	A year ago.
1-lb. tins per dozen..	$1 65 to $1 70	$1 25
2-lb. "	2 95 to 3 00	2 25
6-lb. "	9 25 to 9 50	6 75
14-lb. "	20 00 to 21 00	14 00

To-day's wholesale prices are likely at any moment to further appreciate, as they are very close to the margin of cost.

QUALITY LOWER, PRICE HIGHER.

Ceylon teas on the spot and to arrive within the next month, from London, are distinctly superior in quality to teas following later.

Crossfield, Lampard & Co., of Colombo, report that the quality of the tea now arriving from the interior is distinctly inferior and the price distinctly higher than the pekoes they shipped a month ago.

ANOTHER ADVANCE IN MOLASSES.

The Montreal Wholesale Grocery Guild at a meeting on Wednesday advanced the price of Barbadoes molasses to 27c. in car lots, and 28c. in puncheons.

This is a clean rise of 3c. in less than eight days.

Last week the price was put up to 25 and 26c. respectively, and again on Monday to 26 and 27c. On Tuesday, however, as noted elsewhere in our market report, intelligence was received from the Islands that the first cost there had risen from 9 to 10c., and that firm offers were impossible to obtain even at the rise.

This information led to the action of the Guild in deciding upon the additional rise on Wednesday.

CANADA EXPORTING BISCUITS.

NO manufacturer or merchant can tell what he can do along certain untrodden paths until he has ventured thereon.

As a manufacturer of biscuits, Canada has quite a reputation. Compared with similar products, made in either Great Britain or the United States, Canadian biscuits have no need to be ashamed. But, although our manufacturers now nearly altogether supply the home market, practically no effort has been made to cultivate the foreign market, and especially the United States market.

Now, however, an effort is being made by a biscuit manufacturing firm in Toronto, Christie, Brown & Co., to develop trade with the United States in its products. Already it has got its goods into such commercial cities as Detroit, Cincinnati, Syracuse, Troy, Cleveland, Newark, Oswego, New York, etc., and THE CANADIAN GROCER learns that the results have so far been on the whole encouraging. The bulk of biscuits this firm is exporting to the United States are hard sweets.

Biscuits are not classified in the export trade returns. They are grouped with bread. Our total exports last year under this classification were 3,483 cwt. valued at $16,530, and of this Newfoundland took $13,183 worth and the United States $569 worth. It will, therefore, be seen that outside Newfoundland, which is almost a part of our own country, we export very little of either biscuits or bread. But there is no telling what might be done if the manufacturers in Canada will only put as much enterprise into themselves as they do good quality into their biscuits.

STARCH ONE QUARTER CENT HIGHER.

The wholesale grocery trade were notified this week that all Canadian starch was advanced ¼c. per pound, the change taking effect on May 1. The rise in corn has made this inevitable; in fact, some people were surprised that it did not come before, as, with the material costing over 20c., the recent range on the finished article was hardly on a parity.

If the cereal goes over 40c., as some predict it will, another advance is likely, but not until that figure is reached, for the starch manufacturers, always operating to a certain extent, are not compelled to respond to changes in raw material as promptly as manufacturers in other branches of the trade.

THE FIRST FRUIT SALE.

THE first fruit sale for the season 1898 was held at the Montreal Fruit Auction Company's rooms, on Tuesday. The sale was conducted by J. H. Stewart, the auctioneer. The fruit arrived ex steamship Matthews, and consisted of 22,000 boxes of Messina lemons, oranges, and Palermo and Sorrento oranges.

The condition of the fruit was fully up to the standard and the prices realized seemed to be satisfactory to all concerned. The attendance of buyers was large and they were principally Canadians, there being only a half dozen from the United States and they bought very sparingly, only about three or four carloads being taken. This is due chiefly to the increase of 50 per cent. in the duty. Locally, Hart & Tuckwell were the largest buyers, they having had a large number of orders on hand from western Canada buyers.

Messina lemons sold at 70c. to $1.40 for common; $1.50 to $1.85 for choice, and $2 to $2.45 for fancy. Messina oranges brought $1.80 to $4 per box, and 80c. to $2.35 per half box. Palermo oranges realized $1.30 to $1.85 per box, and Sorrentos $1.50 to $3 per box, and $1.25 to $1.80 per half box. It is impossible to make any comparisons with last season's prices, as the increase in the United States duty alters the condition of affairs considerably.

The principal buyers present were as follows: J. W. Lumsden, of New York; Mr. Kneen, of Grinnell, Collins & Kneen, of Minneapolis; Mr. Daniel, of Keokuk; G. W. Hunt and H. Brouse, of Ottawa; Mr. Steel, Mr. Mountjoy and Mr. Shettleworth, of London, Ont.; Walker, of Guelph; Dickson, of Hamilton; McWilliam, Husband, Dawson and Clemes, of Toronto; McPherson, of Winnipeg; P. Rheume, A. Legare, G. Beauchamp, L. Simard, R. Borden, of Quebec. The large local buyers were: Hart & Tuckwell, Vipond & McBride, J. F. McLean, of the Montreal Fruit Exchange; J. Bell & Co., J. J. Vipond, John Barry & Son, Bowes & McWilliams and O. & E. Hart.

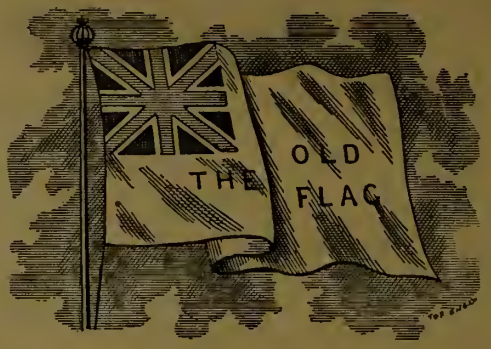
MAPLE PRODUCTS IN ENGLAND.

PRESIDENT LAPORTE, of the Montreal Wholesale Grocery Association, is a firm believer in the fact that there are much greater possibilities for Canadian maple sugar than the present stage of this industry shows. He has brought the matter before the board of trade and that body has communicated with the Quebec Department of Agriculture urging that an expert should be sent through the Province to instruct the farmers in the finer branches of sugar making.

At present, the only outlet for Canadian maple sugar is the home market and the United States, no attempt having yet been made to cultivate other centres of consumption; Great Britain, for instance.

President Laporte believes that if fine maple sugar could be offered in England it would take at once; in fact, become a delicacy, but the drawback has been that a large proportion of the output has not been dry enough to stand shipment to any great distance. With a more uniform output and a dryer sugar he believes that no difficulty will be experienced in finding buyers for the product in England.

He suggests that a standard should be established for both sugar and syrup, and that all shipments should be required to be up to that standard. A small bounty might also be offered by the Government on all sugar and syrup equal to the standards, so as to encourage farmers to improve the quality of their product.



CALIFORNIA ORANGES EASIER.

CALIFORNIA oranges, which, until within the last few days, had been higher on the Coast, have taken a slightly easier turn.

The advance of a short time ago caused the demand to fall off, hence the present easier feeling on the market.

In spite of the recent advance, however, the outlook is favorable to a steady market, for, notwithstanding the fact that the crop this season is larger than that of last year, stocks on the Coast are smaller. It is thought that about the only thing that can prevent prices being maintained is the possibility of large shipments from Spanish points.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are in receipt of a shipment of "Golden Blend" Ceylon tea, in 1-lb. packages, which shows remarkable value. It can be sold at from 25 to 30c., and leaves a good margin for the retailer, and is a trade winner, this firm state.

That there is always a demand for a really fine article is proved by the repeat orders being received for Rae's olive oil by the Montreal agents, Frank Magor & Co. "This oil is the finest ever imported into Canada," write the agents.

Frank Magor & Co., Montreal, are bringing out some new lines this spring, among them the essence of anchovies, put up by the firm of John Burgess & Son, London, England, who have made a specialty of this line for over a century.

THE BEST HOGS TO BREED.

IN a recent interview, J. W. Flavelle, manager of the Wm. Davies Co., Limited, Toronto, gave some information that every breeder and buyer should be acquainted with. Mr. Flavelle stated that, while the breeders in Canada have made much improvement in the class of hogs raised, a still greater improvement is yet possible. The thoroughbred Tamworth is the best hog for the export trade. The Yorkshire White, or a cross between the Yorkshire White and other breeds, is also satisfactory. Other breeds are objectionable from an exporter's point of view. The importance of good breeding and feeding is shown by the fact that recent cables show a difference of $2.40 per 112 lb. in value between No. 1 selection, lean, and No. 2 selection, fat, bacon. As the average hog will produce about 96 lb. bacon, this will mean a difference of over $2 between a No. 1 hog and an inferior one. The delivery of hogs in Ontario in a week amounts to about 20,000, and as about 5,000 of these are of inferior quality, the loss to the country through the raising of inferior hogs may be safely estimated at $12,000 per week.

In some portions of Ontario, notably in the counties of Oxford and Middlesex, hogs are kept confined in a pen and not given enough exercise. These hogs fatten quickly, but not well. Hogs should never be finished in less than six or seven months, and should be allowed to exercise freely.

A good ration for young hogs is roots and mixed grain, care being taken not to force the animal too quickly, but, on the contrary, to develop a long, strong body. Special emphasis should be laid on feeding at this time, because large quantities of American corn have been imported into Canada. If corn is fed generally to hogs it will mean a distinct deterioration to hogs, it will be fatal in the long run to the development of the trade. And where whey is fed corn should never be used, but oats, barley, peas, or middlings.

"Breeders should be made to realize," concluded Mr. Flavelle, "how important their hog export trade is. Eleven years ago 70 per cent. of the hogs used in our factory came from the States. Six years ago we killed our last American hog. We buy our hogs from Ontario farmers at a higher price than rules in Chicago or Buffalo, because Canadian hogs are better bred and better fed than those from across the lines. If our people adopt the same system of feeding that Americans have adopted it will mean bringing Canada's prices down to the American level."

Few of the readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER are hog breeders, but many of them buy them, and all of them are interested in the trade. The value of bacon and hams exported last year was $5,843,800, as compared with $1,970,518 four years before, and the prospects are favorable to a still further increase in the business. Such an amount of money affects every business and industry in the land. So it is in the interest of every merchant, be he a hog buyer or not, to use his influence toward a better breeding and feeding of Canadian hogs.

Last week, Mr. John R. Scott shipped a carload of potatoes, purchased on the market here, to Boston, where there is now a ready market. Since his evaporator at Camden East was opened, a few weeks ago, he purchased over 15,000 bushels of potatoes, all of which have now been disposed of and shipped away.—Napanee Beaver.

WHAT CAREER ?

THERE is no doubt that every person has a special adaptation for his own peculiar part in life. A very few—the geniuses, we call them—have this marked in an unusual degree, and very early in life.

Madame de Stael was engrossed in political philosophy at an age when other girls are dressing dolls. Mozart, when but four years old, played the clavichord, and composed minuets and other pieces still extant. The little Chalmers would preach often from a stool in a nursery, with solemn air and earnest gestures. Goethe wrote tragedies at 12, and Grotius published an able philosophical work before he was 15. Pope "lisped in numbers." Chatterton wrote good poems at 11, and Cowley published a volume of poetry in his 16th year. Thomas Lawrence and Benjamin West drew likenesses almost as soon as they could walk. Liszt played in public at 12. Canova made models in clay while a mere child. Bacon exposed the defects of Aristotle's philosophy when but 16. Napoleon was at the head of armies when throwing snowballs at Brienne. Keene played Shylock the first night almost as well as he ever did.

All these showed their bent while young, and followed it in active life. But precocity is not common, and, except in rare cases, we must discover the bias in our natures and not wait for the proclivity to make itself manifest. When found, it is worth more to us than a vein of gold.

"It is a vain thought," said George Eliot, "to flee from the work that God appoints us, for the sake of finding a greater blessing to our own souls, as if we could choose for ourselves where we shall find the fulness of the Divine Presence, instead of seeking it where alone it can be found—in loving obedience."

"I do not forbid you to preach," said a bishop to a young clergyman, "but nature does."

"The age has no aversion to preaching as such," said Phillips Brooks, "it may not listen to your preaching." But though it may not listen to your preaching, it will wear your boots, or buy your flour, or see stars through your telescope. It has a use for every person, and it is his business to find out what that use is.

You have not found your place until all your faculties are roused, and your whole nature consents and approves of the work you are doing; not until you are so enthusiastic in it that you take it to bed with you. You may be forced to drudge at uncongenial toil for a time, but emancipate yourself as soon as possible. Carey, the "Consecrated Cobbler," before he went as a missionary said: "My business is to preach the gospel. I cobble shoes to pay expenses."

If your vocation be a humble one, elevate it with more manhood than others put into it. Put into it brains and heart and energy and economy. Broaden it by originality of methods. Extend it by enterprise and industry. Study it as you would a profession. Learn everything that is to be known about it. Concentrate your faculties upon it, for the greatest achievements are reserved for the man of single aim, in whom no rival powers divide the empire of the soul. Better adorn your own than seek another's place.

Go to the bottom of your business if you would climb to the top. Nothing is small which concerns your business. Master every detail. This was the secret of A. T. Stewart's and John Jacob Astor's great success. They knew everything about their business.—"Pushing to the Front."

A PECULIAR BUSINESS.

HOW often do we hear the phrase used, especially in smaller towns and cities! Ask a business man why it is that he does not use certain methods that are used in other towns or cities and he will tell you that his is a peculiar business, and that such methods are of no use to him. Ask him why it is that his store is not kept as spic and span; why his clerks wander around in their shirt sleeves; why the grocery stove is a lounging centre for half the idle smokers of the neighborhood; why he never uses the local paper to do a little advertising, or any one of a dozen similar questions that will occur to any man who knows the country stores, and you will, in nine cases out of ten, receive the answer that his is a "peculiar business" and a peculiar town, and that people will think he is trying to put on style if his clerks don't appear in shirt sleeves; that his trade is so peculiar that they pay no attention to the newspapers, etc.

This is no fancy picture, for these very answers have been given to just such questions. No such state of affairs exists in any corner of the land. What is good storekeeping in Maine is the same in California. The treatment that brings customers in one State will have the same effect in the other. There may be some difference in the precise manner that it may be desirable to use in framing the advertising, but beyond that no peculiarity of trade or customers need be recognized by the merchant anywhere.

Good business methods in one town are good in any other. It is not the people, or the town, who are peculiar. It is the man himself. The clean store, attentive, courteous, well-dressed clerks, judicious, carefully looked-after advertising, combined with a knowledge of the business and of buying and selling—in short, good business methods—will have the same result anywhere. If business is not as brisk as you would like it to be; if people shun your store and patronize that of your competitor; if there are plenty of loafers and smokers, but no buyers; do not grumble that it is not your fault; that the trade is peculiar; that bright, up-to-date methods do not pay. You will find that the most of the peculiarity is nearer home, and that the people are pretty much the same in every corner of the land, be it city or country.—St. Paul Trade Journal.

OTTAWA CORRESPONDENCE.

OUR TRADE WITH JAMAICA.

OTTAWA, May 5 (Special).—The Department of Trade and Commerce have just received a report from the Canadian Government agent in Jamaica, in which bitter complaint is made of the injury being done Canadian trade by the inefficient steamship service. There are but three steamers per month between Halifax and Jamaica, and, as they call at Bermuda, it takes some ten days to make the trip. The direct line of ships trading to New York do it in five days, and, as they run weekly, almost the whole of the trade goes to New York. The people living in Jamaica have been using British and Canadian goods largely, and prefer them, but, on account of this inefficient steamship service, are being driven to the United States altogether.

FALSE PARCEL POST CUSTOMS DECLARATION.

The following circular has been issued by the Customs Department: "The Department is in possession of information showing that the firm of John Noble, Limited, of Manchester, Eng., send goods (wearing apparel) by parcel post to their customers in Canada, making the Customs declaration of value, which is attached to the parcels, lower than the invoice value. I have, therefore, to instruct you that on all importations from above named firm you will demand from the importer the production of the original invoice, duly certified, before accepting entry of the goods; and in no case are you to accept the value as shown on the Customs declaration attached to the parcel, for duty purposes, without first satisfying yourself, after comparing same with invoice, that it is correct."

NEW TARIFF REGULATIONS.

The regulations to be issued by the Customs Department cannot now be issued, but have to be held until the Act is amended. They will, however, be ready, and will be sent out at the same time as the amendment passes the House. F.J.D.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT INDUSTRY.

THAT the fruit growing industry of California is an enormous one is evidenced by the production of fruit for fresh, canned and cured fruit last year.

The quantity of fresh fruit used for canning purposes is estimated at 85,000,000 lbs., and the quantity shipped was 145,000,000 lb., a total of 230,000,000 lb. The shipments of cured fruits amounted to over 150,000,000 lb. For the production of this quantity some 550,000,000 to 600,000,000 lb. of fresh fruits were required. Thus the total output of fruit last year was in the neighborhood of 830,000,000 lb.

As will be seen the major portion of the fruit shipped was cured. This curing of fruit in California, owing to the improved methods now in vogue, has become a distinct industry in connection with the general fruit business. Cured fruit is another form of fresh fruit that has undergone a profitable, healthy, chemical change, whereby the excess of water is evaporated, the starch converted into sugar, and the pectine or fruit jelly is condensed, thereby rendering the cured product more digestible, wholesome and nutritious food than even the fresh fruit itself.

Nearly all varieties of fruit grown in California are cured in some form or other, but the chief varieties are the apricot, peach prune, plum, pear, nectarine, fig, apple and grape. The first curing was done in 1874, but at that time the goods received but an indifferent reception, but by 1884 the quantity produced was as follows :

	Pounds.		Pounds.
Apples	1,600,000	Peaches	550,000
Apricots	200,000	Pears	75,000
Figs	50,000	Plums	775,000
Grapes	150,000	Prunes	1,874,000
Nectarines	10,000

It will be seen that by 1884 the output of prunes was the greatest of all the fruits. This has been the case from that time onward. In 1889, 15,200,000 lb. of prunes were produced, and, in 1896, over 55,000,000 lb. In 1883, the output of cured apricots was 200,000 lb.; in 1886, it had amounted to 2,000,000 lb., and, in 1896, over 6,700,000 lb. Other fruits have shown like increases. The United States furnishes the chief market for California cured fruits, although a considerable quantity goes export to Australia, South Africa, England, Scotland, France, Germany and other points in Europe. France, the home of the prune, affords California quite a market for this cured product. The merchants of Hamburg, Germany, are developing quite a trade in California prunes, apricots, pears and peaches.

The following table shows the quantity of each variety cured during the last two years :

	1895. Pounds.	1896. Pounds.
Prunes	64,500,000	55,200,000
Peaches	24,500,000	16,460,000
Pears	5,400,000	9,650,000
Apricots	10,650,000	6,740,000
Dried grapes	4,250,000	2,690,000
Apples	4,560,000	2,350,000
Figs	2,750,000	2,160,000
Plums	4,500,000	2,100,000
Nectarines	1,350,000	625,000
Totals	122,460,000	97,975,000

As will be seen by the above table, 1896 was a poor year. The following table shows the output from 1890 to 1894, inclusive :

Year.	Pounds.	Year.	Pounds.
1890	53,700,000	1893	93,340,000
1891	66,710,000	1894	126,470,000
1892	60,700,000

GROCERS AND CIGARS.

ONE of the best paying side lines that a grocer can handle is cigars. They involve but a slight investment, and there is money in them. The sale of cigars is now an important item with all the largest Canadian grocers. If a grocer does not handle cigars he may have little or no call for them, and thus deceive himself into thinking that he would not sell any if he did have them in stock. This is a mistake.

When the men of a neighborhood know that their local grocer does not keep cigars, or, that he does not keep good cigars, they purchase their supply down town before coming home. Thus the grocer seldom has a call for them. If, however, a small select assortment of medium and fine-grade cigars are displayed in a corner of the showcase, and a sign hung up calling customers' attention to the fact that good cigars are sold, the local residents get to know it. Occasionally they buy one. If the cigars are good, and kept in proper condition, they grow careless of buying a down-town supply, and gradually transfer their cigar trade to their grocer.

Cigar selling does not involve technical knowledge or much capital. Fifty dollars will buy a good assortment of 5c. and 10c. brands. A post card to a prominent manufacturer, like J. Bruce Payne, Granby, Que., will bring the lowest wholesale prices and suggestions of the best assortment to buy. "Pharaoh" is probably the best known 10c. cigar to sell, and the "Athena" or "Pebble" the best 5c. ones. Profits on these standard lines are about 60 per cent. on cost. A few other lines may be advisable to give an assortment.

A corner of a showcase or an airtight cupboard is the best place to keep cigars. They should not be allowed to dry up nor yet remain in a damp place. In winter, a dampened sponge placed near them keeps them in prime shape. In summer they usually take care of themselves. Every grocer should handle some cigars, if only a few boxes. Do not start in with the idea that a $25 per thousand cigar should draw trade. Better pay about $35 for your 5c. lines, and $60 for the 10c. At these prices you get a good profit and are sure to increase trade. If your wholesale grocer does not keep the above brands, a thousand cigars direct from the factory will only cost a trifle for express. It is an easy way to make the rent or pay the gas bills. Keep cigar money by itself and it will surprise you how it counts up in a month.

A. J. Cameron, general merchant, Tiverton, Ont., has bought out the house and store of John Hiles, Armow, and has moved his business to that place.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, May 5, 1898.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS during the past week has been more satisfactory than for some time. Large quantities of sugar have been moving, although the demand has fallen off a little during the past few days. The refineries, towards the end of last week, made another advance of 1-16c. per. lb. in all grades of sugars. The demand for canned goods is just fair, with prices steady and unchanged. Coffees are slightly dearer in the primary markets. Most of the houses are completely cleaned out of rice, but shipments are arriving this week. A further advance in currants is cabled from Patras, and Valencia raisins are firm and meeting with a better enquiry. California prunes are dearer, although wholesalers' quotations remain much the same as they were a week ago. New crop filberts for October shipment are equal to ¼c. per lb. dearer in the primary market. Molasses is dearer. Teas are receiving a little more attention, and prices are firmer.

CANNED GOODS.

If anything, their is a little better business doing. The feature of the market is a sharp advance in the price of canned meats, quotations on canned beef being 20c. to $3 per dozen higher, according to size of tins. Canned corn is still in rather light supply with prices firm. In regard to peas and tomatoes a rather unsettled feeling obtains, with some business still being done in the latter at shaded prices. There is some enquiry for tomatoes, but buyers do not want to pay the prices asked, and it was to accommodate these that lower prices were in some instances accepted. Canned fruits are meeting with a moderate demand. Business in salmon continues steady.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

There are few if any syrups offering, and there is little or no demand. Local representatives have been notified of an advance of 3c. per gallon in the price of New Orleans molasses, and orders of Toronto houses at old prices have been refused.

RICE.

The scarcity of rice on the local market, previously noted, has during the past week become more pronounced. In fact, scarcely a bag was to be obtained, and most houses have not been able to fill orders, but have been compelled to ship goods without any rice whatever. A shipment, however, is due to arrive this week for distribution among the trade in small lots.

COFFEE.

On Saturday, Rio coffee was cabled ½ to ⅝c. per lb. dearer, but prices since then have been a little easier, with deliveries at Brazil showing some increase. At the same time, however, the general tone of the coffee market is healthier. The wholesalers report a fairly active demand; representatives of shipping houses, on the other hand, are finding business quiet.

SUGAR.

The sugar market has been somewhat excited during the past week. Beet sugars advanced to 9s. 6d. in London, but later declined 2½d. In New York on Thursday, of last week, fully 15,000 tons of raw sugar were purchased by the refiners at an advance of 1-16 to ⅛c. per lb. all round. Refined sugars advanced 1-16c. per lb. on the same day. In New York, a fair business has been done at the advance. On Thursday last the Canadian refiners also advanced their prices 1-16c. per lb.,

For Prices Current See Pages 34 and 35.

and until the last few days an active business has been done from the refineries. The requirements of wholesale buyers have, however, been satisfied for the time being, and there is not now so much interest being manifested in sugar. The demand from retailers is good, and several carload lots have been sent out during the past week on this account. The visible supply of sugar according to last report was 2,475,817 tons, against 2,682,246 tons for the same time a year ago.

NUTS.

New crop filberts for October shipment are cabled equal to ¼c. per lb. dearer.

SPICES.

The situation is much as before, prices being steady and business quiet.

TEAS.

A cable received in Toronto this week from Yokohama states that the market there has opened, and that prices are about 2 yen dearer than the opening price of last year. Indian teas in London, England, from 6d. to 10½d. per lb. have advanced fully ½d. per lb., while finest qualities are scarce, with competition keen. Low grade Indian teas are also dearer. Ceylon teas have followed suit to some extent.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS—The market is firmer, and a few sales have been made in Toronto during the week at an advance of 1s. per cwt. Wholesalers report the demand, on retail account, fair at unchanged prices.

VALENCIA RAISINS — Are meeting with better enquiry on the spot, and it now looks as if stocks, which a month ago were thought to be ample, will be inadequate to supply the demand until the new crop arrives.

PRUNES — California prunes have advanced ½c. per lb. on the Coast within the past week. Prunes of California growth are still meeting with a good demand.

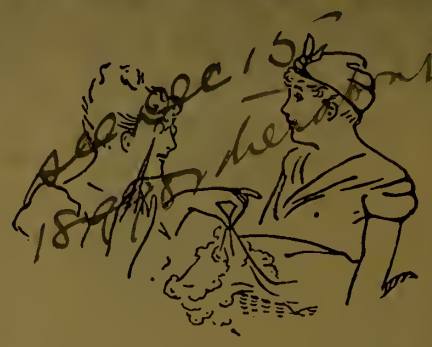
CALIFORNIA EVAPORATED FRUITS—The market keeps steady. The demand on the local market for apricots and peaches continues to fall off.

GREEN FRUITS.

The past week has been a good one, the staple fruits, oranges and lemons and bananas arriving in large quantities, and selling briskly. Pineapples are somewhat cheaper, and are selling well. Tomatoes and strawberries are arriving in fair quantities, and are selling moderately well. Both Bermuda and Egyptian onions are on the market, the former at $2 to $2.25 per case, the latter at 3¼c. per lb.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS — The feeling is quite firm. Lots are coming forward, but the demand keeps well up to the supply, and, as most dealers have shipping orders which absorb any overstocks, price are steady at last week's figures, namely, 10 to 10½c. per doz.



POTATOES — There has been quite a large movement in potatoes recently, buyers from the eastern United States having been in many parts of the province, buying freely at prices in advance of those which have been quoted here for some time. The price now quoted for carload lots is 58 to 60c. per bag. The local street market has not advanced proportionately, the price now noted on the market being about 65c.

DRIED APPLES — The market is dull, with prices about 3 to 4c. for choice lots. Some good stock is offered as low as 2½ to 3c. per lb.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Stocks are light. There is little movement, with prices steady at about 9½c. per lb.

BEANS—A firmer feeling is noted, with prices steady, at from 75 to 80c. for prime and 85 to 90c. for hand-picked.

HONEY—There is little doing. Some jobbers state that stocks are well cleared up.

MAPLE SYRUP—There has been a fair movement, with prices steady and unchanged.

VEGETABLES—There has been a general reduction in prices, most of the varieties coming in more freely. Butter beans are now on the market, at $4 per bushel. We quote: Rhubarb, 20 to 30c. per doz. bunches; onions, 5c. doz. bunches; lettuce, 20 to 30c. doz. bunches; radishes, 40 to 50c. doz. bunches; cabbage, new, $1 to $1.50; old, 40 to 60c. doz.; red cabbage, 75c. to $1 per doz.; parsley, 15 to 30c. doz. bunches; cucumbers, $1 to $1.25 per doz.; watercress, 20 to 30c. per doz. bunches; gardencress, 20 to 30c. per doz. bunches; spinach, 75c. to $1 per bunch; asparagus, 50c. to $1 per doz.; green peas, $1 to $1.10 per bush.; butter beans, $4 per bushel.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—The feature of the market this week is the abundant receipts of creamery prints, which have been arriving in large quantities, as up to May 1 the majority of winter creameries were still in operation. On the 1st of this month many of the cheese factories commenced work, and so, from this out, there will be a smaller receipt of creamery butter. A few dairy tubs are coming forward and are selling freely at about 14c. Dairy large rolls and pound prints are coming in large quantities, and are selling well at 1 to 1½c. less than last week.

CHEESE—The firm feeling noted last week is in even greater evidence this week, another advance of ¼c. being noted. A sale of a car lot at a price about equal to 8¾c. is noted. Some new fodder cheese is on the market, selling at 8 to 8½c.

PROVISIONS.

The war has had a tendency to stiffen prices somewhat, not because of a demand from the United States, but rather because, in anticipation of a possible advance, the demand has been brisk at a firmer price. Lard has advanced ¼c., and, as stocks are light, an active demand is anticipated. Long clear bacon has advanced ¼c., now being quoted at 8 to 8¼c. per lb.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

There is a good sale of fresh fish, salmon trout and whitefish selling especially well. We quote as follows: Oysters, $1.25 per gal.; fresh salmon trout, 6 to 7c.; fresh whitefish, 6 to 7c.; steak trout, 7c.; fresh steak cod, 6 to 6½c. per lb.; pickerel, 6c. per lb.; fresh pike, 5 c. per lb.; fresh perch, 4c. per lb.; fresh herring, 3½c. per lb.; Labrador herring, $5.50 per bbl. and $3 per half-bbl.; split herring, $5 per bbl. and $2.75 to $3 per half-bbl.; boneless codfish, 3½ to 5c. per lb.; pure cod, 6½ to 6¾c. per lb.; fresh water herring (heads off), $2.50 per keg; ciscoes, $1.25 to $1.30; haddies, 5½ to 6c. per lb.; fresh haddock, 5c. per lb.

GRAIN, FLOUR, BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—The Ontario wheat market is easier, a decline of 3c. in red wheat and 2c. in white and goose wheat being noted. Quotations on cars outside are as follows: Wheat, red winter, $1 to $1.02; white winter, 98c. to $1; goose, 91 to 92c. The street market has remained steady at about the prices as last week. We quote the street market as follows: White wheat, 99 to $1.01; red wheat, $1.03 to $1.04; goose wheat, 98c.; barley, 38 to 40c.; oats, 37 to 38c.; rye, 51½c.; peas, 63 to 64c. No. 1 hard Manitoba wheat remains steady at last week's figure, namely, $1.28, Sarnia freight.

FLOUR—There has been an advance of 15 to 20c. in Manitoba patents and in Manitoba strong bakers' flour. Ontario flour is firm, but unchanged. We quote as follows: Manitoba patents, $6.10 to $6.15; Manitoba strong bakers', $5.70 to $5.75; Ontario patents, $5.25 to $5.50; straight roller, $4.80 to $4.90, Toronto freights.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Business is active. Another advance, 10c. this week, is noted in standard oatmeal and rolled oats. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $4 to $4.20 in bags and $4.30 in bbls.; rolled wheat, $3.00 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $2.50; split peas, $3.75; pot barley, $3.75.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

HIDES—There is a better feeling, but no change in price. We quote: No. 1, 7½c.; No. 2, 6½c.; No. 3, 5½c.; cured, 8 to 8½c.

CALFSKINS—The market is weak with prices unaltered. We quote: No. 1 veal, 8 lbs. and up, 9c. per lb.; No. 2, 7c.; dekins, from 30 to 35c.; culls, 15 to 20c.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, May 5, 1898.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS in general groceries has been of satisfactory volume on the whole, and demand has improved for several lines. A notable feature also is the general firmness of prices, values on staple goods, with few exceptions, pointing up. Sugar has advanced. Japan tea has opened for new crop 2 yen higher at Yokohama, and importers can't get a firm offer on Barbadoes molasses. Other lines also display strength, notably meats, while jobbing prices on spices are not on a proportionate level with the increased cost of raw material.

SUGAR.

The sugar market is steadily gaining strength, and the continued strength abroad has led to a further advance here of 1-16c. per lb. all round, which makes a net gain of ⅛c. in less than eight days. This steady appreciation in price has induced a more active enquiry, as both jobbers and retailers fear that prices may go still higher. At the refineries 4½c. is now asked for standard granulated, 4 3-16c. for Canadian German, and 3 11-16 to 4⅛c. for yellow sugars. The New York market for both refined and raws was active and strong to-day, and prices for all grades of hard, and some of soft, were marked up another 1-16c. per lb., with an extensive business doing. The demand for raws was also brisk, and some large sales of 96 test centrifugals were made at 4¼c. A private cable received from London this morning reported the market for cane firm at an advance of 1½d., with a rising tendency, quoting Java at 11s. 7½d. Beet is active and ¾d. higher at 9s. 6d. for April and May. Private mail advices received to-day state that ocean freights on beet sugar, from Hamburg to New York, have advanced 5s. to 7s. 6d., and are now quoted at 12s. 6d. to 15s. Freights and all insurance rates are also higher from West Indian ports. Cuban ports will be closed for several months and Porto Rico will also be out of the market, and the same conditions exist with regard to Manila. All the above facts will have a tendency to strengthen the local situation in the near future.

SYRUPS.

With light stocks, syrups are firmly held, but business is very light.

MOLASSES.

There is no abatement in the strength displayed by Barbadoes molasses at primary markets, and importers here find it impossible to get firm offers, at even the recent advance 9c. first cost. With the advance noted last week by the guild, demand has been wider in its character, and jobbers on Monday put up prices another cent, viz., 26c. in car lots and 27c. in puncheons, which is an advance of another cent. A private letter from Halifax, speaking of the molasses situation, says: "The war which has now broken out between Spain and the United States should improve the condition of the molasses market very materially, as stock cannot be obtained from Porto Rico, whence we expected to draw large supplies. Already our market has responded by an advance of from 1 to 2c. on Porto Rico and other grades, and expect to see prices go still higher. Barbadoes, so far, seems unchanged, but an advance is expected, as, no doubt, there will be enquiry for cargoes which would otherwise have been ordered from Porto Rico. Our refinery has already purchased several hundred puncheons of Barbadoes and other kinds, so that, all things considered, it seems as if there was a brighter future for molasses than has been known for some years past."

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market has ruled quiet during the week and demand during the past few days or so has not been up to the expectations of holders, who were calculating on an active enquiry. In fact, a disposition to shade prices has made itself apparent, and if the consumptive demand continues as moderate as it is it may become more pronounced. This feeling applies chiefly to canned vegetables which have been held very firm for the past month or so. In salmon, no definite news has been received from British Columbia, but it is stated that packers on the Columbia have signed an agreement to maintain prices on 1898 pack at 85c. for talls, 95c. for flats, and 62½c. for half-pounds.

TEAS.

The chief news of the week has been the cable advices that the market on new crop tea opened at Yokohama 2 yen higher than last year. This is about equivalent to a rise of $1 per pical. It is believed in this connection that the higher standard called for by the United States inspection after May 1, which is fully 1c. per pound above last season's, will direct the large majority of high grade early crop teas to that market, especially as no duty is imposed. Locally, the enquiry for tea has been more active from jobbers, and several round lots of Japans have sold at 15½ to 16c.

SPICES.

While there has been no quotable change in spices, the tone of the market is very firm. In fact, considering the advance in raw material, many staple lines, particularly pepper, is not proportionately high enough.

COFFEE.

The coffee market rules unsettled, but there has been no well established change yet. In fact, prices are nominal.

RICE.

The firm disposition is fully retained, and business in Japan is quoted at $5.25 to $5,50, and "B" standard at $4 to $4.25.

DRIED FRUIT.

Cables continue firm from Patras, but jobbers here, who are fairly well supplied, take little interest in the rise abroad.

Valencia raisins remain quiet and steady.

Nothing in an import way has been done on local account.

California raisins are stiff but dull. Prices generally are steady.

No fresh supplies of California prunes are to be had, and prices are very strong in tone, though there is no quotable change in jobbing prices. Both French and Austrian goods continue quiet and steady as last quoted.

Figs and dates are quiet and unchanged.

Evaporated apricots are steady, and so are peaches and pears.

GREEN FRUIT.

The chief feature of the week is naturally the auction sales, reports of which are given elsewhere. Bananas hold steady at $1.50 to $1.75 for No. 1, and 50c. to $1 for No. 2. Pineapples are firm at 8 to 15c. each.

DRIED APPLES.

Evaporated apples are firm at 9½ to 10c., while dried are steady at 4 to 4½c.

APPLES.

Unchanged at $3 to $5 per bbl., as to grade.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There has been an improved demand for eggs, and the market was more active with a larger volume of business doing, and prices were sustained at 9 to 9½c. per dozen in lots, and at 10c. in single cases.

BEANS—There was no change in beans, the market was quiet at 70 to 75c. for primes, and at 85 to 90c. for choice hand-picked per bushel.

HONEY—Business in honey is of a very limited character, and prices are more or less nominal. We quote: White clover comb, 11 to 12c.; dark, 8 to 10c.; white strained, 6 to 7c., and dark, 4 to 5c.

MAPLE PRODUCT — The call for maple product was fair, and as supplies are not excessive, prices are fairly well sustained. Syrup in wood is selling at 4¾ to 5c. per lb., and in tins at 45 to 50c., as to size. Sugar moves freely at 6 to 6¼c. per lb.

PROVISIONS.

A fair trade was done in provisions, and the market was moderately active, with no change in prices to note. We quote as follows: Canadian pork, $15.50 to $16 per barrel; pure Canadian lard, in pails, at 8¼ to 8½c., and compound refined at 5½ to 5¾c. per lb.; hams, 11½ to 12c.; bacon, 12c. per lb.

Canadian meats have all been advanced by packers owing to light stocks and the position of outside markets, but jobbers have not yet altered their range.

FLOUR, GRAIN, ETC.

Naturally, with the excitement south of the line, grain values here have appreciated to a material extent. Latterly, however, the market has had a very irregular tone. We quote: No. 2 white oats, 38c., ex store; 38½c. afloat, May delivery; peas, 69½c. ex store; buckwheat, 53c. ex store.

There have been further sensational advances in flour since last writing, prices being all the way from 20 to 25c. higher per barrel, making a clear jump of over a half-dollar per barrel in a fortnight.

Business in feed was dull and prices were unchanged. We quote as follows: Ontario winter wheat bran, $13.50 to $14.50; shorts, $16 per ton in bulk; Manitoba bran, $14, and shorts, $16 per ton, including bags.

The demand for rolled oats was slow, and the market is quiet at $3.90 per bbl., and at $1.90 per bag.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

Cheese remains much the same as it was, and there is little prospect of any important development until new make is on the market. Buying of odd lots of fodder make continues, and 7½ to 7⅝c. have, it is reported, being paid at country points.

The estimated stock of cheese in Liverpool, according to cables to-day, was 56,700 boxes, against 79,434 at the same time last year. This proves pretty conclusively that the consumption that has been going on is enormous.

The butter market rules rather easy in its tone, and business was transacted in finest creamery at 17c., which is now considered an extreme figure.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Both granulated and yellow sugars are higher than they were last week and still act strongly.

Importers here find it absolutely impossible to get a firm offer on Barbadoes molasses at the Islands.

Flour here is again 25c. per bbl. higher than it was at last report. This is a rise of over half-a-dollar a barrel.

Late cables from the Islands quote Barbadoes molasses 1c. higher at the Islands, 10c. now being asked. The wholesale guild advanced their price another cent all round this week.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,
ST. JOHN, N.B., May 3, 1898.

THE past week has been a busy one. Values are moving up rapidly, particularly in flour. Dealers have bought quite largely in some cases, following the market well up. Beans have also had attention, but dealers have been more slow to move, and stocks are not large. Western shippers are not sellers. In pork and beef advances west have been rapid, particularly in beef. Our buyers have bought but lightly. Molasses is a feature of the market, but there is not much movement, as stocks are limited and holders not pushing sales. In tea, a fair, steady trade is reported. Some few sales were made to American buyers on account of the expected duty there, but our dealers carry very limited stocks of the grades used there. In spice, the market inclines easier. Cream of tartar is rather higher, but not much change is expected. Chemicals show little change. Sugar tends higher, and has increased interest.

OIL—While there is no change in the price of burning oil, higher prices are looked for. This is the quiet season, and there is a difficulty in buying ahead, as it is difficult to get storage, and dealers do not care to sell for future delivery. There is a fair, steady sale. Cod oil is very scarce, and there is but little demand.

SALT—Arrivals are less regular now that the Liverpool mail steamers are not coming to St. John. There is, however, coarse salt afloat for here, and fair stocks are held. The last arrival was all sold, ex vessel, to fishermen. Prices are firm. To buy right it should be bought while landing. Factory-filled, which has a small sale compared with the coarse, shows no change in price. There is a good demand at this season. Canadian salt, particularly that for dairy use, has good sale. We quote: Liverpool coarse, 45 to 48c.; English factory-filled, 90c. to $1; Canadian fine, $1 per bag; cheese and butter salt, bulk, $2.50 to $2.60 per bbl.; 5-lb. bags, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.85 to $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c. each; 10-lb. wood boxes, 12c. each; cartons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; English bottled salt, $1.25 to $1.30.

CANNED GOODS.—The interest in heavier lines has rather detracted from the interest in this line. There is, however, steady sale. Retail and wholesale prices are near together in vegetables. Wholesale dealers, however, hold prices firm, as stock is not large, and there is still a long season before new goods come. Oysters, though there is no change, tend higher. Canned meats have been advanced by packers. This week salmon are still low. Lobsters will continue to be scarce and high.

GREEN FRUIT—Business is active; a car of choice California oranges was received this week. Prices are rather higher, and a further advance is looked for. Valencias are about out of the market. A few bloods and regular Messinas are offered. Lemons have a good sale, and keep low. Bananas move freely at even prices. Apples are not a factor, though a few are still moving. Pineapples are in light demand. Strawberries are arriving freely, and are good stock. Prices are rather lower. Rhubarb to hand is small, and prices keep quite high. A few cucumbers are seen.

DRIED FRUIT—This is still a quiet line. Raisins and currants are dull. The latter hold their price. In California goods, such as prunes, apricots and peaches, there is still a fair business doing. The movement the past year has been large, the sales being far larger than any former year. Apricots, particularly, are higher. Dried and evaporated apples are quiet. In onions, Bermudas and Egyptian hold the market. The former are rather lower this week. They are the nicest onion coming to this market. Dates have a fair sale. Figs are dull. There are some good 2-crown loose muscatels here that could be bought low.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Butter tends easier. There is, however, and will be, a good demand for right quality. Rolls, prints and lump butter are being largely sold. Some western creamery continues to arrive, but the quantity is not large, and local receipts are increasing. Eggs are firmer and rather higher prices are asked, shippers holding them back because of the low figures ruling. Cheese is dull. It is thought when new arrives there will be improved business.

SUGAR—prices are higher and refineries will not sell futures. Stocks are not large, and are principally in granulated.

MOLASSES — Prices are higher, chiefly in Porto Rico, stocks of which are light. It is thought there is little chance of further arrivals, at least while the war lasts. In Barbadoes, dealers are placing orders at the Island rather more freely. The stock of old molasses is light this spring, but circumstances are such that it is good value. Very little if any syrup is moving.

FISH—The week has been a quiet one. The war will tend to make business in many lines dull. Fresh fish, which have considerable attention at this season, are scarce. There has been a rather better catch of Gaspereaux this week, but not a large one. Dry fish show no change; there is light business. Pickled fish are dull. Smoked herring are firm at the higher prices, being scarce, there is but fair sale. Finnan haddies have less movement. Fresh haddock are scarce. Halibut show fair receipts. We quote as follows: Large cod, $3.15 to $3.25; medium, $3 to $3.20; pollock, $1.80 to $1.90; Grand Manan pickled herring, $1.85 to $1.95 per half-bbl.; smoked herring, 8 to 9c. per box; Canso, pickled, $5 per bbl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4½c.; cod, 6 to 7c.; finnan haddies, 4 to 4½c.; fresh Gaspereaux, 60c. per 100; fresh halibut, 8 to 9c. per lb.

PROVISIONS—Values are higher and stocks light. Domestic mess pork, which has had chief sale here this spring, is quite scarce. In plate beef, American packers have advanced prices very much during the week. Dealers have bought lard quite freely this week, and prices tend higher. In smoked meats the tendency is also upward.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—These continue active lines, particularly flour, which is still advancing in price. Millers show a wide range in quotation, and those who are keeping behind the others are getting the business Prices have advanced about a dollar per barrel. Oatmeal is also higher, but buyers are not active. Oats tend upward. Feed shows but little advance, as it has been high; there is but fair sale. Cornmeal is marked up this week. Beans have had attention, but buyers have not bought largely, prices advancing rather too quickly, while dealers are backward. There is a fair stock for the season. Barley and peas are scarce, and prices have again been marked up. Seeds are beginning to move more freely. Prices, since last week, show no change. Dealers now have full stocks. We quote as follows: Manitoba flour, $6.50 to $6.65; best Ontario, $6 to $6.20; medium, $5.50 to $5.75; oatmeal, $4.30 to $4.45; cornmeal, $2.15 to $2.25; middlings, $20 to $22; bran, $18 to $19; oats, 40 to 45c.; hand-picked beans, $1.20; prime, 95c. to $1; yellow eye beans, $1.75; split peas, $3.80 to $3.90; round, $3.25 to $3.40; pot barley, $3.80 to $3.90; hay, $9 to $9.50; timothy seed, American, $1.70 to $2.15; do., Canadian, $2 to $2.40; mammoth clover, 6 to 7c.; alsike, 7¾ to 8½c.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

A. L. Goodwin received a car of choice California oranges this week.

F. R. Barbour & Co., retail grocers and feedmen, have been closed up under a bill of sale.

Grand Manan reports catch of lobsters light. Quite a number of Grand Manan vessels are going to the Magdalen's for herrings.

Business in Digby is reported good. The well-known firm of G. I. Letteney & Bro. are building an addition to their store, and many other signs of improvement are seen.

Canning, Nova Scotia, reports improvements. The old-fashioned country store is getting hard to find, at least in the towns. Rupert Harris is the first to put in a plate glass front in Canning.

Shaw Bros., our largest bakers, are about to build a modern bakery, having very much outgrown their present stand. Just here it might be said the advance in flour has already caused an advance of 1c. in biscuits and bread.

Three of the mercantile brokers are moving this spring. F. H. Tippet & Co. move from Dock to Water street; Mr. James Harding and Mr. Charles Harding from their present office on the North wharf to offices at the head of the wharf.

The shipment of Canadian flour to the West Indies by the last steamer turned out a success, and enquiries for much larger shipments have been received. This is a trade that if rightly looked after has large possibilities. The great need is a new line of steamers.

The winter port business is over for the season, the last of the steamers, the Gallia, of the Beaver Line, sailing this week. The season has been a most successful one, and work will begin at once on increased accommodation for next year. The gentlemen who are connected with the different lines, and who now spend their winters with us, are very much thought of by our business men and others, and their going away is regretted. There is, however, the hope that they will be with us next winter.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

WINNIPEG, May 2, 1898.

THE talk is still war and rumors of war. Markets have all visibly stiffened, though there are few definite advances in prices. Wheat has been doing some startling things through the week, the highest point reached being $1.25 afloat Fort William. The market is easier to-day and closed at noon on Saturday at $1.18 afloat Fort William. There are some happy farmers in Manitoba this week. It is generally conceded that anything over 55c. per bushel is profit, and a number of farmers who held through the winter cleared anywhere from $1,000 to $3,000 on their wheat during the week. The rise now is unquestionably due to the war, and flour is following in the footsteps of the wheat, though, of course, more slowly. Within the past two weeks the price of flour has risen 90c. per barrel. Bread has gone up a cent per loaf, and is likely to go higher. Business is good and the outlook generally is bright. Seeding is about concluded and the farmers are ready for warm rains to start the crop. The weather so far has been rather cold.

I do not think I mentioned the fact that Robert Robertson, brother of Prof. Robertson, is now managing the produce department of J. Y. Griffin's pork packing establishment. Mr. Griffin, by the way, is at the Coast just now, looking into their numerous interests there. As an indication of how business is increasing in the west, one large commission house showed your correspondent the figures for its turn over of business for the month of March this year, as compared with the same month last year. The business this year was over twice as much as last year.

FLOUR—For the 98-lb. sack patent, $2.90; strong bakers', $2.70; 2nd bakers', $2.25; XXXX, $1.50. Bran, per ton, $12; shorts, $14.

CEREALS—Rolled oats, $2; cornmeal, $1.45; split peas, $2.25; beans, $1.20 to $1.30. These prices, however, are expected to advance at any moment; in fact, it is likely there will be an advance before this gets to press.

CURED MEATS—This market continues very firm, and is expected to advance in some lines during the next two or three days. At present, prices are as follows: Smoked ham, 11½c.; bellies, 12c.; backs, 11c.; shoulders, 8½c.; dry salt, long clear bacon, 9c.; short do., American, 8¾c.; square shoulders, 8½c.; backs, 9½c.; smoked clear bacon, 9¼c.

LARD—This market is also firm. Pure lard, 20 lb. pails, $1.90; 50 lb. pails, $4.65; 3 lb. tins, per case, $6.

BUTTER—No Manitoba creamery yet to hand. Supplies for B.C. are being brought from Ontario. Nominally creamery is 23 to 23½c. The supply of dairy butter is a little more plentiful than last week, but any lots offered are picked up at once, price ranging from 17 to 19c., according to quality.

CHEESE—Market stationary at 10 to 10½c., according to size of cheese.

EGGS—Market dropped from 15 to 11½c. during week, which has been expected, and it is anticipated that by the middle of the coming week the market will be uniform and steady at 11c.

CANNED GOODS—Market steady and stiff, with no inclination to sell at anything but highest quotations (this is, of course, in meat and vegetables). Canned fruits have hardly changed a fraction for months. Tomatoes, $3.10 to $3.25, according to brand; corn, $2.10 to $2.20; peas, $2.20 to $2.25. In meats, the advance of 30c. per case noted last week is maintained, but it is impossible to quote prices in detail as the brands are so numerous.

COFFEE—The threatened advance of last week has not come, and Rios are still 10 to 10½c., but an advance is still anticipated.

DRIED FRUITS—Market is firm. Apricots have advanced ½c., and are now 11½c., apples, 11 to 12c.; dried, 7c.; peaches, peeled, 18c.; unpeeled, 11½c.; prunes, 5¾ to 11c., according to sizes. Small prunes are still scarce, and likely to advance.

RICE—Situation is practically unchanged. Little Japan left on this market is selling at 6c., and other grades in proportion.

GREEN FRUITS—About the last shipments of navel oranges for this market have arrived; price, $4. Mediterranean sweets are in, and are good stock. St. Michael's will arrive next week. Seedlings have not been handled here much yet, but are now arriving freely. It is expected that an advance will come in oranges any day, and will amount to about 50c. per case. This advance is due not alone to icing cars, but the increased price at point of shipment. Lemons are still $4 per case, but prices will be governed for the future by sales at Montreal. A car sent through without ice is a total failure, and held to shipper's order. Every fruit man makes a wry face when apples are mentioned. Good apples (when you find any) are $4.50 per barrel. Just what the situation will be in regard to bananas no one seems to know. At present the supply is sufficient, and the price unchanged at $2.50 to $3.50, but if the blockade is continued there will, no doubt, be a different story next week. Pines have ceased to arrive. Strawberries are coming in pretty freely, and are $6 for the 24-quart case. Florida tomatoes are $4 for the 6-basket crate; pie plant, $1.75 per 50-lb. box; California celery, $1.25 per doz.; cucumbers, $1.75 per doz. Shipments of Egyptian onions are expected from Liverpool this week.

A NEAT GROCERY.

A representative of THE GROCER, on entering the store of A. O. Galaineau, Montreal, was struck with the scrupulous neatness of the place. In conversation with Mr. Galaineau, he said: "Yes, it pays to have everything up to the mark, for, when customers come in, if they do not feel much like buying, it helps to rally them."

GROCERS AND EARLY CLOSING.

A REPRESENTATIVE of THE CANADIAN GROCER has interviewed a number of the principal Toronto grocers in regard to early closing. The opinions expressed speak for themselves.

R. Donald, King street east, on being asked his opinion, replied sharply: "Of course, I believe in early closing. I believe in it to such an extent that I close at six o'clock every evening, but Saturday, when I remain open till seven. And I find this a most satisfactory arrangement, getting more business and having more time to myself. I would close Saturday afternoon if my competitors would."

Swan Bros., King street east, close at the same hours as Mr. Donald, and they, too, express satisfaction with the results of so doing. When asked if he was in favor of Saturday afternoon off, Mr. Henry Swan replied: "No, I cannot say that I am. The conditions of trade are such that it would be foolish on our part to endeavor to institute such a change. The retailer has a duty to the consumer, and, if the public demands that we keep open on Saturday afternoon we are bound to do so. We have tried many experiments at long and short hours, and are of the opinion that our present length of day's work is the proper one, especially for this street, where there is not much evening trade. The conditions might be different on Queen street."

Thanking Mr. Swan, THE GROCER representative immediately hied to Queen street, and finding Mr. Radcliffe, corner Parliament and Queen streets east, asked his opinion on the matter.

Mr. Radcliffe was found to be out-and-out in favor of shorter hours. "But," he said, "the difficulty of introducing short hours in a neighborhood like this is that, through jealousy of smaller, corner stores, the larger establishments do not keep to any agreement regarding shorter hours. Without united effort it would be very difficult to close early and keep one's customers. I would be willing at any time to agree to close as early as any of the merchants, and I unhesitatingly express the opinion that such early closing would be a benefit to all concerned. It knocks a clerk out to be at his post from eight in the morning till nine in the evening, and after eleven on Saturday evening. I give my clerks two nights a week off, but would much prefer to give them five, if not six, evenings. I believe such a policy would be a good one.

A. J. Johnson, Yonge street, was tired hearing of early closing, as the experience of the past had been that those most ready to agree to close early had been the first to break the agreement. Early closing would undoubtedly be beneficial, but now, with the fruit season coming on, it would be foolish to begin closing early.

J. S. Roberts, Yonge street, had also wearied somewhat of hearing the subject discussed. Almost every kind of a scheme, even to early-closing by-laws, had been tried but found lacking. Mr. Roberts is firmly convinced that the only feasible way of instituting early closing would be for the grocers in one district to agree to close, and live up to the agreement, regardless of grocers in other localities. He thought it could be easily arranged on Yonge street.

G. J. Melhuish has recently reduced his length of day's work by closing at 8 o'clock in the evening, instead of 9. He would not be prepared to close earlier than that during the fruit season, but after it is over would gladly go in for any move toward shorter hours.

A VISITOR FROM MANITOULIN ISLAND.

MR. R. W. NEILSON, of Mr. A. Neilson's general store, Manitowaning, Ont., was in Toronto this week on a buying trip. Mr. Neilson came by boat, navigation being open much earlier than usual this season. The boat made two trips in April this year, which is rather an exception to the general rule.

Trade in Manitoulin Island is much better. The farmers, who have gone a good deal into stock raising, got higher prices last fall, and the present outlook is even better. Last year, perhaps a thousand head of cattle went from Manitowaning and two thousand from the rest of the island. Of sheep and lambs, perhaps three times as many were exported. Besides local buyers, there are buyers from Owen Sound, Guelph, Fergus, and other Ontario points, for the stock. The island is well adapted to this industry, as there is plenty of grazing land on which stock can be turned loose in the spring and left there till the fall.

The railway for the island is not yet under way, and the charter of the present company expires in June. The line would run from Little Current on the north shore to join the C.P.R. on the mainland, a few bridges being necessary to join the island with the shore. A local deputation went to Ottawa and the answer of the Government indicated that the next time Parliament voted railway subsidies the Manitoulin line would not be forgotten. There is plenty of power for an electric railway connecting Manitowaning with Little Current if one was thought necessary.

A good many tourists go to the island in summer, and there is excellent trout and bass fishing as well as good boating. Mr. Neilson spoke well of Manitowaning as a prettily situated place on a fine big bay. He is a good type of the energetic healthy young Canadian.

TRADE CHAT.

BRAY BROTHERS, grocers, Sherbrooke, Que., have removed to the store lately occupied by Ballentyne & Co.

The grocery store of J. H. Murray & Co., Brantford, Ont., has been renovated and repainted.

A new cheese factory and creamery commenced operations at Petworth, Ont., on Monday, this week.

John Coutts, grocer, 55 Parliament street, Toronto, has moved to the corner of Parliament and Gerrard streets.

Hugh Walker & Son, wholesale fruit dealers, Guelph, Ont., are placing an electric elevator in their warehouse.

Both the receipts of and demand for maple syrup and sugar has been brisk throughout Manitoba this season.

Shippers have been notified that no more shipments of oats can be sent to Liverpool via Portland until the war is over.

A Clerk's Association is being formed in Berlin with the object of having the working hours during the summer season shortened.

The creamery department of the cheese factory at Springfield, Ont., still continues to run, 1,200 pounds of butter being made on Monday last.

A lobster measuring twenty-seven inches was caught at Lance de Loup, Cape Breton, N.S., last week. Another weighing fourteen pounds was caught in the lake.

Joseph Ruddy, manager of the Slingsby Manufacturing Co., Brantford, Ont., has left that firm and accepted the secretaryship of the Brantford Starch Works.

This spring 70,000,000 white fish fry will be sent out from the Sandwich fish hatchery. The fry will be placed in Lakes Huron, Erie and Ontario and the Detroit River.

During the last four or five years several millions of Pacific salmon have been set free in Lake Superior as an experiment. This season they are being caught in considerable numbers, and are expected to prove a most important product of Lake Superior.

The east end grocers of St. Thomas will close their stores, on and after May 1, at 7 p.m. The west end grocers have followed this practice for years. Citizens should make their purchases before 6 p.m., so that they may be delivered in daylight.

The oatmeal mill at Pilot Mound, Man., intends closing down. The proprietor gives as his reasons that, owing to the low price of oats in the United States and the small tariff on oatmeal, United States manufacturers are able to undersell him in the Manitoba market.

A factory for canning dried codfish is to be established at Lockport, N.S., which is expected to require 1,000 quintals of fish per month. Samples of fish prepared by the new process have been pronounced excellent in many parts of Canada and the United States.

ENGLISH COTTONS COMING IN.

IT IS reported that a quantity of English white cottons have been sold in Montreal for July delivery. Some months ago a few wholesale houses considered the question of importing white cottons, but found that the duty practically prohibited their doing so. Recently, however, several large retail concerns are believed to have made heavy purchases. The goods are different to domestics, and it is a question if they will suit the Canadian trade. In any case, whatever purchases are made this season will be largely experimental.

A Montrealer, who is well posted, summed the case up as follows: "It is doubtful if these English white cottons will prove very dangerous to the domestic article. The people are used to a different class of stuff and will not take to the imported. Anyway the Canadian mills won't stand by and see their market taken from them. Prices are inclined to be shaky as it is, and there is not the same solid understanding between the Dominion and Merchants' companies that there used to be. It would be a mistake to buy any quantity of English goods, for as soon as the importations amount to anything you will see a drop in prices."

Another gentleman to whom THE REVIEW spoke, ventured the opinion that the trade will certainly see a drop in cotton prices by June. "The shirt men," said he, "buy their goods in July and August, and it is likely that the Canadian mills will issue a new price list before the 25 per cent. preferential clauses come into operation. That will give them a chance to 'scoop' the English manufacturers."

In any case, the fact of either the wholesale or retail trade buying imported cottons in any quantity must have the affect of unsettling the price of domestics.—Dry Goods Review.

CHANCES FOR MAPLE SUGAR IN ENGLAND.

IN our advertising columns reference is this week made to the possibilities for maple sugar in the English market. Appended is some interesting correspondence in reference to the matter that the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture, at Quebec, has had with the Imperial Institute in London. It will be seen from the correspondence that maple sugar has been already marketed in England, and, that, providing the quality is right, there is a prospect of a good market. The Department of Agriculture sent copies of the correspondence to the board of trade at Montreal, and that body asked President Laporte, of the Wholesale Grocers' Association, to report on the matter. Mr. Laporte has done so, and the board of trade have acted in accordance with his suggestions, which are as follows :

That information should be sought from European dealers as to the size of cakes that would suit their trade, also, as to the size of tins that the syrup should be put up in.

That the Provincial Government send an expert throughout the country (Province) to teach the farmers how to make good sugar and syrup. (This is necessary because a great deal of the sugar made in this Province is not dry enough to ship a long distance, and the syrup is boiled in pans that darken it, and is, moreover, made too thin to keep during transit in warm weather.)

That a standard should be established for sugar and for syrup, and that all the shipments of these products to the Old Country should be required to be up to the standard thereof.

That the Government should offer a small bounty for all sugar and syrup coming up to the standard, so as to induce the farmers to improve the quality of their product and increase its production. There is a precedent for such action in that a large bounty is now given to beet sugar makers.

That it is believed that a large trade could be done with England if the foregoing suggestions were carried out.

The correspondence that led up to this action is given herewith :

IMPERIAL INSTITUTE ROAD, London, S.W.
March 2, 1898.

S. SYLVESTRE, ESQ., Secretary Department of Agriculture, Quebec.

DEAR SIR,—Your letter of 8th ult. only reached me on 28th.

Regarding maple sugar, as I have before reported, the demand is, and has been, a very small one, limited to a few confectioners, whilst in the past, the demand for maple syrup has practically not existed at all. People here, as you may be aware, do not eat buckwheat and other hot cakes, and, to my mind, the chances for syrup would be to have it adopted as a substitute for golden syrup, treacle, etc.

However, as requested, I am trying to obtain for you reports on the subject.

This morning, I have received a letter from Tallmadge & Co., of 54 Tithebarn street, Liverpool, who claim to be the firm handling the most maple sugar in this country.

They say: "We might say that we have had a great deal of trouble with the article (sugar). It does not keep well in this climate, and we intend in future to only sell maple syrup, and have written to a manufacturer in the United States for quotations. But, if you will recommend to us a good man in Canada for this article, we should give him the preference. We shall be glad if you will kindly ask your friends to supply us with samples and lowest prices for same."

The above I regard as important, and would ask you to kindly give the matter immediate attention. If I may say so, the enquiry should be referred to firms who are used to doing business upon a large scale, and who can handle the same in a manner to compete with Americans. Whoever quotes must remember that he will have to compete with lowest American prices, and that he must send samples which represent bulk; otherwise, there will be trouble later on. The matter must also be attended to quickly, for Americans are very prompt in such affairs.

Prices must, of course, be quoted c.i.f., i.e., freight paid to Liverpool, as quoting in Canada gives a man here no idea of what the article will really cost. As the new samples may not be yet available, let them send now some of what they have, explaining the circumstances.

Maple syrup, if worked up right, has a future, but great care must be exercised regarding quality, etc.

Samples should be sent direct and care taken that all information must accompany them, stating clearly prices and terms, what quantity can be supplied, how long it will take to send same over, etc.

I emphasize these points, because, in so many cases, carelessness as to details has militated against Canadian exporters. The Americans have won their hold on this market by carefully studying its requirements, and, as in the case of maple syrup, probably much of the sugar from which the American syrup is made comes from Canada, it seems to be a pity that we cannot do any trade that is going.

I am writing to Messrs. Tallmadge that I have referred the matter to you, and await further advice.

Evaporated Fruits.—I have an enquiry from a large Hamburg German firm for the names of Canadian exporters of evaporated fruits. I have a few Ontario addresses, but none from the Province of Quebec. There is a very large demand for evaporated apples, and the new German regulations prohibiting the importation of American apples into the empire provides an opportunity for Canada. There is no direct steamer between Montreal and Hamburg. The names of the enquirers are W. Frey & Co., of Hamburg, and you might give me any names you have.

Again, going back to maple sugar, I am making other enquiries in the direction indicated, and will report again.

Yours faithfully,
(Signed) HARRISON WATSON,
Curator.

IMPERIAL INSTITUTE ROAD, LONDON, S.W.,
March 5, 1898.

S. SYLVESTRE, Esq., Secretary Department Agriculture, Quebec :

DEAR SIR,—I enclose you a letter received from Mr. D. Stewart Thompson, of 33 Bath street, Leith, Scotland, which he has furnished in reply to my enquiry.

You will see that his views differ materially from those of Messrs. Tallmadge, sent you a few days ago. He is a broker or merchant, and supplies manufacturing confectioners and others, and his name was given to me by one of the largest confectioners.

If you should decide to follow up his suggestion, prompt action should be taken, as the sugar season will commence shortly. There can be no doubt that to introduce sugar money must be spent in one way or another, and there seems to be no reason why the public should not be educated up to like both the sugar and the syrup.

As I may see one of the large manufacturing confectioners, I will send you any further report he may make.

Yours faithfully,
(Signed) HARRISON WATSON,
Curator.

March 2, 1898.

DEAR SIR,—I am obliged for yours of 28th ult. re maple sugar. I have imported this for 12 years, since 1886, from Canada to this country and, therefore, can speak from experience gained during that time. I know most, if not all, the firms in Great Britain which handle maple sugar, and, as I wrote you last year, the trade is not a large one, but no doubt if proper means were taken, it might be increased.

Re the questions in your letter.

1. Does the climate affect the appearance of the maple sugar?

The climate has about the same effect on it here as in Canada. When exposed for any length of time, it assumes a whitish appearance. This certainly affects the retail sale, but does not hurt it for manufacturing purposes as it does not affect the flavor of it and when melted over it regains its natural color.

2. Does it keep well?

Pure maple sugar will retain its flavor for years. I have known it to be kept in original blocks for three or four years and when made into confectionery be as good as ever.

3. Does any confectioner convert it into syrup?

Several firms have tried making it from the sugar, but the sale was so limited, they gave it up. Efforts have been made again and again to introduce the syrup and create demand for it, but, it has never been successful. When imported direct it does not keep well, but soon ferments and turns sour. The maple sugar, there is some hope for, but I fear very little for the syrup.

There are many ways by which, in my opinion, the sale might be increased. Heretofore, there has been so little in it that it has not been worth while devoting much time to it, but, if the Government of Quebec would take it up and work the business properly, in time, no doubt, a good trade could be done in it. As you suggest, much might be done by exhibiting it and giving samples away, or a better plan perhaps would be to sell it in small quantities, for people appreciate a thing much better and tell more about it when they pay for it. I have had exhibits of maple sugar in almost all the large exhibitions, but this, of course, has helped to introduce it.

Another plan would be careful and judicious advertising, not so much to bring it before the people, but before the manufacturers, confectioners, etc, also by sending them samples, calling upon them, etc., and continually keeping it before them until a trade is established. There are many ways in which this could be done, and, if the Department of Agriculture would care to write me about it, I would be willing to give them any information I could, or, if they wish me to take the matter on this side of the water for them, I would be willing to consider any proposal they may wish to make.

As I am a Canadian born and brought up in St. John, N.B., everything connected with Canada is interesting to me. I lived for many years in St. John, and have traveled considerably in Canada and the United States, and have now been living in the Old Country, London, Edinburgh, Paris, etc, for several years, so that I have a fair idea of the trade of both countries.

I shall be pleased to hear from you or the Minister of Agriculture for Quebec, at any time on the subject, and trust that this may lead to the development of this branch of Canadian industry.

Yours trully,
(Signed) W. STEWART THOMPSON.

TRADE IN OTHER COUNTRIES THAN OUR OWN.

SOME of the chief holders of Jordan shelled almonds have, it is rumored, concluded to withdraw offerings, in view of the prospect that no more stock will come forward direct. A cable from Malaga received recently, from a reliable house, reports an advance of 2s. 6d. over last cable prices. The larger portion of the stock in London is said to be old goods.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

A United States paper says that, owing to the advance in sugar, higher prices on condensed milk are looked for in the near future. It is understood that salesmen for the jobbing houses have been instructed not to sell except in a small way, to keep their customers fairly supplied for immediate trade requirements.

THE CALIFORNIA PRUNE CROP.

Mail advices from California quote Santa Clara prunes on a basis of 3c. for the four sizes, but state that it is difficult to complete assortments. Continuing, the report says: "The new crop is not looked forward to with a very assured feeling. It has sustained frost damage, and at best can only be a very moderate one; but as such an extremely dry year has not heretofore been experienced, it cannot be known how far it will mature satisfactorily. In this respect the San Joaquin Valley will enjoy an unusual advantage, as prunes there are largely irrigated."

COFFEE IN NEW YORK.

A fairly large business has been transacted in the Brazil grades and prices have advanced, despite the fact that no import duty will be levied on coffee, at least for the present. The country trade has continued to take supplies with some freedom, although during the latter part of the week demand appeared to be subsiding. Jobbers' stocks, however, were small, as a result of the demand latterly experienced from the interior, and they showed no disposition to hurry business. The deals in invoices have been fairly large. There was a demand for spot supplies; but owing to the very meagre offerings jobbers turned their attention to supplies to arrive, their purchases being in the neighborhood of 50,000 bags, and prices advanced ¼c. per pound. The quotation for Rio No. 7, on the spot, has been largely nominal, and has been advanced to 7c. Primal markets have been firm and higher, the advices received reporting small stocks in first hands, and the firm offers from Rio were on a decidely higher basis, advancing to 6¾c. cost and freight for No. 7. Sales of Santos, Nos. 3, 4 and 5, were made at 7¼c. cost and freight. Mild grades have been quiet, but steady. Jobbers have fair stocks on hand, and have shown no especial anxiety to add to their holdings in the face of large prospective supplies for the early future. Importers, however, have not been disposed to hurry business, and values have held steady at 10¼ to 10½c. for good Cucuta. East India growths have had a fair sale at firm prices.—Journal of Commerce.

DRIED PEACHES BEING CLEANED UP.

According to mail advices from San Francisco, the stock of dried peaches there is cleaning up, and prices are a shade higher. Choice imported are still procurable there at 4½ to 4¾c. f.o.b. Pears are about done, the report states. The writer expects that, under even an ordinary demand, in view of the small supplies of cured fruits, the California markets will be bare before the new crop will be available.

CANNED SALMON IN THE U.S.

Reviewing the salmon situation on the Coast, The San Francisco Herald of Trade says, in its issue of April 22: The run of fish in the Sacramento continues light, although the Sacramento River Packers' Association expect to start up soon. Last year the two canneries on the river had quite a pack by this time. There were fully 150 less fishermen this year than last—gone to Alaska's gold fields. The few fish caught do not average as large sized as is usual at this season of the year. The action of the United States Government against traps will curtail the catch. The river is said to be low for the season, and the water clear; both against free runs, yet reports from there state that good runs are expected to set in soon. Our early experience on that river makes it almost certain that the pack this year will be disappointingly small. There will be stronger buying of fresh salmon for shipment by refrigerator cars to the east than prevailed last year, which was the largest on record. From Puget Sound we are not advised outside of preparations made for an increased pack. The runs there, as on Fraser river, will be less than last year. The Alaska Packers' Association have despatched about all their vessels to their canneries up north. The Alaska pack is altogether conjectural, but there seems to be one thing settled—that the runs there have reached their limits. Advices from up north state that there is strong selling competition, with cutting in prices for the new season pack. While some of the leading canners will not sell at less than on $1.05 tall basis, yet there are others who offer at $1 in the territory controlled by another canner, while holding at $1.05 in territory controlled by them. This makes it a decided financial cut-throat game, and has a bad effect. On Puget Sound, two canners are placing sockeyes at 80c. for 1898 pack, but other canners are firm at 85c. For spot salmon, red Alaska is very quiet, but in pink and cheaper grades there is a good movement."

CANNED SALMON PRICES ESTABLISHED.

At a meeting of the packers of sockeye salmon in Seattle yesterday a combination of the packing interests was effected, according to a telegram received this morning. Prices for 1898 were established, the same report says, on the basis of 85c. for talls. 95c. for flats and 62½c. for half-pounds f.o.b. shipping points.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce, April 30.

CANNED SALMON IN LONDON, ENG.

The great bulk of the shipments of the 1898 pack of salmon to this country have now arrived, and have either gone into distribution or are warehoused. The business passing is only limited at the moment, but with more genial weather, we may expect an increased consumption at the low prices quoted to the consumer.—Grocers' Journal, April 23.

MONEY EASIER, EXCHANGE HIGHER.

The exchange market has at last rallied from its long-continued depression, and rates, for the first time in two months, are above the gold-importing point. The principal causes for the advance in rates are the easier tone of the money market and the exhaustion of the supply of exchange accumulated here in loans during the winter. These holdings seem to be thoroughly liquidated, and, while enquiry has been dull, the supply of commercial bills was only moderate; in fact, during the greater part of the week transactions were slow and the market exceptionally dull. The hardening tendency was assisted by the selling of stocks for foreign account early in the week, but later on London bought securities here, and the accompanying offering of bills had a perceptible effect on rates, which were much weaker on Friday. — Bradstreet's, April 30.

Adam Turnbull, of the firm of Scott & Gillies, egg dealers, Strathroy, bought 10,000 dozen of eggs in Forest, all gathered in a week. Mr. Turnbull made a shipment to Montreal and British Columbia.

TRANSPORTATION TO THE YUKON.

SOME surprise has been expressed at the action of the Canadian Government in sending the enormous quantities of supplies they have purchased for the Yukon contingent, via Seattle in the United States, in place of via the all Canadian route.

All of the winter supplies for 1898-99 are being sent via Seattle, while the contingent are taking with them only sufficient for immediate requirements.

The explanation made by the Militia Department for this discrimination against an all Canadian route is, that but one transportation company would take the contract and guarantee delivery at Fort Selkirk this year. This company was awarded the contract, and, as its steamers sail via Seattle, all the supplies have to be sent there. Later in the season, after this contract had been awarded, the C.P.R., and some other transportation companies offered to accept the contract, but it was too late.

It puts the Canadian Transportation Companies in a strange light, when the transport of Government property for Canadian points has to be handed over to contractors in the United States and sent via United States. This is hard to reconcile with the flaming advertisements that have been appearing in the newspapers for months past, offering to transport persons and supplies via an all Canadian route to any part of the Yukon country.

NEW CROP FILBERTS DEARER.

Cables received this week announce an advance of equal to ¾c. per pound in the laid-down price of new crop filberts for October shipment.

The advance is due to unfavorable reports from interior points and the appreciation in ocean freight rates.

Very few filberts have been contracted for by grocers in Canada, and the advance will probably induce buyers to defer placing orders until nearer time of shipment.

A CROCKERY ADVERTISEMENT.

All grocers who handle glassware or crockeryware should read the advertisement of Pigot & Bryan, London, Ont., telling of the special package of assorted glassware they are now offering to the trade. These special offers are always worth looking into. The firm does a large business.

C. E. COLSON & SON.

Mr. C. E. Colson, the well-known broker, Montreal, has admitted his son, Charles Herbert Colson, as partner under the style of C. E. Colson & Son. The new member of the firm has been in his father's office for several years, and he is a pleasant and enterprising young man. During the last couple of years he has been covering part of the territory which his father formerly looked after. THE CANADIAN GROCER wishes the firm success.

SUPPLIES OF FINNAN HADDIE.

Editor, CANADIAN GROCER,—I understand that the greater part of the finnan haddie consumed in Montreal comes from Portland, Maine. Why is this?

ENQUIRER.

[REMARKS: Enquirer is hardly correct, for it is only during February, March and April that supplies of finnan haddie are drawn from Portland. During that period the fish are scarce on the Nova Scotian and New Brunswick markets and they have to be supplemented by goods from the Maine city. The great bulk of the aggregate year's consumption in Canada, however, is the output of Canso and Halifax, N.S., and St. John and St. Andrew, N. B.—EDITOR GROCER.]

FACTORY BURNED.

The Truro Condensed Milk and Canning Co.'s premises, Trnro, N.S., were totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday. The buildings were extensive and the output of the factory large. A large quantity of goods ready for shipment were destroyed. Loss about $50,000; insurance. $27,000. It is the intention of the company to rebuild at once.

CHANGE IN A RETAIL FIRM.

Alexander Provan, grocer, 185 King street east, Toronto, has purchased the business of Richard Donald, corner of Francis and King streets. Mr. Provan intends concentrating the business of both firms at the Donald stand, where he will move the stock from his present premises in about three weeks. Mr. Donald has entered the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. James Steele, of Steele Bros., departmental store keeper, Fergus, is in Toronto this week buying goods, and taking in, of course, the horse show.

Mr. Dan Gilmour, Montreal, of Chase & Sanborn, was in Toronto this week, principally on pleasure bent.

The friends of Mr. Stephen Hustwitt, formerly on the traveling staff of the Eby, Blain Co., Limited, will be pleased to learn that he is meeting with success in Manitoba and the Territories, and that his health is first-class.

The Alpha Chemical Co. reports an increasing demand for its "Sunlight" stove polish.

AMONG THE RETAILERS.

An Opportune Window Display.

At the "Grange," King street east, there is a window decorated in a manner that at this season of the year should attract a good deal of business. It might be termed a house-cleaning goods window, for the articles exhibited are such as will naturally meet with a large sale now that the spring house-cleaning time is here. The floor of the window is about three feet above the level of the street, and has four steps, each three or four inches high and about 15 inches deep. At both sides of the window are arranged washboards of different makes. In front of the washboards are brooms, with the handles resting on the floor. On the first step various kinds of whisks are arranged in groups according to price, with at each end a pail, in each of which is placed a child's washboard. On the second step scrubbing brushes are grouped according to make, size and value. Soaps for house-cleaning purposes are also placed on this step. The third step shows three washboards, one at each side, lying on its side, and a central one standing on its feet. Leaning against the front of the washboard are three dusters, while some fancy handled brooms rest on the top of it. Arching over it are cobweb whisks, the great, long handles reaching to all corners of the window. On the fourth or back step some four wash tubs, two the old stave pattern, and two of indurated fibre ware, complete a scene which must have attracted the attention of many a housewife. One of the best points of the display is the arrangement of tags giving the prices of the various articles displayed.

STILTON CHEESE IN TINS.

A. F. MacLaren & Co., of Toronto, are making a specialty of 10-lb. Stilton cheese, put up in sealed tins. They are sending a good many of them to the Klondyke, one order alone, the other day, calling for 1,000. Put up in these tins Stilton cheese will keep good for practically an indefinite period.

The price of ginger in London, England, has advanced ½c. per pound during the past week.

Arthur P. Tippet & Co., who have recently assumed the handling of "Maypole Soap," an English household dye, have found it necessary to move into larger premises, and are now located at No. 8 Place Royale, where the facilities for carrying on their continually-growing business are much greater. Irrespective of this new line that they are handling, they have found their quarters too cramped for some time past. They report their business this year as already far in advance of any previous year since moving to Montreal.

BRITISH PRICE MOVEMENTS, 1898.

THE course of prices during the first quarter of the year has been by no means devoid of interest, the influences acting on the various markets having been of a very conflicting character, says The London Economist. The apprehensions of war have, in some cases, such as food supplies and war material—tended to strengthen prices, while in most other directions the scares have had a depressing effect. The movements shown, as compared with the beginning of the year, are consequently quite enormous, but almost equally so in both directions. The declines, however, have slightly preponderated in weight, if not in number, so that our index number, which registers approximately the net effect of the various movements, is five points lower than at the end of December. The following is a statement of the total index number, compared with previous dates :

End of	Total index number.	End of	Total index number.
March, 1898	1,885	March, 1897	1,942
December, 1897	1,890	December, 1896	1,946
September, 1897	1,896	December, 1895	1,999
June, 1897	1,885	December, 1894	1,923

A comparison of prices at this period in previous years shows that metals are, as a rule, at a higher level than they have been for some years past, and wheat and other cereals are also considerably above what had become the normal range. On the other hand, there has been a fall in cotton and some other textiles, and in such articles as coffee, tea and tallow :

Coming to the recent movements and dealing first with metals, the resumption of work by the engineers and the statistical position generally made the situation at the beginning of the quarter favorable for an advance of prices in iron and its products. A good deal of unsettlement has appeared in recent weeks, due to the successive war scares that have been prevalent. This has given pause to the movement that was in progress, and, except for small advances in pig iron and in some descriptions of steel used for shipbuilding, there is not much change in iron and steel products on balance. The trade is still very active, however, and prices are very firm at their present level. As regards other descriptions, the stocks of copper have continued to decline, and, in view of a possible stoppage of supplies from the principal sources of production, Spain and the United States, prices at the close of the quarter are not only about the best, but seem likely to go still higher. A substantial advance is also recorded in lead and tin. The tin plate trade makes a somewhat more cheerful report, since, in spite of the falling off in the trade with the United States, the export returns are improving, and a report on the condition of the industry states that "works are fairly occupied but not driven, masters are making a profit, not large, but pleasant, and the market is steady." The steam coal trade has been upset by the termination of the sliding scale agreement in South Wales. The stoppage of work there has driven trade to other ports, with the result that Northumberland steam coal is quoted higher than at any time during the quarter. The demand for house and other descriptions of coal is well maintained, and in Scotland business is quite active.

Receipts of American cotton have been upon an enormous scale, and it is now practically certain that the season's crop will considerably exceed in weight any previous record. It is estimated, too, that the supply remaining over when the consumptive requirements have been met will be much larger than in the two previous years, but, in spite of these considerations, prices have kept fairly steady for the raw material, though cotton manufactures have undergone considerable fluctuations, and have fallen recently in consequence of the plague in India. Colonial wool has hardened in price, the Australian supplies having been restricted in consequence of the widespread drouths that have occurred in the last two seasons. Jute has come to hand in greater bulk than was anticipated, and, though the quality has been indifferent, it has been obtainable at prices which left a fair margin of profit, so that the Dundee merchants and jute companies have secured better returns than for some years past. Silk and hemp have each advanced in price during the quarter, while flax has fallen off.

As regards foodstuffs, the higher price of wheat has been maintained, and even enhanced, but this, while it has had a very beneficial effect on the fortunes of our agriculturists, is hardly viewed with the same degree of satisfaction by the larger class to whom the difference of a penny in the price of the four-pound loaf is a matter of considerable importance. The farmer has also derived advantage from the fact that butchers' meat remains at a fairly high level. Rice has risen substantially, owing to the restriction of shipments from India during the late famine, but the market will probably become easier when the new crop is available.

Sugar has been weak in tendency for the most part, but shows some recovery toward the close on the prospect of a lock-up of stocks in Cuba should war break out. The tea markets have also been affected by the great increase in production, which would probably have resulted in a marked fall of prices but for the large offtake of Indian and Ceylon teas for reexport, a branch of trade which shows a rapid and important expansion. Coffee has undergone rather peculiar fluctuations, as, while the finer qualities of East Indian and Ceylon produce have realized higher rates, there has been a further fall in Jamaica, Central American and Brazilian descriptions.

SWEETS IN QUEEN BESS' TIME.

During the Elizabethan period there grew up in England a great national liking for sweet things. Not merely was this seen in the general taste for sugar comfiture, but it was manifested in the general demand for sweet wines, the rich sherries, the charneco, the sack, the sugary almond-flavored sack-posset, and other drinks of the same class. In drinking, as in eating, the increase of appetite for sugar grew by what it fed on. Though not a sweetmeat in the strict sense of the term, "sack-posset" so largely represented the taste of that time for sweetness and flavor that the recipe of Sir Fleetwood Shepherd, given by Mr. Howard Staunton in his Shakespeare notes, is worth quoting: "To make a sack-posset, take two quarts of pure good cream and a quarter of a pound of the best almonds. Stamp them in the cream and boil with amber and musk therein. Then take a pint of sack in a basin and set it on a chafing-dish till it be blood warm. Then take the yolks of twelve eggs, with four of their whites, and beat them well together; and so put the eggs into the sack. Then stir all together over the coals till it is as thick as you would have it. If you now take some amber and mush and grind the same quite small with sugar, and stew this on top of your posset, I promise you that it shall have a most delicate and pleasant taste." There was another mixture of the same class called "rambooz," made of eggs, ale, wine and sugar.—Gentleman's Magazine.

The price of potatoes has gone up in Fredericton, N.B., caused by the advent of buyers from Massachusetts.

FRENCH NATIONAL OFFICE OF COMMERCE.

A MISTAKEN idea as to the objects and sphere of action of the French National Office of Commerce seems to prevail, especially in Great Britain, and it may not be amiss to call the attention of our readers to the fact that the new national office of commerce is not a general bureau of information regarding trade matters, but is exclusively intended to supply information to French manufacturers, merchants and exporters with respect to foreign markets, and to encourage the extension of trade between France and foreign countries, as well as between France and its colonies and possessions.

The offices of the institution are in the building of the Chamber of Commerce of Paris, at 3 rue Feydeau. The Chamber of Commerce has given the premises rent free, and has also gratuitously placed its excellent library at the disposal of the office. The expenses of the office have been provided for by the Government, the Ministry allowing in its budget a sum of 70,000 francs to be paid over yearly to the Chamber of Commerce for the maintenance thereof.

In order to render more complete the information obtained through consular or diplomatic bodies and through commercial agents, the Minister of Commerce shall appoint as correspondents of the office a number of French manufacturers and merchants, having their establishments either in France or in the colonies or abroad, their services to be given gratuitously.

The office is governed by a general committee and by an executive committee, the president of the general committee being the Minister of Commerce, and the president of the executive committee being the president of the Chamber of Commerce of Paris for the time being.

BUSINESS AT THE EDDY WORKS.

"How is business?" In reply to this enquiry made when our representative called on the Eddy Co. at Hull early in the week, the answer was "We are busy."

"But are you not busier than usual, for we hear you are refusing orders?"

"Yes, we are busier than usual, but we have been careful not to engage ourselves ahead so far as to be likely to have to refuse or decline orders from regular customers, though we are declining all orders from irregular or casual customers in pulp, paper and paper products, but you can just say that all regular, steady buyers and users of our paper, can rest satisfied that we will arrange to keep them all in full supply on fair notice being given us of what their wants are likely to be."

THE CANADIAN GROCER

Vol. XII. (Published Weekly) TORONTO AND MONTREAL, MAY 13, 1898. ($2.00 per Year) No. 19

POSSIBILITIES OF TRADE WITH JAPAN.

A BLUE book which the Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce has just issued contains the report of the two commissioners deputed to investigate the possibilities of trade with Japan and the Latin-American republics. As the readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER doubtless remember, Mr. George Anderson was the commissioner to Japan, and Mr. E. E. Sheppard to the Latin-American republics.

Too much space would be required to give anything like an extensive digest of even one of these reports in one issue. Reference, therefore, in this issue will be confined to Mr. Anderson's report on Japan, and to such parts of it only which deal with the grocer, provision and allied trades.

The report first takes up and gives in alphabetical order those articles with which Canada may be able to supply Japan.

Alcohol Japan imports to the value of £8,126,000 sterling according to the returns of 1896, but at present Germany is the chief source of supply.

JAPAN IMPORTS BARLEY.

The knowledge that Japan imports a large quantity of barley to mix with rice, gives one hope that there may be a possibility of finding a market there for barley of Canadian growth, and thus reviving, at least to a slight extent, what is now a somewhat dormant industry in this country. At present, the United States supplies Japan with this cereal.

Beans and peas are both commodities which Canada produces in large quantities, and both of these Japan imports extensively.

The consumption of beer is increasing in Japan, and a good deal of the product of the Milwaukee breweries is sold in the country. "There is no reason," says Mr. Anderson, "why the Canadians should not be successful if the business was handled with energy."

BETTER QUALITY BISCUITS WANTED.

There is quite a demand for the better qualities of biscuits in Japan, which are now imported from Great Britain and the United States. "These," explains the commissioner, "are used by the foreign residents and better classes of the Japanese. They would require to be put up in nicely decorated tins, and properly sealed, that they might not be injured by the climate. This is certainly a growing trade, and our manufacturers should have no hesitation in pushing their goods." Biscuit manufacturing is being carried on in Japan, but only to a limited extent.

OPENING FOR CANADIAN BUTTER.

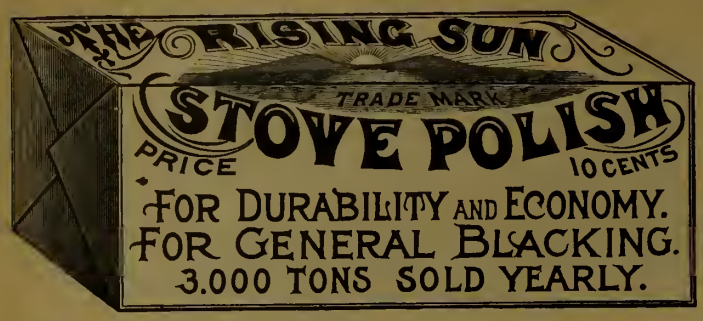
In 1896 Japan imported about $50,000 worth of butter. The chief source of supply is the United States, while France, Holland, and Italy comes next. The butter is received in firkins and tubs of various sizes under one hundred pounds, and in one and two-pound tins. A considerable quantity of butter is made in Japan, but the quality is far from satisfactory. "I would recommend," says Mr. Anderson, "that a uniform and attractive style of package be adopted, and branded, 'Canadian Butter.' The size of the packages should be half-pound, one-pound, two-pound tins, and ten, twenty, and forty pounds in wood. During the winter, creamery butter, put up in one-pound rolls, would be quite saleable. I am quite convinced that, with cold storage facilities on ships and the butter properly taken care of on arrival, Canada can supply Japan with a large percentage of the whole quantity imported. There are cold storage warehouse at Yokohama and Kobe, the two main points in Japan."

CANNED GOODS.

That part of the report dealing with canned goods we print in full:

In vegetables, fruit, jams and jelly there is quite a fair trade done with the foreign residents. All these goods are growing in favor among the Japanese who are not conversant with the foreign methods of cooking, and prefer prepared articles. The above are all imported from Great Britain and the United States, and surely Canada, with her cheap natural products, can command a good share of the trade. The Japanese put up the following in cans: Mushrooms, chestnuts, bamboo and fish, and it might be difficult for Canadians to compete with their canned fish, although I believe a large quantity of British Columbia salmon in tin could be sold to the best trade, on account of its superior quality. The Japanese army and navy use very large quantities of canned beef, which our packing houses ought certainly to be able to supply. There are good opportunities in this line. Canned beef, tongue, chicken, turkey, etc., are not much in domestic demand and are principally sold to foreign residents, but foreign ships buy very extensively of these at the various ports of Japan. The quantity required will certainly increase.

A market is opening up in Japan for oatmeal, wheatlets, cornmeal, pearl barley, rolled oats and similar lines of breakfast foods, and Mr. Anderson says the introduction of a good class of cereal foods will find an increasing and permanent market.



There is one good thing which the Japanese do not yet appreciate, and that is cheese. The commissioner says the taste of cheese is repulsive to them. But there is a demand, however, although a somewhat limited one, and it is principally on account of foreign residents and for the provisioning of ships.

One Canadian cigarette manufacturer is doing a good business in Japan, but Mr. Anderson thinks trade with Canada in this line could be expanded, and he suggests that it might be well to put up the cigarettes under such brands as "Japanese Army," "Japanese Navy," etc. He further suggested that photographs of Japanese celebrities be procured and placed on the packages.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR CONDENSED MILK.

Condensed milk is an article the use of which is greatly increasing in Japan, and Mr. Anderson sees no reason why Canada

THE RISING SUN STOVE POLISH AND THE SUN PASTE STOVE POLISH

MORSE BROS., Proprietors, Canton, Mass.

For sale by all Wholesale Grocers; also the McClary Mfg. Co., London, Montreal, Winnipeg, Vancouver and Toronto.

should not do a large business in this line. "An attractive label in English and Japanese languages, and well advertised, would be the correct way to introduce new brands," he says. He also thinks Canada might secure a good share of the trade in confectionery and preserves.

Japan, in 1896, imported $150,000 barrels of flour, nearly all of which came from California, Oregon and Washington. "There is no reason why Canadian millers should not secure a fair share of the flour trade, unless it be that the long inland railway freight may, in some measure, handicap them. To properly introduce, I would advise the distribution of samples in half-pound bags to actual customers, as well as advertising in both the English and Japanese press."

CANADIAN APPLES WOULD SELL WELL.

Canadian apples, Mr. Anderson thinks, would sell well in Japan. For Canadian hams, shoulders, breakfast bacon and like products, he considers, there is a splendid opportunity.

A large quantity of rock salt is imported from Germany, but there appears to be a good opportunity of introducing table salt, and, "if our salt manufacturers will compete in price, a considerable quantity could be sold."

A specially good toilet soap, well advertised, would sell in Japan. So would a good laundry soap in attractive packages.

Mr. Anderson states that shipments of sugar have been made from British Columbia to Japan, which, on analysis, were pronounced the best ever imported into that country, and commanded a higher price than other grades.

While the Japanese are not large whiskey drinkers, yet the consumption of this liquor is increasing materially. Scotch whiskey is the kind principally used, but the leading Canadian distilleries are represented in the country.

TRADE CHAT.

THE salesmen in Fort William, Ont., are agitating for an early closing by-law, and have retained a lawyer to look after the legal details of the movement.

Hay was selling at $20 a ton at Deloraine, Man., recently.

Fould's confectionery store, Sarnia. is being given a fresh coat of paint.

Mr. Brennan, grocer, Chatham, Ont., recently had his face severely cut by a fall.

A London, Ont., firm proposes to establish a vinegar and pickle factory at Strathroy if satisfactory inducements are offered.

The St. Mary's, Ont., creamery is at present turning out an average of 2,500 lbs. of butter a day. Three new men have been employed.

Ed. Eagan, baker, Guelph, Ont., has disposed of his business to Powell & Co. The new firm intend to carry on an extensive business in both plain and fancy bread and cakes.

Peach trees throughout Western Ontario are reported as being in full bloom, and that the prospect for this fruit are bright, though some orchards had to be destroyed to get rid of the San Jose scale.

Leamington, Ontario, is growing. Two years ago its population was 1,900; last year it was 2,400; this year the assessor places it at about 3,000. The assessment increased $50,000 in 1897, owing to extensive building operations.

Canteſon Bros., Clinton, Ont., are making big purchases of eggs, taking in an average of 7,000 dozen eggs each week. Some days the number runs up to 1,500 dozen. They are also buying about an average of 500 pounds of butter each day.

During seven months succeeding September, 1897, the following quantities of fruit were shipped from Brighton, Ont.: 26,000 barrels of apples, 3,166 bus. of plums, or 95 tons; 26,000 bus. of tomatoes, or 780 tons. This does not include the large quantity of tomatoes grown in the neighborhood and drawn to Trenton and Lakeport.

The farmers and merchants interested in the establishment of a pork packing factory at Middleton, N. S., have subscribed nearly twelve thousand dollars of the required stock.

The employees of the T. Long & Bros. Co., Ltd., general merchants, Collingwood, Ont., presented R. H. Rorabeck with a handsome silver banquet lamp on the occasion of his severing his connection with that firm.

R. G. Andrews, grocer, Toronto Junction, issues a neat little newspaper, "Andrews' Weekly Store News." It contains a price list of many articles sold by Mr. Andrews, and much information both interesting and useful to housekeepers.

A RESPECTED MERCHANT DEAD.

Mr. David Stewart, senior member of the firm of D. Stewart & Son, general merchants, Thistletown, died on Saturday evening, May 7, after a short but acute illness of only three days. He leaves a wife, one son and one daughter to mourn his loss. The business will be continued for the present by Mr. Geo. Stewart, only son and junior member of the firm. Mr. Stewart has been in busines at Thistletown for over forty years and was a fine business man and respected by all. The funeral was large, and was conducted by the Masonic fraternity. The Canadian Order of Chosen Friends also attended.

BUYING IN SMALL QUANTITIES.

In one of the suburbs of Belfast trade was dull, and the chief grocer in the district found his earnings becoming smaller day by day. One morning an old customer entered. In expectation of something good, the grocer jumped up from his seat and, rubbing his hands, said:

"Well, missus, what can I get you?"

"A ha'pennyworth o' soap," was the reply.

"Oh," said the disgusted grocer, "you'll be for washin' the canary to-day."

CONCENTRATED ENERGY.

"THERE was not room enough for us all in Frankfort," said Nathan Mayer Rothschild, speaking of himself and his four brothers. "I dealt in English goods. One great trader came there, who had the market to himself; he was quite a man, and did us a favor if he sold us goods. Somehow I offended him, and he refused to show me his patterns. This was on a Tuesday. I said to my father, 'I will go to England.' On Thursday I started. The nearer I got to England, the cheaper goods were. As soon as I got to Manchester, I laid out all my money, things were so cheap, and I made a good profit."

"I hope," said a listener, "that your children are not too fond of money and business, to the exclusion of more important things. I am sure you would not wish that."

"I am sure I would wish that," said Rothschild; "I wish them to give mind, and soul, and heart, and soul, and body, and everything to business; that is the way to be happy." "Stick to one business, young man," he added, addressing a young brewer; "stick to your brewery and you may be the great brewer of London. But be a brewer, and a banker, and a merchant, and a manufacturer, and you will be in the Gazette."

Not many things indifferently, but one thing supremely, is the demand of the hour. He who scatters his efforts in this intense, concentrated age, cannot hope to succeed.

"Goods removed, messages taken, carpets beaten, and poetry composed on any subject," was the sign of a man in London who was not very successful at any of these lines of work, and reminds one of Monsieur Kenard, of Paris, "a public scribe, who digests accounts, explains the language of flowers, and sells fried potatoes."

The great difference between those who succeed and those who fail does not consist in the amount of work done by each, but in the amount of intelligent work. Many of those who fail most ignominiously, do enough to achieve grand success; but they labor at haphazard, building up with one hand, only to tear down with the other. They do not grasp circumstances, and change them into opportunities. They have no faculty of turning honest defeats into telling victories. With ability enough, and time in abundance—the warp and woof of success—they are forever throwing back and forth an empty shuttle, and the real web of life is never woven.

If you ask one of them to state his aim and purpose in life, he will say: "I hardly know yet for what I am best adapted, but I am a thorough believer in genuine hard work, and I am determined to dig early and late all my life, and I know I shall come across something—either gold, silver, or at least iron." I say most emphatically, no. Would an intelligent man dig up a whole continent to find its veins of silver and gold? The man who is forever looking about to see what he can find, never finds anything. We find what we seek with all our heart, and if we look for nothing in particular, we find just that and no more. The bee is not the only one that visits the flower, but it is the only insect that carries honey away. It matters not how rich the materials we have gleaned from the years of our study and toil in youth, if we go out in life with no well-defined idea of our future work, there is no happy conjunction of circumstances that will arrange them into an imposing structure, and give it magnificent proportions.—Pushing to the Front.

IMPERIAL CHEESE IN WARSHIPS.

A. F. MacLaren, M.P., who arrived up from Ottawa on Saturday evening, showed The Herald a letter to-day from his Boston agents, Fred. B. Thompson & Co., which conveyed the pleasing intelligence that the firm had contracted to supply MacLaren's Imperial cheese to the United States warships Columbia, Minneapolis and Lehigh. These vessels are now cruising off the Middle and Eastern States, ready to intercept the Spanish fleet, should it appear thereabouts.—Herald, Stratford.

KIDNEY SAUSAGE.

Two well cleaned hog kidneys are finely chopped; 2 lb. firm pork (one quarter fat) is added and chopped up. It is necessary to chop the kidneys first, alone, as they will not become of the requisite fineness when chopped up with the meat. Spice per lb.: 154 grains salt, 31 grains white pepper, 3 grains allspice and 1 tablespoonful red wine. Knead up well, and fill into narrow hog casings to their full length. To be eaten fried. A smoked sausage is made as follows: To each 1 lb. of fat pork add three to four hog kidneys cooked, the kidneys to first chopped alone, and the pork then added. To 10 lb. of this mass add 4 lb. lean, raw pork, previously chopped up fine, and spice for each lb. as follows: 185 grains salt, 31 grains white pepper, 7 grains allspice. Fill loosely into beef bung guts, making globular sausages. Cook them well at about 195°; take out, allow to cool, and smoke in cold smoke for two days. To be cooked for one to two minutes.—National Provisioner.

WANT IT HARD ENOUGH TO GET IT.

A wise old New York merchant, long ago himself molded into dust, says the Metropolitan Magazine, used to say:

"Men generally get in this world exactly what they want."

"How can that be?" asked a youngster one day. "Almost everybody in New York wants to be rich, but very few of them ever will be. I want a million or so myself."

"Ah, my boy," the old man replied, "you want a million, but you do not want enough. What you want at present is pleasure, and you want it so much that you are willing to spend all your surplus force, time and revenue to get it. If you wanted your million as much as you want pleasure, by-and-by, when you have a bald head like mine, you would have your million."

GRAPE WINE VINEGAR.

Mr. W. H. Seyler has now complete control of the sale of the concentrated grape wine vinegar made by the Grape Wine Vinegar Co. This concentrated grape wine vinegar is put up in demijohns of 4½ gallons Imp., and will produce, with the addition of water, 115 Imp. gallons of XXX. vinegar, and 137 gallons of XX. vinegar, and purchasers in this form can readily see what an enormous saving of freight is made —to say nothing for extra charge for barrels, packages, and the trouble and annoyance usually had with empties. The analysis of Dr. A. R. Pyne speaks for itself, and is a reliable recommendation of absolute purity and safety. It is simple, safe, pure and economical, and every thinking grocer will readily see the advantages of handling same. Large quantities of this vinegar have been sold from the Atlantic to the Pacific since it was first put upon the market.

THE LATEST THING IN MEAT.

Smoked backs and roll bacon are fashionable this season. A fact which may not be realized by every retailer, but which is now generally admitted by large jobbers, is that taste in meats varies just as taste in dress changes every succeeding year. D. Gunn, Bros. & Co. inform THE CANADIAN GROCER that last year the taste, and, consequently, the demand was principally for breakfast bacon and shoulder hams. This year the demand has shown the taste of the public to have turned toward smoked backs and roll bacon, which may now be said to be "just the latest thing in meats."

A PROGRESSIVE HOUSE.

Rutherford, Marshall & Co., wholesale produce and commission merchants, Toronto, have again moved to much larger and more commodious premises, at No. 68 Front street east, where they will have facilities for handling their rapidly increasing business to much better advantage. The firm has been in business seven years, and this is the third time that expansion of trade has compelled it to seek larger premises. The new premises are complete in every detail, consisting of three storeys and cellar, with concrete floor full size of warehouse, giving a floor space of 10,000 square feet.

The offices, which are grained in oak, are spacious, bright and cheerful, and altogether the place presents the appearance of progress, thrift and enterprise.

THE CANADIAN GROCER bespeaks for this firm continued prosperity.

BAD OUTLOOK FOR FIGS.

THE CANADIAN GROCER is indebted to Mr. E. Fielding for a copy of the Levant Herald, published in Constantinople, under the date of April 13, in which the following paragraph regarding figs appears: "Our Smyrna correspondent writes that latest advices from the fig-growing districts confirm the worst reports regarding the mischief wrought by last month's frost. In the districts of Aya-Soulouk, Karabounar, and Ormourlu, 60 per cent. of the fig trees have been entirely destroyed; in Baladjik, 50 per cent.; in Sultan Hissar and Demirdjik, 40 per cent.; in Erbeli, 30 per cent.; in Nazli, 20 per cent. If the trees which escaped destruction gives an average yield, this year's crop will not exceed 45,000 loads, against 70,000 last year. The annual yield of the trees destroyed amounted in value to £100,000, representing (at 5 per cent.) a capital of £2,000,000, which one night's frost has completely swept away."

PROPOSED BEET SUGAR FACTORY.

A GERMAN machine manufacturing firm, on behalf of a British syndicate, is endeavoring to start a beet sugar factory at some suitable point in Ontario. The aid of the Government is sought, and the conditions asked are that the Government admit the technical parts of the machinery free of duty, and also give an average bonus of 50 cents per 100 pounds of sugar manufactured during the first five years of operation. The cost of factory to be erected would be about half a million dollars.

On Friday the Wholesale Grocers' Guild was addressed upon the matter by Mr. R. H. Lawder, who for some years has taken a deep interest in the movement for a beet sugar industry for Canada. After discussing the subject the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, that this association has learned with pleasure that a syndicate of foreign capitalists has proposed to erect a first-class beet sugar factory of large capacity in some suitable locality in the Dominion of Canada, on the following conditions:

That the technical part of the machinery, such as is not now manufactured in Canada, shall be admitted free of Customs duty; that during the first five seasons of the operation of the factory a bonus shall be paid on all the sugar manufactured from Canadian beet: One dollar for first year, 75c. for second year, 50c. for third year, 25c. for fourth year, 25c. for fifth year, the bonus to be based on the proportion which such sugar bears to 100 deg. of purity, per polariscope test.

That this association believes that the establishment of the beet sugar industry in Canada will prove of great advantage, especially to the agricultural interests of the Dominion, and of material benefit to its manufacturing, commercial and financial interests, and would respectfully urge upon the Dominion Government the introduction, during the present session of Parliament, of such legislation as ought to secure the erection of the above proposed beet sugar factory in time for operation on the sugar-beet crop of 1899.

And that this bonus shall only be paid as follows: During 1899, 1900, $1; 1900, 1901, 75c.: 1901, 1902, 50c.; 1902, 1903, 25c.; 1903, 1904, 25c.

LONDON RETAIL GROCERS.

THE Retail Grocers' Association, of London, met on Monday night, with President R. A. Jones in the chair, and a large number of members present.

A communication from the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, in reference to the forming of a branch in London, was discussed. Mr. W. H. Ferguson spoke in favor of such a movement, saying the larger the association the better the prospect it would have of carrying into effect anything which would be beneficial to the retail trade generally. He did not think, however, the Grocers' Association should merge into the Retail Merchants' Association, as the former had a work of its own to perform. At the same time the members of the association could individually support such a movement. President Jones spoke along the same line, and it was decided to take no action which might bind the association as a body, although the members may individually interest themselves in both associations.

The market gardeners asked the support of the association to a petition praying the city council to allot spaces on the market to the regular market gardeners. The association took no action, the feeling being that the matter was not of interest to the association as a body. Many of the members, however, expressed their willingness to sign the petition.

The revision of the delinquents' list was also discussed, and it was urged that the work should be done as soon as possible.

The excursion committee reported that on account of the cut in rates, the railway officials had not been approached in regard to a special rate for a grocers' outing. The committee was instructed to wait upon the railway companies' representatives and report the result at the next meeting of the association.

The British Board of Trade returns for the month of April show an increase in the imports of £5,110,200 and a decrease in the exports of £2,204,100.

OUR EXPORTS TO JAPAN.

IN another column we print a digest of Commissioner Anderson's report of his investigation of the possibilities of extending Canada's trade with Japan. As will be seen, we have dealt only with that part of the report which treats upon the grocery, provision and allied trades in the way of exports.

It is to be hoped the report will be carefully read and considered by the business men of the Dominion. Unless it is, Mr. Anderson's journey to Japan will be in vain.

To say nothing of geographical position, the character of the staple products of the Dominion are such that a larger trade should be done with Japan than is now done.

The aggregate trade of the United States with Japan last year was $37,265,090, of which $24,009,750 were imports and $13,255,340 exports.

Canada's aggregate trade with Japan, on the other hand, was only $1,471,926, of which $1,329,980 were imports and $141,946 exports.

It will probably be a surprise to some people to know that sugar was last year Canada's chief article of export to Japan, the quantity sent being 1,872,562 pounds, valued at $71,908. This, of course, went from British Columbia. It is the first year such shipment was made, and, as will be noticed from Mr. Anderson's report, the sugar was the best ever brought into Japan, and sold at a higher price than sugars from other countries. It is to be hoped that the trade in this line, which has opened out so auspiciously, will become permanent, and steadily develop.

Planks, boards and manufactures of wood were the next in importance, and these aggregated $43,296. Then came coal, valued at $11,269, while following that was tobacco to the extent of $9,714 worth. Of cheese we sent $855 worth.

Our efforts at supplying Japan with butter have so far been anything but fruitful. Three years ago we exported $1,172 worth to that country, but since then shipments have gradually fallen off until they only amounted in 1897 to the insignificant quantity of 30 pounds, valued at $10.

Fish and fish products exported to Japan in 1897 were valued at $1,079, and fruits at $105.

It is evident from these figures that Canada's export trade with Japan is small indeed, and it is also evident from Mr. Anderson's report that it is capable of being enlarged if the business men of this country are only enterprising and energetic enough to essay to do it.

SALES OF FOREIGN SUGAR.

Orders for foreign granulated sugars are again beginning to be placed a little more freely by Toronto wholesalers, quite a few having been given during the week.

The volume of business in this particular sugar is not nearly as large as it was prior to the new sugar tariff being brought down, but the fact that the import article promises to continue a factor in the Canadian market is not without interest.

The increase in the duty on foreign refined sugars is, taking it all round, scarcely equal to ⅛c. per lb., which is less than the representatives of foreign shipping houses at first reckoned it would be. This is leading to a more active campaign on their part.

OUTLOOK FOR HIGH PRICED TOMATOES.

THE outlook for canned tomatoes is a matter of great importance to several traders in Montreal at present. As noted by THE CANADIAN GROCER at the time, there was active speculation in these vegetables during the month of February, and Montreal parties secured the control of a large quantity of stock which is held partly in store at Montreal and partly at the canneries in Ontario.

Estimates as to the exact quantity of these speculative goods vary considerably. Those bearishly inclined contend that from 20,000 to 25,000 cases of tomatoes are controlled by Montreal speculators, and that a large portion of this quantity cost its holders $1.10.

This is disputed by others, who claim that if there are 10,000 cases held on speculation in Montreal it is an extreme estimate, and that in only one instance, of 1,000 cases or so, did the goods cost $1.10, the ruling price for the bulk being $1.

Both statements, of course, are made by interested parties, and due allowance has to be made for each, but deducting from both it seems safe to assume that there is a comparatively large quantity of high priced canned tomatoes in Montreal, and, considering what they cost, the outlook is not exactly cheerful for those who own them.

The speculation appears to have had its inception in the demand which was experienced during February on Klondyke account.

When the enquiry first made itself felt people set out to figure that the reserve supply of canned tomatoes was much lighter than it should be, and excited buying ensued, prices rapidly advancing from considerably below $1 until, as recorded, they reached $1.10 for round lots, while the inside jobbing range has been nominally $1.20 at Montreal for some time.

The demand for the Klondyke has not by any means come up to expectations, and the result is the large speculative holdings of high priced goods whose profitableness is now being seriously questioned.

Always be in a hurry to wait upon customers, and never be in a hurry when waiting on customers.

THE CANNED MEAT CONTRACT.

IT will be remembered that in the last issue of THE CANADIAN GROCER it was stated that no order for canned meats had been given by the Canadian Government to a United States firm. The statement was based, as it was then pointed out, upon an official statement made in the House by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Since then, however, we have received a letter from our traveling representative in the United States, in which he says that a Chicago firm had just shipped three carloads of canned meat to British Columbia on Canadian Government account.

On receipt of this letter we immediately instituted further enquiries, the result of which is that we have discovered that while the Premier told the truth as far as he went, yet had he went further he might have given a great deal more information upon the subject.

It turns out that a large order for canned beef on Canadian Government account was placed with a United States firm, but the order did not come directly from the Government. It came from a firm in Canada that secured from the Government a contract to supply the same.

A short time ago, it appears, the Dominion Government asked for quotations for 50,000 pounds of canned corned beef, in 2, 4 and 6-pound tins. Among those asked to quote was W. Clark, the well-known packer of Montreal. As 4-pound tins of canned beef have never been put up in Canada, Mr. Clark quoted only on two and six-pound tins. He did not, however, obtain the order.

Our Ottawa correspondent, who was instructed to investigate the matter, writes that the order went to Bate & Co., of Ottawa, and the Hudson's Bay Co., and it was these companies that placed it with the Chicago packer.

In reply to a question from THE CANADIAN GROCER, Mr. Clark stated that had he known the contract depended on the four-pound size he would have quoted and made this size, notwithstanding that during all his experience he had never before been asked for this particular weight. We notice by a price list issued by Mr. Clark, under date of April 30, that four-pound tins have since been added to his regular make of corned beef.

There is a strong feeling in Canada that the Government, when ordering supplies of this or any other kind, should stipulate that they be obtained in the Dominion, and that a foreign country should only be resorted to when all reasonable efforts to obtain them at home have failed. There is nothing unreasonable in this, and it is to be hoped that the Government in future be will guided by this sentiment.

THE CANADIAN GROCER understands that the Government is now asking for quotations for 20,000 pounds more of canned corned beef, in 2, 4 and 6-pound tins.

AGAINST FISH INSPECTION.

THE Inland Revenue Department do not agree with the wholesale grocery trade on the advisability of a rigid system of fish inspection.

The Commissioner of the department, writing to the Montreal Board of Trade in relation the matter, says :

> There is so great diversity of opinion in respect of this matter that the department hardly feels justified in pressing it upon Parliament at present. A section will, however, be introduced this session which will protect the public against uninspected articles being passed off as inspected, so that if the inspection is honestly and carefully done, it will give an increased value to the goods.
> The department is in possession of a petition from leading fish dealers in Montreal urging that inspection be not made compulsory.

This is a peculiar stand for the department to take. By the half-hearted action that it has adopted it practically admits the justice of the claim made by the Montreal grocers, but, some assert, because of political considerations in some of the seaboard constituencies which sent supporters of the Government to Ottawa, it has not had backbone enough to take a positive stand in the matter.

The very vagueness of the commissioner's reply that a section will be introduced to protect the public is pretty good evidence that the whole matter will be pigeon-holed unless the grocers have sufficient influence to have the matter settled one way or another. Politics should not be allowed to interfere in a purely business question, and the business men are to blame if they stand it.

Wholesale grocers were positively defrauded this season. Barrels supposed to contain 200 pounds of fish only contained 160 pounds, and thousands of barrels of herring were sold as Labrador fish when it is now well known that hundreds only were shipped from that coast.

CANADIANS AS CONSULS.

"DON," in a recent issue of Saturday Night, touched upon a question which should set the Canadian people thinking, and the Canadian Government acting. We have reference to the suggestion that the British Government should appoint a few Canadian business men to consulships at places where the Dominion is most desirous of developing its trade.

The necessity for such appointments is not fancied ; it is real.

Our export trade of late years has grown enormously. Ten years ago it only aggregated $89,515,811 ; last year it had swelled to $137,950,250, an increase of about 52 per cent. in the decade.

In spite, however, of the development of Canada's export trade, the Dominion is seldom, if ever, mentioned in the reports of the British Consuls, who are as the sands of the sea for number. Indeed, as far as our memory serves us, we cannot remember even one solitary instance of Canada, or her products, being mentioned in such documents.

But the mere fact that mention of Canada and things Canadian is persistently avoided by the British Consular reports is not the worst phase of the matter. The worst is that Canadian interests are persistently neglected. Canada might be as the United States for all the benefit she derives from the British Consular Service.

There are some people in this country who urge that the Dominion should appoint consuls of her own. Those who hold this opinion are, however, a small minority indeed, but it is the unsatisfactory British Consular Service, as far as Canada is concerned, which has created this small minority.

But, while the great majority of the Canadian people, who have given the matter thought, do not want the Dominion to appoint consuls of its own, yet, they would undoubtedly favor the appointment of a few good Canadian business men to consulships in such places as would be to the commercial advantage of this country.

EXCITEMENT IN MOLASSES.

THERE appears to be no limit to the advancing tendency of Barbadoes molasses in Montreal, the wholesale grocery guild marking up prices another 3c. on Monday.

This is a clean rise of 6c. in less than a fortnight, and it is worthy of note that they refuse to accept any orders for larger quantities than three or four puncheons at the advance, declining to part with car lots. The jobbing basis, therefore, is firm at 31c.

At the Islands it appears to be impossible to get any clear intelligence of the condition of the market.

An importer in Montreal cabled on Tuesday asking for firm offers, and got refusals in reply. His correspondents stated that while they might be able to place an order at a price if they had one in hand, the condition of the market at the Islands made it utterly impossible for them to name a firm price. Other firms who tried to get offers had a similar experience.

On the whole, the market is in an excited condition, and traders are disposed to proceed cautiously, not only in regard to selling goods, but to buying them as well.

Stocks in Montreal, carried over from last season, have been sensibly diminished during the past week or so, the upturn having turned out very profitable for some speculative holding, to which THE CANADIAN GROCER referred a month or six weeks ago.

ADVANCE IN CANNED LOBSTERS.

THE large and increasing demand throughout Canada and the United States during the past two years for fresh lobsters of finest quality has resulted in such severe competition among handlers thereof as to cause a considerable falling off in the output of the canneries, owing to lack of supplies.

At the present time, buyers, principally from Boston, which has become the great distributing centre, are offering the Nova Scotia fishermen $3.50 to $4 per 100 pounds for fish under 10 inches, and as high as 6 to 7c. each for larger, which latter figure means $8 to $9 per case for the meat alone, and they cannot, therefore, be packed at a profit.

This condition of things is certain to result in a sharp advance in the canned product. And we learn that the English market has this week advanced from 1 to 2s. per case of 48 cans for all grades, and Canadian and United States markets have also advanced in about the same proportion.

Nova Scotia and New Brunswick packers are now asking $10 per case for good 1-lb. talls, $11 per case for flats, and $11.50 for ½-lb. flats.

European buyers are anxious to place orders at the before-mentioned advance, but we understand that packers are holding off, hoping to obtain higher prices.

The catch in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Quebec has been light, so far this season, and reports from Newfoundland state that the prevalence of ice along the coast is preventing the setting of the usual number of traps.

Lobsters are, year by year, becoming more of a luxury, and the indications are that the present year will prove no exception. THE CANADIAN GROCER learns, on good authority, that many of the packers have already contracted to the full extent of their capacity. In view of this condition of affairs, it is evident that lobsters, either fresh or packed, are, at the present time, a good purchase.

CANADIAN FLOUR FOR BARBADOES

A Montreal despatch to The New York Post says: "In consequence of the war, and American flour being evidently out of the market, the West Indies are looking to Canada for a supply of that article, and Mr. J. N. Sutherland, general freight agent of the Canadian Pacific railway, Atlantic division, St. John, N.B., telegraphs to Montreal announcing that he has received a cablegram from Barbadoes asking him to charter a British bottom and send forward immediately a full cargo of Canadian flour. The Lake of the Woods, and the two Goldie companies have been asked to say what flour is available. It is said that a full cargo up to 20,000 barrels could be immediately disposed of at Barbadoes, Trinidad, and Demerara."

War swells business as gas swells a balloon; but, while the swelling may be good for the balloon, it is not always good for business.

THE FRUIT SALES.

THE cargo of 30,000 boxes of lemons ex steamship Fremona, was put up at auction at the Montreal Fruit Auction Co.'s rooms, on Tuesday. This was the second sale this season, and it was largely attended by buyers from all over the United States and Canada. The condition of the fruit was much better than the previous cargo sold a week ago, consequently buyers were more eager, and the bidding was more active throughout. A feature of the sale was the brisk demand for American account, there being about 12 carloads alone taken for Chicago, and it was stated that one-third of the above quantity would be shipped to the States in spite of the increased duty. Another feature was the fact that the prices realized on an average showed an advance of 50c. over those paid at last Thursday's sale, which was due chiefly to the better quality of the stock. There was considerable buying done on local account by the leading fruit merchants. Messina lemons, common to good, sold at $1.30 to $1.65, choice at $1.75 to $2, and fancy at $2.15 to $2.80 per box. Palermo lemons brought from $1.25 to $2.70, and Sorrentos, $1.25 to $3 per box and $3.25 to $3.65 per case. The principal buyers present were as follows: J. W. Lumsden, of New York; Mr. Kneen, of Grinnell, Collins & Kneen, of Minneapolis; Mr. Daniel, of Keokuk; G. W. Hunt and H. Brouse, of Ottawa; Mr. Steel, Mr. Mountjoy, and Mr. Shuttleworth, of London, Ont.; Walker, of Guelph; Dickson, of Hamilton; McWilliam, Husband, Dawson and Clemes, of Toronto; McPherson, of Winnipeg; P. Rheume, A. Legare, G. Beauchamp, L. Simard and R. Borden, of Quebec. The large local buyers were: Hart & Tuckwell, Vipond & McBride, J. F. McLean, of the Montreal Fruit Exchange; J. Bell & C., J. J. Vipond, John Barry & Son, Bowes & McWilliams, and O. & E. Hart. There was also among those present, C. E. Thurston, of the Earl Fruit Co., of California, who was formerly auctioneer of the above company.

The balance of the Fremona's cargo consisting of oranges was closed out on Wednesday afternoon, the prices ranging from $2.35 to $2.95 for boxes, and 90c. to $1.80 for half-boxes. A feature of the sale was an offering of a lot from Sorrento, Italy, grown from California seed. These oranges were of fine quality and of exquisite boquet.

THE PROVISION MARKET.

THERE are some interesting features on the general produce market this spring, as a rule, the prices being considerably in advance of those a year ago, and trade being in a healthier condition generally.

The condition of the wheat market is the most remarkable, the prices throughout being much higher than at any time for years, and from 43 to 58 per cent. higher than this time last year. This unusual advance may have been influenced somewhat by the war, but is more directly due to the fact that there is a scarcity of wheat and flour in Europe. Russia has prohibited the exportation of either of these commodities, and France has taken off her import duty on wheat, while in Italy bread riots are affecting nearly every part of the country. In Great Britain, too, there is a great decrease in the stocks held in the country as compared with former years. That the feeling in wheat is firm is evidenced by the fact that Ontario wheat has advanced 25 to 30c., and Manitoba wheat 40 to 45c. in the last month. It is considered that if these prices are maintained till next harvest the farmers of Ontario and Manitoba will receive over $25,000,000 more for their wheat this year than last. Coarser grains show a corresponding advance, oats being 13c. dearer and peas, 22c. dearer than a year ago.

Flour, of course, has advanced in sympathy with wheat, Manitoba flour being $2.50 to $2.60 dearer, and Ontario flour $1.60 to $2 dearer than this time last year.

During the last month, buyers from many points in the United States have been in nearly every section of Ontario buying potatoes for export. They bought such large quantities that local dealers became quite interested, the result being that last week the price of potatoes rose from 60c. to $1, which price, however, was only maintained for a day or so. And, as this week the United States buyers have left the market, the price has fallen to 72c. for carload lots, it being considered that stocks are sufficient to meet the demand until the new crop comes in. This a much better price than last year, for then potatoes were selling as low as 20c. per bag.

The movement in beans recently has been unusually brisk, and now there is a firm feeling noted, with advance anticipated by many, though the price, $1 per bushel for hand-picked, is a high one, last year's figure, a comparatively good figure, being 25c. less than this.

As has been frequently noted in this paper, there has been very little low-grade butter on the market throughout the winter, and in every way the butter market at the beginning of spring was in a healthy condition. As there has been a large addition to the number of creameries throughout the province, and as a number of factories did not make fodder cheese, thereby necessitating farmers making butter, the receipts this year have been much in excess of former years. The healthy condition of the market at the commencement of the spring season, large shipping orders and an improved local demand, have tended to keep the market in a firm condition, but this large increase in receipts has weakened the feeling, a decline of 5c. per lb. being noted in the last month. Still, prices of dairy are ½ to 1c. per lb. in advance of those ruling a year ago. Creamery, however, is about 1c. below that of last year, and, as the English market is too low for export there, and, as receipts are greater than the demand, the feeling is decidedly weak.

Last year a great deal of fodder cheese was made, which was quoted at this time of the year about 10c. per lb. As is well known, there was an overproduction, and prices dropped, until the market was weak at 7¾ to 8c. per lb. about six weeks ago. The price of new cheese now coming on the market is about 8 to 8½c., a price considered by dealers much more favorable to them than last year's figures.

The egg market has been in a healthy condition for some time. Receipts have been large, but the demand has kept well up, and the price has been steady at about 10c. for some time. The majority of large dealers are pickling extensively.

The following table will give an idea of the comparative value of the commodities mentioned, as compared with a year ago:

ADVERTISING THAT DID NOT PAY.

The Nelson Morris Co., Chicago, which spent a large sum of money in painting its signs on every building it could secure in different parts of Canada, says that, as an advertisement, the results were not satisfactory.

This form of advertising may pay in Great Britain, where the country is thickly populated, and the majority of people do not read newspapers. One feature of this advertising which the Morris Co. counted on was its permanency, but it now appears that in many instances it has been replaced by the signs of enterprising local cigar manufacturers.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS' SUGAR.

Willett & Gray say of sugar: "Manila.—The capture of this city, and the passing of the extremely valuable and productive lands of the Philippine Islands into the possession of the United States, marks a new departure in our history. These islands produce some 250,000 tons of sugar of low grades, particularly acceptable to our refiners, who have always been large purchasers of these sugars. If we retain the islands, as we very likely will do, the production of sugar can be increased, and will have some influence on cheapening prices of sugar to the consumers of the United States."

There are 800 fishermen on Cape Island, N.S., about one-fourth of whom are boys. Since January 1, they have caught 5,500 crates of lobsters, the price of which was $88,000, and enough for the three canneries, which packed 1,600 cases, worth about $15,200, thus giving an income for the season of $103,200 to the fishermen, an average of $129 each for the four months.

HOW COFFEE IS GROWN.

ON a journey from San Paulo to a neighboring coffee plantation I learned how forest land is cleared in Brazil, writes a correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle. The forests are an inpenetrable mass of trees, vines and undergrowth. They first go through with a bill hook, cutting the undergrowth. Then, with an axe for 50 yards trees are cut half down. One tree is then felled in such a manner that it will fell all of the half-cut trees. After 40 or 50 days the land is burned over, and in the midst of whatever is left the trees are planted.

The ground is cultivated with the hoe often enough to keep the bushes from growing. For three years corn is planted between the rows of young trees. In the younger orchards the trees are planted 12 feet apart. They are never pruned until they are 40 or 50 years old, when some of the old wood is cut out and they look more like bushes than trees. On the same tree at the same time may be seen the white blossom and the green, red (ripe) and dark purplish (dead ripe and dry) berrries. These, against the dark green foliage, look very beautiful.

On this fayenda to pick the coffee a large cloth is spread under the trees. The man, woman or child then takes hold of the limb close to the base and runs the hand along, stripping the limb of everything, leaves, fruit and blossoms. The leaves are shaken out and the coffee emptied on the ground and afterwards shoveled into a measure with a shovel shaped out of the limb of a tree, and emptied into the ox-cart to go to the drying grounds. On the steepest hills the coffee is emptied into bags and brought down on the backs of men.

Whole families go into the field to pick the coffee. Seven bags is a good day's work for a man, and a family which picks 20 bags a day is in a fair way to become rich. They are paid 600 reis a bag, which according to exchange in June, would be about 9 cents. Since then exchange has been higher so that the amount per bag has been less. The bag holds about 128 pounds.

The coffee is brought to the "terreiro" in ox-carts drawn by 10 or 12 oxen. It is emptied into a tank and thoroughly washed. The dryest rises first, and is carried down with the water to any part of the terreiro desired and emptied into a large strainer. Here stand two men with shovels or rakes, who keep the strainer clear, piling the coffee up around them until they are buried nearly waist deep. When all has been washed and sent down the work of spreading begins. It is first spread in little mounds, almost touching, and left for several days, while the hull moulds and rots. It is said that this does not injure the seed and makes the hull come off easier in the machines. After a few days the coffee is spread in rows over the terreiro, and then turned often with scrapers made of wood and pushed by one or two men. It takes a month to dry the coffee. During the first week or two rain does no harm, but later it will cause the kernel to mold, inferior coffee being the result.

In every coffee berry there are two seeds. The Mocha, or best quality, is the undeveloped grain that grows at the ends of the limbs. The Java is the best developed, and grows about the centre of the limb. The next the trunk is the Rio. The Mocha brings the first price and the Java the second.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, May 12, 1898.

GROCERIES.

WHILE the volume of business is perhaps not as large as it was a week ago, yet, for this time of the year it is of fair proportion. There are still a good many sugars going out, but the demand is not as good as it was. Canned vegetables are still quiet, with the demand for tomatoes still disappointing. Corn is still in a good position. Coffee is meeting with a fair demand, and the outside markets have been a little firmer during the last few days. A further advance in rice is to be noted, and tapioca and sago are dearer. Spices are firm at unchanged prices. The tea market is not brisk, but there is a firmer feeling in regard to prices. A still further advance is to be noted in currants in the primary market, and the foreign dried fruit market generally is steady. Payments are fair.

CANNED GOODS.

The feature of the market probably is an enquiry for corn, but, at a lower price than holders will accept. Some inquirers only want to pay 75c., but this is not even approximate to holders' views. We hear of wholesalers securing orders for tomatoes at $1.20, for shipment to Manitoba, but while the general range of prices is $1.15 to $1.20, the feeling is unsettled, owing chiefly to the disappointing character of the demand. Some of the retailers, who are holding large stocks, are becoming a little nervous, and instances are reported where they have made sales to wholesalers whose stocks are light. Canned fruits are in moderate request only. The demand for salmon continues steady.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

Since the advance of 3c. per gallon in molasses, noted last week, some at least of the shipping houses have temporarily withdrawn from the market. Prices locally rule firm. For half-barrels of New Orleans the idea is 35c. per gallon, and for barrels, 27c., with fancy grades quoted as high as 45c. Syrups are quiet and steady.

SUGAR.

The sugar market was easy last week, in sympathy with declines in London, England. In New York, raws declined 1-16 to ⅛c. per lb., but refined was unchanged. This week, however, the market is in a much better condition, several slight advances being cabled from London. Locally, prices are unchanged. Wholesalers are doing a fair business, but the refiners report trade dull. Transactions in foreign granulated sugar are becoming more frequent on the local market.

NUTS.

The local market is devoid of special interest. Advices from Liverpool report an active demand for Brazil nuts of the cheap grades and that shipments to that port up to April 21, from the beginning of the season, were 97 tons more than for the same period in 1897. Sicily filberts and shelled almonds are dearer in New York.

RICE, TAPIOCA, SAGO.

The tendency in all these lines is upwards. Rice is ¼c. per lb. dearer than it was a week ago, the ruling wholesale quotation for "B" grade now being 3½ to 3¾c. Sago and tapioca are quoted ½c. dearer, and even the advanced figures are about on a parity with what it to-day costs to lay down fresh supplies. Sago is now quoted at from 3¾ to 4¼c., and tapioca at from 3¾ to 4½c.

COFFEE.

The coffee market, which had been weak, has again, within the last few days, taken a turn for the better, having advanced slightly in the primary and terminal markets. Locally, the demand keeps good.

SPICES.

Spices continue to hold a strong position. Advices from Penang and Singapore show that shipments of pepper continue to decline. As stocks are light, it is expected that prices will further appreciate as soon as London and New York begin to buy. Locally, the demand is only moderate.

TEAS.

The tea market rules firm. The first steamer with new season's Japan tea on board has sailed. She has only about 500 packages on board for Canada, which is much less than even a year ago. There is a good demand on the local market for flavory Ceylon teas, but otherwise business is quiet, although the package-tea men have been buying fairly well. Mail advices from London, England, under date of April 29, report a firm market for Indian teas, with occasionally higher prices, and firm prices for Ceylon teas in spite of large quantities offered at auction.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS—Another advance of 1s. 6d. is cabled from Patras. There have been a few transactions during the week on import account and wholesalers are experiencing a good demand. Prices are higher in New York, but locally, quotations are as they were a week ago. The first direct steamer for the year is nearly due.

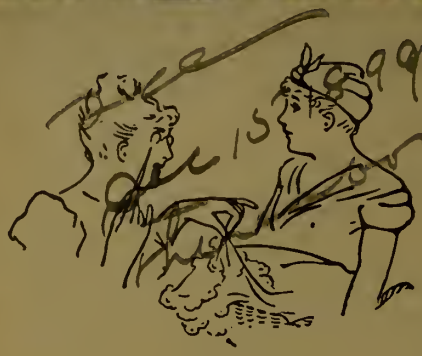
VALENCIA RAISINS—Wholesalers have sold more Valencia raisins during the past month than during the prior three months. Locally, stocks are getting into small compass, and there have been quite a few transactions between the different wholsesale houses.

PRUNES—California prunes are quoted ¾c. per lb. dearer by wholesalers this week. The demand is still fairly good. There are some cheap Bosnia prunes, 110's selling at from 4¼ to 4½c. per lb. this week.

CALIFORNIA EVAPORATED FRUITS—There is not a great deal doing. The tendency in the outside market is toward firmer prices on apricots and peaches.

CALIFORNIA RAISINS—Advices from New York report a speculative demand for loose muscatel raisins, with prices firmer.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.



EGGS—The firmness noted last week is still in evidence, stocks being absorbed for pickling. There is an abundant delivery, and a good demand makes trade brisk. The figures quoted are the same as last week, namely, 10 to 10½c. per dozen.

POTATOES — The large movement of potatoes to the United States market created quite a bullish tendency, and as high as $1 per bag was asked some days. This feeling has quieted down somewhat, and now carload lots can be had at 70 to 72c. per bag, which, however, is an advance of 12c. per bag. The street market is now also away up, 75 to 80c. per bag being asked.

DRIED APPLES—The market continues dull, with prices about 3 to 4c. for choice lots. Some good stock is offered at 2½ to 3c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Stocks are light, and but little trade is reported, the prices asked ranging from 8½ to 9½c.

BEANS—There was a great rise in prices towards the end of last week, but the feeling now is somewhat easier, especially for ordinary beans, which are not in great demand. There is a large movement in hand-picked. The prices noted this week are 80 to 85c. for ordinary beans, 95 to $1 for hand-picked in ordinary lots to retailers.

HONEY—Business is quiet, with stocks well cleaned up.

MAPLE PRODUCT — There continues to be a steady but moderate demand for syrup. The demand for sugar is good. Prices throughout are unchanged.

VEGETABLES—Prices continue to decline, as the receipts increase. The demand is good for all articles. We quote: Rhubarb, 20 to 30c. per doz. bunches; onions, 5c. doz. bunches; lettuce, 20 to 30c. doz. bunches; radishes, 40 to 50c. doz. bunches; cabbage, new, 75c.; old, 40c. doz.; parsley, 15 to 20c. doz. bunches; cucumbers, Canadian, 25 to 35c. per doz.; watercress, 20 per doz. bunches; gardencress, 20 to 25c. per doz. bunches; spinach, 75c. to $1 per bush,; asparagus, 40 to 50c. per doz.; green peas, $1 to $1.10 per bush.; butter beans, $4 per bushel.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—Though there is a good local and shipping demand for dairy butter, the receipts continue to increase so largely that the feeling is decidedly weak, especially for large rolls and pound prints. There is a good demand for dairy tubs, which are arriving in fair quantities. The quality of all dairy offering now is improving on account of the season advancing and allowing cattle to get out on pasture. The receipts of dairy butter have been much greater than the local demand, and, as the British market is too low for export, the feeling here is weak, with prices fully 1c. lower than last week.

CHEESE—There is still a decided firmness in the tone of the local market, the price noted running from 8¼c. to as high as 9c. New fodder cheese is coming in more freely, at 8 to 8½c. per lb.

PROVISIONS.

Dealers say the amount of business transacted during April and May this year is much ahead of the same period for years, and prospects for trade during the coming summer are quite bright. Prices are firm. Stocks of barrel pork, especially Canadian heavy mess and clear shoulder mess, are much lighter than usual at this season. Lard is firm, and in good demand. On account of the high price of lard there has been an active demand for compound and shortening.

GRAIN, FLOUR, BREAKFAST FOODS.

GRAIN—The wheat market is in such a peculiar condition that it is difficult to give correct quotations. There has been an advance of 13c. in red and white wheat, and 15 to 16c. in goose wheat. Quotations on cars outside run about as follows: Wheat, red winter, $1.10 to $1.15; white winter, $1.08 to $1.13; goose, $1.06 to $1.08. On the street market there has been a large offering of all grain, especially wheat. We quote: White wheat, $1.12 to $1.15; red wheat, $1.15 to $1.19; goose wheat, $1.08 to $1.09; barley, 42 to 42½c.; oats, 37½ to 38c.; rye, 55c.; peas, 65c.; No. 1 Manitoba hard wheat has advanced 22c., now being quoted at $1.50, Sarnia freight.

FLOUR—In sympathy with the remarkable advance in wheat, all grades of flour have advanced, Manitoba flour rising $1.10 and Ontario flour 70c. in price. We quote as follows: Manitoba patents, $7 to $7.10; Manitoba strong bakers', $6.60 to $6.85; Ontario patents, $6 to $6.25; straight roller, $5.50 to $5.60, Toronto freights.

BREAKFAST FOODS—There is a brisk business being done. Prices are firm, with advances of 30c. in standard oats and oatmeal and 50c. in rolled wheat. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $4.50 in bags and $4.60 in bbls.; rolled wheat, $3.50 in 100-lb. bbls.; cornmeal, $2.50; split peas, $3.75; pot barley, $3.75.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

There is a good demand for fresh fish, especially whitefish and salmon trout. Ciscoes have declined 30c. in price. We quote: Fresh salmon trout, 6 to 7c.; fresh whitefish, 6 to 7c.; steak trout, 7c.; fresh steak cod, 6 to 6½c. per lb.; fresh pike,

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

HIDES—The feeling is firm, an advance of ½c. being noted. We quote: No. 1, 8c.; No. 2, 7c.; No. 3, 6c.; cured, 8½ to 8¾c.

CALFSKINS—The feeling is weak. Prices are unchanged. We quote: No. 1 veal, 8 lbs. and up, 9c. per lb.; No. 2, 7c.; dekins, from 30 to 35c.; culls, 15 to 20c.

SHEEPSKINS—Trade is quiet. We quote at $1.15 to $1.35.

WOOL—There is a free offering of unwashed at 11c. per lb. A few odd lots of fleece is coming in at 16c. per lb.

SALT.

There is a fair business being done at unchanged figures. We quote: Carload lots, $1.05 per bbl., and 65c. per sack; less than carload lots, $1.10 per bbl., and 70c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B., barrels, 75c.; sacks, 45c.

MARKET NOTES.

Beans have advanced 10c. per bushel.

Potatoes are 12c. per bag dearer than last week.

Quotations on California prunes are ¼c. per lb. dearer.

Rice is ¼c. per lb. dearer. Tapioca and sago have advanced ½c. per lb.

Butter is 1 to 1½c. cheaper than last week. Dairy tubs are most wanted.

The high price of lard has created a good demand for compound and shortening.

A cable to P. L. Mason & Co. notes an advance of 1s. 6d. in currants in Patras.

Hides have advanced ½c. per lb. Fleece wool is coming on the market at 16c. per lb.

Rutherford, Marshall & Co. made a shipment of 11,200 lb. fresh creamery butter to the Klondyke last Friday.

D. Gunn, Bros. & Co. report a very marked increase in receipts of both butter and eggs, and predict lower prices next week.

Manitoba flour has advanced $1.10 and Ontario flour 70c. per bbl. Standard oats

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, May 12, 1898.

GROCERIES.

THERE has been a fairly satisfactory business in general groceries during the week, and the general tendency is firm. Sugar rules firm, but jobbers have not been as large buyers at the refineries as previously. Stocks of syrups are light and business is limited in consequence. The excitement in molasses continues, the fact being testified to by another jump in jobbing prices of 3c., the price now being held firm at 31c. Importers are also unable to secure any offers from the islands. Teas have ruled quiet but firm in tone. Spices are strong, especially Pimento. Coffee is as last reported, but rice has been marked up another 25c. per 100 lbs., making 50c. in less than three weeks. Foreign advices on this article are quite stiff. Valencia raisins are pointing much higher abroad, and, as a result of the strength in filbert nuts, local jobbers are asking ½c. per lb. advance. Green fruits are generally steady.

SUGAR.

There has been no change in the local sugar situation, but the firm feeling noted last week is fully retained. Demand, however, has not been quite as brisk at the refineries, as buyers procured pretty good supplies during the last week or so and are now holding off. At the refineries the same figures hold, granulated being held at 4½c. for standard ; Austrian granulated, 4 3-16c.; Dutch do., 4¼c.; and yellows, 3 11-16 to 4½c., as to grade. Glucose has been rather firmer in tone this week, as the refiners ask an advance. In New York : Raw, quiet ; fair refining, 3⅝c.; centrifugal, 98 test, 4 3-16c. Refined market quiet at decline. Mould A, 5⅝c.; standard A, 5¼c.; confectioners' A, 5¼c.; cut loaf, 5 7-16c.; crushed, 5⅜c.; powdered, 5⅝c.; granulated, 5⅜c.; cubes, 5⅝c.

J. McLauchlan & Sons, - - Owen Sound

SYRUPS.

Refiners have little or no stocks of syrups, and, with none to offer, business is light, while prices are unchanged.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market continues excited, and further advances have been cabled from the Islands. In fact, importers here who tried to place orders this week could not do so. Brokers at the islands said they might be able to fill an order if they had one in hand, but the condition of the market made it utterly impossible for them to make any firm offer for future shipment. The wholesale grocers, as noted last week, advanced their price to 27c. for car lots and 28c. for puncheons. This week, they have marked prices up another 3c., and refuse to accept any order for a larger quantity than three or four puncheons, for which prices are firmly held at 31c. As stocks on spot are exceedingly light, and the quantity afloat for this port, so far, lighter than usual, still higher prices are not unlikely.

CANNED GOODS.

Aside from the firmness in canned meats there is little to report about this market. Canned vegetables show an easy tendency owing to large speculative holdings, while there is nothing yet to report in connection with salmon.

TEAS.

There has been no fresh news in the tea market. Demand is of a moderate character, but the tone is firm for reasons already noted, the chief being the light stocks in hand so that there is no disposition to urge sales despite the dulness. Some round lots of Japan have left first hands at 16 to 17c. for medium to fine, while low grades have been taken at 12½c. Gunpowders have also been turned over at 11½ to 13c.

SPICES.

Spices all round continue firm, and an advance has been established in the case of Pimento for which 14c. is now asked.

COFFEE.

There has been no change in the spot situation of the coffee market, though outside advices, in some cases, have shown a firmer tendency. Only a moderate demand is being experienced by roasters.

RICE.

The rice market has advanced 25c. per lb. all round at the mills, as a result of the strength abroad. This is an advance of ½c. in the past three weeks. New crop rice has arrived and is being placed on the market, the quality being remarkably good. Cable advices from Europe are strong. We quote : Crystal Japan, $5.50 to $5.75 ; standard B, $3.75 to $4.; Patna, $5 to $5.50; Carolina, $7.25 to $7.75 ; choice Burmah, $4.50 to $4.75, and Java kinds. $4.75 to $5.

DRIED FRUIT.

Currants are steady to firm, but there is no change in spot quotations.

Importers who made enquiry regarding Valencia raisins in London this week were asked an advance of 2s. 6d. on previous offers, or ½ to ¾c. per lb. Stocks here, while not heavy, appear to be sufficient in the jobbers' estimation for future wants.

Advices from the Coast on California raisins are quite firm, but there has been nothing doing on spot.

The prune market remains much as it was last week, the firm tendency being retained by all descriptions of stock.

Figs and dates are as last reported.

Evaporated fruits continue steady with demand only moderate, however.

NUTS.

Cable advices are quite firm in regard to filberts and Tarragona almonds and Valencia shelled almonds. In fact, some commission men here have been unable to get firm offers on the latter. Local jobbers are asking ½c. per lb. more for filberts this week, and say that before it is out another rise may take place.

GREEN FRUIT.

The first auction sale having passed off, the second this week comprises a much larger quantity of fruit. In a regular way we quote: Lemons, $2.50 to $3 per box for fancy, and $2 to $2.50 for good; oranges, $3 to $3.50 for fancy, and $2.50 to $3 for good. New southern strawberries were offered this week at 14 to 16c. Pineapples are unchanged at 8 to 15c., and bananas, $1.50 to $1.75.

DRIED APPLES.

Dried apples rule firm at 4 to 4½c., and evaporated, 9 to 10c., as to grade.

APPLES.

Quiet and nominal, at $3 to $5 per bbl.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The demand for eggs continues fair and the market is moderately active, with no change in prices to note, sales being made at 9c. to 10c. per dozen, as to quality.

BEANS—Beans were dull and unchanged at 70c. to 75c. for primes, and at 85c. to 90c. for choice hand-picked per bushel.

HONEY—The demand for honey is slow and the market is quiet. We quote: White clover comb. 11c. to 12c.; dark, 8c. to 10c.; white strained, 6c. to 7c., and dark, 4c. to 5c.

MAPLE PRODUCT—Maple product is quieter and prices have an easy tendency, syrup in wood selling at 4¾c. to 5c. per lb., and in tins at 45c. to 50c., as to size. Sugar moves freely at 6c. to 6¼c. per lb.

PROVISIONS.

There has been a firm feeling in provisions, but supplies are ample to fill all requirements. We quote: Canadian pork, $15.50 to $16 per barrel; pure Canadian lard, in pails, at 8¼c. to 8½c.; and compound refined at 5½c. to 5¾c. per lb.; hams, 11½c. to 12c.; bacon, 12c. per lb.

FLOUR, GRAIN, ETC.

There is no abatement in the excitement and activity in the grain market, which continues exceedingly strong, in sympathy with European advices. The demand for wheat from foreigners is brisk, and all the offerings put forward by cable are promptly accepted, with further enquiries for round lots. The demand from local shippers is also active, and the amount of stuff turned over enormous. The latest feature is the advance of 15c. per bushel in the price of Manitoba No. 1 hard wheat since Friday, buyers to-day bidding $1.45 freely afloat Fort William, which is equal to $1.53 here, but holders in most cases are asking $1.50 afloat Fort William, and seem to think they will get it in a day or two. Sales of No. 3 hard Manitoba wheat were made at $1.37 afloat Fort William. There continues to be a brisk demand for Ontario red wheat, and purchases were made at western points, at prices ranging from $1.10 to $1.18, which figures show a further advance of from 2 to 9c. per bushel over what was paid last Saturday. One shipper alone bought 130,000 bushels in the past two days. Millers are paying at country points in Manitoba $1.25 for No. 1 hard wheat. Oats were again active, and show a further rise of ½c. per bushel, with a large business done at 41c. afloat. There was a firmer undertone to the market for peas to-day, which was due chiefly to an improved demand, and several sales of fair-sized lots were made at 70½c. afloat, with holders at the close of the market asking 71c. Rye was scarce, and, in the absence of any business, prices are withheld.

The demand for flour is brisk, and the market active and strong, with a large volume of business doing. The Lake of the Woods Milling Co. report that the offers made to London on Saturday of all grades of flour were, contrary to their expectations, accepted, as the price put on each grade was beyond, in their opinion, what the Englishmen would pay. Not only did they accept, but also cabled to make daily offers of all grades of their flour. The quantity placed to-day was 2,000 sacks. They marked up prices 25c. per barrel on all grades, and on receipt of cables this afternoon, made a further advance of 25c., as they claim they are not only justified in doing this on account of the price they are receiving for export orders, but also due to the rapid advance of 12 to 18c. per bushel in the price of wheat in all the leading markets of the world. Besides the above, this company have been asked to put under offer from 200,000 to 500,000 bushels of No. 1 hard Manitoba wheat at a price which would net them much better results than manufacturing wheat into flour at present prices. W. W. Ogilvie sold all the flour for shipment to Australia during the months of May, June and July that he could possibly deliver, and Mr. Ogilvie stated that he was offered to-day's price for August shipment to the above point, but did not accept it. We quote: Winter wheat patents, $5.65 to $5.75; straight rollers, $5.45 to $5.55; bags, $2.65 to $2.75; Manitoba patents, $6.90; strong bakers', $6.50; extra, in bags, $2.35 to $2.45.

The tone of the feed market is firm, and the demand is good for the season. We quote: Ontario winter wheat bran, $13.50 to $14.50; shorts, $16 per ton in bulk; Manitoba bran, $14; shorts, $16, and moullie, $17 to $18 per ton, including bags.

The receipts of hay are not large, but ample is coming forward to supply all requirements, and prices rule steady at $10 to $10.50 for No. 1, and at $8 to $9 for No. 2, in car lots.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

Cheese continues quiet in Canada because there is very little stock to trade in. The April make for the entire country will hardly exceed 5,000 boxes, and this has already all passed out of the control of first hands, chiefly on the basis of 7⅞c. at the factory, which is equivalent to 8⅛c. on spot. All the old cheese is sold, so that with the new make to date disposed of and no old goods to trade in business is bound to be dull. In New York also, desirable grades of old cheese are gradually narrowing down, and 8¾ to 8⅞c. was realized for this stock there the other day. Receipts of new cheese continue moderate at New York and exporters have bought the most of them and, it is notable, at higher prices than have been realized on this side the line, 8½c. being paid for white, and 8⅝c. for colored in New York city.

The butter market is without change, business being moderately brisk. Creamery in tubs sold to-day at 17c., but it can be had for less money, as 16½c. was accepted in some cases. Townships' dairy is coming in and realizes almost as much as creamery, 16c. being freely bid for it. Western rolls move quietly at 15 to 15½c.

MONTREAL NOTES.

New crop rice was placed on the market last Thursday. The quality is said to be exceptionally good.

The price of rice has been advanced 25c. all round, which makes a rise of ½c. per pound in less than three weeks.

Cables from London ask an advance of 2s. 6d. for Valencia raisins, or about ½ to ¾c. per pound higher prices than a week ago.

First offers of new southern strawberries were made this week. The quality is excellent, and they have been selling at 14 to 16c.

Cables are strong in regard to filberts, and local jobbers are asking an advance of

The jobbing range on Barbadoes molasses has been advanced 3c. per gallon, and only single puncheons will now be sold, sellers refusing to part with car lots, the basis being firm at 31c.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER,
ST. JOHN, N.B., May 10, 1898.

THE week has been quite a busy one. Markets are firm, and in many cases are higher. Flour, particularly Manitoba, has again moved up. Our schooner men are finding rather improved freight rates, there being a demand for British vessels. In tea, there is some business in Indians and Ceylons, but Chinas are dull. Prices are rather firmer all round. The chances for profit this spring are much ahead of last, and dealers are not handicapped with large stocks. At present there are hardly any lines held except those showing advanced prices. Pork and beef have no large sale, but are in light supply, and show good value.

OIL—While our oil people look for higher prices, owing to expected advance in crude, which would effect both burning and lubricating oils, there is a steady business in burning oil, but it is lubricating that now occupies chief attention. The spring business is reported a good one.

SALT—A good, regular demand is noted, and a fair stock is held. There is one cargo due of upward of 6,000 bags, including coarse, fine and bulk rock salt. Prices tend higher, and buyers should have orders in to be filled on arrival. A second cargo, about the same size, is expected in about a week. The sale of rock salt is light in this market. Canadian salt has steady sale, particularly butter and cheese salt, and 10 and 20-lb. wood boxes. We quote: Liverpool coarse, 45 to 48c.; English factory-filled, 90c. to $1; Canadian fine, $1 per bag; cheese and butter salt, bulk, $2.50 to $2.60 per bbl.; 5-lb. bags, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $2.85 to $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c. each; 10-lb. wood boxes, 12c. each; cartons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; English bottled salt, $1.25 to $1.30; mineral rock salt, 60c. to $1.

CANNED GOODS — Meats, particularly corned beef, continue to advance. American canners in soms cases will only sell limited quantities at present prices. Very little American is now brought here, and in Canadian our dealers are well stocked Other lines are quiet. The low prices of Canadian peaches have about shut American out of our market. At best, however, the sale is small. Salmon is still low. There is quite a range in quality of stocks held. In condensed milk and coffee a fair business is noted. Lobsters are still light sale owing to high prices. Oysters are slowly moving up, and pineapple is firm.

GREEN FRUIT—This is one of the busy lines. Bananas are now a large sale, and stocks arriving are good. California oranges are also moving freely; prices tending higher. A carload is to hand this week. There are still a few good bloods and regular Messinas offered. In the latter a grade known as doals is particularly good. Strawberries show little change, though tending lower. Rhubarb is arriving in better quality, and at lower prices. Valencia oranges are about out of the market. Lemons are still low, and have rather better sale. Grape fruit is a light seller here. Apples are practically out of the market.

DRIED FRUIT—Currants have a fair sale at full prices; demand is for cleaned. A few raisins are selling. Some very nice California three and four-crown goods are here. Two-crowns have a limited sale. California evaporated fruits are higher, particularly apricots. Quality of late arrivals is hardly equal to that received earlier in the season, which was fine. There is rather less demand. Dried and evaporated apples are light stock and dull. Onions move freely. New Egyptian and Bermudas are offered. Nuts show little change, though filberts and peanuts are firmer.

SUGAR—Sales have been more free of late. Prices are rather higher, but local dealers are still offering at prices rather below refiners' figures. There are rather good sized stocks now held, but no particularly large movement.

MOLASSES—Market shows little change during the week, but is firm and is likely to go higher. Only a fair stock of Barbadoes arrived by steamer this week. There is a good demand. The high price of Porto Rico aiding the sale of the latter. There is still some old stock in the market.

DAIRY PRODUCE — Butter tends easier, but best grade has good steady sale at good figures. Dairy prints as well as creamery are now offered in 1-lb. bricks and in printed parchment. Fair quantities are arriving. Eggs are still low, though rather firmer. There is just fair steady sale. Cheese is still dull with a fair stock of old on hand. No new yet here.

FISH—Fresh still have the chief attention. Gaspereaux are freely received. They still have a large sale for bait; also smoked and kippered. Some are being pickled. Halibut shows fair receipt; also fresh cod and haddock. Shad and salmon are beginning to be seen, and will soon be a feature in the market, particularly the latter. Dry cod are scarce and price higher. Receipts will be light for some time. Mediums are preferred. Pollock show no change. Pickled herring are very dull, though price is maintained, as stock is light. Smoked herring continue firm. Finnan haddies have a fair sale.

PROVISIONS—There is an increased upward movement in prices in pork and beef. There is but light stock here and not much movement. In smoked meats there is a fair sale at even prices. Lard is firmer; fair stocks are held.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—The local market in flour is about millers' prices. This is the case particularly in Manitoba flour, which, in some cases, is quoted below millers' prices. Manitoba has moved up about $1.50 a barrel, which is rather more than Ontario. The latter is having an improved demand, on account of the high price of wheat. In oatmeal, prices are up, and stocks are much lighter than flour. Oats are higher and have fair demand. Cornmeal is at last in the procession, and is again quoted higher this week, and the tendency is upward. Beans are also rather higher again this week. There are only fair stocks held here. Barley, split peas, and blue peas are all light stock and high, with a fair sale. Hay is dull and low. Seeds show no change in price, but are a large sale. We quote as follows: Manitoba flour, $6.50 to $7; best Ontario, $5.80 to $6; medium, $5.65 to $5.75; oatmeal, $4.35 to $4.45; cornmeal, $2.25; middlings, $20 to $22; bran, $18 to $19; oats, 40 to 45c.; hand-picked beans, $1.30; prime, $1 to $1.20; yellow eye beans, $1.75; split peas, $3.80 to $3.90; round, $3.25 to $3.40; pot barley, $3.80 to $3.90; hay, $9 to $9.50; timothy seed, American, $1.70 to $2.15; do., Canadian, $2 to $2.40; mammoth clover, 6 to 7c.; alsike, 7¾ to 8½c.

David Hatt has sold out his interest in the grocery firm of Hatt, Morrison & Co., Limited, Fredericton.

John Sealy reports the receipts of fresh Gaspereaux large this week. All orders can be promptly filled; also for smoked or kippered. He will very soon be in a position to supply fresh shad and salmon. A few have already been received.

The reduction in interest by the Government Savings Bank is causing very many to withdraw their deposits. During the last month the withdrawals here have amounted

MANITOBA MARKETS.

WINNIPEG, May 9, 1898.

THE talk is still war, war, to the exclusion of almost everything else. The war has been a veritable Godsend to newspaperdom. Wheat has touched the highest point reached since 1888. in fact, even in that banner year such good prices were not realized. The market closed on Saturday $1.35 afloat Fort William, or about $1.23 Winnipeg. This price is regarded as speculative, and it is thought will not be maintained. In sympathy with wheat, flour has advanced 10c. per sack all round. It is expected, that owing to the advance of flour and bread, biscuits will advance. The market is firm, but no advance has as yet been declared. Cereals are scarce.

The Klondyke has been so overshadowed by war news, that it seems to be forgotten, but, as a matter of fact, parties are preparing and going out almost as regularly as before. Mr. Pindeel, the agent of the Hudson's Bay Co., in Chicago, reports that he is fairly besieged with crowds wanting information, particularly as to the all-Canadian routes, and several large parties are arranging to start within the next ten days or two weeks. The early opening of the Yukon is also giving a fresh impetus to the rush to the "Golden North."

Seeding being practically over, farmers are rushing in any wheat which they may have to spare, and deliveries at some country points have been quite heavy. The amount of wheat actually in the country, however, is small.

Business is very good and prices are being well maintained.

CURED MEATS—Market firm, and practically little change from last week. Long clear, dry salt is a little firmer and seems hard to obtain. Limited quantities are offering, but the prices are higher, being quoted to-day at 9½c.; smoked ditto, 10½c.; breakfast bacon, 11½ to 12c. Hams are plentiful and very reasonable in price, 14 to 16-lb. average selling at 11c.

LARD—Market firm. Pure lard in 20-lb. pails, $2; composite, $1.45; 3-lb. tins, in cases, $6.

BUTTER—No Manitoba creamery offering, though, as some of the factories are now open and the weather warm, there will probably be some small offerings at the end of the week. Dairy butter grows more plentiful, though the increase of supply is not as great as anticipated. Round lots of fresh dairy bring from 17 to 18½c., according to grade.

EGGS—This produce is plentiful, and is now traveling a downhill road in the matter of price. Jobbers are selling at 10c.

CANNED GOODS—Tomatoes are a little easier, showing, in fact, a slight decline in prices offered from the east. The fact is, that when tomatoes go past a certain figure, people will not buy them, and a drop in price, to some extent, at least, must follow. Peas and corn, however, still hold stiff, and no change is anticipated until new peas are in. Tomatoes, $3.10 to $3.20, according to brand; corn, $2.10 to $2.20; peas, $2.20 to $2.25. Canned fruits show no change in price, but the demand is a little more active. Canned meats have advanced from 10 to 15c. per case during the week, and corned beef is now worth $3 per case.

FLOUR—We quote per 98-lb. sack patent at $3; strong bakers', $2.80; 2nd bakers', $2.35; XXXX, $1.60.

CEREALS—This market shows a sharp advance. Rolled oats, $2.20 to $2.25 per sack. Granulated oatmeal is almost out of the market. Cornmeal, $1.55. Beans have advanced 15c. during the week, and are now selling at $1.30 to $1.35. Dealers who bought early, and in large quantities, now have an opportunity of unloading at a handsome profit.

RICE—Situation unchanged. Japan rice is out of the market. Some China rice now in transit will reach here this week and is expected to take the place of the Japanese. India rice is almost as scarce as China.

DRIED FRUITS — California muscatel raisins look cheap just now, when we remember that no Valencia stocks can reach here for some time at least. Evaporated fruits remain without change for the week. Market on all lines is stiff.

COFFEE—Market firmer; No. 5 Rios at 10½c. This price will be maintained, but will not likely go higher.

TOBACCO — No change in this situation. Havana cigars are a scarce commodity, and dealers holding stocks are asking large figures for them.

SUGAR — Market is firm. Granulated, 5⅝c.; bright yellow, 4¾c.

GREEN FRUIT — Expected advance in oranges has not taken place, indeed, it now looks as if there might even be a decline in price. Quotations are: Navels, $3.75 to $4; seedlings, $3 to $3.25. Lemon situation is a little peculiar. California lemons are just about done, and Messina fruit has not arrived, though it was billed to arrive nearly two weeks ago. When in, they will probably run from $3.75 to $4.25. Apples are about where they were three weeks ago. Good stock will bring from $4.50 to $6, according to condition. Poor stock, of which there is a great abundance, cannot be given away. Southern pie plant is selling freely at $1.50. Bananas have not advanced in price, nor does the supply show signs of falling short; $2.50 to $3 per bunch is the idea as to price. Pines are out of the market at present, but a shipment is expected on Monday. Tomatoes are also temporarily out of the market. Southern supply is apparently exhausted, and intermediate points are not yet ready to ship. Egyptian onions are now in stock, of very good quality, and selling at $4.25 to $4.50 per cwt. Strawberries are more plentiful and a little lower, being now $5.50 for case of 24 quarts. Fresh lettuce, radishes, cucumbers, cress and the like are all on the market.

The exports of rice from Japan to all points this season up to March 11 were 20,024 tons, against 59,506 tons last year. The imports of rice into Japan from Burmah thus far this season have been 800,000 tons.

THE TOWN OF MITCHELL.

THE Board of Trade, of Mitchell, Ont., has just issued a small booklet giving a resume of the proceedings at the recent annual meeting, together with interesting information regarding the town.

Mitchell is a town of 2,200, twelve miles from Stratford, on the Buffalo and Lake Huron division of the G.T.R. It has fine, wide streets, a first-class system of waterworks for fire protection, and an arc electric light system. The debenture debt of the town is $36,780, on an assessed valuation of $682,000. It has a high school, a public school, a public library of 3,000 volumes, and two weekly newspapers. It is an outpost for the collection of duties, has four hotels, a branch of the Merchants Bank, a post office, two telegraph offices, and an opera house capable of holding 900 people.

A good export trade is done in Mitchell, a large number of cattle, and large quantities of pork products, grain, flour, oatmeal, tweeds, and hosiery being shipped therefrom annually. There are openings for several new manufactories, and the town would give exemption from taxation for a time to any new industry employing a number of hands. The creameries in the neighborhood had a successful season last winter, and it is probable a number of new ones will be running by next winter.

As will be seen from the following list all kinds of business and professions are represented in Mitchell:

MEETINGS OF RETAIL GROCERS' ASSOCIATIONS.

TORONTO ASSOCIATION.

THE Toronto Retail Grocers' Association held its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, a good and representative number of members being present. The president, W. H. Marmion, was in the chair.

One new member, T. Holmes, 994 Bathurst street, was received.

THE PICNIC.

The report of the committee appointed to secure information as to a suitable place for the annual excursion, and the rates a boat might be secured for to various points, was received, and created quite a lengthy discussion, the three places suggested as suitable and desirable points being Port Hope, Cobourg and St. Catharines. No satisfactory conclusion could be reached, so the motion put on the minutes at the March meeting that the excursion should be by boat was rescinded, and another committee consisting of Messrs. Sykes, Bond, Kelly, Gibson, Butcher, Davies and Bell, was appointed to secure further information, and report, a special meeting to be called if necessary.

The special committee appointed to revise the constitution and by-laws of the association gave its report. The report was left on the table for detailed consideration at next meeting.

THE HUCKSTER NUISANCE.

A communication was received from the Toronto Retail Merchants' Association asking that the Grocers' Association appoint a committee to confer with that organization in regard to the huckster nuisance in the city. President W. H. Marmion, Vice-President F. W. Johnston and Messrs. Sykes, Clarke, White, Mills, Williamson, Kelly, Butcher and Gibson were appointed the committee.

A letter was received from the Hamilton Grocers' Association asking the Toronto association to co-operate in bringing influence to bear on members of Parliament that the bill in regard to the garnisheeing of civil servants' salaries should not be shelved. It was decided, on motion of Messrs. Gibson and Clarke, to write to the Toronto representatives, to the Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, and Mr. Featherstone, of Peel, asking them to use their influence to have the bill passed.

On motion of Messrs. White and Sykes, the following resolution was passed unanimously: "That in the opinion of this association the proposed extensive improvements to the Toronto market would not be in the interest of the merchants or the citizens of Toronto generally." It was decided to send a copy of the resolution to the Mayor.

AGAINST TRADING STAMPS.

Messrs. White and Johnson then moved the following resolution: "That we, as an association, disapprove of any scheme of giving bonuses to our customers in the form of trading stamps, coupons, or any such tning."

A. White, in support of the motion, expressed his opinion that all such schemes tended toward unfair business methods. He thought it a mean way to try to get other merchants' customers, and if followed to its legitimate outcome, i.e., all merchants adopting it, the result would be loss all round, with no advantage. There was no guarantee that customers would be satisfied with the goods they received in return for stamps or coupons.

F. S. Roberts was opposed to the principle of any such scheme. Though it cuts the retailer's profits down at least 4½ per cent., it does not give an equal return to the customer, for as $99 of trade has to be done before a book is filled, and in many instances stamps, coupons or books are lost, the customer gets no return for these stamps or coupons, though the grocer has to pay for them. He would have nothing to do with them.

J. G. Gibson said no man in the grocery business could give away 5 per cent. of his profits and live. He would give 5 per cent. cold cash back to his customer rather than allow any outsider to have any finger in his business. That is what he would do if his competitors tried to take his business by any such scheme.

J. S. Bond had had a good deal of experience with such schemes, and his experience was such that he would advise all retailers to have nothing to do with any of them and to get out of all such as soon as possible. It was as bad as the cutting system, which everyone admits is hurtful to trade.

W. J. Sykes thought that such a scheme was apt to create unkind feelings among merchants, and tended to lower the tone of trade generally. And it could not pay in the end, for if grocers in a neighborhood found one man taking trade by such means they would follow suit, the result being that profits all round would be decreased, and no such scheme could possibly increase business.

John Butcher considered it an impossibility to give five per cent. of one's profits and do business on honest lines. And the association had no desire to encourage dishonesty of any nature.

D. Bell had given the trading stamp scheme a trial, and, so far, had found it to work satifactorily. It had increased his cash trade largely, though it did take some of his profits. At present he was not prepared to condemn it.

F. W. Johnston had little to say regarding the scheme, but what he said meant something. He said: "When the representative of this scheme called on me, I opened the door and told him to get out. He got out." (Laughter.)

D. J. Kelly, of Kelly Bros., stated that they were making a month's experiment of the trading stamp scheme, and were not yet prepared to personally condemn it. They had refused to approve of it, but would be prepared to express an opinion at the end of the month. The scheme had taken $18 out of their business in the last week.

After other members had briefly expressed their disapproval of the scheme, the resolution was put and carried, all voting in favor of it except Mr. Bell.

REMEMBERING AN OLD MEMBER.

As Mr. Robert Mills, a member of the association, had accepted the position of representative of the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., Toronto, in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, it was decided, on motion of Messrs. Gibson and White, to present him a memorial on behalf of the association.

MONTREAL ASSOCIATION.

The regular meeting of the Montreal Retail Grocers' Association was held Thursday evening, May 5, in the Monument National Hall, President John Seanlan in the chair.

The secretary read a list of names of wholesale merchants connected with the trade to whom circulars will be mailed asking subscriptions to the annual picnic, which has been fixed for July 13. It was decided that the society prepare its own programme this year, and that no sub-agents be authorized to solicit advertisements for the same. A letter was read from Mr. Rene Bauset, assistant city clerk, stating that, at the request of Ald. Gagnon, the question of enforcing the pedlars' license law had been brought to the attention of the market committee, and a motion to that effect was now before the council.

Ald. Turner, who is a member of the grocers' association, said that some rebates had been granted in the past, but he could assure the meeting that the practice had been stopped and that the by-law would be rigidly enforced in the future.

OUR OTTAWA CORRESPONDENCE.

THE SALMON CANNING INDUSTRY.

OTTAWA, MAY 11, (SPECIAL).—One of the fatal blows to salmon canning in British Columbia has been struck by the bringing into force of item 106 in the Customs tariff, of ½c. per lb. duty on fresh salmon. The collection of this Customs duty has been suspended year after year, until now, when the Customs Department have issued a circular putting it into force from March 15 last. To properly understand this question, a brief sketch of the contiguous countries and conditions is necessary. The western coast of British Columbia, adjacent to the international boundary line between British Columbia and the United States is characterized by a nearly land locked body of salt water, elongated in shape, extending in a general direction north-west and south-east, a distance of over 200 miles. At the southern end this body of water penetrates for 50 miles into the Territory of Washington, U.S., while its central and northern portions lie between Vancouver Island on the west, and Washington Territory and the mainland of British Columbia on the east. The northern portion of the sea is known as the Gulf of Georgia, and the southern part Puget Sound. The Fraser river, 740 miles in length, lies wholly within British territory. The international boundary strikes the gulf a few miles south of the Fraser river. On the Fraser river salmon fishing is conducted on a large scale, and it is on this river that the Canadian Government established and maintain fish hatcheries. The fish on their way from the sea to their spawning grounds in the Fraser river pass successively through the waters of both countries and are fished for on both sides of the boundary line. The spawning ground of most of the fish is the Fraser river, toward which the greater part of the entire run is directed. Salmon enter the gulf and Puget Sound from the ocean through the Straits of Fuca, but avoid the central channel and hug the United States shore as they proceed toward the Fraser river, which is the only river to which the best salmon resort extensively, and the species used in canning depends mostly on that river for its spawning grounds, and hence, for perpetuating the main supply.

The principal fisheries are carried on in the Fraser River and Gulf of Georgia. On the Canadian side the only form of net permitted is the drift gill nets, while, in Washington Territory, salmon fishing is carried on by trap nets. In 1895, 24,445,421 lb. were canned on the Fraser River, and the output of Washington Territory, for the same year, was 5,375,000 lb.

It can be readily understood that trap nets, as used in Washington Territory, are much cheaper fishing than by gill nets. Heretofore, the canners have brought in from Washington Territory, duty free, the salmon caught by trap nets, and canned them on the Frazer river. By this arrangement, a large amount of additional labor was employed in the Canadian canneries, not only directly in putting up the fish, but in the manufacture of the cans, boxes, etc. By the imposition of this duty of ½c. per lb., the whole, or the greater part of the canning industry as far as United States fish are concerned, will cease, and the canners will move their plant, as some of them have already done, to the United States side, and there carry on their canning, which will be a great loss to labor in the Canadian canneries.

As the Customs duty of a ½c. per lb. is collected on the bulk, it would appear but reasonable that the canners should be allowed a rebate for the weight of the waste, which is computed to be ⅓ of the weight of the fish handled, some even asserting that it is as high as 40 or 50 per cent. This would give some relief.

The material interests of the Fraser River and Washington Territory are identical, and whatever might affect the fishing advantageously on the one would be equally harmful to the other. For, so long, therefore, as trap net fishing is permitted on the United States side while prohibited on the Canadian, it would appear to be in the interests of Canada to suspend the collection of Customs duty on fresh salmon used for canning purposes. GARNISHEE BILL KILLED.

Mr. Richardson's bill to render civil service salaries liable to attachment for debt was withdrawn on Monday night. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that he approved of the principle of the measure, but that it would have to be entirely recast, and was being murdered by the law officers of the Crown. He therefore asked that it be not pressed.

Mr. Richardson asked if the Premier would undertake to make it a Government measure next session.

The Premier replied that he could give no such promise. He merely declared that the principle was good, and ought to become law.

PERSONAL MENTION.

W. H. Seyler & Co., have been appointed agents for the cocoanut products manufactured by L. Schepp of New York and Toronto

Mr. Robert Mills, for many years one of Toronto's leading retail grocers, will travel in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island for the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., of Toronto.

Mr. H. S. Hewitt, assignee of the Burford Canning Co., has wound up the estate and declared a dividend of 6c. on the dollar. The assets are $349.92 with liabilities of $5,808.90.

Lucas, Steele & Bristol, of Hamilton, are making a specialty of "Tanglefoot" sticky fly paper.

Seville orange marmalade is being much sought after by the trade again this season, W. H. Gillard & Co., who are the agents for this preparation, making large shipments daily.

TORONTO GREEN FRUIT MARKET.

THE spring fruit trade is beginning to get into full swing. The first carload lots of strawberries were received on Wednesday this week, two cars arriving. Pineapples are arriving in large quantities from Florida, and are selling well. Receipts of tomatoes are also increasing. The movement of bananas, lemons and oranges has been brisk all week, especially bananas. It was rumored around the street this week that the U.S. Congress is considering putting a war duty of 10 to 15c. per doz. on bananas.

On Wednesday, the largest auction sale of the season was held at the rooms of the Toronto Auction Co., when 1,500 boxes lemons, 2 cars seedling, and 2 cars Mediterranean sweets were sold. There was a large number of buyers represented, including merchants from Galt, Guelph, Woodstock and Newmarket. The seedling oranges were slightly wasty, and sold as low as $1.25 to $2.50. The most desirable sizes of Mediterranean sweets, 150's and 216's, sold at $2.65 to $2.90, and other sizes at $2.15 to $2.50. The lemons were the bargain of the sale, selling at $1.65 to $2.75, the good keeping qualities bringing the outside figure. To-day (Friday), a sale of one car of cabbages and half a car of tomatoes will be held.

THE GROCER DID IT.

Henry Wright & Co., Toronto, say that they have received enquiries from all parts of Canada, the United States, Great Britain, etc., from their advertisement in THE CANADIAN GROCER. Here is the latest :

Ironton, O., May 5, 1898.

GENTLEMEN,—Enclosed find your ad., cut from THE CANADIAN GROCER, and ten cents. If you have any printed matter on the handling of cheese, please mail us samples.

INTRODUCING MAYPOLE DYES.

Mr. J. Hartley Tippet, of A. P. Tippet & Co., Montreal, was in Toronto several days during the past week. His object was to introduce the "Maypole" soap dyes. These dyes were introduced in the Province of Quebec about a year ago, and they have taken well, and, judging from the success which attended Mr. Tippet's initial trip to Toronto, they promise to take well here also. Mr. Tippet is now visiting Hamilton, London and other towns in western Ontario.

NEW WHOLESALE GROCERY.

Lumsden Bros., wholesale grocers and spice manufacturers, Hamilton, have opened a branch warehouse at 45 Colborne street, Toronto, under the management of Mr. Paul Lumsden, where a full stock of general groceries will be carried. The warehouse is a compact and convenient one, while the sample room is one of the prettiest in the "Queen City."

ST. JOHN WINTER PORT.

The winter port business of St. John, N.B., has closed. The value of the shipments for the season was $4,842,710. Nearly 11,000 head of live stock, and upwards of 4,000,000 bushels of grain were moved, besides general cargo.

CAUSES AND EFFECTS.

When we seek the causes of great successes in all business we find them to be honesty, close attention to all details and also the greatest care in putting forward only the best as well as the most attractive goods.

The ever increasing sales of Gonzalez Brandy and Hoppe "Night Cap" Gin are a proof that the makers and distillers of these liquors have possessed these qualities to a very high degree, as not only have their goods been awarded gold and silver medals, diplomas of honor, etc., but they have been recognized by the connoisseurs and the public at large, to be most reliable and recommendable in cases of sickness, as well as when taken in a social way.

We represent Messrs. Gonzalez Staub & Co., of Cognac, France, makers of this fine Gonzalez Brandy, and Mr. P. Hoppe, of Amsterdam and Schiedam, distiller of this choicest old "Night Cap" Gin.

We have also secured the control of Messrs. Boulestin & Cie's Brandies. This is a well-known brand which has always given satisfaction. We mention especially their "One Star," a fine mellow old brandy, as pleasing to the taste as it is wholesome to the system.

Old Rum.

We have in Bond since 1894, 9 puncheons of rum, balance of a large purchase. It was then a remarkably fine lot, 38 o.p, and, with the improvement of over four years, is now simply the finest old Jamaica Rum to be offered. Ask for a sample and price of this.

We are receiving our spring importation. New goods are coming in every day. We are prepared to give you the lowest possible quotations on all goods.

DO NOT BUY BEFORE YOU HAVE SEEN OUR PRICES.

TRADE IN OTHER COUNTRIES THAN OUR OWN.

MAIL advices from Seattle, Wash., confirm the telegraphic advices of the combination of the sockeye salmon packers on Puget Sound, to be known as the Puget Sound Salmon Packers' Association. The meeting at which the combination was effected was said to have been most harmonious. All but one or two small concerns have joined the association.

Advices from France state that the outlook for the crop of all fruits is very poor, owing to frosts and continued cold weather.

Siemssen & Co., in their circular dated Hong Kong, April 6, say of cassia lignea that the new season's yield is estimated at 60,000 piculs and a good quality is looked for.

IMPROVEMENT IN CANNED SALMON.

A London, England, exchange of April 30 says: "There has been a decided improvement in the demand for salmon, and, while prices can scarcely be quoted as higher, there is certainly a hardening tendency. The position of salmon and its present relative cheapness as food, when compared with other imported provisions, which in almost all instances show a considerable advance in price, is certainly very attractive. The question of replacing present stocks must also be considered, and the increase of freights and insurance risks taken into account. At the present moment there is not much eagerness to buy, as retailers' stocks, in consequence of the delivery of forward purchases, are fairly heavy, but, on the other hand, there does not appear to be any desire on the part of holders to sell except at full prices."

A 19c. ADVANCE IN WHEAT.

The advance in wheat here since Monday this week on May was 19c., and on July 5⅝c.; in Chicago 19c. and 6c. for same months and period. Since April 15 New York May has advanced 35c., and July 19⅜c.; Chicago for same months and period advanced 28c. and 16⅝c. Since a month ago, April 5, New York May advanced 8¼c., and July 20⅜c.; Chicago, 32c. and 16c. respectively. This is a record that cannot be beaten, if equalled, in the history of the wheat trade.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce, May 6.

A RECORD TEA SALE.

The sale on Tuesday was exceptionally heavy, being even greater than last week, and proved to be one of the largest on record. Owing to this fact, and to the absence of outside operators, whose buying the previous week had so inflated the market, prices were in most cases easier, the only exception being in the lowest grades, which were very firm and fully maintained recent values. Although the market generally has shown less strength, it is not probable that prices will return to the very low rates prevailing before Easter, as the supplies for some little time will be less and not more than can be easily taken by the trade. The public auctions comprised about 35,400 packages, nearly all of which passed the hammer.—Produce Markets' Review, London, April 30.

GOOD OUTLOOK FOR CURRANTS.

During the early part of the week a very considerable business was reported in currants at full prices, and, although towards the close the demand from the dealers was not quite so active, the tone of the market was by no means weaker, and it closes without any change in values. The readiness with which the grocers responded to the lower rates of a fortnight or so ago, brought about solely by the desire of a small number of holders to force sales, has undoubtedly given what may be regarded as a fair index of the probable course of the market during the next two or three months. It has shown, almost beyond doubt, that the trade generally are not large holders of stock, and, this being the case, there appears to be justification for the idea that there will be a steady demand from week to week to supply the grocer's requirements until the eve of the new season. The dried fruit trade is admittedly one of surprises, and is one in which it is more difficult accurately to forecast the future, than is the case in some other articles of produce. So far, however, as recent indications can be accepted as a guide to future probabilities, a firm market seems likely. Stocks are short throughout the world, and the small crop of the currant season has had the effect of removing the heavy cloud which for three or four years hung over the article, and which at one period seemed likely to force the producers to grub up their vineyards, and to turn their efforts into entirely different directions.—Produce Markets' Review.

CALIFORNIA PRUNE SITUATION.

The California Fruit Grower reviews the situation in prunes as follows, in its issue of April 30: "Prune market is firm, with an upward tendency. Small sizes, 90's and upwards, are closely cleaned up; nothing offered below 2c. At present quotations eastern buyers are taking everything offered in car lots, regardless of size. In the districts outside of the Santa Clara Valley there remain but few prunes, either unsold or for shipment. The country north of this city has been practically cleaned up. Buyers are now in Oregon picking up prunes. With four to five months to new crop and light stocks on the Coast, and still lighter stocks in the east, dealers recognize the strong position, and are buying accordingly. If the demand continues, prunes must go higher in price. Reports from the San Joaquin Valley are not encouraging. The frost, and the hot spell that followed, damaged the crop 50 per cent. or more. Other sections report favorable conditions thus far. It is too early to say just what the result of the dry, hot weather may be. We hope for the best."

SHIPMENTS OF RICE.

The following is a statement of this year's exports from Saigon of white rice, cargo rice and paddy:

Destination.	Previously.	Since March 1, 1898.	Total Piculs.
Hong Kong	792,350	729,400	1,521,750
Singapore	26,750	34,200	60,950
Sourabaya	55,850		55,850
Europe	128,100	271,600	399,700
Japan	479,550	365,400	844,950
Tonkin and Annam	41,000		41,000
Total, Saigon, March 29, 1898	1,523,600	1,400,600	2,924,200
Same period last year			3,040,300

Wm. G. Hale & Co., in their circular dated Saigon, March 28, say of rice: "Our market has advanced steadily under a fairly strong and well maintained demand from Hong Kong and Japan, and mills are engaged forward into May; although supplies are 65,000 piculs daily, there are some 20 steamers loading, and there is consequently no accumulation of stocks. Prices having gradually advanced, considerable difficulty is experienced in forcing sellers of paddy to carry out existing contracts. Some failures among them have already occurred, and more are likely. Those of good standing refuse new contracts, unless at enhanced prices. At the close market is very firm, with rising tendency."

CANNED TOMATOES DEARER IN THE U. S.

There has been an active demand for spot canned tomatoes during the past week and prices have advanced. A week ago spot goods were obtainable in Baltimore at 87½ to 90c. and did not seem to be in large demand, though there was considerable enquiry, but since then buying interest has been greatly increased in view of the prospect of a short crop this year, the good demand from consumers for spot goods and the revival of speculative interest. Spot prices in Baltimore on Maryland tomatoes have advanced under fair sales to 92½c. net, which was the inside price at the close, and little for immediate delivery was offered. Delaware spot tomatoes at primary sources have also advanced, and 95 to 97½c. net cash for spot lots there was reported to be inside. Jerseys on the spot in primary markets are said to be unobtainable below $1, and some brands are held at $1.12½.

There is reported to be an active demand from the consuming trade in the Eastern and Middle States markets, and local distributers also are showing much more interest, having allowed their stocks to run low and being instigated to renew their supplies by the growing demands of consumption and the uncertainty as to the coming crop.

Tomatoes being a staple for which there is at all times a large demand it is expected that growers will not neglect the crop this year, although it is intimated that as potatoes promise to be more profitable the farmers in Maryland and Jersey will devote more attention to them this season, and that the acreage in tomatoes may be consequently considerably curtailed. This view is emphasized by the fact that sellers of futures have greatly reduced their offerings, although previously they had shown a disposition to contract freely.

Futures are decidedly higher. Up to 67½c. net has, we are informed, been paid for round lots of future Marylands, and now 70c. net is said to be the lowest at which future sales would be made, while a number of the larger packers, it is understood, have sold all that they care to and have withdrawn from the market. At the close the market for both spot and future tomatoes was very firm, and offerings for both immediate and future delivery were limited. The spot supply here is chiefly in second hands, and is said to be the highest for several years past.—New York Journal of Commerce.

DELIVERIES OF COFFEE.

The deliveries of coffee in the United States and Europe for 10 months ending April 30 were 12,113,280 bags. Allowing 800,000 bags for the deliveries in the United States during May and June and 1,380,000 bags for the same period of time in Europe, which are the average deliveries for the past ten months, it shows a total of 14,293,280 bags for the crop year, against 12,429,902 bags for the season of 1897-98 and 12,194,022 bags for the season of 1896-97, which would indicate that the low prices ruling the past year have been conducive to a material increase in the consumption of coffee.

TEA SALE IN NEW YORK.

The interest of the trade was centered in the auction sale which occurred on Thursday, May 5. As was generally expected, prices showed a reaction from the highest figures of the recent advance, the average decline being about 1c. per pound. Business has been quiet, as neither the local nor out-of-town trades have been buyers beyond actual requirements. The market for invoices has been practically neglected.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

NEW FRUIT TABLET BUSINESS.

Herdt & Co., of Montreal, have recently bought out the Sicilian Fruit Tablet Co., and that the new proprietors have succeeded in making these tablets in such a way that the drinks made with them will require no further sweetening than they themselves contain, has already been demonstrated. The various varieties, including sweetened lemonade, orange effervescent, strawberry effervescent, plain soda, etc., are being put up in small three inch glass tubes, each tube containing ten tablets, weighing about 24 to the ounce. Each tablet is sufficient for a full glass. It will thus be seen that they will be most convenient and easy of carriage for picnic parties, and for use on long bicycle rides, etc.

THE CANADIAN GROCER

Vol. XII. (Published Weekly) TORONTO AND MONTREAL, MAY 20, 1898. ($2.00 per Year) No. 20

CANADIAN-MEXICAN TRADE POSSIBILITIES.

CANADA'S trade with Mexico does not amount to very much. The exports to the latter country last year were valued at $51,065, and the imports therefrom at $13,640. In 1893, however, the figures were $14,993 and $833 respectively. It is, therefore, evident that trade between these two countries is possible of still further expansion. The report of Mr. E. E. Sheppard, the Canadian commissioner, who was sent to Mexico to investigate trade matters, has been issued by the Dominion Government, and a digest of it will, doubtless, prove interesting to readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER.

"Without doubt," remarks Mr. Sheppard in his reference to Mexico, "this country is making marvelous strides, both commercially and politically. The sense of security felt as to life and property appears to me to be quite as prevelent and well founded, in all except a few remote and inaccessable localities of this republic, as in the greater republic to the north. Having had some acquaintance with Mexico for the past 21 years, the change in the condition of things excites in me surprise. * * * During the years of peace, subsequent to the firm establishment of the power of the present Government, hundreds of factories have been built, and the import trade thereby reduced in proportion to the total volume of business, while the export trade has been marvelously increased. Paper mills, cotton factories, carpet and woollen mills, and many other industrial enterprises are now successfully competing with foreign rivals. The cheapness of both labor and materials, and the cost of transportation, combine to make it difficult for importers to compete with domestic manufactures in such lines as are indigenous to this country. Every new industrial enterprise which is not represented in Mexico receives, on its establishment, ample tariff protection. * * * Nevertheless, there are a number of avenues of business which, if taken immediate possession of by Canadian enterprises, would prove very profitable. Furthermore, if Mexico and Canada, similarly and disadvantageously situated as they are, with regard to the tariff now imposed upon the products of both countries by the United States, were to make some reciprocal arrangement for the interchange of commodities a very large business could be established between Canada and Mexico."

Hardware is largely supplied by the Germans, but the commissioner says that in shovels, picks, spades, axes, hoes, forks, etc., the Canadian manufacturerers could do a large business in Mexico. "A man," he says, "speaking Spanish and having a stock of goods in this country could ultimately force the adoption of Canadian goods, even though the prices are higher. The tide is already setting in against the cheap and inferior goods which Germany has been so successfully manufacturing for export to the Latin American republics."

The dry goods trade is largely in the hands of France, and the report does not speak favorably of the prospect for Canadian competition in this line.

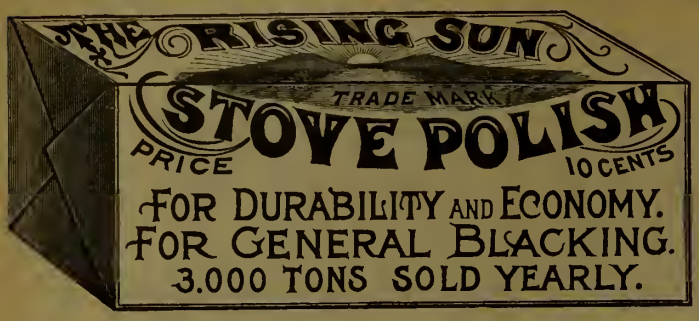
In hand tools, such as hatchets, hammers, etc., the commissioner is convinced Canada could do some business. He notes that the catalogue price of Canadian hatchets is about the same as paid by Mexican dealers, while in hammers the Canadian f.o.b. price Montreal is 10 per cent. below United States f.o.b. price Montreal.

Bicycles are going into Mexico by the car load, but at present only one Canadian firm s shipping any to that country. Two United States makes of wheels at present practically control the market, and the sell at $45 gold, less $5 off, while the Canadian wheels sell at $50 at the point of origin. Mr. Sheppard points out that while the Canadian wheels are shipped in heavy boxes and by express, the United States wheels are shipped in light crates and by fast freight.

Petroleum lamps with cooking attachments would sell well in Mexico, particularly if the manufacturers would send representatives to push them.

A large amount of United States furniture is sold in Mexico for houses, offices and hotels, and Mr. Sheppard says that if Canadian furniture is to be sold in Mexico the manufacturers would have to establish a wareroom and have an agent there, or, at least, would have to have a canvasser to solicit the opening orders and visit interior points where hotels are being established or large orders are likely to be given.

There is a market in Mexico for what are known in Canada as skeleton safes, which are at present mostly supplied by Ohio firms.



Mr. Sheppard found wholesale dealers unfavorable to any proposition for the introduction of new makes, and if Canadian manufacturers desire to introduce goods of this kind into Mexico they will have to canvass the trade and make brands and put on labels to suit.

German tinned and japanned ware is cheaper from Germany than from Canada, and shipments recently made from the latter country had not, through careless packing chiefly, turned out satisfactory.

Canadian steel-clad baths have turned out well, the goods received having been found saleable and satisfactory.

In regard to agricultural machinery, Mr. Sheppard says it is unlikely that any of the machinery in use on a Canadian farm would be acceptable in Mexico, until the implements now in use have been scrutinized carefully and, to a certain extent, utilized. "While this is true," he concludes his reference to agricultural implements, "it should be reiterated that manufacturers who take pains to introduce their implements and gradually educate the Mexican laborers will be rewarded by a faithful and remunerative patronage."

There is an increasing demand in Mexico for flour mill machinery, and Canadians are urged, by the commissioner, to enter the field. There is also a field for wood-working machinery which can be handled by unskilled labor. At present, the country is devoid of labor-saving devices in wood-working machinery. The opportunity of originating little plants is considered exceedingly good. Clay-working machinery, in which Canada excels, should have a good and rapidly increasing sale in Mexico, according to the commissioner's report.

Paints and varnishes are not much used in Mexico, and Mr. Sheppard considers that for a Canadian manufacturer to obtain a foothold in that country it would be necessary for him to have a permanent exhibit and an agent on the ground.

The Mexicans are a music-loving people, and the Government is trying to cultivate this love for music by providing military bands, and even in subsidizing organ-grinders in order that the populace may be familiarized with popular airs. Some effort has been made to introduce pianos and other musical instruments of Canadian make, but Mr. Sheppard adds that pianos will no more sell themselves in Mexico than in Canada, but must be pushed and have a certain amount of money behind the venture.

In brooms and brushes there is at present practically no outlet in Mexico.

One of the largest items of Canadian export to Mexico is whiskey, but the trade is not increasing owing to the inferior and adulterated liquors which are placed in the bottles, on which are the labels of the Canadian firms and the revenue stamp of Canada. At present, there are two Canadian whiskies on the Mexican market, and they hold their own, though higher in price than many other brands.

In regard to groceries, Mr. Sheppard's report reads :

"The following letter, which was addressed to me by James H. McLeod & Co., the leading dealers among the English-speaking people of Mexico in groceries and provisions, sets forth the condition of things in their line of business better than I could attempt to do it. It will be observed, the prices are quoted in gold, and refer to kilograms, not pounds (the kilogram equals 2.2046 pounds), while the duties are in silver currency. It must be remembered, too, that the cost of the goods refers to the invoiced price at purchasing point, and the duty, being in silver, must be divided by the difference in exchange :

Dear Sir,—In looking over the list of goods submitted to us by you we have taken careful note of the prices and find them as low, if not lower, in some instances, as same goods from the United States, but we must call your attention to the high duty on the goods on your list, which is so high that the volume of trade is necessarily small, and we are under the impression that our progressive Mexican Government would reduce the rate of duty if their attention was called to the facts. On fruits, preserved, or in their juice, we pay 75c. per kilogram, which is almost prohibitory, whilst if the duty was considerably reduced their revenue would be increased a hundredfold. We will mention a few articles which are largely produced in your country and pay here a very high duty. Their average cost price we give you in gold and the duty in silver, both per kilogram :

Rolled oats, cost 4c. Duty, 10c.
Cornmeal, cost 3¼c. Duty, 10c.
Flour, cost 5c. Duty, 10c.
Beans, cost 2¼c. Duty, 10c.
Soda crackers, cost 10c. Duty, 15c.
Cheese, cost 20c. Duty, 12c.
Hams, cost 22c. Duty, 20c.
Clarified molasses, cost 20c. per gallon. Duty, $3 per gallon.
Vinegar, cost 10c. per gallon. Duty, 24c. per gallon.
Fruit, canned, cost 16c. per can. Duty, 81c. per can.

"' Preserved corn, beans, peas, tomatoes, and all other canned vegetables costing on an average $1 per dozen, pay $2.90 duty ; meats, in 1-pound tins, average cost $1, pay 95c. duty ; salt fish, in pails or barrels, pay the same as canned. This, as you will readily see, is entirely out of proportion to the cost. For example, we can buy salt herring in pails or barrels for 4 to 5c. per pound, whereas the cheapest canned goods put up in that line would cost 21c. per pound, and yet the duty is the same, viz., 15c. a kilogram. We think that fish in pails and barrels should pay less duty than fish in tins. As a result, the salt fish trade is very light.

"' As a resume we believe that this Government would derive a much larger revenue if the above-mentioned goods would pay duty in proportion to their value, and have no doubt, if the situation was properly placed before our Government that they would adjust the duties on all the above-mentioned goods. As a Canadian, the writer would like to see a trade opened up with this country, as he feels sure it would prove a mutual benefit. In cheese, fish and all food products, Canada is unsurpassed and can compete with any country. As to lumber, machinery, hardware, stoves, woodenware, furniture, etc., they could be sold here in large quantities, if transportation facilities were provided, and we do not see why Canada should not get her share of the trade. On the other hand, Mexico would find a new market for her coffee, sugar, tobacco, vanilla, cacao, cabinet woods, and all other natural products as well.

"' We think you are on the right track and we wish you all success, and if, at any time, our services would be of any use you can command them.' "

MIDLAND'S GRAIN TRAFFIC.

Every car capable of carrying freight was called into requisition on Sunday, May 1, to help in emptying the grain elevators at Midland, Ont., which were filled to overflowing by the unexpected arrival of several large vessels loaded with corn and wheat. Twelve or thirteen trains passed through or left Lindsay en route for Midland. Two of the trains composed 36 cars each, and had two engines attached. The wheat was part of large shipments from Chicago to European markets. It is not customary to send it by so northern a route as this, but probably the war was the cause of this. Two of the boats that brought the grain to Midland were probably the largest that ever entered that harbor, carrying 232,000 and 211,000 bushels respectively. Another one carried 146,000. They tried to enter Owen Sound harbor, but, owing to the shallow water, could not effect an entrance.

TRADE CHAT.

CHARLES & JAMES, general merchants, Perth, Ont , shipped over 3,000 bushels of potatoes to Brooklyn, N.Y., last week.

The G. E. Tuckett & Sons Co., Hamilton, is talking of starting a branch in Chatham, Ont.

The McKechnie Creamery, Durham county, has commenced operations, the first day's make being 600 lb.

McKibbin & Walker have put in a complete plant for the manufacture of all kinds of mineral waters in Fort William, Ont.

Sneak thieves entered the grocery store of E. E. Adams, Leamington, last week, and stole a number of hams and some other goods.

The Canadian Pacific have shipped from Owen Sound to Montreal during the past two or three days over 300 cars of corn for export.

The Aylmer Canning Co. have leased the Burford canning factory, Burford, Ont., and will operate the same during the season.

Palmerston, Ont., is to have a pork packing factory. Provisional directors have been appointed and canvasers for stock are at work.

The Valleyfield Canning Co. have made a proposition to Hintonburg, Ont., to establish a factory there, putting up a $4,000 building.

Recently thieves effected an entrace into the store of Wm. Rowntree, grocer. etc., Toronto Junction, Ont., and made off with $9.27 in cash and postage stamps.

Ontario cattle dealers have received advices from Manitoba stating the demand for cattle at home is so great that none can be bought in that Province for export.

Brown & Raymond, grocers, etc., Woodstock, N.B., have a cold storage warehouse 25 x 35 and two storeys and a half above the cellar, which they find of great advantage for holding meats, produce, etc., it enabling them to keep meat, etc., two weeks before cutting.

The Intercolonial Railway is placing a refrigerator car service on the Oxford branch, between Pictou and Halifax, which will handle perishable goods.

F. W. Hodson, superintendent of farmers' institutes, states that high-grade cattle are more scarce in Ontario than they have been for over twenty years, United States buyers having bought and taken a great number of them away.

The Wookstock, N.B., Board of Trade has interested itself in working up an export business in maple blocks, etc. As the country in the neighborhood of that town is prolific in maple, further developments may be expected.

The store of A. J. Davy, grocer, Enterprise, Ont., was broken into on Saturday night and a lady's bicycle and $4 in cash taken. Entrance was effected by prying open the front door. On Monday morning the stolen goods were found in the doorway of the store, accompanied by a unique letter of contrition.

The store of J. Gifford, general merchant, Jerseyville, Ont., was entered by thieves some weeks ago, who decamped with a supply of boots, shoes, tobacco, etc. The property was recovered by the police and turned over to Mr. Gifford. On Wednesday evening, last week, the thieves returned and got a second supply, taking, as well as other goods, the articles first stolen.

A sharper has been at work in some of the eastern Ontario towns. His method is simple. He goes into a store, asks the merchant to give him a five-dollar bill for five ones, as he wishes to send the amount away in a letter. Upon getting the bill and sealing it up in the letter and putting it in his pocket, he finds he has but four bills. Then he takes a letter out of his pocket, hands it to the merchant to hold until he returns, and leaves to get the other bill. He never comes back, and the merchant finds the letter left with him is not the one that has the money.

COUNTERVAILING DUTIES.

Lord Farrer has written another pamphlet based on the most short-sighted views on the sugar bounty question, entitled "A Retrospect and a Warning." It is practically a philippic against even the suggestion of countervailing duties. His objections to such a policy are founded upon a series of statements in the last paragraph—statements unsupported by evidence. It must again be pointed out that the advantages we gain by the sale of sugar at a price below the cost of production are more than lost by the destruction of the staple industry of the West Indies, and the consequent losses to our refining and engineering trades. As regards the benefits of cheap sugar to manufacturers, we believe that the majority of confectionery firms are by no means averse to countervailing duties, while the organ of the grocery trade is also not opposed to such duties. Grocers throughout the country would welcome any means by which the trade in sugar can be put upon a sound footing. If this country attends the sugar bounty conference, which meets in Brussels in June next, without the possibility of imposing countervailing duties, we shall court the same failure now that we met with ten years ago. It would be far better to postpone such a conference until the people of this country are determined to safeguard their colonial interests and trade, even though a fractional rise in the price of sugar be the result. The advocates of free trade for cane sugar are not necessarily bound to their remedy of countervailing duties, and if Lord Farrer can suggest a better means by which bounties can be abolished, they are quite ready to adopt it.—British Trade Journal.

NO USE AT ALL.

Oh, what's the use of keeping store
Unless the people know it?
And what's the use of enterprise
Unless you try to show it?
What matters that your goods are best,
Your prices tantalizing,
Or that they'll stand the public test,
Unless you're advertising?

GROCERY CLERKS' EXCURSION.

THE Toronto Grocery Clerks' and Drivers' Association will hold its third annual excursion on May 24, this year, to Guelph, Ont., and everything points to even a greater success than on either of the two previous occasions.

One of the principal drawing features of this excursion will be the remarkably low rates. The fare was originally expected to be 85c., but a deputation representing the association went went to Montreal, and, as a result of its conference with the officials of the G.T.R., the fare for adults to Guelph will be but 50c., just about ½c. per mile, and this will also include admission to the exhibition park, where the games, etc., are to be held. Children's tickets are 25c., and include the same privileges as adults'. This rate is such an unusually low one that a great crowd may reasonably be expected to take advantage of it.

That this crowd have a comfortable ride, three special trains have been secured, to leave Union Station at 7.30, 8.20 and 9, stopping at Parkdale and Royce avenue. The tickets are good to go on the regular trains, also, on May 23, afternoon, and May 24, morning. Returning, the last train leaves Guelph at 11 p.m.

That an interesting time may be looked for is evident when it is known that the programme includes three baseball matches between good teams, a baby show, "open to the world"; a tug-of-war between the retail grocers of Toronto and the merchants of Guelph, and a five-mile handicap road race, besides a large number of bicycle races, footraces and other sports.

The 24th of May could not properly be celebrated without brass bands, with their martial music, and their more or less military appearance, so the Citizens' band, Toronto, and bands from Owen Sound and Guelph will be on the grounds throughout the day. A first-class orchestra, for dancing, etc., will also be in attendance.

The day will be properly rounded up by a concert in the evening. Altogether, it looks as if the association is going to have a regular "big time" this year.

THE PRODUCTION OF GINGER.

In a paper published in The American Journal of Pharmacy, Mr. F. B. Kilner gives some interesting details of the cultivation and preparation of ginger in Jamaica.

This well-known root (rhixome) is obtained from the plant Zingiber officinate, of the natural order, Scitaminaceæ. There are many varieties of ginger found in commerce, but that from Jamaica is considered the best quality and commands the highest price.

Locally, the root is classed as "blue" or "yellow," depending upon the color of the flowers of the plant from which it is derived. The two plants are botanically identical, but the "yellow" root is said to be better in quality.

Each of these classes is again divided into "plant" and "ratoon" ginger, the former being the rhizome from plants of the same season's growth, and the latter the rhizomes of plants left in the ground from the harvest of the previous year. The planters, according to Mr. Kilner, have no knowledge of scientific agriculture, and when one plot of ground becomes exhausted, they remove to a new piece, so that great tracts of land are at present lying out of cultivation as a result.

The Agricultural Society of Jamaica is, however, making strenuous efforts to remedy this evil, by introducing better methods of cultivation and by the distribution of suitable manures.

The ginger is harvested just after the stem of the plant has begun to wither, the roots being dug out of the soil and then freed from earth by washing with water.

They are then soaked in water for some time as a preliminary to "peeling," which operation requires great care, as only the outer rind must be removed, or a loss of the pungent volatile oil will ensue. After "peeling" the root is once more washed and then dried in the sun.

No artificial bleaching agent, such as sulphurous acid or chlorine, is at present made use of.

The following figures represent the exports of ginger from Jamaica for the last four years : In 1893, 1,526,884 lbs. ; in 1894, 1,672,384 lbs. ; in 1895, 1,736,460 lbs. ; in 1896, 1,960,609 lbs.

DISCOUNTS FOR CASH.

THERE are always two sides to every proposition, and likewise two parties to every bargain, says the N.E. grocer. When the jobber or manufacturer offers a discount to the retailer, for prompt cash, he not only favors the retailer, but also protects himself. It is to the interest of retailers and wholesalers alike that there should be as little loss in business from bad debts as possible. The smaller the loss that the manufacturer and wholesaler sustain in this regard the lower the price at which they can afford to sell their goods. Bankruptcy does not effect creditors alone, but injures the bankrupt's fellow merchants, because, whatever manufactures and jobbers lose on the one must be made up on the others. Accordingly, there is a broad consideration of public policy why the retailer who buys for cash should have the best possible terms.

The retailer sells to the customer, and under ordinary conditions the question of credit in retail trade should never arise. Articles consumed should be paid for on delivery, and with all credit sales eliminated the retailer should be able to sell upon a very close margin. So great are the advantages of cash discounts on purchases that the retailer who discounts all his bills and who turns his stock several times a year is afforded a large percentage of profit upon his invested capital, even though the goods he distributes are sold at their nominal cost.

The average quantity of tea lead used fortnightly by the Salada Tea Co. in putting up its package tea in pounds, halves, and quarters is no less than eight tons.

THE TRADING STAMP SCHEME.

THE trading stamp scheme, which was denounced by the Retail Grocers' Association of Toronto, at its last meeting, has not met with a good reception in the United States, where it was introduced some time ago.

All manner of charges have been brought against the idea. It has been called a fad, a fake, and one journal has likened it to a thief in the night.

What ground there is for these charges THE CANADIAN GROCER knows not. All it knows is that several of the States in the Union have adopted laws prohibiting the trading stamp promoters from plying their business.

New York, Ohio, Massachusetts and New Jersey are among the States which have adopted such laws.

The New Jersey Legislature was among the last to pass a prohibitory measure, and the following is an extract from the Act in question :

1. No person shall sell or offer for sale any article or merchandise of any description whatever with the promise, express or implied, to give or deliver, or in any manner hold out the promise of gift or delivery of any ticket, check, metal or paper stamp, or any article of merchandise or other written or printed promise or assurance, express or implied, that the said ticket, check, metal or paper stamp, article of merchandise, or written or printed promise or assurance may be used in payment or purchase of or exchange for, any article or merchandise from any other person or corporation.

2. No person or corporation shall in any manner engage in any gift enterprise business in this State.

3. Any person or corporation violating the provisions of this Act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000, or be imprisoned in jail not exceeding six months, or both, in the discretion of the court.

As to whether the scheme is such that legislative interference is demanded in order to its suppression, THE CANADIAN GROCER is not prepared to say.

But it is prepared to say that it is unbusinesslike.

If a merchant is not competent to run his own business, it is time he got out of it.

On account of the close margin on which business is being done to-day merchants cannot afford to give away 4½ per cent. of their profit.

Business can only be made successful by the employment of bright, up-to-date methods : By selling goods at a fair margin of profit, and by selling them quickly. This means intelligent buying, attractive window displays, judicious advertising, clean and bright stores, etc.

Now, if a merchant is to give away 4½ per cent. of his profits, as per the trading stamp scheme, it follows that the price of the goods he thus sells is that much higher on account thereof.

In other words, the merchant who adopts the trading stamp scheme is compelled, under ordinary circumstances, to sell his goods 4½ per cent. dearer than the merchant who is untrammelled by any such scheme. He is especially handicapped in competition with the departmental store.

Take two merchants doing business adjacent to each other. One has adopted the trading stamp scheme and the other has not. The former offers a certain article at $1. He cannot afford to sell it for less and give away 4½ per cent. of his profit. The other, on the other hand, can sell his at 95 or 95½c. and still get as much as the trading stamp man. Now, it is obvious that the consumer would prefer to pay 95 or 95½c., minus the trading stamp, than $1, plus the trading stamp ; for, in the one instance it is the bird in the hand, in the other it is the bird in the bush which may never be caught.

Merchants who cannot keep up their courage cannot keep their customers.

A HINT TO THE MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE.

A MEMBER of the staff of THE CANADIAN GROCER has just returned from a trip to the Western States. He conversed with nearly all the leading manufacturers of food products, and was surprised to find the large and increasing business they are doing with Great Britain. They are shipping canned goods of all kinds—pickles, cereal products, dried fruits, etc. In the meantime, what is Canada doing to secure a share of this trade ?

She is neglecting this, her largest and most important market, while she sends commissioners to poor and unstable South American republics.

For years business men have urged the Government to establish a commercial agency in London, in charge of a man who would see that the products of our farms—not of our factories—were placed in the hands of English consumers. Strange to say, the chief objection to doing so comes from the Canadian Government office in London. They report that Canada is getting all the trade that she can and that no more can be done. In brief, the officials in our office at London refuse to do the work themselves, and object to anyone else doing it.

The Minister of Agriculture, Hon. Mr. Fisher, should take the matter up at once and arrange for the development of our trade, just as his predecessor, Sir John Carling, arranged for the development of our agricultural resources and the improvement in the quality of our products.

When a merchant courts trade he must be faithful. Fickle men seldom win in love and never in business.

CANADIAN PRODUCE IN BRITAIN.

The importation of Canadian bacon into Great Britain for the first three months of 1898 was, according to British figures, £77,179 against £55,925 last year, and of butter £25,561 compared with only £3,481 the same period in 1896. The total importation of Canadian cheese during the three months was valued at £199,961.

It is to be hoped the experience of the first quarter will be duplicated by the remaining quarters.

THE GOVERNMENT RESPONSIBLE.

IN another week or two the Canadian Parliament will be dissolved, and one of the bills now on the order paper which will not be dealt with is Mr. Fortin's insolvency bill.

Several weeks have passed since this bill was given its first reading, but since then nothing has been done with it.

While the bill is a private one, the Government is at least indirectly responsible for the fate that awaits it.

It knew perfectly well that the business interests of both the country and the United Kingdom needed such a law, and yet it has neglected, and designedly so, to give Mr. Fortin's bill at least that moral support which the nice things the Premier said when the measure was introduced was tantamount to acknowledging that it was entitled to.

But it was action not words, support not platitudes, which were wanted. This the bill did not get ; and, because it did not get it, another session of the Dominion Parliament is to be allowed to passwithout an insolvency law being placed on the statute books.

The excuse that there has not been time to consider an insolvency bill cannot be advanced. There has been ample time. The time that has been wasted on one side of the House in picayune criticism of the Government and on the other by discussing petty questions as to what the Toms, Dicks and Harrys on the Opposition benches had said, written or done in moments of weakness this year, last year or ten years ago.

Instead of attending to business like the servants of any mercantile concern would have done, on penalty of dismissal, members of Parliament, Liberals and Conservatives alike, devote 50 per cent. of their time to picking holes in the armor of their opponents, hoping thereby to wound said opponents into political death.

What they should have assayed to do was to have rivalled each other in devising ways and means of advancing the commercial interests of the country, instead of those of their respective parties.

The business men of this country are getting heartily sick of the politicians, who are all the same, be they Liberals or Conservatives, when the commercial interests of the Dominion are at stake.

It is to be hoped they will get so sick by next general election that they will throw up the politicians and preserve a healthy, independent entity at the ballot box.

If the business men of the country cannot be persuaded to be a saving remnant, who can ?

While the political ties between the British Empire and the United States have been severed beyond repair, the hearts of the two people are getting pretty close to each other.

PACKERS FEEL SORE.

FRANCE recently increased the rate of duty on lard and sausage. This increase is felt to be particularly onerous by packers in the United States, and on Saturday last a petition was presented to the Senate, signed by twenty-one leading packers in Chicago, asking for retaliatory legislation.

France is one of the United States' best customers, ranking fourth among the nations, according to the last official report of the Bureau of Statistics, Great Britain coming first, Germany second and the Dominion of Canada third.

The total exports of the United States to France last year were $56,287,631, and of this amount hog products were as follows :

	Quantity (lbs)	Value.
Bacon	1,979,586	$133,086
Hams	316,624	30,078
Pork	131,550	8,037
Lard	20,934,590	1,032,286
	23,361,350	$1,203,487

After a glance at the above table it is not surprising that the packers should feel sore over legislation which tends to effect their interests.

Canada's exports of provisions to France are insignificant, and for some years have remained almost stationary, being $1,693 in 1893, $1,611 in 1894, $736 in 1896, and $1,365 in 1897. In 1895 no provisions went to France from Canada.

Of the exports of 1897, 4,112 lb. were bacon, valued at $411; 6,528 lb. hens, valued at $747 ; 60 lb. lard, valued at $4.

If Congress should inaugurate retaliatory measures against the United States, Canada might reap some advantage therefrom, but it is questionable whether it would amount to much, especially in view of the fact that protection to the hog industry is being actively propagated in France.

DEARTH OF BRITISH GOODS.

TO people in this part of the country, who are accustomed to see pickles, sauces, jams, and other commodities of British manufacture on the shelves of every grocer, it seems hard to conceive it possible that such a market as Vancouver should be at times without these goods. Yet such is the case, as both a newspaper paragraph and a private letter received at this office testify.

THE CANADIAN GROCER has taken the trouble to try and discover the cause of this, and as far as can be learned it is a two-fold one.

There is undoubtedly a good market on the Coast for goods of the character mentioned, as well as for Canadian products. But our own wholesale merchants are not as enterprising in this particular as they might be. Some of them, to whom THE CANADIAN GROCER has spoken, while ready to acknowledge that the field was a good one, have various excuses why they do not go up and possess it.

Another cause of the dearth of these goods in British Columbia is the apathy of the British manufacturer.

As one of the largest wholesalers in Canada, to whom THE CANADIAN GROCER spoke regarding the matter, put it : "The British manufacturers do not advertise their goods in this country as they should." No matter how good their pickles, jams, etc., may be, they must be advertised and pushed if they are to be sold.

What is wanted in the first place, according to the letter already referred to, is the establishment of a wholesale supply depot at Vancouver, managed by a man who understands the Canadian trade. And, furthermore, the manager must be given sufficient latitude to exercise his own judgment and not be compelled to turn to his principals in Great Britain before he can speak, think or do, as is too often the case with men who are at present representing houses in the older parts of Canada.

LOYALTY AMONG GROCERS.

A number of the prominent wholesale grocery houses of Montreal, among others being Hudon, Hebert & Cie. and L. Chaput & Fils, have decided to close every department of their respective establishments on the 24th inst., Her Majesty's birthday, thereby enabling their employes to take advantage of the holiday.

PROSPECTS FOR CHEESE.

WHEN the cheese market was lifeless around 7¼c. on the spot in Montreal, no one expected that new cheese would sell during the first fortnight of May all the way from 7¾ to 8⅛c., at country points, which is the equivalent of 8 to 8⅝c. for the first half of May make, an advance of ¾ to 1⅛c. on what importers were bidding for well kept September during the early part of March.

The reason for this improvement in the cheese market has been dealt on before. It was simply and solely a largely increased consumptive demand in England, owing to the exceptionally low figure that cheese prices had reached. With cheese being cut over the counter in Great Britain at less than 10c. per pound the consumption increased enormously, and reserve stocks in first and second hands were soon well depleted.

Thanks to this development, the new season opens on more promising lines than was anticipated, but, already, owing to the fact that there has been some competition among buyers, factorymen are exhibiting some inclination to hold back for higher prices. They reason, no doubt, that as they realized much higher prices in the first half of May last spring, cheese ought to be good property at an advance on 8c.

This, however, is only an opinion, and, while first half of May cheese sold last spring at a range of 9¼ to 9¾c., against 7¾ to 8c., which is now being bid for it, the fact does not, of necessity, follow that last spring's figures are possible.

If the buyers bid them well and good, but if they do not it will certainly be questionable policy for factorymen to hold May cheese in the hope of causing buyers to advance their bids.

The former know very well that in three weeks or so June grass cheese will be a factor, and experience ought to teach them which is the most marketable article, a full-flavored grass—June grass cheese—or a mixture of fodder and grass as at present.

In this connection it is satisfactory to note that the make of this early cheese has been much lighter than last year, and it is certain that few people, except the speculators, will miss it. Both the receipts at Montreal and the offerings at different country boards this spring make this fact clear.

This year, from May 1 to 14 the receipts at Montreal were only 8,627 boxes, against 35,505 boxes last year.

The offerings at the country boards, so far, held this spring total up to 12,338 boxes. Last spring, up to May 14, they aggregated over 23,000 boxes.

These figures corroborate what has been pointed out before, that the make of early cheese is not much over one-quarter what it was last spring; and it is certainly a good thing. Farmers have turned their attention to butter, and, as they realized from 17c. all the way up to 21c. for it, have nothing to complain of.

The man who doesn't advertise gets more dust on his goods than in his cash drawer.

THE ADVANCE IN RICE.

EVERYTHING points to a firm market for Japan rice for some time to come. Although the Canadian mills laid in what they estimated would be enough rice to do them until the new rice came in, the demand has been so active, while the deliveries at the primary markets have been so light, that it is not at all likely that they will have enough to fill requirements until the direct cargoes of raw material arrive about the middle of July. They have tried to replenish present stocks, but have been unable to do so, the foreign markets being beyond their reach.

So acute has the position become that the mills have written wholesalers throughout the country asking them to sell as little rice as possible, while they (the mills) will have to divide their present stocks among their customers, according to quantity already delivered and still due each of them on contracts now running.

In consequence of this condition of the market the mills have advanced the price of "B" rice from new stock to arrive 20c. per 100 lb., and they intimate that prices are likely to go still higher.

The aggregate advance in rice is something like 85c. per 100 lb.

OUR OTTAWA CORRESPONDENCE.

POSTAL REFORM.

OTTAWA, May 19 (Special).—It is understood that the Postmaster-General has under consideration a scheme to expand postal facilities very largely. In large cities like Toronto and Montreal, in place of limiting the sale of stamps and postal cards to three or four branch offices, 50 or 60 offices in each place will be made branch post offices, for the sale of stamps, postal cards, etc., as well as for receiving mail matter. In addition to this, the railway companies will be created licensed postage stamp and postal card vendors. By this means, every railway station agent, conductor and porter will be supplied with stamps and postal cards, so that passengers will easily be able to obtain stamps and cards on the train, and have them posted in boxes at any station.

The rapid delivery of letters in large cities is to be brought into force on July 1. A letter dropped into a box with a special delivery 10c. stamp on it, will be immediately delivered within the city by a special carrier or bicyclist.

As the reduction in letter postage from 3c. to 2c. will increase the deficit, the Postmaster-General by expanding postal facilities to the public, hopes to reduce the deficit very materially.

The action of the Postmaster-General in increasing postal facilities is one that will commend itself to the letter writing public. Almost everyone has experienced the difficulty and annoyance, at times, in obtaining a postage stamp on account of the few persons outside the General Post Office who were licensed stamp vendors. The Post Office Department under the present Postmaster-General is showing life, reform and progress, and there is every prospect of its being run on up-to-date lines. F.J.D.

PRICE OF CANNED BEEF.

The advance in the price of Canadian canned meats was something remarkable, but that in the United States article is more so.

One-pound tins of corned beef, which, a few weeks ago, were worth at the factory in Chicago, $1.10 per case, are now quoted at $2; two-pound tins, which were quoted at $2, are now held at $3.50 per case, and fourteen-pound tins, which were $19, are now $28. All these prices are minus the freight and duty.

At these prices, purchasers are limited to five-case lots, but at these figures it is hardly necessary to limit the quantity as far as Canada is concerned.

Without taking into account the duty, the price of United States canned corned beef is from 45c. to $8.50 per case above the parity of the Canadian packed article.

The Superiority of

has been proved and is generally admitted, and reiteration of their qualities perhaps grows monotonous, but it is money in the pockets of grocers to know that they are superior to all others in these essentials—

2. Full Count.
3. Good Paper.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

This department has become so popular that many more notices than there is space for are received every week. In future only important items of information will be inserted. Contributors are requested to send news only, not puffs of goods they handle, or the arrival of standard goods that everyone has in stock, or that they are offering goods at close figures, or that they have had an unusually large sale this season.

THE DAWSON COMMISSION CO., Limited, received one car of bananas on Monday, two on Tuesday, and expect one more on Saturday. One of the cars received on Tuesday contained the first shipment of fruit received on the market this year.

W. H. Gillard & Co. have now a full supply of their "Golden Blend" Ceylon tea, 1 lb. packages, a line specially blended and packed in Ceylon for the Canadian market. Before deciding to offer this package tea to the public this firm made exhaustive tests of the various growths comprising it, and the trade should have no hesitation in highly recommending it to the consumer, on account of its purity and flavor.

LATE ADVERTISEMENTS.

The following items arrived too late for insertion in the regular advertising space. Reading notices inserted in this column at 5c. per word.

The Davidson & Hay, Limited, report good sales for their "Buffalo" corn starch.

W. H. Gillard & Co.: "We have large sales of Gillard's new pickle. This pickle is unquestionably the very finest in the world, and has no equal. Every user confirms this statement."

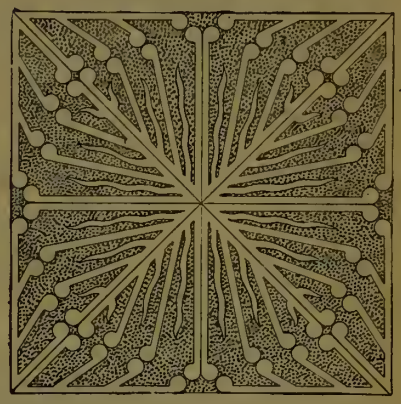
That T. A. Lytle & Co.s' goods compare favorably with any on the market is evidenced by the steady increase in orders from Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and Manitoba merchants. Their jams, jellies, pickles, etc., are neatly put up in convenient quantities for household use.

TRURO CONDENSED MILK CO.

It speaks well for the enterprise and energy of the above company, that while the recent destructive fire at their factory was in progress, and it was seen that the machinery would be ruined beyond repair, orders were wired the principal manufacturers of the most modern and best machinery for an outfit and plant to take the place of that destroyed, says the Maritime Merchant. The energy and resources of the company will be taxed to the utmost in the endeavor to make the interruption to their business as brief as possible. Already work has started on the walls of the burned building, and its reerection will be pushed forward vigorously, and it will only be a matter of a short time before pure and fresh goods will be on the market. Secretary McKay has had his hands full in looking after the various phases which are nearly always connected with a destructive fire in any industrial establishment. The new factory will be a model of the latest and best practice in condensing.



A RETAIL GROCER'S CATALOGUE.

The MacWillie Co., Limited, the well-known retail grocery firm of Toronto, is noted for the soundness of its faith in the merits of advertising. It advertises liberally in the daily press and through the medium of circulars and catalogues. Just now the firm is distributing among consumers in Toronto, the suburbs and summer resorts, its spring catalogue for 1898. This catalogue contains 52 nicely printed and illustrated pages, in the preparation of which much care and thought must have been expended. But The MacWillie Co. will no doubt in the end be amply repaid for its labor. The catalogue contains a price list of practically all the goods which a housekeeper requires, and here and there a recipe is thrown in by way of variety.

AFTER SUGAR "CUTTERS."

The committee of Chicago grocers who have charge of the regulations covering the sugar business in that locality have sent the following circular to the trade: "The sugar factors' agreement has been violated in a secret and underhand way by several members of the association. Such violation has worked great injustice to the members who have lived up to their contract, and the violation referred to has created serious trouble among the trade in general. The committee feels bound to inform the members that unless a penalty of at least $1,000 is put up by each member to secure good faith and ensure an honest performance of their contracts in future, the committee will advise that the price of sugar be made so low that its sale must necessarily entail a considerable loss to all."

CHEESE BOARDS.

The first sale meeting of the Ottawa Cheese and Butter Board will be held on May 27. The first meeting of the Kemptville Cheese Board was held on Friday last, when 350 boxes were sold at 8 1-16c. per lb. On the same day the Brockville Cheese Board held its first meeting, when 1,730 boxes were sold, and 8⅛c. was received for colored and 8 1-16 for white.

THE HOLYOKE OF CANADA.

SOME misconception having existed regarding the enlargements, improvements, etc., to the Eddy Works, at Hull, the Ottawa correspondent of THE CANADIAN GROCER called on Mr. Eddy personally, and learned that the large new warehouse built on the site of what was in old times the sash-factory yard, and more recently used for the storage of linens, rags, rope and other papermaking stock, is finished and ready for indurated fibreware and antiseptic fibreware. The antiseptic fibreware plant is completed, and turning out fine goods.

The enlargement of the present and the erection of the new addition to the match-factory is well under way.

The company is making extensive improvements and enlarging its paper plant, with the most improved and modern Fourdrinier paper machines, and the latest improved Corliss steam-engines.

The electric roads have shunting and siding tracks into all parts of Eddy's works to bring cars to and from the various railways, directly alongside the company's warehouses.

When asked what the total expenditure would amount to, Mr. Eddy said that while all this new machinery was, of course, expensive, there would be as much, if not more, money spent in wages in putting up the buildings and enlarging the plant, as in the machinery and appliances, and, that when the enlarged plant was in running order, the output of the mills and the pay-sheet of the factories would be very considerably and permanently increased.

The public square in front of the main offices, on which the company has spent many hundreds of dollars in sodding, looks well. This idea of improving and sodding and planting the vacant spaces is being carried into pleasant effect round some of the company's mills as well.

GALLERY GOSSIP.

From THE GROCER'S Special Correspondent.

Ottawa, May 19, 1898.

Rumors that a Yukon railway bill of some kind may yet appear this session still continue to circulate. One rumor mentioned the possibility of an extra sessional allowance of $500, if Parliament had to sit into June to consider such a bill.

The Opposition leader, Sir Charles Tupper, sails for England on Saturday week, May 28, and the House is merely marking time. Little progresss is being made with the public business. There is a good deal of chaos among the Opposition, the leadership of Sir Charles being ineffective as regards the control of his followers.

Among proposed changes in the public service, the name of Mr. Guay, M.P., is favorably mentioned for the post of chief quarantine officer at Quebec. Mr. George Johnson, the Dominion statistician, and Dr. McEachran, the Dominion veterinary inspector, are spoken of as likely to be either removed or given other positions.

CANADIAN HOGS FOR U. S. BACON.

Armour & Co., packers, of Chicago, recently purchased 150 Yorkshire bacon pigs in Canada, paid duty on them going into the States, turned them into bacon, and shipped the product to the English market for the purpose of seeing how it would compare with United States bacon. The Breeders' Gazette, of Chicago, says the result shows that the bacon made from the Canadian hogs commanded a premium over the price secured for the United States product. This premium was not, however, sufficient to warrant the importation of hogs from Canada and the payment of duty on them. The probable outcome of the experiment would appear to be that the Armours will endeavor, by offering higher prices, to induce farmers to produce hogs of a similar class.

NEW STORE IN IROQUOIS.

THE CANADIAN GROCER paid a visit recently to Iroquois, Ont., and while there met Mr. J. H. Shannon who had been with the firm of C. & M. Mills for over nine years. Mr. Shannon has rented the corner store in the Fisher block in the business centre of the town.

TRADE HAPPENINGS.

The largest shipment of live lobsters ever sent from Halifax was recently made to Boston. It contained 91 tons of lobsters.

The sardine season in New Brunswick has commenced, but it is stated that the fish are not plentiful, and the opening of factories may be delayed.

The grocery store of F. H. Cluff, Ottawa, was broken into by thieves on Wednesday, last week. They got in by forcing open a cellar window.

Wm. Borthwick, retail fruit dealer, Ottawa, has disposed of his retail fruit business, and intends going into the wholesale fruit business exclusively.

A deputation from the Montreal Retail Grocers' Association visited Cornwall on Thursday, last week, to enquire into the advisability of holding the annual excursion there. It was shown around by the Cornwall grocers, and will report favorably upon that town.

Wm. Packingham, representing an English provision house, with branches in Dublin, Glasgow, London and Paris, is endeavoring to organize a pork packing company in Brockville, Ont. The capital wanted is $250,000, of which Mr. Packingham will subscribe $12,500, and it is hoped local capitalists will put up the rest.

On Sunday morning three burglars entered the store of Casper Spector, grocer, 163 St. Antoine street, Montreal. Mr. Spector was awakened by the noise they made in the store and attempted to capture them. Two got away, but the third turned on him and struck him on the head with a bottle. A cousin of Mr. Spector then arrived and knocked the burglar down with a stool. The thief was arrested, but would not disclose his accomplices.

DEVILLED POTTED MEATS.

PACKING HOUSE FOR VANCOUVER.

One of the most progressive of pork packing establishments in Canada is that of J. Y. Griffin & Co., Winnipeg. This firm has recently followed up its remarkable success in Winnipeg by establishing a branch in Vancouver. Mr. Griffin paid a visit to the latter city for the purpose of organizing this branch. The office is at 131 Water street, Vancouver, and the firm are handling all lines of provisions and country produce, either on commission, or by straight purchase.

STRENGTH IN RICE.

THERE seems to be no let up to the steady upward tendency of the rice market, and mill prices here have been advanced another 15c. per 100 lbs. The demand is good, and an active business is reported at full prices. Japan grades are exceedingly scarce, in fact, none can be had, consequently prices are withdrawn.

The New York Commercial says: Everything in the rice line was held up to exceedingly firm lines. The European market was higher, and cables reported some stocks practically exhausted. It seems that nothing can be bought abroad for a less cost than 5c. for Java laid down here. It is not a question of price, but rather a question of getting the goods. Holders are indifferent about selling, and bids are increased now and then without bringing out large offerings. The local situation is just as it has been in reference to spot supplies, and everything is about cleaned up, and sales have been made ahead for this month, which prevents the taking of any large-sized orders for prompt delivery.

A late circular from Kobe contains the following: The tone of our rice markets in the meantime has remained very excited. It is now said that the actual shortage of our last rice crop is considerably larger than estimated by the Government in their official statements, and, considering the continued small supplies from the interior, we are inclined to believe the official figures to be far out. After a short period of quietness, about a week ago a further sharp rush has set in, prices for No. 1 brown rice advanced rapidly from yen 6.50 per picul to yen 6.70 and yen 7.00, and closing at yen 7.40 per picul—13c. 3d. f.o.b. Under these circumstances, of course, a very limited export business only has been done, amounting to some small transactions for New York, Australia and Hamburg, on the basis of yen 6.60 to yen 6.70 per picul, which, after all, caused a serious loss to the Japanese contractors. Import rice—The large arrivals from Rangoon, Saigon, Singapore and Hong Kong are finding a ready market, and go off promptly into the interior. In spite of this, the market about a fortnight ago showed signs of a lull, the Japanese not being inclined to pay the advanced prices asked from Saigon, Bangkok, Pangoon, etc., and withholding from fresh undertakings. But when the news arrived from Hong Kong that the Chinese Government had prohibited the export of rice from fear of a famine at Canton, the tone of our rice markets again became more lively and a good business has been done in Siam and Rangoon rice, and, to a smaller extent, also in Saigon, for April-May shipment.

For more distant shipment there is no inclination at present, and it will mainly depend on the outturn of this year's wheat crop, whether, and to what extent, further rice will have to be imported. So far the weather has been favorable, and the prospects for the new wheat crop are good. But nothing definite can be ascertained before May or June.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

TORONTO, May 19, 1898.

GROCERIES.

A FAIRLY good trade is being done this week by wholesale grocers in Toronto. Trade is not what can be termed active, but for May, which is usually a quiet month, business is fairly satisfactory. Compared with a year ago, business is better, particularly as far as prices are concerned. Teas are firm. Sugars, molasses, syrups, dried fruits, rice, and canned meats are all strong in price. Wholesalers are at present making money. The demand for sugar is, if anything, a little better than it was a week ago, and, while quotations are unchanged, prices in the outside markets are higher. Canned vegetables are quiet, and still rather unsettled as to price, although, as far as tomatoes are concerned, confidence is again somewhat restored. The general tone of the wholesale grocery trade is healthy, although payments are rather slow.

CANNED GOODS.

There is rather a better feeling again in regard to canned tomatoes. Those wholesalers, who, during the few weeks, have been selling under the market having discontinued so to do. The ruling quotation is $1.15 to $1.20, although we hear of a lot of 50 cases selling at $1.12½. Corn is still being steadily held. Peas are weak. Retailers who bought speculatively and are now holding larger quantities than they feel comfortable with are becoming frightened, and some of them are endeavoring to find purchasers among the wholesalers. We hear of one retailer offering 200 cases at 75c., and sales have been affected at that figure. Wholesalers' prices for peas are nominally unchanged at 85 to 90c. Canned salmon is meeting with a steady demand at steady prices. There have been further advances in canned meats of United States pack, but the Canadian article is unchanged.

SYRUPS AND MOLASSES.

In syrups the only lines offering are brights, and they are not wanted. Prices rule firm. Stocks of low-grade New Orleans molasses in the primary and terminal markets are increasing, but open-kettle goods are in light supply and firm in price. Locally, little or no business is being done in syrups.

SUGAR.

There has been a continued improvement in the outside sugar markets during the week, prices being higher in both London and New York. In New York, muscovado sugars advanced ⅛c. during the past week, and centrifugals 1-16c. per lb., and much business has been done at the advanced prices. Several fractional advances have taken place in London, Eng., and cane sugars there are about 15s. per ton higher than they were on April 20. Supplies of cane sugar are short, and there is no prospect of getting supplies from Europe until the blockade is raised. It is, therefore, expected that the refiners in the United States will have to go to Europe for beet sugars. In the event of this, higher prices will certainly follow. In Canada, the situation is much the same as it was a week ago: Prices are unchanged, although, in view of the strength of the outside markets, higher quotations are anticipated. The effect of the heavy buying of April last is still in evidence. At the same time, however, the demand shows some signs of an improvement, and quite a little sugar is going out. The wholesale price of sugar is still 4¾c. for Montreal granulated sugar and 4 11-16 for Acadia.

For Prices Current See Pages 34 and 35.

NUTS.

Advices from the primary markets show an upward tendency in the price of shelled almonds. Filberts are expected to be a short crop, and the market is firm in consequence.

RICE AND TAPIOCA.

Rice shows increased strength. The mills are unable to complete orders and they have advanced their prices. While our quotations on "B" rice remain as before at 3¾ to 3⅞c., there is a wholesale house here and there which will not accept less than 4c. per lb. The mills have advanced the price of new stock "B" rice to arrive 20c. per 100 lb. Tapioca is firm with prices slightly higher in the primary markets than they were a week ago.

COFFEE.

The outside markets have been rather unsettled during the week, with prices easier. At the moment, however, the feeling is rather steadier. Locally, the conditions are much the same as they were a week ago.

SPICES.

The spice market, generally speaking, is keeping steady, with the demand light. Cable advices quote cream of tartar slightly easier.

TEAS.

A sample of new season's Japan tea was received in Toronto this week from Yokohama. This is the first to arrive. There is no interest being taken in old season's Japan teas. The only teas which are attracting attention on the local market at the moment are those of Ceylon growth, for which a good demand has developed during the week. Indian teas are quiet.

Mail advices from London state that the imports of Indian tea into the United Kingdom during the past eleven months show an increase of 3¾ million pounds, while deliveries show an increase of 2¾ million pounds during the same period. The crop of Indian tea is likely to be early. Exports of Ceylon tea from Colombo last month were only 6,750,000 pounds, against 9,500,000 last year. The statistical position of the Ceylon market is strong, and the market appears to be responding.

FOREIGN DRIED FRUITS.

CURRANTS—Brokers report a few transactions for import during the past week, and that if there were any goods on spot they could be readily sold. The demand from retailers is good. Hancock & Wood, of Patras, write that stocks of 1897 crop are running low and will be exhausted before the new season's fruit is upon the market. The growing crop is doing well and promises to be large, except something unforseen occurs.

VALENCIA RAISINS—Valencia raisins are dearer in London, England, advices received this week quoting prices 1s. 3d. higher. Valencia raisins, particularly selected fruit, are getting low in Toronto and in Western Ontario, and enquiries from wholesalers have been heard during the week.

PRUNES—The price of California prunes continues to advance; 90 to 100's are 1¼c. per lb. above the lowest point. There are a few orders being taken, but the demand is naturally not as brisk as it was.

SULTANA RAISINS—Advices from Great Britain report the market there higher.

CALIFORNIA EVAPORATED FRUITS—Prices are firm, with high prices the prospect for the coming season. There is practically nothing doing locally.

GREEN FRUITS.

There has been an active demand for all fruits, merchants generally, both in Toronto and throughout the country, buying large quantities for the holiday on the 24th inst. There is a firm feeling in both lemons and oranges, with an advance of about 25c. noted in the better grades. There is, however, a larger proportion of inferior qualities, especially of lemons, coming forward now, and the price for the cheaper grades remains just as low as formerly for these goods. Bananas are coming in plentifully, and sell quickly. Of this fruit there is also noted a larger receipt than usual of stock that cannot be classed as fancy. There have been, however, a car or two of superior stock received. Prices are firm. The receipts of pineapples have been moderate, but are sufficient to meet the demand, which is light, owing to the absence of the best goods, Cuban pines, from the market. Tomatoes continue to move quietly at unchanged figures. Baltimore strawberries are expected before the end of this week in car lots. These are quoted at 17c. for quarts. The sale of onions is steadily increasing, and is likely to be in full swing within a week or two.

ST. STEPHEN, N.B.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The feeling is decidedly weaker, as receipts have continued to increase in an astonishing manner. One house reports the receipts of eggs last week the largest in its history. A decline of ½c. is noted, fresh-laid stock now selling at 9½ to 10c.

POTATOES—The market has recovered from the reaction caused by the great advance in prices ten or twelve days ago, and now dealers hold what stocks they can secure firmly at 70 to 72c. per bag, for car-load lots. The price on the street market is not proportionately high, ranging from 70 to 75c. per bag.

DRIED APPLES—There is little doing, prices continuing unchanged at 3 to 4c. for choice lots. Some good stock is offered at 2½ to 3c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—A quiet business is being done, with prices steady at 9c.

BEANS—The market is steady, with a fair demand for hand-picked, which are quoted at 90c. to $1. Ordinary beans can be had easily at 80 to 85c.

HONEY—Business is quiet. Little is coming in, and the demand is light.

MAPLE PRODUCT—The season is about over, and there is now but a moderate business being done.

VEGETABLES—Prices of radishes, spinach, asparagus and cabbage have again been reduced this week, as there is now free deliveries. The demand is good for all lines. We quote as follows: Rhubarb, 20 to 30c. per doz. bunches; onions, 5c. doz. bunches; lettuce, 20 to 30c. doz. bunches; radishes, 20 to 30c. doz. bunches; cabbage, per sack, $2; per doz., new, 60 to 75c.; parsley, 15 to 20c. doz. bunches; cucumbers, Canadian, 75c. to $1 per doz.; watercress, 20c. per doz. bunches; gardencress, 20 to 25c. per doz. bunches; spinach, 40 to 60c. per bush.; asparagus, 30 to 50c. per doz.; green peas, $1 to $1.10 per bush.; butter beans, $3 to $3.50 per bushel.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—The feeling is weaker than last week, and dairy large roll and tub butter is ½c. cheaper. The receipts of dairy are expected to be lighter during the next week or two, owing to the large number of cheese factories commencing operations. Creamery is still arriving in large quantities and is easy at present quotations.

CHEESE—Though prices are low, the feeling throughout Ontario regarding prices is firm, and various factories have refused 8c. at outside points for their makes.

PROVISIONS.

Prices are advancing. There has been a brisk trade in long clear bacon, and prices have appreciated ½c. per lb. Stocks of barrel pork, especially Canadian heavy mess, are light, and both the heavy mess and short cut are 50c. per bbl. dearer. The feeling in regard to lard is decidedly firm, most dealers agreeing that stocks are likely to be short, and have put up prices ¼c. per lb. Smoked meats are in great demand,
